GERMANY ANXIOUS TO HOLD THE FRIENDSHIP OF AMERICA

WILL MAKE REPARATION IN ARABIC INCIDENT — INVADERS PREPARING FOR ARTILLERY ATTACK ON BREST — LITOVSK—FRENCH AVIATORS RAID A GERMAN GUN FACTORY

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Aug. 26.—An inspired statement has been issued by Von Bethmann Hollweg that the Arabic incident has been eliminated, so far as Germany is concerned. Germany has designed a submarine policy for the future, so far as it affects Americans, which will prevent a repetition of the Lusitania incident.

If Germany finds that the submarine which torpedoed the Arabic acted contrary to orders, ample reparation will be made for American losses. Germany is anxious to maintain the friendship of America.

Russian Front.

The German invaders are slowly gaining the railroad system in Russia, bringing their artillery against Brest-Litovsk and Grodno. It is expected, in view of the Russian determination to entrench on their reformed line, that artillery will count for little.

Bombs on Gun Factory.

Paris, August 26.—Sixty-two French aviators dropped 150 bombs on a German gun factory at North Sarrelouis.

Western Front.

On the western front, artillery exchanges and hand grenade fighting are frequent.

RELATION OF BALKANS TO EASTERN BATTLE LINE

The relation of the Balkan States to the eastern arena is daily becoming more important. The map shows the eastern battle line, the fluctuations of which are being watched by the statesmen of the Balkan nations, whose entrance into the conflict on the Allies' side would be of great value as shown on the map.

GERMAN ARRESTED FOR INDIANA MURDER

(Special to The Daily News.)

Gary, Ind., August 26.—George Schneider, a member of the Saxon Verein, has been arrested for the murder of the Rev. Edmond Kayser. The theory of a supposed Slav assassin has been abandoned.

Schneider had a dispute with Kayser over his attentions to a woman, and his opposition to the plans of the society.

PROHIBITION CONVENTION

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, August 26.—There were 800 delegates at the British Columbia Prohibition Convention. John Nelson, owner and editor of the Vancouver World, was elected chairman.

THE ELECTION

The latest rumor predicts an election for Oct. 6. Judging by the strenuous efforts being put forth by the political engineers, this is probably within a week of the correct date. The old machine is carrying too big a load this trip.

GERMAN RESERVIST ARRESTED IN THE STATES

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, Aug. 26.—Gustav Kopsch, a German reservist employed as an instrument maker in the Carnegie institution, has been arrested on a charge of photographing defenses. Accused had in his possession photos and plans of the fortress at Munroe and the reservation at Cape Henry, Va., where the government is planning extensive works to defend Chesapeake Bay.

PROFESSOR ADAM SHORTT ON ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT OVERDONE — CANADA MUST GET DOWN TO PRODUCING NECESSITIES — GREAT HOPE FOR THIS COUNTRY AFTER THE WAR IS OVER

In the absence of Bishop Du Vernet, William Manson, M. L. A., presided over a gathering of 65 gentlemen at the Canadian Club luncheon in the Central Hotel yesterday. After lunch was served, and the toast to "The King" duly honored, the chairman called upon Professor Adam Shortt to deliver an address on "Present Day Economic conditions."

At the outset Dr. Shortt expressed great pleasure in having the opportunity of addressing such a gathering of Prince Rupert business men. He said he had always found it a great pleasure to speak at Canadian Club gatherings because of the fact that they embraced men of all shades of opinion, who were used to having men from all quarters expressing their own particular experiences, free from all restraint. His hearers could take away with them anything they felt to be true, or say, with Thomas Carlyle, after a fruitless search in a weighty volume, "That proves that there is nothing there."

"We are all interested in this terrific struggle," said Dr. Shortt, "and, most of us, in reading of some great world struggle, have speculated as to how it must have felt, and what an experience it must have been to have lived through such a period. Today we are passing through just such an experience. Never, at any time has so much of the world been involved. The destiny of the world is in the balance. No country has a deeper and more vital interest in the future than Canada, because it is the latest and last of the great areas open to the civilization of the northern races. The greatest changes and developments that are yet to come are on this continent, and on the northern half of it. We must confine our attention to the question of how the situation is going to affect our country in its economic development. All our other development hinges on that. There is no sharp contrast between the worship of culture and that of mammon. Both are related always.

Dr. Johnson said, "Men are seldom more innocently employed than when they are making money." Countries which are interested in other things than the making of money are generally a pretty wild and unstable lot. The greatest interest for us is the supply of capital. For the last fifteen years, this country has depended upon a steady flow of capital from London, the centre of the world's capital. That supply has been very severely curtailed, and was in process of curtailment before the war broke out. We must turn to the United States for capital for our municipal and business development.

Capital originates when a man has something over and above what he requires for his daily needs, and which he can hand over to someone else to use in some other line. That which is capital to one man immediately becomes the support of daily life to another. $50,000 expended in wages is capital, but as soon as it is paid over to the individual it ceases to be capital to him. If he can save any of it and turn it into some other investment it becomes capital again to the individual. The capital of a nation is not emasured by what it spends but by what it saves and turns back into channels of production.

To build railroads and cities, capital has flowed into Canada at the rate of over $300,000,000 per year for ten years, providing a free element from which we could draw. As this capital has been lent to us as a basis for earning power, we must look to the repaying of principal and interest. It is, therefore, a vital question as to how we have invested it. The vital question is as to whether profits on the investment will return rapidly, or whether the investment will lie dormant for a long term. For instance investment in a transcontinental railroad may not show a return for a century or a century and

Mr. St. Amour has received a wire from Art Noble saying that he is leaving Peterboro on Aug. 28th and will be in Prince Rupert on September 10th.

MATRON OF HOSPITAL RETIRES THIS MONTH

At the meeting of the Hospital Board last night, the resignation of Miss McTavish was formally accepted. Miss McTavish, who has been matron since the opening of the institution, desires to take a well-earned rest.

The members of the board expressed regret that the matron was leaving and spoke of her services to the hospital in the highest terms. It was decided to send a letter to Miss McTavish expressing appreciation of the good work she had accomplished.

ALL-STARS WON LAST NIGHT'S BASEBALL GAME

The stars shone on Acropolis Hill last night, when, with Ben Hunt on the rubber, they took the C. C.'s into camp by the score of 9 to 0. Aided by brilliant fielding, Hunt was never in difficulties, as he only allowed four scattered hits. Art Manson, catching his first game of the season, did magnificent work.

The Stars had their batting eye with them and hit Babe Fortin harder than usual. The same teams will line up on Friday evening, weather permitting, for the second game of the series.

All Stars:—Hunt, A. Manson, Breckenridge, W. Anderson, Earsman, Joe Ratchford, J. Ratchford, and B. McDaniels.

C. C.'s:—Fortin, Hannifin, J. Murphy, E. Murphy, Henning, Moore, Astori, Young, and McDonald.

"THE BETTER MAN" AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

"The Better Man," being shown at the Majestic Theatre, is a drama of intense situations and great human interest. The contrast between the hypocrisy of the parson who wants all the world can give, and the self-sacrifice of the preacher who gives himself in assisting the people of the slums, is sharply defined. This is one of the finest dramas screened at the Majestic for a long time.

"THE DANCING GIRL" AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

"The Dancing Girl" was greatly appreciated by patrons of the Westholme last night. Florence Reed, as a simple little quaker girl and a popular London dancer, plays the widely different parts with striking effect. The grim solemnity of the quaker views of life is splendidly portrayed, while the love story running through the piece has a fitting climax. It is a picture well worth seeing.

VALHALLA SOCIETY

FAIR NOTES

Bulkley valley say they are coming down to the Fair in numbers this year. They will by that time have harvested the best crop ever grown in the Bulkley, and, notwithstanding the unsettled times, are satisfied with the progress made in the valley in the year 1915.

Mr. Myers brought in some fine samples of Naas river grain recently. He states that the Naas river farmers, although located in the latest district in Northern B. C. to come under development, will make a good showing at the Fair, they are after the "Dewar Cup," and after it strong.

Doc Stanwood came in on last night's train.

WAIT PATIENTLY

Though there is little news coming through regarding operations on the western front, it is evident that the Allies are far from being idle. It is not for us to question the wisdom of the reticence displayed by the war office and the admiralty regarding recent fighting, though it is tantalizing to get a vague message via Berlin that the navy has been doing things along the Belgian coast. However, the men in control of affairs military and naval are the best judges as to what should be made public, and what should be withheld. They are not interested in furnishing news, and the public must just be satisfied to wait confidently, and calmly, the official statements.

Details are not withheld in order that the British public may be kept in the dark, but that the enemy may get to know as little as possible as to what is being done. Press despatches from the western front are more meagre these days than they have been since the war began, but some day we will get a full account of what has happened during the past days and weeks. Until that time comes, we must be patient and confident. One thing is certain—the enemy can never again develop a successful offensive towards the English Channel. He is held tight at every point, and it is only a matter of making full and careful preparations for the final crushing advance. It may come this fall, and it may not happen until next spring, but that it will come is certain. The Allies are not hesitating but preparing.

BOSS RULE OVER

The days of the political boss are numbered, and they are not hard to count. In Manitoba he had a gay spell for years, but from that province he has been ousted, it is to be hoped, for all time. His last happy-hunting-ground is British Columbia, and, within the next few weeks he is bound to meet with the same fate as was meted out to his political brother in the prairie province.

His satellites in British Columbia are trying to convince themselves that the boss political machine is still strong enough to hold the track and carry them through for another term, but their confidence is more apparent than real. In their inmost minds they know that the game is up. The old machine has been subjected to a strain which it cannot possibly stand up under.

Loaded down with a cargo of railroad bonds; hampered by a most iniquitous trust scandal; trying to carry along an illegal Indian reserve deal, while the resources of this enormously wealthy province have been handed over to the tender mercies of the speculator, the McBride-Bowser gang cannot hope to make the grade.

In the past, McBride has done wonders as a promiser, but his promising days are over. At the forthcoming election he must stand or fall by his past, not by his promises for the future. During the next few days, there is liable to be a plentiful supply of white-wash scattered around in Victoria, but, no matter how carefully it may be applied, it will fail utterly to cover up effectively the doings of the Conservatives in the past few years. The people of British Columbia will consign McBride and Bowser to the political oblivion they have earned so thoroughly.

a half, whereas an investment in mining or farming may return principal and interest in two or three years, and be turned into some other channel of investment. The whole question is one of how the capital is to be got out."

Going on to deal with the waste of capital in war, he pointed out, that every day a vast amount of fluid capital is absolutely blown away in Europe. The wages earned in producing and transporting troops and munitions goes to pay part of the living expenses of the country, but the product is lost. The speaker went on to point out how, when a new western city which will require say 3,000 people is built up to accommodate 10,000, the difference is so much capital lost; just as surely as if it had been blown away in war. "The trouble with most western cities," said Dr. Shortt, "is that, where a city for 3,000 or 4,000 people is required within two or three years, you have to bring in six or seven thousand people to build it. So long as the building period continues everything is all right, but when the boom is over you have more houses and men than are required, with a consequent stagnation." The lecturer went on to show that the reason why banks do not recognize land as good security is that the land itself is slow in giving returns. The product of land, in the shape of crops, is naturally considered a much better investment.

Dr. Shortt dealt with the argument put forward by Socialists that labor produces all wealth, pointing out that labor alone can do nothing in the way of producing. He instanced the case of a number of miners discovering rich ore in the mountains, and going to the capitalists for a grub-stake to enable them to work their claims. Capital would again be needed to build the smelters and mining plant. You might have a mountain of copper and ten thousand laborers, but without capital you can do nothing.

Looking at the position of Canada, in view of the fact that the world is destroying an immense amount of capital, the speaker went on to show that, after the war is over, there will be a collapse. During the war, trade in many lines has been stimulated, but when the war is over, there will be a collapse, and the first line to suffer will be the production of luxuries. Spending power will be devoted to absolute necessities. In this connection, Dr. Shortt held out great hope for Canada, as this young country has not gone far in the production of luxuries. The struggle of the world will be for the next meal, and Canada will do well in crop production on the prairies and fish production on the coasts, while the lumber industry will also benefit materially. In the next ten or twelve years, by a "back to the land" movement, Canada will suffer less from the ill effects of the war than any country.

In conclusion, the speaker pointed out that Canada had over-railroaded in building three transcontinental railroads, where two would have been ample, and that capitalists in London demanded that the Canadian railroad situation be got into a more solid condition. "Prince Rupert,"

he said, "has erred like the rest of the western cities, in developing away ahead of immediate necessities," but he believed that the city had great prospects, though wages throughout the west must be materially reduced before manufacturers will be tempted to come along. He pointed out that the people of Germany, France and Italy, though earning much smaller wages than the people of this country, were better off, when the low cost of living in these countries was taken into consideration. He instanced the case of Sir William Priestly, a famous Bradford cloth manufacturer who was approached with regard to opening a factory on this coast. Sir William said it would be impossible for him, under existing wage scales and enormous cost of living, to produce a yard of cloth at a price to compete with the markets of the world. Extravagance in living must be reduced, storekeepers profits must be curtailed, with a corresponding reduction in wages. When that has been done, the enterprise of the west, devoted to the production of the necessities of life, will put Canada on a sound economic basis.

At the close of his most interesting and instructive address Professor Shortt was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

Greater than Panama's Bridge of Water

The Panama Canal is the logical outcome of the trend of modern commerce—it is monumental evidence of the present-day need for shortening distance—for lessening time and for reducing cost of distribution between maker and consumer.

In point of distance, the Panama will bring the Pacific nearer to the Atlantic by 1,000 miles. In point of time, the sea voyage between Halifax and Vancouver will be shortened by 24 days. In point of cost, the canal will very materially lessen the expense of carrying freight between these places. But there is a stronger factor than even the Panama in shortening distances, lessening cost and saving time between manufacturer and user.

It is Advertising—

It is the quickest—

It is the most direct—

And it is the cheapest—means of communication between the maker and user of goods.

For instance, Advertising enabled a manufacturer in Nova Scotia to carry a demand for his product from his factory to the Pacific Coast

—in a few days

—at an insignificant cost compared with slower and more laborious selling methods.

In one week, thousands learned of his product where it would have taken years for the news to get around without advertising.

To the Manufacturers of Canada:

You will be alert to take advantage of the Panama route for the physical transportation of your goods. Have you considered how quickly, how far, and at what small cost the Advertising Trade Route will carry demand for those goods?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
