Lloyd George Makes Notable Speech in British Commons

The Ferocity, Rapine and Cruelties of Bolshevism may Disappear Before Inroads of Commerce, British Premier Thinks.

Warns Parliament Against Anarchy in Own Country

Period of Discontent and Dissatisfaction Inevitable Following Big War, But Government Determined To Persevere Law and Order in Ireland.

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
LONDON, February 11.—Lloyd George, William Adams and Donald Maclean in the House of Commons yesterday spoke for the Government, the Laborites and the other opposition representatives respectively. The Premier gave an explanation of the Government's Russian policy but refused to be drawn by other speakers on the topic of revising certain unworkable features of the peace treaty.

Dealing with the burning question of economy, the Premier commended a familiar species of increased production. His remarks on Ireland gave no new information regarding the measure which is soon to be introduced.

Mr. Sidney Peel, coalition minister, who spoke in reply to addresses on the speech from the throne, said: "It will be a great disappointment to us if the United States finds itself unable to take part in the work of reconstruction. But she must be able to do so in her own house as well as in ours."

Lloyd George, replying to general criticisms of the Government policy made by William Adams, the labor leader, Sir Donald Maclean and others who demanded especially revision of the peace treaty, Premier Lloyd George declared that it would be impossible in a single speech to deal with all the questions raised. He said, however, that after the excitement of the great war nobody could expect anything but a period of discontent and even a certain measure of dissatisfaction, during that the Government was determined to maintain law and order in Ireland.

The Premier then dealt with the cost of living, which he said was attributed to depreciation of money and not profiteering. The only remedy was to increase production, he declared.

Referring to Sir Donald Maclean's inquiry, the Premier said the coming budget would balance more than balance.

Power of Commerce.

In regard to Russia Lloyd George said he agreed with the view that Europe could not be prospered without having Russia to her reserves included in combination. "Bolshevism cannot be crushed by force of arms," continued the Premier, "commerce has a sobering influence. There is nothing to fear from a Bolshevik invasion of the surrounding countries or the middle east, because the Bolsheviks cannot organize a powerful army. I believe that trading will bring to an end the ferocity, rapine, and cruelties of Bolshevism more surely than any other method, and Europe badly needs that Russia is able to supply but cannot supply without the conquering armies moving across her borders."

Danger at Home.

"The dangers are not all in Russia," he continued. "They are at home. I speak with

Old "Owl" Gambling House In Mexico City Destroyed Amid Greatest Excitement

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

MEXICO CITY, February 11.—Another landmark of the vanishing west met destruction last night when to the accompaniment of screams, shots and roaring flames the old Owl gambling house and its attendant structures were totally destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated to be in excess of $250,000.

When the fire broke out more than 1,000 persons were crowded about the tables where gambling of every description was in full swing. Many exciting scenes occurred and a panic was narrowly avoided.

Guards stationed about the room added to the confusion when they fired upon several Mexicans who attempted to gather up money on the tables.

Efforts of the fire department were seriously hampered when some unidentified men cut the hose in two places, evidently for the purpose of giving the flames a chance to complete the work of destruction.

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

"Cruel" and "murderous" were among the adjectives employed by Senators Borah and Knox to describe the effects of the treaty on Germany and Austria.

COMPRESSOR IS GOING IN FOR BIG WOLF MINE

Extension of Dolly Varden Railroad 2 1/2 Miles to Other Property This Spring.

ALICE ARM, B. C., Feb. 11.—A party of camp builders is all ready to proceed to the Wolf Mine, 2 1/2 miles north of the Dolly Varden and across the Kitsault River, to prepare for the installation of a len-drill water compressor at that property. Under the terms of the Dolly Varden Mines Act, passed by the Legislature last year, the Wolf Mine also goes to the Taylor Engineering Co., on completion of the last payment to Don Cameron, the locator, who had the property partly sold to the Dolly Varden Mines Co. before they lost control of their Alice Arm holdings.

The railroad is also to be extended from the Dolly Varden to the Wolf this year, thus opening up a heavy shipper in the Wolf for the Taylor Co. as well as putting several other mines in the shipping class. The construction of the additional 2 1/2 miles to link up the Wolf will entail heavy canyon work and the Kitsault River will also have to be bridged.

The men going in now will have six feet of snow facing them at the Wolf but this will be dug out and the camps erected so that the compressor may be brought in and installed as soon as it is taken up on pack horses. The power for the compressor will be taken from Trout Creek which flows into the Kitsault River nearby. The compressor will allow tunnels and raises to be driven preparatory to stopping the ore out for shipment when the railroad is complete. The development work so far on this property consists of 80 feet of tunnel and diamond drilling which has proved the high value of the mine.

MAY SHUT DOWN PREMIER MINE

F. K. Neill Tells Daily News 23 White Cooks Failed Before Chinese Installed.

SAYS IS HAMPERED BY MEN WHO WON'T WORK

R. K. Neill, the vice president and general manager of the Premier Gold Mining Company, gave the News representative a very practical talk on the discouraging stand taken by labor, involving conditions which make it practically impossible to continue the operation of the Premier Mine.

If this mine shuts down as a consequence of the conditions put forward by Mr. Neill it will be one of the worst knocks that this promising new territory could receive, coming at a time when the people of this district are permeated with hopeful enthusiasm of its mining possibilities, caused mainly by the persevering efforts of Mr. Neill and his associates in pioneering the development of a mine under tremendous handicaps and great financial expense and risk.

Put Stewart on Map.

It was undoubtedly the development of this mine that put Stewart and district back on the map and riveted the attention of the outside mining world, and the shutting down of work on this property now on account of the unreasonable labor conditions as set forth by Mr. Neill will undoubtedly make mining men and investors hesitate before entering the field.

Mr. Neill said: "When I went into Salmon River District there was practically nobody in the country and I had to hire whatever labor came along in development work, with the result that I had working for me many men of decided pro-German sympathies and others obsessed with very radical ideas. I am not opposed to labor or labor unions in any sense of the word, but the miners' union seems to be a thing of the past and has been shelved, and its place taken by a few heads styling themselves One Big Union (whatever that means).

Question of Cooks.

"Ever since I started up there I have done everything I could think of to make the conditions as comfortable as possible for the men, and so long as I had a small gang of eight or ten men we could get along in peace, but as soon as I increased the development I was up against this radical element and their O. B. U. ideas. To give a satisfactory mess for the men I tried 23 white cooks in eighteen months. Nineteen of the white cooks could not fight booze and cook breakfast at the same time and both the law and myself had a decided objection to them using the cook house to run a still in, and after trying out white cooks at that rate, I think I was justified and I do not see why the men had objections to me falling back on a Chinaman when no good white cooks are to be had in a pioneer camp like the Salmon River District. The great majority of the camps and companies along this coast employ Chinese cooks for the very good reason that they can't get good white ones. Had the developments been far enough ahead I would have tried white lady cooks, but they are impossible at the present stage as we have no separate quarters erected for them.

"The men have never been honorable enough to come to me personally about any grievance; no, the O. B. U. leaders won't do things that way. They won't come along like any reasonable men would and give you a chance either to explain or remedy matters. They waited until I had left the country, then made peremptory demands on the man I had left in charge, and because he could not immediately comply with their demands, they walked off, and call it a strike, and whenever I hired other men who were quite agreeable to go to work when the conditions were explained to them they were coerced or led away by a few radical leaders, who not only won't work themselves but hate to see anybody else working.

Sane Leaders Wanted.

"Conditions in the Portland Canal district are about as bad as could be as far as labor is concerned, and I certainly would not advise any man or woman to invest savings in mining development in that country until labor gets more settled, or until the men up there elect sane working men as leaders, who will not only understand what the men want and need; but who will have some little understanding of what the other fellow is up against in trying to remedy their grievances. After all the big bulk of the money invested in mining development represents the hard earned savings of working men and women who are trying to add to their incomes at great risk to themselves, and if the only justification the O. B. U. has for its existence is to put so many obstacles in the way of the successful operation of a mine, then the logical thing is for people not to invest their savings in a mining venture which is at least risky from a financial standpoint.

Will Not Save.

As it stands now the men will not work steady and save their money for investment. They work long enough to get a few hundred dollars together; find some imaginary grievance; quit work; call it a strike, and won't go back until they have blown it all in, and of course won't let anybody else work in the meantime. Then because the other fellow saves his money and invests it and makes it a success they feel sore and call him a capitalist.

"I am very much discouraged and feel that I should close down the mine and look for other fields which will offer more protection to the investor. It is immaterial to me whether I ever return, and I am very much inclined to look for other mining localities where the laws of the country are enforced and where an investor will get an even chance to make a profit on his investment."

"Go Teach All Nations Beginning at Jerusalem"

"THAT'S it," says a critic, "beginning at Jerusalem! You should correct paganism at home before going abroad to look for it. I do not believe in Foreign Missions."

The Need of Africa

Africa was first explored by a Missionary who lies in Westminster Abbey, honored by all nations. David Livingstone was succeeded by other devoted men, who gave themselves unreservedly to the people of the Dark Continent. Triumphant success in some districts—Uganda for instance—is balanced by dull failure in others. Yet the general prospect is encouraging. Through Canadian Missions in that land, men are raised out of savagery, women are ennobled, children are cared for and educated.

Yet Jerusalem was not Christianized when the Apostles went to Antioch; when Philip was sent to the Ethiopian.

Remember This

The man who does not believe in Foreign Missions stands today clothed and educated because of Foreign Missions. When did English culture begin? With the visit of St. Augustine, a Foreign Missionary from Rome. Who Evangelized Rome? A Foreign Missionary named Paul, of Tarsus and Jerusalem! What if he had gone to the Ganges instead of to the Tiber? Certainly Canada needs more Christianity, but the best way to improve our own spiritual life is to help bear the burdens of the world.

The Missions Established

Five Christian Communions in Canada—Anglican, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian—have an extensive mission work abroad. They have sent overseas many devoted men and women. By their work, barriers have been broken down and in every land there is an eager call for more missions, more teachers, more doctors, more hospitals. Now, owing to the declining value of the dollar, it is necessary to double the expenditure in order even to hold the ground won. Until that is done, an advanced Missionary programme can not be undertaken.

Mass Movements in India

India is our brother-land, a loyal British dependency. Illiteracy is the rule. Caste imprisons the people and stifles all ambition. British administration has taught the folk the value of peace. English-speaking Missionaries from Canada are teaching them the value of education and the power of the Name which is above every name. Great masses of the people are asking for baptism, but there are not enough Missionaries to teach them.

A Mandate for Expansion

All men, who think honestly realize that the Gospel of Christ is unique in moral splendor, in spiritual force, in civilizing influence. It redeems the individual and exalts the nation. It has made the modern world of thought, of industry, of progress. It must go out over all the earth to ease international relationships, to put an end to cruelty and misery. There is free entry for the Gospel in every nation under Heaven. Lift up your heads, O ye Gates of India, and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting Doors of China and Japan and Africa, and the King of Glory shall come in.

The Call to Action

Canadians, Churchmen or non-Churchmen, you met the charges of the war with cheerfulness, since it was waged to establish righteousness in the earth. Now hear the call of the Churches for adequate means to continue by peaceful suasion the work which for four years was done by batteries and bayonets. Your Church appeals directly to you, civilized and educated by Foreign Missions of an ancient time, to meet your obligation to that same Great Cause today.

The Need of the World

Japan, Formosa, Korea, the South Sea Islands, South America, and not least, the pagans in our own land, need the Gospel. The Missionary is welcomed in all lands. Men everywhere appreciate the spirit of those Canadians who forget themselves in order to serve the suffering and the weary. Idealism in action counts!

DISCLAIMS BIG B.C. HOLDINGS OF ALVENSLEBEN

Department of State at Ottawa Says That His Interests Were Not Worth Seizing.

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—State Department officials are taking issue with the statements in the Toronto "Globe" editorial on "The Kaiser's Political Investments" in Alberta and British Columbia, where it was stated that some millions of dollars of property was held by Alvo von Alvensleben who was later rounded up as a spy and has been interned in the United States after having escaped to that country.

A high official of the department has made the statement that instead of Alvensleben having several million dollars' worth of property tied up ready to hand over to the Kaiser, the Canadian Government has spent some thousands of dollars to learn that this and other similar stories were myths Alvensleben had lost heavily on his investments and his interests in timber and mineral rights were so small that there was next to nothing for the government to seize.

"MAGISTRATE" MAKES SUCCESSFUL REPEAT

Greeted by a Good-Sized House; Music by Symphony Orchestra.

The "Magistrate" played by the Dramatic Society, was repeated last night in the Westholme and another good house greeted the local performers. Last night's performance showed several improvements over Monday, and some of the roles were sustained much better. The comedy on its two night's showing has made a great success and is the subject of much favorable comment.

A feature of the entertainment that must be mentioned was the excellent introduction and entrancing music supplied by members of the Prince Rupert Symphony Orchestra under the conductorship of Professor Harry Harvey. The musical numbers were enjoyed as much as the play itself by many. The orchestra consisted of Mrs. J. R. Beatty, James Lee, violins; Miss Lillian Stephen, piano; J. Payton, Cornet; S. Steele, trombone; J. Brough, double bass; W. Martin, traps and drums. Prof. Harvey took the leading violin.
