THE ALLIED ADVANCE IS CO-ORDINATED

THE PUSH EXTENDS OVER THE WHOLE LINE AND FIGHTING IS STILL FURIOUS

PRESSURE BY THE ALLIES IS KEPT UP

Germans Flee From Marglour and Abandon Their Rifles and Equipment — Losses Tremendous.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, April 28.—The British have captured the quarries on the eastern outskirts of the town of Marglour near to St. Quentin, and which lies due east from Peronne. The Germans did not wait to mix up with the British soldiers, but fled hurriedly. Rifles and equipment were thrown away by the German troops in their wild dash for safety.

The Great Push.
From the north of Arras, right down to the Champagne country, the Franco-British offensive and the German defence have developed into the titanic push of the war. It is one great major operation on the whole British front, and huge bodies of men on both sides are gripped in a hand to hand conflict.

Cold Steel.
The artillery, the most modern of all weapons perfected, are still able to give barrages of fire, but the actual movement of the British forces forward has almost always been by the use of the most ancient of all fighting weapons, the steel blade.

Co-ordinated Advance.
General Haig has adopted the plan of keeping the whole front steadily pushing forward in a great concerted movement. Meantime, Hindenburg is rushing great bodies of reserve troops up and is pouring these into his front lines to interpose human barriers to the British advance. The losses suffered by the enemy have been colossal. It is British pressure towards Douai that the Germans apparently fear most. East of Gavrelle the battle reached its greatest fury today.

French Front.
Paris, April 28.—General Nivelle's troops gained more ground around the bloodsoaked fields of Harlebis and Cerny. The enemy trenches and the heights were captured. Artillery firing has been very active in the sector from Nanteuil to Sancy. South of St. Quentin, the Germans have suffered heavy losses in raids near the forest of St. Jobain.

Mesopotamia.
London, April 28.—The Turks have retired to a considerable distance north of Samara. One enemy corps is entrenched in the foothills between the Tigris and the Diala. The British are in touch with it.

VICTORY ASSURED

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, April 28.—"Victory is becoming increasingly assured," was stated by Lloyd George, the British Premier. The confident note in his address, which was delivered in the historic Guildhall, was noticeable.

THE PHENOMENON OF WAR PROSPERITY

Professor Stephen Leacock in his recent publication entitled "National Organization for War" makes an urgent call for national thrift and national saving. He attacks in vigorous style the evils of extravagance at this crisis in Canada's history, and by trenchant phrase and apt illustration, disposes of various common errors in regard to individual spending of money during war time.

Regarding war prosperity he says:
War brings with it the peculiar phenomenon of war prosperity. This, economically, is one of the most distressing things conceivable. Here is the interpretation of it. It is as if an industrious farmer and his family had worked hard for a generation and amassed flocks and herds, barns and buildings, and good stores of provisions and grain; then, in a moment of insanity, had set to work to burn the buildings, and in the warm light of the flames kill and devour the animals, and gorge themselves with the grain and fodder, throwing the rest away. In this mad orgy one son of the family, more idiotic even than the rest, rubs his silly hands before the burning home and leers: "Father, it is warm here and nicer, and there is more to eat than in the old days when we worked hard and had but little food. Father, we are prosperous. We have done a good thing." Then presently the fire burns down into ashes and the night comes and the dark. And where the grain once stood and the meadows smiled in the sun, the wewes shall howl again in the gloom of the forest. And where the homestead was, there will be graves. Such is the interpretation of war.

The farmer and the family are the nation, and the idiotic son laughing beside the fire is the war theorist talking of the boom of trade.

The key of the situation, as far as we can unlock it, lies in individual thrift and individual sacrifice. Let there be no more luxuries, no wasted work, no drones to keep, out of the national production.

Every man, today, who consumes any article or employs any service not absolutely necessary, aims a blow at his country.

Save every cent. Live plainly. Do without everything. Rise early, work hard, and content yourself with a bare living. The man who does this—if he uses the saved money properly—is doing war work for his country. He may wrap his last year's coat about him and eat his bread and cheese and feel that he, too, is doing something to show the world the kind of stuff that is yet left in it.

Let us be done with new streets and new sidewalks, new town halls and new railways, till the war is done. Let us walk in our old boots on the old boards, patriots all, with dollar pieces jingling in our pockets adding up to twenty-five for the latest patriotic loan.

Let us do this, and there will pour into the hands of the Government such a cascade of money that the sound of it shall be heard all the way to Potsdam.

VON HINDENBURG'S "HOSTESS" TO VISIT CANADA

The Countess de Turczynowicz, of Poland, formerly Laura Blackwell, of Georgetown, and St. Catherines, with her little daughter, Wanda Jolanda, the eldest of the family, and her twin boys, Stanislaw Piote and Wladislaw Pawel. The Countess will visit Canada in the interest of the Polish Red Cross. When Hindenburg made his Polish drive, he occupied the residence of the Countess. He kept her a prisoner in her castle, and made her wait upon him.

THE EFFECTS OF THE SUBMARINE MENACE

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, April 28.—Lord Chas. Beresford insists that the Government should reveal the whole truth regarding the submarine menace.

The British steamer Kildale, bound for Malta, has been torpedoed in the Mediterranean. The Huns fired on the helpless sailors in the open boats.

The French commission in Washington has notified President Wilson that the United States must act quickly to prevent a world famine.

GERMAN STRENGTH

(Special to The Daily News.)
Petrograd, April 28.—It is estimated here that the enemy has still 150 to 155 divisions of infantry and cavalry on the Russian front.

DANISH REPORTS

(Special to The Daily News.)
Copenhagen, April 28.—The insidious German pressure for a separate peace serves to strengthen the Russian ties to the Allies. The German Chancellor Bethman-Hollweg has displeased his Socialist friends, as he will not make the required declaration against demanding indemnities.

THE DEAD MAN ON ARISTAZABLE ISLAND

From enquiries set afoot by the Provincial Police Department it has been learned that there is every probability of the body found in a cabin on Aristazable Island being that of Pat Fenton, who has been missing since Oct. 1915.

Setting out from Hardy Bay on the 17th October, 1915, Pat Fenton, accompanied by his brother and brother-in-law, sailed for Seymour Inlet, where they arrived in due course. Pat Fenton left his relatives there, and left to return to Hardy Bay again on October 22nd, 1915, but he never arrived there, and was never seen again.

The clothing of the dead man corresponds with what Pat Fenton was known to be wearing. He also wore a gold ring, set with three rubies, and his sister's silver wrist watch on a strap. These articles being found beside the dead man, seem to confirm the connection between the two cases. The missing man's mother resides in Vancouver.

Chief Gammon has the matter in hand and further particulars will be forthcoming later.

GETS THREE YEARS FOR ASSAULT

The negro, Earl Brown, came up for sentence yesterday afternoon before Judge Young in the courthouse here. In imposing a sentence of three years imprisonment in the penitentiary, Judge Young loughed upon the gravity of the offence to which the accused had pleaded guilty.

"You have come among us as a stranger," said the judge, "and accepted the hospitality and the protection of the country, which we gave generously and unstinted. You received the same consideration as was shown to our native born citizens. You had all privileges extended to you as to our own people.

"One of our duties which lies nearest and dearest to our minds and hearts is the respect due to our womenkind, and that same respect we have insisted they shall receive from other people.

"With what knowledge I have of your race, and the conditions of the country you come from—and I am well acquainted with the laws of your country and your colored race, and I am unprejudiced—had you molested a woman there under similar circumstances, you would have suffered the extreme penalty.

"Our womenfolk are sacred to us, and must be protected from such acts as you have pleaded guilty to."

On being asked if he had anything to say, the accused asked to be given a chance. The Judge said that he could not do so, under the circumstances. "Were I to consult my own feelings, I would let you off, and every other prisoner off, but I am here to enforce the laws of the country, and have to subordinate my own wishes in all cases to the general good of the community, and in accordance with the evidence presented before me."

Sentence of three years imprisonment in the penitentiary was then passed.

GERMAN VERSION OF DEPORTATIONS

Amsterdam, April 24.—A semi-official statement issued in Berlin says the deportation of the inhabitants of the evacuated districts between Arras and Soissons in France, has been accomplished without hardships to the civilians. The statement adds:

"The transport of their belongings even delayed the transport of important war materials. For this reason it was impossible in many cases to remove felled trees, the wood of which represents important material for our war industry. The trees were cut down in order that their leaves in spring and summer might not afford cover to marching columns against our airmen.

"The male and female populace between the ages of 15 and 60 was deported. Mothers with children under 15 remained with their children. The entire population of St. Quentin was transported to the rear. As far as possible they were allowed to choose their own place of abode. Objects of value were taken in charge by the German authorities."

The latest casualty list carries the name of A. Williamson, killed at the front. Word has been received in town that this is Mr. Williamson who used to be in the road superintendent's office here, where he was very well known. Mrs. Williamson and her family of four children are at present living in Vancouver.

GERMAN DESTROYERS RAID RAMSGATE

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, April 28.—A German destroyer raiding squadron were successful in slipping through the British patrol, and appeared off Ramsgate yesterday. They shelled the town. One man and one woman were killed, and other three persons were injured. Twenty houses and two stables were damaged. The land batteries were successful in driving off the enemy vessels.

OLD TIMER LEAVING FOR THE FRONT

One of the old timers of Prince Rupert, Mr. Fred Riffou, is leaving very shortly to take his place in the ranks. He has been in this city now since away back, when there weren't any roads, and he was engaged here then in the laying of the first walks that were laid in the city. That is over eight years ago now.

Mr. Riffou has been in Prince Rupert ever since, and worked on the construction of the drydock from start to finish.

But one fine morning lately, like the well known Dolly Gray's sweetheart, something told him he was wanted at the front to fight the foe. So he has signed on, and expects to leave very soon. He hopes to get overseas very soon and is very much wanting to "take a left-hand swing at the Germans."

The many friends of Mr. Riffou will be pleased to see him back again on his return from the victorious march on the enemy.

PRINCE RUPERT TEAM HAD A FINE TIME

The members of the basketball team who went from here to play the Anyox Athletes at the beginning of the week, are back again and are telling of the splendid time given them by the good folks of Anyox. From all accounts, they sure had a fine time.

After the first game, on Monday night, a dance was given in their honor, which was a very enjoyable affair. They were taken all round the mine and the smelter, and shown everything that was to see, and on Tuesday evening they were the guests of the Company at the show. On Wednesday night again, after the second game, they were treated to a big supper, with a dance following, and all the team are enthusiastic regarding Anyox hospitality. The snow was all gone and the weather was fine, which made the visit all the more enjoyable. On the occasion of the second game, the enthusiasm ran high and nearly all the audience were wearing the Prince Rupert colors.

There is a chance that the Anyox Athletes will pay a visit to Prince Rupert on the 24th of May, and a baseball team as well as a basketball team may come down, if fixtures can be arranged.

DRYDOCKS

Recently the information came to hand that the Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works in the Dominion House, had taken up the question of building Admiralty drydocks at Esquimalt, as well as at Halifax. The matter has apparently been taken up by him with Sir Edward Carson, the First Lord of the Admiralty, and with Mr. Bonar Law, the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

"Canada," Mr. Rogers is reported to have said, "is entitled to this consideration, not only owing to the part she has played in the present war, but because of the effort of the Dominion Government to encourage shipbuilding in Canada."

The principle of having admiralty drydocks built in Canada is all right, but the application of that principle at Esquimalt would be all wrong. A comparison of Esquimalt and Prince Rupert and the suitability of each place for the location of an Admiralty station shows everything to be in favor of this northern city.

To begin with, as harbors, Prince Rupert is possessed of a harbor affording secure anchorage to the largest vessels now afloat, or everyone likely to be launched, over its whole length of fourteen miles. The whole Grand fleet could be accommodated easily. Comparatively Esquimalt is a small place. Besides this, Prince Rupert's harbor is completely landlocked, with splendid facilities for defence. This cannot be said about Esquimalt.

Then take the question of supplies for the fleet. Esquimalt is situated on an island. All material stores and supplies of every kind coming from the East would require to be handled and transhipped at Vancouver, which is costly, while at Prince Rupert, being the terminus of a transcontinental railroad, these goods would be run right into the Admiralty yard, and would only require to be handled once instead of twice.

Then again, there is the geographical positions of the two ports to be considered. Prince Rupert is a day and a half's steaming nearer the Orient than Esquimalt, which is one natural advantage, which would commend itself to the strategic naval mind.

Lord Dundonald, who at one time was military adviser in the Dominion, several years ago made a report regarding Prince Rupert's harbor as a naval base, and he could find no other place on this coast which offered as many advantages for this purpose. He, too, was an expert in naval matters, while the expertness of the Hon. "Bob" lies in another direction altogether.

In fact, the harbor of Prince Rupert bears a great resemblance to that at the latest naval base at Rosyth on the Firth of Forth in its physical features, with the advantages all in favor of Prince Rupert.

Such considerations as these of course, could hardly be expected to be taken into account by the present Government of the Dominion in their recommendations to the British Admiralty, judging by the manner in which the present Prince Rupert facilities have been ignored. It is up to the people of Prince Rupert to see that if, and when the establishment of a naval base is considered upon the Pacific coast, that it comes to the place which is most suitable for it. That place is Prince Rupert.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The elevators of another part of Canada are said to be "bursting with wheat." The great combines must be waiting for the lifting of the duty on grain seeking entrance to the United States. When that is accomplished, we suppose Canadian wheat will "lose its identity," become merged with the inferior grades produced across the line, and the price of flour will take another bound skyward. There appears to be no hope for the unfortunate consumer short of the day when peace shall be proclaimed.

Mr. Bowser has been telling his constituents in Vancouver that the session of the Legislature is proving a source of great joy to him. Well, there is no accounting for dispositions. A mere ordinary man in the position of the leader of the Opposition, with the revelations in connection with the P. G. E. inquiry confronting him, would hardly have the hardihood to face either his constituents or the Legislature.

The Germans are tenaciously defending every foot of ground against the British offensive, which was renewed yesterday north and south of the Searpe river. Obviously the retention of the positions defending the French coal fields is regarded as vital to the whole German front in northern France and Belgium. That would account for the violence of yesterday's counter attacks.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

THE HISTORY OF THE "SALVOR"

When the "Salvor" was in port the other day with the disabled "Prince Rupert," the fact that she was an old friend of Harbor Master McCroskrie came to light. For several years he was her captain and at that time she was called the S. S. Danube.

"During the time of the Klondike rush, I used to run her to Skagway," said Captain McCroskrie, "and I believe that she is one of the most wonderful old ships now afloat."

Built by Napier and Co., of Glasgow, now part of Glasgow, in 1869, the Salvor is now forty-eight years old, and yet she is a staunch vessel. She is of iron construction and her dimensions when first registered as the S. S. Danube were, length 215 feet, beam, 27 feet, 7 in., draught, 20 feet 7 in., gross tonnage, 887, registered tonnage, 561.

As the Danube she was the first vessel to pass through the Suez Canal, and she received one of the first pairs of fore and aft compound engines ever built, which are in her still. She was engaged in the Mediterranean and Eastern trade, and was considered one of the finest vessels then sailing. It was in her that the body of David Livingstone was brought home from Africa.

Then she was the first steamship chartered by the C. P. R. Co. to inaugurate their service between Vancouver and Hong Kong, preceding the Abyssinia and the Batavia. After that she was purchased by Captain John Irving for the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co., of Victoria, and under the command of Captain John Myers, took the commissioners of the sealing award to the Behring Sea.

On returning from this trip, she was engaged in the coastwise trade, running from Victoria to San Francisco, under the command of Captain McCroskrie, and later to the Naas. At the outbreak of the Klondike rush, she was transferred to the Victoria-Skagway run.

When purchased by her present owners, the British Columbia Salvage Company, Ltd., her name was changed to the Salvor and her hull reconstructed. "She is a fine model of a steamship, built on beautiful lines, and can ride out heavy seas like a duck," says Captain McCroskrie, "and barring accidents, she will be a staunch seagoing steamer for many years to come."

ARE BATHS NECESSARY?

This looks like a foolish question in this enlightened age, but there are nearly a million Americans who knew nothing of Internal Bathing a few years ago and are now eager to testify that they are fully as essential to health as External Baths.

By a purely natural process of properly using warm water, the "J. B. L. Cascade" removes ALL the poisonous waste from the Lower Intestine, which physicians agree is the cause of 95 per cent of all human ailments.

It instantly relieves constipation, properly regulates the bowels and prevents all the dragging-down which Billiousness and Liver Troubles always create.

E. W. Southall, M.D., of Genesee, N. Y., writes:—

"I challenged the doctors in this town last week in regard to what I can do with your 'Cascade'. I can say for a truth that I know the reason for my success with many serious illnesses was due to having the bowels washed out once and sometimes twice a day. I only wish I could make the people in general believe in the efficiency of a good bowel washing. Sincerely yours."

Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th street, Prince Rupert, has filled a tremendous demand for "J. B. L. Cascades" in the past few years, and will show and explain it to you on request. A free and interesting booklet on Internal Bathing, "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient" can also be obtained for the asking. If you prefer, write to Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, 163 College street, Toronto, for same.

Making a Flat World Round

When Columbus set out to reach India by sailing westward, he met with opposition and ridicule. He believed the earth to be round. Wise men held that it was flat—that Columbus was mad—and that he'd fall off somewhere if he departed from established beliefs. But Columbus' belief found him a continent and made him blessed of memory.

The Business World is flat to some men. Their profit-bearing shores of Opportunity stretch only so far as their grandfathers trod. Custom, superstition and apathy have set them confines which they may not pass. For instance, they believe the business year is a flat one—not an all-year round of trade, with East joining West, with Spring merging into Autumn—but just two distinct seasons, with sawed-off edges gaping into space. They confine their activities to a Spring trade and to a Fall trade. To them there is no intervening continent with stores of waiting wealth. Their world is flat. They have not explored the mid-year months of Summer trade. June, July and August are never-never land. Surely this conception of Summer as a "dull" season is as fallacious as the delusion that the earth was flat. People have just as much money in the hot weather and spend quite as freely as in Spring and Fall. Granted that they are not buying skates and snow shovels in August, yet they are buying staple articles. Furthermore, they have an eye on luxuries and comforts they are counting upon purchasing in the Fall.

The modern Columbus has discovered this Summer trade—this golden West lying between the known continents of old beliefs. Departing from established habit, many have made their energies and their Advertising an all-year-round proposition. Keeping up Advertising during the Summer months not only links your Spring and Fall, but produces rich harvests from the Summer months themselves.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lansden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
