In spite of an advertising campaign of lies and perjuries carried on with the public money, in spite of whirlwinds of abuse heaped on the Liberal leaders, in spite of every device to allay public opinion and asphyxiate its opponents, the machine cannot lull to sleep the awakened public conscience, dormant for so long, or hide its machinations from view. On every hand lie exposed to the public gaze examples of political four-flushing and of the workings of the system which have had the effect of allaying the enthusiasm of many former supporters of the machine, who have wearied of defending and apologizing for it.

A glimpse behind the scenes which shows how expenditures of public funds are controlled by the machine through the patronage system was given at the examination of W. S. McDonald, contractor for the new wing of the parliament buildings before the public accounts committee during the last session of the legislature. It is still fresh in the public memory that the sub-contract for plumbing and heating was awarded to a firm whose price for the work was in excess of the lowest tender by $11,000, itself an outrage to common honesty, but modest in comparison with other fruits of machine politics. The evidence of Contractor McDonald laid bare a secret agreement between the public works department and the contractor for the purpose of falsifying the record, in order that the demands of the patronage list might be met and the public deluded, as the following extract from the contractor's evidence shows:

"Mr. Macdonald read Contractor McDonald's letter of May 20, 1914, to the minister of public works, in which, as the first member for Vancouver said, he went through the solemn form of saying 'there are three heating and plumbing tenders from Victoria firms and Hayward & Dods being the lowest, with your approval we will award them the contract.'

"Mr. Macdonald—Needless to say, that was not a correct report of the facts?"

"It looks that way."

"And just as solemnly you get an answer from the deputy minister, Mr. Foster, on May 28, approving of Hayward & Dods getting the contract?"

"Yes."

"Had you spoken to the deputy minister before you wrote the minister on May 20?"

"I had talked to him."

"Had you mentioned any of the figures of the tenders to him?"

"I mentioned two or three."

"So that when you wrote him that Hayward & Dods were the lowest, you were not?"

WANTED

Wanted, woman cook for men's mess. P. O. Box 1628, city. If

REAL JOURNALESE

The "William Manson" edition of The Journal on Sunday makes highly entertaining reading when compared with the same "reliable" sheet in its issue of Dec. 24th, 1912, when it said "AT A CRITICAL TIME IN THE HISTORY OF THE CITY A BAND OF CITIZENS, INCLUDING T. D. PATTULLO, WHO IS NOW CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR, CAME FORWARD AND PUT UP MONEY IN ORDER TO RETAIN THE (telephone) FRANCHISE FOR THE CITY WHEN IT WOULD BE INCORPORATED. THESE MEN DID NOT MAKE EVEN INTEREST ON THE MONEY WHILE IT WAS LOCKED UP."

Now that Mr. Pattullo is showing up so ably the utter lawlessness of the government and the woeful weakness of William Manson, The Journal says that the gentlemen, whom it hailed as the saviors of the telephone franchise, were out to steal the franchise. Not only did The Journal support Mr. Pattullo in 1913 but in 1914, after he had been mayor for a year, this organ again came out and supported him in no uncertain voice. On which occasion was it speaking the truth? It either deliberately departed from the truth in 1913 and again in 1914, or it is deliberately doing so now. As the situation in the Bowser camp is very desperate, the inference is that it is today giving play to imagination and letting the truth take care of itself.

Where William Manson failed in regard to the Tsimpsean Power Company's charter was that he was the only member of the citizens' committee who failed to see that Richard McBride was stringing along that committee. When the fact came out that the power company had, at that time, expended only a small amount, William said that the matter was simple, all that was necessary was to buy out the company's rights. McBride turned on him and asked him if he thought they had nothing to do but buy up wildcat propositions. Poor William subsided and never regained his nerve. The company was, and is still, possessed of all the water power within a radius of seventy miles of the city, besides the street railway and other rights throughout the city, and the members of the committee insisted that the charter of the City of Prince Rupert should be made so that it protected the rights of the citizens. Mr. Manson was asked to raise the question in the house. What did he say on that historic occasion? "MR. SPEAKER, THE PEOPLE OF PRINCE RUPERT HAVE ASKED FOR THESE THINGS IN THEIR CHARTER AND THE GOVERNMENT IN ITS WISDOM HAS NOT SEEN FIT TO GRANT THEM, SO I SUPPOSE THEY OUGHT TO BE SATISFIED"

Does William Manson seek to deny that he uttered those words on that occasion? Does not he remember well how the members of the citizens' committee rose and left the Legislature in utter disgust at his spinelessness? What did McBride mean by describing the purchasing of the company's rights, when little expenditure had been made, as a wildcat scheme? Simply that McBride did not want the powers of the company interfered with, even if the city of Prince Rupert were to lose by it. What sort of a representative had Prince Rupert on that occasion? Just the kind of "jelly-fish" representative it had on the executive council when Point Grey was made secure in its taxes last July, and William Manson never even notified the city council of Prince Rupert that its opportunity had arrived. The Journal does not attempt to deny that the facts stated in The News of Saturday are absolutely correct in every particular. The Journal knows very well that the first notice the city council received of the matter was through the press and not through its representative. On this occasion, as on the occasion of the city charter controversy and on the occasion of a certain regrettable mix-up in the city, William was "missing."

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN WESTHOLME CASE

The case of the Westholme Lumber Company vs. the G. T. P. closed on Saturday with argument submitted by counsel. Mr. Justice Murphy reserved judgment in the case.

In addressing the jury at the conclusion of the evidence, E. P. Davis, K. C., said that it was apparent that, under the agreement between the railway company and the government, there was to be a solid fill across the entrance to Cameron Cove, though that was a question of law and something with which the jury had not to deal. He went into the agreement by which the railway company got three fourths of the land of the townsite and the provincial government one fourth. It was possible that Sir Richard McBride had promised Mr. Cameron that the entrance would remain open, but, in view of the accepted plan and the agreement between the company and the government, Sir Richard promised something which it was not in his power to give. Even to satisfy the desires of a staunch supporter, it would be impossible for Sir Richard McBride to break the agreement. The promise was (continued on Page Four.)

THE WRIT

The Bowserites continue to attempt to mislead the public in regard to the Brewster writ, though they are bound to fail in their effort to withdraw the attention of the public from the sort of government this province has had in the past few years.

They try to lead the public to believe that the Brewster writ has some miraculous power of rendering legislation illegal, while all that the writ does is to ask the question as to whether the legislation passed since March 14th was legal, or simply another piece of Bowserian illegality, as the premier has already admitted his handing over of about $7,000,000 to the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was.

If the work of Bowser was done legally no writ that ever was issued can make it illegal; the legislation is of itself either legal or illegal. If it is illegal, Bowser himself made it so, AND HE HAS NEVER YET SAID THAT HIS ACTION WAS LEGAL. If Bowser acted illegally, as he has done on many occasions, as witness the passing of the Dominion Trust legislation in direct defiance of the law, a writ might be served by any citizen of this province at any time, demanding the setting aside of any part of the legislation passed illegally. It is the duty of the attorney-general of this province to see that the affairs of the province are conducted on strictly legal lines, and he cannot now whimper and cry that Brewster is trying to set aside all the legislation that has been passed in the time covered by the writ. Neither Brewster nor any other man can set aside that legislation, if it has been properly enacted. If it has been improperly enacted, the responsibility and blame lie with Bowser.

The Bowser attitude is just as logical as saying that a man who asks if a certain crime has been committed should be blamed for the crime. All that Mr. Brewster has done is to ask by the proper legal means whether the attorney-general has again broken the law, as he admits himself he has done in the past. If Bowser has broken the law, he must be held responsible and not the man who simply asks the question. If Bowser has acted illegally, which there is grave fear to believe he has, then he is no fit person to rule this province, even if he had not been guilty of many other grave misdeeds.

However, apart altogether from the legislation in question, Bowser has, in the past few years, shown that he possesses a conception of right and wrong, or rather a misconception, which should not be tolerated by any free people for a moment. He passed special legislation allowing the Dominion Trust Company to take deposits, contrary to the law, while his firm acted as solicitors for the company. When this legislation had to be withdrawn, his firm drew up a clause which was inserted in the company's deposit books in order to mislead the poor depositor, who had no knowledge of the intricacies of legal phraseology. Any man who thinks it perfectly right that he should act for the people while his firm acts for trusts and railway combines which are bleeding the people to death, has no right to be even an ordinary member of the legislature and less right to be attorney-general and premier of a province. September 14 will see the last of his misrule and then for progress and decency.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

"Meat Prices Will Not Come Down" is the cheerful news from the Department of Agriculture. Meat prices will not worry the man or woman who knows that a Shredded Wheat Biscuit will supply more real body-building nutriment than beefsteak or eggs and at much less cost. Shredded Wheat remains the same price, the same high quality, supplying all the nutriment a man needs for a half-day's work. Two shredded wheat biscuits with peaches and cream or other fruits make a complete, nourishing meal at a cost of not over five cents.

jump at such a chance to make easy money.

Hon. William Manson bases his appeal upon his honesty and integrity. Does Mr. Manson think that the Dominion Trust depositors were treated honestly? Does he think that the people of British Columbia as a whole have been treated honestly? Does he think it was honest of Fred Welsh to collect machine funds from soap contractors? Does he think it is honest to "grease" the hands of men as Bowser does?

Does Hon. William Manson think it was honest to send a man of the stamp of Welsh to "take care of" the soldiers' vote? Does William Manson think it is honest for Bowser and himself to endorse the candidature of a man who had to retire from the cabinet for cattle rustling? Does William Manson think it is honest to devote the people's money to the up-keep of a political machine?

William Manson has seen the alleged roads on the Islands. Does he think these are honest roads, honestly built? Does Mr. Manson think it is honest to hire a man as a road foreman whose one qualification for the work is that he will look after the vote for the machine, to the detriment of the roads?

Does William Manson think it is honest to insinuate that T. D. Pattullo tried to grab the telephone franchise, when he knows that only by the prompt action of Mr. Pattullo and his friends the franchise was saved for the city? Even The Journal gives Mr. Pattullo credit for saving the franchise.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" — The Wonderful Fruit Medicine — will Protect You

Auto-intoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufficient action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the Kidneys and Skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the Kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema — and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Auto-intoxication or self-poisoning — as "Fruit-a-tives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. "I don't remember. I did not know them. They would mention the name of Price."

In other words, the public works department and the contractor conspired to hoodwink the people of British Columbia by a false record as all political four-flushers have done since the time of Machiavelli. And Mr. Bowser's well-trained brigade of stump speakers, in their eloquent effusions, always declare without a blush that Messrs. Brewster and Macdonald were unable to disclose anything questionable in the house. The deputy minister of public works knew that the Victoria firm was the highest bidder. He talked the matter over with the minister and then consulted the patronage committee, of which the untiring Mr. Price is the guiding spirit. It was decided without much ado that the firm in question should get the contract without regard to the amount of its tender, and as the contractor stated elsewhere in his evidence, it was awarded on May 2nd. Notwithstanding this, the contractor wrote on May 20 to the minister of public works, informing him that this firm was "the lowest tenderer and subject to his approval, would receive the contract," while the deputy minister, knowing that the contract had been already awarded to the highest tenderer, "approved" of the contractor's decision. In this way was the record falsified to hide from the public view a transaction entirely worthy of the machine, though small in its way.

The public may well ask how many crooked deals of the same kind, the inevitable fruits of machine government and the spoils system, have been covered from the public gaze in the same way in the last ten years. The patronage list has been a multiple-headed monster with a vast number of hungry mouths, and how considerable amounts of the public funds those insatiable maws so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Backed by the

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

Three Mighty Forces Close Linked

Have you ever noted how an audience yawns in the face of an uninspired speaker?

On the other hand, have you noted how an audience will lean forward and grasp the chair arms when the speaker reveals enthusiasm?

Enthusiasm is the buoyant expression of truth. To impart belief in anything, a man must believe it deeply himself. We call such a man an enthusiast.

This applies to the written word also—particularly to advertisements. When the manufacturer really believes in his wares, his enthusiasm will almost inevitably find expression in Advertising. And enthusiasm will be contagious—his audience—the readers of the newspaper—will, figuratively speaking, "lean forward and listen intently."

To be convincing an advertisement must convey an unmistakable impression of enthusiasm. This it will only do when the article advertised has inherent worth.

Thus we have:

Sincerity -- Enthusiasm -- Advertising:
Three mighty forces, close-linked.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

Production and Thrift

"TO win the war with the decisiveness which will ensure lasting peace, the Empire will require to put forth its full collective power in men and in money. From this viewpoint it is our true policy to augment our financial strength by multiplying our productive exertions and by exercising rigid economy, which reduces to the minimum all expenditures upon luxuries and non-essentials. Only in this way shall we be able to make good the loss caused by the withdrawal of so many of our workers from industrial activities, repair the wastage of the war, and find the funds for its continuance. It cannot be too frequently or too earnestly impressed upon our people that the heaviest burdens of the conflict still lie before us, and that industry and thrift are, for those who remain at home, supreme patriotic duties upon whose faithful fulfilment our success, and consequently our national safety, may ultimately depend."—SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.

PRODUCE MORE, SAVE MORE.
MAKE LABOUR EFFICIENT.
SAVE MATERIALS FROM WASTE.
SPEND MONEY WISELY.

LET US PRODUCE AND SAVE—

The war is now turning on a contest of all forces and resources—men, munitions, food, money. The call to all is to produce more and more. It may be necessary to work harder. The place of those who enlist must be taken by those at home, men and women, old and young. The more we produce the more we can save. Produce more on the farms and in the gardens. Save more and help to win the war.

LET US NOT WASTE OUR LABOUR—

In this war-time all labour should be directly productive or should be assisting in production. Make it as efficient as possible. If your labour is on something that can be postponed, put it off till after the war and make your labour tell now. Making war is the first business of all Canadians. Efficiency in labour is as important as efficiency in fighting.

LET US NOT WASTE MATERIALS—

Begin at home. The larger portion of salaries and wages is spent on the home—food, fuel, light, clothing. Are any of these things being wasted? $20.00 a year saved from waste in every home in Canada will more than pay the interest on a war debt of $500,000,000.

LET US SPEND OUR MONEY WISELY—

Are you spending your money to the best advantage? What do you think of extravagance in war time? Tens of thousands of Canadians are daily risking their lives for us at home. Is it not our duty to be careful and economical? Canadian dollars are an important part of the war equipment. Make them tell. Have a War Savings Account. Buy a War Bond.

"SCOTTY" DENNIS IS ATTAINING FAME

A letter has been received from Robert Davie, who is "somewhere in France." He says the Scotch boys are all well and happy and the reports of those of them who have been wounded are all favorable. The verses of "Scotty" Dennis are coming in for much attention, particularly "The Little Wooden Cross," a piece he wrote on the death of "Jock" Watt, one of the most popular of the boys, whose death cast a deep gloom over the Pioneers.

merely one of those promises which are made from time to time by politicians to please their friends.

Dealing with the claim, he ridiculed the figures of the company, pointing out that they did not attempt to show that they had lost any business by not having access to the cove, but, on the contrary, they had admitted that they got all the big contracts in the city. With regard to the extra cost of handling, the company had admitted that they added the increase to the selling price of their lumber, so that they were really trying to recover that a second time. They also claimed $86,000 as the value of their holdings, which they claimed to be unable to use as intended. He reminded the jury that the lots were valued at only $5,000 and they had only a lease of the two lots.

E. C. Mayers, in addressing the jury, sought chiefly to point out how railway companies tread rough-shod over private concerns. He held that the plan showing a fill meant nothing and that the company was bound to keep the entrance to the cove open, to allow of the bringing in of scows. He accepted responsibility for the figures in the claim and went on to show how the company had been hindered in their business and had been put to extra expense in handling and had also had to pay steamer freight rates as they could bring in only small quantities to the waterfront wharf. Mr. Davis objected to the question of freight coming in and His Lordship upheld his objection.

The jury found that the company had sustained no general loss of business; that no claim should be allowed for the retaining wall; that the extra cost of handling over the new wharf was 35 cents per thousand; that the plaintiffs were compelled to build a wharf on the waterfront as a result of the action of the railway company, but that they were not deprived of the use of lots 3 and 4. No allowance was made for the installing of an electric hoist and small allowances were made for the increased cost of handling lumber and for the roadway, prior to August 1913.
