RUMANIAN SITUATION IS CAUSING ALARM

PEACE TALK FUTILE SAYS CECIL -- TWENTY GERMAN AVIATORS ARE ROUTED

PEACE TALK IS FUTILE AT THE PRESENT TIME

London Alarmed over Rumanian Situation—Ominous Silence at Petrograd and Bucharest.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Nov. 25.—Lord Robert Cecil has notified the associated press that all peace talk at the present time is futile. The position of Rumania is the subject of considerable alarm as a result of the claims recorded by the Austro-Germans that they have driven the Rumanians out of the Jiu Valley and have captured thousands of kilometres of fertile wheat country. It is doubtful whether Rumania can withstand a prolonged attack against the invaders, and the silence which is being observed by both Petrograd and Bucharest is creating intense excitement here.

INTERESTING LECTURE

Rev. Dr. H. R. Grant presided at the meeting in the Salvation Army barracks last evening when Commissioner Sowton delivered a most interesting lecture on the work done by the Salvation Army during the war. Of particular interest were his accounts of the work done in Sweden and Russia. Mrs. Wells played pianoforte selections very acceptably and the Girl Guides and Salvation Army Boy Scouts gave exhibitions of drill.

TWENTY GERMAN AVIATORS FLEE BRITISH TWELVE

Several Enemy Planes Brought Down—British all Safe—Little Fighting on West Front.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, Nov. 25.—Twelve British aeroplanes engaged a fleet of twenty hostile machines over the western front yesterday. The German aviators were dispersed by the gunfire of the British airmen, who displayed superior ability in handling their machines. One German aeroplane was destroyed and several were driven to the ground in a damaged condition. All of the British planes returned safely to their base.

Western Front.
British artillery fire disposed of an attack by German infantry on the Somme front last night. The enemy artillery is particularly active at Les Bouefs and Beaucourt, two of the points recently captured by the British and French.

"The Town With A Curse" By Sir George E. Foster

In an address at the Empire Club, Toronto, recently, Sir George E. Foster described Prince Rupert as a "town which lies under a curse, an absolute curse". By this, Sir George meant that Prince Rupert had been the victim of the real estate craze: that lots had been boosted away up to enormous prices, which it would take years of hard labor to bring to a remunerative level. He instanced the case of a lot on Second Avenue for which $18,000 was paid and which is a perpendicular wall of rock which a contractor wanted $11,000 to bring to street level, making the buyer's investment $29,000. Sir George took this city and this particular lot as a text for a sermon on development and production. No doubt the sermon was needed, even in Toronto.

Canada, like every new country, has had its share of speculators. The mere fact that a man comes here from the old country means that he is a speculator. The fact that a man moves his family from Ontario to the northern coast of British Columbia means that that man is a speculator. He is ready to take chances, even to paying $18,000 for a lot with a hump of rock on it. It is not impossible, in fact, not unlikely, that Sir George Foster himself has, in the past, been tempted to speculate a little, even to buying vacant lots. Still there is truth in Sir George's statement that production is needed and that speculation has been overdone. However, Sir George is enough of an economist to know that such rash speculation carries with it its own cure, and that man cannot live by buying rocks alone, even if he has $18,000.

The part of Sir George's speech which we take exception to is that in which he says of Prince Rupert, "Who live there now? The men who have speculated and who are hanging on by the skin of their teeth and their toe nails to see if the good Lord in some way or another will send a windfall to enable them to get out of their bad business."

Sir George must have met the wrong people when he visited Prince Rupert, or it may be that he obtained a distorted view of things. The latter is not unlikely. Sir George arrived here on the evening following the provincial election in which a Tory majority of 38 was turned into a Liberal majority of 27. Sir George was so anxious about the result that he wired from Smithers for the paper giving the results. He arrived in Prince Rupert on the evening of Friday, September 17th, in a very pessimistic mood. Sir George is not so young as he once was, though still very active on his feet, and, after the shock he had just received, it is excusable if he failed to look on life in Prince Rupert with his old-time buoyancy. Had he met the man who paid $18,000 for that lot, he might have learned that the gentleman is still quite satisfied with his bargain and that he is looking forward to the day when the Grand Trunk Pacific hotel will throw its evening shadow over that lot. He might have learned that the gentleman had visions of a future in which our drydock would not be idle but would respond to the clamor of the rivetter and the shipwright; that the buyer was not worrying over what he had paid for the lot but that he was looking forward to the day when wheat elevators would line the harbor and liners from Japan, China, Australia, New Zealand, India and the British Isles would discharge and take on cargo at Prince Rupert.

Had Sir George not been taking a gloomy view of things, he might have enquired how many millions of pounds of halibut the steamer George E. Foster had brought in to Prince Rupert during the past year. He might have taken notice of the new fish packing warehouses along the wharf and he might have learned that as many as fourteen and sixteen express cars of fish have left here for the east on one morning. He might have reflected that he had arrived at the close of the salmon canning season, and that this district now packs more salmon than any other part of the coast, though the bulk of the benefit still goes to Vancouver.

Sir George, had he not been feeling that the end of all things had come, since the Tories had been so thoroughly licked, might have learned that there are ore bunkers here handling many thousands of tons of copper ore, mined within easy reach of Prince Rupert and that it was time the government was thinking and acting in regard to a smelter and copper refinery for the north coast, which is centred in Prince Rupert. Had Sir George not been feeling blue, the result being that everything looked of the same dismal hue, he might have encountered husky fishermen by the score who had just cashed cheques for several hundred dollars as the result of one trip to the banks, the halibut banks.

If the Minister of Trade and Commerce were here today, he would find that, since he was here in September, there has been new mining development right at Prince Rupert's front door, on Porcher Island, and that the back door has a view of many inviting copper, gold and galena prospects, some of which are already shipping ore that is giving good returns. The men Sir George found hanging on by the skin of their teeth and their toe nails must have been the many individuals who had been living entirely off the defeated government. It may be that he encountered the man who, when asked what he did for a living, replied that he was on the Conservative executive.

Reverting again to land speculation, it must be admitted that it has been overdone all over the Dominion, but, in Prince Rupert, the Dominion government, of which Sir George is a member, is responsible for paying the most outrageous price ever paid for property in this city. The government paid $95,000 for a piece of INSIDE property 100 feet by 100, and on top of that paid $27,533 to excavate the same. This property was bought as a post-office site. It is still merely a site, the Conservative executive being the owners of the building which is rented to the government as a post-office. This site is more than a site; it is a pond, and if Sir George takes the trouble to look up the appropriations for this city, he will find that an amount is set aside to keep the water pumped out of this $122,533 hole in the ground. Figuring the usual increase for corner lots, the gentleman who bought that $18,000 lot should have paid $61,000 for it, on the basis of the government price for inside lots. It is thus clear that Sir George E. Foster and his colleagues are the greatest sinners in paying inflated prices for Prince Rupert property.

RUPERT MUNICIPAL MOVEMENT STARTED

A public meeting was held last evening under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council, in the Carpenters' Hall, with a view to forming a municipal movement. The name of the Prince Rupert Municipal Movement was adopted and the following office-bearers were elected:—Chairman, W. J. McCutcheon; Secretary, pro tem, H. O. Roberts; Committee: J. J. Anderson, A. W. Edge, Ald. Geo. Casey, J. A. Thompson, and J. C. Gavigan. The committee has power to add to its numbers.

There was a general discussion of a platform framed by the Trades and Labor Council, the questions of trades unionism, municipal ownership, wider education and the Saturday half-holiday being the chief.

RUPERT'S ADVANTAGES ARE BEING RECOGNISED

A recent issue of the Seattle P.-I. devotes much space to an article by Gen. H. M. Chittenden, in the Engineering News, advocating the construction of a thirty-mile tunnel through the Cascades at a cost of $50,000,000. The scheme was mooted some years ago and found favor in Portland, Ore., but the plan was at that time considered far too costly and not necessary for retention and development of trade.

The Seattle P.-I. enters into a discussion as to the relative advantages of the various harbors on the coast, showing that Prince Rupert is the only port which is easily accessible both from the ocean and from land. The other ports have each one of those advantages but Prince Rupert is the only one which has both.

After showing that the shipping trade of Puget Sound has doubled in four years, the article goes on to state that there is a rapidly developing trade between this coast and Siberia, Japan, China, Australia, the islands of the Pacific and Latin America, and that the most dangerous rival to Seattle in this trade is Vancouver or Prince Rupert, adding that Prince Rupert will, in future generations, probably be the keener competitor. After pointing out that the C. P. R. has spent millions in lowering its grade over the summit, without eliminating the costly maintenance between Hope and Banff, the writer shows that the Grand Trunk Pacific, taking the Yellowhead Pass route, has mostly a water grade to Prince Rupert. It is highly satisfactory to the people of Prince Rupert that an American writer should so fully appreciate the importance of Prince Rupert as a trade centre on the Pacific coast.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Ottawa, Nov. 25.—F. B. McCurdy, under secretary to the Minister of Militia, announces that 370,000 Canadians have enlisted during the last twenty-seven months.

The recruiting authorities are seriously considering the amalgamating of the various battalions which are not yet up to full strength, with a view to starting as many soldiers across the Atlantic as possible at an early date, in order that they may receive a winter training in England which is impossible in Canada, because of the severe winter.

Colonel Arthur Mignault has been granted leave of absence from active service at the front and has been authorized to recruit French-Canadians throughout Canada.

Bakers Warned.
Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, has issued a warning threatening criminal action against wholesale bakers, unless the practice of refusing to sell bread to retailers who do not uphold the stated price, is immediately discontinued.

NICKEL

Hon. Frank Cochrane says he knows nothing about the shipment of nickel to Germany, while Hon. Arthur Meighen throws the responsibility upon the British government, stating that Canada had no means of refining nickel.

The facts are that the nickel obtained in eastern Canada is combined with copper and that the ore is shipped to New Jersey for treatment, the metals being separated and refined there. It is also evident that the Canadian gentlemen who are interested in International Nickel lose all interest in the destination of the nickel after it has left Canada.

The fact that copper and nickel go together in the form of ore to the United States raises the natural question of the destination of the copper. Is Germany getting copper from Canada, as well as nickel? British Columbia produces two thirds of the copper mined in Canada. Every pound of this goes to the United States for refining, for the simple reason that there is no copper refinery of any account within the Dominion. What is being done in regard to the erecting of such a refinery in Canada?

It is true that the government has had its hands full in handling the war situation, and that dissensions within the cabinet have not added to the smoothness of the working of the government machinery, but surely the sending out of the country of such metals as copper and nickel is one of the most serious problems of the war, and it is only after two years of war that the matter is engaging real attention, and the members of the Borden cabinet, instead of clearing up the matter, are simply looking around for somewhere to dump the responsibility.

per, and that the Allies would then have received their supplies from Canada and would not have been dependent upon New York. Refineries are needed and needed urgently.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Hon. Arthur Meighen, in speaking of the export of nickel, simply admits that the government never attempted to deal with the situation and that the Allies were dependent for their supply entirely upon the United States, though the metal was mined in Canada.

Hon. A. E. Kemp, the new Minister of Militia in the Borden cabinet, was formerly minister without portfolio. He sits for East Toronto. It is very unlikely that the Liberals will cause a byelection to be fought, though the chances of defeating the new minister are recognized.

Germany accuses the Allies of carrying out a mockery of international law in regard to the expulsion of the Teutonic ministers from Greece. It sounds funny, after what has been done by Germany in the way of sinking neutral ships, hospital ships and passenger vessels, that Berlin should be prating about international law.

The Bishops of England want the people to abandon the Christmas plum pudding and all that goes with it. There is no doubt that there is an urgent need for strict economy, not only in England, but throughout the Empire. It is to be hoped that the reverend gentlemen are setting an example in the matter of plain living.

The Germans claim to have captured many miles of valuable wheat lands in Rumania. This means that they have driven the Rumanians out of the Jiu Valley, which they carried so splendidly recently. It is a big claim and Berlin may have to revise the report shortly.

One of Sam Hughes Honorary Colonels, known as Hon. Col. McNaught, of Toronto, declares that the fighting is being done mostly by the Conservative party. If Hon. Col. McNaught includes in his count the Tories in the trench at home with the Tories in the trenches, we agree with him.

British Plantation Rubber Is Saving Canada Millions

Low Prices of Rubbers and Overshoes Due to Britain's Control of Situation

Here in Canada many of us have fallen into the truly Anglo-Saxon habit of considering the "Mother of Parliaments" slow and a bit behind the times. The present price of rubber, when its cause is revealed, affords one of the many proofs that such an opinion is away off the mark.

Thanks to great rubber plantations established, in the face of criticism and ridicule, many years before in her tropical Dominions, Great Britain at the outbreak of the war held a firm and tightening grip on the world's supply of raw rubber—a grip reinforced by her dominating navy. From 60% in 1914, the production of these plantations has grown this year to 75% of the whole world's output, leaving only about half the requirements of the United States alone to come from all other sources.

The result has been that the needs of the Allies, enormous though they are, have been plentifully supplied, while Germany has been reduced to registered mails and the "Deutschland" in desperate attempts to mitigate her rubber famine. Neutrals have been allowed all the rubber they want, at prices actually lower than before the war, so long as they prevent any of it from reaching the enemy, while Canada and other parts of the Empire have an abundant supply at equally favorable Government-regulated prices.

In this foresight and generosity of the British Government lies the reason why rubber alone, of all the great staples, has not gone up in price—why rubbers and overshoes, in spite of increased cost of fabric, chemicals and labor, are as inexpensive as ever, while shoes are costing several dollars a pair more. Wearing rubbers or overshoes through this winter to protect these expensive shoes is more than practical thrift—it is grateful patriotism, for in thus saving leather we make it easier for the Government to secure the absolutely necessary supplies of this alarmingly scarce material for our soldiers.

Both Thrift and Patriotism Point to Rubbers!

FROM FAR AND NEAR

The London press is sore because American papers have been allowed to publish pictures of the "tanks" while the old country papers are debarred from doing so. Lloyd George, in reply to a question in the house, says that the American pictures are not in the least like the real tanks. The cuts published on this side were made from drawings and not from photographs.

Doctors in Edmonton will be very careful after this as to who and why they give prescriptions for whisky. Drs. A. L. Campbell, J. Boulanger and J. J. McDougall have just been fined $75 each and costs for giving whisky orders where they were not required for medicinal purposes.

The London Times protests strongly against the building of Norwegian ships in Canada while Great Britain is not able to produce enough vessels for her own requirements.

General Lessard, who was side-tracked by Sir Sam Hughes, is already showing activity in military matters. He inspected the Connaught Rangers in Montreal yesterday. General Lessard is one of Canada's ablest soldiers and his services are needed.

The Poor Man's University

"JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."

ATTENTION VOTERS

Persons who hold lots under agreements, or assignment of agreement, must make a declaration giving particulars of their title, before the last day of November. Any person neglecting to take such declaration will not be entered on the voters' list.

It is impossible for me to ascertain the names of agreement holders unless they come in personally. It will greatly facilitate matters if persons wishing to make declaration bring their agreements, so that I may inspect them and thus prevent errors.

Reference to old voters' lists satisfies me that only a small proportion of agreement holders have registered in past years. This, I believe, has happened because people wrongly think their names will be inserted without any action on their part. I therefore call special attention to the necessity of agreement holders making declarations. FRED PETERS, City Clerk.
