ONLY THREE MEN IN FIELD FOR LABOR, BUT THREE MORE MAY BE ADDED

Shipyard Employees Meet Under Auspices of Local Trades and Labor Council

Executive report having taken steps to protect workers and relieve suffering; Col. Peck attends meeting

Last night a meeting of the employees of the Prince Rupert Drydock and Engineering Co. took place in the Empress Theatre under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council for the purpose of discussing the situation that has arisen as a result of the closing down without paying the men. Col. Peck was in attendance and he outlined the course of action he had taken in connection with the situation and Mr. Pattullo also sent word he had been in communication with the minister of marine and received word that the yard would be in operation again in three days.

At the opening of the meeting, A. Ellis, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, outlined what had already been done. Meeting of the executive was held on Sunday to arrange for sending a line of credit to those who had also to look into the matter indefinitely. Finally it was arranged that the checks should be cashed with a six or seven per cent discount.

Another meeting was held at 9 a.m. to arrange for the Empress Theatre meeting and wires had been sent to the minister of labor and the minister of marine in regard to the situation.

Endorsement Action.

The theatre meeting then endorsed the action that had been taken and Col. Peck was sent for. He discussed the matter with them and said that he appreciated their continuing at work without their pay so long. It had made the situation much easier for the Government to deal with. He expressed sympathy with the men and said he was sure the wages would be paid. He had been in constant communication with the ministers regarding the situation.

A delegation was also sent to Mr. Pattullo, but while he was unable to come to the meeting, he sent a message saying he had received word from the minister that the yard would be in operation again in two or three days. A committee was appointed consisting of President Gillis, Secretary Ellis and G. L. Johnston to wire the Premier, Mr. Robertson, and Mr. Ballantyne urging that action be taken.

Meet Every Day.

It was also arranged that a committee from the men should meet every day at 10 a.m. in the Trades and Labor hall to look after those who were in need as a result of the shutdown. The committee was composed of Messrs. Dyson of the moulder, Gillis of the carpenters, Mallett of the pipe fitters, Beattie of the engineers, and Stone of the boilermakers.

The question of whether it would be advisable to place liens on the ships was discussed and it was decided to await developments before doing so. Before closing, a vote of thanks was passed to Col. Peck and it was decided to meet again tonight to discuss the developments that may arise.

The pelts are on view in the game warden's office and tenders for them will be received on Monday.

FAMOUS MISSIONARY TO VISIT WESTERN CANADA.

GOVERNMENT MAY FINISH TWO VESSELS

Word Received From Minister of Marine by Mr. Pattullo.

In reply to a message he sent to Hon. C. G. Ballantyne, minister of marine and fisheries, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, M.P.P., received yesterday a telegram stating that the department could not intervene in local drydock affairs until a default had occurred. This action would keep safe the protection of the guarantee fund and as soon as the default occurred the government could step in, pay the men, take over the yards and complete the ships.

It is generally understood that the non-payment of the men and supply accounts constitutes a default and the opinion is held that the government will take over the yard in a few days and start it up again without further delay.

Despite Car Shortage More Fish Was Landed

There was 1,511,000 pounds of halibut landed here in October, 1920, as against 1,215,500 in same month last year.

Fish returns for the month of October this year secured at the waterfront this morning indicate that, although the port suffered from a very serious car shortage all through the month, there was more fish landed than there was in the same month last year. The smaller boats have continued later this year than they did last and this somewhat makes up for the fact that many of the larger schooners sold their catches elsewhere. A shortage of herring bait also worked to the disadvantage of this place during the month, but all ports are short of this commodity and relatively speaking has suffered no more than Ketchikan and Seattle. In November the smaller men in October, 1919. During the month, boats will be tying up and the same time 313,000 pounds of halibut will come to Prince Rupert and left for other ports on account of the car shortage and the small prices offered. There was only 17,000 pounds lost to the port this way in the same month last year. The highest price for first class fish was 20.3c paid on October 30 and the lowest 11.5c on October 6.

United States in Political Contest

While Harding said to be Favorite, Betting is Even; Politicians Relieved that Strenuous Campaign is Over WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—There is nothing doing anywhere in the United States today except the election. It is the one outstanding feature. Everywhere prominent men both in politics, finance, trade or commerce are immersed in the business of choosing a new president.

While the betting seems to be pretty even in regard to the outcome, the general impression is that Harding is likely to win. The recent victories of the Republicans all point in that direction.

The vote up to noon was a large one, showing that great interest is being taken in the big contest. It would have been much larger had more popular candidates been chosen. As it is many voters feel that whichever gets in they are not represented.

Politicians and others all declare they are much relieved at the campaign being over as now business will proceed as usual.

TWO MEETINGS OF PARTIES IN BIG CONTEST

Conservatives Gather Tonight and Liberals Tomorrow Night to Choose Delegates.

There are to be two political meetings this week. Wednesday night the Liberals will meet to choose delegates for the convention on Friday and tonight the Conservatives are gathering to elect delegates for Monday's convention. Both events are rather important.

For the Liberal convention a call was sent out recently to all the associations of the district, some of which will respond. Others are content to leave the matter with the local people. As women are now on an equal footing with men, it is very probable that a number of women will attend this gathering.

The Conservative meeting tonight will, to a very large extent, decide whether the party is to run a man under their own banner or give up the fight and swing in with a man who only a few days ago was asking the O. B. U. for their nomination. On account of the importance of the event it is likely there will be a good attendance.

FISH GOES TO DIZZY PRICES

Cold Storage Bought a Carload This Morning and Paid 20.5c for Firsts.

The Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company went the Booth Fisheries a little better at the Fish Exchange this morning and established another first class halibut record when they paid 20.5c and 11.5c for a carload. The boats selling for this figure were: Convention, 13,000 pounds; Norma, 5,000 pounds, and Tramp, 9,000 pounds.

Molly May sold 2,000 pounds to the cold storage at 17c and 10.5c. The Union was in with 200 cohoes.

KILLED BY SNOW SLIDE.

Ballantyne in reply to a wire sent some days ago saying in effect that until the present operators of the shipyard were shown to be in default and a receiver appointed the Government could do nothing, but when that time came they would step in and pay the men and carry on the work.

DAILY EDITION.

Tuesday, November 2, 1920.

Several Heavyweights In Oliver Government.

Besides the minister of lands, whom we all know, there are a number of big men in the Liberal cabinet of which Farmer John Oliver is the head. Yesterday we published a photograph of Hon. J. D. MacLean, minister of education and provincial secretary. He is gradually bringing the educational system of the province in line with the rest of the world by introducing progressive legislation.

In this department Mr. McLean has arranged that, even if schools have only six pupils in attendance, it shall be kept open. A condition such as this does not usually last long as most of the rural districts in the province are growing.

The minister of education has introduced correspondence courses for isolated pupils and for miners; he has arranged that examinations for high school entrance pupils shall not be imperative. Arrangements have been made in many centres for night schools and grants are given to aid these.

The troublesome question of getting the Doukhobors to send their children to school has been dealt with and overcome. There are now twelve schools in operation among them with Canadian teachers and girls as well as boys attending.

There have been developments in technical education and in schools for subnormal children as well as for deaf and dumb and blind.

Just recently a teachers' employment bureau has been established without charge to those using it. Other bureaus have been put out of business.

A very important step in university development was taken this year when an act was passed giving power to raise money to commence the permanent buildings. The setting aside of university lands has been annulled and the lands will be open for settlement.

One particular policy as a result of which Prince Rupert has benefitted has been the making of grants from the public treasury to aid in building certain permanent schools. Prince Rupert is now getting $60,000 to aid in building the big school at Hays Cove Circle. Mr. Pattullo used his influence to secure this grant, which was badly needed and which will insure a building that will be a credit to the city and something of which they may be proud.

Many Interested In Skating Prospect.

There are a great many young people in town who are interested in the prospect of skating this year at Morse Creek. They all say they would be willing to contribute in a small way to the work of making the pond. The idea of skating close at home is one that appeals to most of them because they could go out every night, whereas to cross to the lake would mean only once or twice a week.

Fishermen and Motor Boats.

The question of using motor boats in the salmon fisheries of the Skeena River is a perennial so far as Prince Rupert is concerned. Unexpected support now comes from the south and the result may be that the local views may obtain. It should be soon time to take the matter up with the federal member and with the department and ministers at Ottawa prior to the opening of the House early in the new-year. It is certain that the use of motor boats on the Skeena will be an important feature of the next campaign if the matter is not settled in the meantime.

Drydock Situation Is Regrettable.

While everyone regrets the position of affairs at the shipyard, it is satisfactory to know that there is every likelihood of the work proceeding once more within a very short time. Erb has fallen down on his contract and it is to be hoped the Government will take a firm stand and see that any future control is on a totally different basis to that of the past year.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

MORE BUILDING THIS OCTOBER THAN THERE WAS JUST A YEAR AGO

Building permits for the month of October totalled $17,200 and although the building inspector's office was considered a quiet place last month—the permits taken out for that period exceeded the totals for the past four years. All the building in this total was done in the city proper for waterfront buildings for the months amounted to practically nothing.

The totals for the same month in other years for comparison are—1919, $12,770; 1918, $8,400, and 1917, $650.

T. H. Johnson has taken out the building permit for his $8,000 brick and tile residence on Fourth Avenue East.

"I have suffered from indigestion and stomach trouble for years and have tried several remedies without any success whatever. On the advice of a friend I thought I would give Wonder Health Restorer a trial. I am in a position to state that I have had wonderful relief after taking this medicine for only a few months. So well satisfied am I that I have no hesitation in recommending Wonder Health Restorer to any person suffering from similar ailments. (Signed) MRS. B. DEBECK 2120 Scotia St. Vancouver, October 20, 1920."

Wonder Health Restorer, which did such wonderful work for Mrs. DeBeck has done similar work in thousands of cases. It can be secured in Prince Rupert from the Prince Rupert Drug Co. and no sufferer from stomach trouble should overlook this remedy which is the private prescription of a great Scotch herbalist, given by him to the world for the good it does for humanity.

MCGEE GOT HIS BEER LICENSE

Got Council Last Night When Opposing Voice was Absent and Acting Mayor Favors.

Fred McGee, who has applied to the city council four times for a beverage license, was at last successful last night in getting it. W. E. Williams appeared on his behalf and in a short address to the council intimated that it was incumbent on them to grant the license or it might be obtained by mandamus proceedings.

It was moved by Ald. Perry and seconded by Ald. Murray that the license be granted and this action was immediately opposed by Ald. Rochester. There were too many licensees in that vicinity already and he was doubtful as to the lease. Ald. McLennan supported Ald. Rochester's views but the vote was in favor of McGee and the council, in Ald. Kerr's absence, voted to a tie. Acting Mayor Dybhavn casting in favor of the granting of the application.

Ald. Dybhavn was in favor of the granting from the first and Ald. Kerr, who was absent, has been opposed to it. In favoring the granting Acting Mayor Dybhavn intimated he was not afraid of Mr. Williams' threatened action.

WIFE CALLS UPON GREEN-EYED DEVIL

Serious Complications in 'Tangled Threads,' When Trick is Tried On Jazzing Husband.

Bessie Barriscale, the captivating blonde star, has a sympathetic role in her latest production, "Tangled Threads," at the Empress tonight. The story is a society drama of daring conception and ingenuity.

When Margaret Wayne (Bessie Barriscale) realized that her husband, John Rutherford, had become addicted to the habit of "stepping out" five or six nights a week, she came to the conclusion that he needed to be impressed with the charms of the wife he was neglecting. In order to make him jealous, she pretends a desperate affair with one of those handsome bachelors "friends of the family."

But Margaret overplays her hand. The young wife's accomplice refused to admit that it was a put-up job when the husband discovers them together in the "friend's" apartment late at night and the husband secured a divorce. When her ex-husband married a fascinating foreign lady of easy virtue and was given the custody of their child, Margaret felt that fate had dealt unkindly with her.

The "friend" however discovered he had a conscience and took a very original and dramatic method of removing the lady of easy virtue from John's sphere, although it was fatal both to himself and the second wife, but it resulted in a sensational climax to a complicated situation.

NEXT SUMMER UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WILL PUT IN LIGHT

Buoy Now Going on Perilous Vanderbilt Reef and Beacon Will Be Placed Next Year.

The United States hydrographic survey steamer Cedar is installing a buoy on Vanderbilt Reef where two years ago the Princess Sophia sank with all her passengers and crew. Next summer a beacon light will be installed on the reef.

The news will come with gratification to all mariners and the travelling public. Ever since the Sophia catastrophe there has been strong agitation for the putting in of the light and the dilatoriness of the United States government in promoting safety of passengers and shipping in its waters has been often bitterly condemned.

H. A. Beck, a well known resident of the Bulkley Valley, has succeeded A. J. Prudhomme as manager of the Northern Interior Co-operative Association. Mr. Prudhomme has resigned to enter the political arena for Omineca in the forthcoming provincial election. The headquarters of the concern will be removed to Prince Rupert.

We Heard Two Objections

To the hot cake recipe the old day we had two objections, one lady said there was too much baking powder. The other said there was not enough flour. In any recipe it is very important of individual method. Some folks like their hot cake very light and some like it another way.

The basis of the recipe is right and you can vary the flour or baking powder to suit your requirements.

Lament of the Unpaid.

Dedicated, with a sincere fellow-feeling, to the shipyard workers.

It's very hard, and so it is, to do without your pay.
The grocer's, butcher's, baker's bills pile higher every day;
The kiddies' boots are badly worn, the rent is overdue,
And goodness gracious only knows what we are going to do.

We cannot take the movies in, we cannot buy an ice,
I'm bumming tobacco from my pals—which isn't very nice.
I'm half afraid to go out nights, and when I take a trip
I sneak along the side-streets, my creditors to slip.

The missus says she needs a hat, a fur-lined coat as well, And various other little things it wouldn't do to tell.
I'm needing lots of things myself, but what's the use to cry,
I tell her we will get them in the sweet bye-and-bye.

This frenzied-finance business may look all right in books, But it doesn't always operate as easy as it looks.
But we have figured out a scheme which beats it—if we'll let's—We're going to try to live upon the interest of our debts.

—NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Both the Republican and the Democratic party leaders took with confidence on the election which is taking place throughout the United States today.

Mr. Hayes, the New York leader of the Republicans, expressed the conviction that Harding would have no less than 368, probably 395 electoral votes out of a possible 531.

A Hobo and His Friends

An address to the fraternity by the Chief Hobo.

Ingratitude is still the "marble hearted fiend," the "ugliest sin if all"; and to cleanse my soul from this foul stain, I wist, even if my thoughts be poor and my language limp and straggling, to slacken the strings that are tugging at my heart, and place a stone on the cairn of gratitude which is long overdue to an abiding friendship.

Friendship was the theme of the Gods. It inspired the muses on Mount Parnassus. It fed the souls of the seers and sages. It is both divine and human. It is greater than love; for love is often selfish. Love is often one-sided; but friendship is based on temperamental affinity. It is mutual. Love is blind and inexplicable. Friendship is voluntary and rationally explained.

Had I the pen of a ready writer, now that my soul is in a liquid state, I would run my feeling into a prose-poem; or sing out in measured dulcet notes, the sweet story of an abiding friendship.

But, even when my heart is on fire, my pen is cold and irresponsive. It just runs straight on; and my little tale may be spoiled in the telling.

Two Close Friends

I have two close friends—one is Canadian. She is ever with me. The other is Scotch. She only shares my friendship on the road. But both are true and both are passionately devoted. Their loyalty has been tested beyond measure and abides.

The Canadian friend is delicately built. Her appearance is fair—fair as the moon. Her head is black as the raven and glossy as a diamond. Her movements are soft and gentle. Temperamentally she is vivacious; I would say "Frenchy." Atmospheric conditions affect her greatly.

She is not talkative, but when I return, like "the minstrel old," hungry and weary, she sings her sweet native songs. First she hums the airs that are too sweet to be recorded. Every mood of my soul she seems to understand.

If the fire burns low and I am sad, she sings a sweet lullaby. If the room is gay, and the wood in the fire is red and white, she pipes the song to the gay airs of "Old Virginia." Sometimes, when hurrying, she has "jazz" music, but she never fails. She is never dull; and, like the nightingale, she sings because she must.

Temperamentally Dull

The Scotch friend is temper-

amentally dull. She is not so impressive. She is somewhat taller; and not so delicately built. Her complexion is dark like the olive. She is more patient than the Canadian. She is not as expressive; but she is never irritable. I never knew her to complain. She never "boils over," as does my Canadian friend. I prefer her fellowship for travel. She is my boon companion on the road. She has no gift of song, but she shares my common load. If the crowd were great she would, for my sake, go under the seat or on to the rack. I have left her for hours in the depot as off. I went to see to see the city sights; but she murmured on my return. Once when the crush was great at a depot, a porter broke one of her ribs. I was incensed with rage; but she was uncomplaining.

Sometimes Despised.

Both are fearless in their attachment. The other night they contributed much to the entertainment of my other friends. Yet whilst I heard the praises of one after another being sung, no one sang the praises of my friends. To them no toast was raised. Indeed my guests often despised their presence as if they were the meanest things on earth. So, in a moment of inspiration, stung by this lack of appreciation, I penned this little expression of gratitude for loyal friendship and true comradeship on the road.

Loyalty and devotion are not peculiar to the great. They walk with the humble and live in the homes of the lowly. They are often absent from the rich man's drawing room and present in the poor man's kitchen. They are the virtues of the common people. They forsake the castle to share the fellowship of the miner, of the lumberjack and of the hobo.

My Canadian friend is my little tin kettle; and my Scotch friend is my little kit bag. Long may they live together.

THE CHIEF HOBO.
