HEAVY FIGHTING ON VERDUN FRONT—TURKS BATTLING DESPERATELY IN ASIA

AUSTRIANS ARE DRIVEN BACK ON ITALIAN FRONT

Italians Stop Austrian Advance and Force Enemy to Retire—Turks Putting Up Desperate Fight.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, May 22.—The Austrians in the southern Tyrol, who made a successful advance on Friday, have been driven back by the Italians, with heavy losses. The Italians are now vigorously repelling the Austrians and have forced them to retire within the confines of their supporting positions.

Italy Confident.

Rome, May 22.—M. Morone, Italian Minister of War, states that military measures have been adopted which shall leave the Italian command supreme over the attempted Austrian offensive.

Desperate Turks.

Petrograd, May 22.—The Turks are fighting desperately to check the Russian advance in Asia.

The insurgent movement in Persia, which was under German inspiration, is now regarded as definitely overcome. Russian troops, which were being held in the neighborhood of Ispahan to quell any uprising can now be released and will join the Russian army on the Mesopotamian border.

Russians Join British

Russian cavalry has succeeded in linking up with the British army in Mesopotamia after a march which was full of adventurous riding.

SUFFRAGETTES WILL START BIG CAMPAIGN

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, May 22.—The British Columbia suffragettes, who at first were greatly disappointed at Bowser's announcement that Woman Suffrage would be submitted to a referendum, are now viewing the scheme more favorably and are making plans for the carrying on of an active campaign for the vote.

PREPAREDNESS

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, May 22.—Congress has passed measures of preparedness including the Army Reorganization Bill, which brings the peace strength of the United States army up to over 200,000 men.

STIRRING APPEAL FOR THE PATRIOTIC FUND

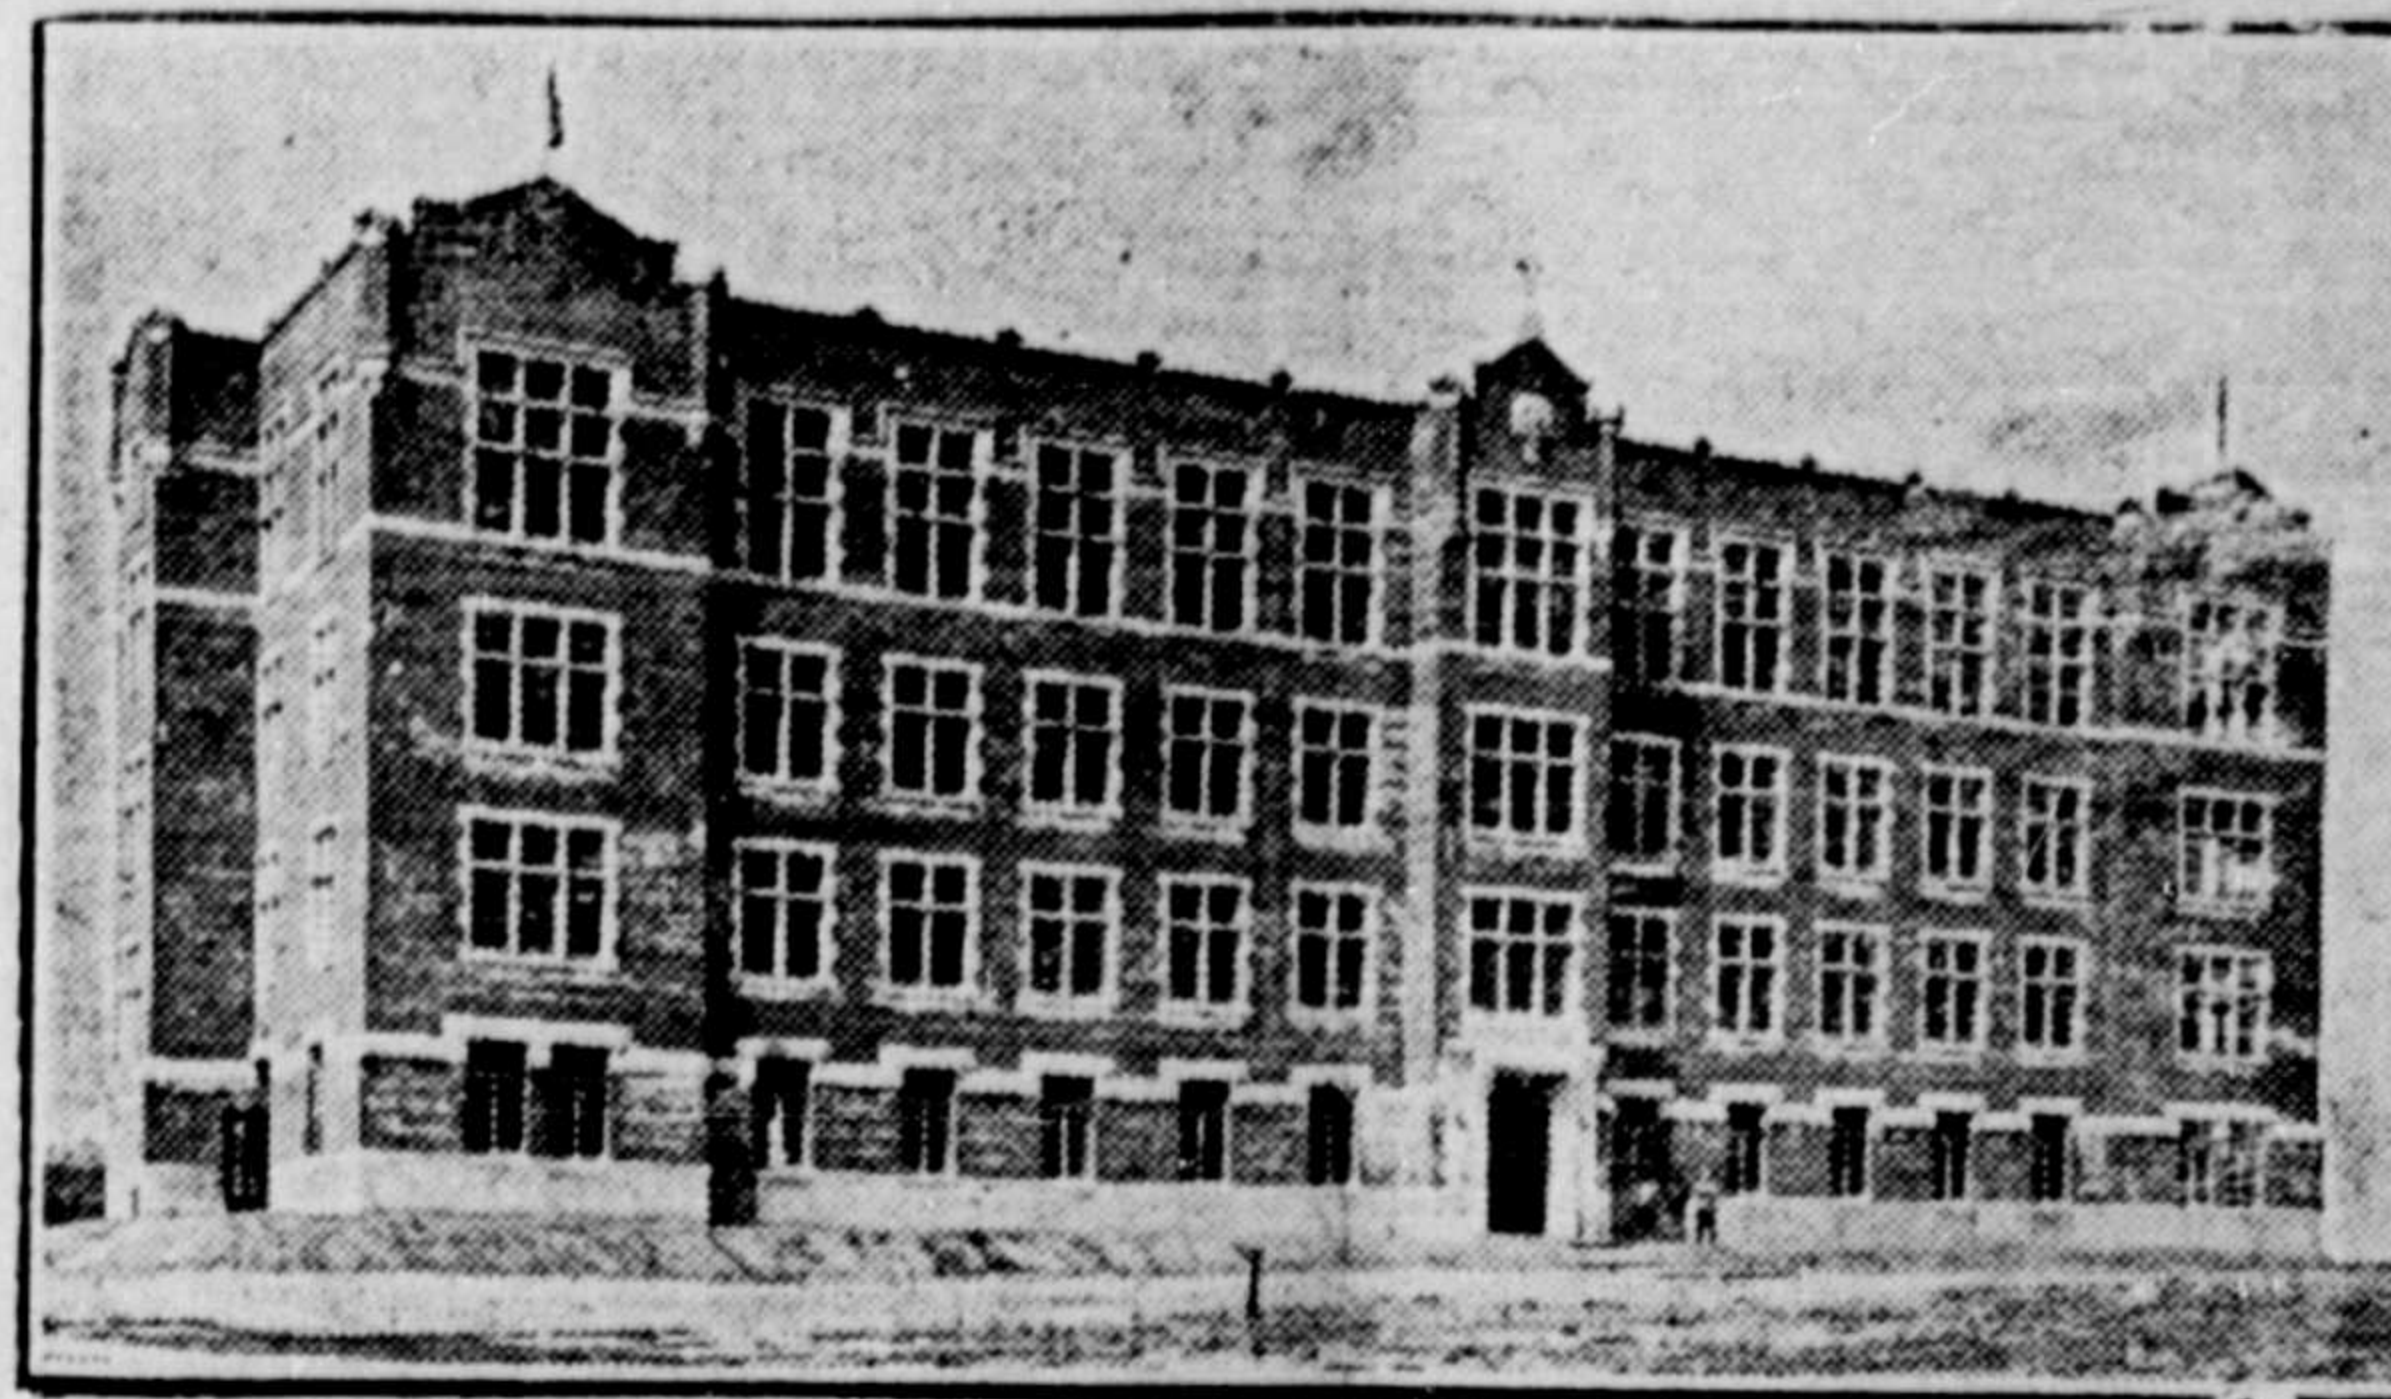

In St. Andrew's Church last evening, Mr. F. Nation, secretary of the British Columbia Branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, gave a very complete account of the administration of the fund.

At the outset, he dealt with the formation of the organization in Ottawa, shortly after the outbreak of the war, and went on to show how, with the increase in the number of enlistments, the demands upon the fund became heavier every month, until, at the present rate, the sum of $10,000,000 will be required annually while the war lasts.

In this province, outside of the City of Vancouver, the sum of $398,471.58 has been contributed while there have been disbursements amounting to $346,346.15. The balance of $52,690 has, however, been more than off-set by a deficit in the Vancouver branch of the fund. Mr. Nation stated that it is certain that there will be a demand for a much larger amount than has been contributed up to the present.

In dealing with the administration of the moneys placed in the care of the Patriotic Fund, he pointed out that the greatest care had been exercised and that experts had been called upon to form a committee to estimate just how much money was required to support a wife and family. The figure arrived at for western Canada was $37.50 for a mother and $7.50 for a child of say ten years, $4.50 for a child a few years younger, and $3.00 each per month for younger children. The committee, in granting assistance from the fund, took into full consideration all other sources of income, excepting assigned pay of a soldier husband, which they considered in the light of an insurance fund, and made their grants accordingly. When a man enlisted, and made application to the fund, he was called upon to provide the fullest particulars as to his resources and, where there was no rent to pay, a deduction was made of an amount equal to rent, less the amount payable in taxes or interest. He pointed out that every detail was gone into with the greatest care.

He emphasized the fact that the fund could not be looked upon as a charitable institution, as the granting of money to help support the dependents of the men who had gone to fight for us must be looked upon "as a right and not as a charity." It was simply an effort to discharge a small part of the debt we owe to the men who have gone to represent us in the firing line. This was the sixtieth town in which he had addressed a meeting in connection with the fund, and he found in his travels that there was considerable criticism offered. One was that the fund was carelessly administered. He pointed out that it cost only 1 1/2 per cent. of the contributions to administer the fund, while the interest on accumulated monies brought that down to 5/8ths of one per cent. He had asked many business men what they considered a reasonable allowance to make for such administration and the lowest figure given was 5 per cent. He contended that the administration of the Patriotic Fund at 1 1/2 per cent. constituted a record.

HARRY PRICE AND THE VICTORIA WHISKY

Victoria, May 18.—Positive evidence that on by-election day here Harry Price, secretary of the Conservative Association, was sent liquor, rendered an account for it and had never repudiated the account, was brought out this morning at the enquiry into the election scandal here.

Frank L. Doggett, of the liquor department of the Hudson's Bay Company here, produced the original sales sheet, showing that there had been sold to Harry Price on March 4, four gallons of Scotch whiskey. The first instructions were to send it to the Victoria Cartage Co., and these were changed to delivery at the building on Wharf street. There was a note on the sheet showing that there were verbal instructions from Harry Price. The whiskey was charged at $5.50 a gallon, $22 in all.

Another criticism was that some of the soldiers wives and families are now better off than when their bread-winners were here. If that were so he thanked God for it, as they certainly deserved to be.

Some thought that the basis of allowance was too high. He said that they had carefully considered the general cost of living and were satisfied that this was not so, if people remembered that there were thousands of wives wondering whether their husbands were lying wounded on the field of battle. He thought the people of Canada would not grudge a few dollars for the mothers and their little ones out of their plenty.

There was a feeling in many quarters that there was a continual demand for money for some fund or other and that people were getting tired of giving. He pointed out that the soldiers in the trenches had to go on fighting whether they were tired or not, and that it was simply a case of "fight or pay," for those who remained at home.

Some thought the government should handle the matter. He thought the government had its hands full with the conduct of

AMERICAN CITIZEN CONDEMNED TO DEATH

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, May 22.—Jeremiah Lynch, the naturalized American citizen who was implicated in the rebellion in Dublin, has been condemned to death. The facts of the case have been submitted to President Wilson by the British Prime Minister. Washington requests a delay of execution pending an investigation by the United States government.

Casement A Protestant.

Sir Roger Casement, who is now awaiting trial for high treason, is an Ulster Protestant and is of English parentage.

other branches of the war, while, under government control, the fund would not be so economically administered, and the demand would be for $20,000,000 instead of ten. Then again, Canada had no method of direct taxation, and, if the collection were made by means of import duties it would take much longer to get the money which was urgently needed.

He also pointed out that if it were made a matter of taxation it would lack the personal element, each one being satisfied to pay their exact share, while in Victoria the other day one gentleman gave $12,000 to the fund, under taxation he would have had to give say $50. In conclusion, he congratulated the people of this city upon the good work done and emphasized the fact that it must be kept up even after the war is over, as there will be many demands for months after the cessation of hostilities. Giving a little out of plenty, or a small part of a good salary could never be looked upon as a sacrifice. The only people who were making any real sacrifice were those who had gone to the front, and those they had left behind. He called upon the people to remember the people of Belgium, France, and Poland, who were without food or shelter; to remember the Lusitania; to remember the sacrifice of Nurse Cavell, when they began to feel tired of giving.

SULLIVAN CONFESSES TORIES IMPLICATED

Victoria, May 18.—By a frank confession of his part in the alleged plugging operations in the Vancouver by-election, John L. Sullivan, proprietor of the Irving hotel, before the special government "investigation" committee this morning implicated prominent Conservative association officials. These were F. W. Welsh, who is on the Vancouver Conservative ticket, and who, it has been said, is to be dropped from the ticket at the next convention, C. E. Tisdall, Walter Leek, Joe Hoskins, former alderman and a member of the Conservative executive, and Victor Love, secretary of the association. All these men, according to Sullivan, had advance information that alleged "pluggers" were on their way to Vancouver, did nothing to prevent the men's operations, but permitted them to go unmolested, making it appear as if the whole scheme was a frame-up to besmirch the character of M. A. Macdonald, in the event he defeated the Conservative candidate, C. E. Tisdall, and if he did not, to let matters go anyway.

Government Money.

Sullivan also made the sensational admission that it was government money that got J. J. Kelly, the star witness for the government, out of a Seattle jail to come over here and give evidence that he plugged for Macdonald. Almost immediately, after this slip, Sullivan proceeded to tone the statement down by saying it was his money, but he was to be reimbursed by the government, intimating that his expenses during the case, his numerous visits to Seattle, Vancouver and other places, costs of feeding the witnesses and generally looking after them, was to be paid out of public funds.

STEWART PROSPECTOR RATHER BADLY INJURED

David J. Rainy, an old time prospector of Stewart district, was brought south last evening on the Prince Albert and taken to the general hospital. Mr. Rainy, who is well up in years, had the misfortune, while out in the hills, to fall over a cliff, sustaining rather serious injuries. One leg is badly bruised, though it is believed there are no bones broken, while he also was rather badly cut in several places. The doctor is confident that he will recover.

French Capture Strong German Post and Prisoners—Germans Take Part of First Line—Crisis in Belgium.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, May 22.—Fighting between the French and German forces on the Verdun front continues with great violence. The French have captured a strongly organized German position in the Haudremont quarries, along with eighty prisoners and four machine guns.

The Germans captured a portion of the French first line of trenches west of Deadman's Hill. Artillery duels continue along the remainder of the front, while there have been numerous aerial combats in which both sides have brought down aviators.

Berlin Crisis.

The Kaiser has hurriedly returned to Berlin, from the general staff headquarters on the western front, on account of a government crisis.

CHARGES PROVED

Though a full enquiry into all the dealings of the shell commission has been denied, enough has been divulged in the enquiry into the fuse contracts to stagger the people of Canada. The charges made by George Kyte, M. P., which brought Sir Sam across the Atlantic on the jump, have been proven down to the last letter. The contracts produced by Mr. Kyte in the House have been examined and identified by the interested parties in the presence of the commission. The cold fact that Yoakum and his associates had an arrangement by which they were to split a $1,000,000, commission simply for the placing of a fuse contract, has been made thoroughly clear.

Getting money for nothing, and plenty of it, seems to have been the simplest thing in the world where the members of the shell commission were concerned, while the hardest thing imaginable seems to have been the getting of a contract by a Canadian firm which was able to show that it could make fuses and deliver them within a reasonable time. The only type of man who had any chance to grab a contract was the middleman who had no idea in the world as to how, where or when he could possibly make a fuse. If he had the right kind of influence, he could get anything he liked in the way of contracts and commissions, and take pot luck as to the getting of the fuses made. The delivery of the fuses was not of the slightest importance, the paramount factor being the commission. The French Imperial authorities are loud in their praises of the Canadian soldiers. What must they think of the Canadian shell contract distributors,

CITY FINANCES

Though the city has now completed its financial arrangements and has secured money enough to take care of its indebtedness, the only gain is that there will be no more worries over the handling of short term certificates, while the city is now carrying its debt at a cost of about seven per cent. per annum, instead of about ten per cent. as was paid last year. Though a considerable saving has been effected, the city's affairs still call for the greatest economy in their administration as its liabilities are quite heavy enough for the present.

Mayor McCaffery and his council have done their utmost to keep expenses down as low as possible and have been able to effect quite a considerable saving in the running costs of the various departments. The situation still demands the utmost watchfulness for years to come, with no room for the expenditure of one unnecessary cent. In this connection, it is gratifying to note that the city's auditor, who, in his last report emphasized the necessity for the closest economy, is willing to cut down his fees to the extent of $250 in order to assist in the reduction of expenses.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Seattle fish-handlers are asking Washington to bring in legislation to off-set the fishing advantages of Prince Rupert. They cannot alter geographical position by act of parliament, nor can they effectively off-set the advantages of the finest transcontinental railroad on the continent. There seems to have been a good deal of truth in the Austrian reports of an Italian set-back, but the Italians will simply resume their efforts with renewed vigor. Italy is in this war to the bitter end like the rest of the Allies.

The government is to revise the soldiers' pension scale. It is to be hoped that they make the payments so substantial that there will be no need for land grants which will be of no use to the vast majority of the soldiers and of no benefit to the country at large.

Austin Chamberlain's advice to attend to the building up of the strength of Britain and forget about the limitations of Germany is sound and should be taken to heart.

Colonel Allison will probably be wishing he were a "really truly" colonel facing the Germans in the trenches instead of being only a "fuse" colonel facing the attacks of Fred Carvell and Company in Ottawa.

Germany thinks the submarine controversy is over. It is—until the next time a sub sinks a harmless merchantman or passenger steamer without warning.

THRILLING ACCOUNT OF AEROPLANE DUEL

An account of a thrilling air fight between a British and a German airman, in which the Britisher was wounded at a height of 8,000 feet, and, becoming unconscious, had a miraculous escape from death (says the Sunday Chronicle), is given by Lieut. C. B. Wilson, of the Royal Flying Corps, in a letter from Schule, Coln, Deutchland, to his mother in North Cove, East Yorkshire. He writes:

If you did not get the first letter from Toureing, I will send you a short account now of what happened. Four of us were on a reconnaissance; when we were about ten miles over I was attacked by a Fokker—a fast German scout machine. We saw him coming up behind and slightly higher.

My observer opened fire with the rear machine gun over my head, but did not do any good. I got a bullet from the Fokker in my arm, which I hardly noticed, but my observer was now wounded. The Fokker kept on shooting and I got a graze from two or more bullets. Brooking fired a few more rounds—say, half a drum, and then fainted and collapsed, so I put the machine's nose down to get to the others.

I now got one through the steel seat through the back, which gave me a deuce of a punch forward in my seat. Luckily, I always have my belt very tight. I knew I was in for it now, as I could not see and was just on fainting, so I shut off the petrol, and I heard the engines stop just as I fainted.

I was then about 8,000 feet; we had started about 9,000 feet. The machine glided down, and landed in a field—the most extraordinary bit of luck not hitting hedges or trees—and was not a bad crash.

After being hit, the first thing I remember was coming to in a farmhouse. I was temporarily dressed, and then sent off in an ambulance to the hospital, where I was immediately X-rayed, and then operated on; I think they got most of the stuff out.

The fellow who brought me down now came in and shook hands with me, and we had a chat. The officer who lived in the house where I was dressed came to see me a lot, and gave me a photograph of the smash. They dropped a message our side saying I was all right, the feeling between the two flying corps being very good indeed.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the Belgian Relief Fund

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

Send your subscriptions weekly, monthly or in one lump sum to Local or Provincial Committees, or to the Central Executive Committee, 59 St. Peter St., Montreal

Production and Thrift

"To win the war with the decisiveness which will ensure lasting peace, the Empire will require to put forth its full collective power in men and in money. From this viewpoint it is our true policy to augment our financial strength by multiplying our productive exertions and by exercising rigid economy, which reduces to the minimum all expenditures upon luxuries and non-essentials. Only in this way shall we be able to make good the loss caused by the withdrawal of so many of our workers from industrial activities, repair the wastage of the war, and find the funds for its continuance. It cannot be too frequently or too earnestly impressed upon our people that the heaviest burdens of the conflict still lie before us, and that industry and thrift are, for those who remain at home, supreme patriotic duties upon whose faithful fulfilment our success, and consequently our national safety, may ultimately depend."—SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.

- PRODUCE MORE, SAVE MORE.
- MAKE LABOUR EFFICIENT.
- SAVE MATERIALS FROM WASTE.
- SPEND MONEY WISELY.

LET US PRODUCE AND SAVE—

The war is now turning on a contest of all forces and resources—men, munitions, food, money. The call to all is to produce more and more. It may be necessary to work harder. The place of those who enlist must be taken by those at home, men and women, old and young. The more we produce the more we can save. Produce more on the farms and in the gardens. Save more and help to win the war.

LET US NOT WASTE OUR LABOUR—

In this war-time all labour should be directly productive or should be assisting in production. Make it as efficient as possible. If your labour is on something that can be postponed, put it off till after the war and make your labour tell now. Making war is the first business of all Canadians. Efficiency in labour is as important as efficiency in fighting.

LET US NOT WASTE MATERIALS—

Begin at home. The larger portion of salaries and wages is spent on the home—food, fuel, light, clothing. Are any of these things being wasted? $20.00 a year saved from waste in every home in Canada will more than pay the interest on a war debt of $500,000,000.

LET US SPEND OUR MONEY WISELY—

Are you spending your money to the best advantage? What do you think of extravagance in war time? Tens of thousands of Canadians are daily risking their lives for us at home. Is it not our duty to be careful and economical? Canadian dollars are an important part of the war equipment. Make them tell. Have a War Savings Account. Buy a War Bond.

FISH-HANDLERS' STRIKE

There was a miniature strike along the waterfront yesterday, when the men who handle fish asked for 60 cents an hour for Sundays and for night work, this being the union rate for long-shoremen. There was not much fish to handle, there being but two schooners in with about 20,000 pounds, so some of the fish buyers jumped in and packed and loaded the fish themselves.

In the Highest Degree Profitable

Some men figure that as the mercury climbs up sales will fall down. And figuring that way, fate is kind and does not disappoint them.

So there has grown up a commercial superstition that Summer is a dull season.

No greater fallacy has ever gone so long unchallenged.

Summer is a dull season for many lines—but there is no fundamental reason why it should be.

For instance, take a typical case—that of the Canadian wallpaper manufacturers.

They wished to secure their placing orders from the retailers before the early Fall—when American lines are offered. Through education by Advertising, they advanced the season to start the middle of June, instead of the end of August, and they now beat their foreign competitors to the market by nearly three months.

Perhaps you face a selling problem that education by Advertising will solve. Perhaps your Summer business needs the tonic of Summer Advertising.

As the mercury climbs up to its highest degree, increase, rather than slacken, your Advertising and selling efforts. You will find it profitable—in the highest degree.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, 1100m 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
