TEST CASE UNDER EARLY CLOSING BYLAW

PRINCE RUPERT'S NEW FISH EXCHANGE

Thanks to the courtesy of J. R. Beatty, manager of the government wharf, local fishermen have now the nucleus of a fish exchange. A comfortable room, formerly used as a waiting room, has been placed at the disposal of the fishermen and buyers, where they can carry on their negotiations.

Something of the kind was badly needed, as it enables the small fisherman to meet the local buyers without any trouble or inconvenience. It is not so long since such accommodation was provided at Seattle, and it is found to be of great service there. This little room at the government wharf is decidedly a step in the right direction, and some day soon larger quarters will be required.

VARIED PROGRAM AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

The Westholme tonight and tomorrow presents a splendidly varied program of comedy, drama and world's news. "The Making of Him" is a very fine two-act drama telling the story of a jealous lover whose sweetheart persuades him to enter a military training camp. The discipline and training work wonders and make a new man of him.

"In the Wolf's Den," the 8th episode of "The Road O' Strife" is just as thrilling as the others have been. "Billy the Bear Tamer" is a real good comedy, and "The Deadly Despatch" is another laughter-raiser. The program includes a very fine Hearst-Selig Gazette showing the latest news of the world.

Monday sees another stage of "The Diamond from the Sky" unfolded.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL WILL BE HERE ON MONDAY

Hon. W. J. Bowser, attorney-general of the province is expected to arrive from the east on Monday evening. He has been visiting his mother in New Brunswick. He will leave for the south on Tuesday morning.

CHARGE OF BREACH OF EARLY CLOSING BYLAW

Before Magistrate McMullin at the police court this morning, D. W. Morrissey was charged with keeping his shop open after 6:30 p. m. contrary to the early closing bylaw.

City Clerk Woods testified to the passing and publication of the bylaw.

Mr. Fulton, representing Mr. Morrissey, proceeded to question Mr. Woods as to the withdrawal of certain names from the petition for the bylaw.

Mr. Peters objected to this line of questioning on the grounds that the court had nothing to do with deciding the question of the validity of the bylaw, and that the matter could not be discussed.

Under the application to quash the bylaw, the bylaw may be quashed, but he held that in the meantime the bylaw is valid and in force. It would be ridiculous if every man brought up on a charge of committing a breach of a bylaw had the power to go into the validity of the bylaw. Mr. Peters held that one magistrate may decide that the bylaw was improperly passed and tomorrow another might decide that it was in order, and in the one case a man might be fined and in the other dismissed, while each had committed the same offence.

The city solicitor pointed out that the supreme court alone could decide as to whether the bylaw were valid, and had been properly passed. Any judgment by a police magistrate as to the validity of a bylaw would not be binding. He held that it would be futile for the court to go into the question as to whether the bylaw had been irregularly passed. The bench might as well be asked to decide as to whether the council sat at the correct time when the bylaw was passed.

Mr. Fulton held that if the bylaw was not passed according to the statute it is void and pointed out that, since the necessary three-fourths of the grocers did not properly sign the petition, the bylaw was improperly passed by the council and, therefore, void. In support of his contention, he quoted from a case which came before the Ontario courts in which it was found "that it is the duty of the magistrate in all cases to consider and decide as to the validity and reasonableness of the bylaw."

He pointed out that everything possible had been done to quash the bylaw and a case with that end in view would come before the supreme court in due course, and he held that time must be given to repeal the bylaw if it is invalid, and that Mr. Morrissey intended to keep his store open as, in the meantime, the bylaw is void. He pointed out that several merchants had notified the council of the withdrawal of their names from the petition before the bylaw had passed its first reading, and that such notice rendered the petition invalid in that it did not carry the necessary number of signatures.

In reply, Mr. Peters pointed out that the Ontario statute and the B. C. statute were entirely different in one vital point, and that

PARKER WILLIAMS WILL SPEAK ON SATURDAY

The people of Prince Rupert will have an opportunity of hearing Parker Williams, leader of the Socialist party in the provincial house, speak in the Empress Theatre on Saturday night. The meeting is under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council, and begins at 8 o'clock.

For many years Mr. Williams has labored in the interests of the working men of British Columbia, and is held in the highest esteem by men of all shades of opinion.

MARIPOSA MAY BE RE-FLOATED AND SAVED

The salvors of the Alaska Steamship Company's boat Mariposa, which is on the rocks near Bella Bella, report that she can be saved and refloated. The vessel is badly damaged forward, but is not injured aft of the forward engine-room bulkheads. The engines are undamaged.

Much of the cargo, including 200,000 feet of lumber for the Alaska government railroad, can be beached. When the vessel struck, the passengers behaved splendidly, stepping off the rail, when the ship listed, into the small boats without fuss or confusion. A number of horses were injured and had to be shot, while some live turkeys were let loose. They flew ashore and were caught by the Indians.

OUR LOCAL ARTIST

G. S. Pearce has kindly lent two of his fine water colors to the Board of Trade and they will shortly have an honored place on the walls of the rooms on Second Avenue. In time to come, this wonderful north land with its great waterways, mountains and unsurpassed sunsets, is bound to produce many artists and Mr. Pearce is breaking the trail.

the case quoted by Mr. Fulton had no bearing on the present case, as the Ontario case was entirely a question of the "reasonableness" of a certain bylaw, whereas there was no such question raised in the present case.

The case was adjourned until this afternoon.

FISHING DEVELOPMENT AT GOVERNMENT WHARF

The Independent Fisheries Co., of Seattle, whose buyer, Mr. Barnhoff, was recently sent to Prince Rupert, are now engaged installing a winch and hoist at the government wharf. Following the granting of room on the wharf, they set about making the necessary improvements for the handling of fish.

The electric motor and ice-crusher are now in position, and in the course of a day or two the hoist will be in proper working order.

RED CROSS APPEAL FOR NEXT THURSDAY

The following letter from Lord Lansdowne to the Lieutenant-governor of British Columbia speaks for itself:

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of British Columbia, Victoria, B. C.,

I beg to inform you that the British Red Cross Society and the Order of St. John, in view of the great demand upon their resources both in France and the near east have decided to make an appeal throughout the Empire by street and other collections upon the twenty-first day of October next. The money received from this appeal will be devoted entirely to relieving the sufferings of our wounded soldiers and sailors from home and overseas at the various seats of war from all parts of the Kingdoms. We have already received generous assistance in our work, but, with the increase of British and Overseas Forces at the front, there is a corresponding increase in our expenditure, and we shall be truly grateful to you if you will help us by organizing an appeal and sending the proceeds to us for the objects which I have named. I shall be greatly obliged if you will kindly communicate the foregoing to your government.

Their Majesties the King and Queen, and Her Majesty Queen Alexandra, are giving us their gracious patronage, and I trust that you will also be able to see your way to help.

LANSDOWNE,
President of the British Red Cross Society. 83 Pall mall, London.

THREE LAW SUITS OVER PORT EDWARD PROPERTY

That the directors of the Port Edward Townsite Company were illegally elected is the allegation in the case of Mr. John B. Doig against the company, in which an injunction motion was this morning adjourned for a week by Mr. Justice Macdonald.

Port Edward is across the Skeena from Prince Rupert and the defendant company has sold a great many lots in the townsite. At the company's annual meeting on September 15th some of the shareholders opposed the existing board of directors and Mr. Doig nominated a new slate. When the vote was taken Mr. Doig objected to the votes of those who favored the old board on the ground that the shareholders voting for the old board were in debt on calls on their shares and were consequently not entitled to vote. The shareholders favoring Mr. Doig's nominees were qualified to vote, he claimed.

Votes Were Accepted.

The chairman of the meeting accepted the votes objected to and the old board was declared re-elected.

This action is taken to have the election set aside and Mr. Doig's nominees declared as the proper board. The injunction sought is to restrain the present directors from acting in the meantime. They have undertaken not to act during this week. The motion is adjourned.

The principle at issue between the two factions appears to be one of how the company shall deal with shareholders who have dropped behind on their calls.

The last year's board which was re-elected is composed of Messrs. E. J. Matthews, William Agnew, J. Fred Ritchie, William T. Kergin, T. H. Johnson, L. W. Patmore and H. O. Crew.

The board nominated by Mr. Doig is as follows: Messrs. A. W. Stevenson, H. G. Woolley, W. J. Landahl, H. G. Tremayne, John P. Cade, F. R. C. Brown and J. B. Doig.

That the company is the centre of a storm of litigation is indicated by the fact that Mr. A. D. Taylor, K. C., who appeared today for Mr. Doig, has also issued a writ in behalf of Mr. Landahl to cancel his subscription. An allegation of fraud is made in this case. Mr. Taylor is also solicitor for Harrison, Gamble & Company, selling agents for the company, which is asking damages for alleged breach of the agreement.

Messrs. Bodwell, Lawson and Lane are acting for the company.

The tips of a new German aeroplane propeller trend forward when stationary, but are straightened by centrifugal force when revolving, which the inventor claims lessens the danger of them being broken by the strain.

WIRES DOWN

As a result of the gale last night, the telegraph service has broken down and the Daily News was forced to go to press without its usual war service.

STANLEY JOHNSON IS NOW BOMB-THROWER

T. Johnson, manager of the Cold Storage Company, has received a letter from his brother Stanley, who left Prince Rupert with the first contingent. He is a member of a bomb-throwing brigade, one of the most exciting and risky positions at the front, but has so far escaped injury. Like all Rupertians, Stanley has many questions to ask as to how things are going in the G. T. P. terminal.

COMEDY AND DRAMA AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

The Majestic tonight and tomorrow presents a great double feature program. "His Brother Bill," a two reel Lubin drama, heads the bill. It is a stirring military play. In "Coincidence," another two-reel drama, a powerfully dramatic story is unfolded.

The comedies are both good. "Why Billings was Late" and "A Boob for Luck" are screamingly funny, and the whole program is calculated to make one forget the weather for a couple of hours.

Monday brings along the 12th episode of "The Broken Coin." This intensely interesting serial has now reached the stage at which you must not miss a single episode.

CANADA'S PART

Is Canada doing her fair share in the defence of the world's liberty against German militarism? Mr. N. W. Rowell, who is always master of his facts and is not given to overstatement, says very plainly that the Dominion has done and is doing far less in proportion to her population and her wealth than any other self-governing portion of the Empire. He urges that this country should do at least half as well as the people of the United Kingdom, and raise the strength of Canadians under arms to 300,000 men.

There is no dispute as to the facts cited by Mr. Rowell to support his appeal. The population of Great Britain and Ireland is about 47,000,000. Before the war began some 660,000 men were serving in the army, the navy, and the territorial forces. Since the war broke out three million more have enlisted in Kitchener's army. There were in Great Britain before the war began about 1,350,000 more women than men, because of the fact that men emigrated more freely than women, and pay heavier toll in industrial accidents. The 3,660,000 Britons who have donned the uniform were drawn not from a male population of twenty-three and a half millions, but from one of 22,800,000 at most. It will be seen, therefore, that over 16 per cent. of the male population of all ages in Great Britain serves with the colors.

How do the figures stand in Canada? The census of 1911 showed an excess of males somewhat over 420,000. The disproportion in numbers of men and women has increased rather than diminished since 1911, and it would be entirely reasonable to assume that of the 8,000,000 people in the Dominion when war broke out 3,750,000 were women and 4,250,000 men. The enlistments up to the present time fill somewhat short of 160,000, or slightly less than four per cent. of the male population, as compared with 16 per cent. in Great Britain.

These figures do not constitute the most serious part of the indictment. The Canadian people are not responsible for the use made of the troops of the Dominion sent overseas, and if the men—keen and eager as they are for active service—are held in reserve in England the responsibility is entirely that of the British War Office. During the first year of the conflict, however, Canada was represented at the front by a single division of about 20,000 men. There are now at most 43,000 Canadian soldiers in France, or a little over a fourth of the total number enlisted. The number at the front is entirely inadequate when compared with the vast hosts sent forth from the British Isles. Canada will not be properly represented in the firing line until there are at least sixty thousand men there, with ample reserves in Great Britain to make up the inevitable wastage.

In Mr. Rowell's appeal and in the comments evoked by it there is no suggestion of partyism. The government of Canada in the raising and despatching of troops overseas has kept ahead of rather than lagged behind public sentiment. But more must be done if Canada is to fill the place hitherto accorded her as the premier overseas Dominion. The great bulk of the men who have left these shores to fight the Empire's battles were not native Canadians, but recent immigrants from Great Britain. It is doubtful if 30,000 native-born Canadians have yet gone abroad to take their part in the earth-shaking struggle. Canada, particularly eastern Canada, must do more, and will do more if the call of duty is sounded in the ears of her generous and high-spirited sons.—Toronto Globe.

VERY EFFECTIVE BUT COSTLY TORPEDOES

The principal type of torpedo used in the present war is known as the automobile torpedo, the cost of which varies from $4,000 to $5,000. The length is from 14 feet to 20 feet, and the weight half a ton or more, the steel body being cigar-shaped and consisting of four sections, firmly screwed together.

These four sections are known as the warhead, which is one-eighth of the total length and carries the explosive charge of from 200 to 300 pounds of gun cotton; the air reservoir; the balance chamber, which contains the mechanism which actuates the horizontal rudders of the tail and so keeps the torpedo at its correct depth, which is, of course, set before the weapon is fired; and the buoyancy chamber, which also contains the gyroscope, for correcting any deviation of the missile from the line of fire.

The torpedo shell travels under water at a depth of about 14 feet, and at that depth shows very little disturbance of the water on the surface. Recently, however, the German submarines have been sending torpedoes out at a depth of 9 feet, which enables them to strike a vessel drawing less water than the ordinary battleship.

There seems to be no protection against torpedoes at present. The torpedo net is still used in the British navy. This is strung from booms and surrounds the ship at a distance sufficient to prevent the shock of the explosive from injuring the hull. It seems, however, that torpedoes in the present war are equipped with cutters which tear through the net and permit the torpedo to pass through unexploded.—Tit Bits.

The Housekeeper is Right

Sometimes a housekeeper requires a quick leavening agent, and finds she has no baking powder.

What does she do?

She raises her biscuit by a mixture of cream of tartar and soda, or soda and sour milk. She may not get the proportions quite right, but she knows her food is safe. But does she ever use a mixture of alum and soda? Was there ever a housekeeper who bought alum and soda to make a home made baking powder? Intuitively she feels it would be unsafe.

Then why use baking powder made from alum or the same mixture that the housekeeper would not dare to mix and use in her food?

Alum is alum, whether bought in the drug store or in baking powder.

Local News Notes

Mr. Wallace, general manager of the Crown Life Company, of Toronto, is in town.

A. E. Wright has returned from Alice Arm where he has been engaged on survey work.

The City of Seattle arrived about midnight last night after one of the roughest trips from the north ever experienced.

H. R. Plate, of New York, who is interested in mining properties in the north, arrived on the Seattle last night. He leaves for Stewart on the Camosun.

A fishing exhibit is being got together at the Board of Trade rooms, and the secretary has already received from local fishermen several interesting specimens.

There is a very fine display of native grasses from Porcher Island on view at the Board of Trade rooms. It was arranged by M. H. Howitt, of the government horticultural department.

JACK TARS HAVE A CURIOUS PET

A curious souvenir of her victory over the Dresden is in possession of H. M. S. Glasgow. Among the survivors of the German raider which were picked up by the Glasgow's boats was a healthy young pig. This animal has been adopted by the Glasgow's crew as their ship's mascot. The pig takes quite happily to his new role of providing amusement for British Tars. It has become quite chummy with its new messmates, and follows them about the decks like a dog. To one bluejacket in particular the animal has attached itself, and during off-duty times the man may be seen taking a nap on deck and using the pig for a pillow.—Ex.

RED CROSS SALE

Help the boys at the front by sending in home cooking for the sale on Friday, at the store just vacated by E. Lipsett on Third Avenue, next door to the Arctic Studio. The sale will be conducted by Mrs. Jarvis McLeod and Mrs. W. E. Williams.

The money is sorely needed, so kindly patronize the sale, and do your little bit.

Coughing scatters germs —Stop it

Coughing increases the irritation of the already inflamed mucous membranes and is moreover apt to carry disease to others.

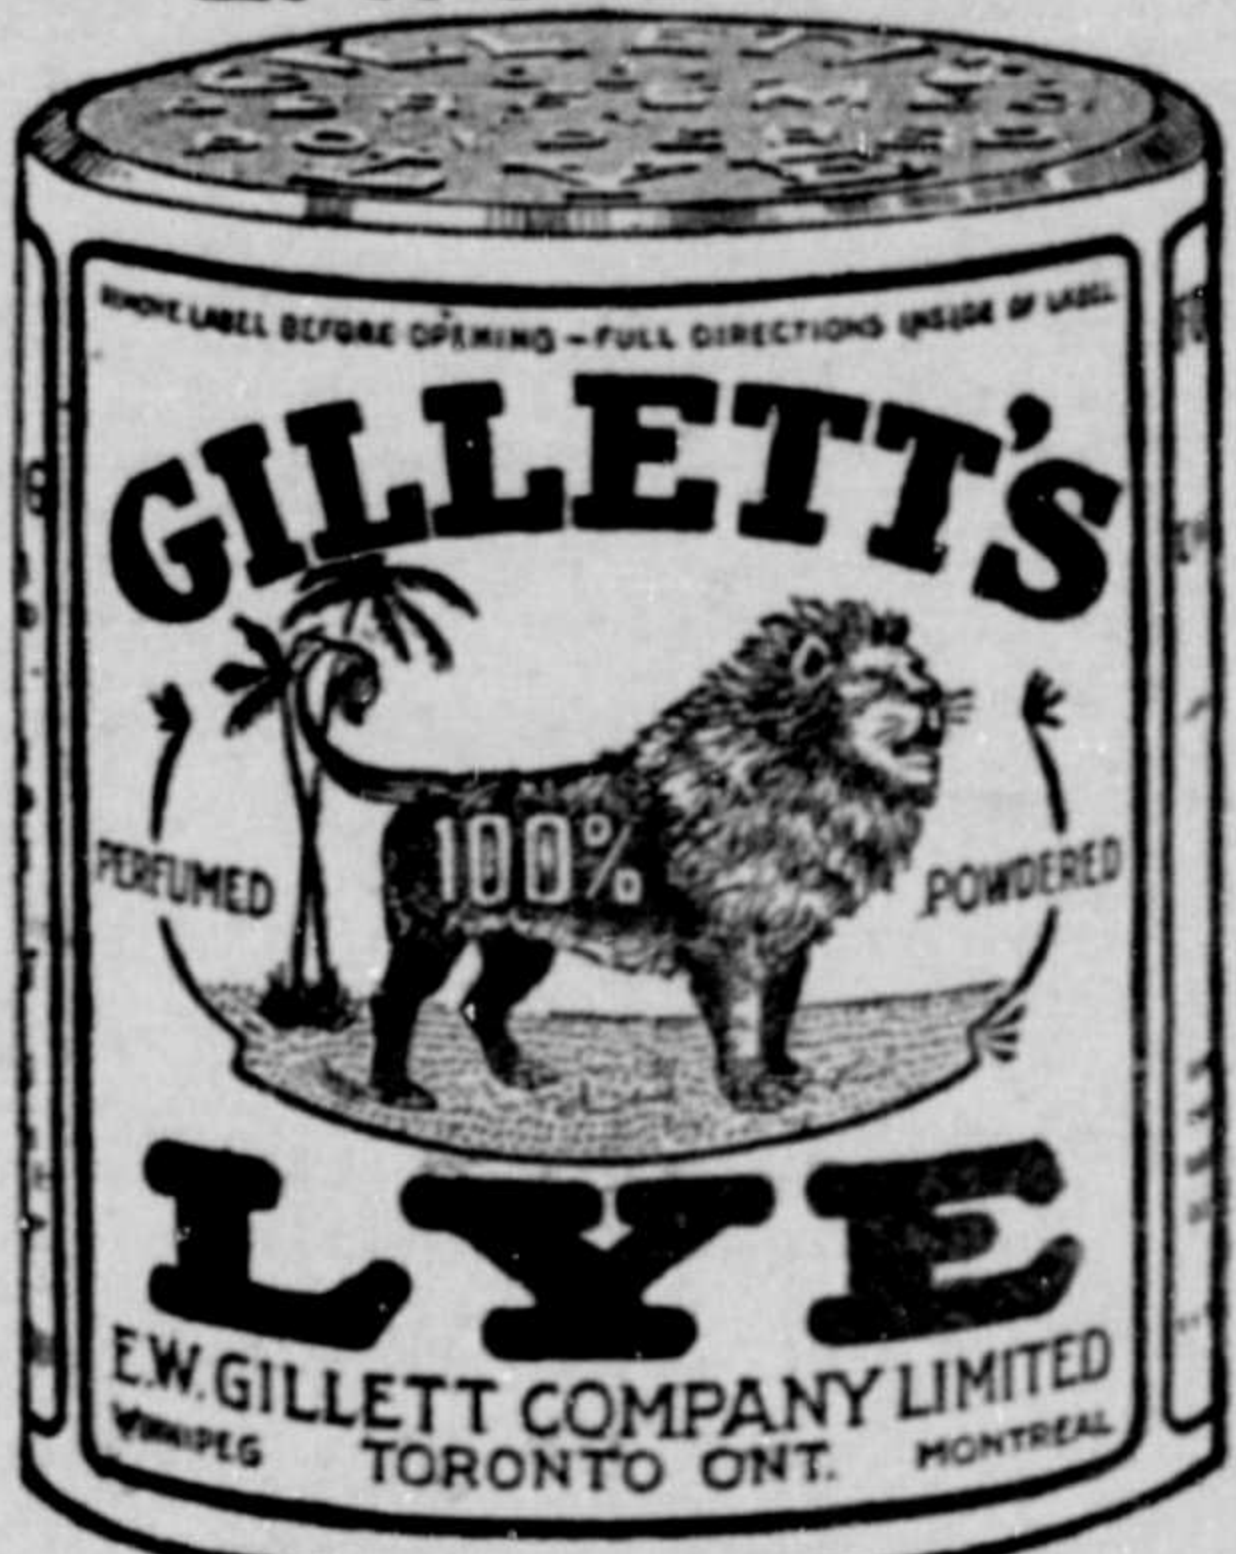

Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil promptly stops coughing, and soon, thanks to its tonic properties, effects a permanent cure. The wonderful popularity of Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil is specially due to its great value as a permanent lung and bronchial healer.

Sold everywhere, 35c large bottles.

RECRUITS WANTED FOR 62nd OVERSEAS BATTALION, CANADIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE.

RECRUITING OFFICE AT PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT OFFICE NOW OPEN.

In view of the recruiting which is in progress at present throughout the Province, it is apropos to answer a few of the questions which are considered by those who contemplate entering the Service. The following is a list of pertinent queries, together with the information which each elicits.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

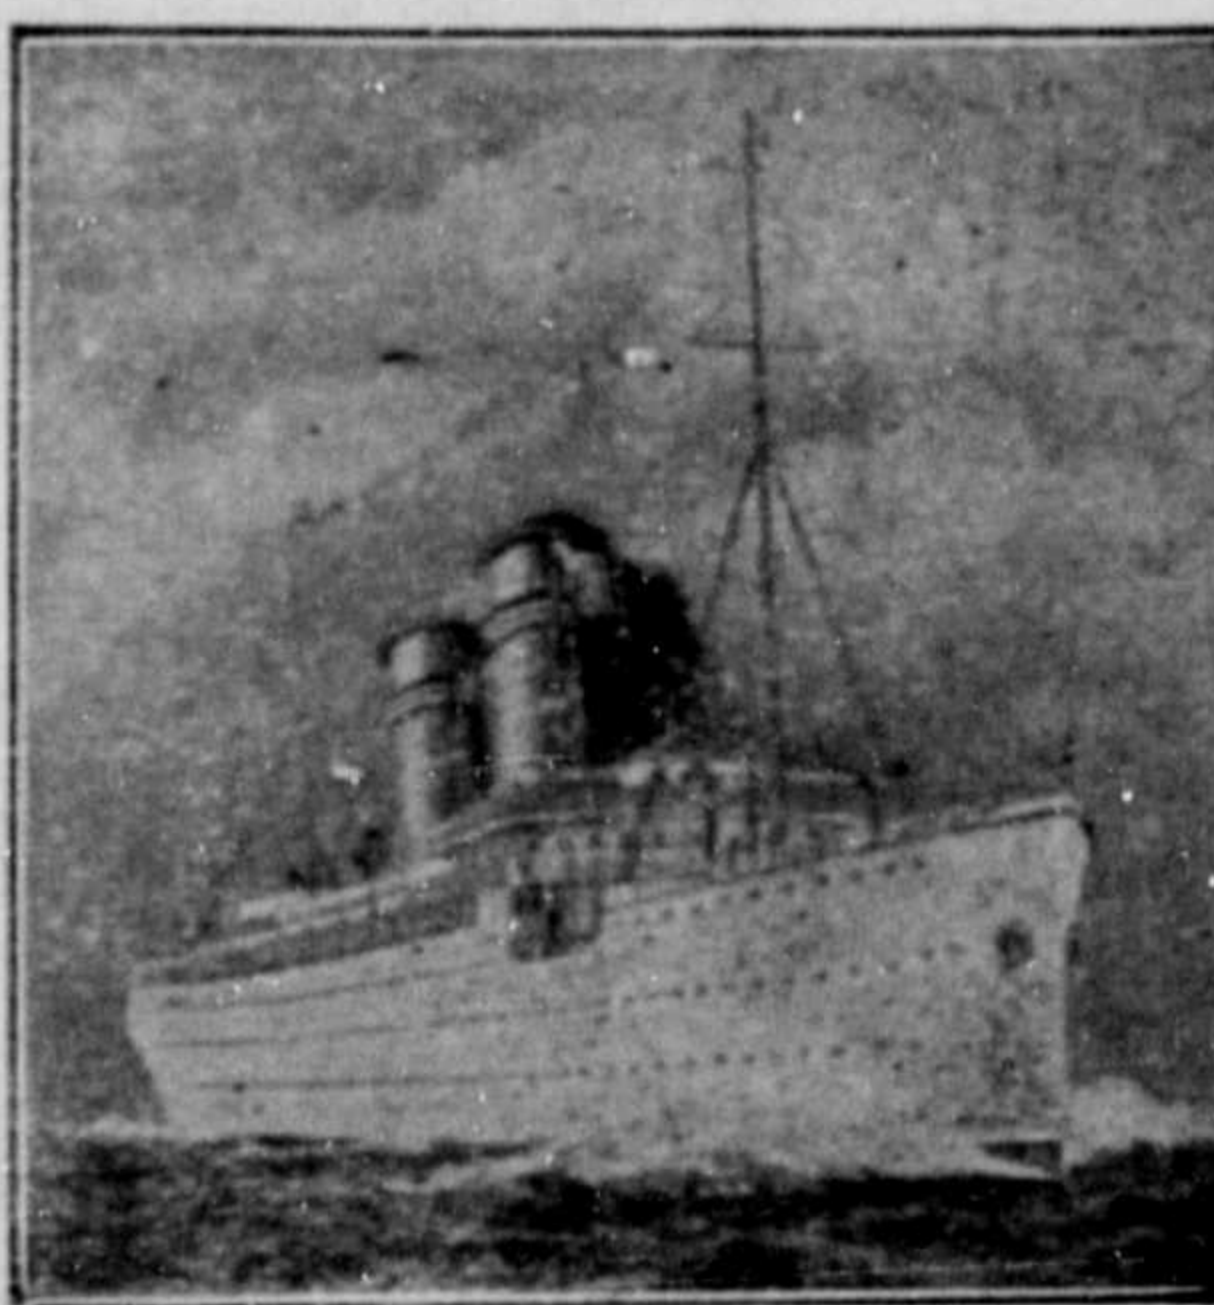

1.—How long am I to serve? Until the end of the war and six months after if required.

2.—What pay shall I receive? Your pay as a private will be $1.00 per day and 10 cents field allowance. Besides this you will be clothed, equipped and subsisted by the Government.

3.—What will my wife receive during my absence? Every month there will be paid her a separation allowance of $20 (also part of your pay) and if this be not enough to comfortably maintain your family, the Canadian Patriotic Fund will further assist them.

4.—What will happen if I am wounded or sick? You will be cared for by the Government and your pay continued until you are discharged. If you are permanently disabled an allowance will be paid you, varying according to the extent of your injury or disability.

5.—What will be done for my wife and children if I die while on Active Service? The Government will provide an adequate pension, that will enable the family to live comfortably until the children are old enough to look after themselves. The widowed mother of a single man, if the son be her sole support, is treated in the same way as a wife.

The Case of A.B. Smith, Retailer.

A. B. SMITH has a dry goods store in a certain Canadian city.

He does a good business, but wants to do more. He believes that Advertising in his local newspaper is the way to get more business. So he advertises—every now and then. This is where our friend Smith is wrong—in advertising every now and then. He should advertise regularly—as frequently as his local newspaper is published.

Smith says he wants to advertise regularly, but he can't always find the time to prepare advertisements, which is true, for he is his own buyer, sales-manager, director of store service, credit man and half-a-dozen other things.

What Smith should do is this: If he is located in one of the smaller cities, in which there are no advertising agencies giving a local copy service, and he has no one among his own staff qualified by instinct or experience to write the daily announcements, he should go to the publisher of the newspaper in which he means to advertise, requesting his help. In nine cases out of ten, the publisher, through his advertising manager, will be only too glad to give Smith the assistance desired.

If Smith is located in one of the larger cities he should secure the services of a recognized advertising agency which will take over the work of preparing his advertisements.

In this way Smith can be sure of having his advertisements prepared regularly and intelligently, with no more trouble to him than the supplying of the information required by the writer of the advertisements.

So Smith can do more business, and more business means a larger income for himself, to say nothing of other gains that go hand in hand with the doing of bigger business.

This man Smith---do you know him?
Are YOU Smith?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
