(Special to The Daily News.)
London, May 17.—(Official)—The First British army made a successful attack near Festubert, breaking the enemy's line on a two-mile front. The attack commenced at midnight and we advanced one mile. The fighting continues in our favor.

French Successes.
Paris, May 17.—(Official)—Progress continues in Hot Sas district. We have captured five German lines, 157 prisoners and four machine guns. Counter attacks by the enemy were a complete failure. At Oise we captured a Turkish flag which was saved from the trenches. The total captures at Carency were over 2,000.

French Aviators Busy.
Amsterdam, May 17.—French aviators destroyed a chemical factory at Launethal, near Danzig, causing a loss of $75,000, and also destroyed seven sheds at Koenigsburg. Tanneries worth $2,000,000 were also destroyed at Strassburg.

German Air Raid.
London, May 17.—A German air raid on Ramsgate caused the death of one woman. Angle guns protected Dover. Zeppelins dropped incendiary bombs on Deal and Margate, with no damage reported, and five more were sighted north of Freeland.

SITUATION IN WESTERN GALICIA.

An important Austro-German success has been gained in Western Galicia which may compel the Russians to evacuate the Dukla Pass. Russian statements discount Austrian claims.

MR. ALBERT PURCHASES WESTHOLME THEATRE

Mr. M. Albert, who owns the Westholme Theatre building, has purchased the entire equipment from the old company, and in future will conduct a first-class playhouse entirely of his own.

Because of a growing sentiment against anything owned and run by a people of German origin, the old company thought it advisable to dispose of their business. Mr. Albert assures the public that the members of the old company have only disposed of their interest here, but will leave the city within the next few days.

The theatre will be closed tonight and tomorrow to allow the new owner to arrange for a new picture service and a new staff. Mr. Albert is a naturalized Briton of Russian birth. Not only is he by birth connected with one of our great allies, but he has no more than four brothers and fourteen other kinsmen in the world.

The new management will provide a show quite up to the best ever seen here. If present arrangements carry, the grand opening will take place on Wednesday evening first.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICE IN ANGLICAN CHURCH

In the Anglican Church yesterday, the Rev. Canon Rix conducted a special service in memory of the local boys who recently died in Belgium. The church was decorated with crosses and wreaths composed of Rupert mosses and wild flowers, while the Union Jack draped the western wall. The 68th Earl Greys and the Irish Fusiliers turned out in force.

At the outset of his discourse, Canon Rix described the call of the lion to her whelps to come to her side to fight for justice and for right, and how the world had witnessed a most wonderful response to the call. After making fitting reference to the sterling qualities of the Prince Rupert men who have fallen in the fray, he went on to describe the battle of Langemarek as one which shall live with Cressy, Agincourt and Balaclava, and how the story of the bravery of the men of Canada will ring down the century.

Addressed largely to men and soldiers, the preacher described the soldier's death as a triumphant passing into immortality, and patriotism as the next thing to the worship of God. "Life can not always be reckoned in years, but in the great things done and experienced; an honorable death for King and Empire is much more than long years of heedless, thoughtless, careless life," said the preacher, in effect.

The Canon called upon all to ask themselves, in their hearts, if they are worthy of the great and noble sacrifice made for them. The whole trend of the sermon was one of manliness, rather than of mourning; a call to a more serious estimation of the big realities of life.

At the close, the congregation sang the National Anthem, and remained standing while the organist played the "Dead March in Saul," followed by the sounding of the "Last Post" by the bugler of the Irish Fusiliers. It was a most impressive and inspiring service, peculiarly fitting to the occasion.

NEW RULING ON COPPER SHIPMENTS

In order to prevent copper being shipped to our enemies, the government has put into effect a rule providing that no copper, which is 90 per cent pure or over, is to be shipped from Canada to the United States, without proof of its final destination and the use to which it is to be put.

The ruling will affect the Granby company, with the others, but is not likely to interrupt their shipping of refined metal in any way. A recent shipment of 450 tons for Seattle has been switched to Vancouver, where the company's officers will be able to furnish the customs with the necessary details.

RED CROSS MAKES AN URGENT APPEAL

A call has come which must be answered. The hospitals of Europe are full of gallant Canadian boys, who are suffering for the Empire. There is an urgent call for additional funds with which to purchase bandages, dressings, splints, and other needs which require immediate attention.

Unless more funds are forthcoming, some of the hospitals will have to be closed. The Red Cross burden is enormous now, and with the extended summer campaign it will rapidly increase. Every cent contributed will help to alleviate the sufferings of the wounded, and the following table will show how much even one cent will do:

- * 1 cent will buy iodine to disinfect wound.
- * 1 cent will buy gauze for one dressing.
- * 5 cents will buy a bandage.
- * 8 cents will pay for a temporary splint.
- * 10 cents will buy chloroform for an operation.
- * 25 cents expended as above may save a life or limb.
- * $2.40 will pay for 100 yards of gauze.
- * $19 will buy 100 pounds of absorbent cotton.
- * $24 will pay for 1,000 sterilized bandages.
- * $40 will pay for 100 pounds of chloroform.
- * $60 will provide a nurse for a month.
- * $166.66 will provide a surgeon for one month.

The Daughters of the Empire will make a collection in aid of the Red Cross Fund on Saturday, May 22, when the people of Prince Rupert will have another opportunity of showing their loyalty to the boys on the firing line.

NOTICE.
Friends of Roy Barnes and Jack Judge will welcome the news that these gentlemen have purchased the "Cozy Barber Shop" from Charlie Ehling. Both are well known tonsorial artists and should have a big patronage.

NEW OPERA HOUSE FOR PRINCE RUPERT

Mr. F. W. Hart, the well known old-timer of this city, has everything in shape for the construction of an up-to-date opera house behind the Hart Block.

The building, which will be of the latest clam shell type, will occupy a space of 50x100 feet and will seat about 1,000 people. The clamshell idea gives an auditorium of a wide crescent shape, which enables every one of the audience to see every corner of the house, as well as have an uninterrupted view of the stage. The entrance and exits are to be so arranged that parties entering or leaving will not disturb the rest of the audience in the slightest.

The entrance lobby will be where the London Grill is now and the exits will open on Fifth Street. The London Grill will be provided with more commodious premises in the same building.

Mr. Hart is an old hand at the game, having opened the first opera house in Vancouver, and also the first in Rossland, B. C. The old Hart Opera House in Vancouver seated 1,000 people.

Mr. J. H. Pillsbury is busy surveying for the excavation work and Mr. J. W. Potter is co-operating.

LOYALTY.

The Roblin government has gone the way of every mal-administration. The attempt to explain to the royal commission the payment of a lump sum of $800,000 to a contractor for steel work on the new legislative building, when little more than the basement had been built, was a miserable failure. Contradictory statements were made by the different parties implicated, and it became all too clear that there was something "rotten in the state of Denmark."

The patronage system is inherently wrong, and invariably leads to this sort of thing. Compared to the political grafter, there is something that is refreshingly honest and straightforward about the thug who demands your money at the point of a gun. He is at least sincere. He makes no bones about what he wants. The political grafter commits the same offence by more scientific methods. The popular plan at present is to wave the biggest Union Jack obtainable in the face of the people, and talk loudly of the welfare of the Empire, the flag-flourishing covering up any sign of the transference of the booty. It is just the old stage conjuring trick highly developed.

To watch for the transference of the booty is unpatriotic. To be a true patriot, you must not take your eyes off the flag. To suggest that you are being robbed is grossly disloyal. There is only one thing you have any business to be loyal to—the Conservative party. The Conservative party is to loyalty what John D. Rockefeller is to the oil business. It is loyalty personified, so to speak. It does not allow Labor men or Liberals to traffic in the commodity.

The headquarters of the loyalty trust is at Ottawa, and, since the closing down of the Manitoba branch, the chief branch of the business is at Victoria, B. C. For some years the business flourished in British Columbia, but the people have become restive, and show signs of taking the matter in their own hands, which would mean the closing down of this branch, too. Meantime, the British Columbia manager has taken a long trip, at the people's expense, and it is doubtful if he will return here. When in headquarters lately he showed a marked desire for a change of territory.

It takes a democratic country a long time to make changes, but the time has come when the people of Canada have woken up to this flag-waving dodge, and, when the serious work on hand is finished, there is going to be a thorough house-cleaning.

RUPERT'S CLIMATE.

The chief fault found with Prince Rupert, by outsiders, is its climate, and it is most often expressed by people who have never experienced it, but who have read some rainfall statistics.

The chief characteristic of our weather is its thoroughness. When it is good, there isn't any better anywhere in the temperate zone, and when it is bad it just rains whole heartedly. Vancouver men have been heard to say that Prince Rupert will never have a big influx of people on account of rain. The city of Glasgow, the fastest growing business centre in Britain, supports a population of over a million people in a much less agreeable climate than Rupert's. Glasgow may not show so many inches of rainfall, but it experiences more hours of miserable drizzling rain which soaks you without refreshing you. In addition to this, it has many days of dismal, smoky fog, which necessitates artificial lighting in the middle of the day. If growth depends at all on climate, then there is nothing in ours to retard the city's development.

Wasn't yesterday great? Everybody went to church in the morning, of course, but, in the afternoon, everything that would float was on the water.

The Honorable Bob---
Borden's Official "Goat"

At a little dinner in Montreal last week the Honorable Charles Doherty introduced the Honorable Robert Rogers as the "most abused but also the most popular minister in the Cabinet." Which means that whenever a general election is pulled off the Honorable Bob is to be the official goat. In fact, that is Bob's job—to go out in front and take the brickbats while his colleagues stand around in picturesque attitudes and gather the floral tributes.

Putting it up to Bob is about the best thing the government does. When the Cabinet has decided on a course of action Bob can always feel sure of his share of public opinion. If it is a matter of approval his colleagues take all the glory; if it is a matter of disapproval Bob takes all the blame. That is Bob's place in the scheme of things. That is why he must have a hide like a rhinoceros and a conscience like a leather trunk. Without these Qualities a Wicked Partner would not be worth his salt.

Bob is the one man band. He beats the drum, clashes the cymbals, and does all the brass work because he has the brass to do it with. When the crowd is big enough the main tent is thrown open and the performance begins. To give him his due, Bob never complains at the thankless task. He does it willingly, knowing that he will find his reward in another direction.

As a spieler, there have been better hands at the job than Bob. The Minister of Public Works is not an engaging orator. He drones his message. The wind sighing through the telegraph wires, a high church curate with a bad cold, a bumble bee with inflammatory rheumatism—none of these has anything on Bob as a master of monotonous diction. It's what he says that keeps people awake, not the way he says it, for Bob is usually put up to tell the worst that can happen. In another line of endeavor the thing Bob does is called "trying it on the dog." If the dog survives the business is gone on with.

Every inlet and bay had its little party making tea and basking in the sunshine. Meantime, there are enough inlets to allow of each party having one all to themselves, but the day is coming when we will be wondering where to go to get away from the crowd.

Did you notice the sunset? For over an hour the sky was a glorious combination of amber, opal and rose, with all their tints mirrored in the bay. Away on to nearly 10 o'clock the golden rays were still reflected in the sky on the Pacific horizon. Many of the large crowd of visitors who came in on the train must have been agreeably surprised after the stories they had heard of eternal rain.

One of Bob's best gifts is a talent for serio-comedy. He can say the most exasperating things with an absolutely straight face. He can ask other people to believe what he does not believe himself and never blink an eye. Although he is a very rich man, he sometimes makes noises like a horny-handed son of toil. The only thing lacking is the ring of truth. Bob has had experience with many rings of one kind and another but that ring he has never been quite able to break into.

No doubt the Honorable Bob is earnest enough in wanting a general election, but where he falls down is in the matter of excuses. The Liberal press has misbehaved. That is to say, it has published full reports of the army scandals. The opposition in Parliament has been fiercely partisan. That is to say, it has followed up the graft in the Shoe Committee and Public Accounts Committee. When it was a question of voting $150,000,000 for the purpose of the war, the opposition was as keen to help the British Empire and the cause of humanity as even Bob Rogers could desire, but when it comes to seeing that every dollar of the one hundred and fifty millions does its appointed work, Bob Rogers is not as keen as the opposition would like him to be.

Another grudge of Bob's is the

THE HONORABLE BOB, BORDEN'S OFFICIAL "GOAT"

Senate. The Senate will be the votes-for-soldiers bill "unworkable." Quite true. The votes-for-soldiers bill as amended by the Senate cannot be worked the way the Honorable Bob had in mind. If the soldiers get a chance of voting the election should be an honest one. As far as it can the Senate has cut out any sleight-of-hand work with the ballots. To that extent the bill is "unworkable." The Senate was a great disappointment to Bob last session. He figured that the Red Chamber would throw the votes-for-soldiers bill out and give him and his friends a chance to wave the old flag. Instead of that the brave old Senate, which is subtle as it is brave, got together and made the bill as nearly perfect as possible. The Senate is a great obstacle to coarse work in the Lower House and it's Bob that knows it. Hence these tears. The real trouble with the opposition as Bob sees it, is its unbending patriotism. There's the rub. Bob's speech at Montreal sounds very much like the burglar blaming the plumber for leaving the window open.

Ottawa politicians are not inclined to censure Bob for the poor case he puts up. It is not his fault that it isn't a better one. Besides, nothing is too flimsy to serve as a casus belli, as the war in Europe has already proved. A more skilled dialectician might have done more with it, but Bob did his best, which is as much as any man can do. He was simply playing his role as the other cabinet ministers will play theirs when the election campaign begins.

For instance, Premier Borden will disclaim what Bob Rogers says and do it afterwards. If there is any noble work like kicking Garland out of the party Premier Borden will be there with copper-toed boots and will kick so hard that the victim will bounce back as Garland has done already. For the rest Premier Borden will be the heavy father and will speak on a lofty, moral plane with an eye to his page in history.

The Honorable W. T. White will double up in his two favorite parts—the Wizard of Finance who plucks gold out of the air and the Tired Atlas who complains bitterly of the burdens laid on the government by the C. N. R., not, of course, including himself. Sir George Foster is the mellow cynic who says "a plague on both your houses," but sticks to the one that happens to be on top.

Major General Sam Hughes will be the plain, blunt man who loves his friends and sees that any patriot who went to school with him gets 10 per cent off the top.

Doctor Reid will be Bob's right bower and the Hon. Frank Cochrane his left, neither of them whirlwind speakers but both Napoleons with Ontario in the hollow of their hands.

And so on through the list. All will appear in their favorite roles but the Honorable Bob, as the villain in the play, will get most of the cat-calls.
