UNITED STATES REACHES THE VERGE OF WAR

SINKING OF LACONIA REGARDED AS OVERT ACT BY WASHINGTON OFFICIALS

AMERICA IS CONSIDERING THE OVERT ACT

In Sinking of Laconia Twelve Die—American Citizens Are Included—Violation of Neutral Rights.

Washington, Feb. 28.—The Cunard company advise that the total number of dead and missing among the passengers and crew of the Laconia number twelve. Mr. and Mrs. Hoy, of Chicago, and eight American negro firemen who were members of the crew of the ill-fated steamer, have died of exposure after the ship sunk. Four Americans were saved.

Although United States citizens were killed on the Laconia, President Wilson will not take action until Congress passes on his request of yesterday, for authority to establish a state of armed neutrality. The sinking of the Laconia is looked upon by United States citizens as a clear cut violation of the United States rights. No further investigation is necessary.

London, Feb. 28.—The official figures of the Laconia disaster are as follows: Total number of passengers and crew was 294; the survivors landed at Queenstown were 267; at Bantry, 14; drowned, 5; died of exposure and buried at sea, 8; in hospital, 6. Two American women were among the thirteen killed. The newspapers here all construe the sinking of the Laconia as an overt act against the United States.

AGRICULTURAL CREDITS POPULAR WITH FARMERS

Victoria, Feb. 28.—Thirteen hundred applications have been dealt with by the Agricultural Credit Commission to date. Loans aggregating $2,647,240 have already been made.

BERNSTORFF LEAVES

Halifax, Feb. 28.—It is expected that the Frederick VIII., with Count von Bernstorff, the late German ambassador to Washington, on board will leave for Europe today.

MORALE OF GERMANS WORRIES HINDENBURG

London, Feb. 26.—Reuters correspondent at British headquarters in France says a copy of an order issued by Field Marshal von Hindenburg has come into the possession of the British forces. In part the order says: "The operations at Verdun from October to December resulted in serious and regrettable reverses. Incapable officers must be ruthlessly removed. The number of prisoners which was unusually large for German troops, some of whom surrendered without serious resistance, or without suffering any heavy losses, shows that the morale of some of the troops engaged was low." The order adds, says the correspondent, that the reason for this requires a most careful investigation and that steps must be taken to revive the old spirit of the German infantry.

UNITED STATES OFFICIAL ATTITUDE

Washington, Feb. 28.—The sinking of the Laconia is a clear-cut case according to the highest official interpretation of the act, and no further investigation will be necessary before action is taken on the part of the government. This became known as the administration's attitude following a conference between President Wilson and Mr. Lansing. Many officials believe that the long awaited overt act against the United States has now been committed by Germany. As the situation is now in the hands of Congress, it is expected that quick and positive action will be forthcoming. The President and his cabinet will have all the facts available before them when they go into session this afternoon.

DEMANDS VENGEANCE FROM HIS COUNTRY

London, Feb. 28.—Mr. Austin Hoy, a Chicago business man who is in the city just now on international trade affairs, has cabled to President Wilson demanding that the United States avenge the murder of his mother and sister, who were killed on board the Laconia. Mr. Hoy intends throwing up his business and enlisting in the army, to add his own personal efforts in the cause of freeing the world of the Hun menace.

PAARDEBURG DAY

Paardeburg Day, which has been set apart by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire for the purpose of fostering patriotism, was suitably observed yesterday at the High School. Parents of the children and members of the Queen Mary Chapter, I. O. D. E., assembled for the purpose of presenting the prizes of the recent essay competition. The winners, Miss Freda Morrow and Miss Ruth Rix, read their essays, and Miss Marguerite McColl, in the absence of the writer, read Miss Violet Leighton's. Mrs. Du Vernet made the presentation in a fitting manner.

Principal Brady gave an inspiring address on Patriotism and thanked the Daughters of the Empire for the impetus which such a competition gives to essay writing, one of the most important branches of school work.

Mr. George W. Morrow spoke briefly, emphasizing the great need of patriotism and expressed the thought that Paardeburg Day, as a day set apart for the celebration of a victory should be dispensed with, in view of the loyalty shown by British South African troops in this war.

The meeting concluded with the singing of two choruses by the pupils of the High School.

LETTERS FROM THE BOYS AT THE FRONT

Very interesting letters have been received in town from two of Prince Rupert's old timers, who were very popular here before they went to France. George Leek and Harry Heyes are both in France and report themselves fit and well. They say they have been through some strenuous times and both feel quite fit to go through the same again if need be. In fact they both wish for some "quick action." Trench life seems to get tiresome. They say that everybody is in good spirits and hoping for the "Day" to come soon. To their numerous friends in town both wish to be remembered. Harry Heyes adds that so far as their part of the line is concerned it's all up with Fritz now, for the "Battling Swede" has arrived in the firing line. Also "Death Valley Scotty." Those who remember these two pugilists wouldn't give much for the chance of an enemy in a hand to hand scrap.

RED CROSS NOTES

Mrs. Embleton and Mrs. Phil MacDonald will have charge of the sale of home cooking in the Red Cross rooms in Friday.

The Daffodil Tea held on Saturday by the five young ladies was a great success. The rooms were crowded from three until six and the sum of $32 was realized. The committee in charge as well as the Red Cross Society are very grateful to Mr. Killas for the use of his tea-room and to Messrs. Balagno, who played so delightfully, and to all who assisted in any way.

Mrs. Woodland, treasurer of the Red Cross Society, acknowledges with thanks the sum of $100.75 from Mr. W. Shrubbsall, being the proceeds of the recent raffle of the big fish.

Last Friday at the sale of home cooking under the charge of Mrs. Tyre and Mrs. H. P. Wilson, the sum of $70.50 was realized. The thanks of the society are extended to these two ladies and to all those who contributed to the success of the sale.

A GREAT PATRIOTIC OUTBURST IN IRELAND

Queenstown, Feb. 28.—Very remarkable scenes were witnessed here when the rescued women from the Laconia which was torpedoed without warning by a German submarine, were landed here by a patrol boat. Huge crowds were gathered on the wharves and chanted the Naval Anthem in tones of defiance to the enemy. That the Irish people are at one with the remainder of the Empire in their hatred of the German was shown in no uncertain manner.

READY FOR THE FINAL

Sidney, N. S. W., Feb. 28.—At a huge meeting held here today, Premier Hughes urged the people of Australia to stand solidly behind Britain in this world-wide struggle, of right over might. Instancing Britain as stripped for the victorious final, he pointed out that the Commonwealth should rid itself of all excrecences likewise.

AN IRISH SOLDIER'S DIARY

(By Patrick McGill)
January 2.—I have just come back from the "damp" with rations. The supply is excellent; better than ever. When I came out here first the men used to grumble; rations were often late; letters and parcels used to get lost; reliefs generally came up any time and a four-day shift in the trenches generally lengthened itself out to a week, sometimes a fortnight. But that was a long while ago. There, no doubt, the heads were in the same position as a manager new to a business which is short of hands. He finds a department originally run by two men controlled by one, and a machine which was worked by a dozen men once kept going by half that number of hands. So it was with us. Every nook and cranny (call them sectors and salients if you will) of the firing line had to be manned and our strength was not great. To me, the miracle workers of this war were the Old Contemptibles, the men who fought against overwhelming odds when everything was against them. But now things are different; we have even got our letter-boxes in the trenches and if the postman arrives late we say things. Its almost like home..... I've got to write a letter before tea.

January 3.—Going out on a raid tonight. Fergus was speaking to me a minute ago. He is very excited for he is going out on the raid with us. A very brave boy always ready to stick his head into danger. Up to yesterday I thought he never knew what fear was. 'Twas in the morning and he was standing by my side when one of the men near us poked his head over the parapet and got hit right through the forehead.

"What a fool," said Fergus. "He did not know what fear was." "But you're never afraid," I said.

"Me," said Fergus. "Is that all you know?"

Then I knew how brave he was, full of that courage which overcomes fear. I hope he comes to no harm in the raid.

January 4.—Raid over. Reached the trench and accounted for a good few of the enemy. But Fergus was killed. He's lying out on the open somewhere. I must write to his mother. We took seven prisoners. The officers say the raid was very successful; but they did not know Fergus as I did; so I call it unsuccessful.

January 5.—Something like gas rose from the enemy trench this (Continued on Page Three).

ADVANCE MADE BY BRITISH ON ANCRE FRONT

Advance Made on an Eleven-Mile Front—First Line Now Two Miles Further Ahead—Ships Sunk.

London, Feb. 28.—The British advance along the Ancre river has attained a depth of two miles and extends along a front of about eleven miles, according to the official report. Bapaume, which had been declared would fall only "after the greatest price ever paid by a victorious army" is now directly threatened by the greatest German retirement since the stationary warfare began more than two years ago. The newly occupied ground opens up many possibilities for the British forces.

German Repulsed.
A hostile attack on the Somme has been repulsed with great losses to the enemy.

Steamers Sunk.
The British steamers Headley, 4,953 tons, and the Aries, 3,701 tons, have been sunk by German submarines.

GERMAN CHANCELLOR IS STILL GUESSING

Berlin, Feb. 28.—In the Reichstag today the Chancellor says that President Wilson's action is without parallel. He said that he had not yet been informed why diplomatic relations have been broken off. The Chancellor's statement to the Reichstag embraces all the old arguments about being forced into a defensive war and places once more all the blame on Britain. Germany demands full reparation and guarantees for the future.

GERARD A NIGHTMARE

London, Feb. 26.—"At a meeting of the Agricultural League," says the correspondent at Rotterdam of the London Evening News, "Dr. Wildgrube, a Conservative member of the Reichstag, said: 'Now that Mr. Gerard has closed his espionage office, the German people will breathe freely and will be relieved of an intolerable nightmare, provided he does not return before peace is declared.'

"Mr. Gerard's residence in Berlin and his intimate relations with our responsible authorities were painful to the German people, but the climax of pain was reported when Mr. Gerard has the insolence to describe the imperial chancellor as his friend. Next to England, America is our worst enemy."

NEW BRUNSWICK ELECTION

As in other parts of Canada the tide of Liberalism has swept over New Brunswick. The fair province by the sea has been in the hands of the Conservative party for the last nine years or so. That they were no longer required to administer the affairs of the people was shown very plainly at this election. The parliamentary representation of New Brunswick was in some respects similar to that of British Columbia before this last election. The Liberals in the house were very few in New Brunswick, while in British Columbia we had none. According to our advices, on the first day's voting the Liberals gained twenty seats. There are only forty-eight constituencies altogether. When we see the Liberal principles being voted for by the majority of the electorate in such widely separated provinces, where conditions are so dissimilar, the question naturally arises in our minds, "Is not Toryism becoming obsolete?" Toryism, the chief principle of which is Privilege for the class as against the mass. The time is long past when the English speaking peoples forgot that their kings at one time claimed to rule by virtue of their Divine right. The Divine right of the land-owning aristocracy to make the laws of the land, usually to suit themselves, has been successfully challenged in the old country. But the old idea dies hard.

It is the distinguishing mark of the Conservative party. To rule over a free people, not for the benefit of that people, but for the benefit of their party, that is what the Conservatives have done in the past, and if they ever go back into power, that is what they will do again. But will they ever go back to power? It seems that nowadays the "proletariat" as the official Socialists delight to call us, have begun to learn their power. They recognize that the country gets that government which it asks for, and this time they have asked for something better than they had before. And they have got it. The people at large realize that this old class prejudice and exclusiveness has got to be broken down. Every man should have the right of an equal opportunity to realize that which is in him to the fullest extent.

Before the Diet, all men are equal, or at least so we are taught. Before the Germans, all men have an equal chance. But before a Conservative government, no sir. Not unless you belong to our party. It would seem from recent events the electorate is beginning to see that, they, and they alone have the power to finally get rid of this relic from the feudal age. During the next few years, we may look for very great changes. Many things which have been advocated for years, have been accomplished during the upheaval caused by the war. The final scrapping of the idea of privilege for the few at the expense of the many will be one of the biggest strides in our social progress.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Trench raids are said to be a Canadian invention and the whole British army has fallen in love with them. The enemy does not like them a little bit. He never knows what to expect and his uncertainty is getting on his nerves.

British ships going and coming at New York to and from European ports and American ships making transatlantic voyages trusting to British protection must be a galling spectacle to those Americans who, fondly believed that "Old Glory" really stood for something.

An American correspondent writing from France says that the idea of the American army taking over a sector of the western battlefield is absurd. He says that France is as full of the troops as it can stand, and that if Washington wants to help the Entente Powers in the field, the only way to do so is to dispatch men across Siberia to take over a part of the Russian line.

Beware of the Cold Storage Egg! In his work on food and dietetics Doctor Robert Hutchison says, "the absence of carbohydrates prevents eggs from being in any sense a complete food." This refers to the fresh egg—the egg with a clean bill of health. What would Doctor Hutchison say of the modern cold storage egg? At present prices two eggs cost ten cents—and the egg is not a complete food! Something must be eaten with it to supply the needed carbohydrates. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, with cream or milk, make a complete, perfect meal at a cost of four or five cents. Made in Canada.

WESTHOLME THEATRE

In the Westholme tonight in "The Honorable Friend," Hayakawa is seen as a young Japanese gardener working for a wealthy and unscrupulous Japanese curio dealer. The old man is desirous of a bride and sends Hayakawa's picture as his own to Japan, and Hayakawa is sent to the dock to marry the Japanese girl, having been told that she is to be his own wife. When he brings her before the old curio dealer, and learns that she is to be taken away from him, there is something doing. How affairs are finally adjusted and the old man receives his just deserts, and the two lovers are re-united, is presented in a most dramatic manner.

morning but it didn't reach us. The wind was too choppy. I often think it strange that gas when first used by the enemy was not more effective. Then our men had no gas helmets; they were quite defenceless. Still the German success was only temporary. One would imagine them using gas wholesale all along the line, but they did not. What deterred them? For my own part I almost believe that the horrors of this war, diabolical though they be, are for our betterment. Tase was consuming our people; the worms of petty strife, of laziness, indifference and self-depreciation were eating the pillars of our January 8.—Drill, lecture on bombing, etc.

January 9.—A parcel from home. The sultana cake was grand; the boys enjoyed it. A letter to mother thanking her. Going up to the trenches tonight.

January 10.—When passing through the village of X, yesterday afternoon we saw the French mending the roofs of their houses. The Germans had been shelling the village all day and knocking the tiles to pieces. A man to whom I spoke said that the Germans generally blew the roofs off in the morning, but the villagers put them on again before dusk.

The way which the French accommodate themselves to the vicissitudes of war is a source of wonder to me. I love and admire the people. We are going out on another raid tonight and want to take a few prisoners back with us. The enemy trench is quiet enough, but it is difficult to know what the silence conceals. Their life is like a wasp's nest. Poke it and see what happens. But I like the poking especially with a bayonet and a bomb. . . . I feel in a queer mood, unsettled and shaky. I hope we're lucky tonight and trust that we get back. I can't help thinking of Fergus whom I thought never felt fear. My mates think I am never afraid. And that's as well; seeing that I'm their corporal. The sensation of fear is denied to a stone or a sandbag, but not to men. I hope the raid goes off well.

The above extract is taken from the diary of an Irish corporal, who was killed on a right raid in the Somme district. The following is from a letter sent to the corporal's mother by the platoon commander. "In addition to his innate modesty which made light of all his own achievements, your boy had all the qualifications of a splendid soldier. In the raid in which he lost his life he showed great daring and initiative. Entering a signaller's dug-out singlehanded he took two German prisoners. From these we gleaned most valuable information. On returning to their own trench our men discovered that one of their number was missing. A search party was organized and your boy took charge of it. He just got over the parapet when he was hit. Death was instantaneous."

Don't Send Money in a Letter
WHEN you send subscriptions to magazines, or order goods out of town, or pay small accounts at a distance, do not place the actual cash in the envelope. Thousands of dollars are lost every year through fire, robbery or mis-direction. Use the Bank Money Orders, issued by this bank. They are payable in Canada and the United States in any sum up to fifty dollars. Their protection is well worth their small cost.

Bathe Internally

Over 50,000 People Are Now Doing So.

For many years physicians have agreed that the vast majority of human ills were caused by accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine; that in our present way of living Nature could not remove all this waste without assistance, no matter how regular we might be, and that the poisons from this waste circulating through the blood pulled us away down below par and were responsible for many diseases of a serious nature.

During this time the "J. B. L. Cascade" for Internal Bathing has, because of their recommendation and those of its users, been steadily growing in favor.

Recently, however, the startling news which has been covering this country, that great surgeons and specialists have been operating on the Lower Intestine for the most chronic and serious diseases, has caused Americans to become thoroughly awake to the importance of keeping this Lower Intestine free from all poisonous waste matter, and over 500,000 are now using Internal Baths.

If you try the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, content and capable—the poisoned waste makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

Call and see it at Cyril H. Orme's, Druggist, Corner 3rd Ave. and 6th St., or ask there for "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 per cent Efficient," a booklet of great interest, which is given free on request. If you prefer, write for Booklet to Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, 163 College Street, Toronto.

2,000,000
Belgians
Depend on us
for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

Dr. Price's CREAM BAKING POWDER

There is no alum in Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. The names of its ingredients, printed on the label of every can, show it to be made from Cream of Tartar, which comes from grapes.

No alum baking powder or food containing alum is permitted to be sold in many countries. To avoid alum read the label and use only baking powder made from cream of tartar.

The Case of A.B. Smith, Retailer.

A. B. SMITH has a dry goods store in a certain Canadian city. He does a good business, but wants to do more. He believes that Advertising in his local newspaper is the way to get more business. So he advertises—every now and then. This is where our friend Smith is wrong—in advertising every now and then. He should advertise regularly—as frequently as his local newspaper is published.

Smith says he wants to advertise regularly, but he can't always find the time to prepare advertisements, which is true, for he is his own buyer, sales-manager, director of store service, credit man and half-a-dozen other things.

What Smith should do is this: If he is located in one of the smaller cities, in which there are no advertising agencies giving a local copy service, and he has no one among his own staff qualified by instinct or experience to write the daily announcements, he should go to the publisher of the newspaper in which he means to advertise, requesting his help. In nine cases out of ten, the publisher, through his advertising manager, will be only too glad to give Smith the assistance desired.

If Smith is located in one of the larger cities he should secure the services of a recognized advertising agency which will take over the work of preparing his advertisements.

In this way Smith can be sure of having his advertisements prepared regularly and intelligently, with no more trouble to him than the supplying of the information required by the writer of the advertisements.

So Smith can do more business, and more business means a larger income for himself, to say nothing of other gains that go hand in hand with the doing of bigger business.

This man Smith---do you know him?
Are YOU Smith?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumden Building, Toronto.
