General Lessard distinguished himself in South Africa and is well and favorably known all over Canada. He is a French-Canadian by birth, and it is believed that he could do much towards stimulating recruiting in Quebec if given an appointment. It is stated that this distinguished soldier withdrew from an active part in military affairs in Canada because of differences with Sir Sam Hughes.

CAPTAIN GODENRATH IS HERE RECRUITING

Captain Percy F. Godenrath, who left here with the first contingent, returned this forenoon to carry on recruiting for the 236th New Brunswick Kilties. He made a striking figure in the garb of his new regiment. The kilt is of the tartan of the McLeans of Dhuart, while the headpiece is a Balmoral bonnet, of regular "Highland ghillie" type, with an eagle's feather up the left side. Mrs. Godenrath, who returned to Canada with her husband, is remaining in the south.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Nov. 29.—German reports state that the Rumanians have destroyed the railway from Tehernavoda to Bucharest and are burning all villages and stores of food in the course of their retreat. The Germans claim to be continuing their advance on the Rumanian capital and that they are now within thirty-seven miles of their goal.

DEAD MAN FOUND AT THE ROYAL HOTEL

About one o'clock today, Bud Corley found the body of a man in one of the bedrooms of the Royal Hotel. He immediately notified the police and Chief Vickers and Constable Bailey went to the hotel and took charge of the body. Dr. Cade was called but, until he is able to make a thorough examination of the remains, it will be impossible to tell the cause of death.

Deceased, whose name is R. A. Vade, arrived in the city on Tuesday evening of last week and registered at the Royal Hotel. He had not been seen around the hotel for a day or two and Mr. Corley went to his room and found the door locked. Bursting in the door, he made the gruesome discovery. From the appearance of the body, it is apparent that the unfortunate man had been dead for at least two days. From letters found on the body, it appears that deceased is a native of Southampton, England, and that he had been working as a cook prior to coming to Prince Rupert.

INTERESTING ADDRESS

The Board of Trade luncheons were resumed on board the Prince George today at 4 o'clock, when G. A. Woodland presided over a good gathering of business men. A. M. Manson, M. L. A. for Omineca, delivered a highly interesting and instructive address on "Prince Rupert's Hinterland."

HUNDREDS OF U. S. CITIZENS ARE INTERNED

Turkish Government Refuses to Release Them—Washington Indignant—U. S. Ship Torpedoed.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, Nov. 29.—The Turkish government refuses to permit United States citizens to depart from Constantinople, stating that they are being held there on account of military necessity. There is great indignation here over the action of the Turks. There are hundreds of Americans interned in Turkey, and, despite a formal order having been issued for their release, they are still being held prisoner.

American Steamer Sunk.

London, Nov. 29.—German submarines have torpedoed the American steamer Chemung. The vessel sank with the United States flag at her mast.

NAVAL CONCERT IN THE EMPRESS THEATRE

The smoking concert in the Empress Theatre tonight, in aid of the widows and orphans of naval men who have fallen in the war, promises to be the best thing of the kind ever held in the city. Fred Peters and his committee of skippers have worked hard in making the arrangements and their labors should be crowned with success. The program contains unique items in the way of single-stick matches, etc., while a high-class musical fare is also provided.

Mr. Peters has received a letter from Sir Clive P. Woolley, the head of the Naval Relief Fund, stating that Montreal had subscribed $350,000 and Vancouver Island $10,000 to the fund. Mr. Peters replied that Prince Rupert could not hope to raise such a big sum, but that, for its size, it would do its share and that tonight's concert would be followed by others a little later. This is the first opportunity Prince Rupert has had to show that it knows and appreciates what has been done by the navy since August, 1914, and every man in the city should be at the Empress Theatre tonight.

PUBLIC MEETING

The meeting of the Prince Rupert Municipal Movement, which was to have been held on November 30th, has been postponed until Wednesday, December 6th, on account of the former date being St. Andrew's night.

W. J. McCUTCHEON, Chairman.

The proceeds of the smoker in the Empress Theatre tonight will go to the widows and orphans of the heroes of Coronel, Falkland, Heligoland and Jutland. Be there.

St. Andrew's night dance in McIntyre Hall on Tuesday evening, Nov. 30th. Tickets, $1.50. Proceeds to Patriotic Fund.

THE MONASTIR THRUST

This map shows Monastir (see arrow) in its relation to Saloniki and the Balkan area. The lower heavy line is the battle-line in Grecian Macedonia, Serbia and Macedonia. The dash and circle line below it indicates the neutral zone along the border of old Greece. Near the top of the map is shown the battle-line in Rumania south of Transylvania where the Germans claim to have made such gains against the Rumanians and Russians. The railway running through Nish (Serbia) and Sofia (Bulgaria) is the famous Berlin-to-Bagdad line.

TRAIN PLOWED THROUGH FOUR HUNDRED WORKMEN

LIEUT. W. A. NOBLE WANTS RECRUITS FOR BANTAMS

Lieut. W. A. Noble, the first of Prince Rupert's warrior sons to return home bearing the scars of battle, is again ready for the fray. "Art" has been given a commission in the Bantams, one of the smartest battalions recruited in British Columbia, and expects to see more active service at no distant date, in fact he speaks of eating his Christmas dinner "over there". Lieut Noble will be here only a short time and is anxious to take a few recruits with him when he goes. The Bantams are certain to give a good account of themselves and it is to be hoped that "Art" will find quite a few boys from here ready to follow him into the fray.

BRITISH STILL BRINGING DOWN ENEMY PLANES

Comparative Quiet on the Western Front—Shelling Along Ancre Lines—Germans Afraid of Belgians.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Nov. 29.—There is modest artillery activity on the Somme and at Douaumont but bad weather is interfering with infantry movements of any importance. The British have bombed several places of military importance on the Somme front and have destroyed one hostile aeroplane and damaged another at La Bassee. There is considerable shelling going on along the new line on the Ancre.

Belgian Deportations.

The Hague, Nov. 29.—Belgian refugees arriving here state that Germany fears an uprising of the civilian population of Belgium, owing to the fact that the German garrisons have been depleted in order to release men for active service, and that that is one of the reasons for the deportation of Belgian laborers to Germany. Three hundred thousand men and boys have been sent to Germany from Antwerp.

PATRIOTIC WORK AT PORT ESSINGTON

The Women's Patriotic Guild of Port Essington is doing splendid work for the cause and has just forwarded its sixth donation to headquarters at Montreal. The contribution included 142 pairs of hand knitted socks, 13 pyjama suits, 14 Florence Nightingale bed jackets, 14 pillow slips and 100 packets of cigarettes.

FRIDAY'S SALE

QUEBEC AND THE WAR

In its efforts to show that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is responsible for the alleged lack of interest in recruiting in Quebec, the Victoria Colonist claims that, since Sir Wilfrid is the most influential French-Canadian, he ought to be held responsible for the outbursts of Henry Bourassa and his friends. Bourassa and his kind can only be dealt with by the Dominion government.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has no power to interfere with Bourassa's anti-recruiting propaganda, while the government at Ottawa has ample power to deal with this traitor to Canada and the Empire. One young Scotchman, a Socialist who does not believe in war, is spending two years in jail because he raised his voice against it, yet, Henri Bourassa, who has no war to make upon war but simply wishes to vent his hatred against everything British, is allowed to speak and write against recruiting as often as he pleases.

The Colonist accuses Sir Wilfrid of placing politics before the war. Was it for political effect that Laurier went to Montreal and called upon every man able to fight to join the colors? Was it for political effect that the Liberal leader granted freely an extension of parliament, when he and his followers could have driven the graft-ridden Borden government from office? Was it for political effect that this aged statesman addressed more recruiting meetings than any member of the government?

In allowing Bourassa and his disloyal sheet freedom, the Borden government is placing politics before patriotism. Did not Bourassa and his avowed disloyal followers assist Borden into power? He must be recompensed for the part he played in defeating Laurier in the last general election. Reciprocity was the issue in every part of the Dominion, except Quebec. There, the issue was the Canadian navy. Laurier's Imperialism was the theme in Quebec. Dr. Blondin said it was necessary to "shoot holes in the Union Jack to breathe the air of liberty". Borden's "colleagues" in 1911 accused Laurier of being an Imperialist, while today he is accused by other supporters of the government of being unpatriotic.

The scheme is too transparent. In Quebec, Laurier is too patriotic, in British Columbia, he is not patriotic enough. The amusing part is that the accusers in each instance are in the same ranks. In 1911, Borden was obliged to give three cabinet seats to Nationalists from Quebec, who accused Laurier of being too patriotic to the Empire. Borden had to ally himself with the men who would "shoot holes in the Union Jack," as a matter of political expediency. Politics before patriotism was Borden's motto then, and the fact that he still allows Bourassa a free rein proves that it is so now.

The Bread Problem is not a problem in the home where Shredded Wheat is known. The whole wheat grain is the real staff of life, and you have it in Shredded Wheat Biscuit prepared in a digestible form. It contains more real body-building material than meat or eggs, is more easily digested, and costs much less. The food for the up-and-coming man who does things with hand or brain—for the kiddies that need a well-balanced food for study or play—for the housewife who must save herself from kitchen drudgery. Delicious for breakfast or any meal, with milk or cream.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Sir George E. Foster's Empire Club speech has put the Journal in an awkward predicament. It contents itself with a typical attempt to twist the remarks of Sir George so that they appear to mean something else than intended.

Ottawa has decided not to punish deserters from the army if they report for duty by the middle of next month. It would be interesting to learn just how many deserters there are and why they deserted.

The Allied reply to the German claims of victory in Rumania is a renewal of activity on the Macedonian front. The Greek situation should be cleared up early in December and then there will be something stirring amongst the Bulgarians and Turks.

The Victoria Colonist takes great pains to point out that the Lieutenant-Governor, if he cares, can refuse to sanction the appointment of a cabinet minister. He accepted the appointment of W. R. Ross, Tom Taylor and W. J. Bowser without a murmur.

The Borden government linked up with the Nationalists and the price paid was the Laurier naval policy. Today, there is a belated attempt to recruit the nucleus of a Canadian navy. It is a scheme worthy of the hearty support of every patriotic Canadian, and it was just as worthy in 1914 as it is today.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the

Belgian Relief Fund

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

"JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."
