DISTRICT MEMBER TAKES VIGOROUS STAND AGAINST McLEAN'S LANGUAGE

Colonel C. W. Peck Resigns as Protest

Objects to Statement of H. H. McLean regarding Widows of Soldiers being encouraged in idleness

OTTAWA, May 6.—As a protest against recent occurrences and the statements of General H. H. McLean before the parliamentary committee on pensions, Lieut.-Col. C. W. Peck, V. C., has tendered his resignation from that body.

In a letter addressed to Hume Cronyn, chairman of the committee on pensions and re-establishment, Colonel Peck says: "In view of the recent occurrences and regarding statements of General McLean, I feel that it is my imperative duty to resign from your committee."

While I do not pretend that my membership is of any great importance, I cannot consent to being a party to what has taken place."

STRIKE LEADERS TO WORK AT PRISON FARM

Rev. Wm. Ivens, W. A. Pritchard, R. J. Johns, George Armstrong, Ald. John Queen and B. E. Bray, the six strike leaders, convicted of sedition conspiracy and common nuisance in connection with the 1919 strike, have been sent to the prison farm on the Greater Winnipeg Water district, 75 miles from the city, it is officially announced. J. G. Downie, governor of the provincial jail, said that the men will be employed in the construction of new jail buildings, the building of roads, clearing the farm of tree stumps, and in doing general farm work.

The six men were removed from the provincial jail Thursday, and only a few people, who happened to be in the vicinity of the jail at the time, saw them go. Since their conviction the men have expressed a desire to be sent to this farm as soon as the good weather came in, and they left apparently quite pleased at their wishes having been granted and at the prospect of working in the open air during the summer.

Ballantyne Denies Story That Government Proposes Following Jellicoe Scheme

OTTAWA, May 6.—An absolute denial of a story credited to the Halifax Echo which said that the government proposed carrying out the naval program proposed by Admiral Jellicoe was made this morning by Hon. G. G. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine and Naval Affairs.

Admiral Jellicoe's report and proposals were brought into the House of Commons on March 11 and were tabled at that time by the Minister of Marine and Naval Affairs. The admiral made four suggestions for the establishment of a navy estimated to cost anywhere between $5,000,000 and $25,000,000 for Canada. The fleet unit was to consist of one battle cruiser, two light cruisers, six destroyers, four submarines and two fleet mine sweepers. A Royal Naval Reserve was also recommended.

Although eminent statesmen in Canada and Great Britain have urged the carrying out of the plan, the government refuses to commit itself to either of the schemes—thus the denial of the minister.

Princess Beatrice and Princess Ena already off run; Forty-Eight Hours Notice given on Other Boats by Employees

Is Matter of Wages and Men's Working Conditions

Grand Trunk Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Union Boats affected; Men include Firemen, Wipers, Oilers and Seamen

VANCOUVER, May 6.—Coast shipping is likely to be tied up by a strike. Union officials have issued instructions to firemen, oilers, wipers and seamen on the steamers of the C. P. R., the G. T. P. and the Union Steamship Co. to give 48 hours' notice of their intention to strike in order to force the companies to handle the wages question and also the working conditions in a manner satisfactory to the union.

The union officials announce that as the ships reach port the men will be given instructions and those notified today will leave their vessels Friday, unless a settlement is reached in the meantime.

The firemen on the coal burning steamers Princess Beatrice and Princess Ena left their ships yesterday, having given 48 hours' notice while up the coast in anticipation of the trouble. The Beatrice is tied up, while the Ena is at Esquimalt, where she went to load supplies for northern cannery points.

When seen this morning in connection with the Vancouver despatch, superintendent Beaumont said he hoped the Prince George would get away for this port, as the notice of the men would not expire until the day after the time for sailing. He would probably receive information in regard to her this evening.

The tieup of these steamers will work a hardship on all the places up the coast, including Prince Rupert, but the railway running in here will relieve the situation to some extent. Goods can be shipped from the east and also from Vancouver by way of Lucerne, but the cost will be higher.

Shipbuilding Now Likely Speed Up.

It now seems likely that there will be a speeding up in the local shipbuilding program. Newman Era has performed his part of the settlement with the Mullen interests by making a substantial payment in cash to the Bank of Montreal toward the purchase of the Mullen shares in the Prince Rupert Drydock & Engineering Co. of this city. When he has completed his payments, amounting in all to $75,000, he will not only control but own the plant and business and it is to be presumed that he will want to make it pay. For that reason he will certainly see that the work is speeded up and Prince Rupert may look for a more prosperous time ahead.

Since the shipbuilding commenced, this city has benefitted very materially. Work at the plant has been going on steadily, but there has been a feeling of uncertainty all the time that did not give the people here confidence. From now on it is to be expected there will be a change. If more contracts can be secured for the shipyard, as it seems quite likely will be the case, we may look for much improved conditions in Prince Rupert.

Why Cats More Than Dogs?

In a police court case yesterday it developed that poison was laid for cats that howled at night but dogs took the poison and there was trouble. Naturally now the cat owners are up in arms. To many people cats are much preferable to dogs. They live in the home as one of the family, but no one can prevent them roaming occasionally in the spring season and howling, to the annoyance of those who live near. A cat fight on the back fence is not uncommon and the language that accompanies the scrap is not only undignified but absolutely objectionable.

No one can blame a person for wanting to destroy howling cats, but those same howling maniacs are the meekest and sweetest family pets from some of the best houses in the city. Their owners not only value them as property but in many cases the cat is the best friend. To kill the cat is worse than murdering a close friend.

The same applies to a dog with many people. The dog is a companion and friend of man and the cat of woman, although these relations are often reversed. There is as much mourning when the pet cat or dog dies as when a close friend is lost. This is not always remembered by those who are annoyed by howlings and barkings.

How Carlyle Game Back.

For two long years Carlyle had not earned a cent by his pen. But with the energy and ferocity of a tiger he was ploughing his way through the book that was to make men of after ages marvel. For five months more he slaved and starved till the first volume of "The History of the French Revolution" was finished. Then he loaned the manuscript to his friend, John Stuart Mill.

On a certain morning, Mill called upon Carlyle. His face was gray as ash; his lips trembled. After hours of awkward, tortured, agonized beating about, he managed to blurt it out—he had left the precious, priceless manuscript on a desk—the housemaid had taken it—and with it—started the morning fire.

Carlyle was like a stricken man. But one day, pondering in his grief, looking dumbly out of his window, he saw cheery bricklayers building a house, brick by brick, row on row. He leaped into the air as though shocked out of a trance, electrified with a sudden wave of inspiration and determination. Bursting into hysterical tears and sobbing like a child, he cried: "I, too, can bring back thought by thought and rebuild my book!" He did. All of the manuscript, he recalled and rewrote. And more.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight.

The table given is for Port Simpson but the time for Prince Rupert varies only a few minutes on some days and on others is the same. The range of the tide may be computed as 5 per cent greater at Prince Rupert than at Port Simpson both at springs and neaps. Therefore the rise in the Prince Rupert harbor is slightly greater than Port Simpson.

The height is in feet and tenths of feet above the average level of lower low water.

Colonel Peck HeadsINDIAN MAIDEN WITH GUN DEFENDED CASH

Drove off Midnight Invader by Firing Over His Head

How Mary Lizzar, eighteen-year-old daughter of the chief of the Sooke tribe of Indians, left alone in her house at night with two little children and $1000 in cash, resisted and fought off Simon John, one of the young Indian braves of the district, was told Judge Lampman in the County Court at Victoria. Simon John is now on trial for breaking in.

Mary told the Judge that her father, on leaving for Clo-oose on April 20, left $1000 which he had received for the sale of a boat in her care. She went to bed early with two little nieces, seven and five years of age. She nailed the windows, locked and bolted the doors and put a can at the kitchen door so that the noise of it falling would alarm her if anyone entered.

In the middle of the night she was awakened by the sound of a key in the lock of the bedroom door, which was also locked. She asked who was there and a voice replied that it was Simon John.

"I told him he had better get outside before I shot," Mary continued. "I took a gun and two shells and went out of the bedroom. I told one of the little girls to lock the bedroom door behind me. She stayed inside and locked it.

Simon John went outside the front door. He tried to jump at me to get the gun, but I told him he had better get away or I would shoot."

Mary went on to explain that she fired a shot up in the air and Simon John ran away with all speed.

"I didn't want to lose the money so that is why I gave it to my daughter," Chief Lizzar testified. "And I gave her a gun and two shells to protect herself with."

Clara Shields, grand-daughter of the chief, who was one of the corroborated the evidence of little girls left alone in the house.

"EVEN AS EVE" TONIGHT AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

A fierce fight is staged between a dog and a man in a cave deep in the rocks in the First National picture, "Even As Eve," taken from "The Shining Band," one of Robert W. Chambers' famous stories. The picture will be shown at the Westholme.

Eileen, a beautiful girl, brought up in the wilds of the Adirondacks, far from the haunts of men, keeps a strong box in the cave with "treasure" and secret papers committed to her by her father, just before he died. He does not reveal the contents, but tells her they are important and not to let any one get hold of them.

One night she is followed to the cave by a false prophet of a fanatical band, the leader of which knows of the existence of the papers and is trying to secure them. He attacks her in the cave and secures the treasure. However, her screams have been heard by a young doctor, who spends the summers in a club house nearby. He and his dog, a great shepherd, rush to the rescue. The dog arrives first and launches straight at the man's throat. He burls him to the ground and is tearing him to pieces when the man reaches a bit of rock and stuns the dog. He is about to crush the dog's skull when Lansing arrives and Eileen and the treasure are saved.

The story of how Eileen, the little woodland girl, enters society is one of fascinating interest.

Mrs. P. E. Doncaster and child arrived from New Westminster yesterday morning to join Mr. Doncaster who is in the Dominion public works office here.

The trip of the S. S. Princess Beatrice to this port this week has been cancelled. Consequently there will be no north or south-bound sailing of a G. P. R. boat this week-end except for the southbound call of the Princess Mary.

Among those passing through the city on the Grand Trunk boat yesterday was Hunt Gordon who has gone to Anyox for the summer months. Mr. Gordon is a student at the University and will spend his vacation at the mining centre of the north.

A delegate of the local Great War Veterans' Association will be named at the next meeting of the order to represent the Rupert branch at the Fernie convention. It is likely that President Kelly will be named for the trip.

Among those arriving from the South on the Grand Trunk boat yesterday was George Coombs of Nanaimo who is on his way to Europe. Shortly after graduating from High School he signed up for overseas service and served for a long time in the front lines with the stretcher-bearers corps. While actively engaged he was wounded in the head with shrapnel which necessitated the removal of an eye. He is now on the way to undergo an operation with one of the leading military doctors in France to have a shrapnel fragment removed from behind his eye.

Stuart Anderson, one of Prince George's real old timers, returned last week from several years spent on active service overseas with the Blue Cross Veterinary Corps.

A special clean up week for all city premises has been declared for this week by the city authorities.

Work on the widening of Patricia Avenue around the northern part of Connaught Park has been recommended and will be carried to completion. The yardage removed will be used in filling up the depression in front of the city hall.

PROVINCIAL GUIDE BOOK

"British Columbia, 1919," is an
Up-to-Date Publication Handsomely Engraved.

"British Columbia," a handsome pictorial review and guide to the province, has just been published by the Sun Publishing Company of Vancouver. The publication is replete with facts and figures of conditions in B. C. at the beginning of 1920 and is one of the most up-to-date published in the province for many years. The pictures and engravings are a feature of the book and are indeed works of art. Published in Vancouver, the book centres the industries and advantages of the province around that city, but it is, nevertheless, an interesting record of provincial affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Maguire are staying at the Hotel Prince Rupert since the arrival of J. T. C. Williams, fisheries inspector, who is taking over from them his residence on Second Street.

TO SUBSCRIBERS
