MORTUARY ARTILLERY DUELS CONTINUE AND OCCASIONAL INFANTRY CHARGES--ATTACK UPON YPRES DESTROYED TOWN HALL.

(Special to The Daily News.) London, Nov. 23.—Extreme weather and the exhaustion of troops engaged has virtually stopped the fighting in Flanders. The battle in Flanders has come to a standstill. A heavy artillery duel continues in some points along the front. There has also been an occasional infantry attack but during the three days the fighting has been mild compared with the fierceness that prevailed for more than a month preceding this.

RUSSIAN COMMANDER HOLDS GOOD POSITIONS

(Special to The Daily News.) Petrograd, Nov. 23.—The situation in Poland is considered satisfactory from a Russian point of view. The position is strategic and extremely interesting. The Russians are moving forward on East Prussia on the north and Cracow on the south. In the center the Germans are driving on upper Poland and straining every effort to burst through. They have strongly entrenched positions on the Vistula and the Warthe but even their complete success in this region cannot avert the strategic hammer stroke the Russian commander is preparing against them.

SEWING MACHINE FACTORY TO MAKE ARMS FOR RUSSIA

Petrograd, Nov. 23.—The huge factory in Russia of the Singer Sewing Machine Company has been taken over by the government and will be devoted to the manufacture of small arms. The factory of the American Phonograph Company also has been requisitioned for the same purpose, while smelting concerns operated by Americans are now being used to make steel bullets for military purposes.

Russia has lacked arms factories, having depended largely on France for her small arms, as well as her artillery. But today practically nothing is being received from France, and the supplies in Russia are so short that some muzzle-loading muskets, as well as cannon of this same type have been used in the Polish campaign. The taking over of these factories, it is expected, soon will remedy the existing deficiency.

The ladies of Prince Rupert have organized to assist in the relief of the Belgian sufferers. Mrs. Jarvis McLeod received a letter a few days ago from Mr. John M. Whitehead, the Belgian consul in Vancouver, asking that assistance in the way of either money or clothing be sent. She has brought this to the attention of a number of the local ladies, who have agreed to assist her in the good work.

OVERSEAS CONTINGENT HAS LOTS OF WORK

(by P. F. G.) The Willows Camp, November 19, 1914. The intricacies of skirmishing, signaling, bayonet exercises, etc., are gradually being unfolded to the members of B Company of the 30th Battalion, and under the immediate eye of Lieutenants Moore and Lee, the boys from the north are daily making marked progress. At Present Capt. C. W. Peek is at Work Point barracks, but is expected back at The Willows to take his command next week.

GERMANS STILL PLAN ATTACK ON ENGLAND

(Special to The Daily News.) Rotterdam, Nov. 23.—No civilian has been allowed within two miles of Zeebrugge for the last fortnight. It is known that big engineering works are in progress at the head of the canal. The entire coast from Knocke to Nieupoort is dotted with heavy gun positions. The German artillery is being regarded as of sufficient range and calibre to make an effective response to warships attempting to bombard Littoral. This is said to be only the first step in a great scheme for preparing the coast in preparation as a base for an attack on England.

PICK OUT YOUR SOLDIER BOY SCAMP.—Where thirty thousand Canadians are at present encamped. This map represents an area of many square miles and the reader will see the names of various camps made familiar by the letters home of the men of the First Canadian Contingent now there. The camp is twelve miles away from the town of Salisbury and it costs four shillings to ride there on a motorbus. The camp is three miles from any village. Canadians are mostly at "Pond Farm," "Bustard," "West Down" and "Bulford" camps.

The question brought up by Mr. George Morrow at Friday night's banquet deserves serious consideration.

It was a very significant statement made by Mr. Morrow that the price of meat is as high in this city now as it was in the early days when he was in business here.

The spirit exhibited at that little gathering on Friday night was one of the best and most promising ever seen in this city.

UNITED STATES TO WAIT PEACE ACTION FROM BELLIGERENTS

Washington, Nov. 23.—Efforts by the United States to bring peace to Europe are awaiting a time when more of the belligerents indicate a willingness to accept mediation.

There has been much discussion among neutral countries, such as Holland and Spain, of the desirability of concerted action.

NAVAL DEFENCE QUITE ADEQUATE

Sir Richard McBride Sees Government With Regard to Coast Defence and is Satisfied.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Sir Richard McBride was here today on his way home from England.

Asked as to reports of his coming to Ottawa at an early date as a member of the government, he said there was no foundation for such a report at all.

Referring to the war and the situation in the old land, Sir Richard added that Canadians could not possibly appreciate too much the seriousness of the war.

The King had spoken to him and to Mr. Perley of the splendid appearance and qualities of the Canadian contingent.

EYE-WITNESSES OF WRECK OF AUDACIOUS TELL STORY

WERE ON BOARD WHITE STAR LINER OLYMPIC—SAID THE WRECKED SHIP WAS AFTERWARDS BLOWN UP AND SANK.

New York, Nov. 21.—Two men who saw the British super-dreadnaught Audacious lying helpless in a heavy sea some 27 miles to the northwest of Lough Swilly shortly after she had struck a mine on October 27, arrived here today on the steamer New York from Liverpool.

The men who told the story were James Rupert Beames, leader of the orchestra on the White Star liner, Olympic, which rescued the crew of the Audacious and made fruitless efforts to tow the battleship to shoal water, and Hugh Griffiths, one of the orchestra's musicians.

"We sighted land on October 27 at 2 p. m.," said Beames. "The land was Tory Island. An hour later we came below, when one of the stewards said, 'you had better get on deck and see those two lovely warships.'"

"As soon as the steward told us about the warships we ran up on deck. The day was dark and cloudy and a stiff westerly gale was blowing.

"As we approached, the other warship which we learned later was the cruiser Liverpool, who came over to us and at a high speed crossed our bows.

"It was said on board later that this performance was for the purpose of clearing the way for the White Star ship, which at that time was the only vessel in these waters capable of towing the Audacious to a shoal.

"Hardly had the Liverpool crossed our bow when the order was given to man the starboard boats. Before this a call had been issued for volunteers.

"The seas were high and the men in the Olympic's lifeboats had a hard pull. It took them twenty minutes to get over to the Audacious, which laid 200 yards away.

"The discipline was perfect. There were about 900 men on the Audacious, but only 280 were taken to the Olympic.

"About 400 were transferred to other war craft by the Olympic's fourteen lifeboats. Some of the small boats made three trips between the battleship and the merchantman.

the Audacious should be blown up and sunk."

Another version of the final destruction of the Audacious brought by the New York was that she was blown up by her own crew by direction of the fleet commander.

Only two lives were lost. One was a petty officer, who was drowned out of a lifeboat, and the other a gunner's mate, who was struck by a fragment of steel when the Audacious was blown up.

GERMANS TRIED TO GET COAL FROM SEATTLE

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 21.—Agents said to be acting for the German government to get coal for German cruisers in the South Pacific, have reached Seattle, it has become known.

He answered the suggestion that San Francisco had plenty of coal by stating that he intended to start an opposition business, but the local agent took the proposed charter under advisement.

Two days later Canadian government officials advised this man that this caller evidently had engaged a crew to be put on board the boat off Cape Flattery and that the steamer was to go to South America to coal warships.

Bela Singh Acquitted of Murder in Case in Which Witness Was Also Killed.

Vancouver, Nov. 17.—Bela Singh was acquitted today of the charge of murder in connection with the death of Bhag Singh in the Sikh temple on September 5. After the jury had been out nearly three hours they returned and asked for further directions in regard to the law of self-defence, and a few minutes later returned with a verdict of not guilty.

It was in this case that the late Inspector Hopkinson was to have given evidence, and it was while he was waiting to be called as a witness that Mawma Singh shot him.

It was brought out in evidence that during the shooting at the temple Bela Singh seized the sacred sword from the altar and used it to defend himself.

VISITOR TELLS WHAT A CITY OF REAL TRENCHES IS LIKE

OFFICER DESCRIBES TRENCHES OF THE ALLIES IN FRANCE—OPPOSING FORCES CLOSE TOGETHER—TRENCH FEVER.

London, Nov. 20.—"A few days after hearing it for two or three hours you would miss it if it stopped for a long time. The bad noise is the noise made while rifle firing begins and the shouting of the dying and severely wounded overshadows the rifle fire—oh, those shouts! you can hear them miles away. Some of those voices give a suffering note besides which Krupp guns are toys.

"Curious, but a fact. The second night I was in trench No. 3, together with three officers, all three sleeping; they had not slept for six nights, and only because I promised not to sleep they consented to have a little nap. Gets the Trench Fever. "Now that I am writing these lines while Krupp's voice is roaring, I wonder how I could have such ideas the previous night, and why my thoughts were in New York—and, thinking, I understand now that surrounded with dead and wounded the ears are trained with gun thunder and sobs and cries, soldiers can write above the entrance of trenches and in the trenches funny things to make their friends laugh and forget—I understand what bravery really means.

"Now I am back in my train—the train which was loaded with supplies for the fighting men, and I return with 345 wounded English and French—wounded by shells and rifle bullets—some of them slightly, some severely, but all cheerful and with only one desire—to return soon to the front. "We are back, and my first question is, 'When goes another train to the trenches?' 'Tomorrow night,' is the answer. 'May I be ordered for this train?' 'I will see to it,' said the colonel. "I hope I will go. I also have the trench fever, and I promised my friends to come soon, so that they may have another night's sleep."

MARKABLE FALLING OFF IN BRITISH CRIME

London, Nov. 21.—"The falling off of crime in this country since the beginning of the war has been truly remarkable, as compared to three years ago. There has been a diminution of 30 per cent in indictable offences," said Justice Walker in charging the grand jury. The justice explained that he attributed this decrease partly to the public restraint in war time, but principally to the reduction in the number of hours public houses were permitted to stay open.

For the aid of cripples a Texas inventor has patented a crutch with a folding camp stool between its sides.

DUMDUM BULLETS USED BY ENEMY

War Office Denies That British Troops Use Soft Nosed Bullets but Accuse Enemy.

London, Nov. 17.—The War Office issued tonight a statement denying German allegations that the British troops have used dum-dum or soft nosed bullets, but maintaining that these missiles have been used by the Germans.

The statement describes the British and German service ammunition as very similar, the bullets being pointed with steel and the envelope coated with suprapnickel, covering the core except at the base and conforming with the provisions of The Hague Convention.

In the opinion of Sir Victor Horsley, a widely known surgeon, this bullet is "probably the most humane projectile yet devised," for the reason that the "long solid point consisting almost entirely of a hard nickel sheath, precludes as far as possible any tendency toward deformation of shape, while the strength of the sheath prevents the bullet breaking up into fragments except in very exceptional circumstances."

Concluding, the statement says: "There is, however, clear evidence that Germany has not confined herself solely to the use of this unobjectionable ammunition. Her troops in both Togoland and France have been proved to have used bullets with a soft core and an envelope not entirely covering the core, which type of bullet is expanding and is expressly prohibited by The Hague Convention."

IN THE LETTER BOX

To the Editor of The News.

Mr. Editor,—With reference to your complimentary remarks, in Saturdays issue, in connection with my speech at Friday evening's fish dinner, in case any wrong inference might be taken from same, I beg to say my intention was to impress upon those assembled, that in my opinion the most important question we must now deal with is a large increase in the bona-fide fishing population of our city, encouraging married fishermen with their families to make their homes here—and in advancing that proposition to be able to show them that they can live here as reasonably and as well as they can in any other Coast city, obtain as good prices for their product, and what will apply to fishermen will apply to all of us. To my mind, this is now, or should immediately be quite feasible, provided the City Council, the railway and the business interests of all kinds get together on all important matters that interested all of us.

Take the question of meats and fuel. Why should it now be necessary for us to bring meats from Edmonton via Vancouver and thence steamer and expensive cold storage charges to Prince Rupert, the same as we were obliged to do years ago, when the railway gives direct connections in about two days? Why are cattle not brought direct and slaughtered here? I am informed that our bylaws prohibit the erection of an abattoir on Kaien Island. If this is correct, why should such a bylaw be permitted to remain there, to our own disadvantage? My opinion is that the city should erect at once a small but not too expensive slaughter house in a central location and charge a small fee to butchers per head for the use of same. The railway should erect a cattle corral and shed to take care of cattle on arrival.

The Council should hasten the completion of the roadway at once to the cold storage if at all possible so that surplus stock can be kept in storage at minimum cost and minimum charges for handling, for just so long as the old-time long haul and out-of-date facilities are used prices must remain high.

What applies to this, applies to fuel and practically every other line, and every combined effort should be made by the Council, railway and citizens to approach these matters in a broad, businesslike manner, and thereby obtain the results desired at the earliest moment.

Population we must have and the fishing industry must be the backbone of that population; and fishermen must be able to live here at reasonable costs, including rents, lights, fuel, provisions, and there is no reason, with united efforts, why we cannot obtain these results without the slightest injury to anyone.

My opinion is that the time has arrived when the railway officials, City Council, business men, and citizens generally, must get on more friendly business terms and endeavor to work out to our mutual advantage every possible question that has for its objects the building and advancement of our city. I again repeat, the expansion of our fishing industry and every encouragement possible being offered to bona-fide fishermen to come here with their families and make this city their home, is one of the great factors that is going to make us a big city, and the time has arrived to start a campaign for it.

CRUISER GLASGOW IS NOW AT RIO JANEIRO

Warship Which Fought Both Leipzig and Dresden Shows Marks of Naval Battle.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 23.—The cruiser Glasgow, which was one of the vessels engaged in the fight with the German squadron off the coast of Chile November 1, has arrived here. The damage caused by the German shell fire was plainly visible.

The Admiralty's statement on the sea fight off Chile said the Glasgow was engaged by both the Leipzig and Dresden of the German squadron while the Gneisenau and Scharnhorst were fighting the Good Hope and the Monmouth. It added that the Glasgow was not extensively damaged and suffered few casualties.

After the battle the Glasgow, accompanied by the transport Otranto, sailed south and passed through the Straits of Magellan to the Atlantic Ocean.
