UNITED STATES CITIZENS FIRED ON BY GERMANS

Forty Americans on French Liner Had Narrow Escape—Von Sanders Arrives at Smyrna With an Army.

(Special to The Daily News.)

New York, May 8.—The French steamer Venizia, with forty United States citizens on board, reports having been chased by two German commerce raiders accompanied by two submarines off the Azores, in the lane usually followed by trans-Atlantic liners. Several shots were fired at the Venizia but the German vessels were unable to overtake her.

Germans at Smyrna.

London, May 8.—Field Marshal Liman Von Sanders, with the German first army, has arrived at Smyrna, bringing along a large number of Austrian heavy artillery. All the craft in the harbor have been beached in order to prevent any of them making a secret departure. No officials are permitted to leave town.

Smyrna is the principal port of Asia Minor in the Aegean Sea.

The Liberals of Atlin district held a nominating convention at Granby on Friday, May 5th, at which there was a large attendance of delegates from all over the constituency. Frank H. Mobley again received the hearty endorsement of the Liberals of that district and everything points to Mr. Mobley being returned to the Legislature with an overwhelming majority.

SIGNIFICANT ENDING OF THE GERMAN NOTE

The text of the German reply to President Wilson's note is largely a repetition of what has been said by Berlin in previous notes, the blame for the submarine warfare being largely laid at the door of Great Britain, which country is seeking to cut off German supplies.

The following is the conclusion of the note, and the most significant part of it:

"The German government, conscious of Germany's strength, twice within the last few months announced before the world its readiness to make peace on a basis safeguarding Germany's vital interests, thus indicating that it is not Germany's fault if peace is still withheld from the nations of Europe. The German government feels all the responsibility could not be borne before a forum of mankind and in history if, after the 21 months of the war's duration, the submarine question under discussion between the German government and the government of the United States were to take a turn seriously threatening maintenance of peace between the two nations.

"As far as lies with the German government, it wishes to prevent things taking such a course. The German government, moreover, is prepared to do its utmost to confine operations of the war for the rest of its duration to the fighting forces of the belligerents, thereby also

"THE SUPREME TEST" AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

The big feature at the Westholme tonight is "The Supreme Test," in which the famous actress Henrietta Crossman plays the leading role. This is a striking story of the attempt of a society woman to prove that poverty often outweighs riches in the scale of humanity.

There is also a good comedy and an Animated Weekly. On Wednesday the Charlie Chaplin competition will be staged, when the youngsters of Prince Rupert will provide lots of fun.

DERELICT TO BE SOLD

The derelict schooner Volanti, which was towed into port some time ago by the Tuladi, will be sold at public auction on May 27 at 3 p. m., by J. H. McLeod, collector of customs, who is also receiver of wrecks for this district.

GERMANS AGAIN FAIL TO CRUSH FRENCH FORCE

Terrific Attacks by Prussian Regiments—Enemy Repulsed with Heavy Losses—New French Commander.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, May 8.—The fighting on this, the 77th day of the battle of Verdun, has equalled in intensity that of the opening attacks on the great French fortress. Four attacks were made east of the Meuse on a front of 2,000 yards, each attack being led by different Prussian regiments.

A whole German army corps was employed in an effort to crush the French on a front of one and a half miles between Hill 304 and Deadman's Hill. The fighting still proceeds.

General Nivelle is now in command at Verdun. The new commander was a colonel of artillery at the beginning of the war, and has a brilliant record of successes.

Germans Again Defeated.

The furious German thrust against the French positions on Hill 304 have been defeated and the German losses were heavy. The French in driving the Germans from their positions east of the hill to the east of the Meuse took 32 prisoners.

GREAT TRIBUTE TO THE CANADIAN TROOPS

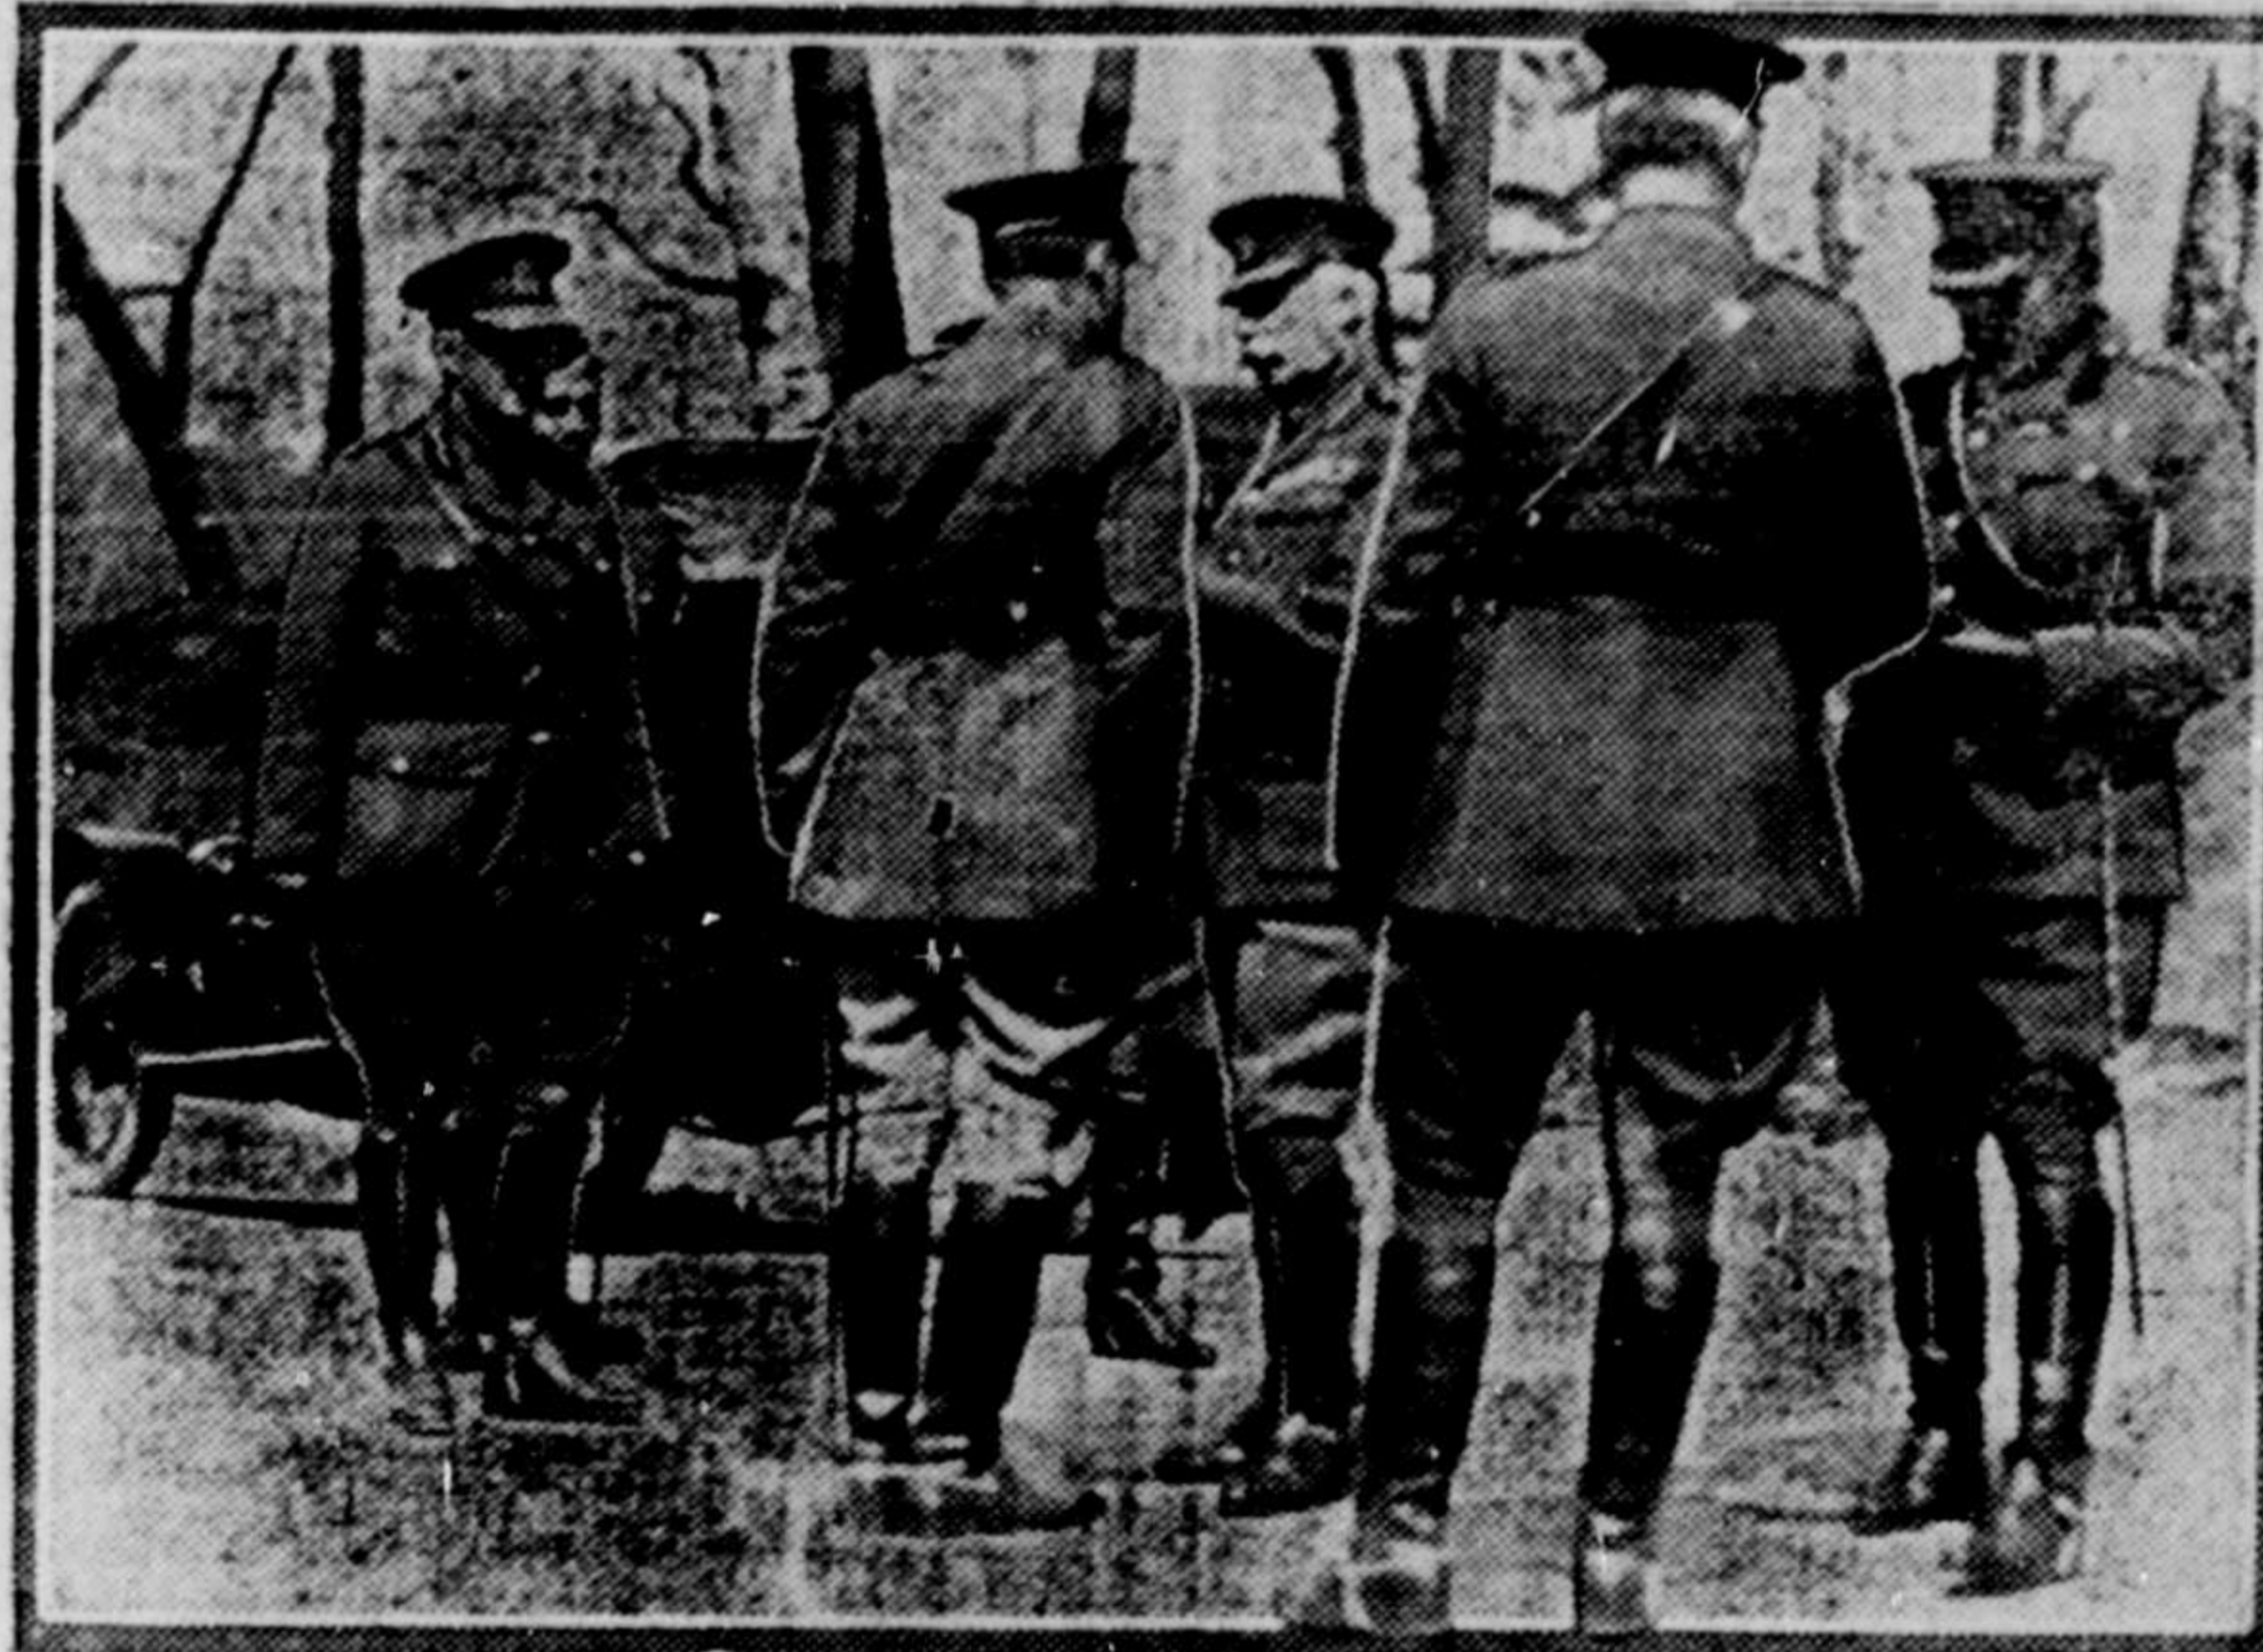

"They are not such soldiers as we have ever known before; they do not obey any of the rules of warfare as we have learned them, but, mon Dieu, they can fight!"

That was the remark made to me by an officer of the French General Staff as we stood together on the road from Boesinghe to Elverdinghe, in Flanders, one of those terrible days just a year ago, and watched ambulance after ambulance dashing past, each carrying its ghastly freight of wounded and dying Canadians. It was the valedictory of the men from overseas who had thrown themselves into the breach and saved the line, who fought against big odds, and had piled their bodies man high to stem the German drive for Calais, and who, against gas and flame, shot and shell, checked the Prussian tide of victory and wrested from the enemy the prize that was within their grasp—the road to the Channel, which meant the military segregation of Britain and France and the possible invasion of England.

Not until this war is over will it be possible to tell of all that happened during those fateful weeks from April 22 to May 10, 1915. By that time it will be stale in men's minds, and may even be overshadowed by others of as great import. But the story of those days is here.

The casualty list of the Canadians engaged in that struggle

ARMAND LAVERGNE HAS RESIGNED FROM HOUSE

(Special to The Daily News.)

Quebec, May 8.—Armand Lavergne, one of the Nationalist members of the Legislature, announces his retirement in a speech in which he flays the French members of the Federal Cabinet for permitting the disallowance of French teaching in the Ontario schools.

IS THIS JUST?

Vernon, B. C., May 1, 1916.

Dear Sir:—Can it be considered just or equitable that the widow and children of the soldier who has given the supreme sacrifice for his country should not be allowed to receive help from the Canadian Patriotic Fund? Their expenses are as great as they were before he was killed. If they needed help before, they need it NOW.

So whereas patriotism and common sense demand an appreciation of the sacrifice made, that such dependants should not be thus discriminated against at least so long as the war continues.

And whereas, as a practical illustration it appears that a family consisting of a wife and three children, now receiving $67.50 per month, would, upon the father and husband making the sacrifice of his life for those who provide the moneys for the Patriotic Fund, at once be cut down to a pension of $37 or $42. This is certainly a double hardship during the period of reconstruction, and at a time when the earning power of a husband and father is desired and necessary above all other periods in the history of the generation.

Therefore be it resolved that the Executive having in hand the conduct of the matters appertaining to this fund be requested to have introduced into the House of Commons of Canada an act to amend the Canadian Patriotic Fund Act, 1914, by striking out section 3 thereof, the last paragraph, following sub-section (b), and in lieu thereof enacting the following:

"No assistance shall be given to any person under the provisions of this sub-section who is in receipt of any gratuity, pension, or allowance paid by a foreign government in consequence of death or incapacity occurring as aforesaid," or otherwise that the act be amended in such manner as will permit the payment of allowances to dependants in Canada during the period of the present war or until the Executive find it impossible to provide the funds for payment of allowances after the grant of a pension.

SLIGHT FIRE

An unruly oil-stove was the cause of an outbreak of fire in the basement of the second-hand store of F. M. Crosby about nine o'clock on Sunday morning. At one time the outbreak looked really serious, but the fire brigade managed to keep it confined to the basement.

Residence of High Official Used as Rebel Arsenal—Casement Charged With High Treason.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Dublin, May 8.—The government is investigating the various departments in a search for rebels. Many branches of the post-office have been honeycombed with disloyalty.

The residence of a high postal official was used as an arsenal for the rebels. A large magazine of explosives, arms and ammunition was discovered in the basement.

Sentences Commuted.

The Countess Georgiana Markievicz and Henry O'Hanahan, who were court martialed and sentenced to death, have had their sentences commuted to penal servitude for life.

George and John Plunkett, who also were sentenced to death, have had their sentences commuted to penal servitude for ten years.

Sir Roger Casement will appear before a police magistrate on Wednesday for his preliminary hearing on a charge of high treason. He will be remanded for trial before the Lord Chief Justice and a jury.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Little Eileen Patmore had a very narrow escape of serious injury when she was knocked down by an auto today while she was leading the march out of school on Borden Street. So far as could be learned up to the time of going to press, the doctor's examination had revealed nothing more serious than a few cuts and bruises, though the little girl must have sustained a severe shock. It will be sincerely hoped that no ill effects will follow.

VERDUN

If the report from Milan of mutiny amongst German troops at Verdun is correct, there is every reason to believe that the end is clearly in sight. In spite of the strict German censorship with its false reports to Berlin for public consumption, there is bound to be news of the real state of affairs leak through to the people of Germany. The censor cannot control the tongue of a wounded soldier, who has been horror-struck by what has occurred before the great French fortress during the past few weeks, and it is bound to have its effect upon public opinion in Germany.

The Verdun attack was the most carefully planned of all the German efforts and it has been the most utter failure. The French artillery has been far superior to that of the enemy, while the machine guns of the French have played deadly havoc with the hordes of advancing Germans. Deadly bayonet work at close quarters has completed the terrible tale of death.

To the layman, the outstanding feature of the attack has been its hopeless stupidity. Thousands upon thousands of German soldiers have been marched up to the mouths of the French guns only to be mowed down. Disaster has followed disaster, still the same tactics have been kept up with little variation. Had the Kaiser been a madman seeking to find out how many men could be slaughtered by a certain number of guns in a given time, he could not have brought about greater slaughter. Had the Allied leaders had a choice as to the German method and place of attack, they could not have chosen better than Verdun and the methods adopted.

"MR. KELLY'S" FUTURE

Is it true that "Mr. Kelly" is slated for some high post of honor and emolument in the gift of the government? This query is suggested by the deference paid to that personage by the chairman of the committee inquiring into the Vancouver by-election. "Will you be here many days, Mr. Kelly?" he ingratiatingly asked. Now, if high destiny had not plainly set its seal upon that inimitable individual the chairman of this select committee of the legislature of the great province of British Columbia would have said peremptorily, "We shall need you here for a few days, Kelly, so don't leave town. If you do we will bring you back." Instead, the committee waits upon "Kelly's" pleasure. Thus it is evident that "Mr. Kelly" is about to become a power in the land and we can realise afresh the significance of his remark that he came here to give evidence to prevent a "lot of good fellows from going out of business." What is he going to be? The cabinet still has two vacancies, including the important portfolio of finance, which, by the way, is going to spend two dollars this year for every dollar for revenue, right in the Hon. "J. J. Kelly's" line. Or there is the chairmanship of the commission to administer the workmen's compensation act. In any case we feel that something is coming to the Rt. Hon. "J. J. Kelly" before long. The chairman's deference can mean nothing else.—Victoria Times.

What Does Your Food Cost? You could easily spend two dollars for a meal and not get as much real, body-building nutriment as you get in two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, the food that contains all the muscle-making material in the whole wheat grain prepared in a digestible form. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk or cream will make a complete, perfect meal at a cost of not over five cents. A food for youngsters and grown-ups. Eat it for breakfast with milk or cream; eat it for luncheon with fresh berries or other fruits; a perfect meal for the Spring days.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Bowser has intimated that he will appoint H. B. Thomson as Minister of Finance, after the session closes. He was unkind enough to state that Mr. Thomson was his first choice for the portfolio anyhow. To Flumerfelt this must sound like adding insult to injury.

How careful the premier has been that he did not nominate a Minister of Finance during the session. That would have entailed another by-election and Bowser thinks by-elections are no good anyway.

Colonel Carnegie is having a long spell on the stand in the "shell" enquiry, but he seems to enjoy telling how Sir Sam kept their spirits up with tales of South Africa.

It must have been inspiring to General Bertram and Colonel Carnegie and the other "officers" to listen to accounts of how Sam won the South African war.

Now don't be alarmed, Bill Manson has not enlisted in the insuring freedom of the seas, a principle upon which the German government believes now, as before, that it is in agreement with the government of the United States.

Evasive Proposal.

"The German government, being guided by this idea, notifies the government of the United States that German naval forces have received the following order: 'In accordance with the general principles of visit and search and the destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, such vessels, both within and without the area declared a naval war zone, shall not be sunk without warning and without saving human lives, unless the ship attempts to escape or offer resistance.'"

"But neutrals cannot expect that Germany, forced to fight for existence, shall for the sake of neutral interests restrict the use of an effective weapon if the enemy is permitted to continue to apply at will methods of warfare violating rules of international law. Such a demand would be incompatible with the character of neutrality and the German government is convinced that the government of the United States does not think of making such a demand, knowing that the government of the United States repeatedly declared that it is determined to restore the principle

"Accordingly, the German government is confident that in consequence of the new orders issued to the naval forces the government of the United States also now will consider all impediments removed which may have been in the way of mutual co-operation towards restoration of the freedom of the seas during the war as suggested in the note of July 23, 1915, and it does not doubt that the government of the United States will now demand and insist that the British government shall forthwith observe the rules of international law universally recognized before the war, as are laid down in the notes presented by the government of the United States to the British government December 28, 1914, and November 5, 1915.

"Should steps taken by the government of the United States not attain the object it desires, to have the laws of humanity followed by all belligerent nations, the German government would then be facing a new situation in which it must reserve to itself complete liberty of decision.

around Ypres, from Boesinghe to Dickebusch, amounted to 85 per cent. of their strength! Of the "Princess Pats," a regiment of over 1,000 men, there are today less than a score alive and well of all who left Canada with the first contingent in October, 1914. So it is hardly to be wondered at that I heard the remark voiced by the French officer, repeated many times during those weeks by officers and men of the British, French and Belgian forces. A British officer said to me one day: "You know, those Canadian chaps are a bally independent lot; so jolly cocksure of themselves an' all, an' rather hard to get along with if you don't understand them, but they're first-class fighting men an' no mistake."—William Alderson in Leslie's.

Modern Beacon Fires

THE old beacon fires were the great advertising mediums of their age.

Though they could not advertise merchandise, they advertised the things of most vital interest to the people.

Placed on the summits of high hills, bearing a message to thousands of "readers," they were prototypes of those modern fires of Twentieth Century commerce—the "beacon" fires of Newspaper Advertising.

The advertisements appearing in the newspapers to-day are shining lights in the world of commerce, flashing out news and information to a waiting world.

When the modern manufacturer lights the Beacon Fires of Newspaper Advertising he places his message before the people in a way that will impart knowledge, beget appreciation and win preference for his goods.

Who can fail to see any day the gleaming messages of "Magic Baking Powder," "Standard Ideal Ware," "Sunlight Soap," "Gillette Safety Razors," "Penman's Underwear," "Infants' Delight Soap," and many others?

To the Manufacturers of Canada

Each day sees more articles given publicity in the newspapers. Are your products and your brand still in the valley of obscurity, or are they blazoned forth by the beacon fires of advertising on the high hill of public favor?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumada Building, Toronto.
