is believed that when this ship joins the fleet Russia will attack the Bosphorous and the Black Sea to force the Dardanelles.

Bombard Dardanelles.

London, Feb. 8.—Four torpedo boats of the Allies have bombarded the Turkish forts in the Dardanelles, according to an Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company. One hundred and seventy-four shells were discharged. The ammunition depots were set on fire.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS AT SALISBURY NOT AFRAID OF THE WET.

Members of the Canadian contingent at Shrewton have shown their adaptability to circumstances in a very novel manner. Their motor lorry became stranded in the flood so the men could use it as a bathing machine. They are evidently not afraid of cold water, but appear to like it as shown in the picture.

RIA HAS VIOLATED RUMANIAN FRONTIER

(Special to The Daily News.)
s, Feb. 8.—Austrian troops violated the Rumanian r near Turn Severin. A s fight with the frontier ollowed. Rumanian rein-

Hazelton, B. C., Feb. 6.—By defeating Smithers last night Hazelton has cinched the championship of the Northern B. C. Hockey League and the Ross Cup. This defeating New Hazelton and Smithers three games each. Arrangements are being made to play the Prince George team.

HOT TIMES IN THE PROV. LEGISLATURE

A recent visitor to Victoria who had spent some time attending the sessions of the Legislature, was asked if he had heard the local member, Wm. Manson, make a speech. "Yes; he did speak one day," was the reply. "He arose and asked that the windows be lowered to help the ventilation."

COLORADO UNION MEN CHARGED WITH MURDER

Walsenburg, Col., Feb. 8.—John Burke and Charles Haines, president and secretary, respectively, of the local union of the United Mine Workers of America, were arrested last night on indictments returned by the grand jury of Huerfano County, which has been investigating disorders incident to the recent Colorado coal miners' strike. They were charged with murder.

Court officials refused to reveal details of the accusations or the names of other defendants, with the exception of Wm. T. Hickey and Eli M. Gross, officers of the Colorado State Federation of Labor, arrested in Denver.

Five other former strikers later were arrested on similar charges.

LARGE CONVENTION TO MEET AT SMITHERS

District Liberals to Assemble in Force at Smithers Next Wednesday—Public Meeting Thursday.

New Hazelton, Jan. 8.—A large number from here and the surrounding country will be in attendance at the Liberal convention in Smithers on Wednesday evening of next week. A sleighload from Hazelton will leave on Tuesday and probably remain for the big public meeting on Thursday night, but the great majority from this section will go on Wednesday evening's train and return next morning, taking part only in the convention.

The public meeting on Thursday night will be held in the Prince Theatre, and according to reports reaching here from the divisional point it will be the largest political gathering ever held in the Northern Interior.
Several well known speakers will discuss the issues and altogether it should prove a profitable meeting for those attending.

IMMIGRATION BILL WAS NOT PASSED

President Wilson has won out in his veto of the Immigration Bill. An attempt was made to carry it over his head but they were five votes short of the necessary two-thirds required. The bill stands vetoed.

SACRED CONCERT.

A sacred concert was given in the Majestic Theatre last evening in the interests of the sufferers of the earthquake in Italy. A large number of local talent took part and there was a good attendance.

The Ladies' Aid of the Baptist Church will hold a Valentine Tea on Saturday, February 13, in the church from 3 to 9 p. m. Sale of

ARTILLERY DUELS STILL CONTINUE

(Special to The Daily News.) Paris, Feb. 8.—The official report states that the artillery duel continues from the sea to the Oise.

On the Aisne front and in the Champagne there is intermittent bombardment. Our positions are all maintained.

We blew up some German trenches at Kerenchy, and repulsed the attack on Massiges by artillery.

ULSTER LEADER HAS JOINED THE MAJORITY

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Feb. 8.—The Marquis of Londonderry, Solicitor General for Britain from 1900 to 1906, died today, aged 62. He was the leader of the Ulster movement.

VERY HUNGRY MAN.

One of the aborigines of Massett is a guest of Chief Vickers.
He wants to make a trip to Victoria in an aeroplane. It is not the price that is lacking, apparently, for he says his father has two million dollars; but then he has not seen his father for many years and he doesn't know where to find him. He hasn't had anything to eat for fifteen years and he doesn't feel very well. He will likely be sent to the asylum for the insane unless the health inspector, Dr. Cade, decides that it is the rest of us that are crazy.

BOWSER IS GUILTY OVER DOMINION TRUST

Eastern Newspaper Discusses the Scandal and Calls Upon Federal Government to Act.

When The Globe called upon the Hon. W. T. White to take criminal proceedings against the men responsible for the scandalous failure of the Dominion Trust Company of Vancouver, either through the Attorney General of British Columbia or directly by instructing the agents of the Federal government in Vancouver to bring the case before the next Grand Jury sitting in that city, it had no idea of the rottenness behind the published accounts of the failure. The company had manifestly evaded and defied the law, which forbade the taking of deposits without consent of the Dominion government, but it was not generally known upon what counsel this action was based, or how it had been regarded by those responsible for the administration of justice on the Pacific Coast.

The Vancouver Sun, commenting upon The Globe's question, "Are well-to-do offenders always to go unwhipped of justice in Canada?" makes the following extraordinary statements which should have the immediate attention not only of the Minister of Finance, but of the Minister of Justice:

"The Globe evidently does not realize the colossal nature of the task which it is assigning to Mr.
Bowser. Does it know that the firm of Bowser, Reid & Wall-bridge, of which the Attorney General is senior partner, were and are the solicitors of the rotten concern, the collapse of which has spread ruin far and wide?
Does it know that the firm of Bowser, Reid & Wallbridge, in order to be in close touch with the defunct company, from which they received such handsome revenues, occupied a palatial suite of law offices that are such a magnificent feature of the company's

HADAIDA INCIDENT IS CLOSED-- TURKS APOLOGIZE TO ITALY

BRITISH CONSUL HAS BEEN RELEASED AND RETURNED TO ENGLAND--WAS SUBJECT OF ULTIMATUM FROM ITALY AND CAME NEAR WAR.

(Special to The Daily News.) Paris, Feb. 8.—The Hadaida incident has apparently been closed.
The British consul, George Richardson, was released today by the Turks and returned to the Italian consulate, and the Turkish officers saluted the Italian flag.
Richardson left at once for England on the armed merchantman, Empress of India.

Origin of Trouble.

The Hadaida incident arose at the time war was declared between Britain and Turkey. The British consul took refuge in the Italian consulate and the Turks entered the place and arrested him. After a few sharp interchanges Italy presented an ultimatum to Turkey in the matter and she decided to come to terms.

The handing over of the consul and saluting the Italian flag closes a case that might have led Italy immediately into the war.

LOCAL SPEAKERS HOLD MEETING AT GRANBY BAY

Fred Stork and T. D. Pattullo returned on Saturday night from a visit to the smelting town on Granby Bay. During their trip they addressed a public meeting in the interests of the Liberal party and a large crowd turned out to hear what they had to say.
Discontent with the present government has hit Granby Bay like it has the rest of the province.

PROGRESS AT FRONT SHOWS LITTLE CHANGE

(Special to The Daily News.) London, Feb. 8.—The War Office gave out the following statement this afternoon regarding the progress of events at the front:

The day of February 6 was quiet. Between the canal and the road from Bethune to Labassee, a kilometre east of Cuinchy, a brickyard where the enemy had maintained a position was taken by the British.

In the section of Arras to the north of Eurie the German batteries have bombarded the trench captured by us on February 4 but there has been no infantry attack.

From Arras to Rheims there have been artillery fights in which we have had the advantage.

In the Champagne we repulsed an attack by half a battalion of the north of Beausejour.

From the Argonne to the Vos-ges artillery combats have been handicapped in the mountain regions by the thick fog.

LAWS OF 4,400 YEARS AGO ARE UNEARTHED

Babylonian Tablet Held at Yale Deals With Injury to Women; Boat and Cattle Hire.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 6.—A Babylonian tablet, believed to have been buried in the earth more than 4,000 years and containing the earliest law code, recently has been unearthed and is now in possession of Yale University, it has just become known.
The tablet is heavily incrusted, but part of it has been cleaned and deciphered. The laws are written in the Sumerian language, the language of Southern Babylonia prior to its conquest by the Semites or Accadians in the time of Hammarabi. Owing to the imperfect knowledge of the language, the work of deciphering is extremely difficult, but the university expects to have perfect translations made and published.
The laws that have been translated refer to legislation concerning injury to women; the repudiation of children who have perhaps been adopted, elopement, the hire of boats and cattle and provision for the killing of a hired ox by a lion. These laws are believed to have been written about 2,500 B. C.

FRENCH VALUABLES RETURNED TO PARIS

(Special to The Daily News.)
Geneva, Feb. 8.—A consignment of bonds, stocks and scrip to the value of $600,000,000 shipped here from Paris for safe keeping after France had been invaded was returned today.

SUGGEST "BACK TO ENGLAND"

Agitation in West to Send Surplus Labor to Assist English Factories.

An unusual agitation has started in the West of Canada, particularly Winnipeg and Calgary, which has reached the Premier of Canada, and he has instructed the Minister of Labor to investigate the possibilities of the suggestion. It is to send some of the surplus labor from Canada to Great Britain, where reports say that owing to the number of men enlisting there is a shortage of labor. Communications have passed between the West and Ottawa, and some of the labor organizations in the West have taken up the suggestion, as well as several of the Western members of the Federal House.

A deputation which visited the Premier last week was informed that the Minister of Labor was investigating the matter, and the suggestion of "back to England" was being seriously considered by the government.—Toronto Star.

EDITORIALS

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, emeritus-president of Harvard, says that the hope of a durable peace in Europe after the war is based upon two suggestions. The first is the establishment of a supreme court, to be used not only to settle international disputes, but for inquiries into conditions which may lead to disputes. The second is the maintenance of an international force subject to the order of such a court, as a sheriff or marshal executes the orders of a court within a nation.

Dr. Eliot thinks that an international tribunal unsupported by force would be unsatisfactory. He believes that experience shows that an international force is within the bounds of possibility. He points to the present and other alliances as proofs of the feasibility of co-operation. "These experiences prove that an international army could be made effective if it were discharging a recognized duty, and were animated by a common spirit."

In Europe today there is an international force seeking to punish Germany for violation of international law, and if possible to prevent future violations. The co-operation, however, is not the result of the judgment of any tribunal, and the delinquent and the police are at present nearly matched. If the police win, is there any hope of a permanent improvement in international relations?

All the parties to The Hague convention did not bind themselves to support the agreement with force. Nations are naturally reluctant to specify the exact conditions under which they will make war. But if such an agreement ever could be made—an agreement providing for law and for means of enforcing the law—a long step would be taken toward the abolition of war.

Progress in this direction will be due not to one, but to several forces. Dr. Eliot, for instance, says that public opinion alone has not prevented war or the violation of international agreements intended to mitigate the horrors of war. That is true, but it does not follow that public opinion is of no value. It is upon public opinion that we must depend to carry out the very plan which Dr. Eliot advocates. There is also a growing sense that the true function of nations is not conflict, but co-operation. Although this is not universally realized or immediately effective it is none the less true of nations just as it is of individuals, and its recognition is one of the tests of civilization.—Toronto Star.

An industry with $27,464,000 capital and employing 98,669 men, with an output valued last year at $13,891,398, must be ranked with the most important of the Dominion. This is the record of Canadian fisheries for 1913-14. That the men employed are following their own independent impulses instead of being under industrial organization control is a wholesome and sustaining influence, although it is apt to lead to an underestimation of the industry's extent and importance. The year's record lends special interest to the proposal for an international agreement designed to avert the threatened destruction of some Atlantic fisheries by the adoption of injurious methods.

Steam trawling is a comparatively recent innovation, but it has already destroyed many important fisheries off the British coasts. A vessel steaming at ten miles an hour trails a gigantic purse net along the bottom by two wire cables. The net's mouth is distended by a beam or by "Otter" boards, named after their inventor. These boards strike the water at an angle and force the trailing cables apart.

All fish are gathered into the net. At first the small fish escape through the meshes, but as the purse fills all are captured and killed by the increasing pressure. Not only merchantable fish, but their immature young and others that serve as their food are caught and killed. Feeding grounds and spawning beds are disturbed and sometimes destroyed. The trawl disarranges the balance of species that insures a continuous supply, its disturbance being regarded as specially injurious to certain marine growth that serve as fish food. When the net is hoisted over the deck and the gathering-line cut, a mass of dead fish is spilled out, and all that is worthless is shovelled overboard.

An investigation by the United States Bureau of Fisheries has convinced the commissioner that an effort should be made to co-operate with Canada, Newfoundland, and France in an international agreement to prevent this destructive method of open-sea fishing. As the trawl is used outside the three-mile limit it is only under an agreement recognized by all maritime nations that preventive regulations can be enforced. Pelagic sealing has been stopped on the Pacific, and it should be possible to prevent the destruction of important Atlantic fisheries by a similar agreement.—Toronto Globe.

CITY PLANS INCOME TAX

Four New Sources of Revenue Considered in New York

New York, Feb. 6.—Four new sources of revenue to the city, the chief of which is a proposal to impose a special tax on all persons who receive an income of more than $2,000 a year in New York City, are among the recommendations of the mayor's tax commission which go before the board of estimates today.

These new sources of revenue are proposed as emergency measures to relieve financial stress due to state taxation. The other revenue producers recommended are a land tax on "unearned" increment, a habitation tax to be applied to all who occupy dwellings or apartments, and an occupancy tax, to which all who pay rent for stores or offices would be subject.

Do it at once, and it is a matter of only a few minutes; put it off a month, and you have spent a month in doing it.

RAIL DOMINATION DENIED BY MORGAN

Banker Makes First Appearance Before Industrial Relations Board

New York, Feb. 6.—J. P. Morgan, testifying today at the inquiry being conducted by the federal commission on industrial relations into the great philanthropic foundations and the cause of industrial unrest, denied that his banking firm dominated half of the railroads in the United States.

The denial was called forth by a statement attributed to Samuel Untermyer when the latter was a witness before the commission that his banking firm had virtually controlled the railroads.

Not in Majority Control

"We certainly do not control half of the roads," Mr. Morgan said. He added with a laugh, "I don't know anything about Kuhn, Loeb & Co.'s business, but Mr. Untermyer was certainly wrong."

It was Mr. Morgan's first appearance as spokesman for the vast financial firm of Morgan & Company.

When Mr. Morgan arrived at the hearing John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America and a member of the New York state workmen's compensation commission, was on the stand.

Mr. Mitchell testified regarding conditions among the miners of Colorado and Pennsylvania and characterized as "simply absurd" the Rockefeller plan of settling labor troubles in Colorado.

Confess Lack of Knowledge

Mr. Morgan confessed his lack of knowledge regarding labor troubles in the corporations in which he is a director.

The officers of corporations as executive officials were responsible for labor conditions among the employees, Mr. Morgan declared. He was in favor of the "open shop" and considered that in labor disputes the employer should "play the part of any decent man." Philanthropic foundations had done considerable good, he believed.

Prime Minister Ribot, of France and Chancellor Lloyd George, of Britain, are meeting in France, together with Russian ministers, to find financial means to carry on the war to a successful finish.

CHEAP FISH.

The New York Globe has been making a contribution toward reducing the cost of living in a thoroughly practical way. It put a steam trawler to work, announcing that all fish caught by it would be put on sale at a fixed price of 5 cents a pound. The experience had with the first vessel was so satisfactory and so great a demand developed for fish at this price that another steam trawler was chartered, and The Globe believes that before long it will have quite a fleet in operation.

To bring the fish within easy reach of the purchasers it opened "demonstration stations" in different parts of the city, and finds eager buyers for all that it can supply. Moreover, it appears to be conducting the experiment at a satisfactory commercial profit.

There is always and everywhere considerable machinery between the producers—the fisherman—and the consumer. It is probable that none of the intermediaries make any exorbitant profit, but still the aggregate of the various profits increases the prices to the consumer to the extent that fish is not used as an article of diet to anything like the extent that it would be if such prices as The Globe has established could always be made to the consumer.

The local situation in Seattle is somewhat of an illustration. With a far greater supply of food fish almost at our doors than is available off any Atlantic Coast city, the actual consumption of fish in this market is very small and the prices range relatively high. There would be heavy increase in consumption if fish fresh from the water could be had here daily at the price which The Globe has established in its experiment.—Seattle P. I.

Repartee is any remark which is so clever that it makes the listener wish he had said it himself.

expensive skyscraper? Does it know that Mr. Bowser's principal partner was one of the directors whom it now calls upon Mr. Bowser to prosecute? Does it know that, as Attorney General of the province and at the same time solicitor of the company, Mr. Bowser is responsible for the provincial legislation of 1903, 1905, and 1908, which enabled the company to assume the powers of a bank and accept deposits? Does it know that after the Dominion Parliament in 1912 incorporated the company under a Federal charter, but deprived it of the power of receiving deposits, the Provincial Legislature undertook to amend the Dominion act by giving back to the company the power to receive deposits? Does it know that this flagrant specimen of ultra vires legislation, piloted through by Mr. Bowser in 1913, had to be repealed in 1914, owing to the protests of the Department of Justice at Ottawa? Does it know that the resourcefulness of Messrs. Bowser, Reid & Wallbridge was not even then exhausted, and that in the absence of legislation to justify receiving deposits a remarkable document purporting to be a deposit receipt was prepared and approved of by the firm which enabled the company to continue to receive deposits?

"Finally, does it know that this so-called deposit receipt is no deposit receipt at all, but a special agreement by which the innocent depositor agrees to loan his money to the company for investment, receiving back, should the company remain solvent, interest at 4 per cent per annum, all profits on the investment over that amount to become the property of the company?"

These allegations are almost incredible, but they were made editorially in one of the principal papers of British Columbia a week ago, and nothing has yet been heard of a libel suit. If the Attorney General of British Columbia had the relations with the Dominion Trust Company alleged by The Sun he is assuredly not competent to conduct the prosecution of its directors. The duty of the Dominion government is plain. It is somewhat strange that Mr. Doherty, the Minister of Justice, has not already moved in the direction of prosecution. The courts of British Columbia have already determined that the alleged "deposits" were no deposits at all, and that hundreds of innocent people had been led astray by their belief that they were "depositing" money when they were in reality loaning it for investment through the agency of the company. Does the Dominion government propose that such smooth evasions of the law, resulting in widespread loss to those least able to afford it, shall go unpunished? Are the statutes of Canada to become a joke?—Toronto Globe.

DID GERMAN TORPEDO SINK THE BLUECHER?

Was the final stroke to the German cruiser Bluecher administered by a German torpedo-boat, which in the confusion of the action mistook her for a British ship? That seems like a silly question, but it must not be forgotten that all the eyewitnesses of the engagement say there was a good deal of haze around the fighting vessels, probably because they were being pushed to top speed, and because of the smoke from their great guns as well as their funnels. In an official statement issued by the German government it is once more asserted that a British battle cruiser and two destroyers were sunk. As proof that this statement is true, so far as the battle cruiser is concerned, it is further stated that a German torpedo-boat, which returned unhurt from the engagement, sunk two torpedoes against a British battle cruiser, which already was heeling over, whereupon she capsized and sank. Unless this story is made out of whole cloth, and unless the British Admiralty is deliberately concealing a great disaster, which is inconceivable, a German torpedo-boat gave the final stroke to the Bluecher. The British battle cruisers are all back safely at their base, and the Bluecher did not come back. The inference is obvious.

Alderman Joe Clarke, of Edmonton, after a trial lasting seven days, has been acquitted of a criminal conspiracy charge. The defence was that Clarke was the victim of a frame-up.
