WILSON SENDS ANOTHER NOTE TO THE KAISER

Washington Observes Absolute Secrecy—Bernstorff Denies That He Will Receive His Passports.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, Feb. 2.—In reply to Germany's intimation that she will resort to unrestricted submarine warfare, regardless of all international law, President Wilson is despatching another note to Berlin. Absolute secrecy is being observed regarding the contents and tenor of the communication. Neither the cabinet as a whole, the department of foreign affairs, nor the committee of Congress have been taken into the confidence of the President.

Secretary Lansing has refused to disclose any information whatever regarding the message or to discuss the subject with enquirers.

Count Von Bernstorff's only announcement was a denial of the report published yesterday that he expected to receive his passports within forty-eight hours.

FUNERAL SERVICES OF THE LATE MR. SANDELS

The remains of the late W. J. M. Sandels were taken aboard the Prince George last night for interment at Vancouver. At 7:30 a joint memorial service was held in the Masonic Hall by the members of the Tyee and Tsimpsean Lodges, Rev. Canon Rix officiating. After the Masonic service, the members marched to the parlors of the B. C. Undertakers, where Rev. Dr. Grant conducted another service. There was a large gathering of friends of the deceased. Dr. Grant, in referring to the loss which had been sustained by the city and community in the removal by death of Mr. Sandels, described life as a trail along which all had to travel. He applied the simile to the pioneer days of the northwest, dwelling on the fact that the old-timers were dropping out gradually, leaving a burden of sorrow on the few who remained. Speaking as one who had been many years in the west, on the plain and in the mountains, he found that the men who formed the army of western pioneers, of which the deceased was one, were as a class one hundred per cent pure gold. In their lives, they had displayed that selflessness, which was at the centre of the teachings of Christ. They ever thought of others, rather than of themselves. Their cabins were open to their brothers; the string was ever on the latch and the first thought was never of themselves. The service concluded with the singing of "Nearer My God To Thee." The remains were accompanied to the Prince George by a large following of citizens.

ATLIN MINERS WILL HAVE FREE ASSAYS

Victoria, Jan. 29.—In 1906, Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines, as representative of Comox-Atlin at Ottawa, made arrangements for the free assay of ores at White Horse, and today, at his suggestion, the provincial executive made an order which will allow Atlin miners to have their ores assayed free at the provincial assay office here.

NEUTRALS ARE WAITING ACTION BY THE STATES

European Neutrals Saying Nothing Meantime—Shipping Lines Ignore Warning—Borden Will Sail.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Feb. 2.—Spain, Holland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden are anxiously awaiting action by the United States regarding Germany's latest manifesto, before framing their answers to the announcement of Germany's new program of submarine warfare. Ignoring Warning.

Shipping lines of the Entente Allies announce that their schedules will go on uninterrupted, regardless of Germany's declaration that every Allied ship will be sunk on sight. The British Admiralty is controlling the movements of all British mercantile shipping.

Borden Will Sail.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—Germany's submarine program will not prevent Premier Borden from attending the Imperial Conference in London unless all sailings are cancelled meantime.

Germany's Stake All.

Berlin, Feb. 2.—Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg, addressing the Reichstag regarding the submarine situation, said: "We have been challenged by the Entente Powers to fight this thing out to the end. We accept the challenge. We stake everything on the outcome of the struggle and we shall be victorious."

Many Submarines.

London, Feb. 2.—The Germans claim to have a fleet of five hundred submarines ready for the new campaign of frightfulness.

RECRUITING SPEECHES IN THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

At the close of the first show in the Westholme last evening, a series of films showing the early training given to the Canadian Engineers in North Vancouver were screened. The boys are seen constructing bridges across the Capilano and they perform the work with remarkable speed and skill.

Lieut. Evans, who is here recruiting for the Engineers, addressed the audience at the close. He said that he did not wish to tell any man what his duty was, that was a matter for each man to decide according to his conscience and sense of right. He pointed out that a man should carefully select his branch of the service, so that he might find scope for his abilities. He said that the Engineers required tradesmen and mechanics of all kinds and that this battalion not only trained the men for war, but for peace, as much of the training given would tend to better fit the men for civilian life after the war.

Lieut. Gordon, 11th Irish Fusiliers, also made a brief address in which he made a strong appeal to all young men present to carefully consider whether they were doing their share. He told the young ladies to ask the gentlemen why they were not in khaki and, if need be, to bring them along to the recruiting office. Both speakers were given a hearty reception.

HOW THE CANADIANS TOOK COURCELETTE

On Friday, September 15th, the assault was out to take Courcellette and get across some of the main communications of the Thiepval defence. On the morning of the 15th, then, the Canadians—amongst them a number of French Canadians—and some Irish troops massed ready to attack. And the Bavarians came out of Courcellette and attacked themselves. There was a very bitter fight with bayonet and bomb, and the Bavarians were able to get a footing into some of our works. At the moment when they were congratulating themselves on their gain, 6:20 struck, and to their wonder they were swept away, engulfed, entirely obliterated in the rush of massed thousands charging up to Courcellette.

"Creme de Menthe."

The German position was exceedingly strong. If the trenches had been battered, the enemy had made full use of innumerable shell holes all along his front. These shell holes were made into minor forts: machine guns and men were holding them staunchly. There was also the sugar refinery here, an incredibly strong pocket of machine guns which, the Germans reckoned, would account for anything the British could send out. The Canadians went to attack with a rush. They fought among the shell holes, they worried out the pockets of resistance, but they had a hard task. It was not until the third wave of attack came up that they broke into the outskirts of the village. And "Creme de Menthe" was largely responsible for their gain.

"Creme de Menthe" was not an infringement of the drinking law, but a "tank." It was the Canadians' own, peculiar tank. It went strolling over the field, with its awful and ludicrous solemnity, before the advance, tearing up wire, sitting across trenches and sweeping them clean on either side with machine gun fire, flattening out machine gun posts and the like. And in the course of its perambulations it saw the impregnable sugar refinery of Courcellette. It walked up to that impregnable spot. It leaned against the wall, and the wall went down in dust and litter. Then it went inside. What happens when a large, serene "tank" gets into a well-built factory, garnished with machine guns, can be better imagined than described. Walls went down and sand bags were scattered; in two minutes the impregnable position was ringing with the blessed word "Kamerad." The Canadians went up at a rush, swept Courcellette clean, and went off on silent, Red Indian parties to stalk any defence lurking to shell hole or dug-out. The Canadians won for themselves another imperishable laurel that day, and a tribute of desperate terror from the Germans they stalked.

LADY BEATTY, wife of Sir David Beatty, K. C. B., M. V. O., Admiral of the Fleet and the commander who will carry out Sir John Jellicoe's orders for the blockade of Heligoland Bight. Lady Beatty has been particularly active, since the outbreak of the war, in hospital and Red Cross work.

PROTEST AGAINST DISMANTLING RAILWAYS

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—Hon. Frank Oliver protested in the House of Commons yesterday against the dismantling of railroads in Alberta. Hon. Frank Cochrane answered that he believed it was unnecessary on account of the fact that sufficient trackage was available in the eastern provinces to meet the demands from France.

WEDDING BELLS

Duncan Munro, formerly of Prince Rupert, who has been residing in Anyox for some time past, was quietly married last Tuesday evening to Miss Bridget Mahoney, formerly of the Bulkley Valley. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McLeod and the evening was spent in song, sentiment and dancing, there being a large gathering of friends of the happy couple present to wish them prosperity in their wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. Munro expect to leave for the east on a wedding trip.

Ed. Cridge, formerly purser on the Prince George and now "somewhere in France", says they had a good time at Christmas, being supplied with plum pudding by the Canadian Society at Shorncliffe. He says that the Y. M. C. A. have splendid dry canteens behind the trenches, some of them even having picture shows.

WHITE GARBED GERMANS FAIL TO GET THERE

Winty Weather on West Front Tempts Germans to Dress in White—All Attacks Are Repelled.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Feb. 2.—The British forces in France have captured twelve hundred and twenty-eight Germans during the month of January, most of them on the Somme front, where the Canadians and the Irish regiments have done particularly fine work in raiding enemy dug-outs, despite the wintry weather.

The British yesterday successfully raided the German positions near Neuville St. Vaast and repulsed with losses attacks by the enemy in the vicinity of Armentieres.

In the Ypres region, British troops dispersed strong detachments of Germans and also repelled companies attempting to reach our trenches at Wytchaele. Each engagement resulted in the British capturing prisoners. The German attacking parties were dressed in white so that they might not be detected against the snow which covers this region, but the ruse utterly failed to deceive the defenders who were ready for them.

War Appropriations.

Ottawa, Feb. 2.—The Premier's recommended six hundred million war appropriation and Sir Thomas White's hundred million dollar loan for domestic purposes passed their first reading in the House of Commons last night.

HELPING HANDS SOCIETY THANKED BY THE BOYS

Mrs. L. W. Reilly has received from Lieutenant E. O. Reitchel an acknowledgment of the receipt of the comfort bags sent to the Prince Rupert boys at the front for Christmas by the Helping Hands Society. On behalf of the boys he thanks the ladies for their kindly remembrance. The bags were distributed amongst the Rupert boys in the various battalions and all were delighted with their gifts. Mr. Reitchel says that, being a Scotch regiment, they celebrated New Years in real Scotch fashion. He also adds that Prince Rupert cannot compete with Flanders for rain.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN AT WESTHOLME TONIGHT

Charlie Chaplin, in "Shanghaied," is one of the attractions at the Westholme tonight. This is one of the funniest of Chaplin comedies and even those who have seen it before will laugh just as heartily as they did a year ago. "Beyond All is Love," a drama in which Helen Greene plays the leading part, is the other big item in the program.

There is a road ten miles long on the western front and wide enough for four autos to travel abreast. It was built in one day, sixteen thousand men being employed.

LAST GASP

That Germany is at the last gasp is clear. In one last great outburst of titanic rage in having failed in her attempt to gain control of the whole civilized world, she has run amuck. The intimation from Berlin that Germany will immediately inaugurate a ruthless and unrestricted submarine campaign even to the sinking of hospital ships, possibly throws light upon the Wilson peace note and particularly upon the explanation of it by Secretary Lansing. It was hinted that the German note to Washington contained a threat against the United States if a campaign for peace were not started, but it is evident that, if there was a threat, it was a threat against humanity at large, and this is probably what Mr. Lansing meant when he said that it was becoming increasingly difficult for the United States to remain neutral.

President Wilson has been severely criticised, not only for his lack of action at the outbreak of war, but for his efforts to bring about peace while Prussian militarism remained in full sway in Germany. On the latter point, there has been room for criticism, and it would appear that the President has never fully realized just exactly what the Entente Allies have been fighting for. In his efforts to remain strictly neutral, he tried to convince himself that the belligerents were simply fighting amongst themselves for supremacy on land and sea and that the whole terrible turmoil was the outcome of the keeping up of huge armies and navies. Today, he must realize, if he never did so before, that Britain and her Allies are trying to throttle the mad dog of Europe. He must realize that there is just as great danger to the United States as there was to poor little Belgium, and that this is America's war because it is humanity's struggle to keep civilization upon the plane which it took centuries to reach.

President Wilson is undoubtedly a man of fine sus-ceptibilities and that his peace effort was made in order to try and prevent the most terrible orgy of wholesale murder that the world has ever seen, a likely explanation. If so, he must be given credit for the possession of a kind heart, but poor judgment. In any case, one cannot believe that his effort was made solely to prevent the United States from being embroiled in the war, but in order to prevent murder.

That Sir John Jellicoe foresaw the period when all rules of warfare would be suspended by Germany and the fight would reach the biting and kicking stage, is certain. His blockade of Heligoland Bight was the first move, while the Admiralty has been working day and night producing small fast cruisers for the combating of the coming submarine campaign. So far as Britain is concerned, Germany cannot well do more damage than she has already done. She long since, in practice, suspended all rules and sunk everything in sight, the only difference now being that she has made an open declaration in the matter.

It seems certain that the United States is now in the war and that, at the time of writing, war has already been declared. There will be huge turmoil in the republic to the south, where there is a large German population, but the American born will be certain to prove that they are Americans first and, within a few months, there should be a million men under arms and the last stage of the war will have begun. Prussianism has made its last frantic kick; its death-throes will be terrible, but the monster will very shortly be no more.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Germany says she will sink hospital ships from now on. This will be nothing new and quite in keeping with the Teutonic ideas of conducting warfare.

Germany in her latest and last manifesto is showing the world just exactly the kind of thing the

Are You Intoxicated?

The question is not as important as it sounds. You may be a real teetotaler and yet be "intoxicated"—that is, poisoned by the gases that come from imperfect digestion. The products of food putrefaction are taken up by the blood and then poison the entire system. Cut out meats and starchy foods for a while. Eat Shredded Wheat with milk or cream for breakfast; eat it with stewed fruits and green vegetables for dinner or supper. It will cure auto-intoxication and make a new man of you. All the meat of the whole wheat in a digestible form. A perfect meal at lowest cost. Made in Canada.

Allies are fighting. The Prussian war lord is simply stating openly that he will do just what he has been doing since the day war was declared. The rape of Belgium was the first piece of brutality and the same kind of thing has been carried on throughout the war.

Tens of thousands of Canadians have crossed into the United States since the outbreak of war. Will they join the United States army now?

Chicago felt the first tremor of threatening war in the stock market. Nothing could have been more appropriate.

Four thousand British naval wasps are ready to sting the Prussian mad dog into submission. Sir John Jellicoe is right of the job.

It is not unlikely that the United States troops were withdrawn from Mexico in preparation for the conflict which now seems certain in a much wider sphere.

FROM FAR AND NEAR

Australia has passed an act by which Australian soldiers in Europe may be married by proxy. It is hinted that the Australian girls were largely responsible for the passing of the act because many of the Australian boys were forgetting their promises and were marrying English girls.

One ship-owning firm in Britain is reputed to have made a profit of $15,000,000 during the war. Coal mine owners in the old country have also reaped a rich harvest. The government is taking part of the profits by way of a war tax, but there is a huge sum left over.

The London Gazette, which publishes Orders-in-Council and other official notices, has a staff of but three men. The Gazette is edited by heads of the government departments.

Eric Willis, a youngster of twelve, has been appointed parish clerk in the village of Billericay, in Essex. The clerk was called up for military service and the little fellow took over the duties in order that he might "do his bit." He fills the office with great intelligence.

British statistics show an enormous decrease in crime since the outbreak of the war and particularly during the past year. Most of those who filled the jails are now fighting and are making excellent soldiers.

A typewriter for use on aeroplanes is amongst the latest inventions. The paper is on a continuous roll and is operated by electricity, the typist having only to press the keys. It is just half the weight of an ordinary machine.

Hon. Arthur Henderson, the Labor member of the Imperial cabinet, was born at Glasgow, Scotland, in 1863. He began his career as a message boy when ten years of age. His motto is "Independence" and he has lived up to it nobly.

Coins Which Saved Canadian Soldier's Life.—These three coins in the money belt of Pte. Stanley Milligan undoubtedly saved the Canadian lad's life when he was liberally sprayed with shrapnel while attacking the German trenches. Some of the other pieces of the shrapnel pierced the young man's body, but the greater part of the shell was kept out by the coins. The soldier is still in hospital but doing well.

SOME THINGS OUR SOLDIERS MAY NOT DO

Imitating the bugle-calls of the enemy is quite legitimate; so is the wearing of their uniforms, with one reservation. A soldier may not fire on the enemy while so attired. But he may advance or retreat, build bridges, and perform any other military operation short of actual fighting, using the uniform as a means of deception.

A soldier may spy as much as he likes. If he worms his way into the enemy's lines he is only doing his duty and, if captured there, may not be punished beyond being taken an ordinary prisoner, provided he is wearing uniform. If he is in any kind of disguise he may be shot.

In the course of his spying he may kill as many of the enemy as he can. When he approaches the sentries he may stab them in the dark, or use any trick to throw them off their guard except one. He may not say "friend" if the sentry challenges him (unless, of course, he intends to surrender).

Similarly, if suddenly attacked, he may not use any words to make the enemy believe that he is a friend in disguise, and so take him unawares.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Belgian Relief Fund

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

THE ROAD TO THE RIGHT.

YOU'VE met at least one of those few good old souls, who are constantly getting the worst of it when shopping, who don't believe in advertising. A hundred disappointing and instructive experiences have failed to teach him their plain lesson.

When he bought his first watch he was beguiled into buying one without a known name or a trustworthy guarantee. That watch—a poor timekeeper—cost him dearly by reason of missed appointments and missed trains, and for frequent repairs. Yet he paid the price of a good watch.

It is the same story with regard to his underwear, his shoes, and his fountain pen.

This good old soul's case is not unique. Many of us, if the truth be confessed, resemble him; we allow ourselves to be sold merchandise with an unknown brand or trade mark instead of buying merchandise which is well known to us through the medium of advertising. In slang language, we get "stung" pretty often.

In most of these cases we have ourselves to blame, for "the road to the right" thing to buy has been made plain by advertising.

There is no good reason for passing by the known thing, soundly guaranteed, to buy a dubious article, which, quality for quality, cannot be cheaper than the known, branded article.

"It is better to be sure than sorry."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumadon Building, Toronto.

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS ON HALF RATIONS

Taking for granted the fact that the peace offer of the Central Powers and the efforts of neutrals will fail to bring about a speedy end of the war, the question arises how long the Central Empires will be able to hold out (writes the Budapest correspondent of the Morning Post.)

Setting aside military considerations, and basing one's theory purely on economic grounds, it is evident that we are within measurable distance of the limit of endurance of their much-suffering peoples. It is plainly apparent to any one who has made a study of economic conditions in Germany and in the Dual Monarchy that the peace offer made in the middle of December was chiefly prompted by the knowledge that relief must come within six months from the present time at the outside, if internal troubles of the most serious character are to be avoided.

In Austro-Hungary the available stocks of food will not last for six months. But supposing that by imposing severe privations on the people the authorities should succeed in quieting them until the end of June, how is the population—increased, it must be borne in mind, by some 26 million mouths in the occupied regions—to be fed during the months of July and August? For by that time, according to statisticians, not a grain of wheat or maize will be left, even if the spoils of Rumania should afford some relief, which is a most questionable supposition.

There will thus be two months to be bridged over before the earliest crops can be harvested, and in that period starvation on a scale hitherto unknown in the world, save, perhaps, in India, will present itself. When it comes to that, of course, peace will have to be made on any terms. The feeding of the army is the main concern of the Central Empires, not that of the population, as may be imagined. Yet even this cannot be managed for more than another six months, even allowing for the fact that the Austro-Hungarian forces behind the front are on half rations, and that very soon in app probability the men on the western front will fare no better.

In the Letter Box

Editor, Daily News,
Dear Sir:—Kindly give me space in your valuable paper to make a few references regarding our police administration, for the benefit of our incoming commissioners.

How many convictions have the police secured during the last year for theft, gambling and blind-pigging and why were there no prosecutions made when it is well known that many of those places flourish in the city?

Why did the mayor have to send to Vancouver secretly for two men to catch the hotels selling liquor during prohibited hours?

Why did the mayor not have those men, while here, to catch some of the blind pigs, when they were looking after the hotels? Is it not time that a long-suffering public were receiving some benefits from our police commissioners?

TELEPATHY TOLD OF IMPENDING DANGER

Many well-authenticated stories are told of how sweethearts and wives have been warned by dreams and telepathy of impending danger to loved ones at the front. One of the most vivid stories on record is related by a young lady whose fiancé was recently wounded.

Almost as soon as she fell asleep one night she dreamed that she saw her fiancé in the trenches preparing for a raid. In her dream she saw him, with many others, climb out of the British trenches, cross No Man's Land, and enter the enemy's lines. Her dream became confused for a moment, and then quite plainly she saw him climb on to the parapet of the German trench and fall forward wounded.

A big man came up, took the wounded man on his shoulder, and carried him back to the British lines. The young lady awoke feeling very alarmed, and the next day wrote to her fiancé for news.

A few days afterwards she received a letter from him in hospital, stating that on the night of her dream, about midnight, he was one of a raiding party, composed of English and New Zealanders, and was wounded whilst standing on the top of the German trench. A big Maori carried him back to the British lines, exactly as the young lady had pictured in her dream.
