THE MAYORALTY

To the Electors of the City of Prince Rupert, Ladies and Gentlemen:—In response to the wishes of a large number of ratepayers, I have consented to again become a candidate for the office of mayor for 1916. In the past, I have always made it a point of always being on the job in carefully guarding the affairs of the city along the lines of impartiality, practicability, economy based upon efficiency, and the preservation and success of our public utilities. If these efforts have met with your approval, might I again solicit your support as a means of the continuation of such a policy for the next year? Yours truly, S. M. NEWTON.

"FOGHORN" MACDONALD RISEN FROM THE RANKS

Ottawa, December 30.—"Foghorn" Macdonald, so named because he has a voice which rises above the roar of battle, has been fighting in Flanders ever since the war started. Foghorn, who is known from Alaska to Cripple Creek and back again as a man with a heart as big as his voice, just naturally couldn't keep out of the fight. He is a Glengarry Macdonald and the Macdonalds were never backward at that sort of thing. So though he had been a rich man in his time or rather from time to time as gold miners usually are, he didn't wait for a commission, but went as a private. He went with the first draft of the first contingent—in fact he couldn't get away fast enough.

Of course Neil Macdonald—that is "Foghorn's" real name—hadn't been drilling very long before they discovered that he had the makings and they promptly promoted him Corporal. Also he wasn't long on the firing line before they realized that he possessed the fifty-seven varieties of courage from two o'clock in the morning kind to the day after tomorrow and also a gift of leadership, which couldn't be allowed to go to waste. Besides he had a fund of humor, and a knack of rollicking anecdote which brightened the lives of his trench comrades and made him as welcome as a letter from home. So they made him a Sergeant because he was brave and blithe when the bullets were flying, gave him his step up on sheer merit and "Foghorn" felt correspondingly honored. But there his career stopped for a long time. Sergeant he was, but he couldn't seem to fly any higher. Young Captain Hughes, whose father was Minister of Militia, had shot up to be brigadier-general in no time, but Private Neil Macdonald, who had no pull and was working his way up under fire, had a longer journey to go.

However, it's a long road that has no turning and presently, pull or no pull, they had to make "Foghorn" a lieutenant. They made him lieutenant because he had earned it, and the promotion didn't come from Ottawa either, but from the general on the field, so you may be sure it was the real thing.

The battlefield had come to understand that "Foghorn" must have a job more in keeping with that tremendous bass voice of his, a voice that made the German cannon hoarse trying to shout it down. So it's Lieutenant Foghorn Macdonald now and if you like you may compare this big, upstanding, broad-chested thunder-voiced Macdonald from Glengarry who fought his way up with his own strong right arm with the pale little lieutenants you see around you. The little lieutenants with spindly legs and misplaced eyebrows for moustaches, who don't know anything about soldiering except that they would like to be lieutenants and who coax father to get it for them and who will be taken off the job anyway when they get to Shorncliffe and be replaced by real officers. Perhaps you may meet some of these little lieutenants, not dry behind the ears yet—they're everywhere, you can hardly miss them—and when you do see one stand him up in your mind beside that stalwart six-footer, Lieutenant Foghorn Macdonald, hero of as many battles as he has fingers and toes, and ask yourself how he looks.

Lieutenant Foghorn Macdonald wrote home to one of his Glengarry friends the other day and he had never a complaint to make about the long time he had been kept waiting, but he did say this: "I'm an officer now, but I can't get any uniform." The Lieutenant didn't seem to understand why he

SEVEN GOOD REELS AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

The Majestic program is quite up to the usual high standard of this popular house. "Mongrel and Master" is a three-act political drama of graft and intrigue. There is a typical political boss figuring prominently in the play, and of course right prevails in the long run and the grafter gets his due.

"The Bomb" is a Russian anarchist drama in two powerful acts. It is a rather novel tale and has a most dramatic conclusion.

Both comedies are good, particularly "The Simp and Sophomores." It is a "freshman" story in which the newcomer to college has some hair-raising experiences at the hands of his new chums. The antics of the poor simp brought forth peal after peal of laughter last night.

LABOR MEETING

A special open meeting of the Trades and Labor Council will be held in the Carpenters' Hall Thursday, January 6th, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of furthering the campaign in the interests of Labor representatives in the Municipal Elections. The Labor candidates are invited to address the meeting.

THE BOARD OF TRADE DISCUSSES SHIPBUILDING

Hon. William Manson conferred with the council of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon on the question of shipbuilding, President Nickerson presiding. Mr. Manson said that Hon. C. E. Tisdall expected to visit Prince Rupert shortly.

At the suggestion of the council, Mr. Manson wired to the minister of public works inviting him to discuss shipbuilding with the local Board of Trade.

Mr. Manson explained that the plans of the government were undecided and that it would be a good thing if the board made suggestions to the government.

Messrs. A. C. Garde, W. P. Lynch and G. L. Clayton were appointed as a committee, with power to add to their number, to go into the matter.

FUN AND EXCITEMENT AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

"The Diamond from the Sky," at the Westholme, goes merrily on from excitement to excitement, while Marmaduke furnishes the fun. This poor soul is still lost in the jungle and his efforts to get out are irresistibly funny. Vivian Marston has at last discovered Arthur Stanley and lays siege to his affections. Her introduction to the hero is dramatic, the young lady steering her power boat straight into Powell's yacht. The elusive diamond is now in Marmaduke's possession.

Mabel Normand provided most of the smiles last night, her "wilful way" making quite a hit with the large audience. "Who Gets Stung" is also a good comedy, while "The Old Chemist" is a dramatic research story.

SHIPMASTERS ELECT NEW OFFICE-BEARERS

A largely attended and most enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Prince Rupert branch of the Shipmasters' and Officers' Association was held in the rooms of the association on the evening of December 30th, when the following office-bearers for the ensuing year were elected: Hon. Pres., Captain E. McCroskie; Hon. vice-pres., Capt. Gilmore; pres., Capt. D. O'Brien; vice-pres., Capt. G. Fritz; secretary, Capt. J. McGee; executive, Captains J. Mulligan, H. Provost, C. F. Hardy, S. Olson, and J. Morrison. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the secretary for his services.

PROHIBITION IS ADOPTED BY 16 ONTARIO TOWNS

Forty-Seven Ontario Municipalities Voted on Prohibition on January First Under Local Option.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Toronto, Jan. 4.—Sixteen of forty-seven Ontario municipalities have gone dry. The "dry" towns are Aurora, Essex, Carleton Place, Parkhill, Petrolia, Uxbridge, Wallaceburg, Bancroft, Bath, Lucan, Oil Springs, Port Perry, Biddulph, Chapleau, London Township, and Sombra.

The bylaw was upheld in Owen Sound, Finch, and North Gower.

The following cities voted against the bylaw by a straight majority: Fort William, Niagara Falls, and Stratford. It was defeated by the three-fifths clause in Belleville, Brantford, Port Arthur, Sarnia, Woodstock, Oakville, Parry Sound, Whitby, Glencoe, Merrickville, Louth Township and North Cayuga.

In several of the latter towns the fight was bitter, and particularly so in Port Arthur where the bylaw was defeated by only four votes.

CRITICISM

Premier Bowser, during a brief stay in Vancouver prior to his departure for Kamloops, dealt with M. A. Macdonald's recent speech in his usual way, dismissing it as so much Liberal abuse. Unfortunately for the province of British Columbia, abuse is the only thing coming to Bowser and his gang. They have abused the province in the most shameful manner imaginable and that abuse is what the Liberals are showing up.

Of course it is apparent to all that Bowser fondly imagines that, by firing Sir Richard McBride out of office neck and crop, without paying very much attention as to whether poor Dick landed on his head or his heels, he had cleansed the government of all its sins. By holding out promises of great things to come, amongst them a measure of workmen's compensation, a matter which Bowser and the rest of the gang repeatedly turned down when it was brought forward by the Liberals in the past, Bowser hopes to again carry the province for the corporations and the Tory heeleders.

There is nothing further from the minds of the people of British Columbia than to allow the men who have systematically looted the province for the benefit of their friends to still continue their nefarious work. The men who sacrificed the Nanaimo miners to the greed of the capitalists stand condemned by their own actions. The greatest blow which the Liberals can deliver at Bowser is simply to recount from the government records what has taken place under his hand in the past years. White labor in the mines of Vancouver Island has been replaced with Oriental labor, simply because the white men dared to ask to be treated like men.

The Bowser government will not be measured by its promises for the future, but by its dark deeds of the past. Bowser must be held responsible for what he has done, while the men he has taken into the cabinet with him are equally responsible for what they have permitted. In face of what has happened, promises from such men will be taken at their true value. The Dominion Trust depositors are not concerned with what Bowser is going to do; they are only painfully aware of what he has done. The premier trots out the time-honored argument that criticism of the government is detrimental to the best interests of the province. It is. Criticism of this government simply means a plain statement of its history, and that entails the unfolding of a story which would make any honorable man blush for shame.

A plain statement of the facts regarding the looting of this province is decidedly damaging, but it would be still worse if the truth were hidden and the outside world led to believe that everything is bright and pleasant in this province. To cover up an evil is simply to postpone the day of outbreak, with the final outburst a much more disastrous affair than it would have been had it got vent earlier. The evils of Bowserism will be brought to light, no matter how little that gentleman may like it, and then this province will get down to legitimate business and will take a new lease of life under a real business government, whose only business will be to give the people good government.

had to go without the clothes of his rank. When he sees this article, as he may—for I am instructed by a captain in Belgium that some of these distant screeds find their way to the front and are relished by both sides of politics—he will discover the reason. The plain truth is—and Lieut. Foghorn Macdonald and all the other brave fellows who have worked their way up to uniforms they can't get ought to know it—that there is a shortage of khaki in Canada and that the Honorary Colonels and Brigadier Generals whom Sir Sam is turning out by the dozen have the first call on the available supply, not to mention the little lieutenants who consider the clothes the biggest part of the job. Besides these people pay for their own uniforms and Lieut. Foghorn Macdonald is probably expecting to get his duds for nothing from the government. I fancy I can hear Lieut. Foghorn Macdonald saying "Pish Tush," or something even stronger, but really he doesn't realize what a strain on the khaki supply the honorary colonels and brigadier generals constitute. If he did he wouldn't yell for clothes out of his turn. First come, first served, and you can bet that the honorary colonels and brigadier generals and little lieutenants come first every time. They come first to such an extent that hard working privates have to go around for months at a stretch with nothing in the way of a military uniform, except a band on the sleeve of their old coat and often enough they can't even get that.
Lieutenant Foghorn Macdonald will probably have read somewhere that Sir Sam created sixteen Canadian brigadier generals the other day and the lieutenant may consider that a supreme act of creation. Sixteen Brigadier-Brindles—, sixteen for a peace army of say thirty thousand—some Brigadiers Eh?, but nothing to what Sir Sam does in the way of honorary colonels. Sam counts that day lost when he doesn't turn out at least one honorary colonel. The Stuarts, you may remember, exercised the King's touch for Scrofula and things like that, but when it comes to curing people of being civilians, by making them honorary colonels, Sam has the King James's and King Charles's beaten forty ways. In fact he is so handy at it that Parliament will need to pass a law against it if we are to have room in this country for any settlers except honorary colonels. We must have now one honorary colonel to every square mile of superficial area, and naturally it takes a lot of khaki to cover all these loyal bosoms. The thirstier an honorary colonel the more khaki it takes to fit him—cloth shrinks so where there is any moisture and everybody knows that the dry canteen doesn't apply to the honorary colonels. If it did, the honorary colonel recruiting list would fall off considerably.

All of which will explain to Lieut. Foghorn Macdonald why he cannot get his uniform. What does he want a new uniform for anyway? Think how mused up he will get it in the trenches! On the other hand think how spotless the average honorary colonel keeps his. No mud, no blood, no powder. The honorary colonels have enlisted for overshoes service service only. They belong to the home guard. If the home guard shows any signs of gadding about in foreign countries in the danger zone, the honorary colonels may be expected to drop out. This is not lack of courage on their part, but a laudable desire not to spoil their beautiful uniforms, which cost a lot of money.

Like Henry Ford, the honorary colonels believe in peace without bloodshed, and though the real colonels may think the less of them for it, they are putting up a great fight along those lines. For moral victories the honorary colonels are prepared to lay down their lives, but physical violence they spurn. But heavens how they shine when the wounds and the slaughter and all that disagreeable brute force part of it are over! Sir Sam has said somewhere that he is willing to head the brass band and lead the boys to Berlin when the war reaches that stage—by "boys" meaning of course the honorary colonels, who simply revel in parade duty and will always be found in the van on such occasions.—H. F. Gadsby.

- FACT HUNGER -

As children, our first demand is for nourishment; our second for facts.

All through life we go about searching for information.

We make a new acquaintance; but before we will accept him as a friend or invite him to our home we ask for facts about him.

We visit a foreign land; and from the moment we step across its border we are asking questions—searching for facts.

We are asked to try a new food product; isn't it instinctive with us to ask at once:

"Who makes this new article?"

"How is it made? what goes into it?"

"Is it worth the price charged for it?"

Facts—we are simply hungry for them.

Strange, isn't it, that we should so often have to search for them? Odd, that some manufacturers still withhold the facts about their product. Not always because they are facts to be ashamed of—for there are many worthy articles yet unadvertised.

But it will not be so much longer. The fact-hunger of the human race is becoming keener and keener. The more facts we get, the keener our relish for more of them.

Soon it will be impossible to sell a man or a woman anything until everything has been told about the goods that can be told through Advertising.

The public has discovered that Advertising tells much-needed facts—that, in fact, Advertising satisfies fact-hunger.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.
If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
