ATTACKS AND RAIDS ON WESTERN FRONT

STRONG GERMAN OFFENSIVE NEAR VERDUN — BRITISH PURSUING THE TURKS

FIGHTING ON WESTERN AREA CONTINUES

French Troops Repulse a German Attack Near Verdun—French Raids Successful—Get Many Prisoners.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, March 14.—A strong German offensive near Louvemont, to the north of Verdun, was easily repulsed by the French and numerous casualties were caused to the attacking forces. Soissons was bombarded during the hours of the night.

A successful raid by the French troops was made between the Aisne and the Aisne, and at least 150 prisoners were taken.

In the Champagne district, a new attack was launched against the German positions at Maisons de Champagne on a front of 500 metres. On Hill 185 the French troops penetrated the fortified work on the slopes north of Namelon, and ejected the enemy from the remaining trenches he had taken in the Verdun offensive.

BRITISH FRONT

London, March 14.—Taking advantage of the continued hazy weather caused by the thawing land, the Germans to the west of Bapaume have retreated from their main defensive system. Through their wonderful defensive works, dugouts and trenches, the British have advanced another five thousand yards. Near the Louport wood, the village of Grenvilles has been captured. The British artillery is keeping up a constant bombardment of the enemy positions on the Somme, and between Souchez and Armentieres, artillery activity is most pronounced.

MORE VESSELS SUNK

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, March 14.—The Cunard liner "Folia" has been sunk by a German submarine. There was only one United States citizen on board and he was among the survivors.

The Norwegian ship "Storstad" reported sunk recently was carrying grain for the suffering Belgians, was unequipped for defence. She hoisted the relief flag and made no attempt to escape, but the Hun paid no heed to the signals. Another Norwegian steamer is reported to have been sunk outside of the barred zone. She also carried grain from the American Relief Commission for the starving Belgians, but notwithstanding the Relief flag, and also being outside of the danger zone, she was torpedoed.

A BOLD SUGGESTION

The most sensible suggestion made at the meeting of the Retail Merchants Association last night was that the city possess its own coal yard, so that the citizens could get coal that was all coal—not half water, nor half snow. The meeting was held in the council chamber. There was no second.

GERMANY AND THE UNITED STATES

(Special to The Daily News.)

New York, March 14.—According to the latest reports, Germany is again attempting to revive the articles of the old treaty of 1798, whereby all German residents in the United States would be immune from arrest and internment in the event of an actual state of war existing between the United States and Germany. German residents in the States were to be given six months in order to wind up their business affairs and take their departure.

It is considered unlikely that such proposals will be considered by the State Department, now that diplomatic relations have been broken off. At the same time, Germany is objecting to the administration of the Belgian relief work in northern France being administered any longer by Americans, and arrangements have had to be made to get Holland to take over this work.

In the event of war, the leaders of the four great railroad brotherhoods have informed the President that they will stand behind him in any action he should consider necessary. Public opinion in the United States is still running very strongly in favor of war with Germany. The New York Times in an editorial advises the American ships to fire at the German submarines at sight. The Times sees in the German retreat on the western front and the fall of Baghdad, the beginning of the end. "The pendulum has begun to swing backwards for the Huns."

PREMIER AT THE FRONT

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, March 14.—The Canadian Premier and his colleagues on their visit to the colonial troops in France have found a spirit of confidence pervading all ranks. The ministerial party was greatly impressed with the armed strength of the troops of the various self-governing dominions. The officer commanding the French army paid a great tribute to the Canadian infantry corps, in saying that he regarded them as one of the finest in the battle line. That Canadians were singled out of all the other splendid bodies of men is significant of the work they have done.

A LETTER FROM THE G. T. P.

At the meeting of the Retail Merchants Association last night a letter from Mr. Chamberlin, president of the G. T. P., was read as follows:

"I have yours of the 7th inst., contents noted. I sincerely regret the position taken by the people at Prince Rupert, as the company is powerless in the matters to which you refer, and actions of this kind are injurious not only to Prince Rupert, but to the railway company."

In the meantime the Grand Trunk Pacific are not carrying any competitive traffic for the Prince Rupert merchants, and in the meeting the remark was overheard that they will require to write perhaps many more gracious letters before they do.

THE VICTORY LOAN

Ottawa, March 14.—More money for the Canadian "Victory" war loan was offered yesterday than on the opening day of either of the two previous war loans. Every indication is that the victory loan has established a new record. The big corporations have subscribed at least forty millions.

TO START SHIPBUILDING FOR GREAT BRITAIN

(Special to The Daily News.)

Ottawa, March 14.—The Imperial Munitions Board has now completed arrangements for the building of ships for Great Britain in Canada. Arrangements on a very elaborate scale have been perfected.

HALIBUT ARRIVALS

The Fairbanks has arrived with 17,000 pounds; Guildford, 3,000; Joe Baker, 5,000; Oonah, 10,000, and the Sealight with 2,000. No sales had been made at time of writing. A special train with refrigerator cars is expected in soon, and more are on the way, so that there will be no shortage of cars to handle the traffic.

WANT NO HALF-HOLIDAY

That the stores be closed on Wednesday afternoons is not a good thing for Prince Rupert was decided by ballot at the Retail Merchants meeting last night. A motion to abolish the half-day closing and to give the clerks a 52-hour week was adopted, thus bringing Prince Rupert merchants in line with the southern cities Merchants' Associations.

RETAIL MERCHANTS ASSOC.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Retail Merchants Association last night the question of affiliation with the Dominion Retail Merchants Association was taken to avizandum by a special committee.

RETAIL MERCHANTS AND THE CITY MARKET

The position of the Retail Merchants in connection with the City Market was gone into to some length last night at the Retail Merchants meeting. The financial report of the city treasurer for the January business at the market was criticised. The treasurer's statement, as reported, had it that 500 boxes of apples sold at the market netted the growers an average of 86½ cents. This figure was challenged, as being received by the grower. Allowing, for the sake of argument, that this figure was correct, was the right thing being done by the grower? The market was for the mutual benefit of producer and consumer. Yet the City Market sold for 90c to $1.25 what no other merchant could buy at less than $1.45 laid down in Rupert. The only assumption was that the City Market was not doing the fair thing by the grower, besides working an injustice to the local merchants. It was claimed that 1000 boxes of apples came to the City Market under a misapprehension. The first small shipment was sold for $1.80 and $1.90 when other stores in town sold the same apples for $1.25 and $1.60. On these high prices, the shippers were induced to forward 1000 boxes, which, according to the market report, only half were sold at 86½ cents, and even that figure was doubted.

It was said that the City Market prices had no proper basis. It did not really cut down the cost of living, but consistently sold at a fraction below the regular retail price. Take eggs for instance; one merchant sold at 60c, the market cut to 57½ cents. The merchant dropped to 55 cents just to see what would happen, and the market dropped to 52½c. It was the same all the way through. Take again butter, suppose the market value was 50c., but the retailer charged 60c, did the city market sell for 50c. No! It charged 57½ cents.

Other instances of inconsistency were given. When the butter merchants found they were not getting their market price they stopped sending and then were accused of boycotting the market. It was said that 7½ per cent was all that the City Market cost, but rent, light, water, etc., had all to be paid by the city, and over $600 was taken out of the taxes last year for the upkeep of the City Market. No merchant could run his business on 7½ per cent. It was said also that Burns' lard, hams and bacon were sold at the market and perhaps Burns' beef. Burns did not sell "on consignment," so the City Market must have bought these goods outright, which was not supposed to be done.

Finally it was suggested that a deputation wait on the city council and lay the grievance of the Retail Merchants before that body. It was pointed out that the matter was at present under consideration by the council and that possibly the better plan would be to leave it in their hands. But quick as a flash, came the retort that the matter had been up before the city council for the past two years without anything being done. So it was decided that the executive committee interview the city council and to see if the City Market could not be operated so as not to work a hardship on anyone.

BRITISH ARE PURSUING THE FLEEING TURKS

Great Captures of Military Stores Made in the City of Baghdad—City Sacked by Turks Before Leaving.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, March 14.—The British forces pressing on beyond Baghdad encountered strong opposition in the village of Kazimdin. The position chosen for a stand by the Turkish forces was the strongest they could get. Situated a few miles north of Baghdad the retreating Turk had hoped to hold up the British advance to enable the main part of his forces to escape north. The British stormed the village, which was well defended by machine guns, the gunboats of the river lending great assistance. Hundreds of the Turks surrendered. Before leaving the city, Baghdad was sacked in the manner which the Turk loves, only on this occasion there was not time enough for him to do his marauding work thoroughly. The civilian population had been plundered of most of their portable valuables, but, nevertheless, the British found great supplies of military stores, and ammunition of all kinds, which probably would have proved too bulky and heavy for a quick retreat across the desert. The pursuit of the retreating Turkish forces continues.

THE FIGHTING PARSON

The Westholme Theatre was crowded to the doors last night and a more interesting show has seldom been placed before the public than that which was witnessed yesterday evening. The troubles of the parson in trying to correct the evils of a mushroom mining town in Nevada in the early days were strikingly shown. The interest of the audience was secured from the very first and Dustin Farnum as the parson filled the part completely. The programme will be repeated tonight. The music is especially good.

STILL GETTING THEM

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, March 14.—The latest reports received here state that between January 1 and February 15, about sixty German submarines have been either captured or destroyed. It is said that the policy of silence adopted by the British Admiralty has so affected the crews of the submarines with the uncertainty of their fate that actual surrenders have taken place.

THE TREND OF EVENTS

At the present moment the American people seem to be of one voice in their hostility to Germany. Demands for an open declaration of war are being heard from various parts of the country. The language being used at the public war meetings all over the United States indicates the state of mind of the majority of the people. Were there only small isolated outbursts here and there, it might be taken no notice of, but when influential citizens of New York speak of war to crowded audiences such as happened last week, that state of mind which precedes a popular war will be recognized. The trouble in Congress over the armed neutrality bill has caused the American people to feel, as they have given no indication previously of feeling, that their national honor has been hurt. And the movement toward active hostilities seems to be moving in an inexorable procession.

The United States were always good friends with Germany. Nowhere had the Germans better friends. Yet the German government deliberately deceived them, insulted them, blew up their factories, sunk their ships, murdered their citizens. And yet they had friends. The boundless forbearance found in the United States has been mistaken for weakness. The German idea was that the United States would not fight. They could be scorned and insulted with impunity, but at last, the friends of Germany in the United States have discovered that the repeated treachery and ingratitude of Germany is too much to be borne always. Magnanimity in nations is well, but there comes a time for a righteous anger, being displayed. The friends of Germany are now friends no longer. Germany has deliberately estranged her best friends, with that lack of political wisdom, which has always characterized the German. That they should deliberately invite their most powerful friends to become their enemy seems to be the height of madness. The more especially under the present circumstances.

When final disaster overtakes the German Empire, what the people will say to their erstwhile rulers, who have led them to their ruin, time will show. History shows in what rude and arbitrary fashion the populace dealt with their rulers in previous times, when a nation was brought to ruin.

Revolutions accompanied by much bloodshed have happened before, and when the German people learn by what means their name has been caused to stink in the nostrils of the whole civilized world there will assuredly be a day of reckoning.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Toronto Mail and Empire recently demanded that the Canadian government deal in a direct way with speculators in foods and declared that the people looked to the government and to nobody else to remedy the trouble. It asks for instant action, not long-range negotiation. If investigators are put on the job they might start work with a perusal of the annual statements of some of the big products companies. One large flour concern boasted of a more profitable year in 1916 than ever before in its history. It paid fat bonuses to its shareholders. This is no time for super-profits. This is war-time, a time of stress without precedent in the annals of the whole world, a time of sacrifice for everybody.

Well-informed American newspapers and thinking Americans generally frankly admit that the main bulwark of their country is Britain's seapower. If that bulwark were beaten down the Allies would be defeated on all fronts and nothing could save the United States from a German invasion. Our neighbor's navy would be out-shipped, out-gunned and out-manned. There is practically no army.

Professor Stephen Leacock, of Montreal, recently uttered the following warning in an address before the Housewives' League of that city: "We are in sight of a terrible food famine, such as the world has never seen. We must take steps betimes if we wish to avoid national and world-wide disaster. We must at all costs increase our food supply."

It may be that Professor Leacock is putting too much sombre coloring on his picture, but it would be well, nevertheless, to Twenty-Five Cents a Day spent for the right kind of food will keep a man in good health, fit for any task. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, served with hot milk, make a complete, perfect meal at a cost of four or five cents—a meal that supplies in digestible form every element needed to build new tissue and furnish heat and energy for the human body. At twenty-five cents a day for three meals there is a margin of ten cents for fruit or green vegetables. Such a diet means a clean stomach, healthy liver, active bowels. For breakfast with milk or cream. Made in Canada.

take no chances. If the outlook is as serious as he says it is—and undoubtedly it is serious—it will not be long before we have a food controller in Canada.

Gardening, once a hobby, has become a business proposition. The man who has an available backyard and does not cultivate it this coming season is wasting money. No great skill is required to turn a small plot of land into money in the bank. A little application of the first principles, a little spare time spent in healthy outdoor exercise and a small outlay of cash means a surprising return of good eatables fresh for the pot.

GETTING BACK WHAT WAS ALIENATED

Victoria, March 13.—Preparatory to what is considered a move on the part of the government to cancel a large part of the coal and petroleum land locations, a bill has been introduced in the house by the minister of lands amending the Coal and Petroleum act by the insertion of a clause empowering the lieutenant-governor-in-council by notice signed by the minister and published in the official Gazette to cancel any reservations on sixty days notice. The amendment also gives the minister the power to place coal and petroleum lands upon reserve.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the Belgian Relief Fund

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—this winter!

No people under the Allied flag are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

HUNGARY'S USE TO GERMANY

Can Furnish Foodstuffs in The Kaiser's Central Europe Scheme.

In the development of the "Central Europe" idea, which many German economists and business men, as well as politicians and imperialists, are promoting for the purpose of organizing a solid empire, stretching from Hamburg to Bagdad, the role of Hungary is to be restricted to that of furnishing foodstuffs, according to a statement made recently by Dr. Herman Paasche to a correspondent of the Budapesti Hirlap.

The correspondent told Dr. Paasche, who is a vice-president of the Reichstag and one of the National Liberal (big business) Party, that the Hungarians regarded the organizing power of the Germans with friendship and admiration, and they highly esteemed German science and trade. But, at the same time, there were certain circles in Hungary which were anxious about the future of Hungarian commerce. They feared that the highly developed German commerce might, after the war, crush Hungarian commerce, which was yet in its infancy. To this Dr. Paasche, as translated by The Daily Chronicle of London, replied:

"After the war we Germans will be dependent on the Berlin-Bagdad route. In consequence of this it will be our most important interest to be on good terms with the peoples who dwell along this route—that is, with the Hungarians. But in an alliance of peoples it is only those who are economically strong that are of value. An ally that is little developed economically is not an advantage, but a burden. From this it is clear that it will be our aim to strengthen Hungary economically."

"Hungary is, above all, an agrarian State, not a commercial one, and therefore she must seek material prosperity in this direction. First of all, she must modernize her agricultural conditions. I do not mean that she should not at the same time aim at the development of Hungarian trade and industry. But she must not seek this by wrong methods. In the production of certain articles of commerce, the raw materials of which can only be second or third hand, Hungary cannot compete with those States which get the necessary raw products from their own colonies. The Hungarians must, above all, throw themselves into agricultural industry, for which they can manufacture their own raw materials."

In the course of further remarks Dr. Paasche warned Hungary against limiting herself to the production of only one kind of grain, and advised the cultivation of flax and hemp, neither of which is grown in Germany to any extent. Hungary might also, he suggested, take a prominent place in the growing of oil-producing plants, a vital necessity for Germany.

5,000 ARE WANTED FOR FORESTRY WORK

The Dominion has dispatched 5,000 men overseas for forestry work. Great Britain wants 5,000 more. The shortage of transports has necessitated greater efforts within the borders of the United Kingdom and the embargo on timber imports has compelled the Imperial authorities to supply their needs at home.

A variety of new duties has been created. Men who desire to join the forestry drafts should have some experience in mill or forest work, but the medical examinations are not so strict and the age limit is increased to 48. Men with minor defects, such as flat feet, who are free from organic defects, can aspire to the forestry drafts.

The men will be raised by drafts and no officers are required. This month the men from the lumber camps will be coming out and brisk recruiting is expected. The Imperial authorities contend that every man enlisted for the forestry battalions releases a man for infantry purposes at the front.
