AMERICAN OIL TANKER TORPEDOED AND MANY LIVES LOST—MAY CAUSE TROUBLE WITH THE UNITED STATES.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, May 3.—The Swedish steamer Ellido, the American oil-tanker Gulflight, the French steamer Europe, the British steamer Fulgent, and two Aberdeen trawlers have been submerged.
The captain and several of the crew of the Gulflight were drowned. The submarine attacked the trawler Rosevein as she was rescuing the crew of the Europe. They also attacked the trawler which was trying to rescue the crew of the Fulgent, a shot killing the captain.

They chased three Aberdeen trawlers for twenty miles after running amuck of the fishing fleet.
Uncle Sam Angry.
Washington, May 3.—News of the sinking of the oil tanker Gulf-light and the killing of Captain Gunther and two other Americans is regarded seriously here in view of the warning given to Germany of strict accountability for the loss of American lives.

INCENDIARIES AFTER GRANVILLE BRIDGE

(Special to The Daily News.)
Vancouver, May 3.—Two more attempts were made yesterday, at 4:30 and 10 p. m. to set fire to the Granville Street bridge. A woman saw three incendiaries leave the bridge and later a volume of smoke emerged. The fires were easily quelled.

CAN'T SELL CRAB DURING SUMMER

Seattle, May 3.—Cracked crab, the piece de resistance of many a midnight supper in times past, and according to physicians, "the stuff that dreams are made of," will be missing from the summer menu of Washington restaurants, says L. H. Darwin, state fish commissioner. The new fisheries code makes the closed season on crabs extend from July 1 to October 1, and during that time they may not be offered for sale. Under the former law it was not permissible to catch crabs during the summer months, but dealers were permitted to put them in cold storage during the winter and sell them in the summer. In times past tons of crabs were cooked and then frozen.

London, May 3.—The Admiralty reports that the destroyer Recruit has been sunk by a submarine. Twenty-five of her crew of fifty-eight were saved by the trawler Daisy under gunfire from the submarine. A division of British destroyers destroyed two German torpedo boats which sank the trawler Columbia without hoisting their colors. Two German officers and forty-four men were rescued and made prisoners. The trawler Barbadoes defended itself with two small guns.

DROWNING ACCIDENT AT METLAKATLA SCHOOL

A very sad drowning accident took place Saturday afternoon at Metlakatla, when Harold Nelson, the young son of John S. Nelson, of this city, lost his life.
The boy had been attending school at Metlakatla for the last two years. It appears that they were in the habit of holding a picnic every fine afternoon on the beach and on Saturday Harold was along with the other pupils, in charge of one of the teachers. He was playing with a raft on the beach and finally managed to set it loose, assisted by the incoming tide, and was on board the raft about forty feet from the shore when first noticed by the teacher. She called to him and this apparently made him nervous and induced him to jump from the raft and try to get to shore. He immediately went down, and although the teacher almost lost her life in trying to rescue him, she failed to get near him.
C. C. Perry, the Indian agent, was sent for, and took him from the water about half an hour after the accident, when he was quite dead.
Much sympathy will be felt for Mr. Nelson, who is a popular old-timer. The boy was about 10 years old and was exceptionally bright. The funeral took place this afternoon at 3 p. m.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Metylene, May 3.—The Allies are still making progress in their fight against the Turks. The outer ports of the Dardanelles have surrendered and the British flag is floating over them. The inner forts have not yet been taken but they appear to be weakening.

The combined attack, both land and sea, upon the Turkish army continues. The Allies have captured another Turkish battalion.

The Turks have also suffered greatly under the fire of the allied fleet. There are 5,000 wounded in Constantinople alone.

EDITORIALS

There is a feeling in Ottawa according to despatches in two of the evening papers last night, that, owing to the tragic share that Canada has now been called upon to take in the war, the proposal to disrupt the country by holding a general election will probably be abandoned.

It was expected that a definite decision would be arrived at this week. What that decision would have been can only be surmised, but what it will be, under present circumstances, can surely be predicted with confidence.

The tragedy of the war is now upon us as a people. The magnitude of the struggle and the grim reality of our participation in it have been revealed to all of us in a moment. Yesterday the Department of Militia gave it out as an estimate that the total Canadian casualties may reach one thousand. There came, too, by cable yesterday from Berlin the boast that a thousand of our soldiers had been made prisoners. This claim can, no doubt, be largely discounted.

A decision was to have been reached at Ottawa this week—a decision important in party politics and possessing no other importance whatever—and today we believe the Prime Minister may rightly consider himself both wise and fortunate in that he did not allow himself to be crowded last week into making a decision that would now distress him.

This country, its people and its government, have weightier things to think about in the year that lies ahead of us than ward meetings, stump speeches, and the mean and petty feuds of party politics. Everybody realizes this today as many did not a week ago. Enquiries are pouring in from every part of the Dominion for news of the losses, for the delayed lists of the slain, the wounded, and the missing. There will be sad news for every town and village. There will be pride, too, in the fine courage and devotion of our army at the front, and the whole country will rise up to reckon with the enemy and make that the first and chief business of us all.

The British Empire is in this war, and Canada is in it to the same extent and on the same terms—that is to say, that neither Canada nor the Empire of which she forms a part desired the war, but could not avoid it. Being in it there is no choice but to fight a way through it. The greater our forces are the surer and speedier will be the triumphant result. Nothing else matters very much while this vast life-and-death struggle lasts. The tragic news of today, and the griefs that go with it, may be succeeded at any time by other instances of valor and sacrifice by our soldiers, and the least we can do at home is to rise up as a united people and in every way in our power strengthen the hands of those who fight and die that others may live and be free. The fight is not for our own country only, but for many countries and for the preservation of those principles of liberty that alone can make the world a tolerable place for common people to live in.

The government of Canada has plenty of work to do. To divide this country on party lines at a time like this—to spread discord even among the soldiers in camp, on the firing lines, and in the hospitals—would be a crime. It would, moreover, be a blunder that would infallibly destroy the government that made it.—Toronto Star.

NO ALUM

SAYS HUERTA WILL HEAD MOVEMENT

San Antonio, Texas, May 3.—Pasqual O. Angeria, formerly an officer in Villa's army, who arrived here yesterday from Mexico, in statement, said that another revolution is being organized for Mexican liberty and peace, in which Huerta is the leading or central figure. Angeria's statement follows:

"Thousands of Mexicans believe Huerta is the man to bring peace to Mexico and organization of the new plans are being perfected in New York. While the nucleus of the new party will consist of 10,000 officers and men now in the United States, and I might say all but fifty in Texas, there will be no violation of the neutrality laws.

"The new party is composed primarily of ex-Federals, but includes many from other parties, in fact, an amalgamation of Mexicans from the several parties now recognized in an unsuccessful attempt to bring about peace.

"These plans have been under way for some time and long before Huerta came to this country."

No blame whatever is attached to the captain or crew of the liner.

GOVERNMENT TO RUSH RLY. WORK IN ALASKA

Seattle, May 3.—Thomas Riggs, Jr., a member of the Alaska engineering commission, arrived in this city last night from Washington, D. C., via the California route, and after a short stay here he will sail for the north. In Alaska he will take an active part in the work on the government railroad. Mr. Riggs is the second member of the engineering commission to pass through Seattle en route north, the first being Lieut. Frederick Mears, and the third, W. C. Eades, the chairman, is scheduled to arrive here May 10.

"We will rush the line toward the Matanuska coal field as fast as possible this summer," said Mr. Riggs last night at the Arctic Club. "While I do not think that we will complete the seventy-five miles of road there this season, we will get as far as we can with it in order to get out coal for the use of the road and also to permit some exporting as soon as claims in the field are patented. The work at Ship Creek is going ahead now and consists of the building of temporary landings and other preliminary work."

Handicapped for Funds

"We are slightly handicapped for money, as we have but the $500,000 left from the appropriation of last year to work until June 30, when the present year's appropriation of $2,000,000 will be available. At this time the first payment for the road of $500,000 will be made and the Alaska Northern will then be officially taken over by the government."

"My work this summer will consist principally of making the final location of the route of the road from Broad Pass to Fairbanks in order that there may be no delay when construction reaches that point."

"With regard to the status of the Matanuska coal fields, all I can say is that the matter will be definitely announced this month when the new leasing law as applied to the field will go into effect. What will be the status of the claims there already filed on I do not know, as that must be settled by the government. It may be that the fields will be surveyed and platted and offered for sale by the government by auction or they will reserve a large portion of the land."

Mr. Riggs is accompanied by his secretary, G. F. Cramer.

Big Requisition for Supplies.

The first big requisition for supplies for the work of the Alaska engineering commission on the Alaska railroad was received a few days ago by C. E. Dole, purchasing agent for the commission. The order calls for approximately 900,000 feet of lumber, 30,000 ties and a miscellaneous assortment of bolts, spikes and washers. The bids will be opened May 6th at 2 o'clock.

The contract for a locomotive crane, bids for which were asked for some time ago, has been awarded to a Cleveland, Ohio, firm. The local men expect its arrival here in about a week.

WATER NOTICE.

Use and Storage.

TAKE NOTICE that The Port Essington Water Company, Ltd., whose address is 517 Granville St., Vancouver, B. C., will apply for a licence to take and use one and one-half cubic feet per second and to store 400 acre-feet of water out of Cunningham Lake. The storage-dam will be located at the outlet of Cunningham Lake. The capacity of the reservoir to be created is about 400 acre-feet and it will flood 2.23 acres. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about 5 chains below the said outlet and will be used for Waterworks purpose upon the land described as part of Lot 45, Range 5, Coast District, being the townsite of Port Essington. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act, 1914," will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Prince Rupert. Objections to the application or to the petition mentioned below may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B. C., within thirty days after the first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper. The territory within which the company desires to exercise its powers is described as the townsite of Port Essington. A petition to amend the Certificate granted to the company in respect of its former right so as to include the right applied for herein will be heard in the office of the Board of Investigation at a date to be fixed by the Comptroller. The date of the first publication of this Notice is March 23, 1915.

NO DECISION IS YET REACHED ON GENERAL ELECTION FOR CANADA

Ottawa, May 2.—The matter of a general election is still undecided. The report that steps were being taken to send forward the ballots and affidavit forms to be used by the soldiers in the event of a vote being taken is confirmed by the presence in the corridors of the House of Commons of large cases containing the papers necessary for the taking of the vote. The great majority of these cases are addressed to the High Commissioner's office in London.

But some are being sent to Bermuda, where one regiment of Canadians is being kept in garrison. The sending forward of these papers does not necessarily mean a June election, as they could be held for months if necessary. The Evening Citizen, dealing in its news column with election prospects, says: "No announcement is yet made as to a general election. The absorbing character of events abroad affects the political situation and makes dissolution in the immediate future much less likely than was the case heretofore. The matter, however, is still undecided."
