MONASTIR THREATENED WITH ENVELOPMENT -- GERMANS ASSUME OFFENSIVE

Capture of Northern Points Has Simplified Allies' Task in Macedonia—Rumanians Hold Out.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Oct. 21.—The Serbians on the left flank of the Allied line in Macedonia, by capturing Brod, Dradilovo and Velyeselo, have gained the position behind the main Bulgarian line against which the Entente Allies unsuccessfully attacked last Saturday.

This latest advance is considered to be of the greatest importance to the entire Entente program against Monastir. The Serbian wing has now been able to swing around well to the north of Monastir, and the threat of an enveloping movement is likely to cause the evacuation of this important Bulgarian stronghold.

Transylvania.

Following the setback to the Austro-Germans in their effort to break into Rumania through the passes of the Carpathians, the enemy have again returned to the attack but have made very little progress in the last two days, the Russian reinforcements having stiffened the Rumanian lines.

CHIEF JUSTICE HUNTER AND SOLDIERS' VOTE ACT

Chief Justice Hunter, in Supreme Court chambers in Victoria, after hearing the preliminaries in the South Vancouver-Richmond soldiers' vote muddle, remarked, after reading the act as to the old country vote and count, that someone would be raising the question of extra-territorial legislation. So far as he could see there was nothing to prevent a moribund legislature from enabling a band of Zulus in South Africa to vote.

REGISTER NOW

Property holders only are on the municipal voters' list permanently. All who hold trade licenses must register this month at the city hall, if they wish to vote in the municipal elections in January. GERMANS ARE ATTACKING ON THREE FRONTS

Von Falkenhayn has been Wounded—Allies Checked in Macedonia—Italians are Gaining.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, Oct. 21.—On the French, Galician and Dobrudja fighting fronts the armies of the Central Powers have assumed the offensive and are holding the Entente Allies checked in northern Macedonia.

The battle on the Transylvania-Rumanian frontier continues and on the Dobrudja front, from the Black Sea to the Danube, Von Mackenzen's forces have struck heavily at the Rumanians.

Von Falkenhayn Wounded.

Rome, Oct. 21.—General Von Falkenhayn, who was transferred to the command of the Austro-German armies on the Transylvanian front from the west, after Rumania entered the war, has been wounded and compelled to relinquish his new command.

Italian Success.

The Italians claim a slight success over the Austrians in the Trentino region.

SOLDIERS' VOTE ELECTS M'INNIS IN FORT GEORGE

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, Oct. 21.—John McInnis has defeated W. R. Ross, in Fort George, according to available figures of the Canadian soldiers' vote cast in England and France. Ross led by only 17 votes after the soldiers' votes in Canada had been checked up. The majority of the soldiers voted against prohibition.

ROSSLAND EXCITED OVER RICH GOLD STRIKE

Rossland, Oct. 19.—Rossland is all excitement today over a big strike made in close proximity to the city by S. Simpson, a Rossland old time prospector, owner of the Crown granted claim "O. I. C." on the south side of Murphy Creek, north of Green mountain, and returns have just been received from the Spokane office of the Marsh Assay and Testing Laboratory giving returns from the ore as follows: 732 ounces were under the test with $15,150.28 in gold, $85.60 in silver and $4.70 in copper.

Simpson has held his claim for twenty years and the wonderful returns just received must certainly justify his faith in the property. The fortunate prospector is just in receipt of the reports of the assays and it is more than likely there will be increased activity in this locality immediately.

BRITISH CAVALRY ON THE SOMME FRONT.—A very unusual sight in this war of big guns and trenches is this column of British cavalry marching over captured territory on the western front, which might be imagined as belonging to an earlier war when hostilities were carried on in the open.

FREEDOM AND EQUALITY ESSENCE OF LIBERALISM

Political Liberalism is not a fixed set of dogmas—a mere thing, finite, immutable, dead. It is a vital idea, a living spirit, an irrepressible life. It grows as the life of the people grows; it changes in detail of form as the spiritual realities of the social order emerge above the seen and temporal; it widens in its scope and purpose as "the thoughts of men are widened with the process of the suns."

In every age and over every continent the soul of historic Liberalism has been the dynamic of every social revolution against oppression, the energizing impulse in every movement in State and in Church toward the larger and truer democratic freedom. In every instance it supplies the visionary gleam, the compelling motive, the blazed trail.

Liberalism can't stand still, never did stand still, satisfied even with its own best achievements. The breath of its life is not in the good thing that has come, but in the better thing that is "the becoming." When Lord John Russell, reviewing the great and radical things accomplished, back to the Reform Bill of 1832, expressed the opinion that it was "time to rest and be thankful," he gave the lie to the instinct in his own life. The British Liberal even in that day, who could be at rest in the Commons, must have shut his heart to the cry of the disinherited millions and his fit place was the House of Lords. Liberalism at rest is Liberalism decaying—the stuff out of which is made, in Britain and in Canada, the most self-satisfied and intolerant of Tories.

Freedom and equality are of the very essence of Liberalism. The fight for freedom—freedom for the individual, for society, and for the State—is the distinctive feature, under one form or another, of every Liberal program everywhere. And that freedom in a free State implies the right of every law-abiding citizen to speak what he thinks, to go where he pleases, to work where he will, and to buy what he wants.

Freedom of speech, freedom of travel, freedom of service, and freedom of trade—those marks of free citizenship in a free State—are the lawful and necessary outgrowth of the very root-principle of historic political Liberalism. That radical principle is this: Equality of opportunity for all and special privileges for none. And that principle is essential to civil freedom and must be held sacred, even though, in the lawless spasms and for the critical moment of war, the higher interests of common justice and the Defence of the Realm may override the rights and liberties of the individual citizen.

And all this talk about "Old Liberals" and "New Liberals" is meaningless, when it is not mischievous, in that it misses the truth that the real badge of Liberalism does not consist in names and signs and shibboleths, but in the devotion of mind and motive and purpose to the causes of freedom and equality in which the Liberal principle fights for its life.

The old fight of Liberalism was for the rights and liberties of the individual in his relations with other individuals and with the State. The new fight of Liberalism, in this new day of the Social Problem, is more than that: it is also the fight for liberty and an equal chance against those vast organized powers of wealth and privilege, those trusts and combines and monopolies which continue to grow.

A CONTRAST

In dealing with the recent disclosures in connection with the raising of the tender for the building of the Manitoba Agricultural College, in which Hon. Robert Rogers played his usual part, the Toronto Globe makes the following contrast between the past and the present Canadian politics.

Those who earnestly believe that the "former times were better than these" may find some justification for their opinion in a half century old but still instructive Parliamentary episode. In the Legislative Assembly of the old Province of Canada the Sanfield Macdonald Reform Government of 1862-64 was forced to resign and the Tache Conservative Government took its place. Of this Ministry Mr. A. T. Galt, one of Canada's most eminent public men of that or any other time, was Minister of Finance. Mr. John A. Macdonald was Attorney-General West, and Mr. George E. Cartier was Attorney-General East. When this Cabinet was exactly a month old it fell most ignominiously on a motion of want of confidence made by Mr. Antoine A. Dorion, leader of the Lower Canadian Reformers in Opposition and supported by a sufficient number of Conservatives to defeat the Government. Curiously enough its condemnation was on account of a former Conservative Ministry's loan of a hundred thousand dollars to the corporation of Montreal, and meanwhile another and totally different Ministry had intervened for two whole years. The hostile majority vote was aimed at Mr. Galt for what was a foolish and not a corrupt transaction, but it brought the whole Cabinet with him.

The sensitiveness of public opinion then contrasts favorably with its habitual and regrettable complaisance now. Such a transaction as that avowed and defended recently by Mr. Rogers on the witness stand would have caused the instant retirement of the perpetrator. There never was a precedent for the act of a Minister of Public Works who suggested to a contractor with his department that he should add to his tender, the sequel being a visit from a Treasurer, through whom the contractor paid back most of the additional amount into his party's election fund. It will be borne in mind that a quarter of a century ago the late Sir John Thompson, as Premier, forced out of the House of Commons one of his own supporters for discreditable business conduct in a private transaction. One is tempted to ask what Sir John Thompson would have said to Mr. Rogers on his return from Winnipeg after giving his evidence in the Manitoba scandal case. It is safe to say he would have asked for the portfolio of Public Works within five minutes after their first meeting. Sir John Thompson was a Nova Scotian statesman, and Sir Robert Borden professes to be one.

I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Headaches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. FREEDOM AND EQUALITY ESSENCE OF LIBERALISM trol the opportunities of life and destroy its equalities, and against which the individual fights in vain.

In this new fight for social justice and social betterment Liberalism has its place, its great and needed place, as surely as in the old fight for individual freedom. Industrial insecurity and unemployment, old-age necessities and the standards of health and of wages, the drink evil and the liquor traffic, and all such social problems which modern conditions have pressed to the front—with these the State must deal if the individual rights of freedom and equality for which the old Liberals made their fight are not to be utterly submerged in the hopeless abyss. And to be a slacker or a shirker in this new fight is to deny the faith of Liberalism and to dishonor its name.

And this fight is always on. Hence it is that the ranks of Liberalism is never a comfortable or congenial place for any man who once entered the fight but who tired in the long campaign. Liberalism has no hospital for those who lost "the vision splendid." The lotus of special privilege or of high reward is deadly to the Liberal soul—disastrous and deadly as is the lust for "a riband to stick in his coat." How hard it is to be a Liberal in such a

Browning, not Wordsworth, is the poet-prophet of militant Liberalism.

Belgians
Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

Three Mighty Forces Close Linked

Have you ever noted how an audience yawns in the face of an uninspired speaker?

On the other hand, have you noted how an audience will lean forward and grasp the chair arms when the speaker reveals enthusiasm?

Enthusiasm is the buoyant expression of truth. To impart belief in anything, a man must believe it deeply himself. We call such a man an enthusiast.

This applies to the written word also—particularly to advertisements. When the manufacturer really believes in his wares, his enthusiasm will almost inevitably find expression in Advertising. And enthusiasm will be contagious—his audience—the readers of the newspaper—will, figuratively speaking, "lean forward and listen intently."

To be convincing an advertisement must convey an unmistakable impression of enthusiasm. This it will only do when the article advertised has inherent worth.

Thus we have:

Sincerity -- Enthusiasm -- Advertising:
Three mighty forces, close-linked.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

PLENDID DRAMA AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

Owing to the late arrival of the Princess Maquinna last night, the Pallas feature, "The Heart of Paula," was not put on the screen until ten o'clock, but it was well worth waiting for. Lenore Ulrich is magnificent as a bewitching Spanish maiden in this great Mexican drama, while the scenes of the revolution are of the most realistic description. From every standpoint, this is one of the finest productions ever produced in this city. Until the arrival of the big picture, the management put on an entertaining show of smaller pieces which they had on hand for emergency. The story of Paula Figueroa, with its tragic ending, will draw a big audience to the Westholme to-night.
