The One Cure

For the Sick Man.

For years before his deposition by the Young Turks, Abdul the Damned was frequently spoken of as the "Sick Man of Europe." Physically he was a miserable ailing, fretful individual and his characteristics became those of the Empire he misruled with such success. His nickname became allegorically that of his country. For years his neighbors told old Abdul how a cure might be effected of the ills troubling his people. But instead of taking any one of the medicines, Abdul preferred to mix his drinks and took a little of the proffered cures from each of his obliging neighbors. Needless to say the result of the mixture was satisfactory to no one, it affected Abdul not one whit, left him no worse, but if anything seemed to cause him intense amusement it was listening to the claims of the medicine prescribers, each of whom claimed credit for some invisible improvement in the patient's condition. Inciting the jealousies of the physicians was the favorite occupation of the neurotic Abdul and he became an adept in the gentle art of setting his western neighbors by the ears.

Now is the Time

For Heroic Measures.

Although old Abdul no longer pulls the strings from the Yildiz Kilosh on the beautiful Golden Horn, his successors in Stamboul have been only little less expert than he was in the art of bluff. But now, however, the concert of Europe is reduced to a duet and when the duettists are expert musicians, neither will produce a wrong note to disturb the harmony of their music. France and Britain understand each other and refuse to be put off the time by any discordant note, sounded by the Pashas. The Turks have to swallow some real medicine. They will either have to obey the treaty of Versailles to the letter or they will be thrown out of Europe, bag and baggage. If this takes place there will be few regrets. Heretofore each European country was withheld from direct action against Turkey by the mutual jealousies of the powers. Now when the sole power in Europe is the Supreme Allied Council this sore spot which has been a source of infection for all Europe for generations, ought to have a major operation which is about the only thing from which will result health.

Rainbow is

To be Sold.

It is a pity that the Dominion Government cannot be persuaded to turn over the old cruiser Rainbow for the use of the Boys' Naval Brigade as a training ship, says the Victoria Times. In the meantime there is a possibility of its disposal as junk after the machinery has been dismantled. Canada's merchant marine of necessity must depend upon her ability to provide the men with which to man the national fleet. Ships always can be built in a few months, but it takes a good deal longer to turn out the seamen. Little expense need be involved in the maintenance of the Rainbow for the coming mariners. She would be stationary and her adoption for training purposes would make possible a considerable extension of the Boys' Naval Brigade movement to which this country must look for her sailors in the future.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

SECOND RACE
CALLED OFF

Second Calm Tied Both Boats up So Impossible to Finish Within Six Hours.

SANDY HOOK, July 19.—After the Resolute had kept ahead and gained five miles in the course of her forward spurt over the Shamrock, Saturday's great yacht race was called off for the boats could not finish within the specified six hours time limit, as the Resolute, though far ahead, has already taken over three and a half hours to complete half of the course.

At the ten mile mark the Resolute was one mile ahead of the Shamrock. Completing half of the course, the Resolute was five miles ahead but before 5:45 the Shamrock had picked up three miles.

The race was finally called off when it was seen that it would be impossible to complete before 8:45, both boats drifting in a dead calm at the time of calling the race off.

DOCTOR TREMAYNE IS ESTABLISHED AGAIN

Dr. H. E. Tremayne who became so familiar a figure in the history of the early days of Prince Rupert, has again opened up an office here after an absence of some four years. The doctor is delighted to be back with so many old friends and naturally, during the past few days, many of his old practice have returned. Mrs. Tremayne and family will arrive from the south in a short time and will make their home here.

When Dr. Tremayne first came into this northern country in 1905 his medical duties held him in the village of Metlakatla which at that time was a flourishing centre. In the fall of 1906 he came to Prince Rupert and remained here throughout the construction period. During this time he won a host of friends—professionally and otherwise—and the Tremayne children were great favorites with everyone and familiar figures about the young city.

In the fall of 1916 the doctor joined up for service with the forces overseas and in the month of October left the city to take up his military duties. Following a splendid career while helping the boys at the front the doctor returned to British Columbia in June, 1919, and received an appointment to the pension board. He served in this capacity with headquarters at Victoria until ready to come north. Now Dr. Tremayne is again enjoying Prince Rupert's balmy climate where he feels more at home than anywhere else.

Ten Years Ago

A fire alarm was turned in from the Talbot Rooms this morning. A heap of paper and an oil can found in the attic were supposed to explain the cause of the fire.

At the meeting of the School Board Miss Jessie Mercer of Nanaimo was selected to fill the vacancy on the local teaching staff.

A special committee has been appointed by the City Council to tender a reception to Sir Wilfred Laurier upon his arrival here on August 20.

Miss Froud and her brothers wish to thank all their friends who helped to remove their furniture from the danger zone in the recent fire.

The first meeting for the organization of the Prince Rupert Choral Association will be held on Thursday evening.

Doesn't it seem strange that silverware should have been locked away in drawers and dark cupboards, and used on very rare occasions, if ever? Yet this is what has been done in many homes—until recently.

Now a much better idea prevails. Silverware is bought to be used AS WELL AS ADMIRING. Daily it brings pleasure to its owners and friends. And its durability is surprising. Use your silverware! It is given to you to use—it is bought for home service.

CHARGED WITH THEFT OF BARREL OF HERRING

The first round in an interesting case was heard in the police court this morning when J. S. McKenzie pleaded not guilty to the charge of stealing a barrel of herring from the cargo of the Tillamook. The barrel which is now lodged behind the door at the police station is the property of the Southern Alaska Herring Co. and is en route to a New York firm. McKenzie who is a deck hand on the Tillamook is alleged to have taken the barrel and attached a shipping tag which would direct it to Vancouver by freight on last evening's boat. On request of the accused the taking of evidence was remanded until tomorrow morning in order that counsel for the defence may be secured.

INTERESTING GAME

Trail Athletics and Railroaders Mix at Acropolis Tonight

Tonight the football game between the Trail Club and the Grand Trunk will be watched with considerable interest. Following the spirited exhibition in the Trail and Sons match, supporters of the red and white jersey boys are quite confident that they will give their opponents in blue a very hard game. The Grand Trunks have now gained the lead in the league fixtures and are holding their position well, whilst the younger Trail players are eager to register another win. Fans have expressed the hope that the score will be according to regular football status and that uncalculated for comment from those on the field will not be permitted.

Among those leaving for the north on the Princess Mary today is Miss Marie MacDonald, sister of Principal A. M. MacDonald of the public schools here, who has been visiting in the city for the past two days. Miss MacDonald is matron of the hospital at Ocean Falls and will join her friend, Miss Annie Renwick, of Marpole, at the boat today. Miss Renwick is on the teaching staff of Point Grey school. Both ladies are making the round trip to Skagway.

Chief Alex. Stewart of the Prince George police force has resigned his office after a year's service. He will enter private life.

Sport Briefs

A few weeks ago a lady arrived from the prairies to spend a brief holiday with friends here. Before leaving the east the pleasure seeker was warned that Prince Rupert was about the last place on earth to which she should come as there were only a few tents and shacks on the townsite and there was too much rain to enjoy any outdoor attractions. Naturally the lady thought that a week-end might satisfy her, but she has already been here for over two weeks. The other morning the visitor was met returning early with a large sack of crabs in her hand which had just been taken out of the water at low tide across the bay. "This is the life," she maintains.

Tomorrow evening the Beavers and the Colts meet in an intermediate baseball league fixture which was postponed from Friday on account of the visit of the Terrace stars. The Colts were at the head of the league until the Red Sox jerked them down a peg and the Beavers have never been able to get well under way. It has been rumored that several dark horses may be initiated and that changes are possible in the Beaver infield. This being the case the Colts will have to frisk around the sacks as well as hit fairly high, in order to hold their own.

"Slats" Weber is already looking far enough ahead to begin thinking of another athletic park for next year. At the present time the Acropolis grounds are being taxed to capacity and at that all the teams cannot get a chance to practice. The football players have not been given an opportunity this season of going up for regular try-out matches. A lot of the practice gatherings are thrown over to Sunday with the result that almost every team in the city except in the Junior League was on the hill yesterday morning to do a few rounds of the bases.

Owing to the postponement of the Colts vs. Beavers game to Tuesday evening the regular league game between the Red Sox and the Beavers has been set back until Thursday instead of Wednesday.

Rumor in inside baseball circles has it that the Beavers have some real good new stuff on their lineup. A few recent arrivals have been scooped and will hold a place on the team. Enough information has not yet been received, however, to determine where these new birds will perform and to what degree they can play to pull up the Beaver standard.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

THAT in the calm of the night about 1:30 the other morning he heard a stern feminine voice speak forth in indignant words: "You can't buy Scotch for your friends and silk stockings for your wife," and he agreed with the masculine female in keeping "friend husband" half way down Fourth Street to Second Avenue.

THAT after all, Sir Tom Lipton may have been lucky to win that first race even if it was on a technicality.

THAT Sir Tom is a good sport anyway and if all "Sirs" were such it would help a good deal.

THAT the farmer hates to lose a turkey but Europe isn't that kind of a farmer.

THAT her Turkey is the worst kind of an old gobbler and ought to get the axe.

THAT Turkey will be a goose if she doesn't watch out and will get cooked too.

THAT the Turkey will not be eaten but thrown in the bonfire.

THAT if the Russian bear had been good he might have now had the Turkey and his Mediterranean port, too.

THAT some people have all the luck, and they seldom deserve it either. For instance, he has accompanied many a beautiful boat load of femininity but never got lost in a fog. And as for having to camp out with them on the beach all night—oh! hell!

TOOK PICTURES BORNEO WILDS

Frederick Burlingham Hobnobbed with Dyaks of Borneo—Narrative of Experiences

Fresh from a daring expedition into the wilds of Dutch Borneo, Frederick Burlingham, director of the Paramount-Burlingham Adventure Pictures, and formerly associated with the Lasky Film Corporation, reached Victoria today aboard the liner Fushimi Maru from the Far East, says the Victoria Times.

The moving picture expedition conducted by Mr. Burlingham penetrated five hundred miles to the upper reaches of the Banito River and into the jungle country of Borneo. He mingled with the head hunters of Borneo and for months dwelt and slept with the native Dyaks. In his wanderings he had the novel distinction of fraternizing with the famous "Wild Men of Borneo."

Early in April of this year, Mr. Burlingham, accompanied by a Dutch guide and two native interpreters, after equipping his expedition at Sourabaya set out to explore the interior fastnesses. The first part of the journey was made by steamer up the Banito River, and after varied experiences the party reached Moeratewe.

Met Head Hunters
It was here that Mr. Burlingham saw his first head hunters. Two of the wild men were held in prison at the most advanced Dutch settlement, paying the penalty for a wild orgy in which they had been the principal participants. It appears from the explorer's narrative that the natives had organized a feast, and when the celebration began to flag in interest the head hunters came to the conclusion that it was time to introduce some excitement. Accordingly the heads of two of the natives were hacked off, a sort of war dance set in motion, and thereafter developed all the features of a real native carnival.

The head hunters were convicted on the ground of having suggested the beheading ceremony, and were incarcerated in prison at Moeratewe by the Dutch authorities.

Infested with Crocodiles
In navigating the Banito River the Burlingham expedition came across swarms of crocodiles which infest the inland waters of Borneo. Myriads of monkeys were also seen, including the big red monkey, the grey and black varieties and the "Wau Wau." After seeing these monkeys in their native haunts, said Mr. Burlingham, "I shall have sympathy for any monkeys that I see in captivity in future."

Mr. Burlingham says that the monkeys are almost human in their habits, and are playful and tame. They were of the most varied types, and chattered incessantly. The crocodiles that infest the Banito River are ferocious, and the natives frequently fall victims to their voracious appetites.

At Moeratewe the Dutch resident official strongly advised Mr. Burlingham against penetrating into the unknown wilds where danger lurked on every side, not only from the wild animals, but also from the wild tribes of the interior.

Mr. Burlingham, however, was not to be balked by any obstacles, and after restocking his expedition he set out to carry on his explorations into the unknown country.

Animal Life
The dense jungle was infested with wild animal life. Wild boars, panthers, tigers and snakes were in abundance. At night the jungle resounded with the animal noises and the shrieks of wild fowl. Some of the native birds have the most gorgeous plumage that it is possible to conceive.

The natives were very friendly and for weeks Mr. Burlingham mixed on the best of terms with the Dyaks. The houses of the natives are peculiarly constructed, being built of bamboo and perched about fifteen feet in the air on bamboo stilts. Whole families of Dyaks, together with their chickens and other livestock, roost together in these elevated shacks. Mr. Burlingham ate with the natives and slept in their huts. He was never exposed to attack. The Dyaks displayed a great interest in the knives and forks used by the exploring party.

FAVORITE STAR HERE TONIGHT

More than ordinary interest centres around Marguerite Clark's latest Paramount-Aftercraft picture, "Widow by Proxy," to be shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight and tomorrow, because it is the dainty star's first production since becoming acclimated to the new California atmosphere in which she is working. Miss Clark's former photoplays have been made in New York, and it is only recently that she left the metropolis and joined the colony of motion picture stars at Los Angeles.

A large amount of that celebrated California sunshine is reflected in "Widow by Proxy," and it is one of the brightest light comedies in which Miss Clark has yet appeared. The little favorite has the part of a pretty "bachelor girl," who poses as her recently widowed chum in order to win for her the inheritance which the real widow is too proud to claim. Two delightful love stories are woven into the plot, which is crowded with pleasant surprises and a startling climax. It was adapted from the Broadway stage success by the same name and was directed by Walter Edwards. Nigel Barrie is leading man.

LOCAL MEN STOPPED VANCOUVER TRAIN

Albert Davidson and L. K. Shane Had Close Call When Trans-Canada Wrecks Car.

Albert Davidson, formerly G. T. P. ticket agent here and now commercial agent at Vancouver, and L. K. Shane, purchasing agent for the Prince Rupert Dry Dock and Engineering Co., had a narrow escape from death at Vancouver last Thursday. As they were crossing the C. P. R. tracks on Victoria Drive the car which they were driving stalled just as the fier Trans-Canada was coming around the curve. The men were forced to jump from the car to save their lives and the machine was carried about forty feet by the collision, damaging it beyond repair.

and they could never get used to the motion picture camera, although they were perfectly willing to be filmed in "close-ups."

Evil Spirits
The natives still believe in evil spirits, and at night place food on a pole outside the huts to keep away the objects of their superstition.

While in Borneo Mr. Burlingham took 10,000 feet of film and secured most valuable pictures showing the jungle fastnesses and the native life of Borneo.

Floods forced him out of the country, but he proposes again to visit the interior of Borneo and will return to the Far East this Fall. The movie explorer is now on his way to New York.

Filmed Vesuvius
Mr. Burlingham is the camera operator who descended 1,200 feet into the mouth of the volcano Vesuvius just before the Great War, the pictures of which created a great sensation in Europe and the United States.

HIGH WATER IN BEAR RIVER

Stewart Experiencing Warmest Weather in History—Salmon River Also High.

STEWART, July 19.—High water in Bear River caused the wagon bridge, a mile above town, to go out Thursday morning. There is danger of the railway bridges going out too, though crews are busy to save them. This district has experienced for the past two weeks the hottest spell on record here, and, added to that, the late season finds much snow on the mountain peaks. Melting snow and glacial ice has made torrents out of all creeks and Bear and Salmon rivers are especially dangerous.

The false work on the bridge at Texas Creek, Salmon River, was carried away Thursday afternoon. Construction of this bridge has been under way for some time and the high water now will delay its completion. It has been decided to put a cable across for prospectors.

The arrival of G. A. Young of Anxox, road superintendent for this district, Thursday morning was opportune. Complaint was made last summer about the danger from Bear River not only to the bridges but to the town as well.

But so long as the railway bridges hold, mining development up Bear River will not be seriously interfered with.

The Canadian Northeastern Railway, personal venture of Sir Donald Mann in 1910, which runs up Bear River valley for fourteen miles, and which resumed operations a few days ago, is doing quite a passenger and freight business. It is a welcome "lift" to prospectors in the valley and a great aid to operators in getting supplies up at a minimum cost.

FORT FRASER

Mr. Cunningham has arrived from the south.

Two new road gangs have been added in this district and the work is progressing favorably.

The bridge over the Nechaco at Fort Fraser has been inspected and the necessary repairs completed in the tightening of bolts, under the supervision of L. Johnson.

A steamshovel gang is stationed at Fort Fraser for the purpose of extending the spur.

Mr. Marquis and Mr. Rau, who have spent some time here, have proceeded to the district south of Ootsa Lake.

Mr. Fraser is on an extended visit to the Francois and Ootsa lake district.

Mr. Myers has received a considerable shipment of machinery.

O. Johnson has recently purchased a building belonging to Joe Gat which he intends to move out to his ranch.

W. White is taking over the post office shortly and proposes stocking drugs and stationery.

Mr. Waldron intends returning to the prairies in a few days to sell out his property and permanently settle in Fort Fraser.

Mr. Wilson and family have moved out to the Beaumont place on Fraser Lake.

Mrs. Slavov has returned from a business visit to Smithers.

Mrs. Tannock is visiting friends in Vanderhoof.

Mr. Burr who has been contracting on the P. G. E. has returned.

Mr. A. W. Cameron of Regina was a recent visitor here.

TELKWA

Thomas Brewer was married to Miss Wilkinson last Wednesday. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for Prince Rupert and other points on their honeymoon. Rev. Mr. Brayfield of Telkwa was the officiating clergyman.

Jack McNeill has gone to Edmonton for a couple of weeks. He intends to visit Calgary and Banff before returning.

At the annual meeting of the Telkwa School Board, Mr. Sidney Cooper was elected secretary-treasurer in place of Mr. H. H. Phillip, the retiring trustee.

Mr. Tom Jefferson left for Winnipeg and New York on a business trip. He expects to be gone for about a month.

The final order from the Railway Commission has been issued instructing that the depot and warehouse facilities here be completed by September 30th.

The barbecue committees have all been lined up and preparations are well under way to make Barbecue Day, September 6, a bigger and better day than ever before.

With the long hot spell laying will commence in Telkwa district this week. In some parts the reports are for good crops, in others things have been badly burned up, but the harvest, however, will tell.
