Great Display of Flowers at the Fair

1ST COPPER SHIPMENT BY WATER IS TO BE MADE FROM ANYOX SMELTER

Excellent Display Of Exhibits Here

Quality prevails throughout; Flowers Unusually Good and Indian Work Better than Usual; Many Entries in Poultry

Silence of quality in exhibits is a feature of this year's which was noted from casual observation at the Agricultural Hall on the opening day yesterday. Although in some entries are not so numerous as has been seen at some this superiority in quality seems to pervade. In other exhibition seems more finished than in previous years. Entry class is one of those in which there is an increase number of entries. In the annex devoted to that section there are empty pens and each coop contains fine specimens of course, the birds belong to the city, none having come outside this year. There are a few entries in pets, rabbits.

ATTENDANCE AT FAIR WAS LARGE

More Present on Opening Day Than Last Year—Indians to Give Concert Tonight.

The attendance at the opening day of the exhibition yesterday was far ahead of that last year, and there were several hundred more persons to enter the gates.

At the main entrance of the Agricultural Hall yesterday there were 1,188 paid admissions and 398 at the sports grounds, as compared with 750 admissions to the hall last year and none to the ball grounds on account of the weather prevailing then. There were many more entered on season tickets but the definite figures in this are not obtainable at present. The good attendance yesterday goes to confirm the fact that the success or failure of the fair may be governed largely by the weather and there were a good number in attendance yesterday because the weather was favorable.

With today fine it is expected there will be more crowds at the Acropolis Hill both for the exhibition and the sports. An attractive program is on the boards and the Indian concert tonight is being looked forward to by many for it will be the first thing of its kind here and promises to be most harmonious and artistic.

The Alyash, Kincolith and Greenville bands have been delighting everyone with their skill and prove one of the most attractive and popular features of the fair. All the bands are most willing and generous and there is hardly a moment of the day that they cannot be heard somewhere. The selections given by the Alyash Band at the Exhibition Hall last night were excellent and their rendition of Suppe's overture "Poet and Peasant" was a source of wonder to many of the listeners.

GRIFFITH'S PRODUCTION PROVES INTENSELY INTERESTING.

The big picture running at the Westholme Theatre, "The Idol Dancer," with South Sea Island setting proved intensely interesting to a large crowd that attended last night, and there will also be a full house tonight, it is expected.

The story is filmed in the South Sea Islands and is true to life in every detail.

WRITS ENTERED IN LIQUOR CASES

Habcas Corpus and Certiori Proceedings Will be Heard in Vancouver Supreme Court Tuesday.

Wrists of certiori and habcas corpus have reached the city in the Besner, Olsen, Zarelli and Sweet liquor cases in which these men have been sent to prison by Magistrate McMordie. Hearing is called in the Supreme Court for next Tuesday. Stuart Henderson is handling the cases for the prisoners in the south while, it is expected, the city end will be handled from the attorney-General's department.

THREE-CORNED ROWING RACE ON

Prince Albert and Prince George to Pit Teams Against Local Aspirants.

This morning the crew of the S.S. Prince Albert entered a team in the four-oared rowing race for next Saturday in the aquatic sports and thus the event is made a three-cornered affair with the city team and the Prince George team. It is said that money is being bet quite freely by the supporters of the various teams.

The local team is captained by Jimmie Neville with Joe Meagher as coach.

AT HOME AT CONSULATE

Mrs. E. A. Wakefield Entertains in Honor of Mrs. James Monroe Hill.

Last week Mrs. E. A. Wakefield gave an at home at the consulate on Fourth Ave. in order that Prince Rupert ladies might have an opportunity to meet Mrs. Jas. Monroe Hill, wife of the new American vice-consul, who recently arrived from Vancouver.

Mrs. Wakefield was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Miss Louise Wakefield; Mrs. Tyre, and Mrs. Philpott poured tea, which was served by Misses Curtin, Moore and Willett.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

R. McArthur arrived from Wales Island last evening.

Anoxy and Prince Rupert baseball play Friday at 1:30 p.m.

A large number of up-river passengers are expected in to-night's train for the last day of the fair.

The case of Donovitch vs. John- son in the County Court has been adjourned for further witnesses on either side.

Dr. and Mrs. F. N. Bayne, of Vancouver, are visiting in the city. Dr. Bayne is a brother of the local dentists.

Over one hundred thousand bushels of halibut is still being held over for sale at the Fish Exchange against the arrival of some refrigerator cars that are reported to be coming in tonight.

R. H. Cairns, inspector of Indian schools, is judging the Indian exhibits at the exhibition today with the exception of democratic science and vegetables which are being handled by the government judges of those sections.

Vancouver Newspaper Commends Stand Taken by The Daily News

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—The Vancouver World today editorially praises the Prince Rupert News for denouncing the "disgraceful demonstration" when the convicted liquor sellers left for Okalla Prison Farm.

After reproducing fully the News report of Friday and the editorial alongside it, the World today states: "In a comparatively small community like Prince Rupert the newspaper which comes out boldly to condemn a section of its public, takes its life in its hands. For that reason the courage of The News is to be commended. It has said what was needed to be said, and the reputation of the city in which it is issued will gain more in outside opinion from the demonstration that it has a bold and wise newspaper, than it will lose from the publicity given the painful exhibition it records."

Nobody needs to be told that the great majority of the citizens of Prince Rupert are respectable and law-abiding and that the ebullition recorded of the unsavory part of its population is by no means typical of the conditions obtaining generally at the northern port."

Jack Miller Also Given Sentence to Okalla Farm

Magistrate McMordie Convicts him on Two Counts, with Nine Months Running Concurrently

Jack Miller was this morning sentenced by Magistrate McMordie to two terms of nine months each in Okalla Prison Farm, the sentences running concurrently. He was found guilty on the two charges of selling liquor in the cases of Rex vs. Miller and Rex vs. Miller and Carlson. In the first case, as argument had been heard previously and the second offence had been proven, the magistrate delivered sentence immediately but in the second case argument was first heard.

W. E. Williams for the defence submitted that insufficient evidence had been produced to connect Miller either with the sale itself or with occupancy of the premises where the sale was made. Two penalties for the same offence would be against the purport of the Act and ordinary justice. It had been clearly shown he had got no benefit from the sale by Carlson.

Conflicting Evidence.

City Solicitor Hooper pointed out that Miller had been present when the sale was made and had been acting as an occupant. Besides this the evidence of Mr. Woods was to the effect that he had made application for the license of the premises. The evidence of Woods and Money had conflicted with Miller's.

"My learned friend simply says that you are to convict on disputed evidence," countered Mr. Williams.

When evidence was being taken from Chief Vickers as to the previous offence, Mr. Williams objected to the records of the police being taken as evidence.

"What is your opinion, your worship?" queried Mr. Williams.

Magistrate's Opinion.

"My opinion is that it is proper to take the records of the police as evidence and I believe the accused is guilty of a second offence."

"You are giving judgment before the evidence is in," from Mr. Williams.

"You asked my opinion and I am telling you."

No defence was given as to the second offence and the magistrate then convicted Miller and pronounced sentence.

Kills Goose That Lays Golden Egg.

The railways seem to be killing the goose that lays the golden egg. Today we publish a despatch from Vancouver which states that the Granby Company is about to ship its copper by water route to New York instead of by rail as heretofore. This action is taken because of the increased freight rates by the rail route. A trial shipment is being made on the Canadian Dollar and it is expected that not only will it be carried for half the price the railways charge, but it will be carried in less time.

Other Protests Against Rates.

There are other protests against the enormous increase in freight rates. The effect of the order of the Railway Board is that practically all the lumber mills in northern and central British Columbia are shut down and other industries are being hard hit. The increase of 35 and 40 per cent are so enormous that it is impossible to make adjustments to cover them.

Just what the outcome will be is impossible to forecast. It may be that the effect on business throughout the country will be so bad that the railways will find it necessary to reduce the charges. The increase was made under pressure from the C. N. R. and the Dominion Government, yet the C. P. R. has continued to pay its ten per cent dividends as usual. If it can pay ten per cent at the old rates, what should it earn at the new?

Why Not Ship Copper From Here?

When Vice-President Hayes of the G. T. P. was here recently discussing freight traffic by ocean route from this port, he did not consider the possibility of making copper shipments. In view of the reported action of the Granby Company in shipping their copper by water instead of by rail, there is reason to think that it might go from Prince Rupert instead of from Vancouver. This port being so much nearer should have the advantage.

It is understood that the local mills have been shipping their lumber to Atlantic ports by rail. Now that the freight rates prohibit this business, it will be in order to arrange for shipping the lumber by water through the Panama Canal. Possibly this is already being considered. It will take co-operative effort to make it successful, and the Canadian National officials, who handle the steamship business, are the logical ones to organize it.

Mackenzie King Comes Next Week.

Next week William Lyon Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party in Canada, is coming to Prince Rupert and will address a public meeting here. He is said to be an accomplished speaker as well as an able statesman. He was a minister in the government of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier and has caught the mantle which the old leader dropped. Everywhere he goes he is being heartily welcomed and people are turning out in large numbers to listen to his addresses. The difficulty here is to secure a hall large enough to accommodate the crowd that will wish to hear Canada's probable next premier.

Scene: A Winnipeg jitney bar.
Time: Present.

A man staggered out of a soft drink place and sat upon the curb.
The present was blue and the future was black.

He spoke:
"Tell with everybody."

Moments passed.
A wan smile stole over his bloated features.

He whispered:
"Exceptin' Rosie."

He sat,
The sun beat down,
Dust was whirled into his face,
His head ached,
The world reeled.

He said:
"Aw, fell with Rosie, too!"

He sat,

Dust was whirled into his face,
His head ached,
The world reeled.

He said:
"Aw, fell with Rosie, too!"

USK DISTRICT LIFTS TROPHY

Challenge Cup of Fair Association
Will Move From Alice Arm
Up the G. T. P.

The Usk mining district has captured the district mineral exhibit challenge cup which was last year won by the Alice Arm section and which is now in the hands of the Commercial Club at that point. The attention of the Alice Arm people was this year taken up with the sending of a complete exhibit to the Old Country and this is given as the reason why their efforts were not more strenuously directed towards the winning for a second time of the Agricultural Association's trophy.

A. C. Garde, M.E., in charge of the mineral exhibit, is loud in his praises of the interior mining camp and the energy that has been displayed in sending exhibits to the Prince Rupert fair this year. Besides the district trophy several medals and diplomas have also been won by individual exhibitors in that section.
There were also a few single new entries from Alice Arm. On the whole the mineral exhibit this year is considered a most instructive and interesting one and is attracting a good deal of attention.

PUBLICITY FOR PROHIBITION

Meeting Arranges for Sending Dr. Spencer to Mining Camps and Other Matters.

Last night at the prohibition hall the publicity committee met and decided to try to induce one of the eminent prohibition speakers to visit Prince Rupert for a public meeting. Rev. William Stevenson who is now here has been meeting a lot of people. He addressed the Methodist district meeting yesterday, was at the drydock at noon today and on Sunday night he will open the Forum at the McIntyre Hall. In addition to that he has been meeting prominent men and women of the city and aiding in the work of arts shown too.

Fancy Work Better

The fancy work classes are better filled this year and some fine work has been displayed with a wider range than before. For the neat way in which this class has been arranged much credit is due Mrs. John McRae, who is in charge of the display.

School children have taken the usual interest in the fair and with the assistance of the teachers have put up an exhibit that shows great improvement over past years. The school work could not be mentioned without drawing special attention to the manual training exhibits which are of great excellence. This exhibit planned and made under the direction of E. H. Shockley, instructor in the public schools, does him great credit. The domestic science section upstairs is also more complete and of better quality than before.

Indian Display Fine

But the greatest advance of all is probably that in the Indian section. Here both quality and quantity are noticed this year. Due to the co-operation of Indian Agents G. C. Perry, Prince Rupert, W. F. Collison, Naas, and Thos. Deasy, Masset, a greater interest has been taken by the natives with the result of great improvement in every section. Indian Agent Fugner of Bella Coola, was also expected with exhibits but he has evidently been detained.

Worthy of particular mention in the Indian section is an exhibit which was brought up from the Sardis Industrial school by Rev. Geo. H. Raley, the principal. This chiefly made up of manual training exhibits and applies to this district for many of the scholars at the school come from the north. Handiwork such as basketry and carving is an usual feature of the Indian exhibit as a whole.

Today the exhibition hall will be a more orderly place with the judging done and the screens up around all the exhibits. Many exhibits were late this year and some of them have not yet arrived, but, on the whole, the association may be proud of its seventh fair.

TRAIL TAKE FAIR MEDALS

Defeated the Sons of England in Final Play-off Yesterday Afternoon.

In defeating the Sons of England by a 1-0 score yesterday afternoon at the Acropolis Hill grounds the Trail Club have captured the exhibition medals this year. No very high standard of soccer was maintained yesterday and the game was by no means an excellent one, there being very little brilliant playing on either side. W. McCulloch made an effective referee and "Doc" Claperton and "Bob" Warrior were on the side lines.

kele district, at Terrace, however, saved the situation at the opening as far as fruit is concerned.

Better Quality

The vegetable section shows considerable improvement although possibly there are not as many entries as in some previous years. There are several new exhibitors from up river and, of course, F. W. Bohler of Kasumakum has sent down his usual big quota of exhibits, in charge of Mrs. Bohler. Local entries in this class are particularly excellent and there are a good number of them. A good display of field and fodder products from up river is also being shown.

The mineral exhibit is neatly arranged and covers a wide scope and the credit for its excellence in display belongs almost solely to A. C. Garde, M.E., who is in charge of the exhibit and its judging. Where Alice Arm and Stewart last year had good exhibits, Usk, this year, has the leading place and a number of splendid exhibits have been sent in.

Photography and art is a class where a great increase in number of exhibits is noted. With very few exceptions the exhibitors of previous years are represented with greater exhibits and many new entries are on the walls. There are some real works of arts shown too.

Fancy Work Better

The fancy work classes are better filled this year and some fine work has been displayed with a wider range than before. For the neat way in which this class has been arranged much credit is due Mrs. John McRae, who is in charge of the display.

GOD'S COUNTRY UNDER MORTGAGE

That is What Nurse says of Ireland; Aunt of Mrs. J. F. Maguire Returns

"Poor old Ireland; it is God's country, but the devil has a mortgage on it at present, and I'm glad to get back to God's newer country, the land of my adoption—Canada." Such was the expression of opinion or Nurse J. B. McNamara, who has just returned from the land of her birth, appalled by the throes of rebellion and tumult therein. She is an aunt of Mrs. J. F. Maguire of this city and of Duncan McNamara of Vanderhoof. Nurse McNamara left Vancouver on March of this year on a six months' tour of the British Isles, and has much interesting data on industrial and economic conditions prevailing.

Irish, American and German propaganda have done their dastardly work effectively; the attitude of the populace being law-defying; every police barracks in the counties of Cork, Waterford, Kilkenny and Queens County being completely destroyed. No policemen would attempt single patrol, groups of three being the order, with similar groups in sight on both sides of thoroughfares. The curfew law, and searching of individuals for arms and ammunition, seizure of the mails, and attacks made on dispatch riders, whose cycles and dispatches are taken from them, are only a few of the incidents of everyday occurrence. For three weeks transportation to Limerick was cut off completely. No one is allowed at any time to travel on trains or street cars carrying armed equipment.

Need Troops

England evidently does not recognize the fact that Ireland is at war with her, judging by the raw recruit soldiers who are sent over for service, many of them little more than finished schoolboys, undisciplined and inexperienced, entirely unable to cope with the calculated plans of the Sinn Feiners.

Crowds of idlers throng the principal streets of Dublin, Belfast and other big cities, with evident plentiful supplies of money, etc., to keep them so.

That the faction of rebellion has got beyond the religious and personal is admitted by the clergy, who can do nothing now but accompany and exhort in their endeavor towards restraining violence. The latter step was only taken after a policeman had been shot in the back whilst sprinkling himself with holy water in the vestibule of a church, his body falling forward and his life's blood coloring the consecrated floor.

Plans Go Astray

Nurse McNamara relates the intense excitement attending the narrow escape of Lord French from assassination, when, owing to the train on which he travelled being 10 minutes early, he alighted at a side station and drove direct to the vice-regal lodge, his would-be assassins missing their quarry by expecting that the first auto to leave the main depot would be occupied by their victim, the Lieutenant-governor.

A general atmosphere of prosperity reigned throughout Ireland, commodities of every kind being much cheaper than in England or Scotland. In the country districts residents were taking more ambitious interest in their holdings than they did nine years ago, when Nurse McNamara left to make her home in Canada.

Need Protection

That determined effort should be made by the government to protect the loyalists in Ireland, both Protestant and Catholic, is the trend of feeling expressed, many of whose menfolk gave their lives for the cause of freedom.
Nurse McNamara's family were well represented in the late war, nine members joining the colors at the first call. Four paid the supreme sacrifice. Three were attached to the Canadian forces and were of the first contingent to leave this country. A nephew, the only son of her sister, Mrs. J. F. Maguire of Prince Rupert, gave his life in the service of the motor boat patrol;
another nephew, Duncan McNamara of Vanderhoof, served the entire duration of hostilities and when the armistice was signed had only reached his twenty-first year.

All the nine members of the family were Irish boys, and all joined up at the first call. A close relative occupies the position of deputy lieutenant in Dublin, on almost constant duty in the present reign of sedition, where an officer must be accompanied by a bodyguard of nine soldiers when he enters a bank to draw pay, etc.
A cordon of six men line up outside the entrance, while the other three act as escort into and out of the bank premises.

A BRASS BAND FOR DRYDOCK

Greenville Indians Talk of Remaining Here and Playing for Big Plant.

The drydock is to have a band, a big one, and one of the best on the coast. Negotiations have been under way and it is understood are practically consummated for the members of the Greenville Band to work at the drydock and to organize as a drydock band. It is possible too that the present band may be supplemented and one of the finest band organizations on the coast be secured for this city.

There are so many occasions when a band would be useful in the city. An attempt was made some time ago to organize a labor band but the attempt seems to have fallen through, although a considerable sum of money was collected for the new instruments.

Now it seems as if there would be a real live band in town for the winter. It certainly will be welcomed by the citizens who have very much enjoyed the playing of the Indian bands on holiday occasions. The two bands now in town have been giving some fine music and their efforts have been appreciated.
