Annual Meeting of P.R. Swimming Club

W. D. Vance replaces T. C. Duncan as President; p'ans laid for season's Improvements; Provincial Government to Help

The Prince Rupert Swimming Club is to be a live institution again this year. That fact was made plain at the annual meeting last night in the city council chamber when officers for the coming year were elected, reports were received and plans were laid for the work of the season.

It was decided to ask the mayor to be allowed to hold a tag day next week to raise money to liquidate a small debt from last year and to make more improvements at the lake. Further funds it is expected to secure through the sale of membership tickets and possibly by the collection of wharfage at the lakes from commercial boats landing there. WILSON VETOES President T. C. Duncan reported that Mr. Pattullo had promised to have included in the local estimates a sum sufficient to double the width of the walk from the wharf to the take. He had consulted with the local engineer and found that already the promise had been implemented and prevision was made for the work

Secretary - Treasurer Tabrum reported that there was money on hand amounting to $5.07 and debts outstanding from last year to the extent of $177.33, making Engineers of Algunican Company a net deficit of $172.16. A large amount of work had been done last year and the Provincial Government had given $300 instead of the expected $500 or they would have been solvent with a few dollars on hand.

Develop Canada's Mineral Resources.

In connection with the big steel merger, mention of which has been made on several occasions in this paper, the London Times in a recent issue just to hand says:-

"It marks a great step forward in the commercial development of the Empire and provides fresh testimony to the enterprise which the leaders of British industry are displaying at a moment when the ability of British manufacturers to regain the ground lost in the war is being put to the test. The scheme means much to both Canada and to Britain, and its importance in ensuring future supplies of iron ore for the steel plants of this country can hardly be over-estimated.

"By general agreement Canada has reached a point when       the active development of her mineral resources would in any case have been taken in hand. But her financial resources and her experience in the steel industry rendered it inevitable that she should look outside her own borders for the assistance necessary for such development, and had no other interests come forward with an offer such as the British group has made, there can be little doubt that the task would ultimately have developed upon the iron and steel interests of the United States. .

"As an outcome of this consolidation these vast resources will be preserved for the benefit of the British Empire, and another link will have been forged in the commercial chains which are steadily rendering Britain and the overseas Dominions more and more interdependent."

Minister Should

Be in Commons.

In the House of Commons recently Mackenzie King, the Liberal leader, objected to the ministers of labor and soldiers reconstruction being members of the Senate where they were unable to answer questions asked by members. He said that these were the two important portfolios at the present time and the ministers in charge should be members of the House of Commons.

Mr. King might have gone further and suggested that an appointed Senate at this stage of the world's history was an anomoly that should be at once removed. To have an old men's home in which to put politicians who were of no further use or whom the people had rejected, was not in line with modern from midnight to midnight. methods of government.

It is often argued that the Senate has been useful. So an absolute monarch, but that is no reason for our returning to the absolute monarchical type of Government. The best kind of government often is the paternal government, but no development lies that way. So no development lies in the way of the continuation of the Canadian Senate in its present form.

Up to Government to Solve Car Problem.

Now that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is a Government greater than Port Simpson. road it is up to the Government to solve the local car situation. The height is in feet and tenths We hope that Colonel Peck will not allow the minister of labor or any other minister at Ottawa to camouflage him into believing lower low water. that it is not possible to secure cars to handle fish shipped from this port. If the present penalty for retaining cars is not heavy enough it is for the Government to increase it. The United States NOTICE OF INTENTION TO APPLY TO roads will not retain the cars unless it pays to do so.

It has been evident for a long time past that there is a nigger hidden away somewhere in the forest of useless sticks-Ottawa. Is it that the Government does not care about the interests of this city? Would they like to kill the trade of this port? . If they are in earnest in the matter we hope to see results. ACCUSED SAYS WATCH GIVEN FOR SECURITY

Denies Story of Hindu That I Was Snatched From Him-Adjournment.

Evidence was taken in Hokannen theft case in the county court yesterday afternoon and adjournment was ordered by Judge Young until Monday afternoon in order to get further evidence as to the accused from Anyox and also from the bus driver who drove accused to Seal Cove where the theft is alleged to have been committed.

Constable McGlinchy and Santokkh Singh, the Hindu who says the accused took his watch, both gave evidence similar to that reported in the preliminary hearing. Gobal Singh, another Hindu, was also called and he told of seeing a man running down the track at the time of the theft.

The accused then took the witness stand and told that he had been given the watch as a security for $2 paid for a taxi ride. He said that the informant and himsell had both been drunk. This the informant denied and Constable McGlinchy also stated that when he had seen the informant shortly after the alleged theft, het bore no signs of intoxication.

Accused speaks very broken English and John Nikonen acted as interpreter until it was found that accused could make himself intelligible in English.

PHOTOGRAPHS PROVE TENANTS' INNOCENCE

Two young people, just mardon for a short term, says the Times. They were surprised, as they were leaving, by a demand for compensation for damage to specified pieces of furniture. They knew they had not done the damage, but how prove their innocence? It was an aggravating dilemma. As they were despair. ing and almost resolved to pay and be done with it, they belarge one, and had taken several pictures of his bride when they first came home. Possibly these would reveal the marks on chair and shelf. They did. Chair, and shelf both came into the photographs, and the marks were clearly revealed. "The damage was done when we came," said the young couple, displaying the photographs.

Though the evidence may not have been perfect, it served. The claim was withdrawn-and husband and wife are now quarreling over the authorship of the brilliant idea.
