GREAT AERIAL ACTIVITY ON THE WESTERN FRONT

GERMAN AMMUNITION DEPOTS AND RAILROAD JUNCTIONS ARE BEING CONTINUOUSLY ATTACKED FROM ABOVE -- MANY MACHINES ARE LOST ON BOTH SIDES

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, April 9.—Unusually severe aerial fighting has been taking place in France on the western front. The losses both for the Allies and the enemy have been very heavy. For two days and nights—on Thursday and Friday—British aeroplanes have been active in raiding the German ammunition depots and railroad junctions. More than seven hundred distinct raids were made during this time and over eight tons of bombs were dropped on the territory occupied by the Germans.

The enemy's lines of communication were also harassed by the British aviators, who were also successful in bringing back over seven hundred photographs of scenes and localities, some of them far back of the German lines.

Machines Missing.

Twenty-eight British machines are missing, according to the reports published here. A report from Berlin says that forty-four Entente machines were destroyed in one day's fighting. Ten German balloons were destroyed, and forty-six German aeroplanes were brought down. Fifteen of these were seen to crash to the ground.

Further Fighting.

Paris, April 9.—Spirited artillery activity continues between the Somme and the Oise, south of Ailette and northwest of Rheims. Last night and today the Germans fired 7,500 shells into the city of Rheims, killing fifteen civilians and wounding many more. In the Argonne, the enemy made a surprise attack, which was repulsed with great losses to the attackers. American airmen in France have bagged thirty German aeroplanes. In the eastern theatre of operations, no event of importance has occurred on the front of the Allied armies.

British Progress.

London, April 9.—The efforts of General Haig's troops to outflank the city of St. Quentin on the north are continuing and further progress is being made. Between Jeancourt and St. Selency the British in their advance have reached the outskirts of Fresnoy Le Petit, which is less than two miles from the high road running from Cambrai to St. Quentin. Near Arras and in the Ypres sectors considerable artillery activity has been displayed on both sides.

Russians Loyal.

Petrograd, April 9.—The Russian soldiers have declared their unswerving loyalty to the Duma. In all reform matters they will accept the guidance of the Provisional Government, and are firm in their resolve to fight the enemy to a victorious conclusion.

FOOD SPECULATORS AND THE STORAGE

Ottawa, April 2.—The Hon. Mr. Burrell's statement that there is an exportable surplus of Canadian potatoes amounting to over two million bushels and that Ontario is the only province in which there is a shortage draws attention with a jerk to the operations of the food speculators in that part of Canada which was chiefly instrumental in throwing the Laurier Government and its free trade policy out and putting the Borden Government in.

If, as Mr. Burrell says, there are two million bushels of potatoes over all food and seed requirements then it is quite plain that the high prices in Ontario are not due to scarcity, but to manipulation by the food pirates. In New Brunswick, whence most of the Ontario potatoes are brought, potatoes sell at a reasonable price, but freight charges and the exorbitant demands of the middlemen make these homely vegetables a luxury by the time they reach Ontario.

To a deputation of potato growers from New Brunswick the other day, Acting Premier Foster announced that the government did not contemplate an embargo on potato exports "at present." Mark that "at present." It seems to breathe a threat that an embargo is a possibility of the future. For the first time in years the potato growers of New Brunswick have a chance to make a little money. A high-tariff government soaks them forty per cent. on everything they buy, so naturally when they get a chance to make some of the difference they go to it like a pup to a root.

To these and others like them the government announces that it will not prevent them selling in what market they please—"at present." Of course if the hue and cry against the Ontario food speculators gets too noisy the government may take it out on the New Brunswick potato growers just to divert attention. The New Brunswick potato growers meanwhile, are not to forget that this is a great effort, of magnanimity on the Borden Government's part, because it isn't every class of the community that is allowed to sell where it pleases. If the New Brunswick potato grower will cast his eye on the Northwest farmer, who is practically debarred of selling his wheat in the United States market, he will be better able to grasp what a great concession the Borden Government has made.

It is even more wonderful when one reflects that New Brunswick lately reversed the political reflection of its Legislature and that consequently New Brunswick potatoes are now Liberal in the eyes of the Borden Government. This explains the reservation in the Hon. Mr. Foster's "at present." A province which has gone back on the Borden Government's gospel, a province moreover from which the Borden Government fondly hoped to draw a majority at the next general election, cannot hope to remain in favor any longer. The government leaves itself free to take it out on the New Brunswick potatoes. "At present"—this is not a promise but a threat. Certain articles of

GERMAN HEADQUARTERS IN LAON ON THE HINDENBURG LINE

Laon is the southernmost town of importance on the Laon-La Fere-St. Quentin-Cambrai line. Further north St. Quentin and La Fere are already dominated by the advancing French, but west of Laon, the French army from Soissons has been delayed by the Ailette river, and also by St. Gobain Wood, though steady progress is being made. Laon is a city of 10,000 population, with fine buildings and street cars, and public squares as the picture shows. The photograph was taken during the German occupation and shows the building which has been used by the headquarters staff for the Noyon Sector menacing Paris. In the foreground stands the famous Sernier monument.

diet are ear-marked that way. For instance, tea is Liberal—and when the leading tea-merchant, who is a Liberal, endeavored to make his selling price bear a reasonable relation to the war cost, the Borden Government jumped on him right away. Bacon, on the contrary, is Conservative. It has a friend at court in the person of Mr. J. W. Flavelle, Chairman of the Imperial Munitions Board, Maecenas to Sir Thomas White and Premier Borden's pet. Bacon has been allowed to soar. Nobody thinks or even hints at putting an embargo on any of Mr. Flavelle's activities.

People around here are wondering why the Borden Government doesn't call in Mr. Flavelle to deal with the food speculators. Diamond cut diamond, you know. Set a Flavelle to catch a food speculator. They couldn't fool Mr. Flavelle for a minute—he has been over the ground. Just now Mr. Flavelle, besides his job as boss of the shell game, has a place on a number of Royal Commissions which are supposed to deplore in a general way the high cost of living, but not to get down to cases. In fact, if they ever started to bark at anybody in particular Mr. Flavelle would hear it and at once put a stop to it in the interests of peace and quietness.

The packing company of which Mr. Flavelle is the head, made as much as one hundred and fifty per cent. profit in the Boar war. Mr. Flavelle himself was one of the noble Toronto eighteen who helped to defeat reciprocity and prevent the United States packer from paying more money to the Canadian farmer for hogs and taking less money from the Canadian consumer for bacon. Similarly Mr. Flavelle raised no objection when the Borden Government cajoled the Northwest into growing a bumper crop of wheat in 1915 and then letting it rust in the barn sooner than permit a free exchange with the United States. The farmers of Canada are beginning to see through this little game, and their conventions pass resolutions about it, but Mr. Flavelle is still strong in the belief that an impregnable home market is what he needs in his business.

The home market is so sacred that Mr. Flavelle doesn't even care to talk about it. He prefers to discuss religion. He is a leader in Israel. With his genius for re-organization one doubts whether Mr. Flavelle could sit still even in Heaven. He would never rest satisfied until the place looked more like the Sherbourne street Methodist church. Some people, mostly poor people, who have had a hard time scraping through this life on earth think of heaven as a place to get even, but that is not Mr. Flavelle's idea. His heaven has all the modern improvements, including a fine, broad tolerance for millionaires who have been obliged to leave their worldly goods behind them. This may not always be the case, because heaven would not be heaven for Mr. Flavelle if it didn't possess adequate storage facilities, but meanwhile he views the loss philosophically. As he himself says, "Man brings nothing into this world and he takes nothing out. What could be fairer?"

As Chairman of the Imperial Munitions Board Mr. Flavelle does not work for filthy lucre—at least not on this side of the Atlantic Ocean. His beef contract is direct with the British War Office and this leaves him free to score the Canadian profiteers for letting people see them making so much money. Mr. Flavelle has suggested more than once that everybody's profits but his own be sacrificed on the altar of patriotism. This reminds one of the good old times in the fall of 1911, when Mr. Flavelle and his fellow food barons wrapped their monopoly intact in the old flag and put it over on the people. Mr. Flavelle is more wound round with the old flag than ever. He works, as we said before, not for a British title. Rumor has it that a knighthood is not good enough for him. He waits until a baronetcy offers.

Mr. Flavelle, besides being a re-organizer, is an efficiency expert of national renown. As an example of his double-barrelled efficiency it is only necessary to

UNITED STATES WILL MAKE GREAT WAR LOAN TO ALLIES

FINANCIAL RESOURCES OF NEW ALLY WILL AFFORD IMMEDIATE HELP TO ENTENTE—FURTHER CONTRIBUTIONS OF MONEY, MUNITIONS AND FOOD AS REQUIRED

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, April 9.—At a conference of the leaders of the administration it was decided to unlock at once the vast financial resources of the United States to the Allies. Just as speedily as Congress can pass the necessary legislation a loan of not less than two billions will be forthcoming, which will relieve the economic needs of the Entente to some extent. It is authoritatively stated that not one penny of profit is expected by the United States from this loan. It will be America's immediate contribution to the Allied cause, with the promise of other bountiful contributions of money, munitions and food stuffs to come as required. The President expects that the legislators will speedily fall into line behind the administration's proposals for the carrying on of the war.

Wants Volunteers.

"Close up the ranks," says Senator Stone, "the hour for discussion has passed, the hour for action has arrived. The people must support the Government."

He urges the Missourians to make up their quota by volunteers and not make conscription necessary. An earnest appeal has been made by Secretary Baker for the quick passage of the War Department Bill, providing for the training of an army of a million men, to be raised by selective conscription within the next year. Many recruits are joining the navy.

New York, April 9.—The United States Secret Service have discovered a wireless plant of the most expensive type upon the roof of the Fifth Avenue home of Mrs. Hugo Reisinger. The plant was operated by the butler.

TRAPPED IN THE FERNIE COAL MINE

(Special to The Daily News.)

Fernie, April 9.—The rescuers are busily working to obtain access to the No. 3 mine at Coal creek, where the explosion took place on the 5th, imprisoning 34 men. Little hope remains of any of the miners being recovered alive. Fires broke out in the galleries, but were subdued by the working parties. The tunnel is blocked by rocks and a new way of access had to be driven. The rescuers are strenuously pushing on with their dangerous work and it is expected that the face of the mine will be reached tonight. The Draeger mine rescue apparatus is being used.

REFORM IN GERMANY

(Special to The Daily News.)

Copenhagen, April 9.—President Wilson's speech has caused much anxiety amongst the reactionaries in Germany. The movement for the immediate introduction of liberal changes in government is steadily growing, but it is doubtful whether the Kaiser will consent to abolish the three classes of franchise. It is denied by the Admiralty that any modification of the submarine warfare is contemplated.

THE BEGINNING OF THE END

There is an element in Germany which cherishes the idea that the intervention of the United States against the Teutonic alliance would be a desirable thing because it would import into a peace conference a moderating influence upon the Entente attitude. There is good reason to believe that this idea is entertained in the highest quarters in Germany. In that atmosphere sanity long since has abdicated its throne and nobody can account for the delusions which flourish there. Assuredly, of all the hallucinations which have developed in the fertile soil of Hohenzollernism the craziest is the view that the intervention of the United States in this war as a hostile force might be of advantage to the combination of which Germany is the cornerstone.

It has taken the United States nearly three years to realize the real character and aims of the powers with which the Entente states are at war. In that period the republic has suffered the most outrageous violation of its rights with unexampled patience. It has been flouted and insulted times without number. Its shipping has been sunk, its citizens have been massacred, its factories have been blown up, its domestic affairs have been spied upon, its very integrity has been threatened by a secret intrigue with one of its neighbors. Its patience, misinterpreted by the savages of Brandenburg, is now exhausted and it is "mad clean through." Like all big democracies, it will be as slow to subside as it was to be aroused. Its anger will deepen and its determination will harden as the war progresses. Every affront to Belgium, every atrocity in France, every outrage upon its own rights, will add fresh stimulus to the high resolve that the sword shall not be sheathed until the foul author of this hellish orgy is not only beaten but punished.

Let there be no mistake about that. We have only to read President Wilson's arraignment of those responsible for Germany's policy to understand what the United States will fight for and demand. We have merely to study the allusions to the rights of small nations and to the new democracy of Russia, as contrasted with the autocracy of Prussia, to realize that the republic will remain in this struggle until Germany has purged herself of the evil influences which have made her a Devil's kingdom, until the countries she has ravaged have been compensated to the "utmost farthing," and until there has been, in fact, a remodelling of the map of continental Europe.

Fifty years ago the Union fought five long years the most terrible kind of war for the vindication of an ideal. It was a long time after the guns of Fort Sumter reverberated around the world before the country was thoroughly roused to the danger which threatened it, and to the necessity of making its greatest effort. When it did understand the situation it stopped at nothing. Although a young democracy, it adopted conscription. It determined to fight to the bitter end. It scorned offers of mediation which came from Europe. And it never laid down the sword until it had destroyed absolutely and finally the military resources of its enemy, that "government of the people by the people and for the people might not perish." The sword is pretty rusty, but it is now being polished. It is out of the scabbard and it will not be replaced until the same principle for which the civil war was fought to the end has been vindicated by the champions of civilization in Europe. Germany ought to re-read history. The consequences of her disregard of the lessons of Britain's history should have impelled her to review American history. The Wars of Frederick and the chronicles of the Franco-Prussian war of forty-five years ago as her mental diet have ruined her.—Victoria Times.

A THOUSAND MILES YET TO PROSPECT

In a statement made recently by Mr. John D. Galloway, assistant mineralogist for the province, he says:

Prospecting has been in progress along the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific for some years, but it is only recently that development may be said to have commenced. At present the only important copper producing section of the Northern Interior is Hazelton-Telkwa district of Omineca mining division, from which the Rocher de Boule mine contributes the greater part of the production. Along lower Skeena river, in the Babine country, and east of Telkwa, along the G.T.P. railway, many copper prospects are being developed, but production from them so far has been small. Between the G. T. P. Railway and Lillooet district there is a strip of virtually unprospected country, in which copper and other minerals may be found; this is along the eastern contact zone of the Pacific Coast range. This range is 1,000 miles long, from the International Boundary line northward through British Columbia into Alaska. It is known to contain commercially valuable ore bodies, in many places along both its eastern and western contacts.

state that he is credited with putting Sir Thomas White where he is and that Sir Thomas White is credited with putting Mr. Flavelle where he is—not in the business world, to be sure, but at Ottawa. At one time the story got about that Mr. Flavelle was going to make himself premier and Sir Thomas White Right Bower and then again that he was going to make Sir Thomas premier and himself the Man Behind. But Mr. Flavelle disclaimed both the soft impeachment and so did Sir Thomas. Some fool spilled the beans while they were away in England and of course there was nothing to do but to deny it when they came home. In fact it fell down the same way as the Dardanelles campaign—the surprise squibbed out.

It all goes to show, however, what an efficient person Mr. Flavelle, even on his great merits, couldn't be elected to anything in the gift of the voters, but that doesn't make him any the less efficient or any the less a pet of the Borden Government. Mr. Flavelle is efficiency last degree. If he were running this war he would have General Sir Douglas Haig punch a time clock whenever he came on or went off duty. Moreover he would cut out the lot of rum for the water-soaked heroes in the front trenches and do the thing on cocoa and helpful tracts. The sixth commandment would be the only one the soldiers were allowed to break and that only temporarily. In short, the war would bear a close resemblance to the Bible class of which Mr. Flavelle is the instructor. Above all, it would not break the Sabbath.

By all odds Mr. Flavelle is the best man the Borden Government can call on to deal with the food speculators—best from every angle, honesty, efficiency, experience. Shallow people are suggesting substitutes, such as rice or spaghetti for potatoes, but every time a poor man mentions what he is going to eat next the food speculator beats him to it. Other people favor back yard production, vacant lot tillage and other violations of nature. Anyone who has ever toyed with the execrable and indurated quality of city backyards and vacant lots knows just how much to expect from this quarter.

We are confident that Mr. Flavelle would put an end to all such silliness as asking city people to plant onions in their flower beds and growing mushrooms in the cellar to relieve the high cost of living. Mr. Flavelle, who has a beautiful conservatory of his own at his home in Queen's Park, Toronto, would not willingly oust his orchids for anything so feebly ornamental as the common or garden turnip. How then could he ask Sir Henry Pellatt to terrace Casa Loma with cabbages? No, Mr. Flavelle would do something better than that. With his organizing genius and his talent for efficiency it would not be long before he would evolve a plan to Feed The People Without Giving Them Anything To Eat Or In Any Way Interfering With Business Enterprise As It Exists Today. I can fancy what a fine fat blue book Mr. Flavelle would get out on that subject. It would be big enough and heavy enough to hold the food situation down until the Borden Government got ready to let go.

And Mr. Flavelle would do all this with the silent dispatch of a well-oiled machine. No blustering reformer he. The iron hand in the velvet glove. Oh the velvet! Mr. Flavelle is so soft spoken, so smooth, so silky that his friends call him Flossie.—H. F. Gadsby.

Bathe Internally

Over 50,000 People Are Now Doing So.

For many years physicians have agreed that the vast majority of human ills were caused by accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine; that in our present way of living nature could not remove all this waste without assistance, no matter how regular we might be, and that the poisons from this waste circulating through the blood pulled us away down below par and were responsible for many diseases of a serious nature.

During this time the "J. B. L. Cascade" for internal Bathing has, because of their recommendation and those of its users, been steadily growing in favor.

Recently, however, the startling news which has been covering this country, that great surgeons and specialists have been operating on the Lower Intestine for the most chronic and serious diseases, has caused Americans to become thoroughly awake to the importance of keeping this Lower Intestine free from all poisonous waste matter, and over 50,000 are now using Internal Baths.

If you try the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable—the poisoned waste makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

Call and see at Cyril H. Orme's, Druggist, Corner 3rd Ave. and 6th St., or ask there for "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 per cent Efficient," a booklet of great interest, which is given free on request. If you prefer, write for Booklet to Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, 163 College Street, Toronto.

HAZELTON MINING NOTES

The tunnel on the Hazelton View has been driven 487 feet, and has already disclosed several shoots of nice ore. One of these, 3 1/2 feet wide, gave an average assay of $180, while another, three feet wide, returned $90. Duke Harris, who is in charge of the work, states that some unusually high molybdenum values have been found in some places, while the average of this desirable mineral is over two per cent.

A syndicate of prominent Vancouver men, on whose behalf the American Boy property was recently examined, is considering the purchase of the unsold treasury stock, for the purpose of developing this well known group. Everyone in the district will wish their success.

There seems to be sufficient evidence on which to base a reasonable hope that the northern interior of British Columbia will in future years contribute materially to the copper production of the province. In regard to the Hazelton-Telkwa district proper, many of the ore bodies here should have attractive to small mining syndicates and individual operators, as large amounts of capital are not required to develop and equip these deposits of medium to high-grade ores. Capital is already coming in from Edmonton, Alberta, and Spokane, Washington, and the district appears to offer good opportunities for capital from Vancouver and Victoria.—Omineca Herald.

TAKE NOTICE that Magnus P. Olsen, whose address is Anxox, B.
