MAYOR McCAFFERY RIGHT ON THE JOB

Mayor McCaffery is going after the drydock situation without any loss of time. The following are copies of his telegram to Sir Robert Borden and the premier's reply. Meantime, the mayor is awaiting a reply from President Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company. Sir Robert Borden does not mention the holding up of the drydock pending the decision of the railway commission, but lays emphasis on the completion of the dock "in accordance with the contract with the government."

Hon. Sir Robt. L. Borden, Ottawa, Ont.
Information from Cotton received that he is prepared to go ahead with Prince Rupert drydock. He cannot on account of some question between Canadian government and Grand Trunk Pacific. Bitter disappointment is felt by citizens. We appeal to you to reconsider your decision that lease cannot be granted pending report of Commission. It seems a shame to leave such a magnificent property idle, especially having regard to the fact that the prosperity of Prince Rupert is being so greatly retarded. You will confer a great favor by reconsidering this matter, and wiring me result.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE SURE PROHIBITION UNCERTAIN

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, Sept. 14.—There was a big Prohibition parade yesterday and speeches by Premier Bowser and Sir Hibbert Tupper in separate apartments of the Vancouver Hotel marked the closing of the election campaign.

The opinion is that the result of the vote on Prohibition is uncertain and that Woman Suffrage is sure to carry.

The Prohibitionists have engaged every available private and public automobile and the others are bewailing the impossibility of procuring vehicles.

MAJORITY IS ONLY QUESTION OF DOUBT

Polling proceeded quietly and steadily from eight o'clock this morning. Nobody seems to be in the least doubt as to the result and the only question is one of the majority. So far, the voting has gone two to one for T. D. Pattullo and everything points to an overwhelming victory for the Liberal candidate.

Clean Sweep.

Vancouver, Sept. 14.—The outlook here for the Liberals is of the brightest. Wonderful meetings were held by the Liberals last night and the greatest enthusiasm prevails. It is clear that the Liberals will make a clean sweep in the city of Vancouver.

MANSON MEETING SHOWED STRENGTH OF T. D. PATTULLO

VAST MAJORITY OF AUDIENCE FAVORED THE LIBERAL CANDIDATE—MR. PATTULLO GIVEN A TREMENDOUS RECEPTION—BOWSER CANDIDATE CERTAIN OF DEFEAT

The Manson meeting in the Westholme Theatre last evening turned out to be, as expected, a Liberal demonstration. There has never been any doubt as to the feeling in the city, but last night's meeting showed that the majority for T. D. Pattullo and against Bowserism is to be even larger than anticipated.

Remembering the feeble reception given the platform party at the Bowser meeting, it was thought advisable to raise the curtain to the singing of the National Anthem, after which Chairman W. E. Fisher asked Mr. Pattullo to take a seat on the platform. Amidst round after round of applause, the Liberal candidate accepted the invitation. The other occupants of the platform were Hon. William Manson, R. R. Maitland, and Joe Merryfield.

There was very moderate applause as William Manson rose to make his speech. In tones of regret he said that it had been necessary to hold an election. In order to show that his opponents had used falsehoods, he said that the provincial debt was not $33,000,000, but only $28,000,000, which included a proposed loan of $10,000,000 for this year. In dealing with the telephone franchise he said that The Daily News had said "he had refused to put up his share." (What the News did say was that "he (William Manson) did not put up a cent.") This was stated by Mr. Pattullo in dealing with the original sum which was contributed in a few minutes in the Board of Trade meeting. The money Mr. Manson put up was put up afterwards, when the affair was in shape).

He then skirted around the Tsimpsian charter, stating that he was not in the house at that time, then he went on to deal with the hydro-electric company, stating that Mr. Pattullo had advised the people to accept the company's proposition.

He said that he had always been in favor of the people owning the public utilities and had done his utmost while government agent to prevent private companies coming and grabbing franchises before the city was incorporated. He thought that the people of Prince Rupert expected too much from the government and reminded his audience that "the Lord helps those who help themselves" (a voice, "that is all that is left for us.") He said we cannot do everything the people want. He said that he had never gone to the government asking for anything unreasonable.

A Swan Song.

In dealing with the attacks of his opponents, he said he had his picture displayed as a jelly-fish. He said he liked to be described as a jelly-fish. He went on to say that "he would always look back with pleasure upon his fighting of the Grit machine in this city." (Voices—"Talk provincial politics; tell us about the P. G. E.; tell us about the drydock").

He said that they were there to discuss the merits of the candidates and he had a right to deal with local affairs. In dealing with Mr. Pattullo's challenge to debate the issues, he said that he did not want any blue ruin speeches at his meetings. "Now," he said, "I want to take you into my confidence. The News is going to publish an extra tomorrow morning, so look out for its springing of some more tricks such as the drydock story." (Cheers for The News). (We hated to disappoint William, so here we are).

He said that Borden had been blamed for the drydock being idle and The News had tried to make it an issue in this election. He assured the audience that ten keels had been laid in the south. He believed that some arrangement might be made with the commission to have work started here. "In conclusion," he said, then someone shouted, "You have told us nothing yet." Mr. Manson then went on to deal with the P. G. E. saying that he had supported the building of the line for the welfare of the province and that Mr. Brewster wanted it completed too. After appealing for support tomorrow he sat down amidst scattered applause.

T. D. Pattullo.

T. D. Pattullo was then given twenty minutes. On rising, the Liberal candidate was given a great reception, the cheering lasting for about a minute. At the outset he said that the debt of the province did amount to $33,000,000 and that Mr. Manson had figured it out in his own way. Going on to deal with the railroad interest now due, Mr. Pattullo said that Sir Thomas White assured them that they would have to pay that. There was $1,400,000 due last July but the government had not informed the

BOWSER AND ROGERS

That the Bowser machine in British Columbia and the Rogers machine in Manitoba were modelled on exactly the same lines is made clear by the evidence given by the contractor in the investigation into the construction of the Winnipeg Agricultural College. The contractor admits that he increased his tender to cover the Dominion and Provincial campaign funds, at the request of Hon. Robert Rogers, just as "Soapy" Welsh had Mr. Pen-dray contribute money to the Bowser machine in Vancouver, the contractor being permitted to revise his tender to cover the amount.

For years, the Manitoba government fooled the people of that province by buying their support with their own money, and the people took years to tumble to the trick. In British Columbia today, and for weeks past, the Bowser machine has been pouring forth your money in a last wild effort to delude you into returning them to power. The old game is played out, and, with the example of Manitoba before them, the people of British Columbia are today voting out the machine which has for years played fast and loose with the wealth and resources of the province. Today, the people have taken the matter into their own hands; they have laid aside all former party affiliations and are coming out as men to proclaim themselves free: free from the bondage of Bowser, Mackenzie and Mann and Pat Welch; free from the bondage of the road boss; free from the bondage of the machine which demands that you bow the knee to the machine boss if you are a working man looking for a job. In Manitoba, as in British Columbia, the corrupt government tried to escape defeat by claiming that a Liberal leader had been connected with their nefarious scheme and the Manitoba machine went so far as to lay a vile charge at the door of Mr. Norris, just as they have done with Mr. Macdonald in this province. They did not attempt to besmirch the name of Mr. Brewster, as they knew that they would be assailing a man who had been proven, so they did the next best thing in attempting to ruin the character of a young and untried opponent. How utterly they failed in Manitoba we already know; how utterly they have failed in British Columbia we shall know tonight. Bowser will not only go down to defeat but to utter disgrace. He has carried on a campaign befitting the character of a Tammany ward boss, and absolutely unworthy of any man aspiring to such an honor as the premiership of a province.

There is not the slightest doubt as to the result: it will be an overwhelming defeat for Bowserism and a great victory for the people and real representative government.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

In the Majestic Theatre last night, when William Manson's advertisement appeared on the screen, one man clapped once and then quit. When Mr. Pattullo's advertisement was screened the clapping gathered in volume until nearly everybody in the large audience was cheering. Everybody wants Pattullo and Prosperity.

R. R. Maitland blamed the people for the C. N. R. fiasco. He omitted to mention that Bowser and McBride told us that Mackenzie & Mann would put in dollar for dollar with the people and that they had not put up a cent of their own money. The government failed to make the magnates live up to their agreement, and, therefore, fooled the people. The people cannot be fooled twice.

R. R. Maitland said that there were fourteen hundred pluggers in the Vancouver by-election, but he did not attempt to inform the audience how many there were in Victoria, when the Liberal majority was even greater in proportion.

The chairman intimated last night that the meeting was held "in the interests of the Conservative party." T. D. Pattullo told the audience that his meetings had not been in the interest of any particular party but were public meetings.

William Manson seems incapable of standing on his own feet, as at each meeting he has to have someone from Vancouver to help. T. D. Pattullo is always ready to stand up and fight his own battles and he will stand up and fight the battles of Prince Rupert in the Legislature in the same manly fashion.

All day yesterday the hopes of the Bowserites in town were sagging sadly and the Liberal demonstration in the evening was the climax to a sad and weary day. William Manson spent a lot of time visiting many of his old supporters and was plainly told by many of them that they refused absolutely to support him or the Bowser government.

It was pitiable to hear a man of the stamp of R. R. Maitland state that he would take the word of a blackmailer, perjurer and jail-bird as clear proof of anything. The Bowserites are indeed in dire distress. Gosden is not unknown in Prince Rupert and his record is not one to be very proud of.

people if this had been paid. (Mr. Manson said not a cent had been paid). Mr. Pattullo said this was so for the very good reason that the Dominion government had had to step into the breach and help the province out with a subsidy.

Mr. Pattullo then dealt with Mr. Manson's platform, the chief plank in which was "honesty and integrity." He did not doubt that Mr. Manson would never dream of stealing anything, but he wanted to know wherein was the honesty of the political debauchery which had run riot in this province. He wanted to know wherein was the honesty of Mr. Bowser in saying that "as a man of the world he had found it necessary to grease the palm of the Indian as well as the white man." He wanted to know wherein was the honesty of the Dominion Trust legislation, which William Manson permitted to be passed in the house without raising his voice, though he knew it to be illegal. He wanted to know wherein was the honesty in the handing over of $7,000,000 illegally to the P. G. E., in passing which Bowser admitted he had broken the criminal code of Canada. Bowser said that he broke the criminal code in order to keep the people of British Columbia from the need of soup kitchens, this after thirteen years of Bowser and McBride government. He wanted to know wherein was the honesty in the road fund. It was simply a corruption fund for the purchasing of support at the polls.

Men Driven Out.

By its actions, the government had driven thousands of people out of the province. He said that William Manson had told one man that if he was not satisfied he could clear out of the country. Mr. Manson asked for proof. Mr. Pattullo called upon W. J. Thomas to support his statement. Mr. Thomas said, "In July, 1913, at the government wharf, Mr. Manson said, 'I have heard the other side of the matter and if you don't like it you can leave the country.'" Mr. Manson said this was a falsehood. Mr. Thomas replied, "You know it is true."

Mr. Pattullo then went on to show that all that Mr. Manson wanted to be judged by was last session. That was the only session in which anything worth while had been done, simply because of the presence of H. C. Brewster and M. A. Macdonald in the house. (Great cheering). The Bowserites in the audience were getting restive and did not care for Mr. Pattullo's criticism and some began to shout, "time is up." Mr. Pattullo replied that he would say what he had to say, if it took him until tomorrow morning. (Voice, "Put him out.") Mr. Pattullo—"There is not a man in this house who can put me out." (Great cheering).

The Five Ships.

In dealing with the aid to ship-building, Mr. Pattullo pointed out after things had gone smash in Vancouver. Bowser promised five ships to Victoria in ten days if they would return Flumerfelt. What happened? Flumerfelt was defeated by nearly two to one. (Cheers).

The Liberal candidate then went on to say that he meant to fight for more aid to fishermen, better facilities for hand-logging, the placing of fewer restrictions upon miners and trappers, and the removal of many of the taxes on the small outside man which were keeping him down. In the development of our resources, the outside man was the most valuable asset the country had.

In speaking of the aid to returned soldiers, Mr. Pattullo asked "Who would not aid our soldiers." What the Liberals objected to was not the giving of the vote to the soldiers, but the sending to England of "Soapy" Welsh to look after the vote.

Woman's Suffrage, they would have, as the Liberals had always promised. Bowser, before the Vancouver by-election described the referendum as un-British, as an American innovation, but today he grabbed it because he thought it was popular.

Public Utilities.

Dealing briefly with his stand on the public utilities, Mr. Pattullo said that several outside telephone franchises had been granted and a blanket charter given to the Tsimpsean Company by the government, before the city was incorporated. He thought that these should be owned by the citizens, so he put up a proposal to get a telephone franchise. When he found that other citizens

ORDINATION SERVICE IN ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

On Sunday last an ordination service was held in St. Andrew's Church by Bishop Du Vernet, when Rev. Edwin Gillman of the Nechaco Valley Mission was advanced to the Priesthood. Canon Rix preached the sermon, touching upon the proneness of some to criticise their clergymen, forgetting that he also was human and needed the prayers and sympathy of his people. The College of Presbyters joined with the Bishop in the impressive ceremony of the laying on of hands consisted in the following: Reverends Canon Rix, McCullagh, Marsh, and Sweetnam.

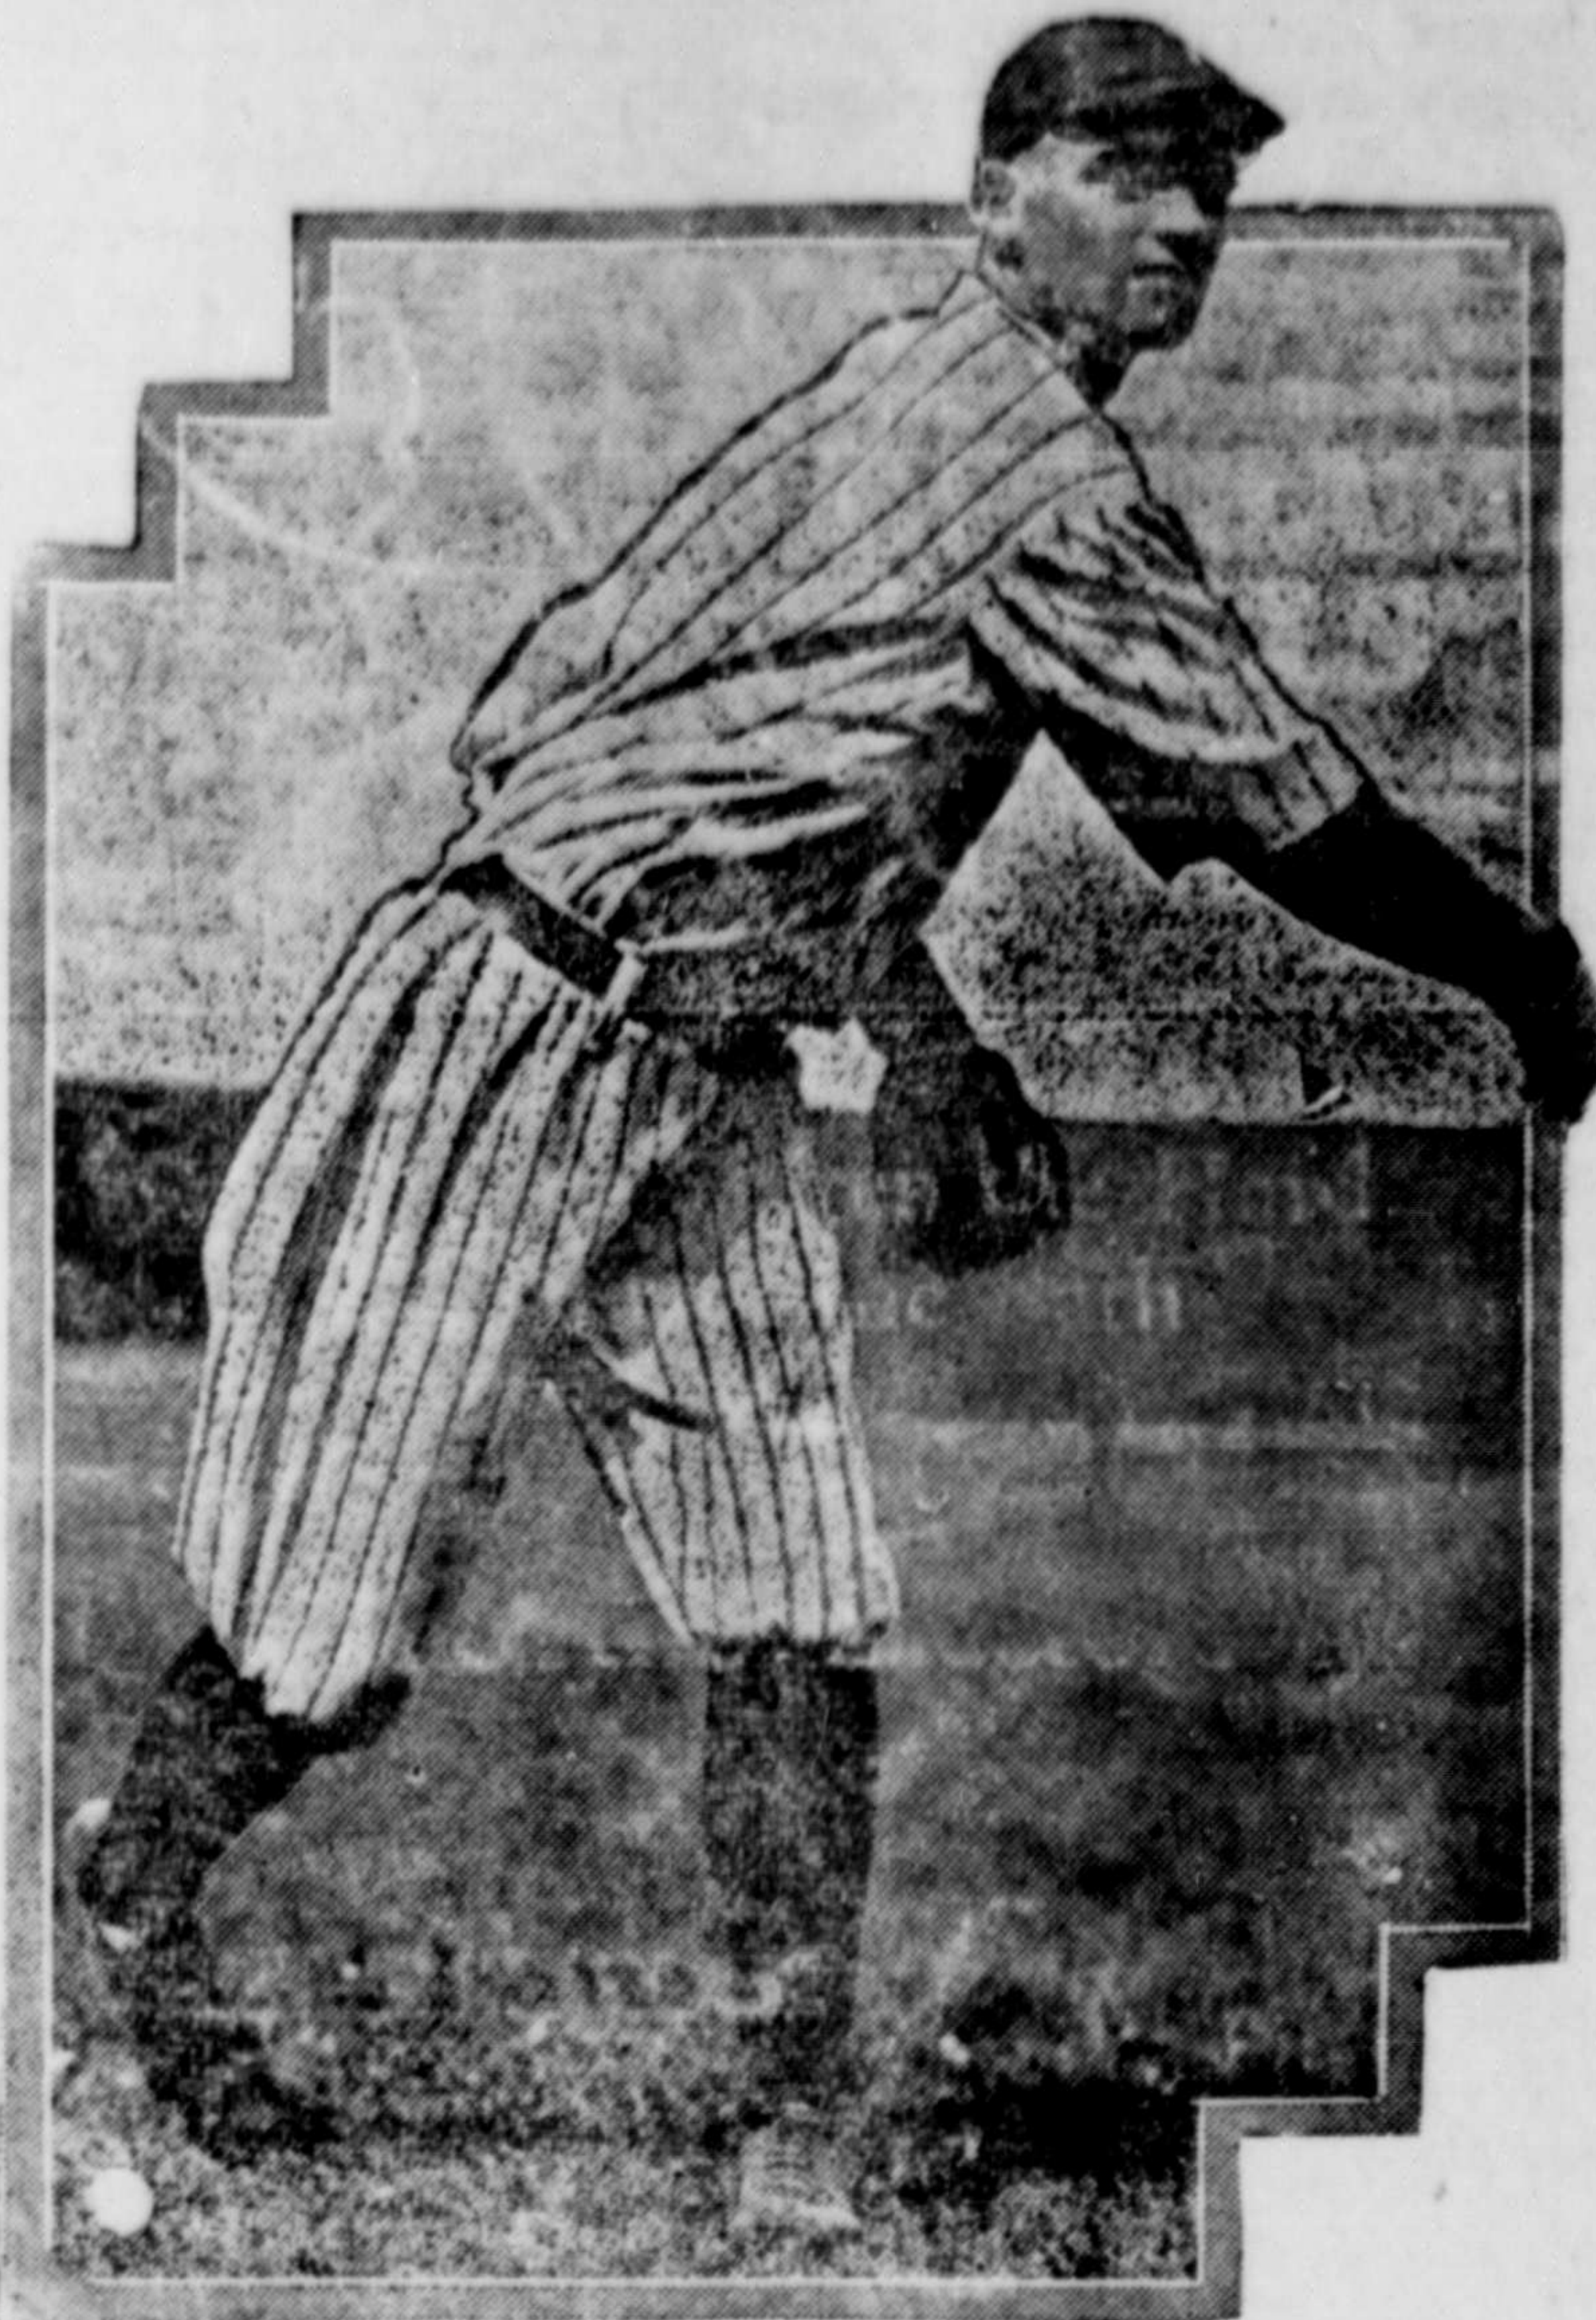

A handsome oak chair with the coat of arms of the Diocese of Caledonia carved on the back, surmounted by a cross was presented by the Junior Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Andrew's Church and arrived just in time to be used by the Bishop during the Synod week and at the ordination.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

- 30 " " 15th November, 1916;
- 27½ " " 15th December, 1916.

The total allotment of bonds of this issue will be limited to one hundred million dollars exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds as the equivalent of each under the terms of the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915.

The instalments may be paid in full on the 16th day of October, 1916, or on any instalment due date thereafter, under discount at the rate of four per cent per annum. All payments are to be made to a chartered bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture and the allotment to cancellation.

Subscriptions, accompanied by a deposit of ten per cent of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a chartered bank. Any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will receive subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

This loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest will be a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch in Canada of any chartered bank and at the office of any Assistant Receiver General in Canada.

Subscriptions must be for even hundreds of dollars.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied towards payment of the amount due on the October instalment.

Scrip certificates, non-negotiable or payable to bearer in accordance with the choice of the applicant for registered or bearer bonds, will be issued, after allotment, in exchange for the provisional receipts.

When the scrip certificates have been paid in full and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the money, they may be exchanged for bonds, when prepared, with coupons attached, payable to bearer or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds, when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Delivery of scrip certificates and of bonds will be made through the chartered banks.

The issue will be exempt from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

The bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000. Fully registered bonds without coupons will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 or any authorized multiple of $5,000.

The bonds will be paid at maturity at par at the office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, or Victoria.

The interest on the fully registered bonds will be paid by cheque, which will be remitted by post. Interest on bonds with coupons will be paid on surrender of coupons. Both cheques and coupons will be payable free of exchange at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank.

Subject to the payment of twenty-five cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons will have the right to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons at any time on application to the Minister of Finance.

The books of the loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of the issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Recognized bond and stock brokers will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent on allotments made in respect of applications bearing their stamp, provided, however, that no commission will be allowed in respect of the amount of any allotment paid for by the surrender of bonds issued under the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915. No commission will be allowed in respect of applications on forms which have not been printed by the King's Printer.

Subscription Lists will close on or before 23rd September, 1916.

REV. J. F. DIMMICK ON THE PROHIBITION ACT

At the meeting in the Westholme last evening, Rev. J. F. Dimmick spoke in support of Prohibition. He opened by drinking success to Prohibition, in water, amidst cheers. After stating that the King, Lloyd George and all the military leaders had proclaimed that drink was the greatest curse we had to face, he said that he believed that two thirds of the people of this province would vote dry. He said that the act would not be made any stronger by the introduction of the Doherty clause as that only dealt with the labelling of liquor. He said that the Gold Seal Co., of Vancouver was now offering to send liquor into Alberta unmarked. He then went on to show how beneficial the act had been in Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The jails were tenantless and the stores were doing much more business, while the people were saving much more money.

He said that the act would do away with the treating system, which was at the root of the evil. He quoted from the editor of the Seattle Times and from the mayors of prairie cities to show how drinking had been stopped by just such an act as we would have. He held up to scorn the charge that the act was un-British and pointed out that the clause which the liquor men objected to was included in the act of 1913, and they did not shout that that was un-British. He resented the abuse of the flag by the liquor men. On behalf of the mothers, the boys and the girls of our province he called upon the men to vote for the Prohibition Act today.

GETTING A JOB

The following is a simile of the test a person is subjected to in order to get a job from the government:

- 1. Are you a Tory?
2. Are you a voter?
3. Are you a member of the Conservative Association?
4. If not, why not?
5. How did your father vote?
6. How did your grandfather vote?
7. Give a short biography of Sam Hughes.
8. State majorities in Vancouver and Victoria by-elections.
9. Are you in favor of a more liberal interpretation of the Land Grabbing Act?
10. Do you believe in the infallibility of Bowser and the local Road Boss?
11. Why did Price Ellison resign?
12. Why was Sir Richard McBride made Agent-General?
13. What do you know about Shaw of Kamloops?
14. Why was Billy Ross pitchedforked into Prince George riding?
15. Have you ever lived in Seattle?
16. Are you on good terms with John L. Sullivan and "Soapy" Welsh.

were ready to join in, he was delighted and they saved the franchise for the city. What he objected to in William Manson in regard to the utilities was that he permitted the government to grant a charter covering the rights of our citizens without the city being notified of the fact. "Why should Mr. Manson support a government which will do such a thing?" Mr. Pattullo resumed his seat amidst cheering which lasted a full minute.

R. R. Maitland.

R. R. Maitland, of Vancouver, then rose to support Mr. Manson. After complimenting the city on its climate he went on to say that the province had borrowed money at 6 1/2 per cent. (Nova Scotia borrowed at 5 per cent. recently). Then he went on to uphold the railway policy of Mackenzie & Mann, saying that, in any case, the people approved of it. He then told the story of the mortgage, which seemed to weary most of the audience. After stating that Mr. Pattullo came of good stock, he went on to deal with the 1916 legislation. (Voice—"Too late"). He dealt with aid to shipbuilding, agricultural credits, etc., and then went on to state that Bowser was never a director of the Wallace Shipyards. (He admitted that the balance sheet showed he was, though only in the way lawyers often are).

Day Labor.

Dealing with patronage, he said that the Liberals in convention in 1913 had a resolution presented to them by John P. McConnell, asking that work be done by contract instead of day labor, and only the mover and seconder supported it.

MR. PATTULLO SAID THAT WAS TRUE. HE WAS AT THE CONVENTION AND HE AND ALL THE LIBERALS EXCEPTING TWO VOTED IN FAVOR OF DAY LABOR.

Mr. Maitland went on to say that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had supported the patronage system. (Mr. Pattullo called for three cheers for Laurier, which were given with a right good will).

Resuming the patronage question, Mr. Maitland was invited to look at the man behind him (Joe Merryfield). Making no headway on this point, he went on to say that there were no Liberal candidates at the front, the speaker indulging in the old stunt of flag-waving in great style. (Voices—"What about Dr. McIntosh"). When he saw that the flag-waving business was of no use, he resorted to the plugging charges and said that he accepted the word of Robert Gosden (voices—"We know Gosden"). When he started a long peroration about the "noblest right" being the use of the ballot, he was greeted with cries of "Ballot Box Bill." He then appealed for support for William Manson and sat down amidst meagre applause.

Pattullo Answers.

At the close, H. A. Harvey asked T. D. Pattullo what had been proven in the public accounts enquiry. T. D. Pattullo said that it would take too long to go into detail but referred to the way in which contracts had been handed out by the patronage committee to the highest tenderers; how Mackenzie & Mann had been let off with the payment of $200 in registration fees instead of $1,400 and how J. P. Shaw of Kamloops had been allowed to draw $30 per day as an Indian commissioner and also his sessional indemnity. Bowser made this illegality legal by passing a special act of parliament, but that did not make it morally right. By the same procedure, Bowser could declare a murder to be legal. "Would that make it right," asked Mr. Pattullo. Mr. Harvey

GREAT DOUBLE FEATURE SHOW AT THE MAJESTIC

"The Girl and the Game," at the Majestic, is a sure winner. In this great railroad serial there is no end to the excitement. You are taken whirling along on top of a box car; you see Helen Holmes switch a fast freight into a siding just in time to avert a head-on collision with a passenger train, while you also witness a most realistic collision, in which Helen rescues the engineer, only to find in him a friend of her childhood. The most daring stunt is a dive on horseback into a river, by this most daring of movie actresses. She carries it through as if high diving on horseback were an everyday happening. There are four reels in this week's installment and they are thrilling from start to finish. There is also a four-act drama entitled "The Lure of the Mask," featuring Irving Cummings and Elsie Jane Wilson, the prettiest girl on the screen. This is a most interesting story and makes up a bumper eight-reel show.

There is a matinee this afternoon and the evening shows start at 7 and 9.

wanted to ask further questions but the chairman evidently thought that one was plenty. The meeting closed with "God Save the King" and cheers for Manson and counter cheers for Pattullo.

VARIED PROGRAM AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

There is a splendidly varied program at the Westholme tonight, headed by "The Yellow Star," featuring Marie Walcamp and Frank Newburg. This drama is of three acts and each is interesting. There is also "A Double Deception," an Imp comedy-drama; another comedy-drama entitled "His Little Story" and a splendid comedy in "The Rise and Fall of Officer 13." An officer with such a number deserved to have some ups and downs and there is lots of fun both ways. There is a great show for tomorrow when Charlie Chaplin appears in "One A. M." and Bret Harte's great story "Two Men of Sandy Bar" is presented.

SERVICES REJECTED

Dr. J. W. McIntosh, of Vancouver, in a speech at a Liberal meeting stated that he was refused permission to serve the country at the front for the reason that he was a Liberal candidate. He said: "A year and a half ago I offered my services to the military authorities. I was ready and anxious, then as now, to serve my country at the front. A statement that I had offered to enlist appeared in the Province. A couple of days later when I went across to Victoria to see Major Hart I was told that some of the Victoria members had objected to my being accepted for service as I was a Liberal candidate and my application was rejected. Now that Government speakers are trying to make capital by proclaiming that none of our candidates are at the front, I have come to the conclusion that I was deliberately refused an opportunity to serve my country, so that party capital might be provided at election time."

ELECTION NOTES

The Bowser speakers last night were very careful not to mention the Dominion Trust legislation, which caused many people to lose their all.

Mr. Maitland said there were no Liberals at the front. He omitted to mention the fact that the Bowser machine is responsible for the fact and that Dr. J. W. McIntosh, candidate in Vancouver, was refused a commission BECAUSE HE WAS A LIBERAL CANDIDATE.

Mr. Maitland proved to the satisfaction of the whole audience last night that the Liberals voted solidly in convention in favor of day labor as against the contract system.

William Manson tried to explain last night his lack of action in regard to the payment by the government of arrears of taxes on reverted lots. He cannot deny that Point Grey has the money now and Prince Rupert has not, and that he did not advise the city that this was done. The first time he mentioned the matter here was on August 25th, after the city solicitor had taken the matter up below and Mayor McCaffery was figuring on going south to arrange matters. At that, the matter was mentioned to William by the mayor. Had the city depended upon its representative it would still have been in ignorance of the whole business. It means thousands of dollars to Prince Rupert.
