SOME BURG

The following is from the British Columbian, a news paper published in New Westminster:

Rupert evidently "Prince aims to be some burg, according to a report in one of the Prince Rupert papers, which states that a delegation that recently left the northern city for Ottawa will ask the Department of Marine and Fisheries to remove the fishery headquarters from New Westminster to Prince Rupert. The secretary brought the matter to the attention of the Board of Trade last evening, and although Mr. Jas. Anderson and Mr. C. B. Sword thought there was no occasion to take any notice of it, the board decided that the secretary should write the department asking assurances that no such removal would be made. The majority of the members took the view; that, ridiculous as the suggestion might be, this city should not risk the assumption that it acquiesces by its silence."

It may be well to assure the New Westminster Board of Trade that Prince Rupert not only "aims to be some burg." but already is "some burg" and that, if the north reaped the full benefit of its harvest of the sea, Prince Rupert would be still greater. If the British Columbian or the secretary of Westminster," as that is quite at the terminal of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

New Westminster evidently thinks that, because the chief DECLINE SUBSTITUTES fishery inspector for the provminster, the fishing headquarters are also there. Surely the fishery headquarters of any country or province are where the fish are, and the fish are undoubtedly in greater abundance around Prince Rupert than at any other part of the coast. According to New Westminster ways of figuring, the fishery headquarters of Canada are in Ottawa, as it is at Ottawa that the Fisheries Advisory Board meets. The people in the south have not got it through their day. heads yet that Prince Rupert is. and because of its proximity to the fishing banks of the Pacific compare the salmon pack of routing. the north with that of the waters adjacent to New West- COUNCIL FAVORS minster, and we find that the only claim that the south has to being the fishing headquarters is that the chief inspector resides there.
