Winston Churchill On Rebellious Movement.

Exception has been taken to a report of the speech of Right Hon. Winston Churchill published in the Daily News Saturday. It was an attack on the revolutionary movement which is going on in England particularly, but also to some extent in other countries.

Objection to Publishing Article as News.

As to the objection to publishing the article as news, the fact that a protest was made shows that it was interesting. The speech excited considerable comment here as well as in Britain.

Today We Have Real Democracy.

Today we have a real democracy, a rule by the majority of the people. It is necessary only to glance over the recent provincial results to see where the mass of the people stand.

Condition in Britain Not as Bad as It Looks.

In conversation with a man who has just returned from a lengthy visit to England, it was learned that the people of that country do not take seriously the vapourings of the extreme radical leaders.

In another column we publish a report of an Albert Hall meeting in London, in which extreme revolutionary sentiments were expressed.

There was a threat to hang Churchill to a lamp-post which should not have been allowed to pass. There can be no democratic government, when one section of the people threaten violence on the other.

The Daily News is absolutely against any action or any propaganda which would lead to violence in this country. If the local revolutionary socialists are in sympathy with C. L. Malone or Robert Williams as reported in the London Times, then this paper is against them.

PILE DRIVING IN ABOUT A WEEK

Pile driving at the new salmon dock will commence in about a week, according to a statement made to the News by S. S. Magoffin of the firm of Grant, Smith & Magoffin, who have the big job.

A dredge has been at the wharf site during the past week over-casting the sand to the level above tide mark. The big pile-driver for the dock is rapidly being completed.

"Why I have these headaches is more than I can understand"

"I THINK it is a touch of indigestion," perhaps you say, not realizing that headaches and indigestion are among the first indications of an exhausted nervous system.
Women are the greatest sufferers from headaches, because their nervous systems are more highly strung and their conditions of life are more conducive to exhaustion of the nervous system.
Worry, anxiety, shock from accident or bad news, extreme grief—such are frequent sources of nervous trouble—as are also too little exercise and too much indoor life.
When the nerves are exhausted almost any unusual exertion brings on nervous headache. There is such a shortage of nervous energy in the system that any unusual demand starves the brain and produces pain.
The most natural and rational way to overcome this condition is by increasing the amount of nervous energy in the system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
The use of powerful drugs to ston headaches is a most harmful and dangerous practice, because the temporary relief is obtained at enormous expense to the nerves, and the evil day of nervous collapse is brought nearer.
The object of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is to remove the cause of trouble by building up the system and increasing the nervous energy in the body.
Mrs. R. Hicks, Napanee, Ont., writes:
"About five years ago I suffered continually from nervous headache, and was almost a complete wreck, weighing only ninety-nine pounds. I could neither sleep nor eat, and could gain no relief in any way. A friend told me she thought Dr. Chase's Nerve Food would help me, so I dubiously began a treatment of this medicine. To my surprise I very soon found that it was helping me, so I continued using it until I was quite recovered and felt like my former self. In two months my weight increased ten pounds, my headaches were relieved, my appetite improved, and I could rest well at night. I think Dr. Chase's Nerve Food an excellent medicine, as are also any of his other medicines that I have used."
The persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food enriches the blood, builds up the nervous system and increases the vigor and vitality of the human body. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers, or Edmanon, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. LENIN TELLS OF HIS AIMS
Anxious to Promote Proletarian Revolution in Western Europe
HELSINGFORS, Dec. 6.—In discussing his policy, Lenin, Premier of Russia, explaining his objects and aims, says:
"I regard the Russian revolution not as an end in itself, but as the first step in a world revolution. The question is 'How are we to promote a proletarian revolution in Western Europe?'
"We must attack France and Great Britain through their colonies and dependencies—as regards France, by judicious propaganda in Northern Africa, and in the case of Great Britain by similar propaganda in India.
"We are already working powerfully in these two directions. Success will put the world at our feet, and we will smash the Peace of Versailles and replace the rule of the Entente Powers by the rule of the proletariat throughout the world.
"The Germans are, above all, our auxiliaries because their hope of escaping from the penal clauses of the Peace Treaty rests on causing disorder and agitation with a view to profit by the general confusion which will then arise. They seek revenge—we, revolution. For the moment our interests are identical. They will diverge and the Germans will become our enemies only when the question arises whether on the ruins of Old Europe will be founded a new German hegemony or a Communistic Federation."

BOLSHEVISTS HOLD MEETING IN ALBERT HALL

Revolutionary Talk by Leaders of Rebellious Movement in Great Britain.

A demonstration, organized by the National Friends of Russia Committee and the Communist Party of Great Britain to celebrate the third anniversary of the Russian Soviet Republic was held in the Albert Hall on Sunday, when resolutions were passed congratulating the Soviet Government, protesting against the present policy of the British Government towards Russia, and calling upon the National "Council of Action" to send an ultimatum to the Government declaring that, unless the Government raised the blockade, abstained from all interference in Russian affairs, established full trading relations, and recognized the Soviet Government by a specified date, the Council of Action should call for a national "down tools" policy.

Mr. C. L. Malone, M. P., who was one of the principal speakers, attacked "the Thomases and the Braces" for their action during the miners' strike.

Armistice Silence.

After some interruption, Mr. Malone went on to say that next Thursday his Majesty (hisself) was calling a general strike of the country in order to commemorate the victory of one set of Imperialists over another—a victory which had given no advantage or relief to any of the working classes of any land, but which had caused misery to millions of men, women and children. It had brought advantage only to a mere handful of profiteers and place seekers. If they were to have a general strike let them not exploit the dead to advertise the man who boasted that he had won the war. (Cheers)

Social Revolution.

Mr. Malone spoke against a number of leading members of the Government and remarked that Sir Basil Thomson, who was the figurehead at the top of the British Okhrana, and had tried unsuccessfully to incriminate him last week, would like him to say, "Prepare for the mobilization of the Red whatnots!" but there was no need to tell the people to prepare, for every Communist thinker knew that before the capitalist class demobilized their interests constitutionally, they would resort to unconstitutional action. He urged them to leave no stone unturned in preparing for social revolution. The day was not far distant, he hoped, when they would meet in the Albert Hall to bless the British revolution. (Cheers). When that day came, "Woe to those people who get in our way." They were out to change the present constitution, he declared, and if it was neces-

FAIR ASSOCIATION WILL HAVE ANNUAL MEETING THIS WEEK

Reports will be Presented and Officers Elected—Finances are Better Now

Next Thursday evening the annual meeting of the Northern B.C. Agricultural Association will be held in the council chamber and the new Board of Directors will be appointed. The meeting, which is usually held in September, has been delayed this year to allow for the final business of the Association to be wound up for the year, so that reports as to financial standing and other matters may be received. Receiving these will comprise part of the business on Thursday night's meeting. It is understood that the Agricultural Association is in much better financial condition this year than it was last and that the deficit of last year has been cleaned up with a balance to the good.

All members of the Association are invited by the formal notice of meeting now being published. By members is meant all who have paid their dues to the Association for the current year.

ATTACKED BY EAGLE

Attempt of Big Bird to Carry Off Child is Frustrated

GLENDON, Wyo., Dec. 6.—It took the combined efforts of the Spalding family today to save eight-year-old Walter Spalding from being carried away by a gigantic eagle at their ranch near here.

When the huge bird attacked Walter in the ranch yard he grasped it by the neck and screamed for help. John, his seven-year-old brother, came to the rescue and a third boy ran for help. Mrs. Spalding beat off the bird with a stick and the eagle attacked her. She was saved when Mr. Spalding came with a shotgun and despatched the bird. It had a spread of eight feet.

The two boys were severely lacerated by the eagle's claws.

On Buying Curtains

If it's a dainty thing—a brilliant chintz, vivid cretonne, shimmering silk or gossamer chiffon—buy it with never a fear of not being able to wash it. Remember LUX is at your service—its pure, bubbly suds whisk the dirt away, leaving colors bright and clear, and the daintiest fabrics sheer and fresh as when new.

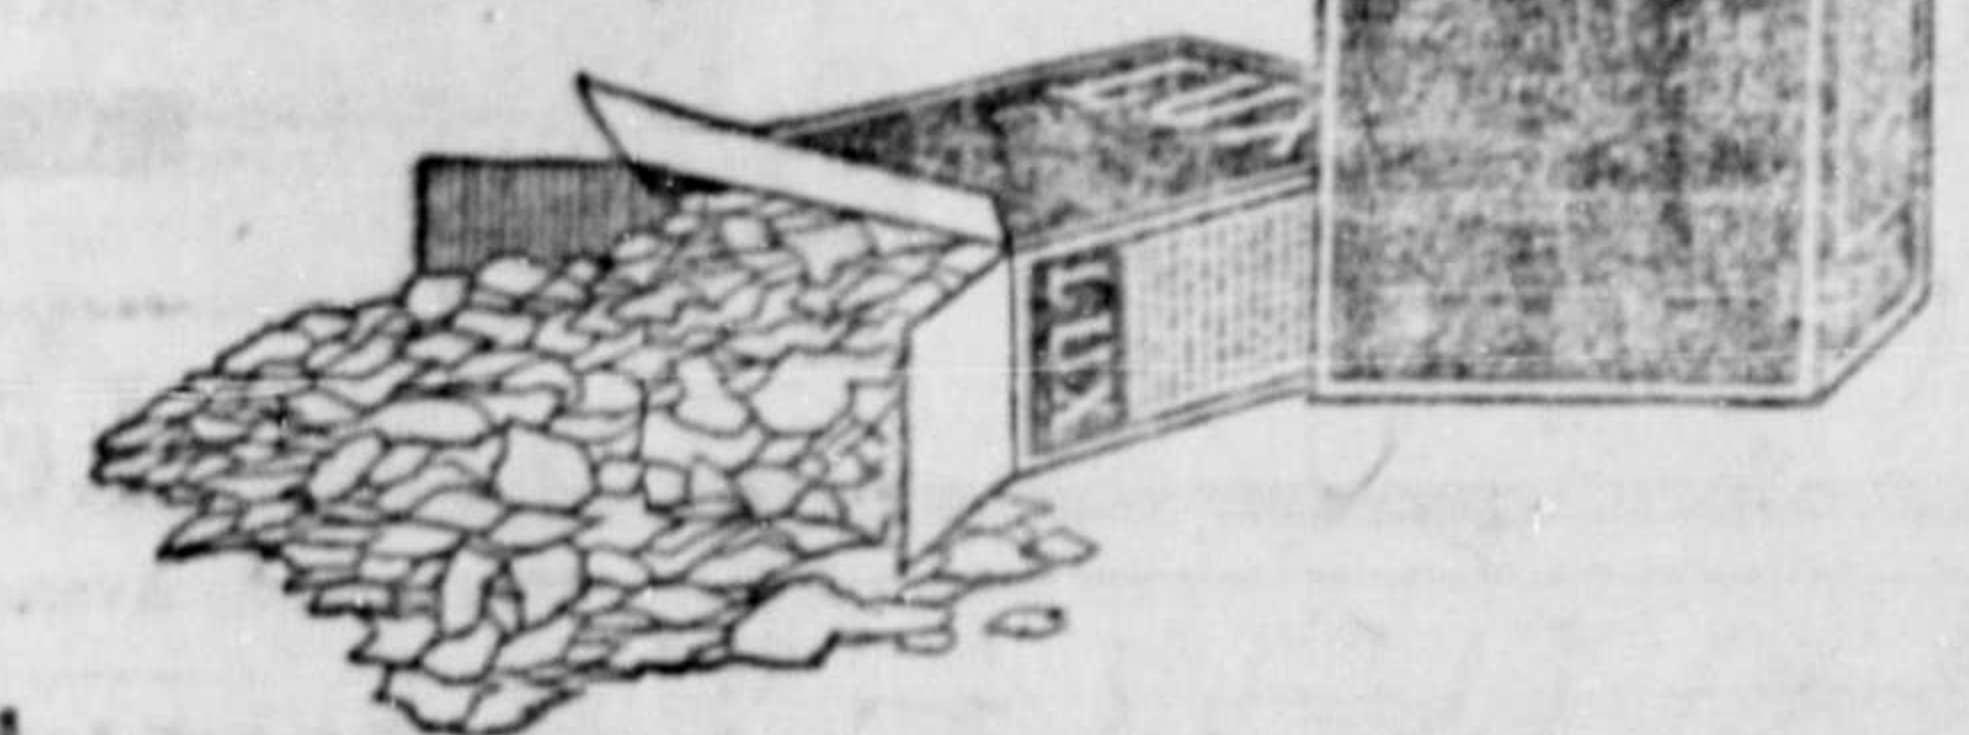

Silk and colored curtains---and LUX

Whisk a tablespoonful of LUX to a whipped-cream-like lather in a gallon of very hot water; then add cold water till lukewarm. Swirl the curtains about—work quickly—press the rich suds through and through the curtains, but never rub. Rinse in three lukewarm waters. If you can, roll in a towel to dry. Or, dry in the shade.

For white curtains—not silk—soak for an hour in cold water. Then wash in the same way, using hot suds. Rinse in three hot waters and dry in the sun.

A handy LUX recipe booklet, "The Care of Dainty Clothes," will be gladly sent on request.

INTERNATIONAL YACHTING RACE

Contest Probably at Cowes Next Year; Several Entries Each Side

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Sir Charles C. Allom, the Rear-Commodore of the Royal London Yacht Club, has received a challenge from the United States for a new international yacht race. The contest will probably take place in Cowes Week next year.

The challenge comes from four American yachtsmen, all well known in yachting circles on the other side of the Atlantic—E. W. Stewart and Paul Hammond, New York; Guy Lowell, Boston; and Paul Drexel, Philadelphia. On this side of the Atlantic it will be handled by a committee consisting of representatives of the four leading organizations that have headquarters on the Solent—the Royal Yacht Squadron and Royal Thames, Royal Victoria and Royal London Yacht Clubs. Already a number of meetings have been held, at which Sir Charles C. Allom has represented the Royal London, W. P. Burton the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, and Captain J. G. Orr, secretary, the Royal Thames Yacht Club; and certain details have been arranged. We understand that the Royal Yacht Squadron will be represented at future meetings.

Briefly stated, it is proposed that the races shall take place in British and American waters in alternate years, and that the boats shall be of the new international 6 metre class, several of which are being at present built on the Clyde for well-known Scottish yachtsmen. There will be three or four competitors on each side, so that the race will be a team one and not an event confined simply to two vessels, as is the case with the America Cup.

MELODRAMA TONIGHT AT THE WESTHOLME

Maurice Tournour's "The Life Line" is Picturesque Offering at Big Theatre.

A thrilling shipwreck and rescue by means of the breeches buoy forms the climax of Maurice Tournour's new Paramount-Art-craft production, "The Life Line," which is coming tonight to the Westholme Theatre. It was adapted from George R. Sims' famous melodrama of the sea, "The Romney Rye," and is said to tell a smashing story in Mr. Tournour's well known masterful style. The stage play was first produced in London more than twenty years ago, but like another of Mr. Sims' works, "Lights o' London," it is still fresh in the memory of everyone.

The story centers around Jack Hearne, the Romney Rye, young, romantic leader of a gypsy band, who is really the heir to Crag-nest, a fine old English estate now being occupied falsely by his half-brother, Phillip Royston. How Jack, with the aid of some characters of the London underworld, regains his inheritance and wins the love of his faithful Ruth forms the theme of the picture. A brilliant hunt, in which scores of lords and ladies take part, a thrilling rescue from a burning theatre and the final episode of the saving of Ruth from a ship being beaten to pieces on the rocks in a storm are the high spots of the picture.

PIGMY OWL

Small Carnivorous Bird Found With Sparrow in Its Claws Yesterday.

The two men were walking along the track from Seal Cove toward the shipyard when one of them spied a pigmy owl with a bird in its claws perched on the rocks. They wanted to see what bird he had killed so they pelted him with stones and drove him across the track and eventually got the bird away from him, a sooty song sparrow, one of the variety that is so common here. The little owl was very sleepy and could easily have been killed, but killing was not the aim of the two men. They threw the sparrow back to the owl and went their way, allowing him to continue his feast.

The pigmy owl in question was not more than six or seven inches from the top of its head to the tip of its tail. It appeared to be only about twice as big as the sparrow and not much longer.

"THE WOMAN GAME"

Novel Theme Treated in Unusual Way in Picture at the Empress.

That matrimony is "the woman game" in the same sense that business is "the man game" and that a woman may use any weapon in her power to obtain her objective the same as a man operating in Wall Street and carrying on any sort of business, is the theme in "The Woman Game," the latest picture play starring beautiful Elaine Hammerstein, which is playing at the Empress Theatre tonight. This is a novel theme and has been handled in a most unusual way, making a photo-drama filled with highly dramatic moments and much real heart interest.

Elaine Hammerstein is seen in the role of an impoverished society beauty, who seeks to make a good marriage because of the laments of her mother who impresses upon the girl that this is her duty.

As Amy, Miss Hammerstein is splendid. She is surrounded by a capable cast and the entire production is another big success.

HEARTBURN

LIVER TROUBLE

When the liver becomes torpid and inflamed, it cannot furnish sufficient bile to the bowels, thus causing them to become constipated.

The stomach is also affected. In the case of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach, attended by disturbed appetite, caused by great acidity. Whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and become extremely sour, vomiting often occurs; and what is thrown up, is sour and sometimes bitter.

Other liver trouble symptoms are pain under the right shoulder, yellowness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, foul breath, water brash, jaundice, constipation, etc.

Keep your liver active by using Miltburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles. Being purely vegetable they do not grip, weaken or sicken like the old-fashioned purgatives generally do.

Mrs. Mary Strome, Glasnevin, Sask., writes:—"I have used Miltburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of heartburn and liver trouble. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine, and I can highly recommend them."

CHICAGOFF IS SETTLED

Mine Difficulty is Arranged by Payment of Large Sum

JUNEAU, Dec. 6.—An agreement was reached whereby the Chicagoff Gold Mining Company will pay John Tupela a sum understood to be $200,000 in settlement of the judgment secured in a suit involving the title of the property being mined by the company. Report has it that the company is paying $150,000 to Tupela and his attorney now and the other half of the settlement will be made in January.

Tupela's interest in the property was sold to the Chicagoff company through a guardian when Tupela was in an insane asylum. This was several years ago and the consideration for the transaction was $4,000. After development the claim proved very rich and when Tupela was discharged from the asylum he began proceedings to set aside the former sale.

In the lower court when the matter first came up for trial a finding in favor of the defendant was returned. Upon appeal to the circuit court of appeals this was reversed and judgment was entered, ordering the company to make an accounting to Tupela, but the settlement now made makes an accounting unnecessary.

W. H. Rust of Tacoma who is here conducting the negotiations for the company is one of the principal owners. Another large stockholder is Hugh C. Wallace, ambassador to France. Tupela has always been a poor man and for four years of his life was in the insane asylum at Morningside, but he is now alright again. The property which he owned is only a small portion of that being operated by the Chicagoff Mining Company, which is the largest producer of gold in Alaska.

EFFECT OF CAPTIVITY ON BREEDING FOXES

In an article in the Agricultural Gazette of Canada for November the Veterinary Director General, Dr. Torrance, tells that the main difficulty connected with the raising of foxes in captivity is producing them from disease. It is noticeable instead of giving birth to a litter of four or five at a time as she does when free rarely produces more than two, the average for the farms in Prince Edward Island being at the rate of one and a half. Individual fox ranchers, however, by care and improved methods do succeed in securing an increase of three or even four per pair.

With a view to making success more general, under the direction of Dr. Torrance, research work has been undertaken. Land and equipment have been acquired, two experts from the Health of Animals branch employed, six pairs of foxes from the Island ranches furnished, and a small laboratory fitted up for the studying of the diseases and parasites that affect the animals.
