ENEMY WITHDRAWS ON SEVEN-MILE FRONT

DESTROYERS RAID ENGLISH COAST — KUT-EL-AMARA CAPTURED — TURKS FLEE

DESTROYERS GIVE BATTLE IN NORTH SEA

British Vessels Undamaged—Raid On English Coast—Germans Abandon Many Strongholds In West.

London, Feb. 27.—A British destroyer patrol encountered a German destroyer squadron between the hours of eleven and twelve on Sunday night. A heavy engagement resulted in the North Sea. Sir Edward Carson announced in the House of Commons yesterday that the British vessels had received no damage. Damage to the enemy craft is known to have been caused but to what extent is only conjectured. The German vessels made off in the darkness.

Shell Open towns.

A number of German destroyers slipped through the cordon guarding our coasts yesterday and shelled the open towns of Broadstairs and Margate. Both towns lie close together in the county of Kent near the North Foreland and are favorite seaside resorts. One woman and one child were killed in Margate by the shell fire. Before our destroyers could arrive, the enemy boats fled. The whole attack only lasted for a few minutes, but in that time much damage was done.

More Steamers Sunk.

The British steamers Dorothy, 4896 tons, and Iser, 2160 tons, have been sunk by German submarines. The Laconia, a Cunard liner of 18,099 tons, was also sunk off the Irish coast on Sunday evening. She was torpedoed without warning. She carried one hundred passengers, among whom were ten Americans, and was en route from New York to England. Survivors to the number of 278 are expected to arrive in Queens-town today. Some of the passengers are missing and one is reported dead. The Laconia carried a valuable cargo, consisting of three thousand cases of empty shells and cartridge cases, forty thousand bushels of wheat, nearly three thousand bales of cotton and nine hundred tons of provisions.

Germans Withdraw.

On a front of seven miles, on both sides of the Ancre, the Germans have withdrawn from what were supposed to be very strong positions, without firing a shot. Serre, Miraumont, Petit Miraumont, Pys and Wallencourt are all in our hands. Our patrols have pushed forward into the abandoned country for nearly three miles beyond our lines. We expected to win these strongholds only by very heavy fighting. This retirement of the enemy forces has been caused by the ceaseless pressure kept up for some time past. It is expected that the enemy will be squeezed out of Bapaume in like manner. This is considered to be the most notable movement that has taken place on the western front for months, and reveals a new phase of the weakness of the German defensive conditions.

HALIBUT FISHERIES TROUBLES AGAIN

Washington, Feb. 26.—Trouble with Canada over that ever-pregnant cause of quarrels, fisheries, is looming up.

Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, is trying again, by means of an amendment to the revenue bill to prohibit importation into the United States except in bond, all fish caught in the North Pacific. The quarrel on the west coast, the state department has been informed by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador, is sure to have a reaction on the east coast. The modus vivendi which was established after years of quarrelling even to the verge of war by John Hay and under which American and foreign fishermen have peacefully fished off the Grand Banks for years, may even be denounced. The Canadians would go that far, they say, in the protection of what they look upon as their rights on the Pacific coast.

Senator Chamberlain tried to push through a similar amendment to a revenue bill at the last session of congress. On the last day of the session the conference committee withdrew the amendment much to his disgust and against his earnest protest. That time the amendment included only halibut. Now it is to be broadened to apply to all fish. This is the American side of the question.

To Counteract Canadians.

The idea of the amendment is to counteract the activities of the Canadian government in building up the port of Prince Rupert as the headquarters for the North Pacific fishing fleet. Mr. Chamberlain charges that all sorts of inducements have been made for American vessels to bring their cargoes to Prince Rupert instead of taking them home to Portland or Seattle. These include rebates, a subsidized cold storage plant, and generally preferential treatment. These attempts have been incorporated in orders-in-council which have the full effect of laws.

Their frank purpose is eventually not only to bring the business to Prince Rupert, thus obtaining the tonnage for the new Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, but to induce the American fishing ship owners to place their vessels under the Canadian flag.

At Prince Rupert's Expense.

The Canadian side of the story is that the Americans are trying to force the development of Seattle at the expense of Prince Rupert, which is 500 miles nearer the fishing grounds. They also charge that the scheme is a drive at the Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad and that the inevitable result will be to enhance the prices of fish, since it is cheaper and quicker to handle the fish at Prince Rupert and over the Canadian railroad.

The opinion in Congress is that the amendment has not much chance at this session if any opposition at all develops. Senator Simmons of the finance committee, possibly at the suggestion of the administration, beat the plan the last time. It is easily within his power to do so again. But the senators from the west are pressing hard and the Canadians and the New Englanders are very much alarmed.

RETURNED SOLDIERS ASSOCN.

At a meeting of the Returned Soldiers Association in their club rooms last night, it was decided to ask the citizens of Prince Rupert to be more patriotic and to employ British labor and not alien enemies who have only in the last few years become naturalized.

KUT-EL-AMARA CAPTURED BY BRITISH ARMY

Turkish Army in Full Flight With British Cavalry in Full Cry—Much booty found Left by Turks.

London, Feb. 27.—The British troops have recaptured the town of Kut-el-Amara. The Turks, who are now a disorganized rabble, are in full retreat, westward, towards the town of Boghailah, 24 miles away. The British cavalry, including the camel corps, are in pursuit and are expected to reach Boghailah before the fleeing enemy can establish himself there, thus making further retreat or surrender the alternative. Immense quantities of military stores of all descriptions have been taken in Kut, which the Turks either did not have time, or did not think to destroy. It is expected that the British will immediately push on to Bagdad. Preparations have all been ready made for some time and fresh troops and transportation are available for the advance. With the fall of Bagdad will end the supremacy of the Turkish dominion over vast territories. This will enable also the junction of the Russian forces from the north and later with the Egyptian troops on the south.

RETAIL MERCHANTS AND THE G. T. P.

It is reported that a short letter has been received from President Chamberlain of the Grand Trunk Pacific in reply to the communication forwarded to him from the Retail Merchants Association. Mr. Chamberlain regrets very much that the Retail Merchants have taken such action as they have, as it will have a harmful effect upon the G. T. P. and on the city itself.

Mr. Chamberlain ignores the steamship issue.

HOLLAND ANXIOUS

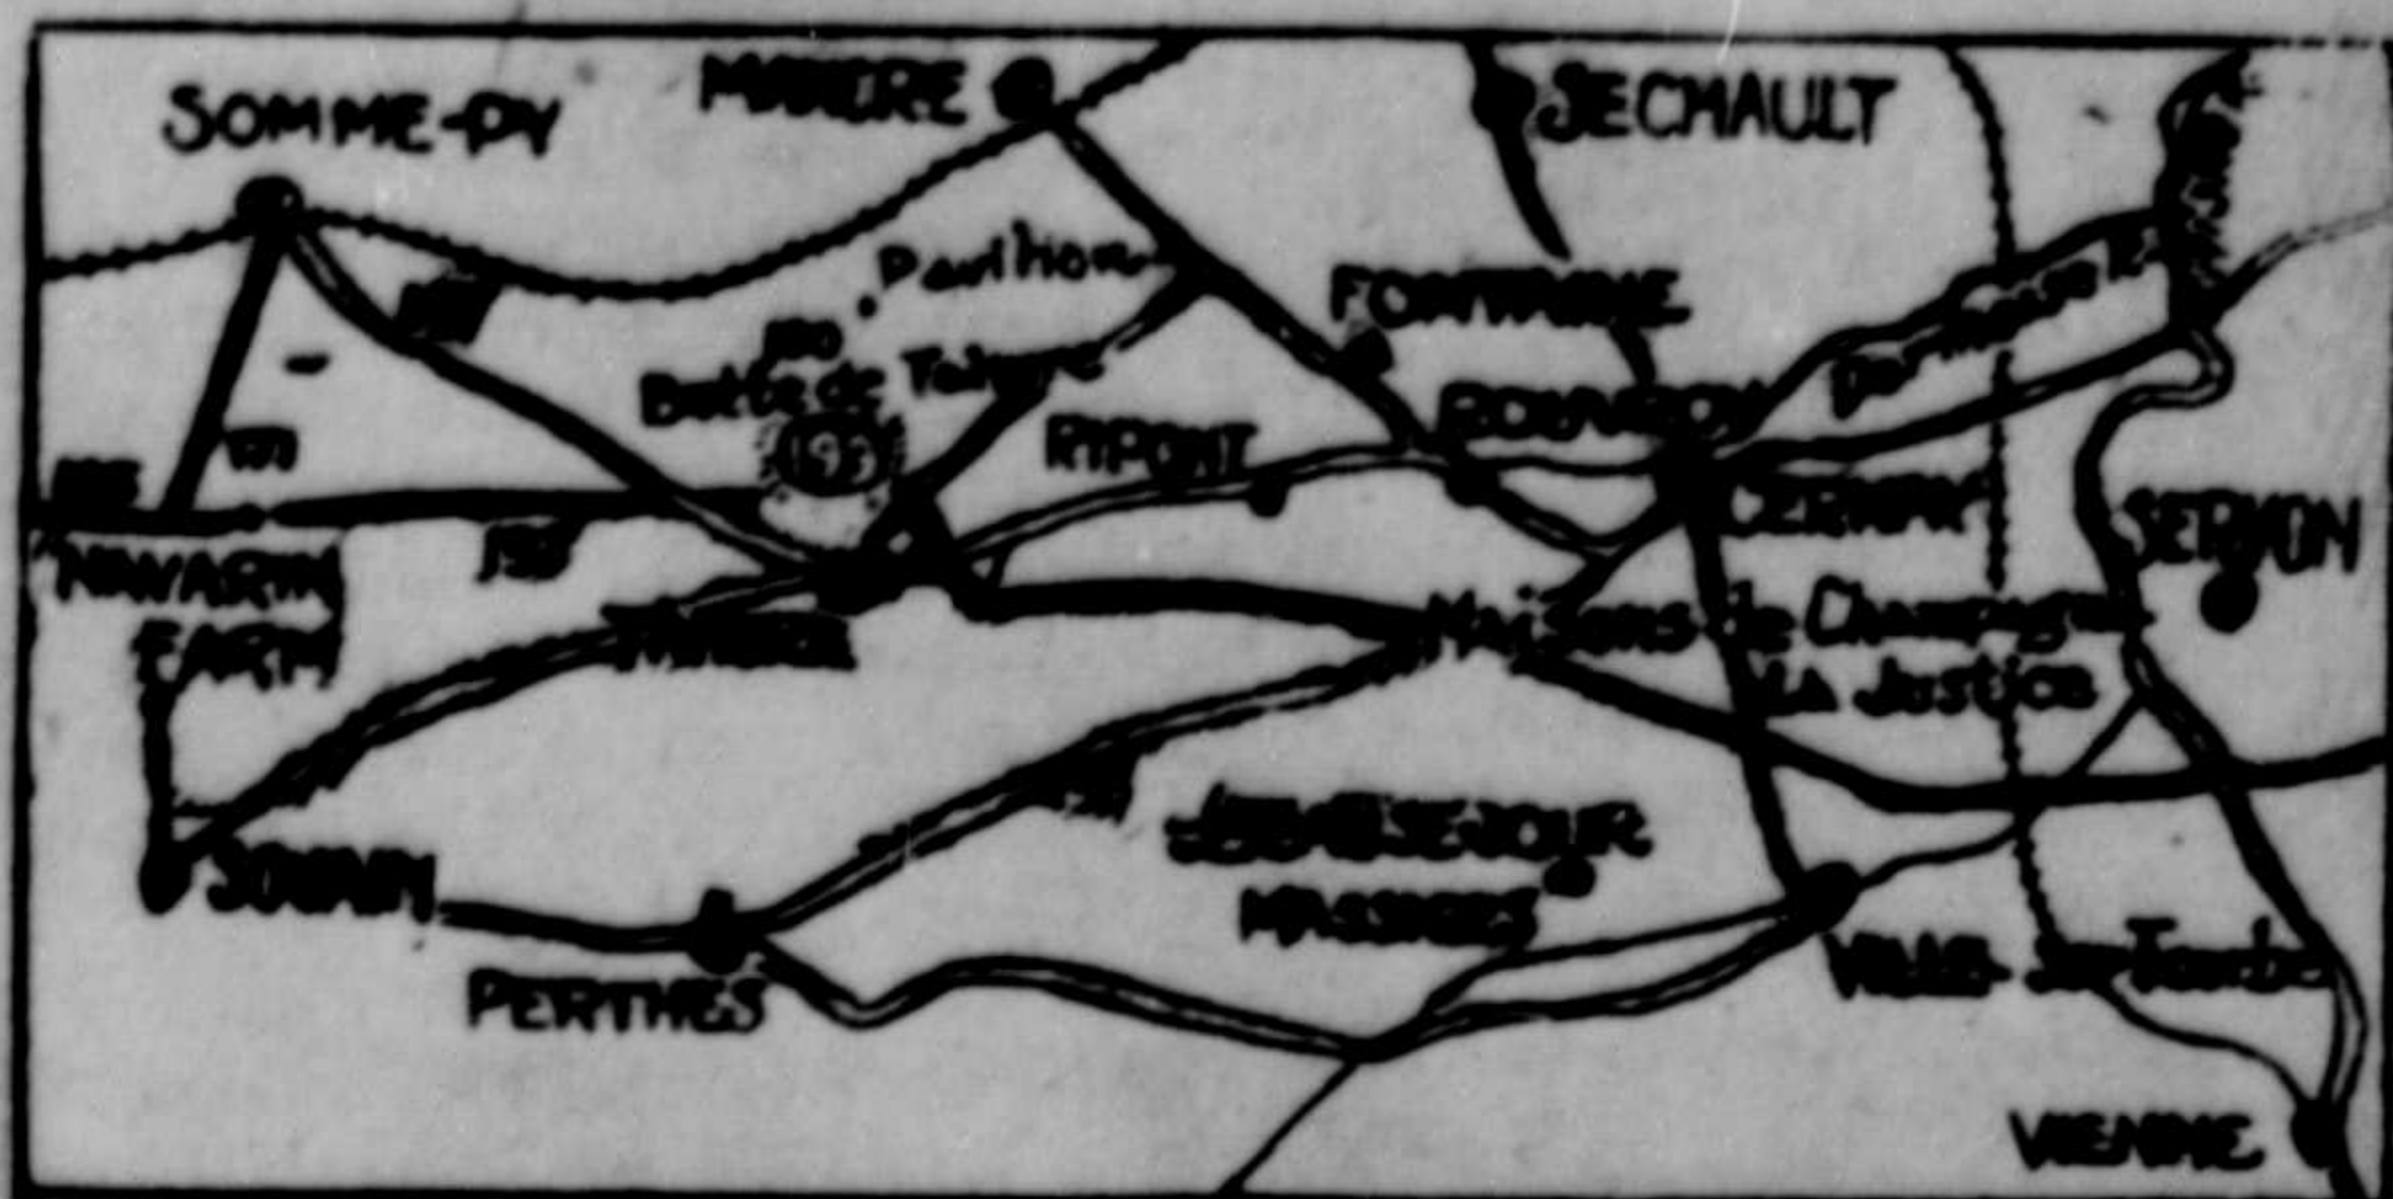

London, Feb. 27.—According to the latest advices received here, the Germans are massing great forces on the Dutch frontier. There have been several army corps of the German forces right on the border for some time, presumably with a view of keeping Holland strictly neutral. These forces have been very largely augmented lately and the Dutch government are anxious as to the outcome.

It is expected that the Huns plan to repeat the Belgian atrocities on Holland by forcing the nation into war for the sake of their food supplies. Several Dutch vessels which have carried a safe conduct from the German government have been seized nevertheless and the Dutch government cannot now place any reliance upon the statements from Berlin.

ARMED NEUTRALITY

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Wilson will address Congress asking authority to establish a state of armed neutrality. Permission will also be given for the arming of all United States vessels for defence against the submarine peril.

EMPIRE DREAM IN THE EAST FADES

London, Feb. 26.—In the House of Lords, Lord Curzon lifted the veil which had hung over events in the Middle East for many months. He had a fascinating story to tell the country. In reply to Lord Bryce, who sought information regarding the position in Persia, mention of which has not hitherto been made, Lord Curzon explained that a force under Sir Percy Sykes had marched to Ispahan, and finally to Teheran, through 1,000 miles of country under circumstances of the most arduous and perilous character, and this had resulted in the establishment of order over a wide area.

Lord Curzon reminded the Lords that the last occasion on which a statement on the subject had been made in the House was in 1915. The position at that time was one of considerable convulsion. The British consul at Shiraz had recently been arrested under circumstances of ignominy. It was common knowledge that before the war Germany had been engaged in intriguing for an extension of power in the Indian Ocean with a view of striking the dominions of Britain in India and "taking from us the hegemony of the Eastern world."

Turkey, he said, was to become her slave, in order that she might control the Straits. Egypt was to be menaced, Persia controlled and Afghanistan stirred up. The plot dated far back to 1898, when the Kaiser made a theatrical entry into Jerusalem and addressed a great meeting and told 300,000,000 of the Moslem world to look on him as their true and only friend. The principal instrument in this policy was to be the Bagdad railway.

Well Prepared.

The consulates of the Central Powers at Ispahan and other large towns were well organized. They had a number of machine guns and probably a large consignment of rifles. At one time there were quite 100 German bands scattered about Persia terrorizing the peaceful tribes and offering bribes. They stirred up trouble among the tribes who habitually were at peace with the central government.

Meanwhile Germany had succeeded in getting a more powerful ally in Turkey. Intending to pay off old scores with their hereditary enemy, and anxious to recover territory on the border of Persia, Turkish forces penetrated into Persia and overran part of it. A Turkish army is still there. Stories were spread everywhere that Kaiser Wilhelm had embraced the creed of Islam. The move—

COUNCIL CHAMBER NOTES AND JOTTINGS

We were all in our accustomed places last night, except one who materialized shortly, when His Worship the Mayor ascended his chair. Of the interested citizens who came to witness the pearls of wisdom dropping from the lips of our "most potent, grave and reverend signiors," there were but two. And he, alas, departed early, possibly TO COGITATE in secret on the weighty matters which were not discussed.

We heard the reports and recommendations of the finance committee on various routine matters and adopted them without question. Then followed a little discussion regarding the project set before us by Messrs. P. Duryee and D. A. McDonald recently, regarding space in the "Imperial Highway," which appears to be a publication giving details of the four western provinces, their potentialities, their facilities and their cities. Of course, being a city, we thought we could stand for two pages anyway. And they were to be pages of no mean book either. Eighteen by twenty-four. Some big pages. But, Alderman Montgomery did not like the idea. While the two big pages were only a small thing comparatively, still there was a principle involved. So there was, too. In times like these, you know, Alderman Nelson felt convinced that the two big pages would be good for Rupert, and Alderman McBae calculated mentally that with a circulation of 30,000, the two big pages would only cost us one THIRD OF A CENT in each book. The third of a cent did it, and the motion to that "the city purchase and pay when delivered" carried.

No Pay in Advance Stuff With Us.

Then came the report of the city treasurer regarding the expenses of the deputation we recently despatched to see the powers that be in Ottawa, regarding the fishery regulations. Seeing that the three members of the delegation got results, and assured us that the money had all been spent we allowed the costs gladly. Our veteran city solicitor next read his report upon the early closing bylaw which had been read for the first time at the previous meeting. On account of the act of parliament being so loosely drawn—drawn up by lawyers presumably, to afford a job to other lawyers—it was advised that such a bylaw be not passed. Well, it wasn't. It went to limbo. Alderman Casey said something which we did not hear, we being a little hard of hearing at convenient seasons, but the motion for adjournment having been put and carried, we didn't hear him. Then we went away too.

LIBERALS WIN THE ELECTION IN NEW BRUNSWICK

Liberals Carry After Hard Fight—Voting Yesterday Decides For Progress—Death of Ex-Premier.

St. John, N. B., Feb. 27.—The Liberals have carried the province. Forty-four constituencies voted on Saturday with the result that after a recount, twenty-three seats went to the Liberals and twenty-one to the Conservatives. The election of the Gloucester members did not take place until Monday, being in the extreme north end of the province. It was expected that the north would live up to its traditional policy and in this case what was expected came to pass. The whole four seats went to the Liberals by quite substantial majorities. This will give the Liberals 27 seats and the Conservatives 21.

Death of Hon. J. G. Clark. The ex-premier of New Brunswick died here today. Mr. Clark has been in indifferent health for some time past, and on that account he resigned the premiership some little time ago.

GENERAL NEWS

London—Great Britain's "Win the War" loan subscriptions have totalled $6,564,750,000.

London newspapers assail President Wilson and denounce him, as head of the chief neutral country, for his supine inaction.

Sir Robert Borden had an interview with the King. He also called upon the Colonial secretary and attended the meeting of the Committee for Imperial Defence. It has been arranged by Sir Robert Borden that the provincial agents-general shall be included on the Commission on Emigration.

A PLEA FOR SOCKS

The Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire is making a special appeal to the public for socks for the men in the trenches. A change of socks is the best preventative of "trench feet," the most dreaded ill of the present campaign. Canadians at the front number double what they were a year ago, but the supply of socks has not increased in proportion. The I. O. D. E. wishes to ask the women of Prince Rupert to answer the plea of the soldiers. This is the women's share in the war. On Thursday afternoon, March 8th, Mrs. McMullin will be "at home" to receive the gifts of the Prince Rupert women in the shape of socks for the boys in the trenches.

ROYAL YEAST

ual, who, when told that a certain tumult was because the people were crying for bread, asked, "Why do they not eat cake?" The rich people of New York, especially the newly rich, have of late been acting as though they were as ignorant of conditions in other walks of life as was the French courtier.

The profitable utilization of the immense quantities of waste material which characterizes practically every branch of the fisheries presents one of the chief problems in securing efficient conduct of the Canadian fishing industry. As a result of the investigations on the Pacific coast, it has been estimated that the sheer waste of the fisheries of Alaska amounts to 70,000 tons per annum and of those of British Columbia at from 15,000 to 20,000 tons. Experiments into the methods of converting the offal to economic use, now being conducted by Mr. J. B. Fielding for the Commission of Conservation, should prove of material service in solving this problem.

The suggestion is made that Germany will continue to avoid the overt act which will translate the diplomatic breach with America into a condition of war while Count von Bernstorff and his retinue are on the high seas. His ship has to pass through the British lines, and the Germans, The Post says, would probably argue that the Allies would seize the opportunity of cancelling their safe conduct if America were at war.

HOPE AND THRIFT

This era of high prices must be distributing an unusual amount of money among farmers of all classes. Mineral products also command unusual prices. Lumber is no longer sold at the cost of production. In many lines of manufacture, notably munitions, the profits are unusual. These may be in part due to higher prices than would be paid under normal conditions, but it is also accounted for by the fact that machinery is operated at full capacity, sometimes day and night, that the market is certain and requires no canvassers, and that there are no bad debts and no delays or cost in collecting. Those who have money to invest in bonds and securities get a larger return. In some departments of activity, notably in eastern munition works, wages have increased. There is also a large distribution of money from the militia department in separation allowances, and some of this goes to families which are in a position to save it.

One net result is an increase of money in circulation, increased saving by farmers and certain other producers if they choose to save, and some money free for investment in war bonds or other securities. There will be many changes when the war ends. Prices of many articles will go down soon and suddenly. Farmers will be brought back to normal conditions. Munition work will stop, and factories will reduce their staff to the ordinary dimensions. Large war profits and earnings will cease. Separation allowances and assigned pay will stop. Hundreds of thousands of men will be thrown back on the labor market, and many thousands will again seek a living through professions and businesses which have been inactive during the past two or three years. In this reconstruction period those who have taken the advice of the finance minister and saved what they could out of their extra gains or normal income during these war years will find that they have made no mistake. The income from a modest war bond will be a help in a period of transition and in all future times of stringency. The close of the war will introduce a period of activity in some directions. It will certainly set in motion many enterprises and introduce new lines of material development. But in the process of change many occupations will be gone and many incomes reduced. It is well worth while to think about these things, and to prepare not only for restoration of business activity, but for a decrease in many individual incomes. We have a right to look with hopefulness and courage to the period following the war, but hope will be the better justified if thrift goes with it.—News-Advertiser.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Although shoes have increased 75 per cent in cost since the outbreak of the war, there is every reason to believe that they have not yet reached the limit. This is the opinion of a prominent western business man who has just returned from a tour of the eastern parts of the United States and Canada. A great shortage of leather prevails, while the demand for export goods is increasing. Canadian manufacturers are doing an export business such as they have never done before. A Montreal firm has just consigned 10,000 pairs to France, and the yearly orders received by that city alone from France will now be rated at 500,000 pairs. When it is understood that never before had Montreal found a market in France, it will be realized that there is reason for a depletion in the home supply.

Bread riots in New York following on the heels of unprecedented prosperity show that there must be "something rotten in the state of Denmark." There never was anything like the extravagance, the luxurious gayety, the reckless waste that have marked certain social circles in New York, unless we go back to the days of le Grand Monarque and his immediate successors. You may remember the story of the individual

EMPIRE DREAM IN EAST FADES

ment had reached its maximum force in August last, when the Turkish military advance was exercising a disastrous influence on the situation in Teheran and the Persian government was on the eve of evacuating the capital.

Much Improved.
 Since then there has been a steady improvement. The Russian army had covered its position and effectively barred the way of the Turkish forces to Teheran. Britain found herself in a somewhat strange position, having the Russian army acting as a successful screen to the defence of her Indian Empire.

The British consul at Shiraz and a few male members of the community there, who had been imprisoned with him, had been released after eight months' harsh captivity, and most of the German agents in the country captured.

The march of the force under Sir Percy Sykes from Bunder Abbas to Isfahan, and finally to Teheran, a distance of 1,000 miles, had not been mentioned hitherto in this country. The object of General Sykes was to organize the southern Persia forces into a military gendarmerie under the Persian government, but off-cered by British men with Indian training and experience. That force was ultimately to attain a strength of 11,000 men. General Sykes has at present a force of 5,000 men, in addition to a military escort of 800 troops from India, his military position being strengthened by reinforcements now being dispatched from India. A similar force of gendarmerie is being raised by the Bakhtiari tribesmen, who have always been friendly to the British.

German Dream Dispelled.
 "I hope that before long Sir Percy will be able to march from Shiraz, where he now is, and clear the brigand camps and robber nests that infest that part of Persia," said Lord Curzon.

On the eastern side of Persia similar success has been attained by another force under a British officer, Major Keith, who had succeeded in pacifying the whole of that considerable quarter. In Afghanistan, the Ameer, in spite of offers of bribes, had remained entirely loyal, added Lord Curzon.

The attempt to improve the general situation in Persia had been assisted by two independent movements outside the borders of that country. The first was the success of General Maude, in Mesopotamia. Those operations had resulted in casualties to the Turkish troops estimated at 15,000, and had drawn increasing Turkish forces from operations in the north, thereby improving the position of the Russian army there.

The great chain of German ambition and aggrandizement, which stretched from Europe to Asia, had been twisted aside, if not broken, concluded Lord Curzon.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!
 Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the Belgian Relief Fund

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

Dr. Price's CREAM BAKING POWDER

There is no alum in Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. The names of its ingredients, printed on the label of every can, show it to be made from Cream of Tartar, which comes from grapes.

No alum baking powder or food containing alum is permitted to be sold in many countries. To avoid alum read the label and use only baking powder made from cream of tartar.

Bathe Internally

Over 50,000 People Are Now Doing So.

For many years physicians have agreed that the vast majority of human ills were caused by accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine; that in our present way of living Nature could not remove all this waste without assistance, no matter how regular we might be, and that the poisons from this waste circulating through the blood pulled us away down below par and were responsible for many diseases of a serious nature.

During this time the "J. B. L. Cascade" for Internal Bathing has, because of their recommendation and those of its users, been steadily growing in favor.

Recently, however, the startling news which has been covering this country, that great surgeons and specialists have been operating on the Lower Intestine for the most chronic and serious diseases, has caused Americans to become thoroughly awake to the importance of keeping this Lower Intestine free from all poisonous waste matter, and over 500,000 are now using Internal Baths.

If you try the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable—the poisoned waste makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

Call and see it at Cyril H. Orme's, Druggist, Corner 3rd Ave. and 6th St., or ask there for "Why Man of Today is Only 50 per cent Efficient," a booklet of great interest, which is given free on request. If you prefer, write for Booklet to Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, 163 College Street, Toronto.

A. B. SMITH has a dry goods store in a certain Canadian city. He does a good business, but wants to do more. He believes that Advertising in his local newspaper is the way to get more business. So he advertises—every now and then. This is where our friend Smith is wrong—in advertising every now and then. He should advertise regularly—as frequently as his local newspaper is published.

Smith says he wants to advertise regularly, but he can't always find the time to prepare advertisements, which is true, for he is his own buyer, sales-manager, director of store service, credit man and half-a-dozen other things.

What Smith should do is this: If he is located in one of the smaller cities, in which there are no advertising agencies giving a local copy service, and he has no one among his own staff qualified by instinct or experience to write the daily announcements, he should go to the publisher of the newspaper in which he means to advertise, requesting his help. In nine cases out of ten, the publisher, through his advertising manager, will be only too glad to give Smith the assistance desired.

If Smith is located in one of the larger cities he should secure the services of a recognized advertising agency which will take over the work of preparing his advertisements.

In this way Smith can be sure of having his advertisements prepared regularly and intelligently, with no more trouble to him than the supplying of the information required by the writer of the advertisements.

So Smith can do more business, and more business means a larger income for himself, to say nothing of other gains that go hand in hand with the doing of bigger business.

This man Smith—do you know him? Are YOU Smith?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.
 If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.

WILL HOLD INQUIRY INTO JOHN STANDING

The Department of Marine and Fisheries has instructed Captain Charles Eddie, examiner of masters and mates, to conduct an investigation into the standing of the Grand Trunk Pacific steamer Prince John, Capt. Davies, which went ashore at Rocky Point, Wrangell Narrows, on January 26. It is announced that the court will convene in Vancouver next Wednesday.

After hitting the rocks, the rocks, the Prince John was beached at Finger Point, and later shifted to the wharf at Tonka Cannery. Finally the vessel was taken to Petersburg for the purpose of landing her passengers, and then the B. C. Salvage steamer Salvor arrived on the scene from Victoria, temporary repairs were made by divers and she proceeded south under her own steam, conveyed by the Salvor. She arrived in Vancouver on February 4 and was taken to the Wallace shipyards, North Vancouver, for repairs. The G. T. P. took advantage of the opportunity which offered, while the vessel was laid up, to carry out extensive alterations, which include another hatch to provide an extra cargo space of 350 tons, and considerable changes in the men's quarters.
