MANY SLACKERS IN THE GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Ottawa, Jan. 17.—The opinion is freely expressed here that if the government experiences any difficulty in raising the five hundred thousand men now set as the limit of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, there might be a little intelligent compulsion and that it ought to begin at the top.

It is notorious that there are slackers even in the Militia Department, ornamental office holders who only get in the way of the real workers and who would be of more use to their country at the front. Some of these fat, pink-fleshed fellows make a bluff at tremendous industry, but the biggest part of their job is after hours, lifting high balls at the Rideau Club. The only active service these tin heroes ever saw was the active service they got their friends to do for them when they were lancing the jobs which they cumber to this day. Almost any member of Parliament can name you half a dozen of these stall-fed colonels who draw large salaries and do nothing much for Canada except to decrease the visible supply of booze.

Having cleaned up headquarters, the next suggestion put forward is that the Militia Department call on the honorary colonels to do something honorable for the colors. Of course it would be too much to ask them to fight, but they might at least pay for substitutes at a real colonel's wages. In fact it ought to be a rule of the department that each and every person who accepts an honorary colonel's commission thereby binds himself to equip and maintain a real colonel at the front for the duration of the war. If the honorary colonel has a particularly large bundle of money he might be assessed for a regiment of colonels. "All the traffic will bear"—that's the motto.

After the honorary colonels come the church parade colonels who are still strutting; likewise the church parade colonels who have found it convenient to fade away into the reserve, then all the colonels, majors, captains, lieutenants and commissioned slackers who got all the glory they could out of the King's uniform in times of peace, but who have dropped out of sight now the war started. These fine prancing fellows should be given another chance to come forward and show their mettle. If they don't come they can be prodded. If the prod does not work they can be permanently disgraced by removing their names from the Militia list.

Another class of colonel who needs a little crowding is the one who stays at home and confines his active service to the activity with which he accepts shell con-

LIBERAL ASSOCIATION HOLDS ENTHUSIASTIC GATHERING

ROUSING SPEECHES DELIVERED IN WHICH THE PROFLIGATE McBRIDE-BOWSER GOVERNMENT IS SCORED—"BUCKET-SHOP" METHODS WRECKED THE PROVINCE

Prince Rupert Liberal Association held its annual general meeting in the Stork Block last night when T. D. Pattullo presided over a large attendance of members.

The following resolution was moved by Fred Stork and seconded by P. W. Anderson, and carried amid enthusiasm:—"That this association in annual meeting assembled again expresses its entire confidence in the leadership of the Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It is a matter of deep gratification to all Liberals that the passing years but add lustre to the career of this greatest of living Canadians."

Speaking to the motion, Fred Stork said that it was only fitting that Liberals should take some recognition of the services of their illustrious leader, who is without doubt the greatest living Canadian. His policies have stood the test of time. We all remember how, five years ago, he went down fighting for his principles, while each government which had gone out of power formerly had died of its misdeeds. It is a source of great gratification to him and to all Liberals that time has entirely vindicated the policy for which he stood. Throughout Canada today, there is a demand for reciprocity. Manitoba wants free wheat; the whole northwest wants free implements, and Prince Rupert wants free fish, and free trade with the American territory to the north. The present war had shown clearly that Sir Wilfrid's plan for a Canadian navy had been entirely justified.

The following resolution was proposed by Alex. M. Manson, seconded by George R. Naden, and carried with great enthusiasm:—"That this association in annual meeting assembled, views with great satisfaction the excellent work of Mr. H. C. Brewster since his appointment to the provincial leadership of the Liberal party. This association is of the opinion that, in Mr. Brewster, the Liberal party has a leader who, when premier of the province, will bring to bear a sound judgment and an integrity of purpose which will be of great benefit to the good government of the province."

Speaking to the motion, A. M. Manson said it was fitting that they should move such a resolution. While Mr. Brewster had not carved such a name for himself as Sir Wilfrid Laurier had done, British Columbia had in the making, in Mr. Brewster, a leader to be proud of. Past governments in the province, and particularly the McBride government, had forgotten that they were the custodians of the people's wealth. "Get in and Stay in," were McBride's words, and his ideal of statesmanship. Sir Richard had done everything a wise and honorable man should not have done. Mr. Brewster would make his name as a man with a sense of public honor, a thing lacking in past governments. Brewster's sterling character will save British Columbia.

George R. Naden said that he had known Mr. Brewster for ten years and he could heartily endorse what Mr. Manson had said. Mr. Brewster, in a letter just received, said, "We feel more strongly every day that the province is with us, and personally I feel quite confident of taking Mr. Flummerfelt's measure when the by-election comes along."

T. D. Pattullo, the retiring president, thanked the members for the loyal support accorded him in his two years of office. He referred briefly to the fact that there were two cabinet ministers in the city. These gentlemen had no policy to bring forward, and Bowser admitted that the policies of the past were failures. The government was simply hoping that something would turn up to save them. These ministers were simply two of the abject rubber stamps. We could only judge the future by the past. Thanks to the rule of Bowser, thousands have left and are still leaving the province. He was making no idle boast when he said that Liberalism would sweep this district.

W. P. Lynch outlined the growth of speculation in the province, culminating in disaster. Drawing a vivid picture of it in its supposed prosperity, he said that people then were satisfied to let things rip along. Today the province was reaping the harvest of a government of gamblers, who had turned the country into

SHIP-BUILDING

From Hon. C. E. Tisdall's remarks on the Board of Trade meeting on Thursday night, it is apparent that the British Columbia merchant marine tends to take the form of wooden schooners, provided with auxiliary power in the form of Diesel engines. It is a well known fact in shipping circles, that, under present abnormal conditions, anything that will float and carry a cargo is of value, and that, so long as the war lasts, such vessels will get cargoes; that is, the cargoes which are not wanted by faster vessels.

Mr. Tisdall freely admits that wooden ships cannot compete with steel vessels, under normal conditions. It may safely be taken for granted that conditions will have righted themselves within three years, therefore, at the end of that time, the British Columbia wooden vessels will be so much floating lumber. Undoubtedly, the venture of building such vessels, in the hope of their earning their initial cost in 3 years, is a good speculation which should appeal to the lumber men of the province. As Mr. Tisdall pointed out, the building of such ships to carry lumber will relieve the interior lumber men of coast competition, therefore it looks as if it were up to the lumber men to provide their own ships, just as they have successfully done in Oregon and Washington. If as is claimed, two voyages will pay for the ships at the present time, the first five ships only would require new capital, their earnings building the others.

W. P. Lynch summed up the situation clearly when he said that the hard cash must be put up by the men who are interested in the business, and the type of ships left to them. If they put up the money, they will see to it that the right kind of vessel is built. It is not a question of getting the government to build ships for the moment to relieve a momentary congestion of lumber, but a matter of beginning a permanent ship-building industry which interests the people of Prince Rupert. Prince Rupert will be delighted to have the building of wooden or any other kind of ships, if they are wanted, and paid for, by the men who stand to profit by them.

If the government is seriously figuring on subsidizing the business, they must consider it from a normal standpoint, as to do otherwise is simply to gamble in war stocks with the people's money, with the people paying the price in the long run. Under normal conditions, no shipping firm would ever dream today of building wooden ships, and, if the people's money is to go into the venture, it is normal times which must be considered. The people of British Columbia have had enough of speculative ventures and are now figuring things out on a strictly business basis. A ship in course of construction at our drydock would look good, but a fleet of regular steel tramps calling at the wharf from the Antipodes; Europe and the Orient would look a great deal better with the government building the Canadian navy at the drydock.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The new council, under Mayor McCaffery, is already showing a healthy desire to economize. Its grub-bill for the trip to Shawat-lans on Tuesday ran to $1.75, while last year the cost was $38. Which bunch undermined the people's resources?

Legally the Dominion government is not bound to hold an investigation into the depredations of the shell committee and its friends, but there is such a thing as a moral obligation, and the fair name of Canada can only be cleared by some strenuous digging into the details.

It looks as if the Russians had cleverly inveigled the Germans into scoring a goal against themselves.

tracts. This valiant officer simply has to be in the shell game, but not necessarily at a risk to himself. His business is to make shells and overcharge for them, not to discharge them at the enemy. He is rather numerous in Canada just now and any scheme of enlistment which overlooks him falls considerably short of what a complete enlistment scheme should be. It is a safe guess that there are in Canada at the moment enough honorary colonels, church parade colonels and slacker colonels of one kind another to form an army division. Of course there are not enough commands to go around, but that need not prevent them going as privates and doing a man's work in the trenches.

Another busy kind of colonel these days is the organizing colonel—who does valuable work for the empire by recruiting and recruiting his depleted battalions. We know some fine young colonels who have been at this job ever since the war started. Their friends expected them to march away to Europe with every new draft on their regiments, but no. Their ability as organizers was too valuable to be wasted at the front—they admitted it themselves—and here they stuck. One colonel we know has seen his regiment march away full strength three times and has manfully resisted the temptation to go with it for eighteen months. The other day he got word from Ottawa that he would take the next draft over himself, an honor, which he received with mixed feelings. Many prefer over-safe service in Canada to overseas service in Flanders.

After all the colonels have been drummed up, including the political colonels who lead their regiments as far as Shorncliffe Camp and trust the votes to God from there on—after all the colonels have been corraled, the next prominent body of citizens sounded up will be the Urgers. Urging has become quite a profession in Canada these days. It is even more popular than fighting. On a reasonable estimate fully one quarter of the population is engaged in urging the other three quarters to go to the front and do its duty by king and country who "need you now." The farther an urger is on the short side of 45, the harder he urges the other fellow to go. Many fine healthy urgers, sound as a dollar, teeth good, eyesight perfect, no home ties in particular, are doing tremendous work along this line. They are well between 18 and 45, but they have given up all chance of distinction at the front for this exhausting but necessary duty at home. In fact, we have some of the greatest little urgers in the business, thousands of 'em. The Militia Department can acquire merit by passing them along to where the urging is brisker and more perilous. No doubt they will make wonderful fighters. Because it is inconceivable that persons who are so keen on sending other people to the front should not behave gloriously when they get there themselves.—H. F. Gadsby.

a gambling den and a bucket-shop. For a while, by selling the country's resources on margin, a golden stream flowed in. This stream was so often referred to and held up to the public gaze that ultimately greed demanded a share. That money had gone to organize Conservative parties throughout the province and feed the party flock.

The land was held back from the farmer by the speculator, that the latter might reap the gold. City speculation grew and was encouraged, with the result you all know. Timber was grabbed for miles and miles and everything was to bring easy money. The government surplus was spent and the future mortgaged. Mr. Lynch went fully into the railroad policy, showing where the people had been fooled. Bad government, and bad government only, was at the root of the misfortunes of the province.

D. W. Morrissey, after assuring the audience that he had been a life-long Liberal, went on to show how the province had been misgoverned, after which he dwelt at length on the great natural wealth of this north country.

Dealing with reciprocity and Laurier naval policy, he went on to show that both would soon be accomplished facts. Mr. Morrissey then dealt at length with national finance, seeking to show that the borrowing of money by the government at home tended to tighten up business and restrain the circulation of money. He urged strongly the idea of a more elastic currency.

Geo. W. Nickerson said that Sir Richard had been a victim of circumstances; now he is a victim of Bowser, and Turner is a victim of Dick, the people being called upon to pay two agents-generals now instead of one.

He dealt at length with the Natal Act and the "Better Terms" question, both of which Victoria had been silent on for five years, though Laurier, up to that time, was blamed for turning them down. The McBride government had been insincere in both measures. He described Wm. Manson as in no sense a representative of this district, but simply a part of the Tory machine. In regard to cannery licenses and the doing away with boat rating, he had utterly failed.

Mr. Nickerson dealt very ably with the Laurier naval scheme, showing how Borden and Foster went back on the resolution which they supported, and instanced Australia as an example of what Canada might have been in this war. He went on to show that had Laurier remained in power the drydock would today be building ships and the marine station would be what it was intended for. When Laurier is returned to power, as he will be, Prince Rupert will come into her own. He looked forward to seeing T. D. Pattullo and A. M. Manson sent to Victoria, and Fred. Stork to Ottawa.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the Belgian Relief Fund

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

Three Mighty Forces Close Linked

Have you ever noted how an audience yawns in the face of an uninspired speaker?

On the other hand, have you noted how an audience will lean forward and grasp the chair arms when the speaker reveals enthusiasm?

Enthusiasm is the buoyant expression of truth. To impart belief in anything, a man must believe it deeply himself. We call such a man an enthusiast.

This applies to the written word also—particularly to advertisements. When the manufacturer really believes in his wares, his enthusiasm will almost inevitably find expression in Advertising. And enthusiasm will be contagious—his audience—the readers of the newspaper—will, figuratively speaking, "lean forward and listen intently."

To be convincing an advertisement must convey an unmistakable impression of enthusiasm. This it will only do when the article advertised has inherent worth.

Thus we have:

Sincerity -- Enthusiasm -- Advertising:
Three mighty forces, close-linked.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
