(Special to The Daily News.)
New York, Jan. 22.—(Flash) Rio de Janeiro and Pernambuco dispatches announce that the British cruiser Glasgow has sunk the German commerce raider a hundred and thirty miles off Para. The vessel is believed to be the Vineta. ENEMY ROUTED THIS YEAR SAYS BRUSILOFF

Russian Leader Very Certain of Complete Victory—Czar Instructs New Russian Premier.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Petrograd, January 22.—The Russky Slovo states that General Brusilloff, the Russian commander on the Galician front, in addressing his staff officers recently said, "information at my disposal and my own personal conviction warrant me saying that I am as certain as that I am standing before you that during the coming year the enemy will be completely routed."

Czar Instructs Premier.
The Czar has urged upon Prince Golotzine, the new Premier, the importance of devoting his attention to the feeding of the Russian armies in the field and also the providing of ample food for the home population, as well as the improvement of railway and water transportation.

MINING MEN DEAD FROM GASBOAT FUMES

Juneau, Jan. 17.—H. W. Holmes and Dan Gallagher, two well known mining men of the north, died from having inhaled poisonous fumes while aboard the power boat Chicagoff, bound from Juneau to the Chicagoff mine near Sitka. The bodies were brought back here for interment. Four others were seriously affected by the fumes and were overcome, but as soon as they were brought out, they soon revived.

The accident is said to have been caused by someone leaving the drain cocks of the radiator open for the purpose of using the heat from the exhaust pipe, as it was very cold that night and forgot to turn it off. Sunday morning as they failed to respond to the breakfast call, investigation resulted in finding them all overcome. One, however, responded to the fresh air and soon revived, but the others were so far gone that it was not until long after they came to with the exception of Holmes and Gallagher, who when found were dead.

Holmes was about forty-eight years of age and married. His wife and two children are in Panama, Cal. Holmes was a cook by occupation and worked in nearly every camp in the district. Gallagher was about 30 years old and unmarried.

AMERICAN TROOPS TO LEAVE MEXICO

(Special to The Daily News.)
Washington, Jan. 22.—Twenty thousand United States soldiers, who have been stationed on the Mexican border, are to be withdrawn. As the border military camps are vacated by the militia, they will be occupied by General Pershing's forces as they withdraw from the interior.

Conditions Worse.

Vera Cruz, Jan. 22.—Conditions in Mexico are growing daily worse. Food prices are at a starvation level and the rebels are gaining strength steadily in southern Mexico.

GERMANS ARE MAKING RUBBER FROM PITCH

Stockholm, Jan. 20.—Swedish scientists are under the belief that the Germans have at last succeeded in making a synthetic rubber—or at least an acceptable substitute—from pitch, of which they import great quantities from Sweden. Similar experiments have been conducted by various Swedish scientists, but thus far without success. Many of them are still of the opinion that the idea is feasible and are not disposed to doubt that the Germans have succeeded, although they decline to think that the discovery can yet be of practical significance.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Toronto, Jan. 22.—The worst accident in the history of the city occurred at the Union station here on Sunday night, when a light engine, which was backing through the train shed, crashed into a passenger special. William Campbell Macdonald, head of the Confederation Life Association, was instantly killed. Hundreds of spectators witnessed the fatality. The engineer and fireman of the light engine have been arrested and will be charged with manslaughter.

EASTERN CAPITAL FOR ALICE ARM PROPERTY

Victoria, Jan. 19.—Eastern capital will be available for development purposes for the Dolly Varden and Wolf mining groups on the Kitsault River, according to R. B. McGinnis of San Francisco, manager of the controlling syndicate, who arrived here yesterday from the south. A mill and power plant and added transportation facilities will be installed as well as wharfage at tidewater. By summer 300 men will be employed. Mr. McGinnis predicts much development work in the Alice Arm area. Eastern capital, he says, is keenly interested in the development of British Columbia.

BRUCE REPORT NOT PUBLISHED IN FULL

Ottawa, Jan. 16.—The controversy over Colonel Herbert Bruce's report is more than a case of doctors disagreeing. It is the symptom of a very grave disorder at overseas headquarters in London. It indicates that the Overseas Minister of Militia, Sir George Perley, is not going to make any changes for the better and for a very simple reason—because he can't. Having been started wrong, things must continue wrong to the end of the chapter.

Sending Colonel Herbert Bruce over to report on the Canadian medical situation in England was perhaps the best thing Sir Sam Hughes did. At the time he did it surprise was expressed that he should have taken any such course. Why did he do it? To head off the possible disclosures of the Auditor General, who made a trip to England just about that time? Or to embarrass the Borden government whose midst, as he could feel in his bones, he was very soon to leave? To dispassionate observers Col. Bruce's mission to tell the truth and shame the devil looked like the dawn of hope. The real condition of Canadian military affairs in England had not been allowed to leak out. Consequently Colonel Bruce's errand to lift the lid from part of it took shape as a nine days' wonder. The only explanation seemed to be that Sir Sam moved in a mysterious way and that, having made up his mind that he was going to quit, he calculated on leaving his colleagues something to think about.

In other words, Sir Sam reckoned that the Bruce report would keep them guessing. He knew pretty well, of course, what the Bruce report would be, because he knew that Colonel Bruce, as a truthful man and a great surgeon, would take no chances with his reputation by handing out a pair of whitewash. Doubtless Sir Sam knew also just how rotten things were and how rotten Col. Bruce would find them.

Colonel Bruce brought in the report that was expected. It may be said of Colonel Bruce's report that the half of it didn't get into the newspapers. It was submitted to the editors in confidence and only certain parts of it were released for publication. The worst of it has never been told. The charges that were made public were sufficiently grave. They were to the effect that the hospital organization was bad, that it needed renovating from top to bottom, and that the medical service was cumbered with alcoholics and dope fiends. The report also favored the segregation of Canadian wounded in Canadian hospitals. This last, perhaps was the sorest point of all.

The answer to Colonel Bruce's charges and recommendations is the Baptye report, which was brought in by a hand-picked commission selected by Sir George Perley. The Baptye report does not deny Colonel Bruce's statement that there were alcoholics

LUMBERMEN LOOK FOR NEW PROSPERITY

(Special to The Daily News.)
Portland, Ore., Jan. 22.—Coast lumbermen, who have just concluded a conference here, do not fear any ill results to the lumber industry following the end of the war. A further jump of $1 per thousand feet is looked for and all are satisfied that the end of the war will bring in an era of great prosperity in the lumber trade along the Pacific coast.

and dope fiends in charge of the lives of wounded Canadian soldiers, but it objects that Colonel Bruce should have added that the Army Medical Corps was no worse in this respect than certain other branches of the service and also that credit should have been given to the efficient members of the staff. Which is to say that Col. Bruce's job should have been to pick out the good spots and pass over the bad ones, and bandy compliments instead of stating the facts. This is the typical Sir George Perley attitude—that all is right as right can be and that no disturbing changes shall be made.

This fine job of whitewashing is the first specimen of the new overseas Minister of Militia's traditional Borden policy of letting well enough alone, with the prospect that it will speedily get worse. The talk is, too, that Sir (Continued on Page Three).

COALITION

That there is division in the government ranks over the question of coalition is evident from the editorials which are appearing in the Toronto News, dealing with coalition and also dwelling upon the solidarity of the Conservative party. In a recent article on "Coalition in Canada," the News says "Great Britain has been making political changes, going from coalition to coalition, in order to get rid of the very group among its statesmen that we in Canada are asked by coalition to reclothe with political authority." No mention has ever been made, except in the Tory press, of any attempt to bring about coalition in Canada, and it is very apparent that one wing of the Tory party is agitating for a coalition government in order that the responsibility for the grave war blunders may be shared, while another wing, the Rogers wing, is strongly opposed to anything approaching coalition as there would be no profit arising from being members of a joint government.

The Toronto News, in the usual Tory fashion, tries to cast the blame for our unpreparedness upon the shoulders of the Liberals. Had Borden not been influenced by the Nationalists in killing the Laurier naval policy, Canada would have been better prepared than she found herself, and would not have needed to pay an exorbitant sum for two Chilean submarines which nobody on the coast could handle, the directions being all in Spanish.

The Toronto News states at the head of its editorial column that it is devoted to politics, and, among other things, the "diffusion of useful information." It surely cannot be under the latter head that it states that Britain has got rid of the group of statesmen who were responsible for her unpreparedness, or the News has forgotten that Premier Lloyd George, the "little despot" of the Empire today, was the head and front of the pacifist group. Surely the Toronto Tory organ has not forgotten that Premier Lloyd George is the same gentleman who, for years, was termed "traitor" by the Tory press of Britain. It is evident that most of the statements in the News editorial pages come under the head of "politics," though a political truce is supposed to be in operation at present.

The News naively remarks that "any attempt at coalition would divide the Conservative party." Would it be a great disaster to Canada today if the Conservative party were divided? Would the people of Canada be worse off if the Conservative party were not only divided but swept to the four winds of Heaven? Who would suffer? The preserved beef, munitions, clothing and shoe profiteers might have to declare smaller dividends; the duty on food stuffs might be removed and the cost of living reduced by about thirty per cent., but that would not be a serious calamity. What Canada is suffering from today is coalition; the coalition between the Borden government and the manufacturers. What the Tories are afraid of is that, given an opportunity, the people of Canada will rend that coalition to pieces, and place an entirely new government in power which will set itself to seriously deal with the war situation, both at home and abroad.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

In spite of the notice given some time ago, senior officers are evidently still being sent from Canada to England. Surely our boys can find their way across the Atlantic in charge of lieutenants without getting lost, while the colonels, who are neither needed nor wanted, as such, may remain at home to attend to their politics or recruiting.

Sir George Perley says he is endeavoring to find jobs in England and France for the surplus Canadian senior officers. They would probably be better employed over here in munitions factories releasing younger men who could go as lieutenants or privates.

The western manager for the Ogilvie Flour Mills says that there is no combine amongst the millers in the fixing of flour prices. Are we to understand that the various mills fix their prices absolutely independently, without consulting each other at all?

The parliamentary heads of the Central Powers have again been conferring in Berlin. We will likely be told that the word peace was never mentioned and that they are determined to rend the Allies to pieces.

Wilhelm declared the other day that the Almighty would redouble the strength of the Germans in the war. We do not wish to appear irreverent, but it appears to us that Wilhelm must have forgotten to mention the Danube bridges in his supplications.

George Perley, who hasn't much color of his own, has taken color from his environment and is at this moment a good deal more British than he is Canadian. This, however, is only reasonable in a naturalized Canadian who was born in the United States.

The Baptee report also intimates that Colonel Herbert Bruce knows little or nothing about hospital organization. In view of the fact that Colonel Bruce has been connected with the Toronto General Hospital for twenty-five years and is now the manager and president of the largest private hospital in Canada, the Baptee statement is laughable. The head of the Baptee commission, by the way, has not attended a patient in twenty-five years. On the other hand, Colonel Bruce has probably not missed a day in the same period when he did not perform a major operation on some patient or other. Colonel Bruce's qualifications in regard to knowledge and experience are unexceptional. His standing as a surgeon with one of the most lucrative practices in Canada and nothing to consider but his reputation for correct diagnoses, makes it morally certain that Col. Bruce had no object but the truth in view when he made his report.

The Baptee report does not attempt to contravene Colonel Bruce's statement that the Canadian hospitals in England are better hospitals than the English ones. Its only answer to this is that the service in Canadian hospitals costs twice as much per day per patient as it does in the English hospitals. Friends of the wounded soldiers will ask what kind of answer is this? Why shouldn't the cost be twice as much when the service is probably four times as good? Besides nothing is too good for our wounded heroes. Our gratitude doesn't stick at a matter of three shillings a day.

Colonel Bruce reported that Canadian soldiers should be segregated in Canadian hospitals for three good reasons—because they were among their own friends, because they had doctors there who understood them, and because they did better and convalesced more rapidly in the homelike Canadian atmosphere. This segregation idea was no doubt the cause of Colonel Bruce getting himself disliked by the Tory politicians in England, who are opposed to segregation, because it deprives them of the chance to make converts of the Canadian soldiers when they are in a weak state of mind and body, and send us back Round Table Imperialists instead of the good Canadians we sent over. This is not a square deal. We love the British Empire enough to fight and die for it but we love Canada too, and would like to have a few Canadians left after this cruel war is over.

The fate of Colonel Bruce's report, together with the fact that his office of Inspector General has been abolished, shows how Sir George Perley, Overseas Minister of Militia, is prepared to handle any good Canadian who comes over there with the idea of telling the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. The whole truth? Great heavens, not even half-truths are allowed. It isn't done, you know. If it were, there would be some startling revelations as to the number of supernumerary colonels and other officers now loafing around England or making occasional excursions to the front, where they have nothing to do. Rumor has it that these colonels were to be given the option of becoming lieutenants and going to fight, or going home to Canada and taking off the khaki. This was a false alarm. Those who want to stay in England will be allowed to stay as usual. Those who want to go home will be allowed to go home, but they will not be asked to resign either their pay or their khaki. Under this heading comes the M. P. colonels who are now on their way home "on leave" for the parliamentary session.—H. F. Gadsby.

The Poor Man's University

"JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

SUBMARINE EARTH-QUAKE STRUCK STEAMER

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—A submarine earthquake which lasted forty-eight seconds and was so violent that it snapped a blade off the ship's propeller, was reported by Capt. Van Wyck Jurraise, of the Dutch liner Tjikembang, on his arrival here from Batavia. The steamer was out one day from Nagasaki, steaming at fourteen knots through a smooth sea when a shock was felt as if the liner had struck a submerged rock. Then the shaking started. The ship was shaken, said the skipper, like a rat in the teeth of a terrier—shaken until all on board feared she would fly to pieces. Panic seized the Oriental crew and the steerage passengers and the cabin passengers made frantic efforts to launch a lifeboat. Calm was restored when the vibrations ceased, but the Tjikembang had to limp all the way to Hongkong, where she was drydocked and another propeller shipped.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY NEWS

Internal Bathing's Rapid Growth

It is but natural to expect that a relief from Constipation and the many ills which it causes, which is so effectual and so natural as Internal Bathing, should quickly make many converts.

But its general use has increased so tremendously in the past few years as to suggest other reasons, and these are found in the statement of users that they feel as if "made over new" the morning after an Internal Bath.

The elimination of the pernicious and poisonous waste which is ever present in the Lower Intestine gives Nature a chance to work unhampered. And one arises in the morning clear-headed, able, bright, confident and eager for the day's duties.

Mr. F. E. Smith writes:—"Dear Doctor,—Your 'Cascade' made a new man of me at the age of 49. I persuaded my wife to use the treatment also, and today she has better health than ever before. Since the use of the 'Cascade' she sleeps better and can walk for hours without fatigue. Fainting spells have become a condition of the past; can eat anything on the bill of fare and drink all beverages. Does not take cold when exposed; hot weather does not cause oppression."

The "J. B. L. Cascade," the most efficient device for Internal Bathing, is being shown and explained in detail by Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th Street, Prince Rupert. Ask for free booklet, "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient." If you prefer, write to Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, 163 College street, Toronto, for same.
