KING CONSTANTINE CONFERS WITH LEADERS

FEARLESS SPEECH BY VENIZELOS—SERBIANS ARE STILL STUBBORNLY RESISTING

SERBS OFFER DETERMINED RESISTANCE TO BULGARIANS

SERBS HOLD BABUNA PASS—BULGARIANS LOSE HEAVILY—THE MONTENEGRINS DEFEAT AUSTRIANS ON DRINA—GREEK CABINET CRISIS—VENIZELOS SPEAKS OUT—GERMANS REPULSED

(Special to The Daily News.)
Paris, Nov. 5.—The Serbs are determinedly resisting the Bulgarian invasion, and are holding the Babuna Pass firmly and have driven off the Bulgarians with heavy losses.

Telegraphic communication continues between Saloniki, Monastir and Nish, which confirms the Serbian report that the Bulgarians have not yet succeeded in capturing Monastir.

Montenegrin Success.
Around Visegrad the Montenegrins have taken sixty Austrian prisoners and have repulsed the enemy in an artillery duel on the Drina.

Greek Crisis.
Athens, Nov. 5.—King Constantine has summoned the leaders of all political parties to a conference, and it is expected that the ministerial crisis will end today. Zaimis was defeated by 147 votes to 114 on a vote of confidence after an altercation between ex-Premier Venizelos and his followers and M. Yanakitsas, minister of war.

Venizelos, in an outspoken, fearless speech, declared that the crown has no responsibility under constitutional government and said that it was only tolerated by the cabinet owing to the constitutional dead-lock caused by the King's action.

Germans Repulsed.
Paris, Nov. 5.—German troops were repulsed in a surprise attack on the French trenches between the Oise and the Aisne.

THE SITUATION IN SERBIA

The map indicating the position of the Bulgar-German armies who have joined hands, shows why Lord Lansdowne has little hope of the Allies being in time to help Serbia against the overwhelming strength of the enemy in this field. However, the British and French reinforcements which are being rushed north from Saloniki may be in time to avert the threatened rout of the Serbs.

BRITISH COLUMBIA DEMANDS NEW YORK CUSTOMS OFFICER

BRITISH COLUMBIAN BOARDS OF TRADE DEMAND THAT OTTAWA APPOINT OFFICIAL TO SUPERVISE SHIPMENTS IN BOND THROUGH THE CANAL—RAILWAY INTERESTS ARE INVOLVED

(Special to The Daily News.)
Vancouver, Nov. 5.—At a joint meeting of British Columbian Boards of Trade, it was decided to make a demand on the Federal government that it appoint a customs officer at New York, so as to permit British Columbia to get the benefit of the Panama Canal. It is alleged that the railroad companies are behind the government's inaction in the matter.

The delay of the Dominion government in granting bonding privilege, which has been part of the international trade arrangements between Canada and the United States for the past forty years, is regarded as a distinct violation of the rights of the province of British Columbia. A deputation of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, as long ago as last May, waited upon Premier Borden at Ottawa to present the arguments favoring the installation of a customs office at New York. Sir Robert promised full consideration and an answer later, but, so far as is known, that answer has never been given.

All that is asked is that the Dominion government place an officer at New York to supervise shipments in bond from points in eastern Canada, via the canal, to British Columbia.

ITALIAN ACQUITTED ON MURDER CHARGE

(Special to The Daily News.)
New Westminster, Nov. 5.—Rocco Ferrante, the Italian section hand, who was charged with the murder of Jesse Magoon, an engineer at the Vedder Mountain sub-station of the B. C. Electric Railway on June 12th, has been acquitted.

Magoon was found on his bed, shot through the heart, after an alarm of fire had been answered, and it was at first believed that deceased had been asphyxiated. Ferrante, the section hand, lived close by the shack of deceased. The affair is a mystery.

H. L. Harris, late editor of the Bella Coola Courier, will describe how the Tory machine works, at the Liberal meeting Friday.

WHEN VENIZELOS AND CONSTANTINE DIFFERED

In view of the resignation of the Zaimis cabinet in Greece, it is interesting to recall the cause of M. Venizelos' resignation. The King and M. Venizelos were both agreed that Greece must mobilize her army, but differed as to the object of the mobilization.

"M. Venizelos laid down two conditions as a sine qua non of his remaining in power—firstly, that the mobilization, which was defensive in character, should preserve that character even if it was used to beat off a Bulgarian attack on Serbia; and, secondly, that any guarantees offered by the central powers should not be considered as removing the Bulgarian danger, because if the Germans really wished to prevent a Greco-Bulgarian conflict they should and could prevent Bulgaria from attacking Serbia.

"King Constantine protests against any extension of the Serbo-Greek treaty to include as the enemies of Greece any allies of Bulgaria who attack Serbia.

A lively incident illustrating the real feelings of the Greek parliament and people occurred during the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies just before Venizelos resigned. M. Venizelos, after having repeated that the cabinet intended to fulfil its obligations towards Serbia in case Bulgaria attacked that country, added, turning towards the press gallery, "Only some journalists, corrupted by foreign gold, can dream of preventing Greece from pursuing the path of honor."

Some of the journalists, rising in order to protest, the Premier called out in a loud voice, "Go; your place is not here."

At these words the entire Assembly burst into applause, and loudly cheered the Premier.—Reuter.

Now that Venizelos is likely

E. H. MAYNARD'S HOUSE BURNED LAST NIGHT

About 7 o'clock last night fire destroyed completely the home of Mrs. E. H. Maynard, on Eleventh Avenue. Mrs. Maynard was in the city at the time of the outbreak, the two children being in the house, in charge of a younger sister of Mrs. Maynard. The cause of the fire is unknown. Mr. Maynard, who was formerly janitor at the city hall, is at present in England recovering from wounds sustained at the front.

The fire brigade was quickly on the scene, but the fire had got a firm hold on the house and its contents and there was no possible chance of saving it. It is not known whether it was insured.

again to be in power, the Greek people will be given the opportunity to "follow the path of honor."

STRUGGLES OF GERMANS ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT

The following extract from the diary of a German soldier, who was killed on the Russian front, speaks volumes for the effectiveness of Russian methods in retreat:

"Korstheu, September 18.—Here again is a destroyed bridge, crosses on the graves of fallen soldiers, dead horses, the very air is tainted. What drops of perspiration fall from us, the fatigue grows ever greater, I am already half-filled with water. Order to retire on the first village.

"Arrived there, but the houses are in ruins. Further, back again to the next village, ruins again. And the same thing recommences, which we owe to these dear Russians, three or four times over. Then, at the end of our strength, we reach some straw huts. Everything is carried off, and we camp where we are. But they won't give us any rest, these Russians. What soundrels they are. The thought of winter gives me the shivers. When the few fields of potatoes which are our sole means of nourishment, have disappeared, what will we do? Cattle here are very scarce. When the snow again covers the soil, what

SIX MORE LINERS WILL PLY PACIFIC

New York, Nov. 4.—Philip Manson, a director of the Pacific & Eastern Steamship Company, recently incorporated in this state, declared tonight that within two months his company will have six vessels operating under the American flag between American ports on the Pacific coast and Oriental points.

Manson, who is to be manager of the line, says the La Follette seaman's act, which goes into effect today, is not as harmful as some steamship owners have sought to make it appear.

"The seaman's law is a much over-rated bugaboo," he said. Discussing the recent sale of the Pacific Mail line steamers by their owners rather than register them under the American flag, Mr. Manson said he believed they were disposed of because they could be sold at a profit. It is Manson's opinion that the language—which has been greatly objected to—would not prove highly objectionable.

Within a month, he thinks, the Pacific Mail line officers, who spoke English, could have taught their crews their language well enough to comply with the law. With the act 75 per cent of the crew must understand the language of their officers.

will we do without any shelter? A comrade of mine declares that all those who brought about this war ought to be placed in a mortar gun, and bang! I think he is quite right."

The G. T. P. steamer Henriette brought in three earloads of blister copper from Granby yesterday, for transshipment east. The consignment represented about 100,000 pounds.

Odd sizes up to $6.00 for $2.50 at Fogg's.

TERRIBLE DEED BY A SEATTLE PLUMBER

(Special to The Daily News.)
Seattle, Nov. 5.—George S. Roberts, a plumber aged 45, killed his wife and blind daughter; fatally injured another daughter, and probably fatally injured his son, and then committed suicide with a revolver at the family home on Lucille St. at an early hour this morning. The terrible deed was the outcome of a family quarrel.

Constable Adams received a German water-bottle from Billy Kirke last night. It is on view at Cole's Cigar Store. At the Liberal meeting Friday H. L. Harris, of Bella Coola, will show how there are 400 days in the year at Bella Coola.

TAXATION OF WAR PROFITS

The president of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, in an official statement to the shareholders, announces that the company's business during the year which will end on September 30, 1916, should be in excess of $150,000,000, as compared with $27,000,000, the best previous year in the company's business. This amazing increase of output is anticipated, although the company's railroad equipment business is less than in former years. The record of this corporation, which has large orders from the Russian government, indicates the need for immediate action by the Minister of Finance in the direction of taxing war profits. The volume of business already brought to Canada as a direct result of the war cannot be less than five hundred million dollars, and may run up even as high as three-quarters of a billion. For the most part it is highly profitable, and as the supplies are shipped to the order of the British, French, and Russian governments there is no fear that the profits will be eaten up by bad debts.

The Globe has received information, the authenticity of which it cannot question, that in many of these army contracts the profits range from twenty-five to fifty per cent. of the gross earnings, and that some shell contracts in particular have been awarded at prices which give the proprietors of the factories more than a half of all the money paid for munitions. Only an accountant, with the authority of the government behind him, could tell if these assertions are true, for it goes without saying that few of the public companies will disclose at once all their war profits. Some part, by the hocus pocus of book-keeping, will be held in reserve against the proverbial rainy day, which, after the war-spending is over, and when the war-paying begins, may prove a deluge.

Canada needs revenue, and war profits should provide this year at least ten million dollars toward the cost of Canada's army. In Great Britain the Chancellor of the Exchequer expects that the treasury will receive during 1916 $150,000,000 as its share of war profits. This payment will be made by industrial concerns after the limitation of profits by government authority. It does not mean that the makers of war supplies are to be permitted to charge excessive rates and then return to the public treasury some small part of the excess. The average profits of the three years before the outbreak of war will be taken as the basis of calculation, and the companies will be allowed five per cent. above the average as legitimate profit on their capital as at April 5, 1914. Thus if a company had $100,000 invested in its plant at that time earning an average profit of 6 per cent., the shareholders would be allowed 11 per cent. on $100,000 as a reasonable profit. A very large part of the excess above this must be returned to the State.

Mr. White, in taxing war profits, will be following a sound British precedent. It is not fitting that the owners of factories adapted to the making of war supplies should be permitted to make great fortunes while the bulk of the people pay in greatly increased taxation, and many in blood

FISH TRADE FEATURED IN AMERICAN REPORT

The daily commerce report of the United States government, issued from Washington on October 28th, contains an article by Irving N. Linnell, American vice-consul at Prince Rupert, dealing with the landing of American halibut cargoes here since the passing of the Canadian Fishery Order-in-Council on March 9th.

It states that "since the month of April, the number of American boats selling halibut here has steadily increased." A table of the monthly returns at Seattle and Prince Rupert is furnished, showing that the receipts at Seattle are getting smaller, while those of Prince Rupert have increased enormously. It states that only 3 American vessels traded here in April, while in September there were 54.

The article goes on to compare Seattle with Prince Rupert prices. "The prices paid the vessels for halibut here, on the whole, been higher in Seattle than in Prince and tears. War profits in Canada should be taxed. An immediate announcement that they will be levied upon would do much to end gambling in war stocks.—Toronto Globe.

VALUABLE DIAMOND LOST IN A COAL CELLAR

A diamond and two tons of coal play the leading parts in an incident which is interesting at Hatton Garden, London, almost as much as the war.

The scene was laid in Charles Street where daily valuable gems are handed about by dealers in the street. M. Ruby von Boolen, a Belgian, and Mr. Cohen de Lara, a Dutchman, met on Monday afternoon to negotiate the sale of a number of diamonds. They were standing on the cellar flap outside Ye Old Leather Bottle, and while one of them was handling the stones he dropped one. It fell through a small grating in the cellar flap on to the coal beneath.

For hours the coal was poked and moved about in a vain endeavour to find the diamond. Eventually Mr. de Lara bought the coal for $25 in order that it might be washed and the stone recovered. The coal was packed in bags the floor carefully swept, and a van drove off with the diamond (it is hoped) somewhere among the two tons of coal.

It has not yet been found.—Edinburgh Dispatch.

The Housekeeper is Right

Sometimes a housekeeper requires a quick leavening agent, and finds she has no baking powder.

What does she do?

She raises her biscuit by a mixture of cream of tartar and soda, or soda and sour milk. She may not get the proportions quite right, but she knows her food is safe. But does she ever use a mixture of alum and soda? Was there ever a housekeeper who bought alum and soda to make a home made baking powder? Intuitively she feels it would be unsafe.

Then why use baking powder made from alum or the same mixture that the housekeeper would not dare to mix and use in her food?

Alum is alum, whether bought in the drug store or in baking powder.

RACES WITH DEATH TO REACH HIS SON

Seattle, Nov. 3.—A race with death was won by Capt. K. B. Kirkeland, president of the Pacific Sea Products Company, on Tuesday, when the steam whaler Unimak, of which he was in charge, arrived in port after a stormy voyage from Seward. Capt. Kirkeland had piloted the whaler down the coast at full speed to reach Seattle before the death of his son, Lauritz Kirkeland, who is at the Seattle General Hospital in a dying condition. The son was still alive at an early hour this morning, but attending physicians have abandoned all hope of his recovery and it is doubtful if he will survive the day.

Capt. Kirkeland has been in charge of the company's whaling station at Akutan since the early spring. The son, who was a member of the company, has been ill for nearly a year, during which time he underwent six operations. His condition did not become critical, however, until a few weeks ago. When physicians expressed doubt as to his recovery, the father was notified by cable and he immediately started for Seattle on the Unimak. The whaler was stormbound for six days at Kodiak Island and had an unusually rough time during the entire trip. Capt. Kirkeland feared that his son had died before he could reach his bedside, but when he was told he was still alive he rushed to the Seattle General Hospital as soon as he landed and remained throughout the night.

The son recognized his father and after an exchange of greetings lapsed into unconsciousness, from which he had not recovered at an early hour this morning.

The American schooner Thelma brought in 12,000 pounds of halibut last night, and the Tye 45,000.

This morning, the Liberty brought in 15,000 pounds of halibut and the Leister also had a few thousand.

EIGHT-REEL BILL AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

The Westholme tonight and tomorrow presents a monster eight-reel program, which contains variety enough for the most fastidious. The big item is a three-reel drama entitled "The Test" It is the story of how a young lawyer makes good after tripping. The 11th episode of "The Road O' Strife" continues the story of the attractive little Alene. There is also a perfect feast of comedy, including the funniest Chaplin feature yet screened. "Mabel at the Wheel" is a scream throughout its two reels. There is a "Dreamy Dud" cartoon feature, coupled with splendid views of Colorado Canyon. "A Fowl Deed" and "Henpeck Gets a Night Off" completes a very fine bill.

Monday brings along the great serial "The Diamond from the Sky."

BROADWAY FEATURE AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

The Majestic Theatre tonight and tomorrow presents a program of fun and thrills. There is another of those popular railroad dramas which have proved so interesting. This one is "The Girl at the Throttle" and is the best yet. The star feature is a three-act Broadway drama entitled "The Way of the Transgressor." This play furnishes plenty of excitement, and the transgressor has the proverbial rough time.

The comedies include "Life Guard," with the inimitable Billie Reeves providing no end of wholesome, rollicking merriment. "Ain't it the Truth" is described as an extra good Essanay comedy, and all of Essanay's comedies are of the best.

"The Broken Coin" enters the fifteenth stage on Monday, after which there are still seven more thrilling installments.

INSPECTION

INSPECTION of the Gillette Safety Razor
 by mechanical experts and men of judgment shows clearly WHY seven million shavers prefer it.

The thin, flat blade is tempered to a uniform hardness impossible in an ordinary thick-backed razor. As a natural result, it takes an edge unequalled for even keenness.

By a simple turn of the wrist you can regulate a Gillette shave to a nicety—light, medium or as close as you like.

The toothed guard ensures safety, and permits such free and rapid strokes that a smooth, clean Gillette shave need take no more than three minutes.

The curved holder supports the blade close to the shaving edges, preventing all that vibration which makes hollow-ground open blades and other safeties pull and irritate when they strike a stiff beard.

Inspect the Gillette and you'll buy it—and shave in comfort thereafter. Go to it! Your Druggist, Jeweler or Hardware Dealer will gladly parade the Gillette Line before you.

Then there's the adjustable feature, exclusive to the Gillette.
