Mr. Flumerfelt may be the clever financial man his friends claim he is, but he is singularly unfortunate in his political associations, and his efforts to infuse new life into a discredited administration come too late. The whole business is of the nature of a death-bed repentance. The Bowser government is just in the position of the criminal who protests what he will do in the way of reform if he is only given another chance. An individual sometimes does get another chance, but a governmentnever.

The many promises of new legislation contained in the speech from the throne at the opening of the legislature only go to show how much the government has not accomplished. -FACT HUNGER-

As children, our first demand is for nourishment; our second for facts.

All through life we go about searching for information.

We make a new acquaintance; but before we will accept him as a friend or invite him to our home we ask for facts about him.

We visit a foreign land; and from the moment we step across its border we are asking questionssearching for facts.

We are asked to try a new food product; isn't it instinctive with us to ask at once:

"Who makes this new article?"

"How is it made? what goes into it?"

"Is it worth the price charged for it?"

Facts—we are simply hungry for them.

Strange, isn't it, that we should so often have to search for them? Odd, that some manufacturers still withhold the facts about their product. Not always because they are facts to be ashamed of-for there are many worthy articles yet unadvertised.

But it will not be so much longer. The fact-hunger of the human race is becoming keener and keener. The more facts we get, the keener our relish for more of them.

Soon it will be impossible to sell a man or a woman anything until everything has been told about the goods that can be told through Advertising.

The public has discovered that Advertising tells much-needed factsthat, in fact, Advertising satisfies fact-hunger.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished with a special control of the second tion. furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association.
