BRITISH MAINTAIN CONTROL OF HILL 60--SIR IAN HAMILTON AT DARDANELLES

FRENCH DRIVING TOWARD METZ--- BRITISH STILL HOLD HILL 60

THIS POSITION IS OF GREATEST IMPORTANCE TO BRITISH-- STRENGTHENS THEIR LINES AND RELIEVES YPRES
FROM GERMAN BOMBARDMENT.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, April 22.—The French drive in the direction of Metz still continues and important developments are expected shortly.

The British are still holding Hill 60, dominating the southeast of Ypres. The Germans by repeated assaults have done all in their power to retake it but the British are firmly in possession. The capture of the hill is regarded as of the greatest importance as it relieves the bombardment of the town by the Germans and gives an opportunity for further advances. It also strengthens the British lines from attack in the direction of St. Eloia.

In their attempts to retake the hill there has been strenuous fighting on both sides, with large losses. The British losses were 2,000 but the German loss exceeds 4,000.

GEN. JOFFRE RETIRES MORE OLD GENERALS

(Special to The Daily News.)
Paris, April 22.—General Joffre is still pruning the French ranks of all officers who do not suit his liking. Twenty-nine more generals have just been placed on the retired list. He is pushing younger and more active men into places of responsibility.

SIR IAN HAMILTON PLACED IN COMMAND

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, April 22.—It is officially announced that Sir Ian Hamilton has been placed in command of the land forces attacking the Dardanelles.

SEATTLE SEES RUSH FOR ALASKA ROAD

Seattle, April 19.—The scenes at Piers B and 2 attendant on the sailings of the steamships City of Seattle and Mariposa for Alaskan ports were reminders of the days of the old Klondike rush, when men literally fought for room on vessels northward bound. At Pier 2, from which the Mariposa sailed, the excitement was particularly great.

Approximately 500 men and women crowded near the gangplank to take leave of parting friends. Roughly-clad engineers and miners gathered on the decks of the vessel and a great shout when the final whistle blew and the boat slid away from the pier. Everyone on ship and dock was talking of the railroad, and many whose hearts yearned for the North were left behind. Colonel Richardson, of the Alaska road commission; Barney McGhee, whom all Alaskans know; Colonel Schwanitz, formerly general manager of the Alaska Northern Railway, and many other old-timers, were on the dock to bid good speed and good luck to the government engineers.

The Mariposa is carrying to the north the first shipment of rails and ties for the new federal railroad. Also forty-five employees of the Alaska engineering commission, which will build a road and Lieutenant Mears, a member of the commission, were on board. Altogether there were 280 passengers on the big steamship nearly all of them bound for Cook Inlet by vessel of the Alaska Steamship Company, which will hereafter maintain a regular service to that point.

The City of Seattle, of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, carried 209 passengers when she sailed from Pier B at 9 o'clock. Among the passengers were fifty-one soldiers bound for Fort William H. Seward at Haines and cannery crews for Sitka Bay and Hawkes Inlet.

GENERAL D'AMADE,

French general who is commanding the allied land forces at the Dardanelles.

Don't forget the social and concert in the Anglican Church tomorrow night.

RT. HON. H. J. TENNANT,

Premier Asquith's brother-in-law and British Parliamentary Under Secretary for war, and Lord Kitchener's official spokesman in the Commons, who in a recent interview stated that the voluntary military system is justified.

THE WAR STAMPS MUST PAY FOR DICK M'BRIDE'S SUBMARINES

WASTEFUL EXPENDITURES IN PURCHASING WAR SUPPLIES WILL MORE THAN USE UP INCREASE OF THE TAXES IMPOSED.

Special war taxation could have been avoided altogether if the Borden government had been careful to get value for the money spent on the war.

In other words, if they had been careful to get value for the money spent in connection with the contingents, they would have saved far more than the sum they hope to raise by the vexatious taxes now imposed.

For example, they allowed Sir Richard McBride to buy two submarines, and paid for them $1,150,000. Now, these submarines were built for a South American government for $750,000. They had just been thrown back upon the hands of the builders, presumably for good reason, so that $750,000 was a price the builders would be glad to get. The money Canada paid for them was distributed in three drafts, one for $250,000, one for $500,000, which together would represent an ample price, and a third for $400,000, which represented—what?

Well, wherever that $400,000 may have gone, at least we know where it comes from. Forty million of the one cent war stamps will have to be bought, licked and affixed to letters, cheques, receipts and other documents to make up for it.

Forty million times, somebody putting a stamp on a letter will be thinking to himself that he is doing it to help the soldiers go to war, whereas he is really doing it to cover up waste, or, as possibly may be, worse.

A paper printed by order of Parliament contains correspondence which reveals how the Auditor General tried to keep the expenditure of the Militia Department under bounds—and how he wasn't able to do so.

The Auditor General points out (page 16) that, concerning a purchase of about $90,000 worth of field glasses "the profit of about $12 per glass would appear to be unusually large." The glasses were turned in at $33 and $42 a pair. Twelve hundred of Mr. White's stamps, therefore, must go for the wastage on every pair of field glasses. It means a lot of stamping that could have been saved by the exercise of ordinary business intelligence.

Again, the Auditor General's letters disclose that Mr. Garland, M. P., who is connected with a joint stock drug company in Ottawa, patriotically presented a clerk, E. Powell, as the agent of Bauer & Black, Chicago, and that the government bought certain sanitary supplies from Powell. Among other things, Powell furnished 67,200 field dressings. The auditor figures that for merely

W. J. BOWSER COMING TO RUPERT--- WILL ARRIVE NEXT WEDNESDAY

MAKING A CAMPAIGN TOUR IN THE INTERESTS OF HIS PARTY
—NO DEFINITE WORD ABOUT DATE OF ELECTION
BUT LIKELY TO FOLLOW FEDERAL.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Victoria, April 22.—Acting Premier W. J. Bowser has decided to visit Prince Rupert. He expects to sail by the S. S. Prince Rupert on Monday, April 26, and will arrive at Prince Rupert on the following Wednesday morning.

It is understood that Mr. Bowser is making this trip in the interests of his party at the forthcoming election. He will be away the whole week.

No definite word has yet been given out about the election, although it is generally believed that it will follow quickly after the Federal if the latter is held in June.

BASEBALL.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Vancouver, April 22.—The local team beat Victoria at baseball yesterday by a score of 5 to 6.

GERMAN SOCIALIST PARTY WANTS PEACE

(Special to The Daily News.)
The Hague, April 22.—Dr. Breischeidt, of the German Socialist party, is consulting the Dutch leaders in an endeavor to seek a basis for peace. He says the Socialists desire peace and are against the annexation of territory. He favors Alsace-Lorraine being given separate autonomy and the Dardanelles made neutral.

INVASION OF BRITAIN WAS CLOSELY AVERTED

(Special to The Daily News.)
Liverpool, April 22.—F. T. Jane, a naval writer and lecturer, said here last night that the British people do not realize how close their shores had been at one time to a German armed invasion. He says that the Germans made a bold attempt to land an expeditionary force but were driven back by the navy. "We were once very near invasion," he said, "and the papers are to be congratulated that never a word about it appeared in print."

SEVENTY-MILLION- DOLLAR CONTRACT

Montreal, April 22.—The Gazette's London correspondent, calling last night, says: "W. W. Butler, senior vice-president of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, has arrived back in London from Petrograd after having succeeded in securing an order from the Russian artillery department for two and a half millions each of shrapnel and explosive shells, worth $70,000,000. The extent of the order is such as to necessitate submitting various parts to other firms for manufacture, especially as three of the Canadian Car and Foundry plants are already turning out shells."

GETS BIG FORTUNE.

New York, April 22.—Mary Carey Thomas, the president of Bryn Mawr College for Girls, has just inherited $10,000,000. It was left to her by her friend, Mary Elizabeth Garrett, and was the fortune which she inherited from her father, the founder of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. Miss Garrett left the money to Miss Thomas without restriction, but it is to be supposed that her intentions as to its use for promoting education had been communicated to Miss Thomas before her death. If Miss Thomas had died first the money was to have gone to John Hopkins.

REDUCED RATES.

The government telegraph company has reduced the rates from here to Bella Coola. The new rates are $1 for ten words, and 7 cents for each additional word. The usual night letter rates are also in force, fifty words being transmitted for $1.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

Crowded houses are still welcoming "The Black Box" every week at The Majestic. The sixth episode, now running, is perhaps the most thrilling yet shown and that is saying a whole lot.

"Cupid Incognito" is a comedy drama of merit, while "The Baseball Fans of Fanville" is a laugh from start to finish.

The balance of trade at the end of the war is likely to show that Canada has not suffered as much as the pessimists predicted. True it is that a hundred million dollars has been voted for the war, but how many hundred millions will come back in the form of contracts for war munitions and foodstuffs? One Montreal company has just secured a Russian contract worth seventy million dollars. This is only one among many that has been placed by the British, French and Russians. At the end of the war the balance of trade will show the real story and it may be confidently looked forward to as favoring this country by a very large proportion.

A passenger on the ill-fated British liner Falaba, which was sunk by the German submarines without giving the passengers a chance to get off, had the nerve to take a photograph of one of the upset lifeboats in the water just a moment before the Falaba was sent to the bottom. The picture shows innocent passengers—men, women and children—struggling for life in the water while the Germans were looking on with glee at the event. Men who can do that sort of thing must have a coarser grain in their make-up than the average mortal. Indeed, it's a return to the days of savagery when the victors killed everybody, men, women and children. How can the Germans ever remove this stigma from their reputation.

The City Market has never filled the place in Prince Rupert that its advocates expected of it. In the first place, the city is not large enough and the producers too far away to make the scheme a complete success. The chief trouble is that nobody knows just what days the market will be open and consequently forget it altogether. It is evident, too, that the producer cannot afford to come here with his produce every week. It is also certain that there is not enough in it for any local man to handle the produce on commission. Some new solution of the market question will therefore have to be arranged if it is to be of any service either to the citizens or the farmers on the outside.

The ideal state of affairs would be to have one of the city staff handle the market but as his salary would amount to more than the advantages secured this is evidently not feasible. The next best solution is to arrange with somebody to keep the market open daily in return for some concession in the use of a certain portion of the space. Perhaps one of the local produce merchants would be glad to get free space or perhaps, indeed, pay a reasonable charge for it in return for a little service to the city. If this were done one of the requisites should be that fish should be sold at a profit of perhaps only a cent a pound. The commission which the outside farmers would be charged should also be limited. The details, of course, could be worked out later but the general scheme offers a solution for the market and Prince Rupert needs just such an institution.

It may of course be said that this would be competing with private enterprise and that it is not fair to the men already in the business. That may be so; but the people as a whole are more important than any one or two stores, although even then the intention is only to handle local lines such as fish and the products of the interior farmers. It is only right that the products at our doors should be secured at the lowest possible cost, and the only way that can be done is for the city to take a hand in it. It should be possible to get any quantity of fish at a slight increase over the price paid to the fishermen after allowing for the waste. The market committee ought to get busy and work out a solution.

EXAMINER PASSED.

Vancouver, April 19.—Under the requirements of a clause in the Canadian Shipping Act, which says: "No person shall be appointed an examiner in respect to masters or mates unless he himself passed a satisfactory examination before two or more examiners." Captain Alan Morton Davis, the newly appointed examiner of Prince Rupert, has qualified in every respect for the position and the official announcement of the appointment will be made in due course. The examination took place here last week before Capt. John D. Macpherson, wreck commissioner for British Columbia, and examiner at Victoria, and Capt. Charles Eddie, examiner at Vancouver.

ELIOT SAYS DON'T PRAY FOR PEACE

Boston, April 21.—"Don't pray for European peace now," was the advice of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard College, in an address to the Baptist ministers of Great Boston at Tremont Temple.

Dr. Eliot spoke on "The Christian Minister and the War."

"I cannot conceive of a worse catastrophe for the human race than peace in Europe now," he said. "Whoever prays for peace takes a great responsibility. Were peace declared now, Germany would be in possession of Belgium, and German aggressive militarism would have triumphed. That would be success for Germany after she had committed the greatest crime a nation can commit, namely: Faithlessness to treaty, and the sanctity of contracts would pass for nothing. If the sanctity of contracts is to pass as nothing, civilization would be set back for centuries."

"While I approve of the policy of this government in preserving the neutrality of the United States at present I find it impossible to be neutral myself, and I don't see how any thinking American can keep himself neutral. Liberty and all other of our American ideals are involved in this war."

Asked by a minister from the floor: "When may we begin to pray for peace?" Dr. Eliot answered in brief: "When Germany is at least driven back into her own territory, and when she has been forced to pay full indemnity to Belgium."

Criticizing those who advocate peace at any cost and base their arguments on the New Testament, Dr. Eliot said:

"It has been the custom to depict Jesus as gentle and meek, overlooking entirely the heroic side of His nature. They have lost sight of His saying: 'I come not to bring peace but a sword.'"

"Do you think the United States should be called into the war?" he was asked.

"I believe that if the United States saw clearly that Great Britain or France was getting exhausted, most Americans would like to go to their assistance. We owe the French much for assistance in our time of need, and even if England had done nothing for us except give us Milton, we should help her."

WOMAN'S BEST MEDICINE

Mrs. Kelly Advises all Women to Take "Fruit-a-Tives"

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., AUG. 26th. 1913.
"I can highly recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' because they did me an awful lot of good and I cannot speak too highly about them. About four years ago, I commenced taking 'Fruit-a-tives' for a general break-down and 'tives' for a world of good. We they did me a good many dollar's worth. I bought a money well spent because but it was money well spent because they did all that you claim for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other laxatives, that I found only with pleasure, as well as health, in taking them. They seemed to me to be particularly suited to women, on account of their mild and gentle action, and I trust that some other women may start taking 'Fruit-a-tives' after reading my letter, and if they do, I am sure the results will be the same as in my own case."

DEMANDS ACTION ON DRINK ISSUE

London, April 22.—The Chronicle urges the government to more action and less talk over the drink question.

"It is seven weeks since Mr. Lloyd George's solemn Bangor warning and nothing has yet been done beyond the King's lead," The Chronicle says. "With the long delay in taking the smallest steps, the whole case is in danger of looking ridiculous. Our inaction, in the face of this exaggerated evil unjustly suggests that we are nervelessly incapable of pursuing a remedy."

The Times and Mail announce that the government has decided against a general State purchase of breweries, distilleries and public-houses, but will propose a stricter control of public-houses and partial or complete prohibition of the sale of spirits, particularly whiskey, the encouragement of light beers, the repression of stronger and doctored beers and heavier taxation on wine.

For a comfortable room, come to the St. Elmo Hotel, 836 Second Avenue, near Eighth Street. Newly opened. Steam heat and hot and cold water in every room. Free baths. Rates reasonable.

THE WAR STAMPS MUST FOR DICK McBRIDE'S TWO SUBMARINES

acting as agent, Powell received a profit of 31 1-4 per cent, whereas, the auditor thought 5 per cent was quite a high enough commission. Care in this item alone would have made needless $2,822.40 worth of Mr. White's new stamps.

But this was not all. On November 26 the Auditor wrote that $18,613 had been paid for medical supplies received from Powell, commenting, "These goods could have been purchased for 40 to 60 per cent cheaper from the regular wholesale trade, and think that an order amounting to over $18,000 should not be paid at retail prices." Why not? If the government was particular about saving 40 to 60 per cent, what excuse would there be for Mr. White's stamp taxes?

The bandages bought from Powell for use, presumably, of wounded soldiers, will illustrate the necessity of Mr. White's taxes. For one kind Powell paid (the Auditor General writes) $8 per gross, and charged $12. Stamps for the difference, $4 worth. For some white flannel bandages, Powell paid $4.40 a gross. Stamps to bring it up to his selling price, $3.60. Adhesive plaster that cost him 52 and 72 cents, he charged 72 cents and $1 for. By some slip he invoiced rubber drainage tubes at $3.20, just what he paid for them. Abandoning the 5 per cent commission the Auditor General thought he was entitled to, and providing no opportunity to the public to buy stamps to make up wastage. Such mistakes do not occur often.

The story of the connection between motor trucks and the war taxes is not ready to be told in full as yet, there is too much of it. What is known is that at the outset every business rule was disregarded, and the country paid whatever bills came in. Later, when more trucks had to be bought, and competition forced itself upon the government's notice, it was discovered that hundreds of dollars too much had been paid for every truck. Suppose it was $500 a truck, an under-estimate. There, at once, on every car, are fifty thousand of Mr. White's stamps accounted for. Why can't people pay for them and accept the annoyance of them, and feel virtuously patriotic in the knowledge that somebody must have got the money that was wasted.

And the Sham Shoes! The ones that wore through, the soldier said, when he "wiggled his big toe!" The shoes the soldiers in Halifax used to wrap clothes around when they went walking! The shoes whose soles the boys had to replace with shingles! They had to be paid for, and replaced with others sometimes as bad, which also had to be paid for. Two hundred thousand pairs of canvas "hospital shoes" had to be paid for. And because all this money was wasted, Mr. White had to impose some special taxes to remind people that they are at war. They had not had sufficient reminder of that in the state of their fortunes already.

The people of Canada rightly expected to bear special burdens of taxation in consequence of the war, and the Borden government did not disappoint them in that. But they had the right also to expect that a government which levied such taxes would abstain

MORE JUICY STEAKS.

George Milner has again entered the restaurant business. This time he has formed a partnership with Joe Raatz, of the Empress Cafe.

Mr. Milner is one of the oldest residents of the city and old-timers will remember him as the partner of Frank Bowness in the Exchange Grill, where they used to turn out those juicy steaks for the pioneers. George says he still knows the knack of making good steaks and invites all his old friends to come in and give him a trial. Mr. Milner's ability is by no means confined to steaks as he is an all round caterer and chef of ability.
