Allied Ministers and Greek King Agree—The Germans are Still Gaining in Dobrudja.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Athens, Oct. 30.—King Constantine of Greece, after a lengthy audience on Saturday with the Russian and British ministers, an Entente diplomat informs the associated press, has come to a complete understanding with the Allies. The minister states that the new arrangements should make matters much more satisfactory for M. Venizelos and for the Allies.

The employees on the Greek railways declared a general strike on Friday, their request for increased pay having been refused by the government.

Dobrudja Front.

ALD. JOHN DYBHAVN AND MISS FAGERLE WED

At the Presbyterian Manse on Saturday evening, Miss Olea Fagerle, who has been a resident of this city for about six years, was quietly married to Alderman John Dybhavn, one of Prince Rupert's most prominent old timers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Hugh R. Grant, with Mr. and Mrs. Olof Hanson as witnesses. After the ceremony, the wedding party adjourned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. R. Anderson, where a small gathering of friends had assembled to do honor to the occasion. After a substantial dinner had been disposed of, the evening was spent in song and sentiment. Ald. and Mrs. Dybhavn, who are receiving the heartiest congratulations of a large circle of friends, will take up their residence at 315 Third Avenue.

THE GREEK SITUATION

The map shows the location of Larissa, to which city King Constantine was supposed to have gone to assemble troops to take the field against the Allies, and Tatoi, the summer home of the King, where he was residing when the Allies took matters into their own hands in Athens and Piraeus. The map shows Piraeus, Athens, Patras, Saloniki and the Island of Corfu, which are now held by the Allies, and also the Allied battlefronts in Albania and Macedonia.

SUNNY ALBERTA LOOKS GOOD TO R. B. BENNETT

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—The latest news of R. B. Bennett, M. P., was that Premier Borden had made him recruiting director for Alberta, thus throwing a sop to the Calgary statesman and staving off the day when he should be given full Cabinet rank. The chances are that R. B. will serve for that Cabinet job as long as Jacob did for Rachael. Meanwhile, R. B.'s partner, Sir James Lougheed, carries about all the honors the Borden government can hand out to one firm of lawyers.

It is this last thought, perhaps, which has turned R. B.'s longing eyes back to Alberta, where Leader Michener is full of that hope deferred which maketh the heart sick, and the Conservative party in the local House is as sick of Leader Michener as Leader Michener is of the Conservative party.

In the circumstances, R. B. Bennett as a new leader looks about as good to the Conservative party in Alberta as the Conservative party in Alberta looks to R. B. Bennett. It's Hobson's choice—Oh to be nothing, nothing at Ottawa, or a little better than nothing at Edmonton. R. B. will probably decide in favor of the latter. Wherever he looks for a general election—in the Dominion or in his beloved Alberta—the Calgary statesman sees himself on the losing side. There's no "aut Caesar aut nullus" about it. It's nullus for R. B. Bennett whatever way he looks at it, but the Alberta leadership sizes up better because it's nullus plus the position of leader which R. B. sighs for at Ottawa, but can't get.

It is now five years since R. B. Bennett struck Ottawa and began to aspire. As a matter of fact he began to aspire from the first crack out of the box. He isn't done aspiring yet, although he begins to see what a Sisyphean task it is—rolling his stone up hill all the time and never getting anywhere. When R. B. blew into the Green Chamber away back in 1911 he had an idea that all he had to do was to make a couple of his two-hundred-and-fifty-words-a-minute speeches and they would take him into the Cabinet right away on his merits. R. B. did this as many as half a dozen times, cutting loose with the tumble-weed of his rhetoric and also using the vox humana stop to the fullest extent, but it had no appreciable effect. It caused a stir in the galleries, the people not being accustomed to such celeritous verbiage as R. B. effects, but so far as the Cabinet was concerned, R. B. might as well have been talking to a row of Stoughton bottles, Premier Borden being the Stoughtonist bottle of the lot.

In vain did R. B. use all his oratorical styles, including Chinook Wind, Camp Meeting Extra and Westminster Heavy. Merit remained unrecognized, Premier Borden continued to sit like a bump on a log. He didn't seem to know that a man named R. B. Bennett was alive, which was passing strange, because he apparently knew all about Mr. Lougheed and just where to look for him when he wanted to knight him. Truly, as Job says—or was it Jeremiah—one shall be taken and the other left—and the one that was left was R. B. Bennett.

When R. B. woke up to this fact he ceased to aspire and began to conspire. He conspired with Jam Aikins, gave dinner parties and sought to inflame the Press Gallery with mysterious hints of insurgency. The gentlemen of the press promised to make all the "copy" his insurgency was worth, but otherwise remained Another Advance Made in Douaumont Region—Kaiser's Train Bombed by Aviator—Norwegian Situation.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Paris, Oct. 30.—The French forces in the region of Verdun last night captured, by use of hand grenades, a quarry held by the Germans to the northwest of Fort Douaumont. A brisk artillery duel continues in the region around the fort.

On the Somme front bad weather still hinders infantry operations and the fighting last night was confined to an intermittent artillery bombardment.

Kaiser's Train Bombed.

A bomb dropped by one of the Entente aviators killed the engineer driving the train of Emperor Wilhelm, who was recently reported to be on the Somme front near Bapaume superintending the bringing up of German reinforcements.

Norwegian Situation.

London, Oct. 30.—The situation between Norway and Germany over the submarine campaign is acute.

GREAT BRITAIN STANDS FIRM ON THE BLACK LIST

Reply Sent to Wilson's Note—Submarine Situation Acute—Big Rail Order Placed by the French.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Washington, Oct. 30.—Great Britain's note in reply to the American representations against the commercial black-list has been received today. It is understood that the British government reiterates its contention of the right to make such a list, but offers to apply methods which will relieve American firms doing business under certain circumstances.

The situation arising out of the recent raid by German submarines off the Atlantic coast recently has reached an acute stage.

NATIONAL SERVICE

The present struggle has opened up the way for national organization along lines hitherto undreamt of. Not only has Britain done wonders in placing five million men in the field within a very short space of time but all the industries bearing upon the war have been to a certain extent nationalized, while every man has been listed according to his capabilities and experience, in order that there may be no wastage of effort or energy unapplied or applied in a wrong direction. The railways are entirely controlled by the government and methods are being employed which would have made the hair of the old time Conservative fathers stand on end. To them, present day methods would appear to be the rankest Socialism, which was about the worst state of affairs they could imagine.

Sir Robert Borden now breaks the news, ever so gently, that there is to be a system of national registration adopted in Canada, as recruits are not coming along fast enough, in fact recruiting all over the Dominion is at a standstill. Sir Robert's intimation includes the statement that it is desirable that the men and women of Canada may serve the nation in those capacities in which their services may be of most value. This is just as it ought to be, and the government should have adopted some such scheme long ere this. Nor was it necessary to ask for the co-operation of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in making the declaration. The government has never asked the assistance or co-operation of the Opposition in their conduct of military operations, but have blundered along blindly in their own way, so why should they expect the leader of the Opposition to step forward now to assist in the husbanding of a plan which evidently the government thought would be distasteful to many of the people.

It is up to the government to conduct the affairs of the country, and, so long as they have conducted these affairs honestly and to the best advantage, they have had the loyal support of the Opposition. None has been more zealous than Sir Wilfrid Laurier in efforts to promote recruiting and, to this moment, the aged statesman is doing all that his strength will permit to persuade his fellow countrymen to enlist for overseas service.

It is to be hoped that the government will make a careful analysis of the reasons for the falling off in recruiting, as, by doing so, they will gather a wealth of information which should do them a world of good.

Reverting to the question of national service along industrial lines, this is something which contains vast possibilities for the future. There is a vast amount of latent talent and misapplied energy in Canada, as there is in every country which has followed the go-as-you-please policy of conducting affairs. There are men selling shoes and ribbons who are capable of leading their fellows; there are men filling pulpits, and emptying churches who should be selling ribbons; there are men plowing the prairies who should be sitting in cabinets, and there are men sitting in our legislatures whose abilities are better suited to driving a team. The average man does not know his capabilities, but has stumbled

"The White Flour Pinch"—have you felt it? With the advancing price of wheat "the seven-cent loaf is doomed," say the bakers. In its place we have the eight-cent loaf—in many cities only the sixteen-cent loaf. A loaf of white flour bread is not a complete ration. However wholesome and pure, it does not supply all the proteids the human body needs. In Shredded Wheat Biscuit you have all the body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain prepared in a digestible form. It is always the same price, always the same high quality. Eat it for breakfast with milk or cream or with fruits.

into his present line of life by simply following the line of least resistance. Just in the same way, men have, at the present juncture, been pitched into leading companies and battalions because they happened to think that they were fitted for the position and had the necessary friends at court. If a system of national registration leads to a greater equality of opportunity, it will work wonders for the Dominion and the Empire. Leaders will be discovered where least expected, and men all round will tend to fall into their proper places in the sphere of things. The scheme presents untold possibilities.

uninfluenced. Mr. Aikins soon realized that conspiring in public was an unprofitable pastime and got busy in other directions, with the result that he brought home the bacon. About a year ago he became a knight, which helped some, and only the other day he became Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, which crowns his career and completes his reward. Sir James Aikins conspired while the conspiring was good and then dropped it. He has no kick coming.

But R. B. Bennett, who is neither a knight nor a Lieutenant-Governor, with no salary, no gold braid and no white satin pants, may well gird at an ungrateful government which overlooks his manifest talents. He may well gird, I repeat. In fact there is no better, stronger girder in the House of Commons than R. B., when girding is the right thing to do, but this is apparently a case where girding is bad play. R. B. still hopes, but not much. No doubt his idea is to stand right up to the last straw and then sink his teeth in his persecutors.

Like the man who was kicked down stairs three times, R. B. is beginning to suspect that they don't want him in there. This is not as hard luck as R. B. imagines, because the Borden government's Belshazzaring is in sight of its finish. But R. B. naturally feels sore about it—his conceit is more hurt than his prospects. If he were taken into the Cabinet this month it would be only to go out again with the rest of his colleagues next summer—not long enough in to warm his feet—but R. B. considers his pride more than long tenure of office. He'd like to go back to Calgary and say: "There, I did it." A harmless ambition in which he is thwarted.

"I FEEL LIKE A NEW BEING"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought The Joy Of Health After Two Years' Suffering

MADAM LAPLANTE
35 St. Rose St., Montreal. April 4th.
"For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant headaches, and had Pulpitation of the Heart so badly that I feared I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the Constipation was dreadful. I suffered from Pain in the Back and Kidney Disease.

I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried "Fruit-a-tives" as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no Headaches, no Palpitation, no Heart Trouble, no Constipation, no Pain or Kidney Trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was "Fruit-a-tives" that gave me back my health."

by a doltish government. Off again, on again, gone again, Finnegan—R. B. can't even say that. The best they can do for him is to make him recruiting director, which is an honorary position, like a hen hatching a door-knob.

Of course R. B. didn't reach this giddy height at one jump. The position of Director of Recruiting is not attained by sudden thought. One has to work up to it. A man rises to it on stepping stones of his dead self. For example, R. B. had to winnow his eloquence, thresh the hot air out of it, before he qualified. To vary the metaphor he was crude oil when he came to Ottawa but the Green Chamber refined him. He can speak now with discreet reserve as a Director of Recruiting should, whose business is to mark time, though even at that he may go blithering sometimes, such is the force of habit. At all events R. B. makes a fairly good Director of Recruiting, but it took him a long time to land the job. For three years he was all dressed up and no place to go. Then Premier Borden had a happy thought. He made R. B. Travelling Companion to the Premier and took him to England with him on his annual summer holiday. Although this job was all outgo and no income, and R. B. was a poor sailor and generally sick at sea, he liked the job for the glory there was in it and the glimpses it gave him of high political life at Westminster. R.

"CURFEW."—"What particularly annoys Lt. Jones, R. F. A., (who thinks he can get a better view from the belfry) is that irritating prediction which keeps running through his head, 'The Curfew Shall Not Ring Tonight.'"—London Bystander.

B. had the example of his chum, Sir Max Aitken, M. P., to urge him on. Sir Max doesn't know half as much as R. B., but look at him now, knight, member of Parliament, Eye-Witness for Sir Sam Hughes, easy mark for the Unionist party, always ready to cough for the campaign fund. R. B. had the five thousand pounds necessary to land a Unionist nomination ready almost any time, but Sir Max told him to wait—the British House of Commons was not ripe yet for a statesman of his parts.

So R. B. waited. He took Sir Max at his word. He has great respect for Sir Max's word, because he and Sir Max have committed merger together. They are partners in an elevator combine whose object is to sew up the Northwest farmer in such spots he has not been sewn up before. Truth to tell, this merging in one of the best things R. B. and Sir Max do together.

As it turned out, Sir Max gave him a wrong steer. R. B. would be waiting yet if he had listened to his old tillicum. Great Britain is too busy with the war to lend an ear to R. B. just now, so Premier Borden makes him Director of Recruiting to offset these postponements. Meanwhile, R. B. seems to think that a rumored general election in Alberta is not so remote an affair as others he might mention. With the whole world turned blue at Ottawa, sunny Alberta looks good to him. But here the question arises, do the Tories of Alberta want R. B. as their Provincial Leader? It is rumored that they have replied to him in the negative, and Capital letters at that.—H. F. Gadsby.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

Three Mighty Forces Close Linked

Have you ever noted how an audience yawns in the face of an uninspired speaker?

On the other hand, have you noted how an audience will lean forward and grasp the chair arms when the speaker reveals enthusiasm?

Enthusiasm is the buoyant expression of truth. To impart belief in anything, a man must believe it deeply himself. We call such a man an enthusiast.

This applies to the written word also—particularly to advertisements. When the manufacturer really believes in his wares, his enthusiasm will almost inevitably find expression in Advertising. And enthusiasm will be contagious—his audience—the readers of the newspaper—will, figuratively speaking, "lean forward and listen intently."

To be convincing an advertisement must convey an unmistakable impression of enthusiasm. This it will only do when the article advertised has inherent worth.

Thus we have:

Sincerity -- Enthusiasm -- Advertising: Three mighty forces, close-linked.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

"BILL" HUNTER BONDS HIS COPPER PROPERTY

"Bill" Hunter has bonded his high grade copper property in the Hunter Basin, receiving a substantial cash payment. Old "Bill" is one of the pioneers of mining in this district and it is eighteen years since he staked the claims which have now been bonded. "Bill" is not so young as he once was and the deal must give him great satisfaction. Years ago he worked with the famous "Lucky" Baldwin and in his young days he did a lot of prospecting in Nevada.

GREAT IRISH DRAMA AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

Miss Marie Doro, famed for her beauty and skill as an artist of the stage and screen, makes her debut as a Lasky star at the Westholme tonight in "The Heart of Nora Flynn." It is a delightful Irish drama, in which Miss Doro plays the part of a nurse who is instrumental in shaping the course of events in a domestic complication. C., counsel for Scott, asked for an adjournment for a week to provide time for putting in his defence. The Liberals show signs of pleasure that Scott has returned to face the charges as they are determined that this matter shall be cleared up.
