Italian Counter Attacks Causing Heavy Loss to Enemy—Germans Make Another Gain Near Verdun.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, May 30.—The Verdun region and the southern Tyrol continue to be the theatres of war where most of the sanguinary battles are taking place. While the Italians are holding the Austrians back and preventing them from making any further advances whatever, they are inflicting heavy losses on the enemy by spirited counter attacks on the Austrian positions in the Tyrol.

German Gain.

The Germans, on the Verdun front, have made another gain, having captured three hundred metres of French trenches north-west of the village of Cumieres, near Verdun.

No Greek News.

No news has come through regarding the manoeuvres of the Bulgarians in Greek Macedonia, where important events are expected to transpire on account of the Bulgarian advance into Greek territory.

New York Report.

New York, May 30.—It is reported that Rumania will not sign a commercial treaty with Bulgaria and Turkey.

ACTION TO BE TAKEN REGARDING GOVERNOR

The city solicitor reported to the council last evening that he could get no satisfaction from the Canada General Electric Company in regard to the damage done by the faulty valve at Shawatians, and recommended that he be allowed to wire them stating that the city will take steps to have a new valve fitted by another firm unless they send an expert immediately, while a writ for damages will be served.

Ald. McClymont, in moving that this be done, said that it opened up a wide question and it seemed that it should be brought to a head. Ald. Dybhavn seconded the motion.

PLUGGING ARRANGED BY BOWSER MACHINE

Victoria, May 25.—That he was convinced the plugging arrangements in the Vancouver by-election were in the interests of the Bowser machine, and that this impression was accentuated by the refusal of the returning officer to arrest a man when he demanded it, and the general attitude of the returning officer in this respect, was the statement of G. S. Wismer, Vancouver barrister, before the special committee appointed by Premier Bowser to "investigate" the by-election following the revelations of the Liberals who succeeded in convicting Peter Annance, the man who gathered a crew, mostly Liberals, at the Calumet rooms. Wismer was called as the result of the testimony of one, Eldridge, a shoemaker, and a well-known Liberal worker who, in his evidence, told a straightforward story of having been engaged by Annance to "work" on election day, but to perform what work, Annance did not at first tell him. Wismer was captain of Liberal scrutineers in Ward Three. Eldridge was one of the scrutineers to work under Wismer. When Annance asked him if he would "work" on election day in the interests of the Liberal party, Eldridge found ten dollars so alluring that he went to Wismer to get his release from his scrutineer duties. Wismer would not release him until he saw Annance. Annance was called into Wismer's office. Wismer asked Annance what the "work" was to be. Annance would not tell him. So Wismer made an appointment to meet Annance at the Castle hotel at 9:30 o'clock that evening. He had not yet released Eldridge as scrutineer. After they had gone, Wismer got in touch with Mr. McTaggart, chairman of the scrutineers' committee, and they considered something was wrong, as Annance would not tell what the work was to be. They tried to get a Thiel detective, but the office was closed. Then they tried to get M. A. Macdonald, but he was addressing a meeting. So they went to the Castle hotel to quiz Annance, but the latter did not put in an appearance. Then they told Eldridge to go with Annance and keep an eye open for crooked work.

Got Suspicious.

This Eldridge did, and reported about noon that he had seen nothing. But about 4:30 o'clock he reported that things were suspicious and he thought "they were padding the lists." This was what eventually led up to the investigation of the Annance case and the Calumet rooms by the Liberal party, and finally Annance's conviction. As to a question of Ernest Miller, counsel for the government on the committee, if he did not think that it was peculiar, Annance should go to the Liberals to get his men for alleged plugging, Wismer declared that it was decidedly peculiar, and made him think it was a Conservative game. In other words, he meant a "plant."

Impression Deepened.

This impression was deepened by events on election day. Wismer

NEW ENGLAND FISH COMPANY BURNED OUT

The New England Fish Company's wharf and warehouse at Vancouver was destroyed by fire on Sunday night. The outbreak began in the sheds of Brown & Harvey, which contained large quantities of fodder, and quickly spread to the New England Company's property adjoining. The wharf was burned to the water's edge, the offices being completely destroyed. The cold storage plant was also seriously damaged, though a considerable part of it was saved.

MRS. W. M. LAW PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY

It will be with the deepest regret that citizens of Prince Rupert will learn that Mrs. W. M. Law passed away at three o'clock yesterday morning at Alice Arm. Mrs. Law had been in indifferent health for some time but retired on Sunday evening, apparently in her usual health. In the early morning, she was taken suddenly ill and passed away in a few hours.

The sympathy of all old-timers is being extended to Mr. Law, who is in the city on his way south with the body. Interment will take place at Portland, Oregon, where Mrs. Law's relatives reside. Mr. Prince Rupert in the early days and Mrs. Law were residents of and had a host of friends in the city, to whom the sad news will come as a great shock.

declared to the committee that he thought Ward Three polling place, in Orange Hall, over the store of Thomas Duke, Conservative candidate, a "hard" ward to watch, so he had information blanks and warrants in his pocket and the Liberals had arranged to have a justice of the peace there if it was necessary, to swear out informations. Early in the morning a suspicious party came in and Wismer displayed his sheaf of "blue" papers and the suspicious party made a hasty exit from the polling place. Later, a man came and wanted to vote in the name of a

DISASTROUS FIRE AT PORT ESSINGTON

(Special to The Daily News.)

Port Essington, May 30.—A serious fire broke out here yesterday afternoon at the southwest end of the town, wiping out the Salvation army barracks; the government boat-shed, and the residences of J. McPherson, Jack Larsen, George Church, Tom Hanson, George Huston, Andrew Spalding and T. M. Orwig, while the latter's boat-shed was also destroyed.

The steamer Inlander, which was lying on the ways, had a very narrow escape, a change of wind carrying the fire away from the steamer to the bush.

The residents put up a vigorous fight against the flames, but owing to the recent dry weather, the fire made rapid headway. Had the wind not been blowing down river, the whole town would probably have been wiped out. The fire started in the house of George Church at 3:45 in the afternoon. None of the houses were covered by insurance and several old-timers of the north lost all they had.

ROBERT WIGGINS IS AMONG THE WOUNDED

In the list of casualties published in Ottawa at midnight on Saturday, there appears in the list of wounded the name of Robert Wiggins, with next of kin in Scotland. This is undoubtedly the popular "Bob" Wiggins, one of the St. Andrew's Society boys, who has been at the front for some time. It is to be hoped that he makes a rapid and good recovery.

FATHER AND THE BOYS AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

There is a treat in store for Westholme patrons tonight when Digby Bell appears in "Father and the Boys," George Ade's famous comedy. This is one of the greatest comedies of the screen, the adventures of Tom and Billy and their friends being lively in the extreme.

There is also a two reel Mexican drama which should prove interesting, and an Eclair Gazette of war news, which is always of the best.

The concert night will be Tuesday instead of Thursday, as at first arranged, and for June 6th, Mr. Harvey will have a high class program.

CITIZEN HEARS FROM HON. D. LLOYD GEORGE

BASEBALL

The Colts and C. C.'s meet tonight at Recreation Park. Benny McDaniels will pitch for the Colts, with George Wally behind the bat. "Babe" Fortin being out of town, the Catholic Club will try a new pitcher. The game begins at 6:45.

HOW ALLISON DIVIDED HIS COMMISSIONS

Says Sam Hughes did not know he was Getting Commission—Until Kyle Charges Were Made.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Ottawa, May 30.—The Meredith-Duff enquiry into the fuse contracts was resumed today, when the examination of Colonel John Wesley Allison was continued.

The question of the drafts made upon Allison's share of the one million dollars, divided by agreement between Yoakum, Bassick and Allison was gone into.

Asked regarding the ten thousand dollars given by him to Major George Washington Stevens, of Montreal, Allison replied "It was in consideration of his taking care of me in other deals." He explained, early in 1915, Major Stevens put through a deal in Europe in connection with which he and Stevens were entitled to a commission of $120,000.

Asked why he gave an order for $50,000 to Lignanti, Allison replied that Lignanti had shown him what he was doing in connection with the securing of other orders.

Asked about the $30,000 he had given to Colonel Wm. McBain, he said that it was in settlement of various matters, including a claim for a share in the profits of the Canadian Car Company's contract with the Russian government.

Regarding the $105,000 which he had given to Miss M. G. Edwards, Allison said that this lady was his wife's sister, who had looked after his business for many years, and, not having otherwise provided for her, he had decided to give her a share of the profits on the contract.

In explanation of the order for $30,000 which he had given to Craven, he said it was in consideration of his having tried to get prices on fuses for him all over the country. He had not done anything for Yoakum and Bassick, so far as he knew. Craven got war material prices for Sir Sam Hughes in 1914.

Allison said that Hughes did not know that the commission on the American Ammunition Company's contract was to be $1,000,000 until after the Carvell and Kyle charges had been made in Parliament.

FINANCIAL SUCCESS

The ex-mayor finds it quite simple to connect up the "numerous civic trips abroad" (there were two of them) with the upkeep of the fire department. It must be apparent to all that, even if the council had found it necessary to add six men to the fire department instead of reducing the staff by one, the mayor would have gone to Victoria and New York just the same.

Mr. Bowser may have said there would be no obstacles in the way of the bill, but there were obstacles nevertheless, one of these being the late date on which the legislature opened. Mayor McCaffery found much work to do in Victoria and did it well.

The New York trip was not only unavoidable but absolutely essential. When Mayor McCaffery took office, he had two great ends in view,—the reduction of operating expenses in the city and the placing of the bonds. He has succeeded admirably in both. From the day he took office, he set to work on the sale of the bonds and the passing of the necessary legislation, with his mind made up not to let go until he had carried the deal to a final and successful conclusion in New York, with the treasury certificates cancelled forever.

Evidently, the ex-mayor would have stayed at home and left everything to the tender mercies of the brokers, and probably the result would have been another case of defaulting on June 1st, as we had last year, or we might have had a repetition of his fruitless trip to Montreal.

Incidentally, by putting the deal through in New York, the city has been saved the sum of $2,835 in insurance and express charges, which is quite a consideration in these days. It is quite possible that, instead of the trip having cost the city money, it will show a margin of profit.

The ex-mayor made an expensive trip to Montreal. He failed. McCaffery succeeded in selling the city bonds, thus saving the city $58,000 per year, in addition to the $10,000 he has saved in the operating of the city's business, which the ex-mayor said was impossible. Mayor McCaffery stayed right with the job; thoroughly understood every move on the financial board; completed his work in a businesslike way, and the council will not find it necessary to send a wire to New York to find out just exactly what terms he had agreed to, as was necessary after the Montreal trip of the ex-mayor.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The London Times reply to the Berlin peace speeches was of a thorough-going belligerent type, not because the Times likes war but that, through this war, lasting peace can only come by fighting to a finish.

Sullivan's wireless messages did not convey the meaning he sought to convey in his evidence at the enquiry. The hand-picked majority on the committee will much prefer the verbal evidence to the wireless messages.

Monte White says he was offered money by Sullivan to come up to Victoria and give evidence for the government. When he refused, Sullivan threatened that, if he came up at all, he would be jailed. White gave his affidavit that he secured the pluggers for the Tories, but the affidavit was not accepted, as this was not the kind of evidence required by Miller and Company.

The white-washing report brought in by the public accounts committee is just exactly the kind of a report a Roblin committee would have brought in on an enquiry into the Winnipeg scandals. Unfortunately for the government the public were permitted to read a good deal of the evidence.

Perhaps the funniest part of the report is where it seeks to show that Contractor McDonald was a philanthropist who handed over an extra $39,000 when the Tory graft committee instructed him to do so.

Things seem to be getting quite interesting again on the Greek frontier and King Constantine, who has been having a quiet spell, is going to have some fine points in neutrality to settle. His easiest and safest solution will be to join the Allies.

The ex-mayor states that there was only one bond house bidding on the city bonds. If this is a sample of his knowledge of the transaction, one can easily understand why he makes the statements he does. At the last moment, Spitzer, Rorick Company had to get a hustle on in order to get in on the deal at all.

was not in sight at the time either.

Were Refused.

The Liberals had arranged for two scrutineers in this place, but the returning officer objected and man who, according to the voters' list committee, had not resided at the Japanese boarding house which was given as the address, for five years before. So he was sworn and took an oath. He voted. Wismer insisted that the man be arrested. The returning officer would give him no satisfaction, though Wismer thought he might at least have advised getting an information out. But he did not do so. The justice of the peace appealed to Mr. Mellish, who was the counsel for him. Mellish gave instruction that two Liberal scrutineers should not be permitted. Still later, two suspicious characters came in and walked about the booths. Wismer was close on their heels and they left the polling place.

Later, one of the men on the outside in the interests of the Liberal party, told Wismer he heard one of the men say he had "voted five times already and was going to vote five times more before 5 o'clock, but that the man upstairs was on to them. Wismer instructed that these men be followed. He was told they went and met Mellish on Water street, then went into pool room. Mr. Miller, assisted by Dr. McGuire, tried by a fire of questions, to shake Wismer's testimony, but they were unsuccessful. Mr. McTaggart corroborated Wismer.

GERMANY'S THREE FATEFUL TEACHERS

A country generally gets the teachers it deserves, but teachers may strengthen or restrain national traits and tendencies, and Germany has been unfortunate in hers, for they have pandered to her constitutional lusts, says Sir James Crichton-Browne in "Bernhardi and Creation," published by James Maclehose & Sons, Glasgow. She has in the last century had three conspicuous teachers, whose doctrines through her Universities and schools have percolated down and tinted the masses of the people, and so have come to entirely dominate her and to dictate her policy.

The first was Nietzsche, a madman, the inventor of the superman or blonde beast, who was, he taught, entitled to impose his will ruthlessly on all weaker beings.

The second was Treitschke, a deaf and saturnine historian, trenchant but untrustworthy, who taught that might is right, and that Germany, being mighty, is entitled to subdue all her less mighty neighbors by the sword, and who was animated by a rancorous hatred of English.

And the third is General Bernhardi an accomplished soldier no doubt, but a rabid militarist and purblind special pleader, who has taught that war is the fundamental law of development, that there is no right except might, and no justice except the arbitrament of war. It is Bernhardi who has chiefly poisoned the judgment and inflamed the passions of Germany, and brought her to her present plight. He has appealed to the brutal instincts and ignorant prejudices of the German people, and plainly told them, long before the war, that Germany's mission is the isolation of Russia by bribes, the prostration of France beyond the power of raising her head again, and then a final reckoning with England. "The hour," he says, "to which so many German officers drink, will then have struck."—Exchange.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

The Tale The Wagons Tell

My office window faces a street, close to the railway freight sheds.

All day long a steady stream of trucks and lorries lumber by—loaded with boxes, barrels and bales.

One truck I noticed the other afternoon was particularly interesting. No two boxes were the same, and stencilled on the end of each was the name of some well-known product—soap, tobacco, socks, breakfast food, cocoa, port, tea, chocolates, perfumery and baking powder.

Gathered there in prosaic wooden boxes were the results of thousands of hand's labor in all parts of the world.

The cocoa had been grown in Brazil, shipped to Bristol, transhipped to Montreal and finally distributed from Toronto.

The tea was gathered by swart-skinned natives of the romantic island of Ceylon; from sunny Portugal the luscious, big grapes had been gathered years ago, fermented, bottled and branded with a famous name; from Egypt had come the cotton and from South America the dyes that entered into the product finally stamped with the brand of a well-known hosiery.

There, behind that obviously prosaic truck-load of freight was the whole romance of modern commerce—the skilled production, the universal demand for food, drink and raiment, and the world-wide distribution of the things we use every day.

And then I speculated why we use these things every day, instead of some other things; and that brought me plump back to my own job of advertising.

The names of some of the boxes on the lorry were known everywhere to-day, but had been unknown a few years ago; and I saw then more clearly than ever before that Advertising is really a great channel digger. It is like the Panama Canal. You can sail from Montreal to Vancouver now, around the Horn. You can get there, but it is going to take months. A year or so from now you will sail through the Panama Canal and chop the journey to less than half. A new channel will have been dug.

The great names in commerce to-day are those of the manufacturers who have let modern advertising steam-shovel a channel across the isthmus of distributing difficulties.

The great names in the commerce of to-morrow will be those of men who widen and dredge this channel so that the greater traffic may pass smoothly and quickly from the source of production to the homes of the consumer.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumden Building, Toronto.

Production and Thrift

"To win the war with the decisiveness which will ensure lasting peace, the Empire will require to put forth its full collective power in men and in money. From this viewpoint it is our true policy to augment our financial strength by multiplying our productive exertions and by exercising rigid economy, which reduces to the minimum all expenditures upon luxuries and non-essentials. Only in this way shall we be able to make good the loss caused by the withdrawal of so many of our workers from industrial activities, repair the wastage of the war, and find the funds for its continuance. It cannot be too frequently or too earnestly impressed upon our people that the heaviest burdens of the conflict still lie before us, and that industry and thrift are, for those who remain at home, supreme patriotic duties upon whose faithful fulfillment our success, and consequently our national safety, may ultimately depend."—SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.

PRODUCE MORE, SAVE MORE.
MAKE LABOUR EFFICIENT.
SAVE MATERIALS FROM WASTE.
SPEND MONEY WISELY.

LET US PRODUCE AND SAVE—

The war is now turning on a contest of all forces and resources—men, munitions, food, money. The call to all is to produce more and more. It may be necessary to work harder. The place of those who enlist must be taken by those at home, men and women, old and young. The more we produce the more we can save. Produce more on the farms and in the gardens. Save more and help to win the war.

LET US NOT WASTE OUR LABOUR—

In this war-time all labour should be directly productive or should be assisting in production. Make it as efficient as possible. If your labour is on something that can be postponed, put it off till after the war and make your labour tell now. Making war is the first business of all Canadians. Efficiency in labour is as important as efficiency in fighting.

LET US NOT WASTE MATERIALS—

Begin at home. The larger portion of salaries and wages is spent on the home—food, fuel, light, clothing. Are any of these things being wasted? $20.00 a year saved from waste in every home in Canada will more than pay the interest on a war debt of $500,000,000.

LET US SPEND OUR MONEY WISELY—

Are you spending your money to the best advantage? What do you think of extravagance in war time? Tens of thousands of Canadians are daily risking their lives for us at home. Is it not our duty to be careful and economical? Canadian dollars are an important part of the war equipment. Make them tell. Have a War Savings Account. Buy a War Bond.

GIRLS' CHAPLIN CONTEST

There was a crowded house at the Westholme last night to see the little girls in the Chaplin competition. The girls were introduced by Billy Martin and Tom Smith, the winners in the boys' contest, and many of them gave remarkably good imitation of the antics of the famous comedian.

The winners were May Thompson and Mabel Adams. The winner of the first prize was the smallest girl of the company, and she simply brought down the house when she entered upon the stage.

THOUGHTFUL MEN OF EDUCATION

Leaders in the community should help the cause, by impressing upon the public the need for men, and the common duty. There is only one convincing way to do this,—by ENLISTING YOURSELF.

A DOUBLE SERVICE!

You not only give your own service to the nation, but incite others by your example.
You have in the future, your dependents have nothing to live for, if Germany wins. Dare you take any chance in such a matter?
The greater the number of men available for service, the shorter the war, and the fewer the losses. You owe it to yourself, your country, and the boys at the front, to act at once.

Men of the University type have already done much—thousands have gone—but their identity has been lost in the various units they have joined. The University Battalion was designed to preserve their identity—to help by force of example as well as by service in the field.

You have an opportunity of rendering the double service, under most agreeable conditions in the Western Universities Battalion. Don't wait for your neighbor to point the way or to force you to do your bit.
