SEVERE CRITICISM OF HIS OPPONENTS AND ATTACKED NEWSPAPERS—BUDGET SPEECH TOMORROW—JITNEY BUS LEGISLATION.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Feb. 9.—Premier McBride was heard today in a defence of the government severely criticized his opponents and certain persons for what he called "using the Dominion company failure as a pretext for attack upon the Pro-government." In this attack upon the government he said they had quite overlooked or were purposely indifferent to the damage which might be done to the credit of the province.

It was announced that the budget speech would be delivered tomorrow and would be brief. It is also understood that legislation dealing with the jitney busses will be brought down.

S TO FORM AN ARMY RESERVE

Give Them Employment Military Training Proposed in Congress.

ington, Feb. 9.—Representative Loft, of New York, has introduced a bill to provide for a corps of the unemployed and the President to enlist persons for labor on the war works, able bodied males between the number to be detailed for four months, and at the end of that time the men re-ported for military training would go into the army reserve.

SUE DIRECTORS OF DOMINION TRUST

Liquidator Gets Leave to Start Civil Actions for Misfeasance.

Civil proceedings against the directors of the Dominion Trust Company for alleged misfeasance and breaches of trust were indicated in Vancouver Supreme Court Chambers, when Chief Justice Hunter gave leave to Mr. Andrew Stewart to commence actions against the directors and other officials of the company for misfeasance.

The affidavit of Mr. Stewart, read to the court, was as follows:

"During my investigations of the affairs of the Dominion Trust Company, I have ascertained various acts of directors and other officials of the company, in respect of which I have consulted my solicitors and counsel with the result that I am advised by them that the said acts amount to breaches of trust and other offences against the provisions of the Winding Up Act, and that it is my duty to institute proceedings against various persons who occupied the said positions for misfeasance."

SECOND CONTINGENT TO TRAIN AT SALISBURY

Salisbury Plain, Feb. 9.—Major Maurice Alexander, paymaster of the Second Canadian Contingent, has arrived at Salisbury to arrange for the next expeditionary force.

Five hundred reinforcements for the Princess Pats reached Tidworth, attached to the 12th Battalion.

Twelve pilots are wanted by the War Office for the aviation corps of the Canadian contingent, and the majority will be brought from Canada.

Colonel Reid takes command of the base pay office headquarters at Tidworth.

Only five chaplains will proceed to France, including Captain Almond, of Montreal.

The shipment of the patent mixture pork and beans donated by Sir Hiram Maxim to the Canadians reached them after being lost three months. They are greatly enjoyed.

The chances are that the fellow who has never made any mistakes has never plugged any bullees.

BRIDGE WRECKER GETS THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL IN MAINE

Horn Convicted of Damaging Property When Windows in Town Were Broken—Canada's Next Move.

Vanceboro, Me., Feb. 9.—Pending a determination at Washington of his political status, the state made sure today of the custody of Werner Horn, the bridge dynamiter, by causing him to be sentenced for thirty days in the county jail.

It is expected that before the expiration of this period he will be surrendered to the Federal authorities for a hearing on the application for his extradition to Canada filed by the British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice.

The complaint was made by Deputy Sheriff Ross, who was anxious to get the prisoner off his hands, and had been promised the support of the State Attorney General's office in the procedure. He alleged that when Horn discharged an explosive under the Canadian end of the Canadian Pacific Railway bridge over the St. Croix River he maliciously damaged property in this town, where windows in a few residences were broken.

Horn was a willing party to the proceedings, and pleaded guilty. Asked if he had anything to say, he replied in the negative, adding only, "My turn will come later."

Next Move Is Canada's.

Washington, Feb. 9.—State Department officials said that the next step in the case of Werner Horn, who attempted to destroy a railroad bridge at Vanceboro, Me., would have to be taken by Canadian authorities before a United States commissioner in Maine.

Until the hearing is completed and all the evidence gathered there no action will be taken on the formal application for extradition made by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, on behalf of the Canadian government.

The points raised by Horn that he was not on Canadian soil, and that his act was an act of war, are expected to be fully developed at the hearing before the commissioner.

Case Is Complicated.

Officials pointed out that it was a most unusual and complicated case and one of the most interesting legal questions that had arisen since the outbreak of war.

When the evidence is received by mail the application for extradition and evidence will be sent to the local magistrate in Maine, where Horn is held on charges preferred by the State. The Secretary of State, finally, however, has discretionary powers, and if he has reason to believe that a prisoner may be tried for a political offence he withholds extradition.

Whether Horn's act was a violation of American neutrality was discussed among officials, as that question might raise another complication in the proceedings.

SHORTAGE OF LABOR BRITAIN'S TROUBLE

Question Becoming More Acute—Thousands of Men Wanted in British Isles.

London, Feb. 9.—Reports from various parts of the country indicate the increasing shortage of labor. At a meeting of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce the chairman said the question was becoming more acute. Many firms could employ thousands more men if the men were available. In Llanelli one firm alone requires a thousand men.

A report to the Stepney Guardians from their engineer states that he is unable to carry out certain repair work, because he cannot procure the assistance of casual laborers, all in the district being now employed.

SOCIAL EVENING.

A most enjoyable evening was spent last evening by the members of the Young People's Society of the Methodist Church. The meeting took the form of a Shakespearean evening. A paper giving a brief account of the life of Shakespeare was given by Miss F. Eason, and two Shakespearean songs, "Orphus With His Lute," by Mrs. Ling, and "Where the Bee Sucks," by Miss Ethel Eason.

Three splendid recitations were given by Mrs. H. Birch, "The Banishment Scene" and "The Seven Ages of Man," from "As You Like It," and Katherine's speech to King Henry and Wolsey in the trial scene from "King Henry VIII."

They were thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by every one in the crowded room. Meetings are held every Monday evening.

WORK IN CAPITAL FOR FISH TRADE

Seattle Men Try to Save Big Business From Going to Foreign Cities.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Senator Jones, Representative Humphrey, Judges Thomas Burke and R. A. Ballinger and E. F. Blaine for the last few days have been laboring to secure some Federal action to prevent Prince Rupert and other British Columbia ports winning from Puget Sound the halibut and deep-sea fishing trade.

In their work they have the sympathy and co-operation of the Bureau of Fisheries.

Urge Restoring Tariff.

To Secretary Bryan and other officers they have explained that by Dominion government subsidy, by preferential rates on the trans-continental rail haul and by port and wharf concessions, the Canadian ports have secured advantages in the trade that threaten the Sound.

Restoration of the tariff, they point out, would serve to save the Eastern United States market to the American trade, but any tariff amendment at this session is impossible.

An alternative of a rigid enforcement of the shipping in bond regulations has been suggested to treasury officials and seems to meet approval.

Seattle Men Entertained.

Consultations are to be held with railroad traffic officials now here and the Interstate Commerce Commission with a view to securing permission for the carriers to meet the preferential rates given by the Canadian roads.

Judges Ballinger and Burke and Mr. Blaine were among the guests at a luncheon given at the Metropolitan Club by John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American Union, in compliment to the delegates from several Western and Southern cities attending the conventions of the Chambers of Commerce of the United States.

ACCIDENT AT NANAIMO MINE—SUDDENLY FILLS WITH WATER

TWENTY-ONE MEN ARE STILL MISSING AND ATTEMPTS ARE BEING MADE TO RESCUE THEM—BELIEVED MINERS BROKE INTO OLD FLOODED WORKS.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, Feb. 9.—Another terrible accident occurred here today by which twenty-one miners have likely lost their lives. The shaft of the North Wellington mine suddenly filled with water this morning at 11:30. It is supposed that the men broke into the old workings which were near and which have been flooded for some time.

Twenty-one men of the crew employed in this shaft are still missing and attempts are being made to rescue them.

NO SOCIAL PARTIES AT THE FRONT NOW

Even Wife of British Premier Was Stopped on Way to Visit Officers.

London, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Asquith, wife of the Premier, with three other women, left London a week ago to spend the week-end at a villa in the rear of the British line, as guests of an officer of the Guards. His wife was one of those with Mrs. Asquith.

Mrs. Asquith and her friend left Calais about mid-day in two motor cars. At a farm some six miles from the villa to which they were going they were held up by a French cavalry troop, which declined to let them either proceed or return. Mrs. Asquith, who speaks French fluently, was informed very politely by the young officer in charge of the cavalry troop that he had strict orders to stop all civilians at that point and to keep them there until a large number of baggage, ammunition, and food wagons, which were coming from the rear to La Bassee by that road, passed by.

All civilians, the officer said, would then have to return at once to the rear. It was in vain that Mrs. Asquith showed her permits and passes. The French officer declared with many regrets that his orders were positive and that he must carry them out.

It is surmised that these week-end parties at the front are not approved of at French headquarters, and that General Joffre gave instructions last week that visitors be stopped, in order to give them a lesson that would discourage this sort of visit to the front in future.

SAYS THAT AUSTRIA HAD LONG DECIDED ON WAR ON SERBIA

London, Feb. 9.—"Until revelations were made in the ministerial statement before the Italian Parliament the other day we had no knowledge that Austria-Hungary contemplated hostile action against Serbia in 1913," said Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, in the House of Commons. "The fact that hostile action against Serbia was contemplated in 1913 shows that the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, which occurred in 1914, was not the cause, though it was made the pretext of the war."

NO EASY MONEY FOR METLAKATLA INDIANS

The city solicitor presented the Council with a report on the demands of the Metlakatla Indians for a yearly payment of $500 for certain imagined damages to their reserve at Shawatlans by the city hydro-electric.

Before the city commenced operations the Indian Department was communicated with and replied that the charge for crossing the reserve would be nominal apart from any damages done to the property.

The reserve in that district contains ten acres and according to the city solicitor is worth about $5 per acre. The city has already paid $250 for this concession, which would buy out the land several times, and besides this no damage was done to the land.

With regard to the Indian claim that the blasting of the stream has damaged their fishing grounds, the Fishery Department declares that it has improved them, as Shawatlans Lake is now far more accessible as a spawning ground than formerly. Indeed, the department had this in view, in any case. No damage was therefore done to the fishing grounds. The advice of the city solicitor, therefore, was that the Indian Department be notified that the sum would not be paid under any circumstances. If the nominal sum paid for crossing the land was not enough, then an impartial party should go over it and assess it. He opposed the local Indian agent having anything to do with it.

MARKET BYLAWS.

When the City Market was started last year it was decided that the market be tried out first as an experiment without it being covered by any bylaw until its utility was demonstrated. Last night Alderman McClymont asked if a bylaw covering this institution was to be introduced this year. The chairman of that committee said that as far as he knew there was the formation of one underway.

W. J. Bowser's defence of his connection with the Dominion Trust failure is a very lame affair. His strongest argument is that they did the same thing in Manitoba. Mr. Bowser is head of the Department of Justice in this province. What would he say to a murderer who tried to defend himself by saying that somebody else had committed that crime, too. Surely, this is the wail of a man who knows he is guilty and, finding no way out of his predicament, tries to divert attention from himself. The crime of the Attorney General, however, cannot be overlooked. He has already incriminated himself by declaring that he knew the company was insolvent for two years. It will not do to deny this. He has been caught red-handed in a mixup that spells political doom.

It is sheer waste of words to denounce the Germans for sinking British merchant vessels with all on board. The pirates used to do it, and by doing it the pirates used to inspire great fear. It is for this reason that the Germans have resorted to a practice of which piracy affords the only precedent in modern times. When pirates seized a ship they used to make the occupants walk the plank, then they looted the prize and scuttled it. The Germans cannot even loot the non-combatant vessels which they make their prey—they can but wreck and sink them, with their crews, passengers, and cargoes.

Of course it is contrary to all the rules of war, and is done in defiance of the principles of civilization and world opinion.

but the whole contention of Germany is that she recognizes no law but her own will. This is precisely what she is fighting for, to establish, by her might, her right to do just whatever she chooses to do regardless of all outside considerations, such as international law, rules of war, treaties, conventions, traditions, and moral restraints.

So far as Germany is concerned, there is no law in the world today except her own will. If she is as strong as she hopes she is, there will be no law in the world tomorrow except her own will. That is how her teaching runs. Why should not the strong nation strongly work her will on earth instead of weakly hampering herself by respecting the will of weak nations? What Germany proposes to do is to master the world and manage it, to smash all conventions with her mailed fist, to no longer fetter herself with considerations of so-called right and so-called wrong, all of which her leaders would describe as nonsense from Nazareth, making up a slave's religion, which they are to supercede with a religion of valor.

The sinking of unarmed ships, the shelling of undefended coast towns, the dropping of bombs on sleeping villages, the setting afloat of mines in the open sea to drift where they may and work such destruction as chance may direct, the demolition of historic buildings, the general slaughter and sack of Belgium—the whole war as Germany conducts it is a war in defiance of law, in challenge to international authority, and if Germany wins there will be no law except her will, for there will be no power, no might greater than her might.

It is, therefore, no use to denounce Germany for her murderous and piratical deeds. If she succeeds her success will standardize such acts. The only way is to overpower Germany and disarm her, using force greater than her own, and subject her to the will of the world and the laws she has defied. And if this is to be done Canadians must take a larger hand in the doing of it than they have begun to do as yet.—Toronto Star.

RANCHERS FLEE FROM FURY OF LASSEN

Growing Activity of Volcano and Reopening of Old Fissures Cause Alarm.

Auburn, Cal., Feb. 8.—Ranchers living in the vicinity of Mount Lassen, frightened by the growing activity of the volcano, have begun to move their families and stock to places of safety. Fishes—relics of prehistoric activity—extending as far as the Clear Creek region, some forty miles from the volcano, are giving off steam and ashes, causing widespread alarm.

Peter Armilly arrived today from the region to make arrangements to bring out his family and livestock. Armilly, who owns 160 acres in the affected area, said that in one place a fig orchard of 100 trees had sunk until the tops of the trees were on a level with the surrounding bank made by the sinking ground. At another place several acres have dropped between fifty and sixty feet. The ground fell from under a barn, letting it topple over on its side.

Armilly said that shortly before he came out he was awakened by a flash of light which changed the night into day and caused the roosters to begin to crow. Great clouds of smoke were pouring from Lassen's crater when he looked out.

EXHIBITION OF RADIUM STAMPEDES U. S. HOUSE

Washington, Feb. 9.—The exhibition of $11,000 worth of radium, the first to be extracted from radium-bearing ore by the United States government, caused an unusual commotion on the floor of the House when shown.

Representative Martin Foster, who was a practicing physician before coming to Congress, brought the radium into the House, and asked permission to say a few words on the radium conservation bill now on the calendar.

"I have here," he began, holding aloft a red morocco case, "two tubes containing $11,000 worth of radium," and the stampede began.

Representative Foster explained that the tubes contained bromide of radium, extracted by the Bureau of Mines, one tube holding radium worth $5,000 and the other tube being worth $6,000, together weighing 170 milligrams. The radium, he said, had been loaned him by Dr. Howard E. Kelly, of Baltimore, the cancer expert.

MUCH TRUCK AND TRADE WITH THE YANKEES

In his recent address at the dinner of the Chamber of Commerce of Buffalo, President Farrell, of the United States Steel Corporation, made some interesting and significant remarks in regard to the trade of the United States with Canada. On this subject, Mr. Farrell said:

"It is a peculiar commentary on the public's view of foreign trade that, while so much attention is given to over-sea trade development, Canada, under normal conditions, buys more from the United States than do all the republics of Latin-America.

"This important part of our international trade well repays examination. Exports to and imports from the Dominion are grounded upon mutual necessities. The transaction of the business valued in the fiscal year 1914 at $505,000,000, is facilitated by railroads which know no borders, similarity of currency relieving settlements from the dependence upon European exchange characteristics of our over-sea trade, and a steady investment of American capital which develops Canadian industry and enlarges the demand for American materials.

"In this trade are apparent the benefits of the application of the commercial, industrial, transportation and financial activities familiar in our own domestic business life, but which, except in Canada, Mexico and Cuba, we have not largely applied to foreign markets.

"Our export trade to Canada is profitable, not merely by reason of its great volume, but also because it consists in a great part of manufactures in which labor represents a high percentage of value. Canadian-American commerce is a particularly useful illustration because it demonstrates that our capital is not timid of foreign investment when conditions are understood. It is estimated that not less than $650,000,000 of United States capital has been invested during the last ten years in Canadian industries. This does not include the enormous sums taken by American settlers to the Canadian Northwest and there devoted to the development of the greatest of all industries, that of agriculture. These investments have been of reciprocal advantage to both countries."

WANT ITALY TO REFRAIN FROM FIGHT

Amsterdam, Feb. 8.—An article from its Vienna correspondent which is attracting much attention appeared in the Frankfurter Zeitung, a copy of which has been received here. The correspondent indicates that an endeavor is being made by Germany and Austria to keep Italy out of the war by satisfying her territorial aspirations. The article says Germany and Austria have frankly recognized Turkey's claim to Trentino and adds that there should be no difficulty in reaching an agreement provided Italy preserves unconditional neutrality and remains a member of the Triple Alliance.

GERMAN NEWSPAPER ATTACKS NEUTRALITY OF U. S. GOVERNMENT

Cologne Gazette Charges Wilson Administration With Favoring Countries Other Than the Dual Monarchy.

Amsterdam, Feb. 8.—The Cologne Gazette, a copy of which has been received here, attacks the American government's neutrality. The article criticises Secretary of State Bryan's letter sent to Wm. J. Stone, chairman of the United States Committee on Foreign Relations, refuting charges that the United States had shown partiality to the Allies against Germany and Austria. The article says:

"Mr. Bryan made himself the mouthpiece of the brutal British standpoint, which is based on force. We are certain that German-Americans and those who share their views will furnish the right reply to Mr. Bryan's epistle. We now know what we must expect from Mr. Bryan's management of foreign affairs.

"American neutrality is only a thin veil behind which is concealed eagerness to do England a good turn. Knowing this, we will be guided by our knowledge. If America respects only brute force, then we shall give full play to brute force."

FEATHERS FOR MEN'S HATS.

An effort is to be made this spring to induce men to wear a feather upon the hat—a bit of color to relieve the drab, as it is expressed. We shall wait, to see what we shall see, nor declaim with a show of arrogance that the thing won't go. When it was announced that long trousers would take the place of knickerbockers, the impulsive yelled their disapproval, and swore by halyard and by hinges that they would never adopt such foolish raiment. But they did.

To imagine a full-grown man with a feather in his hat is to incur a desire to do bodily harm to the wearer. And yet, who knows? Ye humble and inconspicuous editor may come to such a fashion. For there are stranger things in the records of the race than wearing feathers; there are more idiotic things charged up to man than adorning himself with a bit of color plucked from the tail of cockerel or canary.—Dayton News.

MEN WHO SANK COASTERS GET COVETED IRON CROSSES

Amsterdam, Feb. 9.—A dispatch received here from Hamburg says that Kaiser Wilhelm visited Wilhelmshaven base last Thursday. His Majesty inspected the German submarine U-21, going over the vessel personally. He bestowed the decoration of the Iron Cross upon the members of the submarine's crew. U-21 is undergoing repairs at Wilhelmshaven following her recent exploits in the Irish Sea.

The Emperor also inspected the units of the fleet at Wilhelmshaven. The men on the various warships lined the decks and cheered His Majesty loudly as he made his appearance. The Town Council of Wilhelmshaven gave a dinner of honor of the Emperor.

THE BOY SCOUTS.
The idea underlying the Boy Scout movement is not military; it is that of character-building, and to teach boys to do things for themselves. In view of the growth of the movement, it is strange that some misconceptions still exist about it. Its purpose is not to train soldiers, but to train citizens. The boys learn woodcraft and campcraft, but above all they are taught their duties to others; especially the duty of service; and they are trained to perform this duty on their own initiative, and to know how to perform it. So highly have this initiative and resourcefulness been developed that on several occasions they have won national attention by it, as when the Boy Scouts in Washington held back a riotous mob, which the police could not do.
The Boy Scout oath includes a vow "to help other people at all times," and another "to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." In developing both the will to help others and the knowledge of how to help themselves, especially in emergencies, the movement is doing a great service to the country.—New York Times.

The charges for water rates to the Pioneer laundry and the cold storage company were reduced from 6 cents to 4 cents per 100 cubic feet, as those concerns are large consumers, using about 100,000 cubic feet per month.
Mrs. Jack Leggett and children will leave on Friday for Vancouver, where they expect to reside for some time. Mrs. Leggett has been a resident of Prince Rupert for six years, being one of the first ladies to make their homes here.

The city weigher will get a free phone installed. The former weigher had a pay phone but in four months it netted the city the large sum of 48 cents, although it was not explained how the odd number crept in, the charges being 5 cents.

A letter was read before the Council from J. D. Ross, electrical expert, of Seattle, congratulating the city on the success of the hydro-electric, and commending the efforts and services of the electric superintendent, T. C. Duncan, in the matter.

The Council at last night's session adopted a resolution whereby the assessment of last year will become automatically the roll for 1915. The assessor will make all necessary corrections in the list with regard to changes of owners, etc., before the lists are sent out.

A reply was read at last night's Council meeting from Premier Borden to the telegram sent by the Council to the Premier backing up the request made by the mass meeting on the fishery concessions. The Premier said the matter would be laid before the Minister of Marine and Fisheries "for his faithful and earnest consideration."

Alderman McClymont took up the question of light meters. He thought that at the rate of 25 cents per month consumers would soon pay for the meter. The chairman of the light committee said that it was under consideration to lower this cost to 15 cents per month. A further reduction in the light will also be made if conditions warrant it.

A meter will be put in place to serve the G. E. P. with water at a cost of $1,000, the meter alone costing $900 to purchase. Alderman Montgomery questioned the wisdom of spending that much at present, but it was shown that the money was on hand in the special water extension fund. The engineer explained that the meter would soon pay for itself as it was impossible to otherwise arrive at the amount used. The drydock alone uses almost half a million cubic feet per month.

Ladies' Home Nursing Class of St. John Ambulance Association will meet in the Board of Trade rooms on Thursday at 8 p. m. 33-5

A bill of $15 for installing light fixtures in the City Market was sent in by the incumbent of that institution and the Council ordered it paid. Storage facilities where goods can be locked up in the market will also be put in by the Council costing in the neighborhood of $15.

A local churchman was dumb-founded last Sunday when his good wife got home from kirk and told him that the minister referred in the pulpit to his absence from the service. It is not reported that he was consoled when the good man's words were quoted as follows: "All the Pharisees are not in the church."

He asked her age. It is reported that he will recover.

PARKER WILLIAMS AND BOWSER'S DEFENCE

Member for Newcastle Complains That Inability to Obtain Legal Advice Handicaps Him.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 6.—The Legislature yesterday passed the resolution offered by Messrs. Williams and Place, calling for correspondence and papers in connection with the Dominion Trust Company. Mr. Williams, speaking to the resolution, devoted a considerable part of his address to a complaint that the opposition was in the position of being unable to secure legal advice. If it were possible that in British Columbia, as in Saskatchewan, the opponents of the government in the House could get legal advice, it would then be more simple for him and his colleague to meet and combat the arguments advanced by the Attorney General in a case such as the Dominion Trust failure. For this reason he did not attempt to answer seriatim the points made by the Attorney General, as to do so would involve a legal knowledge he did not possess.

Criticism Resented.

One of his chief criticisms against the statement of the Attorney General was that the latter had made an elaborate attempt to divide the responsibility which rested on the government in the matter of the affairs of the Dominion Trust Company over a number of the other provinces of the Dominion. Then again, he thought Mr. Bowser had unfairly gone out of his way to charge that the Liberal party was seeking to make political capital out of the collapse of the company. The government had reached the position when it resented all criticism of itself on the ground that the critics were making an attack upon the country. It had been intimated that he (Mr. Williams) was getting legal briefs from lawyers on which to base his speeches. He denied this, and could say that, personally, he had little use for lawyers.

The case of what had occurred in Saskatchewan had been cited. Well, if the present opposition in the Legislature was treated as is the opposition in Saskatchewan, he and his colleagues might be in a better position to keep fully informed on important matters before the House.

Arnold a Wizard.

As he saw it, the Attorney General had adopted two main lines of defence—one, that Arnold was a perfect wizard, the other to distribute responsibility over as large an area as possible. Two wrongs never made a right, but apparently four wrongs did. The inspector should have taken cognizance of the system of wild-cattling in which Arnold was indulging to the extent of nearly three and one-half million dollars. This phase of the Dominion Trust Company's business should have aroused the suspicions of the government. He would like to have placed before him the reports of the Attorney General made by Mr. W. Upton Runnals, the inspector of trust companies. Then, again, if the government claimed no responsibility in the matter, why was it that it is proposed to appoint a solicitor to look after the interests of the depositors and put the sum of $250,000 in the estimates for relief purposes?

Finally, he was of the opinion that the government was to blame for not having instituted prosecutions instead of having apparently taken up the task of shielding the guilty ones.
The adjourned debate on two
