NEW BALKAN LEAGUE FORMING— ROUMANIA PREPARING FOR WAR

GERMANS MASSING ON ROUMANIAN FRONTIER—ROUMANIA STANDS FIRM—RESERVISTS CALLED HOME—CONSTANTINOPLE CANNOT HOLD OUT AFTER SEPTEMBER 25

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Sept. 16.—The massing of Austrian and German armies on the Roumanian frontier has resulted in Roumania preparing for eventualities. The army is mobilized and all reservists have been called home. The steadfast refusal by Roumania to allow the transportation of German military supplies through that country to Turkey has caused bitter animosity.

Balkan League.
Negotiations are under way for the formation of a new Balkan League comprising Roumania, Serbia and Greece. The Berlin press announces the likelihood of the early entry of Roumania into the war.

Turkish Distress

The German commander in Constantinople informs Berlin that, unless supplies arrive, the city cannot hold out after Sept. 25th.

The Ottoman bank and other business has been transferred to the interior of Asia Minor. All the Turkish artillery is under control of the Germans for fear of a Turkish insurrection.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT IS IN VANCOUVER

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, Sept. 16.—H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught has arrived here from Vernon, where he inspected the troops at the concentration camp. The primary object of his visit to the coast was to visit the soldiers at Vernon. He stated that he had not been privileged to review a flower body of men, and he was certain that they would do all that was required of them. Today, he will inspect the 72nd overseas regiment, which is encamped at Hastings Park.

Vancouver, Sept. 16.—The B. C. Manufacturers Association has decided to hold a public mass meeting to protest against the failure of the government at Ottawa to give British Columbia a share of the war contracts.

COLONEL CURRIE, M. P. ARRIVED LAST NIGHT

Col. Currie, M. P., commanding the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, accompanied by Mrs. Currie and their daughter. Col. Currie is home on leave from the front, where he has been with the Canadian Scottish. He says the Canadians have made good and are deservedly popular.

Col. Currie, who is an ex-newspaper man and not a stranger to British Columbia, expects to return to the front shortly. He will conduct recruiting meetings in Victoria and Vancouver. The party left for the south on the Prince Rupert.

GREAT COUP BY GEN. IVANOFF TEUTON RIGHT WING CRUMPLED

20,000 GERMANS KILLED AND WOUNDED, 13,000 PRISONERS ARE TAKEN—GERMANS RETREATING—COSSACKS PURSUING—GREAT REJOICING IN PETROGRAD

(Special to The Daily News.)
Petrograd, Sept. 16.—The Russians have made a great coup by a double flanking movement, under General Ivanoff, against the Teuton right wing in Poland, resulting in 20,000 being killed and wounded, and 13,000 being taken prisoners. There is great rejoicing in Petrograd.

The Teuton right wing is in retreat towards the Strypa river, with the Cossacks in pursuit. The battle is raging along a 220 mile front from the Priput marshes to the Dnieper. The Petrograd railroad is again in the hands of the Russians.

Prize Cargoes.

London, Sept. 16.—A British prize court has condemned the cargoes of four steamers carrying American products to Germany. The cargoes are valued at several million dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McLeod arrived last night from Hazelton. They leave for the south Saturday morning.

GAMBLING

Complaints have been made to the police about the amount of gambling going on in the city, and, at the police commission meeting yesterday, Chief Vickers was instructed to notify all cigar stores that dice-shaking must be stopped.

The city solicitor pointed out that gambling is only illegal when carried on for gain. The wording of the act is "a house, room or place kept by any person for gain, to which persons resort for the purpose of playing any game of chance."

WESTHOLME THEATRE

"The Country Boy," a four-reel Paramount feature, is the star item of the Westholme program for tonight. Florence Dagmar and Marshal Nielan, as the country boy and girl, are splendid. The story is of a country boy who goes to make his way in New York and falls a victim to the attractions of a chorus girl, and is ultimately left down and out. The staging of the piece is very fine, the scenes of New York life being vivid and realistic. How he returns home and climbs back into favor is beautifully depicted. The Pathe Gazette shows a very impressive picture of Australian troops holding worship in the desert, amongst other army views. "His Taking Ways" is a very funny Keystone comedy.

Mrs. McClymont returned last night from an extended visit in the east.

LAUNCH PARTY ARE SHIPWRECKED

Word has just reached the city that the 42-foot launch Nonade, bound from Blaine, Wash., to Hardy, Alaska, put into Banks Island on Tuesday disabled. The captain and one of the men set out in a canoe to get supplies, leaving at the island a man and his son, and a lady and her three daughters.

The party left behind was picked up by a passing boat and taken to Larsen Harbor, Lewis Island, where they were taken care of by John Wanner at his ranch. The Northern Cross, which put in there on Monday, furnished a party to search for the captain and man, and in company with Mr. Wanner covered about 220 miles, but, so far, no trace of the men or their canoe has been found.

MAJESTIC THEATRE

The Pathe program at the Majestic Theatre was greatly appreciated by a large audience last night. "Rods of Wrath," a three-reel drama, is the story of a dream, in which a sea captain who has been in the habit of treating his little son cruelly, is warned of the possible consequences. It is a story of great human interest, while it also provides several thrilling scenes. "Wifles Wins the Winsome" is a Parisian comedy full of refined humor, while "Amateur Night" is laughter provoking, without being of the rough and tumble type. The Pathe Gazette is up-to-date and interesting.

H. Molson Macpherson, J. E. Dalrymple and Captain C. H. Nicholson left for Vancouver this morning.

Follow the crowd to Self's Cafe. There is a reason. Next Majestic Theatre. 102th.

Exhibitors are requested to send in all entries for the Fair to the secretary, box 1657, Prince Rupert, before the 19th inst.

SPEECHES BY TRADES UNION DELEGATES TO LABOR CONGRESS

A. M. RIGG, M. P. P., OF WINNIPEG, AND E. W. A. O'DELL, OF HAMILTON, ONT., ADDRESSED MEETING IN EMPRESS THEATRE LAST NIGHT—LOCAL LABOR MEN ARE CONGRATULATED

The Trades and Labor Council of Prince Rupert held a very successful meeting in the Empress Theatre last night, when addresses were delivered by E. W. A. O'Dell, representing the Boot and Shoe Workers Union, and A. M. Rigg, M. P. P., of Winnipeg. S. D. Macdonald, who presided, intimated that Mr. Rigg had contracted a severe cold on the train, and Mr. O'Dell had kindly consented to assist.

Mr. O'Dell, after expressing great pleasure in being privileged to address a Prince Rupert audience, dealt with the importance of the Trades and Labor Congress, which meets shortly in Vancouver, describing it as "Labor's Parliament." After showing what labor had been able to perform in the way of bringing about legislation favorable to the working classes, such as a workman's Compensation Act, he went on to point out that many seemed to believe that labor organizers are out to create trouble between employer and employee. In his wide experience of the labor movement, he was satisfied that organized labor had proved in the long run beneficial to both parties. He showed how the badge of labor on Union-made goods had been an assistance in the selling of these goods, as it was proof that the goods had been made under proper working conditions. In conclusion he congratulated the labor men of Prince Rupert on the strength of their organization, which would prove a benefit to the community and to the Dominion at large.

Mr. Rigg congratulated the Trades and Labor Council of Prince Rupert on having organized for business at this early stage of the city's development. He pointed out that, by delaying organization in Winnipeg until the forces of capital had become strong, they had found the struggle for recognition a hard one. He had fought for a municipal, provincial and Dominion seat for years and had been regularly defeated until recently.

In dealing with the industrial aspect of the labor question, he said that the start of the introduction of machinery had completely done away with the individual as a force. Over a century ago, in Britain, men had been imprisoned, lashed and transported as criminals because they advocated the cause of labor. Today, men were beginning to realize that, in order to do efficient work, they must be banded together. In the world of finance, the death of such an individual as J. Pierpont Morgan did not upset things in the least, simply because in the financial world the individual had given place to a machine. Organization in every line is now a necessity.

In speaking to the non-union men, he pointed out that organized labor had not only done a great deal for itself, but had also accomplished much for the men outside, but who ought to be inside. "In the contract for the Manitoba parliament buildings, one of the most interesting buildings in the world today, on account of its history, though he had been told that if the searchlight were turned on British Columbia, that history would begin to look a little more respectable,

Yet in Winnipeg you will find carpenters ready to work for 25 cents an hour, who will also be ready to ask for union wages just so soon as things pick up again," he said. He went on to show that the wage earner who is not a member of a union, but who accepts what the union procures for him is a parasite and an ex-

LIBERTY AND DISCIPLINE

The war has naturally turned our minds to the relations of liberty and discipline. At one and the same time we are condemning Prussian despotism and fighting to protect ourselves from it, and we are asking men to submit themselves to discipline—not only the recruits who are to join the army but men engaged in industrial pursuits and in every kind of occupation. In Great Britain the leading topic of discussion is the organization of the nation for war. Of course that involves a certain discipline and some restriction of liberty. Obviously we must find some means of reconciling discipline with liberty. On the one side it is said that there is no use in talking about freedom and democracy unless we can beat Prussia and its vassals. On the other side it is said that there is no use beating Prussia if we are all to adopt Prussian methods.

Naturally one would like to propose some very brilliant solution of the problem, but the truth is that the solution is very obvious. It is to be found in the exercise of moderation and common sense. If you say that the truth lies between extremes, that discipline is necessary and that liberty is necessary, you must be prepared for the sneer that you are talking platitudes. But you will be telling the truth, whether it is a platitude or not. And the platitude, the obvious thing—the thing that lies right under your nose—is the very thing that you are in danger of overlooking.

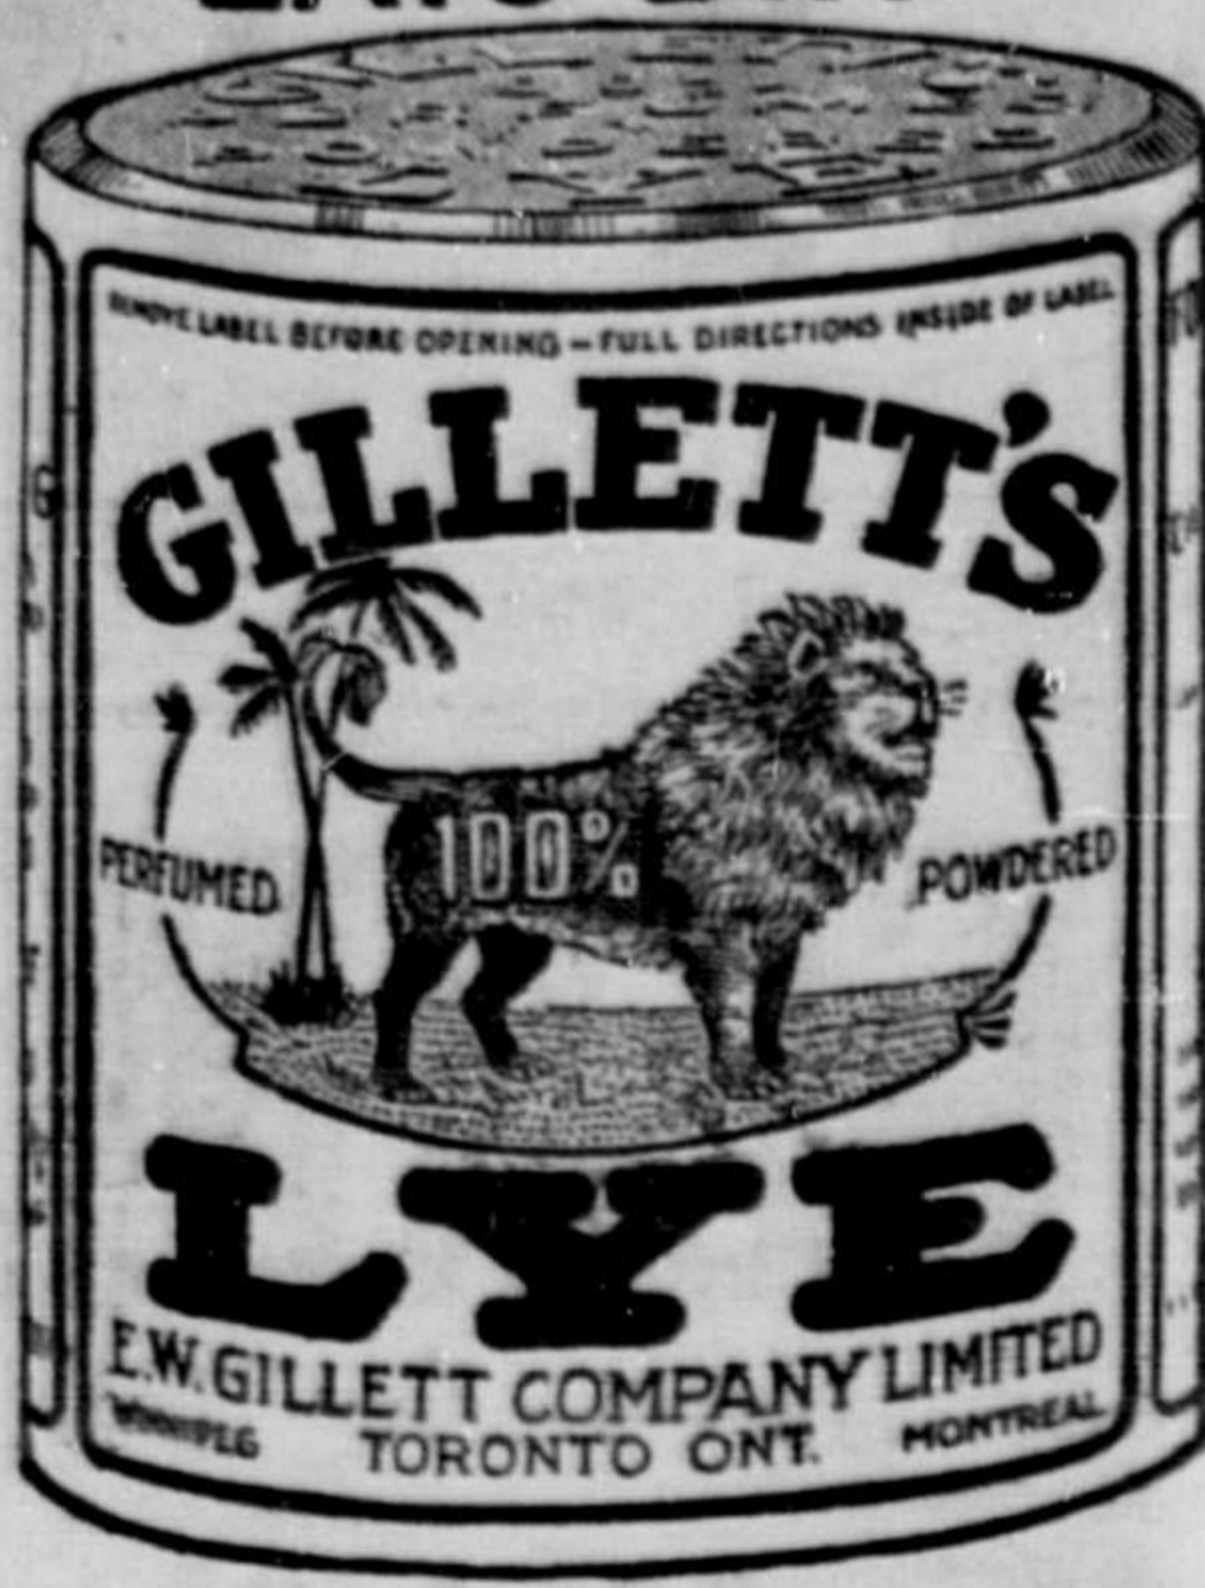

The first thing to be understood is that war is an abnormal condition, requiring extraordinary methods. When the house is on fire, or a member of the family is dangerously ill, no one expects the family to act normally. Lloyd George puts this very well when he says: "War is like a fever, a fever in your veins, and the rules which are applicable in health are utterly unsuited to a fever. Restraints which would be irksome, stupid, and unnecessary when a man is healthy are essential to save his life in a fever."

Now, while this is a good reason for certain restraints in time of war, it is also a good reason for not hastily taking any action now which may restrain liberty or impair public rights when peace is restored. Because a man must live on milk when he has typhoid fever, it does not follow that he must never again eat roast beef and potatoes. What he must do is to avoid the poison that gave him typhoid fever. On that text many articles might be written. It involves the real solution of the quarrel between the pacifist and the militarist. But at present we pass it by. Our duty at present is to cure the fever, to put out the fire. We postpone the discussion on the question of preventing disease and preventing fire. The sanitarian, for the moment, must make way for the surgeon. The fireman must take precedence over the man who studies fire-proof construction. In the long run, the sanitarian and the advocate of fire-proof construction will be heard and will win. They can afford to be patient. Time is on their side.

The Round Table makes a point that all discipline is not necessarily self-discipline. That is true. The highly disciplined German behaves in Belgium like a savage. He had submitted to bosses, but he had learned neither liberty nor self-control. When peace returns we shall require self-discipline and we shall require liberty. The autocrat is not the man to preach discipline. He is often the most wilful of men, the foe of liberty and the friend of license. It is in a true democracy that we shall find true liberty and also true discipline—that is self-discipline. We must beat the Prussians; then we must not copy them, but show them the better way.—Toronto Star.

THE SPEED LIMIT

At the police commission yesterday, the question of the speed of automobiles was discussed. The city clerk was instructed to draw the attention of chauffeurs to the fact that action will be taken against anyone driving an auto at a speed exceeding ten miles an hour, and that autos must carry the regulation lights at night.

FAIR NOTES

Entries for the coming Fair are coming in rapidly, and from every district in Northern British Columbia. From all indications the space allowed for agricultural and mining exhibits will have to be increased in the coming Fair.

Mining.

A bar of silver, the product of the Harris mines, Hazelton, which Mr. Harris has presented to the Association through the Board of Trade for the purpose of having a permanent mining trophy, made for yearly competition, will be made into a trophy as soon as possible, if not for this year's fair, and it is expected that it will form an added prize for the best district mining exhibit from any part of Northern British Columbia. This bar of silver was the first silver to be produced in that now thriving mining camp of Hazelton. Ten years from now, when they are producing silver by the ton, the cup will be a novelty, and should go a long way towards creating competitive interest in mining exhibits amongst the various districts of the north.

Baseball.

Hazelton has signified its intention of sending down a baseball team, and other places are yet to be heard from. In addition several games between the Indian teams of the district will be pulled off during Fair days.

THE DAILY NEWS

In the Letter Box

Prince Rupert, Sept. 16, 1915.
Editor Daily News,

Dear Sir:—In an editorial, this morning in the Journal saying that the citizens ought to be friendly towards the G. T. P. I can assure the editor of that paper that the city council, at Monday night's meeting, in asking Mr. Chamberlin to meet the council, had no other purpose in view than having a friendly discussion regarding the agreement between the G. T. P. and the city, so as to hear what Mr. Chamberlin had to say regarding it.

As we all know that money is hard to get at the present time, it was not the intention of the council to be unfriendly or to urge the G. T. P. to live up to the agreement. So far as I am concerned personally, I would have suggested that the company try, if at all possible, to open up Seventh St. or some similar work, that would not be too expensive, which would give employment which would help to relieve some of the unemployed, for a short time at least. As for myself, I heartily believe in the city, the G. T. P., and the provincial and Dominion governments all working together for the good of Prince Rupert. By doing so the city is bound to grow. The Dominion government is behind the railway to the extent of guaranteeing the bonds, so that the more they help to develop the city and railroad, the less chance there will be for the government having to pay interest on the bonds.

Yours respectfully,

ed how the Roblin government had repeatedly hoodwinked the workers into voting for it. He said that the victory in Winnipeg is of little account except as an impetus to labor men all over the Dominion to get busy and do likewise. In conclusion he drew attention to the fact that the imperial government had, when the crisis came, to take away control of the railroads and many of the factories from the capitalist, and he believed that when the crisis is over the capitalist may have difficulty in getting them back. After urging the labor men of Prince Rupert to get together and keep together in the furthering of the class movement, he resumed his seat amid applause. Both speakers were accorded votes of thanks.

The Case of AB Smith Retailer.

A. B. SMITH has a dry goods store in a certain Canadian city. He does a good business, but wants to do more. He believes that Advertising in his local newspaper is the way to get more business. So he advertises—every now and then.

This is where our friend Smith is wrong—in advertising every now and then. He should advertise regularly—as frequently as his local newspaper is published.

Smith says he wants to advertise regularly, but he can't always find the time to prepare advertisements, which is true, for he is his own buyer, sales-manager, director of store service, credit man and half-a-dozen other things.

What Smith should do is this: If he is located in one of the smaller cities, in which there are no advertising agencies giving a local copy service, and he has no one among his own staff qualified by instinct or experience to write the daily announcements, he should go to the publisher of the newspaper in which he means to advertise, requesting his help. In nine cases out of ten, the publisher, through his advertising manager, will be only too glad to give Smith the assistance desired.

If Smith is located in one of the larger cities he should secure the services of a recognized advertising agency which will take over the work of preparing his advertisements.

In this way Smith can be sure of having his advertisements prepared regularly and intelligently, with no more trouble to him than the supplying of the information required by the writer of the advertisements.

So Smith can do more business, and more business means a larger income for himself, to say nothing of other gains that go hand in hand with the doing of bigger business.

This man Smith---do you know him?
Are YOU Smith?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
