GERMAN TRENCHES REPORTED NEAR WARSAW—RUSSIANS INFLICT ANOTHER DEFEAT ON TURKS

AUSTRIANS REPORT SUCCESS—GERMANS CLOSE TO WARSAW

TELLS OF FAILURE OF RUSSIANS IN HUNGARY AND IN TRANSYLVANIA BUT REPORT HAS NOT BEEN CONFIRMED.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Jan. 30.—The official report says that the present phase of the war in Galicia is proceeding favorably for the Austrians. The Russian attempts of the Russian army to outflank Archduke Joseph Ferdinand at Tarnow and to attack the rearward communications of the Russians in Galicia and the Carpathians. The Russian invasion of Hungary and the attempt to invade Transylvania from Bukowina are equally ineffective. The German trenches are now close to the Warsaw forts and the Austrians are gaining ground in the Carpathians. In Bukowina the Russians retreated to Kimpolung after General Fishcher's victory near Kirlibaba.

A HEAVY FRENCH FIELD GUN IN ACTION IN THE ARGONNE REGION.

Much has been said of the German heavy howitzers, but here is shown a French gun, a sample of a howitzer which has caused great damage to the enemy's lines.

BRITISH TRADES UNIONS WANT GOVT. TO UNDERTAKE SHIPPING

HIGH COST OF LIVING BECOMING DESPERATE—GOVERNMENT ACCUSED OF LACK OF ORGANIZATION—CAPTURED SHIPS PUT IN SERVICE.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Jan. 30.—The Federation of Trades Unions in a high price of food manifesto charges the government with failure to anticipate and organize against certain consequences of the war, and urges quick and drastic remedial action to avert a situation which is "becoming desperate." The committee suggests a better distribution of the incoming steamships at ports other than London and Liverpool and the procedure of the prize courts expedited and all captured ships manned and utilized by the State for the transportation of supplies purchased directly from the producer, the supplies being placed on the market at prices covering the cost of distributive charges only. The Federation also recommends that the British government take over all what supplies, as was done by Germany. The British farmer, the Federation says, would suffer no real hardship or loss if the government commandeered the whole home grown and unmarketed wheat at 42 shillings per quarter.

ROMANIA OBJECTS TO HUNGARIAN AGITATION

(Special to The Daily News.)
Bern, Switzerland, Jan. 30.—The Austrian Foreign Minister, Baron Burián, has telegraphed Bucharest, requesting that the Romanians refrain from fomenting agitation among the Hungarian population in Transylvania.

PROHIBIT EXPORT OF OATS AND MAIZE

(Special to The Daily News.)
Pretoria, Jan. 30.—The government has announced that the export of oats and maize has been prohibited.

SACRIFICES AUSTRIANS FOR ITALY'S FAVOR

London, Jan. 30.—A dispatch from Rome to The Post says: "Reports are circulated here that Prince Buelow, the new German ambassador, is trying to keep on good terms with Italy by sacrificing Austria. The Germans are annoyed because they share Austria's great unpopularity in Italy, but Italians want more than scraps of paper in proof of Germany's desire to give them Trentino. The committee of the Radical party has unanimously adopted a motion that Italy's participation in the European conflict is indispensable to the satisfaction of her aspirations and the revolutionary associations of many cities represented at Milan have voted for intervention and the immediate denunciation of the Triple Alliance."

BRANDY IN PIE MAKES MAYOR'S AID DROWSY

So Portland Eating Houses Are Ordered to Be Cautious About Seasoning.

Portland, Ore., Jan. 29.—Rigid inspection of restaurant and cafeteria mince pies by officials of the City Health Department was ordered by Mayor Albee yesterday, following a discovery made by W. H. Warren, the mayor's secretary, that alcoholic liquor in unduly heavy proportion was being used in mince meat served at some eating houses. Mr. Warren told the mayor he had ordered mince pie in a cafeteria, and that it was so strongly impregnated with liquor he fell asleep after eating it. "Investigate this matter thoroughly," was the mayor's order to the city health officer, C. B. Marcellus, "and prohibit, on penalty of arrest, the sale of mince pies anywhere which contain more than a reasonable proportion of alcohol."

BERLIN SAYS FRENCH REGIMENT DESTROYED

(Special to The Daily News.)
Berlin, Jan. 30.—The official German report states that the Germans captured twelve French officers, 733 men and twelve machine guns in the Argonne forest. The French losses were heavy, being from four to five hundred left dead on the battlefield. A French infantry regiment seems to have been annihilated. The German losses were comparatively slight.

DESTROY AMMUNITION.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The French official report says that the British in front of Guinchy, near La Bassee, drove back an attack delivered by three German battalions which resulted in heavy German losses. North of Arras the French heavy artillery caused an explosion in the German ammunition wagons. At Albert, Roye, Soissons, Craonne, Reims and Perthes there were rather severe artillery engagements at times in which the French batteries acquitted themselves efficiently. In the Woivre district the Germans exploded a mine with the object of blowing up French trenches but resulting in the destruction of German trenches.

METLAKATLA ELECTS NEW COUNCIL

The municipality of Metlakatla held its annual election yesterday and chose the new councillors for the ensuing year. The following constitute the new council as elected: C. R. Ryan, Wm. Teask, Albert Leighton Jr., Reuben Leighton, John Campbell and Charles Powell. The new council then chose one of their number, Wm. Teask, to be chief councillor for the year.

CANADIAN CONTINGENT LEAVES FOR THE FRONT

(Special to The Daily News.)
Montreal, Jan. 30.—A special cable from London says: "A start has been made in despatching the men of the First Canadian Contingent to France. A number have already gone, but the greater bulk will be moved across the Channel next week. The men are highly elated. It is reported the Pats have suffered further casualties in action."

ACTIONS OF ALLIES MUST BE IN UNISON TO ENSURE SUCCESS

Nancy, via Paris, Jan. 30.—"We could drive the Germans back here if we chose to attack in force," said a staff officer who accompanied the correspondents on a tour of the positions held by the French in Lorraine. "But there would be no object in doing this. We would have to retreat unless advances were made at certain other points along our line. Every thousand yard trench is linked up with another and each division front with the others."

TURKS MEET DEFEAT—ROUTED BY RUSSIANS

(Special to The Daily News.)
Petrograd, Jan. 30.—The official Russian report from the Russian Caucasus says that there have been Russian successes in the vicinity of Tabriz, Persia. In the Valley of Alashkert the Russians captured the colors, guns and military supplies, the enemy retiring toward Tabriz and abandoning on the battlefield hundreds of killed. In the region of Tchodorok, south of Batum, the Russians repulsed the enemy's troops at the village of Baschkioi. Near Sarikamysh the situation is unchanged, the Turks cannonading part of the Russian front without success.

HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Conservative Hospital Association was held last evening in the City Hall. Reports were presented for the year, showing the institution to be considerably in debt. Reports from the matron, Miss MacTavish, and the resident physician, Dr. Wall, show that the hospital is well equipped and doing good work. Six hundred and twenty-five patients were treated during the year, the average stay per patient being 18.3 days. The total number of deaths for the year was 20, being a percentage of 3.2, which is considered a very low rate. The monthly ticket system had been tried and was considered successful. A new x-ray machine had been added to the institution during the year and had made possible more efficient treatment. The expenditure for the year, including bad debts, and depreciation, amounted to $42,486.96. Hospital fees from patients amounted to $26,255.77. The British Columbia government per capita grant was $6,414.15. The city of Prince Rupert contributed $10,000.

JITNEY CAR BUSINESS IS GROWING ON COAST
 Automobile and Traction Experts Are Wondering Where Innovation Will End.

San Francisco, Jan. 29.—How securely the advent of the jitney bus threatens to affect street railroad companies in Pacific Coast cities in 1915 is shown in estimates compiled here. The jitney men report their minimum average at $1 an hour for an eight-hour day. In San Francisco Bay cities, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle, the number of cars now in operation and their daily receipts, figured on this basis, are:

City	No. cars	Daily receipts
San Francisco	300	$2,400
Trans-bay cities	450	$3,600
Los Angeles	1,500	$8,400
Portland	75	$ 600
Seattle	500	$4,000
Total	2,375	$19,000

At this rate the jitney busses would take from the traction companies in the course of a year the sum of $6,935,000 if operated in their present number. But the business is only in its infancy. In San Francisco the number of cars has doubled in the last week, and an organizer of the jitney men has assured officials of the Panama-Pacific Exposition that there will be 2,000 cars to handle Exposition crowds on the opening day, February 20. The busses have just invaded Portland, and the number there is expected to increase rapidly. Legislatures of the Coast States are deep in the problems presented by the birth of the unforeseen industry. Traction officials given a hearing at Sacramento have reported not only heavy losses in daily receipts, but one Los Angeles company announced that it had already been compelled to lay off 400 of its employees. Others reported that they would have to make reductions in both men and equipment.

Where the jitney idea will lead to is a question that is being given earnest consideration by automobile dealers as well as the traction experts. A representative of one of the largest automobile factories in the country has made the prediction that the jitney would soon disappear, and with it the street car. He believed both would be replaced by automobile express cars, built especially for city passenger traffic, with a capacity of ten or a dozen persons, and each operating along regular routes, with branch lines and transfer stations. He said several manufacturers were already at work on this idea as a result of the jitney bus advent.

AMERICAN VERSION OF DELAY IN SENDING CANADIANS TO FRONT

A New York paper publishes the following dispatch from a correspondent in London:

The Canadian army is thoroughly American. Not only does it use American slang, sing American songs, and use emphatic American cuss words, but the spirit of the men is American and independent. It is because of this fact that the Canadians have been held in Salisbury Plains. This is best shown by a quarrel overheard between an English officer and a Canadian fellow-officer.

"It was terrible," the English officer declared, "the way you Canadians came into London. Your officers and privates gathered together in the bars and drank together. You can't build up an army with such familiarity."

"But that is the way we have to build it up," replied the Canadian with a show of heat. "A Canadian soldier has no illusions about his officers. He knew them in private life, and he knows what they are worth."

"You haven't got our idea at all," answered the British officer. "It's paternalism in our army. I'm the father of my men. They ask my advice, and they have confidence in me. If I was familiar with them they would not do so. A soldier is not expected to have any individuality. His only duty is blindly to obey his superiors."

"Well, none of that stuff would go with us," declared the Canadian. "Our men are from Missouri and must be shown."

Then it took half an hour for the Canadian to explain what "from Missouri" meant. Out in the corrugated metal huts where the Canadians live when not drilling, the great game is "craps." Because play hours are short, poker cannot be indulged in to any great extent. The Canadians were astonished to find that they could not buy crap dice in London. They had to draw specifications to have them made.

The present paper money in use in England is hardly conducive to crap-playing. The good sport wants to keep his money in his hands while flopping the ivories. The English war money is a poor texture of paper. It tears easily and becomes dirty the first day it is in circulation. The result is that after a few days in the game it is unrecognizable. When a Canadian soldier gets leave to come to town his first visit is to a bank to exchange the dirty money for clean currency.

The great diplomat usually stands back and lets the other fellow hand out the diplomacy. Anyhow, the alienists seldom prove that the victim of the murderer is not dead. A shrew can look pleasant when out in company with an angel. A lot of snow appears to fall on the straight and narrow way. It is better to burn money than to save it at the expense of your health.

People of mystic temperaments are great believers in what is known as "double sight," or the art of reading the future by the intuitive senses. Nearly everybody has experienced what is known to the vulgar as a "hunch" about important pending matters. Modern study of psychology shows that there are mainly two causes for these phenomena. In the first place, wave messages are known to pass from one mind to the other by a process known as telepathy. The human mind is in reality a miniature "wireless" system and when another mind becomes pitched to the same key he can break in on the other fellow and get what information he desires—at least this is the theory and very often it works. This would explain how a man often has a premonition about what an opponent is about to do. There are many cases on record, however, where information is received about the future and as nobody knows the future it can hardly come by telepathy. The theory of the subconscious personality has been advanced to cover this. It is believed that a part of man's nature known as the subconscious personality is not subject to time or space, or, in other words, that the subconscious personality is a spark off the Infinite and is eternal knowing all things, but for ordinary purposes is veiled or shrouded by this mortal coil which men call flesh. There is, therefore, a rational theory for the origin of premonitions.

Dropping almost from the sublime to the ridiculous, it is interesting to notice how the masses of the people are intuitively informed about an impending change in governments. At the present time there is a feeling in the air—and everybody has it—that the Conservatives, not only in British Columbia, but through Canada, are in the last stages of their power. This feeling, too, is not confined to the independent electorate; it has invaded the ranks of the Conservative party, and even their tried war horses are beginning to droop their heads. Of course some of them, like the youth who was passing through a graveyard in the night, are trying to keep up their courage by whistling. In spite of all they can do, however, psychological waves are escaping that tell of their mad plight, and a trembling among the leaves speaks of the impending doom. The Conservative party has been weighed in the balance and found wanting and they will now have to make room for more progressive ideas.

A friendly discussion was taking place the other day between a Britisher and a German. The German was naturally holding up the view of his country in demanding territory expansion at the expense of the British. "Look here," said his opponent; "suppose that I came to Prince Rupert in the early days when property was cheap and bought a dozen of the best residential lots in the city upon which a little later I had built myself a magnificent home. Several years after that you come around and, viewing my palatial residence, you inform me that in view of the fact that you are a more cultured man than I there is no justice in me having twelve lots while you have only one mean little lot of twenty-five feet. What do you think of your argument when you see it in a new setting? The trouble is that in the early days while your ancestors were writing philosophy and poetry our ancestors were out fighting and now when you have got tired of writing philosophy you want us to share the spoils with you." There was no reply.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME IN POINT GREY

Family Awakened by Cries of the Baby Find House in Flames.

Point Grey, B. C., Jan. 30.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker, on Twenty-Ninth Avenue and Mackenzie Street, was completely destroyed about 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning by fire which is supposed to have originated in the basement.

They were awakened by the cries of their baby, and found the house in flames. Mr. Baker at once tried to communicate with the fire hall by telephone, but owing to some trouble on the line was unable to get into communication, the alarm being sent in by Constable McPherson.

The brigade arrived too late to save the premises, although the new pumper was brought into requisition for the first time. The house and contents were valued at $4,000, and were covered by insurance to the amount of $3,000 in the Yorkshire Guarantee Company and the Winch Insurance Company.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures weak, sore, inflamed kidneys, not only because it cleanses these organs but also because "Fruit-a-tives" opens the bowels, cleans the stomach and stimulates the action of the skin.

WARNS STUDENTS AGAINST "SPOONING"

"Misdirected Lowering of Love," Avers Y. M. C. A. Lecturer University.

Seattle, Jan. 29—"Spooning" is a violation of the fundamental principles of chivalry. It lowers the respect for women, for it breaks down a woman's reserve, her greatest protection. It is a misdirected lowering of love. No man can afford to indulge in spooning, and he should refrain from it. The temptation is the more incidious because it usually starts by accident.

Dr. M. J. Ekner, a member of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., in this way warned 300 students at the University of Washington last night in an address on "A Rational Fight for Self-Mastery in the Sphere of Sex." The talk was delivered in Meany Hall, on the university campus under the auspices of the college branch of the Y. M. C. A. "Promiscuous spooning on the part of man," continued Dr. Ekner, "demoralizes the powers of concentration and application, man's two greatest weapons for success in the world. Spooning exercises a destructive effect on man's intellectuality, for it misdirects his most useful power of imagination."

SIR WILFRID LAURIER SPEAKS ABOUT CANADA AND THE WAR

POINTS OUT FOLLY OF 1911 CAMPAIGN—SPEAKS OF COMFORT EVEN THE RAINBOW GAVE TO BRITISH COLUMBIA —OLD CHIEF LOYAL TO THE CORE.

The following are selections from a recent speech given by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Montreal and are worthy of Canada's first statesman:

"Do not forget that the fact that Britain was at war constituted for Canada a new condition of things, which imposed new duties upon the Government, upon the Opposition and upon the whole Canadian people. The moment that Great Britain was at war, Canada was at war. This is a truth which while we were in office we had not only to proclaim, but for which we had to provide in a manner consonant with the new condition, a new situation created by the development of Canada, not as a colony, but as a nation within the British Empire.

"These truths were not accepted by all. It was the occasion of a great deal of misrepresentation; it contributed very much towards the defeat which we suffered in 1911, but for my part let me say here that I have no regrets. Better be ten times over and more that we should stand here defeated for having had the courage of presenting to the Canadian people new duties which have had effects, rather than to still be in office by having shirked the duty which was incumbent upon the administration.

"But at that time, it was easy to appeal to prejudices, but the truth that when Britain is at war, Canada is at war also, came in only too concrete a manner, for after the declaration of war, right here in the city of Montreal you had your harbor full of ships loaded with the produce of the land ready to take to the sea, still remaining here owing to the war, because if they had taken to the sea they would have been liable to seizure by the enemy. They did not and could not take to the seas until the ocean had been swept by the British navy, and until the British navy was ready to escort them, until the duty was forthcoming by the British navy which in my opinion shrouded in my conviction it behooved the Canadian people to do themselves.

Canada Self-Reliant.

"Still more evidence had you that when Great Britain is at war, Canada is at war, when only within the last three weeks the German ambassador at Washington, declared that Germany might and could invade Canada, and when the discussion was taken up as to the consequences of an invasion by Germany in view of the Monroe Doctrine. Whatever the Monroe Doctrine may mean, it is not a principle of international law. It is a matter of policy for the American government and the American people. Whatever it may mean, according to the interpretation given to it by an eminent authority in the United States, it is only for the American people to dictate. I have always been an admirer of the American people. I have always desired that Canada should maintain with them the most friendly relations possible, and I take some pride in believing that when we left office in 1911 the relations between the United States and Canada were far more cordial than when we went in office in 1896. But notwithstanding all this, I say as a Canadian, that if ever Canada has to be saved, I don't want it to be saved by the Monroe doctrine, but by the efforts of the Canadian people themselves, not that if we had to defend our country against a German invasion, that I would not be ready to accept the assistance of the American people, but I do not want to ask it. I want the Canadian people to rely upon themselves, and need I tell you, gentlemen, that no nation is worthy of being a nation unless it is ready at all times to defend its own independence and to fight for it if needs be.

Freedom Breeds Liberty

"We are a free people, absolutely free. The charter under which we live has put it in our power to say whether we should take part in such a war or not. It is for the Canadian people, the Canadian Parliament and the Canadian Government alone to decide. This freedom is at once the glory and honor of Britain, which granted it, and Canada, which uses it to assist Britain. Freedom is the keynote of all British institutions. You find it from the lowest to the highest rung in the ladder. There is no conscription in Britain. There never was and there never shall be. We have heard it discussed by eminent authorities that Great Britain will be found to follow suit and have recourse to conscription like France, Germany and Italy. Conscription is repugnant to the British character. The British are never inclined to go to war, slow always to go to war, never preparing until they are in it, but generally manage to get on top at the end of it. There is no compulsion upon those dependencies of Great Britain which have reached the stature of Dominions, such as Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and such Crown dependencies as India. They are all free to take part or not as they think best. That is the British freedom, which much to the surprise of the world, and greatly to the dismay of the German Emperor, German professors and German diplomats, caused this rush from all parts of the British Empire to assist the mother country in this stupendous struggle. Freedom breeds loyalty. Coercion always was the mother of rebellion. But even in these circumstances when we see the magnificent results of the British system of government complete, not only in the United Kingdom, but complete throughout the Empire, men there are in this country, men there are in England, who believe that the present mode of freedom should be replaced by a system of concentration and obligation and make obligatory what up to date has been voluntary. While there are men who preach this doctrine, there are others who believe that the British Empire can be maintained only upon the lines upon which it has been founded, freedom and diversity. If there were not in a time of war, I would tell you that upon which of the two systems we Liberals have long ago taken our stand. But we are at war, and war time is not the proper time to discuss problems of such magnitude and far-reaching consequences. At the present time the only thing we have to think of is to finish the war, and to adjourn to a future date those domestic problems which will have to be taken up later.

No Cause for Election

"If in the month of June or July last there was no cause for an election, still less in the month of December of the same year is there cause for an election. The war is still on. Upon the policy introduced by the government to discharge the duties we owe to the mother country, we have taken no issue with the government. We have supported their policy, and, therefore, there is no cause for an appeal to the country. Then for my part arguing from these premises, I say that I do not believe that the government seriously entertains the possibility of having an election, reversing their opinion of July, even if they were urged by some ardent, but misguided men."—Liberal Monthly.

Danger of Raids

"There is no fear of a German invasion of Canada so long as Great Britain maintains its supremacy upon the seas. But though there is no fear of an invasion at the present time and though I refuse to contemplate the possibility of a defeat of the Allied armies, still even today under conditions as they are, there is no danger from which Canada is never free and that is the possibility of a raid upon our border cities. British Columbia contemplated this at the opening of the war. They were anxious to have the small and much despised Rainbow. A crew was once more put upon the Niobe at the other end of the Dominion, and even in this often called tin-pot navy, there was security for our trade and for the maritime cities. There was danger, I say. That danger was lessened some three weeks ago when the Emden, the German cruiser, was run down and sunk by the battleship Sydney which belonged to the Australian navy. The danger was still more lessened only three days ago by the victory of Admiral Sturdee off the Falkland Islands. But still let us remember that so long as the war exists there is always some danger, but for my part I don't want to touch too much upon this subject because I hope and indeed I believe that the government is wide awake to the situation and that they are taking precautions against such a danger.

Why Support the Government?

"I was asked by someone why should I support the government in their policy of sending men to the front. Why should not the Liberal party have remained quiet and passive and let all the worries be left to the government? My answer was: 'I have no particular love for the government, but I love my country, I love the land of my ancestors, France. I love the land of liberty above all, England, and rather than that I in my position of Leader of the Liberal party, should remain passive and quiescent, I would rather go out of public life, and altogether.

No Cause for Election

REPUBLICAN WAR ON SHIP BILL IS A FIGHT TO THE FINISH

Washington, Jan. 21.—Republicans of the Senate at a formal conference held late today determined to fight the government ship purchase bill with all the resources they could command, and to continue the opposition indefinitely—until March 4 or in an extra session should one be called.

At the Republican caucus were a majority of the minority members, including several of the Progressive Republicans, among them Senators Borah, Gronna and Bristow.

Most of the day was occupied by Senator Weeks, of Massachusetts, in a prolonged speech against the bill. The Massachusetts senator read a score of clippings from newspapers which, he said, had supported the administration, but which now opposed the president's shipping plan. He said if he read all the adverse comments available he could not conclude his remarks before the fourth of March.

Democrats of the Senate at the fourth caucus on the bill tonight made considerable progress. An amendment as to the form of the proposed shipping board was adopted, providing that the board should consist of five members, the secretary of the treasury, the secretary of commerce and three members to be appointed by the President.

Several progressive Republican senators have suggested to the President that they might support the bill if the proposed shipping board was made nonpartisan. Salaries of the civilian members of the board, it was agreed, should be $6,000 a year, and the time of service four years.

The caucus also adopted a recommendation of the commerce committee to provide that the government might increase the original stock of the proposed shipping corporation at some future time by not more than $10,000,000. The original capital stock under the bill would be $10,000,000.

age man a great length of time to make them out.

He referred to the fact that in 1913 the Attorney General had declared a moratorium in this province for the land speculators and the others who were getting in on the public domain. These were the annointed of heaven. The poor man had to pay his debts, but the big timber speculator and the man with ten thousand acres of the lands of this province was not called upon to pay his.

There were ten thousand unemployed in the city of Vancouver one year ago, the speaker declared, yet the speech from the throne had thrown the whole blame for the condition of things upon the present war, which had broken out long after the evil had been done in British Columbia.

Administrator Required.

Mr. Williams taunted the members of the House for their absolute lack of manhood in humbly following leaders whose designs were contrary to the interests of the people of British Columbia. The way that the country had been exploited was one of the greatest outrages in history. If the people did not awake to a realization of the plight in which the province now finds itself, Mr. Williams declared, what with the unemployment and corruption which is proceeding under the protection of the government, with the absolute lack of morality on the part of the officials who were entrusted with the highest offices in the gift of the people, it would be necessary for the British government to appoint an administrator for the province of British Columbia and, as Egypt and other colonial possession had been governed, so might this province be handled for the common welfare of the people, many of whom are today starving, yet who seem to be absolutely helpless, though in reality all powerful.

One of the items in the public accounts tells of the expenditure of $2,638 on incidentals. No vouchers were available to show how or where or when this money was spent. Shoe laces in another part had cost the government $68. For working as an agricultural commissioner, Mr. R. F. Hayward had cleaned up in one year, $4,537.50. Mr. Lucas, of Yale, had cleaned up on the same line of work the tidy sum of $3,860.

One honorable member employed on the Indian commission netted himself in salary for last year, $5,620, and expenses, $2,810, making a total of over $8,000 for one year's effort powwowing with the halfbreeds. Surely, the business of being a member of Parliament was a profitable one for some people.

MEDICAL STUDENTS WANTED FOR THE CANADIAN FORCES

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Undergraduates of Canadian medical colleges are being given an opportunity to join the hospital and field ambulance units with the Canadians overseas. The Department of Militia has asked these institutions how many students in their second and third years they can supply as orderlies. Such recruits, whose medical experience will be valuable, will be given training in first aid work and in the mode of handling patients before going across.

The reported scarcity of orderlies at the Cliveden Hospital in England has not been officially brought to the attention of the department here. "We are filling every demand made upon us," said an official. "We have been asked to complete the medical establishment for the 1st Contingent and in accordance with the demand eight doctors, 100 men and 70 nurses will leave for England at an early date. If there is any urgent need we are only too glad to supply it."

At the present time the department has 1,300 on its waiting list of doctors, and 2,800 on its waiting list of nurses. For the First Contingent there is one clearing hospital with eight officers and 77 of other ranks, one clearing hospital with eight officers and 77 of other ranks, one stationary hospital with eight officers and 80 other ranks, one general hospital with 24 officers and 80 other ranks, and one convalescent hospital with three officers and three other ranks are being supplied, while it is possible that a base hospital will be organized shortly.

The Canadian medical service branch is particularly well organized and if every man enrolled were to enlist there would be sufficient to supply all the needs of the Canadian troops with a large number over. Both in the case of doctors and of nurses members of the A. M. C. are given preference.
