PARIS URGES BLOCKADE OF GREEK PORTS

Growing Distrust of Greece in Paris—Rigid Blockade Advocated as the Only Course.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, Dec. 7.—There is a growing distrust of Greece being displayed here. The Matin correspondent in Athens says that Greece is playing for time in the hope that the Allies will be forced to the sea by the Teutons and Bulgars.

Blockade Advocated.

It is claimed that Greece will refuse to concede any of the Allies' demands a week hence. The Matin advocates a rigid blockade which is calculated to aid the popular discontent of the Greek people with the royal policy. Business circles are very anxious as to such a move by the Allies, as a blockade means starvation and financial ruin to the whole country.

"THE BROKEN COIN" AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

The 20th installment of "The Broken Coin" produces no end of thrills and excitement. Count Frederick falls foul of the skipper of the boat which rescues the party from the island, when he notices him paying attention to Kitty and there is some furious scrapping.

The "Governor Maker" is an election story in which a labor squabble plays a prominent part. There is a most thrilling motor accident in the story. An interesting animated weekly and a delightfully amusing matrimonial mix-up, entitled "It Might Have Been Serious," complete a good program.

There is a sensational drama coming Wednesday and the one and only Charlie Chaplin is due soon in two reels of mirth, entitled "The Bank."

ALD. BEVERIDGE WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT "JOE"

At the city council last night a report of the city engineer to the board of works regarding complaints of insufficient and irregular water supply, lodged by residents on Park Avenue, was brought down.

The engineer reported that Park Ave. was supplied through a 2-inch wooden main, which had probably become broken. He advised replacing this with an 8-in. cast iron main for a distance of 910 feet, the same to form part of the permanent system. The estimated cost was $1,030, including hydrant and connections.

The board of works recommended that the report be adopted. The finance committee recommended that the main be laid in accordance with the proposed system to Digby Island.

Ald. Beveridge said that if this was to be part of the government work, it should be left until next summer if there was a prospect of that work being started then. He understood that Alderman Maitland had said that some man called Joe had stopped this work. He wanted to know why anyone outside of the council should have anything to do with the work. He thought that it was time all this "Joe" business had stopped.

By doing this work on Park Avenue, the city would be unable to provide the necessary hydrant on 4th Avenue, so that the efforts of "Joe" had seriously interfered with the welfare of the city.

The mayor said that the Digby Island scheme had come to a deadlock in the council. No one seemed to be willing to make a compromise therefore the matter had been dropped meantime. He was satisfied that if the city did this part of the work now it would be taken over by the government along with the rest. The report was adopted.

ALD. BEVERIDGE WANTS LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT

A report from the light superintendent regarding the erecting of a large lamp at Cow Bay was presented to the council last night. He recommended that it be connected with the cluster at Davis' float, the work being done with material on hand and without any outside help.

Ald. Beveridge stated that this float was outside of the city. He protested against the efforts of the committee in providing better light for a place outside of the city while many parts of the city remain poorly lit. Outside of Section 4, he held that the lighting was a disgrace and the lack of light a danger.

The mayor said that Ald. Beveridge had been on the light committee for some ten months and conditions had been the same during that time. He thought the alderman should have brought the matter up in committee. With regard to the light at the float, he regarded it as an absolute necessity as men had fallen into the water in the dark.

Ald. Beveridge said that he had been obliged to be away for some months. He objected to money being spent off the city limits.

The mayor said that he might have brought the matter up in committee.

Ald. Beveridge said that he would just as soon bring these matters up in open council.

Ald. Nicol supported Ald. Beveridge in his contention regarding the poor lighting. He had fallen down a stairway on the way

NORTHERN OLD-TIMER INTERESTED IN RUPERT

Captain J. O. Williams, who has been on the Yukon river between Whitehorse and Dawson for the past seventeen years, arrived in the city on his way to Victoria on Saturday.

Captain Williams is a New Foundlander and knows the fishing business from A to Z. If satisfied, he intends to purchase three schooners in the south and will enter the halibut and cod fishing from this port.

From what Mr. Williams has already seen here, he is satisfied that Prince Rupert will some day support a big population by its fishing alone, just as Gloucester, Mass., does.

Ald. Dybhave said he considered the lighting fairly good considering our circumstances. The superintendent's report was adopted.

ANGUS STATES THAT NAGANO STABBED PITMAN

Continuing the trial of Nagano and Ohara for the murder of John Pittman at Port Essington on July 30th, yesterday afternoon Harry Murphy was in the witness box. He testified to going into the Jap restaurant with Angus and Pittman. Carlson was having a bowl of soup and a disturbance arose over the paying for it.

Kameda grabbed one of witness' crutches, then Nagano threw a stool. Murphy's other crutch was taken and both were broken in the melee. He remained seated and the Japs jumped on him. He fell to the floor. Angus started throwing dishes and the Japs went through the back door.

The white men made for the front door where they got jammed. He noticed the Japs coming with knives. He was just over the sill when someone stabbed him. He fell down outside and Kameda kicked him in the ear.

Cross examined by Mr. Shoebottom and Mr. Patmore, witness said Carlson was drunk. He saw four Japs in the place. What happened after he was stabbed he could not say.

Dr. Large gave evidence as to the wound which caused Pittman's death. He did not conduct the post mortem examination, therefore did not probe the wound to find out the exact nature of it. He also testified to examining a pool of blood on the side walk where Pittman fell.

This morning, Robert Angus was examined. He testified to the starting of the trouble through Carlson ordering soup which he could not pay for. After describing the row in the restaurant, he told of the Japs following them outside, and asserted most positively that Nagano stabbed Pittman with a knife. At 11:30, George McColl, the foreman of the jury, took sick and the case was postponed until 2:30 this afternoon.

HELPING PRODUCTION

The McBride government has lived for years like one of the old-time profligate kings, who, when the royal purse got thin, collected by force from his subjects. In order to keep pace with an expenditure which has been criminal in its prodigality, this government has not only mortgaged and given away the resources of B. C. but has ground down the progressive man who endeavored to make the most of his holding. Every possible line of activity has been taxed to the uttermost, and, whenever an individual discovered some new means of using a natural product, a new line of taxation was established.

Seeing that everything possible had been taxed, and all that could be disposed of had been sold, the Tory organs recently started a production campaign. By some miraculous means, the Matsonian press discovered that the people of British Columbia import a huge quantity of produce every year, which could be quite easily produced in the province. In this connection, it is interesting to note how the McBride government has taken care of the producer in the past.

The small fruit grower each season finds difficulty in marketing his produce, and many of these men found that a small and inexpensive fruit canning plant could be installed, which could be operated by themselves without hired help, thus enabling them to save considerable quantities of fruit, which would otherwise go to waste, and at the same time tend to keep down the cost of living in the adjacent towns. The plan was highly successful, until the government scented a source of revenue in it, and promptly imposed a tax of $50 per annum on the small plant, this being the license paid by the largest canneries. The result has been that these progressive men have had to discontinue the use of their outfits, and the loss which they had taken steps to overcome still handicaps them in the development of their holdings. Although the injustice of this treatment was brought to the attention of the department months ago it has declined to remove the tax or do anything that would improve the condition of these small landholders.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

If ex-Premier Venizelos is allowed his freedom he is likely to stir up a bunch of trouble for King Constantine and his Hohenzollern consort.

It was too bad that September drive petered out. However, the German general staff will be keeping a keen eye on those cars yet as they are likely to need them before long.

A Zollverein is described as a closer customs union, with free trade between the states covered by it. Prussia arranged one in 1834 with the little German states and in a few years these became part of the German Empire. It looks rather ominous for Austria.

Von Bernstorff is very much concerned about getting safe conduct for his satellites who have been ordered out of America. He was not so much concerned about the safety of the workers in the munition factories which he had planned to send skywards.

Germany is likely to be too busy quelling disturbances in her own factories in the future to worry about raising them elsewhere.

ALD. MONTGOMERY AND THE MAYOR HAVE WORDS

The city treasurer presented a report on the proposed new scheme of financing at the city council last night. It consisted of some thirty-two pages and went very fully into a comparison of the serial bond system with that of the sinking fund plan.

Ald. Dybhavn proposed that the matter be considered at an informal meeting. Ald. Montgomery objected to this method of discussing such an important matter. He proposed going right ahead.

Ald. Beveridge supported this view, and in doing so said that the city treasurer's department was one he had the greatest confidence in.

Ald. Dybhavn said that his idea was to have an informal discussion after which the details of the scheme would be made public.

Ald. Montgomery said he had had one experience of passing a financial measure in private and it had cost the city $100,000. That was when the council issued the treasury certificates in 1912. On that occasion the members of the council were sworn to secrecy, he being the only one who refused to be bound. If the public had been taken into confidence they would never have endorsed the project.

The mayor denied emphatically that the council was pledged to secrecy. Speaking for himself, and he thought he could say the same for the others, there was no pledge of secrecy, and it was a most "damnable" thing for Ald. Montgomery to come there and make such statements. The 1912 council had just taken office when the bank demanded the money and the issuing of treasury certificates was the only way out.

Ald. Montgomery said that the bank had requested the mayor to pledge the council to secrecy until the deal was completed. At that time he did not understand treasury certificates, but he knew about them now.

Ald. Nicol said that this was 1915 and not 1912, and after a little more wrangling it was decided to proceed with the report.

The treasurer's report showed very plainly that the serial bond system would very materially reduce the cost of carrying the city's indebtedness, while it vastly improved the city's standing in the eyes of the American and Canadian financial world. The report was adopted.

Will Your "Boy" Spend Christmas "Somewhere in France" ? Then help him spend it Merrily!

Nothing is too good to send to the boys who are serving King and Country. But let our gifts show thought and judgment as well as good-will and love.

Among the few really acceptable gifts—smokes and pipes, chocolates and sweet biscuits, fountain pens and tooth brushes, toilet and shaving supplies—the Gillette Safety Razor ranks as a warm favorite, for one of the real luxuries of trench life is a clean, comfortable Gillette shave.

It's a luxury the lucky ones share with their pals, so send along plenty of extra blades. If he has a Gillette already, a few boxes of blades will go far toward making him the most popular man in his Company.

Welcome as it is on the firing line, the Gillette is even more keenly appreciated in the hospitals. With it the wounded can shave themselves safely, easily and regularly. They certainly do enjoy the Gillette—and Doctors and Nurses can scarcely speak well enough of it.

Gillette "Bulldog" and Standard Sets cost $5.00 each—compact Pocket Editions $5.00 to $6.00—Combination Sets, including Soap, Brush, etc., $6.50 up. If you wish it, your Druggist, Jeweler or Hardware Dealer will arrange delivery through us, at the Front, of the Set you select, without shipping expense to you.
