There are three Hohenzollern princes reported among the dead. German prisoners say the British artillery bombardment was most terrific in the entire war. There are 2,500 dead out of the village, making the entire German loss 18,000. The British casualties are estimated at 8,000. The Kaiser is at Lille today holding a council of war.

IRELAND'S PATRON SAINT WAS HONORED BY GRAND CONCERT

NUMBER OF LOCAL ARTISTS GIVE A DELIGHTFUL EVENING, WITH SONGS, DANCES, RECITATIONS AND GOOD MUSIC.

England has her St. George, Scotland her St. Andrew and Ireland her St. Patrick; but Canada has them all, and last night the citizens of Prince Rupert turned out to honor St. Patrick. There was a large audience present, although the night was wet, but, as Father Bunoz put it, "The rain only helped to keep the Shamrock green." After a choice selection from the Westholme orchestra, Mr. J. C. Brady, principal of the High School, and an excellent type of the noble Irish race, gave a short but spirited opening address. He congratulated the leaders of the Irish people upon having attained to the ideal for which they had long contended, freedom, and autonomy. He also gave credit to the longsightedness of the British statesmen upon the pacification of Ireland just before the dawn of the world's greatest war. Ireland having now secured her demands, was true to her national instincts by showing a willingness to forget the past and show the world that the Empire is united and that Irishmen are willing to join the ranks of those who are ready to lay down their lives for their home and country. He looked forward to the future. (Continued on Page Four.)

HOSPITAL BOARD MUST ECONOMIZE

The City Council met yesterday afternoon to consider the grant to the local hospital. The board had asked for $10,000 but the Council would not consider this much present. They agreed, however, to give the hospital a three-months' note for $4,000 on condition that the hospital rush the tickets and what is not needed at the end of three months to cover the note the city pay. It was felt that it was wise to make it easy for the hospital board to get money in the more economy and business way.

IS THIS A JOKE?

The blunder made by the mayor and Alderman Morrissey would be most laughable if it were not so serious. They came back and told the city that they had got the treasury certificates renewed at a cost of only $27,000 apart from the interest they bore. When the Council examined the letters they had from the bank, however, they found the "floatation fee" was $81,000 instead of $27,000. This means that the trip cost the city $56,000. Will these facts sink into the minds of the people who insist on electing brainless individuals to office? There is no other city in the land where those men could get a look-in, and yet Prince Rupert prefers them to men of proven worth and ability. Surely, this intolerable state of affairs must soon be brought to an end. Wake up, Prince Rupert!

DIDN'T STEAL BOOTS?

Carmine Pomboni is more convinced than ever after hearing the able defence of his solicitor, W. E. Williams, that he didn't take those boots from Louis Tromer. The magistrate dismissed the case today for want of evidence and Carmine can go ahead and get a mate for that boot or for himself as far as the law is concerned.

City Solicitor Peters, however, thinks that Carmine may yet be proven guilty and he has reserved the right to bring the case up before Judge Young. Another charge will be placed against him unless the boot mystery is sooner solved. In the meantime, Louis lost his boots.

STRIKING SERIAL AT MAJESTIC THEATRE

An effort will be made to prove a breach of neutrality. The German embassy protests against the arrests.

There wasn't a vacant seat in The Majestic last night, when the first two reels of "The Black Box" were shown.

This serial, by E. Phillips Oppenheim, is a sure winner. The acting throughout is superb, and there is something exciting happening all the time.

"Changed Lives," in three reels, justifies its title. The heroine starts in as a "slavey" and finally wins a fortune and loses her heart. In the first reel, there is a wonderfully realistic war scene, showing the shelling of a French town, with scared women fleeing from their tumbling homes and wounded soldiers being rescued from a hospital, while shells crash through the roof.

SPLIT STILL OPEN

Ten days ago the McBride government announced that they had been dissolved by the Lieutenant Governor and would appeal to the people on April 10th. A few days later the announcement was made that the election was deferred to arrange the Voters' List and they denied their former statement that the House had been dissolved. If the delay was over the Voters' List, why don't they advertise what they intend doing, and announce when the election will be held? The absence of any such announcement or attempt to fix up the Voters' List convinces the public that the real trouble is a split in the Cabinet which which is not yet healed. It wouldn't be surprising to see the election indefinitely deferred. Defeat stares them in the face and they may decide to hang on for another year.

Notwithstanding the truce declared by Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the beginning of the war, it appears that the Conservative party at Ottawa has failed to keep faith. On several occasions in the past few months movements were on foot to hold a general election. The first time the patriotic members of the Conservative party declared that they would not support the government if they appealed to the country during the war without a good reason. The next time the Governor General told Premier Borden flatly that he considered an appeal to the country entirely out of place and refused to sign the dissolution papers.

We find the same influences, headed by Bob Rogers, making another move, and it is doubtful if any influences will be thrown against them at this time. Seeing that they are so anxious to try their strength, why not let them have their fling? The existence of the war can have no effect, as both parties are unanimous on that score, although the paper boots supplied to the Canadian soldiers by Tory contractors may have some influence on the issue, especially if the soldiers are given a chance to vote, as is considered. It is safe to say that the Liberal party is much stronger today than it was in 1911, and the Liberals should welcome an election at any time they wish to call it.

It will be remembered that Sir Wilfrid Laurier went out of power over a foolish cry about American annexation of Canada, brought about by his reciprocity proposals. Since that time the people have realized that the prosperity of Canada is largely tied up with the States and that it is national suicide to persist in holding up a high wall between the two countries. The people have also seen that if the United States wanted to annex any country they would ere this have taken Mexico, which is suffering for the want of a protector. Naturally, therefore, the people are looking to Sir Wilfrid for assistance in breaking down that tariff wall that thwarts our prosperity, and when the time comes they will vote him back into power.

Prince Rupert has a good sample of the value of freer trade with the States. Nineteen-tenths of the fish that is caught in the Prince Rupert waters find its way to the American markets, and what has happened in the fish business would happen in hundreds of other industries if the tariff wall on natural products was knocked down. True, it was the Americans who took the duty off fish; but they will not continue to deal so favorably with Canada unless this country shows some tendency to reciprocate. Indeed, there is a strong movement on foot now to restore the duty on fish and if Canada doesn't hurry up the chance of a lifetime may be lost. The return of Laurier and the Laurier prosperity would be welcomed in Canada.

The inconsistency of the tariff makers is wonderful. Machinery for manufacturers is admitted duty free, but when the farmer wants machinery he must pay a heavy toll. Both men are producers, and there is no reason why one should be treated different to the other. Sir Wilfrid Laurier wants to remove the duty from machinery and Sir Robert Borden wants it sustained. The price of wheat is always higher in the States than in Canada and there is always a ready market there, yet Canadian wheat in normal times is allowed to rot in Canadian storehouses for want of a market and for want of Canadian transportation. Why not knock down the tariff on wheat and give the farmer the benefit? The same applies to many other lines of natural products. We need in this country an adjustable tariff and one that can be operated to the best interests of all, not an artificial and inconsistent thing like we have at present. This is what Sir Wilfrid wants to give.

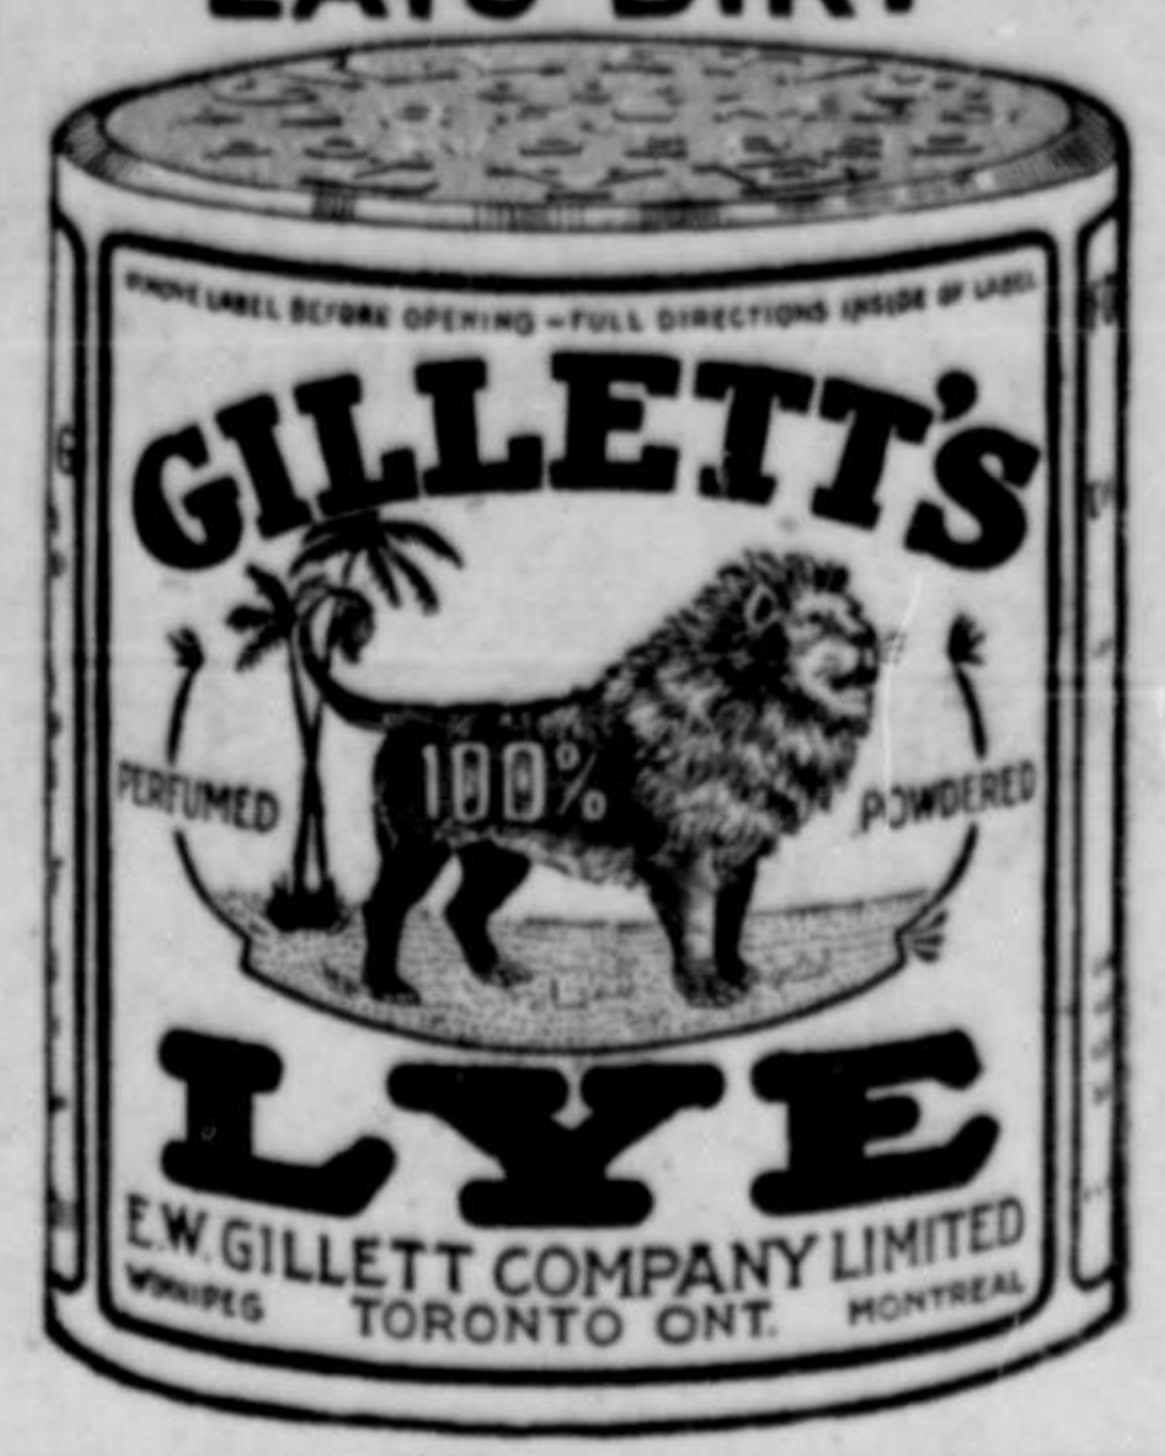

NEXT GREAT BATTLE TO BE WITH BAYONET

London, March 17.—Captain Campbell, of the Gordon Highlanders, lecturing to the officers and non-commissioned officers at the Canadian base training depot, said the next great battle would be a mighty struggle with the bayonet and victory would be with the fittest. Only practical knowledge of the way to use bayonets would win in the fight. Bayonet fighting is being practiced by the Canadians both morning and afternoon, with parades daily.

NOVA SCOTIA HOUSE OPENED FOURTH SESSION

The fourth session of Nova Scotia's present Parliament opened with a more than ordinary display of the oldtime ceremonial, the guard of honor being made up of a company of a regiment destined for overseas service, while the main stairs of the interior of the province building were lined with a detachment of the heavy battery of artillery which has been mobilized here for the second contingent. The company of infantry which was drawn up in front of the building was from the 25th Royal Nova Scotia Battalion and was commanded by Captain Stanley Bauld of that regiment. A large concourse of people was attracted to the province building by the military display and the music of the military band. In his speech from the Throne, His Honor, Lieutenant Governor MacGregor alluded to the special conditions prevailing throughout the country because of the war, and to the part which Nova Scotia has contributed for the defence of the Empire and for the relief of the destitute Belgians. He expressed his gratification at the increased production of farm lands and spoke hopefully of the agricultural outlook. The fruit crop was larger than last year, and the growers are now realizing satisfactory returns. The most outstanding agricultural advance of the year is the development of the dairy industry, which shows a 30 per cent increase in output. The Agricultural College continues to enlist the interest of our farmers, and the attendance at present is the largest in its history. The output of coal, notwithstanding adverse conditions, exceeded seven million tons, and our collieries are now equipped and developed for a yearly production of ten million tons. The great value to the country of the technical education now provided in the splendid system of technical schools and the Technical College in Halifax was dwelt upon, and allusion was made to the improvement of the highways under the legislation of recent years, and especially during the past year. The adoption of the speech was moved by Messrs. Wickwire and R. H. MacKay, who spoke briefly along the lines of the address itself, emphasizing the points which seemed to them of greatest importance.

The lazier a man is the more hope he can generate.

McBRIDE'S DAY IS DONE

PEOPLE OF VICTORIA FLOCK TO LIBERALS

Victoria, March 17.—An unprejudiced citizen looking round on the magnificent meeting at the Knights of Pythias Hall last evening, when the Liberals of the city met to organize for the provincial election, and comparing it with similar gatherings in 1909 and 1912, would have to admit that a tremendous change in public sentiment has been brought about.

The wave of enthusiasm surprised even the leading Liberals, and when the time for organization of ward bodies came, there was competition in every ward of the city by men anxious to be of service in returning the party's candidates. Every reference to the name of the Provincial leader, Mr. Brewster, struck a responsive chord with the audience, which cheered heartily whenever the speakers, President A. B. Fraser, Duncan Ross, ex-M. P., and Candidates John Hart, Aldermen Bell and H. C. Hall, referred to the urgency of terminating the tenure of the present administration at the earliest moment. Mr. Brewster was unable to appear personally, being engaged at a meeting in Nanaimo, but he sent a letter expressing his confidence that Victoria Liberals would do their part as good citizens "in smashing the machine, and that Liberalism, would again be triumphant in the Capital City of the Province."

WHAT RUSSIA GAINS.

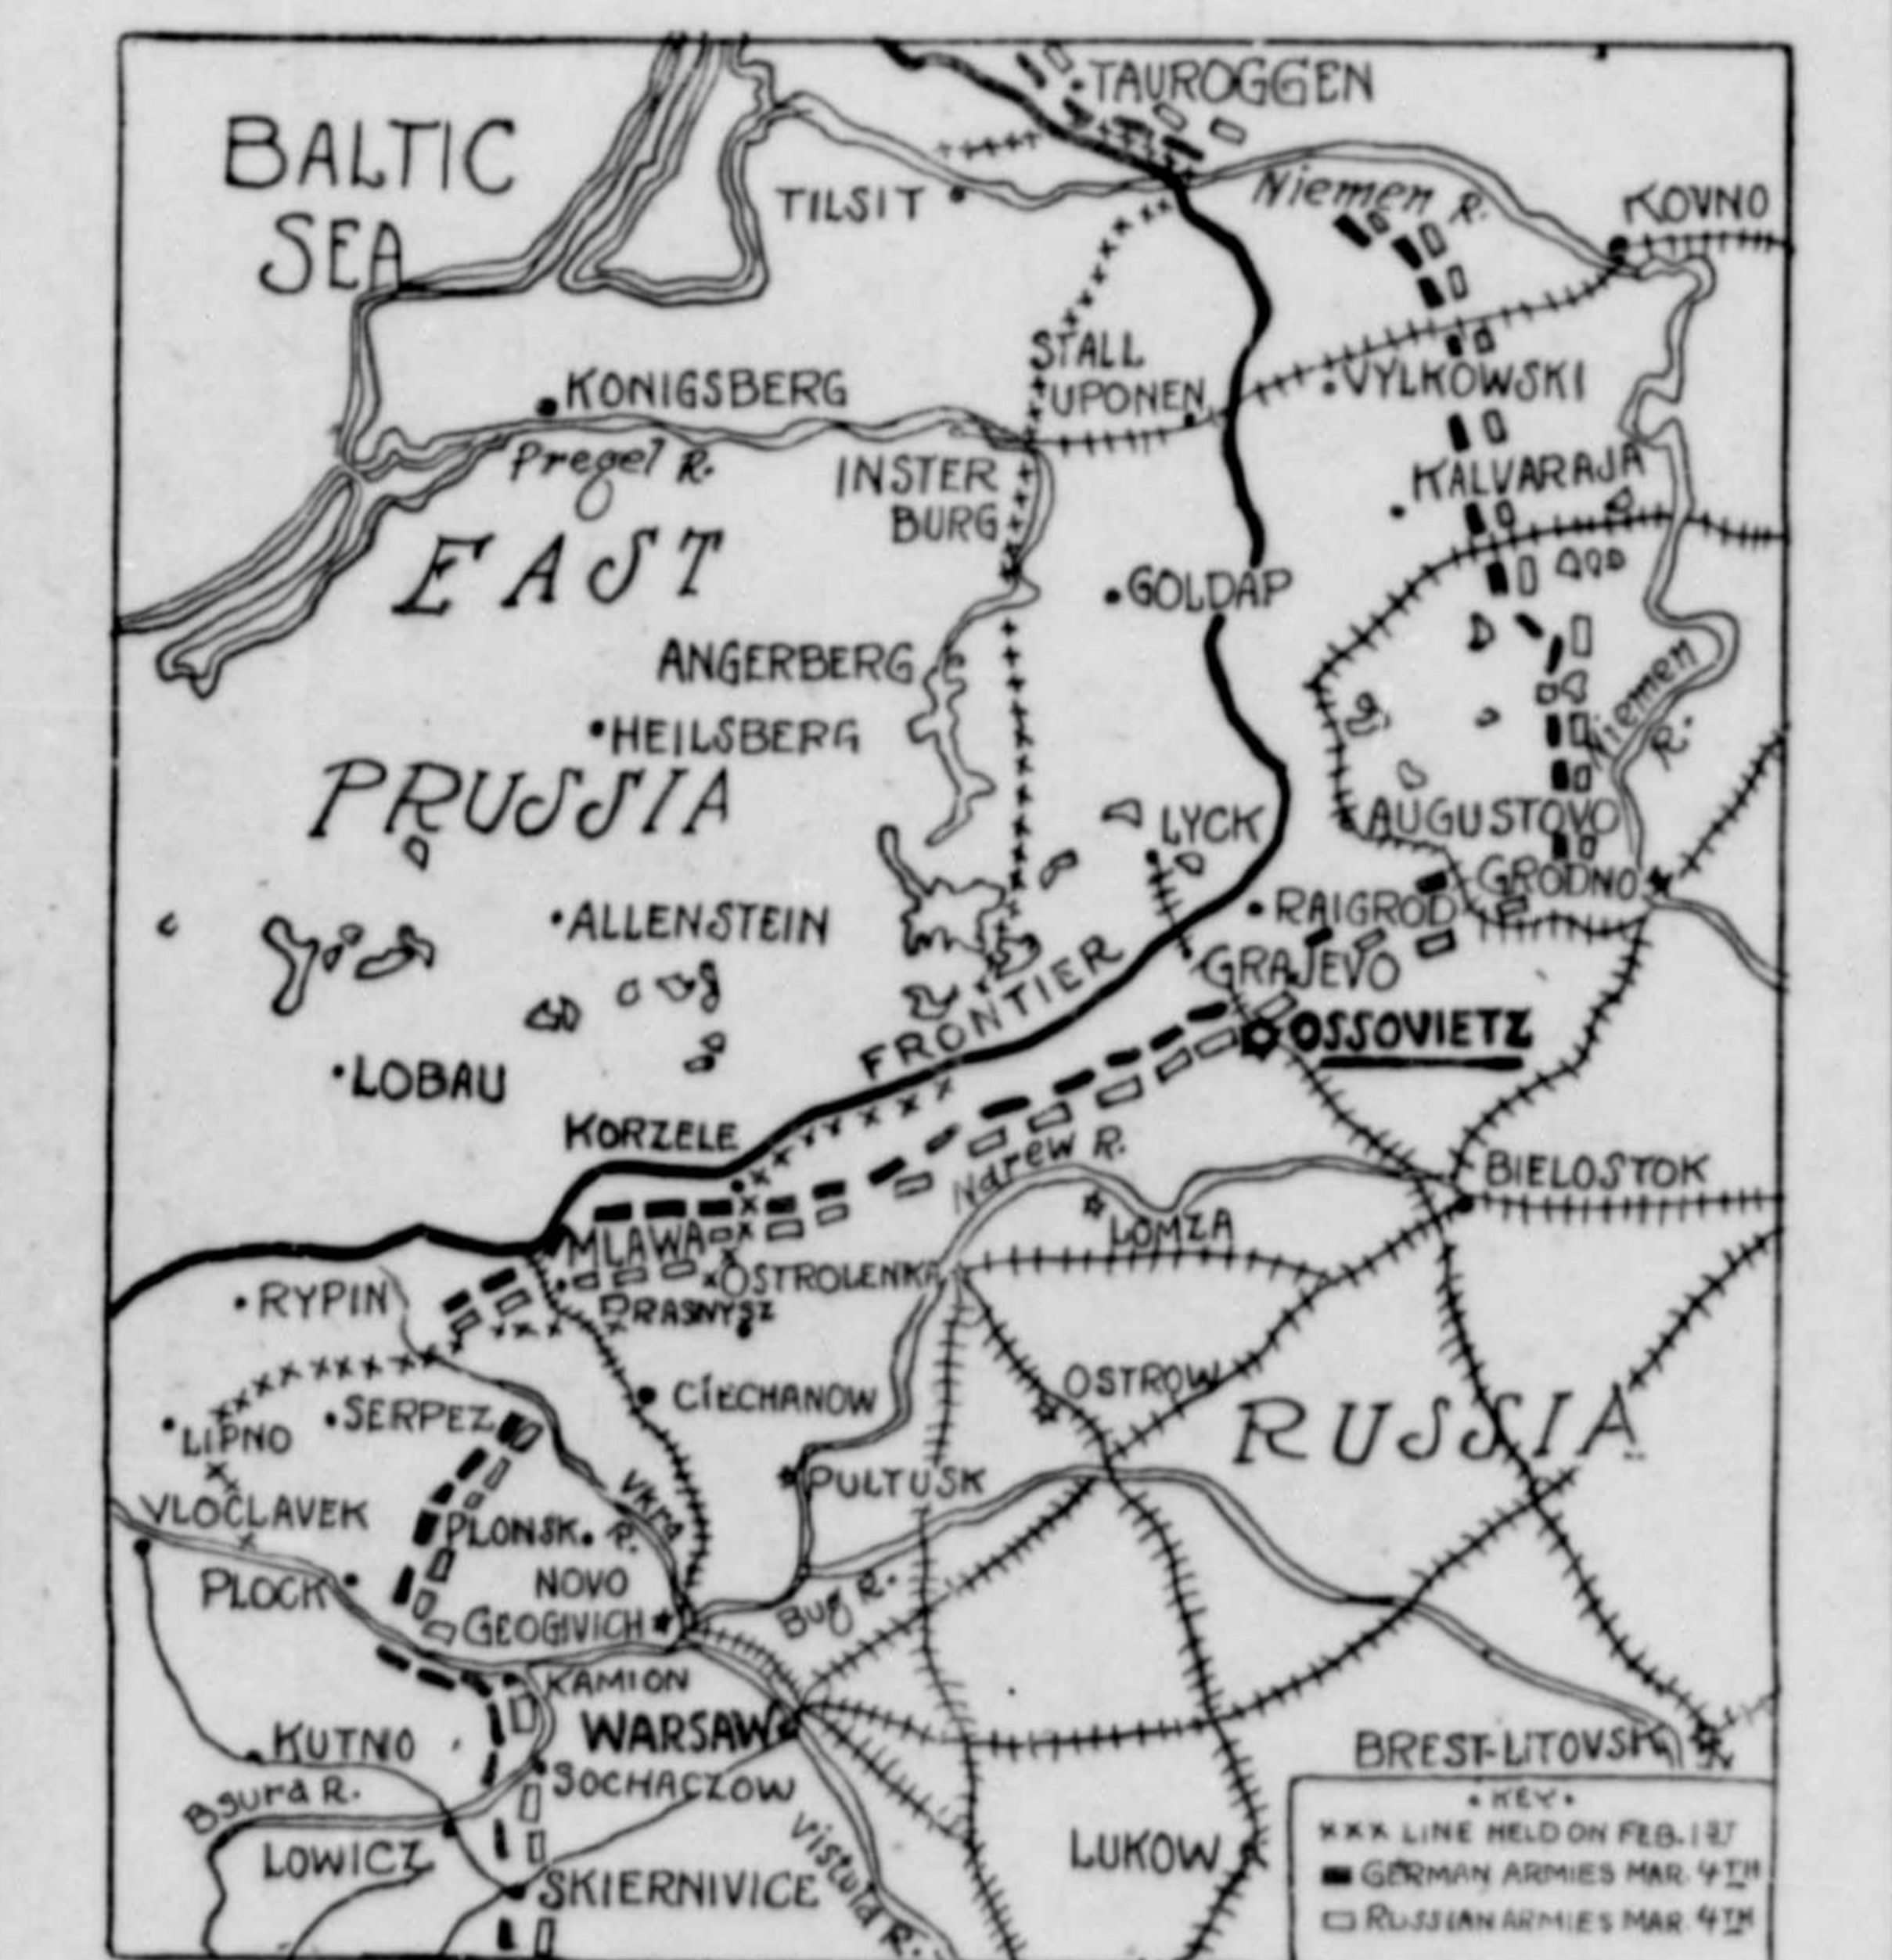

The loss of 500,000 men in war can be made good in less than ten years through complete abstinence from alcohol by all the inhabitants of Russia. This is not the statement of some professional temperance booster; it is the estimate of Arthur Hunter, actuary with the New York Life Insurance Company—Collier's Weekly.

THE BULGARIAN LOAN BORN OF NECESSITY

The reports of an Austro-German advance to Bulgaria, though a little obscure, do not necessarily indicate any change in the neutral attitude observed by that state towards the belligerents. It is not a new loan, says The London Chronicle, but a paper advance of six million pounds sterling on an old one. Bulgaria contracted this loan some time before the outbreak of the present war. It was for twenty million pounds; but fifteen millions of the money, which was largely to be spent in Germany and Austria on guns and munitions, did not actually pass. Guns and munitions—at least the first deliveries of them—did; and what appears now to have happened is that Bulgaria's debts to German and Austrian manufacturers for these deliveries down to the outbreak of war have been written off by the advance of six millions on the loan. As far as Bulgaria is concerned, this is a paper transaction; as far as Austria and Germany are concerned, their banks merely transfer the amounts from the loan account, and credit them to the manufacturers. It is possible, of course, that something more significant lies behind the transaction, but at present there is no evidence of it; and though the Cabinet which King Ferdinand maintains in power has an Austrophile record, it is unlikely that at this time of day it could commit Bulgaria to an anti-Slav course, which would be deeply disliked by the mass of Bulgarians.

MAKES A PLEA FOR A GREATER ITALY

An Influential Rome Newspaper Points Out the Need for Expansion Beyond the Seas.

Rome, March 16.—Territorial expansion for Italy with new dominions "beyond the seas, especially on the Mediterranean," must be obtained, declares the Giornale D'Italia in a long article regarded here as of a semi-official nature, in which the present crisis is discussed. Italy's seven months neutrality, the paper says, was not lost, for not only have her interests been defended, but the nation has acquired greater political and military strength.

"Since the beginning of war," the Giornale D'Italia says, "Italy has declared her neutrality only until her own interests are in question, thus intending to exclude any renunciation of her rights and proclaiming for her the amplest liberty of action. Neutrality has been maintained, despite foreign flatteries and the pressure of internal agitations. The forces of the belligerents gradually are wearing out, while our energies are augmented.

"All have slowly recognized Italy's right to have the amplest liberty of action against anyone. Thus foreign countries have abandoned the strange idea that they would be able to enlist Italy in the name of sentimentalism like the romantic knight errant, or in the aid of great powers aspiring to the dominion of the world.

"There is now beginning the second phase of the war, which will probably be decisive. Italy has a frontier problem which for fifty years has oppressed her like a yoke as the result of the unfortunate war of 1866, which forced Italy, when she took the Venetian provinces, to accept a confine which has been a threat. Now that the configuration of Europe perhaps of a great part of the world, is about to be decided, we must and will obtain, by every means, a frontier which politically and from a military viewpoint is in no sense a menace.

"Her anti-Italian policy in the Italian provinces within her borders was Austria's fatal mistake. It can not and must not continue. These Italians must be saved from destruction.

"A nation of 37,000,000 inhabitants, bordered almost entirely by the sea, a great exporter of men and with agricultural, industrial and commercial interests which are constantly developing especially on the Mediterranean."

The newspaper says this statement summarizes the great problem which Italy must solve, "sacrificing blood and money if necessary." It declares the nation must be constantly prepared for any eventuality.

PROVISIONS OF MR. ARNOLD'S WILL

First $75,000 of Life Insurance Goes to the Wife of Deceased.

Vancouver, March 17.—The will of the late Mr. William R. Arnold, managing director of the Dominion Trust Company, has been filed in the Supreme Court registry as an original document in connection with the contest between the liquidator of the Dominion Trust Company and the Arnold heirs as to which is to administer the estate. As the estate has not been entered for probate, no affidavit of value and relationship has yet been filed, but the estate is reputed to consist almost entirely to life insurance policies for $450,000, of which about half is understood to have been taken out within the last few weeks before Mr. Arnold's death in October last.

The will, which was witnessed by Messrs. James S. Simpson and J. G. Buchanan of Vancouver, is dated January 15, 1914, and shows that at that time Arnold was making provision to pay to the Dominion Trust Company any losses it had incurred in "Syndicate Eight" and by his own speculations under the power-of-attorney he held from William Philip of Kamloops.

The first clause in the will appoints the Dominion Trust Company as trustees of the estate. It is this clause which is being contested by the Arnold heirs, who claim that as the company has gone into liquidation that the clause is no longer effective.

The bequests are but three in number. The first directs that the first $75,000 is to go to the testator's wife, Mrs. Laura B. Arnold, and is to be placed in a savings account in the Standard Bank of Canada. Mrs. Arnold is to have the right to draw a sum of $20,000 for the purpose of erecting a house for herself and children. Provision is made for the children to draw their share of what is left to Mrs. Arnold in the event of her pre-decease, on their attaining the age of 25 years.

The balance of the insurance is then to be used to pay legacies of $10,000 each to Mrs. Edna S. Ottley, wife of Major W. J. Ottley, of Coutts & Co., bankers, England, and to William Phillips of Kamloops. After these bequests Trust is instructed to pay itself "any amounts owing to it and its clients by the said William Philip and syndicate eight." Any balance that may be left is to be left on deposit with the Dominion Trust Company at 4 per cent. for a period of five years without security and the income of the remainder of the estate is to be paid quarterly to Mrs. Arnold.

It is probable that considerable litigation will ensue over the Arnold will, now that it has been filed with the court. Several of the insurance companies in which Arnold was insured have had their solicitors engaged in the matter ready for the time when a claim should be made. Mr. S. S. Taylor, K. C., has been retained to act for the Arnold heirs in the litigation.

UNSEAT TAYLOR AGAIN.

Joe Martin Gracefully Intimates He Is Not Through Yet.

Vancouver, March 17.—That another attempt will be made to disqualify Mayor Taylor was the statement made Monday by Mr. Joseph Martin. When asked regarding the matter, Mr. Martin said:

"I have every reason to believe that proceedings will be instituted to disqualify Mr. Taylor on the grounds that he is not the rightful owner of the lot on which he qualified."

The lot in question is the famous Halford-Taylor property, which has been used by the mayor for qualification purposes during three civic campaigns. It was rumored prior to the election that if Mayor Taylor defeated Alderman Hepburn at the polls, his right to occupy the chief magistrate's chair would be attacked on that ground.

SAY DOLLAR A VOTE TERRE HAUTE RATE

Indianapolis, Ind., March 17.—One dollar for every time a "repeater" voted at the Terre Haute election last fall appeared to be the regular scale of pay, and a profitable one, according to witnesses testifying yesterday. The evidence was given in the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts, of Terre Haute, and twenty-seven others for conspiring to corrupt a Federal election.

Ben Tucker, a witness, said he voted five times and each time was given a dollar by Dennis Shea, the county sheriff, one of the defendants. Lester Hull, who has pleaded guilty, testified that he voted in nearly every precinct in town. So, he said, did Josh Hawkins, indicted, but never arrested. Previous witnesses have testified to "repeating" at the rate of a dollar a precinct.

Cortland Rector testified that Mayor Roberts one day gave him a list of ten names and advised and ordered him to put them down on blank applications for registration and to "put in just any age."

ALASKA LINE MAY BE DELAYED TILL NEXT CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., March 18.—Evidences are still accumulating that no decision of the Alaskan railroad route will be announced until Congress meets. Then, it is whispered in administration circles, the administration will ask of Congress a large appropriation. It has been found that the Alaska Northern cannot be bought for $350,000, the first figure named. The government considers the property worth more, although not worth the $1,000,000 asked. Still, with only $2,500,000 available, the government is not prepared to pay even what it considers the property worth.

Moreover, there is no doubt that the Copper River & Northwestern also is coveted by the government. A purchase would require even for an initial payment more than is available, and there is a question as to the right to obligate the government for a sum in excess of the existing appropriation, $2,500,000. The Attorney General is now wrestling with this problem. The same question would arise if it was determined to build a new line by contract.

The Railroad Commission of 1912 in its report pointed out that two trunks were necessary to develop Alaska; one up the Copper, and one up the Susitna. Although the report of the present engineering commission is kept secret, it is believed that it, although making no recommendation, conveys the same idea. If this is so, then the President's attitude of delay and his plan to take the matter to Congress can be understood; also, there is explained his demand on the engineering commission for further statistics on construction and maintenance.

Activities of the engineering commission indicate that some construction is contemplated this year. Logically, this would be Ship Creek, Matanuska link. But that will be about all for the year.

IRELAND'S PATRON SAINT HONORED BY CONCERT

ward to the day of peace that would give the British Empire a new and greater brotherhood than it had ever seen; a brotherhood that would obliterate the bitter memories of the past and unite all in a genuine patriotism. "May next St. Patrick's Day," said the speaker, "show the world a united empire, the greatest since the world began."

The entertainment throughout was of a very high order. There were two male solos from Mr. Evans and Mr. Fortin, which were very well received. Miss Muriel Patmore and Mr. J. Roche gave a splendid exhibition of an Irish jig, in which they received great applause. Mrs. Chisholm gave a reading illustrating the wonderful inquisitiveness and talkativeness of a young wife, even carrying out the final "pout" with eminent satisfaction. As an encore, she gave, "When Daddy Plays the Banjo," and portrayed the yearnings and longings inspired thereby. Mrs. Scott excelled herself in "Kathleen Mavourneen," and pleased her audience so well that they were loath to part with her.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brady gave an excellent rendering of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," and the parts seem to fit them admirably. Mrs. Hemmel sang a couple of delightful songs in such a delightful manner that she was encored again and again. Mr. Duffy was good in a mandolin solo, and Miss Nauman delighted her audience as much with her charming girlishness as her excellent rendering of "Come Back to Erin." Mr. Pescott gave an excellent violin solo—and a smile that went some off.

The comic part of the evening was reserved for Mr. Oram, who gave a comedy sketch, and Sergeant Eddy of the Irish Fusiliers, in which he gave an exhibition of hypnotism. Mr. Brady, in introducing this event, announced that he believed it was a genuine case of hypnotism. Sergeant Eddy had his victims all ready when the curtain went up and he had them performing by fishing with a stick and going through the most ridiculous events possible. They seemed to be entirely under the control of his suggestion.

A few of Mr. Oram's hits were: "Prince Rupert lives on fish and strangers." "It's not married life that makes me look like this; it's indigestion." "In my experiences at the front I saved a whole regiment; I shot the cook."

vocated sending the city solicitor along at the beginning, even making the party three if Alderman Morrissey insisted on going. Yesterday he had the justification of knowing that in this he was right for it would have saved the city $54,000, which is the difference between a 2 per cent flotation fee and 2 per cent per annum, for three years.

WANTS ALL TO UNITE AGAINST GOVERNMENT

Editor, The Daily News:
Sir—It is time for the people of this province to wake up. They have been sound asleep for twelve years and robbers have got possession of their property.

McBride was chosen as the father of the people but he has not acted fairly for them—he has been untrue to his trust. I have been watching the political game from all angles and I find that there is something wrong. Water is good for the farmer but when there is too much it is a flood and does harm. In British Columbia we have had "too much" McBride and the country is suffering from it.

I attended the recent Liberal meeting and I noticed that the speakers blamed Bowser and McBride—I blame the people, for they had many chances in the past twelve years to put them out. There are lots of good men in British Columbia and a change would do good.

We must do some hard thinking before elections if we are to better our position. The workingmen will have to stick together and help defeat the McBride machine. It will not do for us to divide on this question. All parties, whether Laborites or Socialists, should unite with the Liberals, for that is the only chance we have to defeat the men who have ruined the province. If the Labor men pull apart it will help restore the old machine.

I saw a few fellows the other day discussing politics and they ended up in a fight. We need not do that for we have our franchise and secret ballot. You need not tell anyone how you vote but be sure you support the Liberal candidate, Mr. Pattullo.

ALASKA MAY VOTE ON PROHIBITION

Juneau, Alaska, March 18.—The opening gun has been fired for a territorial vote on prohibition, Representative Snow, the champion of temperance for Alaska, having introduced a resolution asking Congress to give the people of Alaska an opportunity to vote on the question in the November election, 1916. It was referred to the morals and health committee. It is believed the liquor question is submitted to a vote of the people.

Senator O. P. Hubbard and Representative Driscoll introduced a resolution in both Houses asking for the drawing up of a strong memorial to the President urging him to do all in his power to start the construction of the Alaska railroad. The memorial will point out the importance and advisability of railroad construction this year at least to the amount appropriated by Congress. The action is due to the press reports received throughout Alaska saying that the President possibly would not render a report until the next session of Congress.

Several hundred men who have been waiting in this city to go westward when the government railroad work shall start are greatly disappointed over the news that the President may not decide on the route before the next Congress convenes.
