FORTY BRITISH AEROPLANES ATTACKED GERMAN BASE--GERMANS SUNK BRITISH COLLIER

FORTY BRITISH AEROPLANES AGAIN ATTACK GERMAN BASES

EXPLODED BOMBS FROM OSTEND TO ZEEBRUGGE AND EIGHT FRENCH AEROPLANES SIMULTANEOUSLY ATTACK GERMAN AERODROME.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Feb. 17.—The official states that an aerial squad of the British navy made an unassisted attack on the German bases along the Belgian coast in an effort to destroy the mine bases.

Bombs were dropped on the batteries at Ostend, gun positions at Middlekirke, locks and mole at Zeebrugge, and on barges and trawlers at Zeebrugge.

Forty aeroplanes took part. Eight French aeroplanes assisted by attacking the Ghislende aerodrome, thus preventing the German aircraft coming to the defence of the attacked places.

SHIPS SINK A BRITISH COLLIER

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Feb. 17.—The British collier, of 3,000 tons, was sunk by a German mine near Havre. Twenty of her crew of thirty-one were rescued, the fate of the two being unknown. The ship was made in a heavy sea without warning.

DEED TO COMPENSATE LOSSES TO INDIVIDUALS

London, Feb. 17.—President Wilson has signed a decree giving a credit of 300,000,000 ($60,000,000) to meet the urgent needs of persons whose property has been destroyed as a result of the war.

The statistics give the number of applications for government aid as 2,116,000, of which 1,000,000 were refused. At present allowances are paid to 1,000 persons, the average daily being 2 francs 10 cent (42 cents). The daily outlay is 3,900,000 francs ($780,000).

MAINTAIN EARLY CLOSING OF MANITOBA BARS

Winnipeg, Feb. 17.—Many new applications on the liquor traffic provided for in the bill to amend the Manitoba Liquor License Act. The order-in-council directing hotels to close bars at 11 o'clock is legalized and made permanent; authority is given to municipalities to control the number of licenses; they may submit a petition of 25 per cent of the qualified voters for repeal of licenses in municipal areas and a vote on the repeal not be taken within two months of reduction is carried, the repeal in either case to be carried by a majority of two-thirds. No liquor is sold on Good Friday and on the day as heretofore. Licenses will be limited to one, instead of to cities and towns as at present; boards of license commissioners, which number at present, are reduced to a central board.

ARMY TOOK TWO MILES GERMAN TRENCHES

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Feb. 17.—The official reports say the French troops at Ypres took two miles of German trenches northwest of the city yesterday. Several hundred prisoners, five being officers, were taken.

SUBMARINE ESCORTED TROOPS FROM VICTORIA

To an unknown destination the Thirtieth Battalion of the Canadian expeditionary force left The Willows camp at Sunday noon in full marching order, with No. 2 Company—Prince Rupert's contingent—leading the battalion.

Arriving at the wharf, Captain Peck's full company and the staff boarded the Princess Adelaide, and the balance the Princess Mary. Sunday night the battalion left Vancouver in three special trains and will go through to Ottawa, where the Thirtieth will be inspected by the Governor General before embarkation at Halifax.

Escorted by a submarine, the C. P. R. Princesses were given a rousing send-off by Victorians, who have entertained at most lively interest in the Western corps of the second contingent.

Among Prince Rupertites who came over on the Adelaide were Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. Dowling, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Godenrath, and Mrs. Stewart, of Terrace. Wm. Manson, M. P. P., and Jack Kirkpatrick marched down from The Willows to the boat with the Northern boys, who lustily sang, "We're Here Because We're Here."

FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

The Prince Rupert Football League was reorganized last night at a largely attended meeting in St. Andrew's Society rooms. Temporary officers were elected as follows: President, H. Dow; secretary, W. R. Martin; committee, G. Abbott, F. Denny, W. P. McIlvarey, T. McMeekin and S. King. These hold office till properly accredited delegates are appointed by affiliated clubs. The committee, in combination with other athletic bodies, will urge upon the City Council the early completion of the recreation park and providing of other athletic facilities. The project of a masquerade dance under the auspices of the league was brought forward.

Sir Richard McBride has at last got a solution for the ill he has brought upon the Province by his corrupt practices. He says that in order to straighten matters out, "We will have to develop a stronger moral tone." How admirably that old story suits: "When the Devil was sick the Devil a saint would be; when the Devil got well the devil a saint was he."

HUNGRY CONTRACTORS ROBBING THE SOLDIERS

The following clipping from an exchange shows how some of the government supporters manipulate their war contracts. The suggested remedy is too lenient.

"At Winnipeg the other day 400 men under training for war service arose as one man and protested against the quality of the food supplied by the Militia Department. There was such odoriferous proof of their complaint that the officer of the mess sent it all away and substituted cheese. In Winnipeg it is stated that the government let the contract for feeding the men to a political supporter for 25 cents per man per meal and that, not being in that line of business himself, he farmed out the contract to a caterer for 14 cents, making a profit of 11 cents on every meal with which every man in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Batteries, the Army Service Corps and the Medical Corps was served—a profit amounting to over $130 per day! It is almost incredible but, if the facts be as stated, the man who got the contract from the government should be court-martialed and shot. And he probably should not be shot alone."

M'BRIDE AND C. N. R. MEETS WITH CRITICISM

Speaking in New York recently, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy had the following to say about some of Canada's newest railways, evidently referring to the C. N. R. and the British Columbia guarantees.

"The only threatening feature in Canada now is the situation resulting from the wild and stupid railway policy which has been pushed there, exemplified by the construction of two additional transcontinental lines, almost entirely under the auspices of the government, many years in advance of their time. I do not fear any ill-effect upon the prosperity of the older lines, but there is a possibility that the governments, both Federal and Provincial, will have a considerable load to carry for some years to come by reason of their guarantees."

RESCUED FROM GRAVE WHERE SIX WERE BURIED

Butte Miner Caught in Cave-in Thirty-Six Hours Without Food or Drink.

Butte, Mont., Feb. 17.—Richard Rodgers was rescued from the cave-in at the Gagnon mine this morning after being imprisoned thirty-six hours without food or drink. He suffered but little injury. The bodies of two men, Andrew Evison and Mike Zerie, are still buried under the mass of dirt and rock that fell into the mine. Mine officials are satisfied that both these men are dead. The casualties as a result of the accident are four dead and two injured. The bodies of James Faber and J. B. Fay were taken out late yesterday. The injured men are Rodgers and Richard Tiddy.

Fay and Faber were reached after thirty hours' digging. They begged for water, and while being extricated gave instructions as to their families in the event they did not survive. When brought to the surface death came to both men in a few minutes.

VANCOUVER'S MAYOR UNSEATED; COURT SAYS IS NOT QUALIFIED

ACTION BROUGHT BY NUMBER OF VANCOUVER BUSINESS MEN—NEW ELECTION ORDERED—TAYLOR LACKING THE QUALIFICATIONS CANNOT RUN.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, Feb. 17.—This city is destined to have another sensational election. The election of L. D. Taylor was declared void today by Judge Clement on the ground of lack of qualification. The action was brought up a couple of weeks ago by several local business men. The trouble arose over an old judgment which was filed against the property which Taylor had borrowed for the purpose of qualifying.

A new election has been ordered, but as property must be registered in the candidate's name thirty days before election, it is not likely that Taylor can be a candidate.

NO GERMAN CAN SUE IN COURTS

English Court of Appeal Lays Down Law in Regard to Alien Enemies.

That an alien enemy cannot sue in the English courts, but if himself sued, can defend and enter an appeal, is the decision handed down by the English Court of Appeal in a special series of cases argued before the full court of six judges, presided over by the Lord Chief Justice. This ruling will presumably be followed in the courts of Canada as an authoritative statement of the law.

The Court of Appeal also found on other questions submitted in regard to trading with alien enemies, that an alien enemy who has been naturalized is under the protection of the Crown and can sue in the English courts; that an alien enemy can appeal after the war is over against a decision given against him before the war; and that a company composed of enemy directors and shareholders but registered in England as an English company can sue in the English courts. From this latter decision Lord Chief Justice Buckley dissented.

The effect of the war upon legacies left to alien enemies has also been indicated by the ruling of the registrar of the Probate Court in London two weeks ago forbidding any legacies to be paid to alien enemies without leave. It is expected that the matter will await a ruling of the Court of Appeal. The matter has been raised by the death of Hermann Koenigs, a native of Germany, who became a naturalized British subject. He recently left a fortune of about $250,000 naming two relatives in Germany as executors. Much of the money was left to German institutions in England, but the court granted administration to an English friend of the deceased, under Section 73 of the Act, with instructions not to pay away any money without the consent of the registrar.

POLICE COMMISSION.

A short session of the New Police Commission took place yesterday afternoon in the mayor's office, at which the chief of police presented his monthly report. The new commissioners are Alderman Edge and Hubert Ward. The acting mayor, Alderman Kerr, is a member of the board during the absence of the mayor.

EDITORIALS

The last session of the City Council showed the weakness of several aldermen. When it came to a vote on the reduction of salaries the majority of the members "straddled the fence." There is nothing so despicable in a man as duplicity and perhaps nothing that destroys so quickly the confidence of his fellows. Everybody admires the man with opinions of his own providing he is honest and consistent, but the man who is neither here nor there does not even save his self-respect. The whole trouble is that some of them think that their chances of re-election would not be so good if they did what they know to be right. What a pity it is that men could not be had who would follow their convictions and leave the political aspect to take care of itself.

Acting Mayor Kerr seems to have struck the right keynote when he said that while he could not support a reduction in wages for workingmen, he was quite willing to see a reduction in salaries that could stand a little paring. The rights of labor should always be respected and their demands for a living wage is very reasonable. When necessity compels a reduction it is in order to begin with the better paid classes. A fifty per cent reduction on the portion of each salary over one hundred dollars would not put necessities beyond the reach of anyone, while the saving of about a thousand dollars a month could be used for the relief of those in want. The men who are asking for a reduction in fat city salaries are the real friends of labor because they aim at giving employment to a large number who are now idle. Compel the strong brother to carry the burdens of the weak. In this crisis through which our country is passing we must all stand together.

The workingmen of this country have long been fooled into believing that the Conservative party was their friend. That this show of friendship was self-centered has always been evident to the observing ones but it is only on special occasions that the true situation is clearly revealed. An order has recently been issued signed by representatives of a Conservative City Council and the Provincial government which will work a hardship on a large number of workingmen but which nevertheless shows "the way the wind is blowing." The order provides that all occupants of cabins on city and government reserves be compelled to move before February 28th. This means that a large number of people who at present enjoy free rent will be compelled to hire a cabin or sleep in the open. Such highhanded action is unthinkable, especially during hard times, and the men effected should challenge the authorities and dare them to make the change. The best element in the city will stand behind them.

A week ago a couple of young unattached men arrived in this city from Vancouver and within a few days they had secured a job at the city crusher. This, too, in spite of the fact that there are scores of idle men in this city, many of whom help to support the city by paying their taxes. This, surely, doesn't seem fair and the party responsible should be called to task. Local citizens should have the preference in any work the city has to give and after that it is all right to help out our unfortunate brothers in Vancouver.

REWARD FOR HATE.

The German Imperial Gazette announces that the Kaiser conferred upon Ernest Lissauer, author of "The Hymn of Hate Against England," the highest decoration of the Order of the Red Eagle of the fourth class, with the Royal Crown. The German press notes the announcement with outspoken satisfaction, the Berliner Tageblatt asserting that Lissauer's poem entitles him to rank as one of the celebrities of modern times.

You may have noticed that when a reformer has a message to the people he always wants to send it collect.

INDIAN TROOPS QUICK TO LEARN MODERN WARFARE

One Frontal Attack Teaches Them The Formidable Character Of Defense.

London, Feb. 17.—The readiness with which the Indian troops adapt themselves to the altered conditions of modern warfare is the subject of a letter from Count D' Hincourt, who is with the English forces in France. He says:

"In their first encounters the Indians impetuously made frontal attacks, ignoring the obstacles, and throwing themselves on the enemy. But they quickly learned the formidable character of the defense of modern warfare. This resulted in the restraint of their natural ardor, and the use of the inventive genius of Oriental cunning."

"Recently, in a valley bristling with traps and snares, they showed their adaptiveness. It was a night black as ink. Without waiting for the word of command the Gurkas crept forward toward the enemy's lines. The wind drowned the slight noise as they moved along the ground, and the darkness hid them. They advanced along a line which extended the whole length of the opposing trenches."

"Arriving at the barbed wire, on which the Germans had placed small bells and other means of warning, they cut them one by one, using remarkable care, making no noise to disturb the enemy."

"As soon as they had finished their work they returned to their own trenches. They explained to the subadar (captain) that the barbed wire now offered no resistance, and after a rapid inquiry, the English did not hesitate to take part in the adventure."

"An Indian lieutenant gave some orders in a low voice. A slight grating sound was audible from one side of the trench to the other; then men were fixing their bayonets. The officer, by a silent signal, gave the order to advance."

"The Indians threw themselves on the ground, planting their kukris silently in the soil so as to draw themselves along. The English followed on bended knees and listening intently."

"When they came to the enemy's trenches the Gurkas threw themselves against the stakes, which were no longer protected by the barbed wire barricades, and leaped into the trenches."

"In the morning, as a feeble ray of light filtered timidly through the great, gray clouds, one could see the English seated on the edge of the newly captured trench, smoking their pipes while the impassive Gurkas, draped in their woolen banas, dreamed of fresh victories."

GERMAN SHELLS CROSS FRONTIER OF SWITZERLAND

INDIANS ARE ARRESTED ON POTLATCH CHARGE

Two Chiefs Brought Down From North—Judge Lets Offender Go But Warns Against Continuance.

Vancouver, Feb. 9.—Two Indians were brought down on yesterday's steamer from the North, charged with having held potlatches, "contrary to the statutes made and provided." Both men are chiefs in their respective districts. One of them Klaka Agila, comes from Fort Rupert and was taken over to Victoria for trial, and the other was Seesakolis, and comes from Kincaid. The men are within the jurisdiction of the Indian agency at Alert Bay.

Seesakolis' case was speedily disposed of in Vancouver.

Mr. Frank Lyons was secured to act for him, and on an appearance before His Honor Judge McInnis, pleaded guilty to the charge, stating that it was not desired to put the Crown to the expense of bringing witnesses all the way down from the north country to give evidence. In consideration of this the court remanded the chief until called on for sentence, and he will be able to get back to his tribe by the next steamer. The court, however, warned the accused that the potlatching must not be repeated.

Seesakolis is not able to speak much English, but through an interpreter said that he had not been really "potlatching" at all. It was a mere feast, he said, in which he had fed the hungry and made a few presents to needy people. There had been no fights, no drinking and no stealings, nor

RAILWAYS DESIRE TO RAISE FREIGHT RATES

Application Will Be Made to Railway Board for Permission to Increase Eastern Rates.

Ottawa, Feb. 17.—Application for permission to increase freight rates on all lines east of Port Arthur will be made to the Railway Commission on March 1 by the C. P. R. and Grand Trunk under instructions issued by Chief Commissioner H. L. Drayton. The case will be taken up by the board on that date.

VISCOUNT NORTHLAND KILLED

London, Feb. 16.—Viscount Northland, son of the Earl of Ranfurly, a descendant of William Penn, the founder of Pennsylvania, has died from wounds sustained at La Basse, Viscount Northland was born in 1882. He served for several years with the Coldstream Guards.

had it been accompanied by any religious or other rites.

To Alleviate Distress.

With the fur market idle and many of the other sources of income from logging camps and other industries gone, owing largely to the war, he explained that there was much distress among the Indians, and the affair which had led to his arrest was merely for the purpose of alleviating in a small way some of this suffering. From what he had heard, he believed that many white men in Vancouver could be arrested for doing what he had done if there was the same law for the white man as there was for the Indian. He also expressed, as his opinion, that if the Indian agent busied himself a little more in other things than those which led to trouble for the Indians, it would be of much benefit to the tribesmen.

This is the second time that Indians have been brought to Vancouver for trial for holding potlatches, which are prohibited under the Indian Act. The cases brought before the Assize Court last year were three in number, all being from Alert Bay, in each case the men being allowed to go on suspended sentence. In the evidence at the trial it was brought out that when the Duke of Connaught and his party were at Alert Bay, the Indians were permitted to make "potlatch," that is make presents, to the royal party, but that when they themselves "potlatched" they were arrested.

IS QUITE SATISFIED WITH THE RESULTS

Mr. Winston Churchill's Optimistic Speech in the House of Commons.

London, Feb. 17.—Mr. Winston Churchill gave a review of the naval situation in introducing the navy estimates in the Commons Monday. He said that at the outbreak of the war the supplies of ammunition, men and oil were complete. Every ship in the navy which was fit for service as well as new ships which were being built for foreign governments and armed merchantmen had been fully manned.

"In fact, the German army was no more prepared for an attempted war on a gigantic scale than was the British fleet for national defence," he said.

"After six months of war, with new dangers and difficulties coming into view, we have every right to be content with the results of our labors in making provision for the navy."

After referring to the naval battles off the Falkland Islands and in the North Sea, Mr. Churchill said: "Only two small cruisers and two armed merchantmen remain of all the German preparations to attack our trade routes, and these are in hiding."

"During the six months of the war," Mr. Churchill said, "Great Britain's total losses at sea, including all ships except trawlers, amounted to only sixty-three. Nevertheless, it was necessary to be on the lookout for another German attempt to harass British trade routes."

"Although the ocean is a black prospect to a German cruiser," he said, "we should be able to meet any new attempts with resources incomparably superior to what we had at the beginning of the war."

Referring to Admiral Jellicoe's command of the sea with his fleet as "silent, unsleeping and as yet unchallenged," Mr. Churchill said that the Admiralty had moved men at home and abroad, including Belgian and French troops and the wounded to the number of one million without an accident or the loss of a life. Mr. Churchill said that the recent cruiser action in the North Sea, although incomplete, was of great significance because of the light which it had thrown upon questions concerning armament, design and relative gunnery, which was both important and encouraging. Referring to the steaming qualities shown by the British cruisers, Mr. Churchill said that "the navy is sound as a bell all through."

"The engagement showed that there was no reason to assume that, ship for ship, man for man, gun for gun, Great Britain would not give a very great account of herself. The Germans in the cruiser action thought only of flight, while we thought only of battle," he continued.

"They were wise in their thought. If they had thought otherwise they would have been destroyed. No falsehood about the action could obscure that cruel fate. When, if ever, the grand fleets draw out for battle, we shall hope to have a fleet superior in both quality and numbers."
