KAISER INSISTS ON HAVING VERDUN -- TERRIBLE GERMAN LOSSES AT VAUX

KAISER WANTS VERDUN TAKEN DESPITE LOSSES

Terrible Slaughter of Germans at Fort Vaux—French Big Guns Keep Back the Hun Reinforcements.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, March 13.—The Kaiser, attending a meeting with his generals who are conducting operations against Verdun, insists that Verdun is to be taken despite any losses.

There is no infantry fighting north of Verdun, but the artillery is active along the entire front.

Terrible Hun Losses.

The German losses in an attempt to take the fort of Vaux on Saturday surpassed all records, the enemy losing two-thirds of their effectives. A curtain of fire from the French 75-millimetre guns made it impossible for the Germans to send reinforcements forward.

French Losses Slight.

The French losses around Verdun are less than a third of their losses in the Champagne offensive last September.

Dutch Frontier Open.

London, Mar. 13.—The Dutch-Belgian frontier, south of Maastich, which has been closed for the past eight weeks, has been reopened. This is believed to signify the end of the Verdun offensive. Eighty-one more hospital trains laden with German wounded have passed through Luxembourg.

SALVOR HAS GONE TO ASSIST CAMOSUN

The salvage steamer Salvor arrived in port last night at seven o'clock and proceeded to the other side of Digby Island, where the Camosun is stranded, this morning.

The cargo and coal have been removed from the stranded vessel and it is hoped that, by using pontoons, the Camosun will be floated towards the end of this week.

Mr. Beasley, managing director of the Union Steamship Company, did not come north on the Salvor as expected, but will be here on Thursday morning on the Prince Rupert.

APPEAL ALLOWED IN FAMOUS SLINGSBY CASE

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, March 13.—The Court of Appeal allows the appeal of the Slingsby relatives and holds that the baby produced by Mrs. Slingsby was not the child of Lieutenant and Mrs. Slingsby and is therefore not the heir to the Slingsby estates which are worth a million. The costs of the case amount to $150,000, the trials having been running for the past four years.

Mrs. Slingsby, who was childless, claimed to have given birth to a boy in a hospital in San Francisco. Nurses from San Francisco gave evidence to the effect that the child brought to England and presented as the Slingsby heir was the child of a woman in San Francisco.

FISHERIES DISPUTE STILL UNSETTLED

The schooner Helgeland brought in about 20,000 pounds of halibut last night, the result of about a month's fishing. The weather has been so rough on the banks that for many days fishing was impossible.

It was supposed that an agreement would be arrived at tomorrow between the halibut fishermen and the boat owners and that incoming boats would tie up here pending a decision. However, the Tyee, which came in the other day, received a wire to proceed to Seattle today, so that there is little likelihood of an early settlement.

PARCEL POST SALE FOR RED CROSS FUND

Mrs. W. C. C. Mehan has organized a unique sale in aid of the Red Cross Fund to be held in the Red Cross rooms, Third Ave., on Friday from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

It is a Parcel Post Sale, something entirely new here. Mrs. Mehan, some weeks ago, had some hundreds of cards printed and distributed amongst her friends, these ladies in turn sending the cards around amongst their friends out of town. The cards invite the sending in of a parcel which "for a quarter will sell" and the response has exceeded the expectations of the ladies. Some hundreds of parcels will be sold at 25 cents each, and the purchaser will have the fun of buying in the dark, as the string will not be cut before the sale is made. All purchasers may rest assured that they will get value and then some. Be at the Red Cross rooms on Friday and get a surprise packet.

WALRONDO ARRIVES

The launch Walrondo sailed up the harbor from Vancouver yesterday afternoon in charge of her skipper and Messrs. George Hull, H. F. McLeod, C. H. Orme and J. G. Scott. She will be captained by Paddy Murphy and will be used to tow the pile-driver around in this vicinity. She is a powerful little craft with two Atlas engines.

BREWSTER CALLS UPON THE PREMIER TO RESIGN

Victoria, March 9.—Premier Bowser this afternoon was called on to resign, dissolve parliament and go to the country. H. C. Brewster, Liberal leader, seconded by M. A. Macdonald, the new Vancouver member, submitted an amendment to the resolution in reply to the speech from the throne outlining reasons why the discredited premier ought not to continue the administration in the face of the large majority by which his ministers had been defeated in the by-elections.

The speech of the Liberal chief created considerable excitement when it became known on the street that the premier had been asked to step down. The action of the opposition was not unexpected by members of the government. None of them, after adjournment, offered any comment. Mr. Brewster's amendment consisted of nine clauses dealing with the various forms of misgovernment perpetrated by the McBride-Bowser administration. Mr. Brewster, in a brilliant speech, raked the government fore and aft on their former attitude towards Workmen's Compensation; the frauds carried out in connection with the sale of lands; the financial state of the province, brought about by the extravagance of the government; the making of shipbuilding a political question after the manner of provincial railroad construction; the payment of $30 per day to J. P. Shaw, of Kamloops, while that gentleman also drew his sessional indemnity, and the Songhees Reserve deal.

Mr. Brewster also effectively replied to the charges brought against the Liberals by the member for Grand Forks and went on to show how the Liberals had to appeal to the police to have a shebeen shut down on election day in Victoria. In dealing with the charges of bringing over voters from Vancouver, the Liberal leader read the letters of Harry Price and the Vancouver Conservative secretary with reference to the payment of fares and ten dollars per head besides for all voters sent over to support the Conservatives.

H. A. Harvey has returned from a visit to Vancouver in connection with the bringing north of the great serial "The Goddess."

WILSON AND MEXICAN LEADER TO RECIPROCATE

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, March 13.—President Wilson will today announce a reciprocal arrangement permitting the American and Carranza forces to cross the border in pursuit of VNIa and his bandits. Carranza refused to permit the American troops to cross the Mexican border unless reciprocal privileges were granted by Washington.

PUBLICITY DISCUSSED BY BOARD OF TRADE

At the meeting of the Board of Trade on Saturday afternoon, the question of carrying on publicity work was discussed. There is a vast amount of correspondence to answer with regard to the possibilities of this district, letters having been received from all over the United States and Canada. After considerable discussion it was decided to appoint a committee to confer with the city council with a view to forming some line of action. The publicity committee consists of Vice-President G. A. Woodland, L. M. de Gex, D. G. Stewart and D. Robertson. It is felt that immediate steps should be taken.

The report of Mr. Garde on the mining properties of the north and the establishment of a copper refinery here will also be taken up, as well as the question of having Mr. Garde's report published.

F. H. MOBLEY ASSURED OF HEARTY SUPPORT

Mr. F. H. Mobley, Liberal candidate for Atlin district, who has returned from a visit to Granby and Stewart, reports that, speaking politically, everything is highly satisfactory up there. While in the north, Mr. Mobley received the hearty endorsement of the Liberals of both Granby and Stewart, and was assured that they would see that he is returned to Victoria with an overwhelming majority. Evidently the north does not want to be behind Vancouver and Victoria in their efforts to oust the Bowser government.

"The Goddess," the great serial at the Majestic, begins March 27, and 28. Anita Stewart leads. If

HOW COLONEL CURRIE LOST HIS DECORATION

Ottawa, March 11.—Rumor has it that Lieutenant-Colonel Currie will run as an independent candidate in North Simcoe if he runs at all. His break with the government is not easily patched up even if the colonel were disposed to try.

Colonel Currie is a message from the battle front and a disturbing one. It seems that favoritism is at work in the Canadian battalions. Young whipper-snappers who have family pull are promoted rapidly while old soldiers who do their duty are passed over. The chief mistake seems to have been in placing any but a Canadian general at the head of the Canadian forces. It takes only a cursory glance at the recommendations for honors to show that General Alderson is a great respecter of persons when it comes to handing out medals.

Another matter Colonel Currie cleared up in his speech was the unfair and unwarranted insinuations that have been directed toward him ever since he was pulled off the job some eight months ago. Nobody who knows John Currie would ever accuse him of lack of courage and if lack of judgment is the charge then a large number of British generals are due for retirement in short order. At this distance it looks as if the British generals were great experts at "passing it on." General Ian Hamilton did that same at Gallipoli, General Stopford being named as the goat, and the practice is also said to be quite general on the western front. As the reward of eighteen months' unsuccess in France, Field Marshal Sir John French was brought back to England and made a baron.

The opinion is freely expressed that the minister of militia for Canada could do good work standing up for the rights of Canadian officers who are sometimes sacrificed to the blunders of their British commanders. These remarks go a little further than Colonel Currie's criticisms, but they are a fair inference from his suggestion that Canada should be represented on the Headquarters Staff and in the army councils.

Canada is contributing half a million men and a half a billion in money to this fight and is consequently entitled to give her share of advice.

Some enthusiasts are in favor of Canadians entirely suspending their intellectual facilities during the period of the war and letting the British War Office muddle along without remark. But this consorts neither with good sense nor true loyalty. If we are going to be as British as the British we cannot afford to be less frank than the British in our criticism of the blundering. It is worth noting that the Tory press in London has never shirked its duty in this respect. It was a poet, and a dead poet at that, who said "Theirs not to reason why, theirs but to do and die." The English newspapers do not talk that way. Reasoning why is one of the best

ROUMANIA AND BULGARIA HAVE BEEN FIGHTING

Russia Arranges to Transport her War Material Through Roumanian Territory—The Treaty Signed.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, March 13.—Hostilities have commenced between Roumania and Bulgaria. A Bulgarian battery in the River Danube, assisted by an Austrian gun-boat, attacked a Roumanian ship which was loading cargo in Roumanian waters. Roumanian troops replied to the attack and there were casualties on both sides.

Roumania and Russia.

Bucharest reports state that Roumania has signed an agreement with Russia arranging for the passage of her war material across Roumania. Russia will give Roumania a position in Bessarabia in return for this privilege.

POLICE COURT

W. J. Sampson, the man who was brought up from Vancouver on a charge of obtaining board and lodging fraudulently, was brought up before the magistrate today. The case was again adjourned.

things they do. Colonel Currie is merely following a good example.

The gist of Colonel Currie's complaint is that he would have got his decoration if Major General Sir Sam had said so. All it needed was the minister's O. K. and for some reason or other that was withheld. Instead of medals which are dear to the soldier's heart, Sir Sam now hands out a certificate of character to the effect that Colonel John Currie was a brave man and did the best he could under the circumstances. This is faint praise and comes late. To get it Colonel Currie had

ROSS DEMANDS

Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of Lands, has demanded on the floor of the house in Victoria, a statement from Mr. H. C. Brewster, the leader of the opposition, of his position on the prohibition question. This is surely one of the most comical attitudes ever taken by a member of a discredited government. The premier promised the electors of Victoria that he would bring down in the legislature a prohibition bill along certain clearly defined lines and that the bill would, after passing the house, be submitted to the people of the province.

What the position of Mr. Brewster has to do with the matter is hard to understand. Mr. Brewster, months ago, made his position on the question perfectly clear to the people of the province, and doubtless will do so again, if he thinks it necessary, when the Bowser measure comes before the house, but, until that time, the opposition leader's position on the question should be of little interest to Mr. Ross or any other member of the government.

Surely it cannot be possible that, since the gentlemen on the government benches are showing signs of rupture over Bowser's promise in Victoria during his frantic attempt to save the political life of A. C. Flumerfelt, they are to make a furtive effort to foist the promised measure on to the shoulders of the leader of the opposition. It is no secret that the Conservatives are sharply divided on this question and doubtless they would be hugely delighted if they succeeded in lowering it into a party issue.

Brewster, however, can be depended upon to calmly allow the horribly upset Tories to make the shore as best they can, even if they cannot agree to use the same raft. Surely Mr. Ross cannot expect Mr. Brewster to throw out a line to help them.

Perhaps the funniest part of Mr. Ross' demand is when he asks Mr. Brewster to outline the opposition plans for constructive government. There is something delightfully Gilbertian in this crude attempt to play party politics on the floor of the house. Mr. Brewster is not the leader of the government yet, though he will be soon. When that time comes he will place before the people a constructive platform which will not only counteract the evils fostered by the McBride-Bowser bunch, but will place the affairs of the province on a sound and progressive basis. Meantime, the Tories had better do the obvious thing—vote supplies and then quit in the most graceful manner possible under the trying circumstances.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Omineca Herald just to hand is entirely clear of news from the front. It is quite restful to read a sheet entirely devoted to local happenings in these days of strife.

M. A. Macdonald is now turning his attention to the illustrious Mr. Shaw, M. L. A. and Indian Commissioner. This gentleman is one of the real artists of the McBride-Bowser bunch. In drawing only $30 per day for 365 days in the year as a commissioner, Mr. Shaw was distinctly generous in that he did not want double pay for Sunday work.

If the French can keep on wiping out whole brigades of Germans the end of the war should soon be in sight and the whole ghastly business cleared up before Christmas.

HOW COLONEL CURRIE LOST HIS DECORATION

to air a grievance which was tantamount to asking for a show-down. Meanwhile a gallant officer has been obliged to carry a load of suspicion which he did not merit. Sir Sam's explanation that the Currie who was found behind the lines at St. Julien and Ypres was General Currie and not Colonel Currie would have come with better grace months ago when it was most needed. That Colonel Currie should have to horn in on the budget debate to get a square deal speaks ill for Sir Sam's magnanimity. It causes people to remember that Colonel Currie was once a rival for the post which Sir Sam now fills so energetically.

It seems that it is a general's duty to remain behind the lines where he can do his thinking in safety—the farther away the better the thinking—and that General Currie was doing his duty. Similarly it is a colonel's duty to be at the front with his men and that's where Colonel Currie was at every stage of the game. He was doing his duty too. It seems a pity, in view of the confusion it has caused, that Currie should be a duplicate name in the list of Canadian officers. This double personality of Colonel Jekyll and General Hyde has done a lot of mischief to a good soldier and worthy citizen.

Military men, while unwilling to discuss the subject, say there were probably two reasons why Colonel Currie did not get the medals and decorations which his successor, Major Marshall, got. One is that all the Canadians are heroes, and consequently all deserve medals, so that singling one out would be an invidious distinction. The other is that medals are only given for doing what you are ordered to do and that as Colonel Currie did not succeed in his impossible task of rolling back a German army of eighty thousand with twelve hundred highlanders he is not entitled to a medal. However, in view of the medals that were afterwards distributed this looks like begging the question. Most people will be inclined to agree with Colonel Currie that somebody stood between him and the coveted honor.

Honors come easily to some people, and hard to others and along that line they are telling a good one on Sir Sam right now. It was Dave Marshall who was heading an Elgin County delegation to Sir Sam. As spokesman he said, "Before opening up the business of this delegation I want to congratulate you on the knighthood which has been recently conferred on you by His Majesty. I may say that nowhere was it received with more acclaim than in Elgin County—"

Just here he was interrupted by the staccato accents of the minister of militia. You know how he talks—like a machine gun.

"Hold on Dave. Let me add also throughout the Dominion of Canada—and the British Empire—Premier Asquith congratulated me personally—the King himself said no honor he had bestowed gave him more satisfaction—all right Dave, go ahead."

Whereupon business was resumed.—H. F. Gadsby.

COMEDY, DRAMA AND CARTOONS AT MAJESTIC

There is another good program at the Majestic tonight, the chief item of which is "Roselyn," a drama in two acts. It is the story of the matrimonial adventures of an actress who is thrown over by the man she married. There are many dramatic episodes in this human interest story.

"The Tie That Binds" is a western comedy drama, featuring G. M. Anderson of "Broncho Bill" fame. "Persistent Dalton" is a reel of extremely funny Lubin cartoons and "The Moving Picture Cowboy" is a great two-act comedy. "Life's Changing Tide," a most pleasing little drama, concludes a first-rate show.

"DIAMOND" NIGHT AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

This is "Diamond" night at the Westholme, this week's installment being entitled "The Garden of the Gods." There is also a very fine two-act drama "The Lost Lord Lovell" and a single reel feature "The Home of Silence." "His Sister's Kiddies" is a particularly delightful comedy and all round the show is up to the usual. The Gaumont Graphic is again a feature, this week's issue showing pictures of King George, "with the Belgian Army," "The Battle of Moulin Briete," France's Strong Right Arm" and "Don't Touch His Ears," the latter being pictures of the army mule in training. This should prove an exceptionally interesting show.

GEAR STOLEN

Six skates of fishing gear were stolen from the schooner Tyee during the night. The matter is in the hands of Chief Vickers and his men.

- FACT HUNGER -

As children, our first demand is for nourishment; our second for facts.

All through life we go about searching for information.

We make a new acquaintance; but before we will accept him as a friend or invite him to our home we ask for facts about him.

We visit a foreign land; and from the moment we step across its border we are asking questions—searching for facts.

We are asked to try a new food product; isn't it instinctive with us to ask at once:

"Who makes this new article?"

"How is it made? what goes into it?"

"Is it worth the price charged for it?"

Facts—we are simply hungry for them.

Strange, isn't it, that we should so often have to search for them? Odd, that some manufacturers still withhold the facts about their product. Not always because they are facts to be ashamed of—for there are many worthy articles yet unadvertised.

But it will not be so much longer. The fact-hunger of the human race is becoming keener and keener. The more facts we get, the keener our relish for more of them.

Soon it will be impossible to sell a man or a woman anything until everything has been told about the goods that can be told through Advertising.

The public has discovered that Advertising tells much-needed facts—that, in fact, Advertising satisfies fact-hunger.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
