BELIEVED CANADIANS TOOK PART IN DEFENDING HILL 60—CASUALTIES COMING IN

CANADIANS IN ANOTHER BATTLE— PRIVATE W. J. BOWSER KILLED

CANADIANS BELIEVED IN FIGHT FOR POSSESSION OF HILL 60
—W. A. CASEY, FORMERLY G. T. P. ENGINEER IS INCLUDED AMONG WOUNDED.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Vancouver, April 23.—It is evident that the Canadians took an active part in the fighting to maintain Hill 60, near Ypres. Another list of casualties has been sent through which supports this. Private W. J. Bowser, son of Frank Bowser, of Vancouver, and nephew of the Attorney General, is reported killed in action in France. He was born in Victoria and was 23 years old. Before going into active service he was a student at McGill. He belonged to the Seventh Regiment. Another Canadian who was just wounded in France is Sergeant W. A. Casey, formerly a G. T. P. engineer at Prince Rupert. Casey was wounded before, in the riot at Kelly's Cut at Prince Rupert.

RED CROSS APPEAL TO THE FARMERS

Our country, with its Allies, is waging a great war for justice, for the protection of small nations in the enjoyment of their rights, for continued and growing freedom, and for the maintenance of its pledged word of honor. Much destruction and desolation are being caused. Lives are being lost by the thousand. Canada's first contingent is now in the thick of it. Some will fall sick; many may be wounded; some will pay the last full measure of devotion to their country and its cause.

The Red Cross Society exists to succor the sick and wounded in war. It needs more money to provide more beds at hospitals in Great Britain and France; it needs more money to pay more Red Cross nurses; it needs more money, and more things made by women, to supply to Clearing Hospitals, Base Hospitals, and Recovering Hospitals.

I appeal to farmers to send me sums from $1 to $50, during the first week in May. Every $50 provides one additional hospital bed with the giver's name over it. By sending me about $10,000, you would serve your country well, bring credit to yourselves, and make all of us very proud of you. For the sake of the wounded boys, make the gift substantial. It will be an investment towards the recovery of some Canadian soldier who stood in our stead that our cause might be upheld.

BAND REORGANIZED

The City Band is taking on a new lease of life. It has been reorganized and Mr. A. Pescott, the local musician, has been secured as leader. Besides the former members he has a class of fifteen boys whom he is teaching in order that he may have a continual supply coming in. Mr. Pescott is giving every night from 7 to 11 to this instruction without any return in the hope that the citizens will also lend a hand in securing the necessary instruments.

A smoker is being held tonight in McIntyre Hall to assist the band in this respect and they deserve every support. Prince Rupert wants a first class band. Turn out and give the boys a help.

TRI-WEEKLY SERVICE TO START OVER G. T. P.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Vancouver, April 23.—W. P. Hinton, general passenger agent of the G. T. P., who is here after an inspection of the company's display at the Frisco Fair, announces that they are about to inaugurate a tri-weekly train service between Edmonton and Prince Rupert with the object of securing a portion of the traffic arising out of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Mr. Hinton will leave for Prince Rupert on Monday.

GERMAN SUBMARINE ATTACKS RESCUERS

(Special to The Daily News.)
Grimsby, April 23.—The trawler St. Lawrence was torpedoed in the North Sea. Two of her crew were killed. Seven of the survivors were reached by the trawler Queenstown, which was fired on by the submarine during the rescue.

AVIATOR DESTROYS GERMAN AIRSHIP SHED

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, April 23.—Official—The German attacks on Hill 60 have ceased. We hold the entire crest. There is no truth in the German official statement that it was recaptured.

A British aviator made a bold attack on an airship shed at Ghent. Single-handed and in spite of a heavy fire, he descended to within 200 feet and dropped a bomb which destroyed this shed and the airships within.

CONCENTRATED ATTACK MADE ON DARDANELLES

(Special to The Daily News.)
Paris, April 23.—Reports from Chios say there was heavy firing since Thursday morning by the four British warships in the Dardanelles engaging the forts. Allied troops are being landed in European Turkey under the cover of warships. It is said that about 350,000 allied troops will be engaged there.

VICTORIA WINS.

Victoria, April 23.—The Maple Leafs baseball team of this city defeated Vancouver by 9 to 8 yesterday. This makes a draw between the teams.

F. W. Hart has always been a good booster. A few days ago he left for San Francisco to take in the Fair and as soon as he got there of course he began to boost for Prince Rupert. He appears to have got a sympathetic audience for he says that "thousands of people are asking about us." Frank couldn't stand missing such a good opportunity to advertise the city so he sent a wire to The Daily News asking that "literature" be sent to him. Needless to say, that this has been complied with and Frank can now advertise Prince Rupert to his heart's content. The following is the wire received:

Please send immediately publicity literature. Thousands of people are asking about us and cannot give any satisfaction. Let Board of Trade send what they have got and get more printed. GREATEST NAVAL BATTLE OF HISTORY BELIEVED TO BE IMMINENT IN NORTH SEA

RUMORS IN LONDON TO THAT EFFECT—ALL SHIPPING BETWEEN HOLLAND AND BRITAIN STOPPED, WHICH LENDS COLOR TO THE RUMOR

London, April 23.—There is a rumor here that the greatest naval battle of history is pending in the North Sea. The main portion of the French fleet has joined the British grand fleet and it is believed that the German fleet will come out and seek battle.

Faithfully your friend,
JAS. W. ROBERTSON,
Chairman Red Cross Society at Ottawa.

RED CROSS AID

Dr. Robertson in making his appeal on behalf of the Red Cross Society of Canada suggests that this paper accept donations to be sent to Ottawa and acknowledge them through our columns. This will be gladly done. The Red Cross is caring for Canada's wounded on the battlefield, or, in other words, is acting as a substitute for the tender hands of a mother, a sister or a wife who cannot possibly be at the side of their wounded loved one. If you haven't got a friend on the battlefield you can at least help to care for the friend of somebody else. Donations can be sent either direct to Dr. Jas. W. Robertson, chairman of the Red Cross Society, Ottawa, or sent to this office, where they will be duly acknowledged and sent to headquarters. No sum too large and none too small. Help the cause along.

Shipping Stopped.
Amsterdam, April 23.—The British Admiralty has ordered the stopping of all shipping between Holland and Great Britain. This order came into effect today and is believed to foreshadow important naval operations.

To Attack Kiel.
While the dispatches from London today are very meagre they certainly indicate an important change in the operations against Germany. Not only is the time for the final grand drive of the Allies almost here but there are reports that a huge army will

CANADA VS. BRITAIN
Nobody said that the British government had ceased buying supplies in Canada but everybody knows that they have ceased making purchases through the Borden government. They prefer to have their own agent here and thus avoid the crookedness of some of our Canadian politicians.

The case of Lipton's dealings with the British government is quite different to the Canadian graft. Lipton sold to a petty army officer, but as soon as it was found out the officer was fined and disgraced and the Lipton firm forever struck off the army supply lists. In Canada the guilty man is given a quiet lecture for the benefit of public opinion but he is neither fined nor disgraced. If the outrages committed in Canada took place in Britain the offenders would fare well if they were not backed up to a wall and shot.

Champions of the government at Ottawa are saying that the government cannot attend to its war duties properly because of politics. That may be true. But the politics are of its own creation. The government might have enjoyed absolute freedom from partisan anxiety and worry by simply declaring that there would be no election until after the war, or at least until the time fixed by law, which is the end of the summer of 1916.

Mr. Asquith and Sir Edward Grey, Lloyd George and Churchill, and the other members of the British government have done everything possible to cut out party politics and concentrate their own energy, and the energy of their opponents, on war measures. They have declared that there will be no election during the war. They may even change the law so as to postpone the election until after the war. An election is due this year, according to law. But the British ministers are giving no thought to the election, and will postpone it until after the war, even if it is necessary to change the law for that purpose. They want to work with their political opponents, not against them. They do not want to leave their war duties and make partisan stump speeches. They do not want to see their Conservative opponents, too, making stump speeches. They want to see Liberals and Conservatives on the same platform, asking for recruits, and for support for war measures.

The Borden government has adopted the exactly opposite course. It has stirred up party bitterness. It has provoked party hostility. For months it has been talking about a premature election, and thereby keeping alive animosities. It is nonsense to say that it has been forced into an election by its trumpery quarrel with the Senate over the Western senators. It only thought of this excuse a few days ago. But it was talking of a general election last October, although there had been a special war session of Parliament, in which absolute unanimity was shown, and at the close of which Sir Robert Borden thanked the opposition for their co-operation "in dealing with this difficult and trying situation."

But before and during the present session of Parliament the friends of the government were talking of an early election, and thereby doing all in their power to keep party spirit alive. It is true that they did not succeed in doing a great deal of mischief. The hundred million grant for the war was passed without delay and without criticism, as the fifty million grant had been in the special war session. The new customs taxation went into effect the moment the Finance Minister finished his budget speech, and the special war taxes have gone into effect at the very hour fixed by the government. The opposition did not approve of the principle of the increased customs taxation, but they were satisfied to register a protest which did not delay for a moment the raising of any money which the government required.

But the government was continually looking for pretexts for stirring up a party quarrel and springing a premature election. And at last it found a pretext. The Senate amended a bill for appointing some new senators. The Senate interfered with the patronage list which Rogers, as a Western minister, controls. Mr. Rogers is always thinking about the patronage list, and he imagines that the whole country is interested in the same absorbing topic. The whole country is to be plunged into the heat and bitterness of a general election in order that Mr. Rogers may have his way about some Western jobs that he wants to hand out to his party friends. That is, if the latest excuse is accepted. But it is only an excuse.—Toronto Star.

GERMANS FEEL PEEVED.

Berlin, April 22.—The Society of German Engineers has declined an invitation to participate in the congress of engineers at San Francisco by preparing papers to be read there. In taking this action the society explains that German engineers at present are too busy with the war. It adds that, because of American shipment of munitions to Germany's enemies, it will be difficult to get German engineers to contribute papers for the congress.

ORDERING A DINNER DURING WAR TIMES

The Canadian Mining Institute recently held their convention and at their annual dinner a good deal of wit and good humor was exhibited. The following is a selection from the speech of the chairman, Colonel Hay, and shows the difficulty of ordering a public dinner in war times:

"It was a difficult proposition that I was put up against when I was appointed a committee of one to order a dinner for this annual meeting of the Institute. In ordinary circumstances it would be a hard task enough, but in war times it became a very serious problem indeed. I thought the best I could do was to hold a council of war with the manager of the King Edward Hotel to ascertain whether he would be prepared to give us a dinner suitable to the times and the occasion. He assured me that they had recently got a first class Kitchener and an excellent French chef, and were therefore in a position to tackle anything. I said: 'By jove, that's good; that's more than half the battle.' He asked me what kind of a crowd they would have to face. I told him mostly mining men accustomed to skirmishing in the bush, and usually possessed of lusty appetites. 'How would it be,' he said, 'if we opened fire with a salvo of Martinis; and follow that up with some Russian Caviare and Shell fish?' 'Then,' said he, 'we have an excellent soup which we serve on special occasions, in fact, it's our Super-Dreadnought, Mulligatawny.'

"That appears to be satisfactory," said I. 'Now what about fish,' said he. 'Have you any Swordfish?' said I. 'Get off your perch,' said he, 'and take Flanders; think of the poor souls in Belgium suffering on account of the war.' So we compromised on fillets of sole.

"Next came the question of entrees. 'How would Frankfurt sausage be?' he asked. 'No,' said I, 'we might take Strassburg, but nothing German till after the war, then we'll take everything German.'

"I suppose your men will be a Hungary crowd. How do you think they would like some Turkey without Greece, with Brussels Sprouts and Pom Pommes de terre?" 'That would be all right,' said I, 'provided the Turkey is not too tough. When we meet with any tough proposition in the woods we are accustomed to using an axe or a saw to carve with.' 'All right,' said he, 'I'll give you a Warsaw.'

"I don't want to Russia," said I, 'but we must get down at once to something solid.' 'If you do, I won't Serbia,' said he. 'Then in that case we won't Roumania,' I retorted. 'Surely you don't want any more meat?' he remonstrated. 'Yes,' said I, 'there's no bridle to the appetite of mining men on an occasion of this sort. I would suggest that we have some Saddle of mutton, potatoes to boot, and other Accoutrements.'

WOMAN'S BEST MEDICINE

Mrs. Kelly Advises all Women to Take "Fruit-a-Tives"

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., AUG. 26th. 1913.
"I can highly recommend 'Fruit-a-Tives' because they did me an awful lot of good and I cannot speak too highly about them. About four years ago, I commenced taking 'Fruit-a-Tives' for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars' worth, but it was money well spent because they did all that you claim for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other laxatives, that I found only pleasure, as well as health, in taking them. They seemed to me to be particularly suited to women, on account of their mild and gentle action, and I trust that some other women may start taking 'Fruit-a-Tives' after reading my letter, and if they do, I am satisfied the results will be the same as in my own case."

'Well,' said he, with a sigh, 'if you must you must, but you're only going to Stirrup trouble for yourselves.'

'Now, I've got rather an Audacious proposal to make,' said I. 'What is that?' said he. 'I (Dacia) daresay,' I went on, 'you could get us a nice little hen chicken or something of that sort.' He replied: 'There is only one of these Lady birds to be had, and that may prove to be a very expensive dish; in fact, it may Rouen us, but if you insist on it I suppose you must have.' I told him he had better go out and capture the bird and serve the Brest as a tit bit with French beans.

'So far, that's satisfactory,' said I. 'Now suppose we decide what we're going to have to drink.' 'Would you like some Rhine Wine?' said he. 'No, no, we had better stick to Champagne and Burgundy, and by the way, it would be Nice if you had Nancy serve it.'

TELLS OF ALASKA ROADS PROGRAM

Seattle, April 19.—Col. W. P. Richardson, chairman of the Alaskan Road Commission, who has been in Washington, D. C., for the winter, arrived in this city yesterday and is registered at the Seattle en route to Valdez, the Alaskan headquarters of the commission. Among the plans for the coming summer are included the building of a bridge across the Chena Slough at Fairbanks, and the probable replacing of the bridge at Nome, destroyed by a storm two years ago. Other plans of the commission call for the repairing and maintenance of present roads in the North, with special attention to be paid to the Fairbanks-Valdez road.

Colonel Richardson deplores the fact that the appropriations for road work in Alaska are so small. "The total fund is very inadequate," he said last night. "The special appropriation made by Congress is but $165,000, to which will be added in the neighborhood of $100,000 from the Alaska fund."

CANADIANS AGAIN ENGAGED IN BATTLE

Ottawa, April 23.—It is believed here from unofficial intelligence received that the Canadians have been again engaged in the heavy fighting which figures in the British official reports in the vicinity of Ypres.

Since the Neuve Chappelle engagements the Canadians have been resting in their part of the battlefield, and the casualty lists have been comparatively light.

It is hinted, however, that the force suffered some losses in the recent fighting south of Ypres, in which they are said to have been engaged. Official confirmation of these reports is expected at any time.

REPUBLICAN SUCCESS PREDICTED BY JUDGE

Washington, April 22.—Judge Thomas Burke, of Seattle, is quoted in an interview in the Washington Post yesterday as saying that he would not be a candidate for the United States Senate next year.

The Post interview quotes Judge Burke as expressing preference for Elihu Root for the presidential nomination. He speaks highly of Justice Hughes, but says the highest court of the land should not be disturbed for political reasons.

Further, the judge asserted that whatever Republican is nominated will be elected, "for the entire country is tired of Democratic control." He declared also that "there is no more progressive party in the state of Washington."

SQUATTERS AT SEWARD TO FIGHT FOR CLAIMS

Seward, Alaska, April 23.—Rumors that the Alaska Engineering Commission had decided to throw open to settlement the sixty-acre terminal tract here, acquired by the government with the purchase of the Alaska Northern Railroad, caused a stampede of squatters, who have occupied almost all of the tract.

Many prominent business men and several women are among the squatters, who have armed themselves with rifles to prevent claim jumping. There have been several minor quarrels, but as yet no one has been hurt.

Planned to Use Land for Camp.

United States District Judge Fred M. Brown had planned to obtain the use of this tract as a temporary camp for the hundreds of men who are hurrying to Seward from all parts of Alaska and from the States as a result of the announcement that Seward would be the tidewater terminus of the government railroad to Fairbanks.

Deputy United States Attorney Whiteley said that the land belongs to the Alaska Northern until the sale of the road to the government is completed by the payment, July 1, of the first $500,000 on the $1,500,000 purchase price. Mr. Whiteley said he would not interfere with the squatters unless the railroad company files a complaint of trespass.

First Lot Staked by B. R. Laberee.

The rush to seize claims on the terminal tract began yesterday morning. The first lot was staked by B. R. Laberee, son of the former received of the Alaska Northern. Despite a snow storm, which has blanketed Seward, the stampede continued, and squatters were busy setting up tents and clearing their lots.

GERMANS LOST.

Paris, April 22.—Le Matin today says it is in a position to state that Herr Ballin, president of the Hamburg-American Line, and the president of the Deutsche Bank both declared a few days ago that the war was lost for Germany. Le Matin asserts that one of these two commercial kings said, "The battle is lost and the German people know nothing of it."

SIR RICHARD'S VISIT DOESN'T HELP STOCK

Vancouver, April 23.—"The feeling in Canadian Pacific was good but Canadian Northern were heavy on the debenture default." Such was the statement cabled to the Montreal Herald on April 14 from London, England. In other words, the market in the financial metropolis of the world is not favorable to Canadian Northern stock for which British Columbia is standing sponsor. The item of news was sent out by the Central News Agency, one of the most reliable in the Old Country, and it may therefore be accepted as quite correct. The visit of Sir Richard McBride to England may not be disconnected with this condition. Since that date no further statement as to the standing of Canadian Northern on the London market has reached this part of Canada.

Dr. James W. Robertson, whose appeal for the Red Cross Society is published herewith, is one of the best known and most popular men in Canada.

Dr. Robertson is best known in connection with his lectures on agriculture. He began his public service in the Ontario Agricultural College about thirty years ago. Later, he was connected with Macdonald College, Montreal, and still later as chairman of the Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education.

Dr. Robertson is so much enthused over agricultural matters that he has almost made it a religion. His appeal to the farmers of Canada on behalf of the Red Cross Society will meet a ready response.
