Street Paving
For the City.

The city of Victoria has just decided to pave a section of streets and finds that concrete is about four fifths the price of asphalt. Accordingly this pavement is being used. Concrete is coming into favor a good deal and as it is a British Columbia product it should from a sentimental reason be preferred. It seems likely that this material will be used in Prince Rupert.

Criticism of City Employees.

A returned soldier in the employ of the city writes a letter which he asks us to publish in which he takes exception to some remarks of Alderman Dybhavn, who, he says, criticized the men who work for the city. Apparently the alderman opposed an advance in wages and is alleged to have said that the men were evidently killing time.

Unfortunately we cannot publish the letter as some slurs are made at Alderman Dybhavn because of his nationality. We recognize no nationality in this country except Canadians. In the past we have welcomed people from every part of the world and offered them equal rights with ourselves. Those that have made good and become citizens of the country are Canadians just as much as we. Also they are British subjects and as such should be subject to no disabilities.

British Subjects Have Equal Rights.

Alderman Dybhavn is a member of the Canadian Club as well as being a British subject. He must be a British subject before being elected. He has been elected by the people to represent them. It is his duty to look after the interests of the city and if he thinks there is anything wrong he should say so openly, as he has done.

We know nothing about the right or wrong of what Alderman Dybhavn said. He quite possibly may have been wrong. Because he is wrong is no reason for jibing at his nationality. Those of us who are British born are usually proud of our country. We have reason to be. If we had been born in some other country we should have been equally proud of the fact. The man who has no affection for the country of his birth is not much of a man. Each country has much of which to be proud. There are many fine points about every nation.

British Came From Germany.

As for the Anglo Saxons, they came from Germany and after mingling with French, Danes, Norwegians, Celts and other nationalities merged into one nation which we call British. The American people are equally cosmopolitan only the formation is of more recent date. They are a newer country. Canada has a mixed population and all have equal rights except Orientals, and they in time will be given political rights, the same as others.

Whatever may be our private feelings in regard to people of other nationalities than ourselves, it does not make for good citizenship to express them, and the Daily News certainly will not be a party to stirring up race hatred or differences between people of different nationalities.

As we pass along the streets, we find people of different nationalities, with accents showing them to come from many different countries. Their children, however, all speak alike and grow up Canadians. It is difficult to distinguish one nationality from another after the first generation. It is found too that there is no national bound to intelligence. No country has a monopoly of brains.

THE TORTURES
OF RHEUMATISM*Happily Stopped When He Began To Take "Fruit-a-lives"

3 OTTAWA ST., HULL, P.Q.

"For a year, I suffered with Rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief and thought I would never be able to walk again.

One day while lying in bed, I read about "Fruit-a-lives" the great fruit medicine, and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.

The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me." LORENZO LEDUC.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

FINE SINGER
FROM VICTORIA*Mrs. Jesse Longfield is Leading Contralto of Pacific Coast.

Mrs. Jesse Longfield of Victoria is to be the principal soloist at the Westholme Theatre concert on Sunday night. This talented lady does not sing often but she is much sought after. She is the soloist for special occasions at the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church where her husband, Jesse Longfield, is the organist and choirmaster.

Mrs. Longfield was the contralto soloist at a recent amateur performance of the Mikado in the capital city and she has sung at all the coast cities at various times to the delight of her audiences. She has family ties, however, that keep her at home a good deal and Prince Rupert is to be congratulated on being able to secure her for this occasion.

Quite recently she sang at one of the Victoria Musical Society concerts and on that occasion there was a great deal of very favorable comment on her artistic work.

OVERALLS? YES,
BUT NOT ALWAYS*Member for This District Tells Victoria Reporter What He Thinks of Movement

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, believes the overall movement, like all other movements, is all right, provided it is not carried to the extreme. Relative to the present movement by some who see in the adoption of overalls a means of reducing the high cost of living, the minister says:

"The overall movement, like every other movement, proceeds from a cause, and, like most movements, may either fizzle out or proceed to extremes."

"No one can take any objection to overalls per se. There are certain occupational duties which require the wearing of overalls. In these occupations the overalls are not only serviceable but they look well." Those whose duties necessitate the wearing of overalls, usually, on coming home at night, take off their overalls and put on what is called an ordinary suit of clothes and generally clean up." The reason that they clean up is that they may both feel well and look well. One need offer no apology for wishing both to feel well and look well. It is to be hoped, however, that the new movement to wear overalls will not be taken as licence to slovenliness.

On the Trail.

"In my time I have had considerable trail work, at times both heavy and even dangerous, and I can say without hesitation that the best men we had on the trail were those who were cleanest and neatest in their persons. I remember a party of us on one occasion leaving Vancouver for the Klondike, in '97, by special steamer. Hardly were we out of the port of Vancouver than practically the entire party donned their Klondike paraphernalia, with the exception of myself. Two or three days later one of the party remarked, 'I wonder whether Pattullo expects all his white collars to be packed over the trail?' A week later I had the pleasure of packing the gentleman himself over a stream of water three feet deep in order that he would not get his feet and legs wet. Later we found that the men who fell by the wayside and could not keep up with the procession were those who did not properly take care of themselves, and we were compelled to drop several men at different posts who suffered from sore feet, chafing, or other ailments, which could have been prevented by a little personal attention.

CONTRACT WAS ON COST PLUS USUAL SYSTEM

L. W. Patmore Explains Misunderstanding in Regard to the Building of New School.

In connection with the contract let to Colonel McDermie for erecting the new school building, L. W. Patmore this morning explained that Colonel McDermie had taken the contract on a "cost plus" basis, but instead of being given the usual ten per cent such as was tendered on by Morgan & Co., he was getting only four per cent on $70,000.

While supervising was undoubtedly part of the work, yet it was not by any means all. The contractor had to do his own financing, had to make the contracts with the sub-contractors and do everything which usually falls to the lot of a contractor. The only difference between this and the usual cost plus contract was that in this case the city was shaved six per cent on $70,000.

Mr. Patmore said there had been some criticism of the action of the board in letting the contract as they did, but he felt sure that when the people understood the position they would realize that it was a good deal.

There have been a few washouts up the line which have been giving the railway company trouble. The same thing occurs every year on every railway that goes through the mountains. As a result the trains have been late. Yesterday's train is expected to night at midnight and Superintendent McCall states that by four o'clock today he expects the line to be clear all the way through.

In the police court this morning seven men connected with having intoxicating liquor in places other than in private dwelling houses. The liquor in question is beer recently seized by the police running over the specified two and a half per cent spirits, allowed by the B. C. Prohibition Act. WEDDING AT ST. ANDREW'S

Miss Grace Shockley Bride of Don H. Yelf, at Full Choral Ceremony.

The wedding of Miss Grace Shockley, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Shockley, of Beach Place, and Don H. Yelf, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Yelf, of Norwich, England, took place at St. Andrew's Anglican Church at 8 o'clock last evening. Rev. Canon Rix performed the ceremony and the entire choir of the church, of which Miss Shockley was an active member, took part in the services, making one of the first full choral weddings that has been held in this city. The choir, which consists of 18 members, sang two hymns, "The Voice that Breathes O'er Eden," and "O Perfect Love," as well as taking part in the chants and responses.

The bride, beautifully gowned in white satin and georgette with bridal veil and orange blossoms and bearing a bouquet of carnations and roses, entered the church on the arm of her father. A unique feature of the bride's costume was a brooch she wore which contained, mounted in gold, a piece of shrapnel taken from the back of the bridegroom after his services in France in the early part of the war. This was especially interesting as the piece of metal threatened the life of the groom before its removal. The bride also wore a pink picture hat with black streamers.

Bridesmaids.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Vera Shockley, bridesmaid, who was sweetly dressed in a gown of white silk and a pink tunic carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Little Miss Doris, sister, and Miss Vera Shockley, cousin of the bride, both in white silk frocks with pink tunics and carrying baskets of carnations, made dainty flower girls. Frank Salter, a comrade of the groom overseas, acted as best man.

The gift of the groom to the bride was a white gold penant mounted with onyx and diamonds. The bridesmaid and the flower girls were each presented with diamond and ruby pendants.

Directly after the ceremony the wedding party and about thirty intimate friends of the bride and groom partook of a buffet dinner at the reception in the bride's home. Many beautiful presents signified the esteem in which the principals are held by their many friends.

At midnight Mr. and Mrs. Yelf left on the Prince Rupert for a honeymoon trip which will be spent in Vancouver, Seattle and Portland. On their return they will be at home in the James McKay residence on Sixth Avenue East. The bride travelled in a navy blue suit with white ermine furs wearing a gray straw hat with pink rosebuds. A crowd of friends were at the boat to see them off and wish them godspeed.

Both Popular.

Mrs. Yelf, who has resided with her parents in this city for many years, is one of the best known of the younger set. She received her public school and high school education in the city and has practically grown up with the town. For the last year or so she has been engaged in the offices of the Georgetown Lumber Company.

Mr. Yelf is also well known, having resided here since long before the war. He was one of the first to volunteer for overseas service and was not at the front long before he received a severe wound when shrapnel entered his spine. He lay in the English hospitals for months and underwent several operations. Despairing of ever removing the metal which was threatening his life, he returned to Canada and finally last December after having consulted leading surgeons in the United States the operation was performed successfully by local doctors.

Miss Louise Wakefield entertained a number of young people at a jolly dance on Monday night at the home of her parents, American Consul and Mrs. Wakefield, Fourth Ave. Grey's orchestra provided the music and there were about twenty-five couples present. A most enjoyable time was spent, the party breaking up in the early hours of Tuesday.

SMART WEDDING HELD AT MANSE

Miss Edith Stewart Becomes the Bride of William Adams, Winnipeg Civil Engineer.

One of the smartest events of the season took place last night at the Manse, on Fourth Avenue, when Miss Edith Stewart became the bride of William Adams, of Winnipeg, in the presence of a large number of the bride's friends, Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant tying the nuptial knot.

Promptly at 10 o'clock, Mrs. Jarvis McLeod sang "O Promise Me" in sweet voice. Immediately following, to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, played as a duet by Professor Harvey and Miss Kathleen Grant, the bride, charming in a brown broadcloth travelling suit, entered the room on the arm of her sister, Mrs. H. R. Grant, who was gowned in black satin with crepe de chene overskirt trimmed with gold. The bridal bouquet was of beautiful pink roses, Miss Lorraine Grant, wearing a pink crepe de chene frock, was very sweet as little flower girl.

Wedding Breakfast.

After the ceremony the guests partook of a dainty bridal breakfast. Mrs. Eggert and Mrs. McClymont poured and were assisted by Misses Jessie and Lily Scott, and Mrs. A. M. Manson. The toast to the bride was proposed by Fred Stork and was fittingly responded to by the groom.

Groom's Gift.

The gift of the groom to the bride was a rope of pearls. To Professor Harvey a watch fob was presented, to Miss Grant, bracelets, to Mrs. McLeod, a gold brooch and to Miss Lorraine Grant a gold ring.

At midnight Mr. and Mrs. Adams left on the Grand Trunk steamer for the south on their way to Winnipeg where they will reside. Mrs. Adams has lived here for six years and has been most popular. She is a graduate nurse having taken her training in the Prince Rupert General Hospital and since graduating has remained with the institution in a trained capacity. Mr. Adams is a civil engineer with headquarters at Winnipeg. He served in France with the 27th battalion and returned from overseas last year.

SAVE YOUR SIGHT

EYESIGHT—The most valuable of all the senses—is the most neglected and the least understood. Many suffer from it, which, upon examination, can be traced directly to defective eyesight.

THE removal of the cause will often restore the delicate and run-down sufferer to robust health. When glasses are properly prescribed, they restore the vision to normal and eliminate all eye strain.

ADDRESSED LADIES
AT CHURCH HALL

Mrs. J. Frank Ingram Told of Burmeese Costumes Based on Personal Experiences.

The address delivered by Mrs. J. Frank Ingram, of Rangoon, India, on "The Women and Children of Burma" in the Presbyterian Church hall yesterday afternoon was well attended by ladies and proved interesting and instructive. Mrs. Ingram dealt in a clear way with the customs and peculiarities of the native heathen of that country, where she has resided for many years, and her lecture, based on personal experience largely, was more impressive.

The address was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church and was presided over by Mrs. C. A. Egger. Mrs. F. F. Schellenberg sang two solos in a pleasing manner.

FAMOUS INDIAN
WOMAN DIES

Grace Cormack Picked up First
Nugget on Bonanza—Sister of Skookum Jim.

The death occurred recently at Carcross of Kate Cormack, a noted Indian woman, widow of George Cormack, discoverer of the rich pay dirt on Bonanza Creek, the gold strike that started the world. She was a victim of influenza.

Mrs. Cormack leaves a daughter, formerly Grace Cormack, a beautiful young woman who was married a few years ago to a prosperous rancher in California, where she now lives and has a family.

The late Kate Cormack was with her brother Skookum Jim and Dawson Charley when the strike was made and she is said to have picked up the first nugget.

Dawson Charley was addicted to the glow that kindles in the hooch and one night when he was seeing spooks attempted to cross the railway bridge at Carcross. What was left of him was fished out of the water under the bridge later. Whether he jumped overboard to escape the spooks or fell over never was known. Skookum Jim, who could take care of his share of Dago red in his day, went into a decline and died a few years ago at Carcross. All were Tagish Indians.

Cormack, after making the strike and realizing a fortune, went to Seattle, married a white woman, and has lived there ever since.
