will be promised to various mem-

an assistance for their election.
Those who are in close touch with the Attorney General know that he cannot tolerate William Manson and that there is no chance of him getting it, although it may be dangled before the constituency for election purposes.

A WORLD NECESSITY.

Our esteemed contemporary, The Evening Empire has an original reason for advocating the return of the McBride government to power. It informs us that there is a great international war on and that the destinies of the British Empire are in the hands of Sir Richard McBride and that without him in power Jellicoe could not get any orders and Sir John French and Kitchener would be without an advisor. Indeed, too, the bombardment of the Dardanelles could not be proceeded with; and besides that who would there be to tell the Grand Duke that the hour had struck for his Cossacks to charge.
Truly, Sir Richard is a world necessity. The Empire puts it in this poetic way: "We mustn't swap horses while crossing a stream"; well, it seems to be all right to swap cows, so why not horses—especially when the Grit horse is the better?"

STILL BOMBARDING

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, March 10.—The operations in the Dardanelles, which have been hindered by misty weather, have been resumed. The Turkish batteries on the Heights of Renkui at the narrows were been silenced. The Queen Elizabeth entered the Dardanelles and made an attack on Fort Rumli Medjedieh.

GERMANY BEGINS TO TALK OF PEACE-- CHANCELLOR TO MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT

Terms Not Likely to be Satisfactory to Allies, But Movement Considered of Utmost Importance---Will Mean That the People Will See
The Real Issue

London, March 10.—Everything points to the fact that the German war lords have got all the war they want. Not only that, but the feeling throughout the country seems to be turning strongly against what they consider to be a hopeless struggle.

Talk About Peace.

It has just been announced that Dr. Bethmann Holweg, the German Chancellor, will announce today in the Reichstag the terms for peace which will be suitable to Germany. It is not expected that the terms will in any way meet the demands of the Allies, but the fact that the question is brought up and, especially in the Reichstag, is regarded as of the first importance.

Effect on People.

It is difficult to see how in the face of these events Germany can hope to continue the war. The people, who have all along been kept blind to the real situation, will now be brought face to face with the real issue. They will see that the cause of Germany is hopeless, for otherwise the war lords would never talk of peace unless a complete victory had been reached. The present proposals of Germany are not likely to be of the kind that the Allies would accept—but it is a start.
Nothing will satisfy the Allies short of a complete surrender.

ITALY TO FIGHT.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, March 10.—A strong Italian fleet has left for the Dardanelles.
It is believed here that Italy think the end of the war is near and that she must get in now if she is to share in the spoils.
This is likely to result in the immediate entrance of Italy into the war.

H. C. HAMILTON IS DEAD.

Well Known Business Man and Mine Operator in North.

Fairbanks, March 10.—Henry C. Hamilton, formerly of the well known firm of Brumbaugh, Hamilton & Kellogg, and a pioneer business man of the North, died here suddenly in the hospital. He had been ill one day.
In the early days he was a prominent mine operator in the Dawson and Fairbanks district. He is survived by a wife and three children.

RAMMED ANOTHER SUBMARINE-- BRITISH DESTROYER ON THE JOB

CREW SURRENDERED AND WERE ALL SAVED BUT ART BEING HELD FOR TRIAL--FORMERLY HAD SUNK THE BRITISH STEAMER BLACKWOOD.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, March 10.—The British have sunk another Gereman submarine, the U-20. This was announced today by the Admiralty. She was rammed and sunk by the destroyer Ariel. After the attack by the destroyer the crew surrendered and were all saved, but are being held for trial, as she had previously sunk the British steamship Blackwood, with considerable loss of life. This submarine was completed in 1913.

She was of 840 tons and had an operating radius of 2,000 miles.

A FALSE BILL.

Have you heard the latest about that agricultural bill? The McBride government is making a big noise about the fifty millions they are going to advance to the farmers. Of course, nobody believes in their sincerity, knowing that it is an election dodge; but the bill itself is the greatest evidence of that. The bill says that it shall come into effect only when the Governor-in-Council shall decide. In other words, it is just a blind; it will be used for election purposes and then put in with the other "scraps of paper" of unfulfilled promises. The people will accept nothing from those men who have proved themselves false in the past. They will be driven out of power.

THREE STEAMERS SUNK

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, March 10.—In the early hours of Tuesday morning German submarines sunk the steamer Tangiston near Scarborough, the Blackwood off Hastings and the Princess Victoria off Liverpool. Thirty-seven of the crew of the Tangiston were drowned.
The Clan MacRae escaped by zigzagging.

INTERNATIONAL LAW REGARDED AS FICTION

Stanford University, Cal., March 10.—"International law is a fiction with which some few hundred college professors are acquainted," August Schvan, Swedish diplomat and lecturer for the Carnegie Foundation, declared in a lecture here.

"Nations are bound to it," he says, "only as it suits their convenience. The only recourse we have is to throw international law into the waste basket and replace it with a system of international behavior which will be known not only to a few professors, but to the ordinary man in the street the world over."

A meeting of the Trades and Labor Council took place last night at which there were some stormy scenes. As a result, Jack Njeol resigned from the presidency, and S. D. Macdonald was elected in his place. Some talk took place about putting a candidate in the field but this was referred to the legislative committee. There are several aspirants for the nomination in case they decide to enter the field.

EDITORIALS

Under ordinary circumstances it would be an honor for a district to have their member promoted to a cabinet position. It will be otherwise, however, if the position of Minister of Finance is offered to William Manson. What qualification has William Manson for being minister of finance, although he is probably as well fitted as his predecessor. William Manson has never been in business. He knows nothing about the intricacies of finance and why appoint him. The reason is plain. W. J. Bowser will be the real minister of finance as he at present is the minister of agri-culture, of lands and of education, although nominally held by other figureheads. The people should not stand for a one-man government. Why not put the best men at our disposal in charge of our affairs.

There is not an honest man in the Province of British Columbia who doesn't believe that it is not only folly but criminal that the McBride government has been given so much power. Flattered with popularity and drunk with power, they have run riot with the resources of the province. The people, however, are aware of this misconduct. They have been exposed in such a way that nobody but a dyed-in-the-wool party man can support them. The independent electorate should keep the issue clear. They should not allow the excitement of a campaign to blind their better judgment. The hope of the future demands political purity and this can only be attained by punishing wrongdoers. The McBride government has earned a bitter defeat.

Lest we forget: The Dominion Trust Company went broke a few months ago and besides damaging the credit of the province pulled down the fortunes of scores of business men all over the country to its own vile end. Besides that, thousands of poor people who were led to believe that it was a safe institution in which to deposit money lost every cent of their hard-earned cash. What was the cause of this? In the first place, if Mr. Bowser had done his plain duty this company would not have been allowed to do business. But it was worse than neglect on his part. He framed up a Provincial Act which he knew was illegal in order that this company could take deposits. In other words, he assisted financial robbers to fleece the people. Do you think that he is a fit man to have in charge of your affairs?

But this man Bowser who has been guilty of this misdemeanor is slated for the next Premier. Sir Richard has set his mind on a Federal portfolio and as soon as the election is over he will turn the reins over to Bowser. W. J. Bowser, besides all his other evil qualities, is a tyrant of the front rank. He will not listen to the pleas of God or man. He walks roughshod over the feelings of the people. He disregards the laws of the land; for he is a law unto himself. Will the people stand for tyranny in this enlightened age, or will they rise up in their might and hurl him from power. Ponder well over the use you will make of that ballot for which your ancestors fought and bled.

WAS WOUNDED AT LIEGE.

Dr. August Ledoux is Appointed to Toronto University Staff.

Toronto, March 9.—Dr. August Ledoux, professor of mineralogy at Brussels before the war, is to receive an appointment as lecturer on the staff of the University of Toronto, and will reach Toronto with Mrs. Ledoux early in April. Dr. Ledoux took part in the Belgian campaign and was wounded in the battle of Liege. Subsequently he helped in the defence of Antwerp and in the fighting on the Yser River, going to England later on account of ill-health. His appointment to the University of Toronto has been brought about largely through the action of the faculty in subscribing the necessary funds. It is expected that he will devote his time chiefly to research work rather than to teaching.

STURDEE SHAVING WHEN THE ENEMY WAS FIRST SIGHTED

London.—Engineer Rear Admiral Mogg, responding to the toast of "The Imperial Forces," at an audit dinner at Antony, Cornwall, said he had heard the questions a good deal lately: "What is the navy doing? Where is it?" He knew as a fact that at the Scarborough raid the navy was there. They practically surrounded the raiders on their way back, but a dense fog came on. They could scarcely see a yard ahead, and the British ships naturally stopped, but the Germans steamed full speed right through it. Nature fought for the Germans that day. On the recent Sunday the British navy was there again, and they knew what had happened. When the Germans felt inclined to come out they would find the British navy waiting and would meet with a very hearty reception, and he felt sure they would get a great deal more than they would want.

He was very proud to think that he had a son in Admiral Sturdee's ship in the battle off the Falkland Islands. They had in that case given themselves a month to look for the Germans, but in the words of his son, "The Lord delivered them into our hands." They were at breakfast when the enemy was sighted and had just finished coaling ship. It was said the admiral was in his cabin shaving and the flag admiral went to him in his pajamas and informed him that the enemy was in sight. He replied, "Go and put your clothes on, my boy, and we will talk about them afterwards." He could imagine the admiral saying that.

In an hour and a half they were ready and under steam. His son was in charge of the fire brigade. They first got a big hole in the side of the ship, and when he went to see if there was any fire he found the stokers foraging around for relics, quite unconcerned about the risk. Then a 8.2-inch shell struck the ship almost vertically, slicing a 4-inch gun in two, and then passing through three decks, to be found unexploded in the admiral's store. That ship was hit about twenty times, but had not a single casualty. One shell wrecked the wardrobe and burst the piano and soda-water machine. Another entered the sick-bay, and two bunkers were pierced. The Germans seemed to get the range at first, but when the British started hitting "they did hit."

The battle was fought at long range so as to incur as few casualties as possible. It was said to have been a perfectly horrible sight with the sea littered with bodies. Of the Germans rescued fourteen had died, and a funeral service was held over them. When the Good Hope and Monmouth were sunk had the Germans wished they could have saved many, and if not that they could have held a service. Admiral Mogg spoke of the achievements of the army, and contended that the retirement from Mops stamped the army as much as any advance.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE NIGHT CLUBS

Opens in London—Kitchener Said to Strongly Favor the Restrictions.

London, March 9.—The campaign against drink and gambling here continues to arouse much interest. The closing of public houses two and a half hours earlier each night has already resulted in a great diminution of the criminal calendar, one particular crime, murderous assaults, having almost completely disappeared. It is commonly believed Lord Kitchener has strongly urged upon the Cabinet the desirability of further restrictions of the sale of drink, particularly around camps and public works and one section of the government strongly supports him. Certain difficulty has already been found in enforcing, to the full the present shortened hours, much depending upon the chief constables of each town.

Last Friday saw the opening of the campaign against the night clubs, which have reopened widely in West London since October. They are largely used for gambling and occasionally for blackmail and have done infinite harm to young officers who come to London on leave from the trenches. One Belgravian club was raided between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning and a number of fashionably dressed ladies, some in evening gowns and fur robes, were brought into court. It was stated in court that the commissioner of police had had many complaints that young officers were being ruined in these houses and that the military authorities took a very grave view of this fashionable gambling, now so rife in the metropolis. Heavy fines were inflicted upon the principals.

Mr. Hunter, the famous Tyneside shipbuilder, declares prohibition would increase the national efficiency and probably increase the output of work by 20 per cent.

It is difficult to select a hired mourner or an alienist who will not overdo the job.

SUICIDE OF GIRL UNMasks A MAN

Brooklyn Stenographer's Death Brings Employer's Confession of Double Life.

New Haven, Conn., March 9.—The body of Lillian May Cook, a pretty 18-year-old Brooklyn stenographer, was found in a lonely part of West Rock Park here late yesterday. She had shot herself to death with a revolver taken from the office of the Mayo Radiator Company, where she had been employed, and apparently had been dead a week. A poison tablet was found in her pocket.

Twenty minutes after the body had been found Virginus E. Mayo, who employed the girl, arrived on the scene, but soon left.

Mayo admitted, according to the police, that he was the possessor of a dual personality and that Miss Cook had formerly been the employee and companion of Miss Lois Waterbury, who, as "Mrs. James Dudley," was maintained in a handsome home by him in Brooklyn. He denied emphatically that he knew anything about the girl's whereabouts after she disappeared. Miss Waterbury, according to Mayo's story, is the mother of his two children and was his stenographer until he had her moved to Brooklyn. In this city Mayo maintained another establishment, presided over by his wife.

The medical examiner who viewed the body at the morgue said the physical condition seemed to have been normal at the time of death. Miss Cook disappeared last Thursday, leaving a note that her jewelry be turned over to her mother.

Happiness is not real happiness until some one is happy with you.

BERNHARDT IN DANGER. Somewhat Better After Reaction From Previous Improvement.

Bordeaux, March 10.—Sarah Bernhardt, whose condition was considered excellent for several days after the amputation of her right leg, February 22, recently has felt a reaction and her condition for the last forty-eight hours has caused her friends some anxiety. It was announced by her physicians last night, however, that she was somewhat better.

The girl who marries for the purpose of getting a home sometimes takes in a boarder.

GEN. SCOTT STARTS TO PACIFY INDIANS

Difficult Mission Is Entrusted to Chief of Staff of United States Army.

Washington, D. C., March 10.—Brigadier General Scott, chief of staff of the army, has left here for Utah, to attempt a peaceful settlement with the recalcitrant Piute Indians.

General Scott has a long record not only as an Indian fighter, but also as a mediator among the Indians, whose dialects he speaks and whose habits he knows thoroughly. War Department officials say he has more influence with the Indians of the West than any other white man. About a year ago he brought the recalcitrant Navajoes into camp without bloodshed.

As General Scott left Washington he announced that he would proceed by rail to Morrison, Utah. At that point he would strike into the mountains on horseback, for a distance of 170 miles through the snow. Besides Colonel Michie, his aide, General Scott will be accompanied by an orderly. It is also possible that he will take with him some Navajo Indians to act as guides and to make camp.

The general's mission will be attended by considerable personal risk to himself and his little party, and some of the old soldiers in the War Department today gloomily recalled experiences in the Indian country.

SPLENDID SHOW AT MAJESTIC THEATRE

The Majestic Theatre, under the control of the new company, is more popular than ever. The orchestra has been augmented, and the management is sparing neither trouble nor expense in securing the finest of films.

Last night the large audience was treated to a blend of drama, comedy and farce. "Falling Into Luck" provided the thrills, while "The Tie That Binds," in two reels, depicted the evil influence of bad companionship driven out by the uplift of home ties. "Limping Into Happiness" kept the house in a ripple of laughter, while Charles Chaplin's antics in "Laughing Gas" set everybody rocking and roaring.

Harry Lacelle sang "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier," a mother's protest against militarism.

The films at this house are clearer and steadier, and of a higher class than ever before. One of the specials for Wednesday and Thursday is "The Merchant of Venice."

SAW PHENOMENON.

There was a phenomenon passed through Prince Rupert today. It walked on two legs, wore a pair of pants with a check loud enough to talk and a crease that would shave you. It also had on a snug little coat that might have been made for a lady, and a bow tie that had to be turned sideways to get through the door of the car—a little like the old-fashioned yokes the farmers put on their geese—only it was crosswise instead of up and down. There was a stunning little hat on what might have been the head, and it carried a cane that was too delicate and costly to dip in Prince Rupert's mud. They say its name sounded like something you hear in church.

LOOKS FOR WHITE FLAGS UNFURLED

Fall of Constantinople Means Discredit to Germany—Turks Will Be Furious on Learning the Truth.

Paris, March 10.—A man who belonged to the school of the Old Turks for a long period of years and is in close touch with what is happening in Turkey, discussing, today, the aspects of the situation in the Dardanelles as it appeared to be developing, said: "From what I know of Turkey and the Far East, the fall of Constantinople will mean the complete discrediting of Germany. Hitherto, the people of Constantinople and throughout the empire have been fed on lies and once they realize the truth, as they will do when Constantinople is forced to capitulate, they will be furious with the government that misled them. A massacre of the Young Turks will be one almost certain result and I have, for my own part, little doubt that as soon as the first battleship is seen from Constantinople, the people will take things into their own hands and white flags will be seen flying from every house in town."

"Presumably the Allies will establish a committee of control and keep the administration of things in their own hands, but there will clearly be need of native administrators. It is too soon yet to speak of the men who are fitted for such work—but they exist—men who have neither been dominated by the Young Turks nor mixed up in their schemes."

BIG TRAIN WRECK IN MOVING PICTURES AT WESTHOLME TONIGHT

"413" is the title of a highly sensational mystery play in three parts to be shown at the Westholme Opera House tonight and tomorrow night. This picture is exceptionally interesting and exciting, full of plots and counterplots, interspersed with most sensational developments which almost take your breath away.

One of the great scenes in this production is the wrecking of a real train, consisting of an engine and tender with four coaches, which runs into an open switch at full speed, causing a most realistic smashup.

This great picture drew crowded houses for one entire week at the Rex Theatre in Vancouver and was generously praised by the papers of that city.

Tonight's program will include an exceptionally fine comedy and a new War Gazette and deserves a very liberal patronage.

JOE MARTIN MAKES APOLOGY TO TAYLOR

Vancouver, March 10.—Mr. Louis D. Taylor is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Joseph Martin, in which that gentleman withdraws certain defamatory statements made on the public platform on Wednesday evening last, after uttering which he challenged Mr. Taylor to sue him for libel. At that time suit was already being prepared against Mr. Martin and his paper for opprobrious language used in the second number of The Evening Journal. It may be added that scarcely an issue of the sheet has appeared that has not contained most unjustifiable and abominable attacks on the candidate for the mayoralty. Mr. Martin apologizes in this one particular instance, and as stated above, withdraws, but the letter printed below can scarcely be considered satisfaction for the insults and abuse to which Mr. Taylor has been subjected for a whole week on the platform and in the columns of Mr. Martin's paper: March 6, 1915.

L. D. Taylor, Esq., City.

Dear Sir—In a report which appeared in The Evening Journal Thursday last, of a meeting at which I was a speaker, the following paragraph appears: "As to Mr. Taylor's financial support, he only needed to point out the paradox that he was broke, yet had all sorts of money. Where did he get it? 'I'll tell you,' said Mr. Martin, 'he gets it from the trust of Chinese gamblers and from the people who want Alexander Street wide open. I am willing to go into the courts and substantiate my statements. I know that they give ground for an action for libel, but I believe I can prove them.'" The report was printed under the following head: "Money to back Taylor coming from red light district—Mr. Joseph Martin exposes perfidy of aspiring L. D.—Chinese gamblers and organized immorality behind Taylor." While this is an accurate statement of what I said at the meeting, I withdraw the statement made in the above paragraph and heading, and apologize to you for same.

Yours truly, JOSEPH MARTIN.

The Evening Journal, over which it has been stated officially Mr. Martin has no control except as to the editorial columns, attempts to cover its own retreat by printing the above in its editorial columns and drawing attention to it on its front page. "It is hardly enough," said Mr. Taylor. "This man and his paper have vilified me for a whole week. Does he imagine that a perfunctory apology and withdrawal of this kind are going to suffice and that I will accept it as if it were a genuine expression of contrition for inflicting a grievous wrong? In the very same issue in which they precious document was published, appeared a whole column of abuse by an anonymous writer. I am not a vindictive man, but I cannot be expected to accept meekly the salve Mr. Martin extends with one hand while he continues to strike at me with the other. Mr. Martin will hear my views on his letter through my lawyers."
