

GERMAN ATTACKS MADE NO IMPRESSION

COUNTER OFFENSIVE BY THE GERMANS FAILS TO ACHIEVE ANY DECISIVE RESULT

FIERCE FIGHT IS STILL RAGING ON WESTERN FRONT

German Counter Offensive Beat Unavailing on the Allied Front—Repulsed With Great Losses.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, May 16.—Germany's counter offensive attack which started yesterday with concerted attacks against the British and French fronts has apparently worn itself out today in vain beating against the Allied positions. The British forces are steadily gaining ground at Bullecourt and to the north of the Scarpe river. Fighting is continued with unabated violence.

At Roeux.
Attack after attack was made on the positions of the British at Roeux. Furious infantry attacks were made in a succession of waves. The impetus of the enemy attack carried their first line over the British trenches, but the artillery and machine gun fire withered the supports, who were unable to come to the assistance of the first line of attackers. The British troops stuck to their positions and the first line of the attackers were either killed or made prisoners. The losses inflicted on the Germans were enormous. The British line held and further ground was captured.

French Front.
In the Aisne region, the enemy made a temporary gain in the French advanced trenches, but were speedily ejected. Attacks of a furious nature on a wide front were made by the enemy, but were all repulsed with great loss.

Italian Front.
Rome, May 17.—The Italian advance grows greater. Guns are roaring along a twenty-five-mile front. The guns of heavy calibre are doing very effective work. The infantry are advancing. The Austrians are putting up a stubborn resistance, and the fighting is growing more bitter.

THE SETTLEMENT OF IRISH HOME RULE

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, May 17.—The London Times has made a forecast of the terms of settlement of the Home Rule for Ireland Bill. First, will be the immediate establishment of an Irish Parliament in Dublin. Second, the exclusion of the Northeast of Ulster by a clean cut. Third, the formation of a grand council, consisting of an equal proportion of members of the Dublin Parliament, and the six counties of Ulster to transact all common business between the excluded areas and the rest of Ireland. This grand council will have power to direct any enactment of the Dublin Parliament that shall apply to the excluded area.

MINING NOTES

In Howson Basin, 28 miles from Telkwa, Messrs. Jefferson and Dockrill are operating the Santa Maria group under bond and expected to ship between 300 and 400 tons of ore this winter. The vein is 4 feet wide and development work consists of stripping over a length of 250 feet and shaft sunk 38 feet. The vein consists of stringers carrying chalcopryite or copper glance, with sulphides of copper and iron. A sample from the dump gave values of: Gold, trace; silver, 13.2 ozs. per ton; copper, 21.7 per cent.

Messrs. Jefferson and Dockrill have also under bond the Duchess group, formerly held by the Telkwa Mines Co., and one of the first locations in the camp. The ore is low grade, occurring in dykes, and values run from 1 per cent. to 5 per cent. copper. Development consists of two tunnels, one of which is 400 feet long, well mineralized for a length of 90 feet with ore stated to average 4 per cent. copper.

The Bush group, the property of the Cassiar-Crown Copper Co., has been bonded to Messrs. Anderson and Trimble, of Portland, Ore. The showing is described as promising. Development consists of a shaft 5 feet deep and tunnel driven 100 feet. A sample assayed: Gold, trace; silver, 2.6 ozs. per ton; copper, 2.5 per cent. The property is equipped with a compressor. The property is within four miles of the railway.

The Babine-Bonanza Mining & Milling Co., organized by James Cronin, has done considerable development work for the past ten years on its holdings in the Babine Range and the company would be shipping ore if it had transportation facilities. A tunnel has been run 173 feet to a point where it cross-cut No. 2 shaft vein, in which drifting was subsequently done. Near the portal it cross-cut 25 feet of good ore. One hundred feet lower down the mountain side another tunnel was run to develop this ore on its dip, but failed to encounter it. An intermediate tunnel was begun to locate the exact angle of dip, and also struck good ore of milling grade. The deposit is of contact type. There is a large surface showing of ore, the cap rock having been eroded, leaving the vein exposed over a considerable area. A second vein on the other side of the hill also promises well. The transportation point will be Telkwa, a distance of thirty miles from the mine. The ore is silver-lead-zinc.

CHANCELLOR MAKES BOMBASTIC SPEECH

(Special to The Daily News.)
Berlin, May 17.—The Chancellor, Bethmann-Hollweg, declines to discuss German war aims. In the long awaited speech which was bombastic from first to last, he told the Reichstag that peace terms were difficult to name. The interests of the nation demand strict silence. The chancellor could not spring the desires of the Fatherland until the moment was ripe.

London, May 17.—The formal admission that Germany was angling officially for a separate peace with Russia was the main point of Hollweg's speech that struck the British press and the public. Otherwise the address is regarded as a mere recapitulation of the previous outlines of Germany's aims, but an outline which may possibly arouse German Socialists to drastic action.

HAIR SEALS KILLED BY POWDER BLAST

New Westminster, May 16.—Approximately 200 hair seals which have been destroying salmon in the Fraser River were killed early one morning when the Dominion Fisheries Department officials exploded 200 pounds of dynamite and other explosives on a sandbar at the Standheads at the mouth of the Fraser River. Mr. J. McHugh, resident engineer of Dominion fisheries, had charge of the work, assisted by Mr. F. H. Cunningham, chief inspector, and Mr. A. P. Halladay, his assistant. A sandbar was selected where the seals had been accustomed to sun themselves. The bar was mined and when the seals congregated thickly as the tide receded the whole bar was blown up by connecting an electric current leading to the mines. The experiment proved successful that the scheme will probably be largely used. Seals in the Fraser River each year destroy thousands of dollars' worth of salmon.

INSTEAD OF FIGHTING THEY PLAY POLITICS

(Special to The Daily News.)
Petrograd, May 18.—The Provisional Government has decided today to reject the terms under which the Soldiers and Workmen's Council proffered coalition in the new Government. The council's insistence on certain matters of foreign policy was a demand which the leaders of the Duma refused to approve. The Provisional Government could not renounce the principles announced formally on April 9th, which renunciation was practically made necessary by the full acceptance of the council's terms. This decision leaves the Russian situation once again wide open. Tertschenska, who was formerly minister of finance, will succeed Miliukoff as foreign minister. Kerensky, minister of justice, will succeed Gutchkoff.

IN THE LETTER BOX

Dear Mr. Editor:—A few days ago I had occasion, in order to make clear what American fishermen have had to contend with in this town, to repeat what American captains have told me in regard to the conduct of an acting official on the water front. Now comes one, "Ignoramus," who, for some reason fails to sign his name, and, with an attempt at sarcasm, offers to criticise my action. I still think the reference as made was necessary on the theory that publicity is the best way for any kind of official wrong-doing. But I will say to "Ignoramus" that before the reference was made the case of the acting official had been regularly taken up through the proper official channels and decided; though the acting official had not made the amends he had been directed to make. I will say further that if "Ignoramus" insists on full particulars in regard to this matter, let me assure him he is digging a pit for his friend.

Let me conclude by saying that if "Ignoramus" or any other honest man will call at my office I will lay before him such evidence as will convince him that the people of Prince Rupert ought to take a lively interest in the activities of the acting official on the water front.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your courtesy in giving me space in your valuable paper, I remain,
Very respectfully yours,
GEO. M. HANSON.

SIR GEORGE FOSTER ON SHIP CONTRACTS

In a discussion in the Dominion House the other day upon the necessity for the building of ships Mr. J. H. Sinclair, of Guysboro, emphasized the necessity of making up the big losses to shipping which have been inflicted by the German submarines. "The Canadians," he said, "are a maritime people, and if it is decided to revive the construction of wooden ships, the government should give the lead. The building of ships was even of more importance at the present time than the production of munitions. A little courage and an administrative capacity were the chief things required.

Mr. J. J. Hughes, of Prince Edward Island, suggested that the Government give a bonus of $20 a ton for shipbuilding and that ten millions be voted for that purpose. This would be much wiser than the Highways Act.

Sir George Foster in replying, stated among other things, that "today, every shipyard in the Dominion of Canada which is able to build ships, has not only the opportunity, but the actual contracts." Continuing, Sir George said that any company which would undertake to build wooden ships in Canada would get the contract. All costs would be paid and a reasonable profit guaranteed.

QUADRA TO BURN OIL

For the purpose of having her coalburning system changed to handle fuel oil, the steamer Quadra, formerly a government lighthouse tender but now owned by a Howe Sound mining concern, is at Vancouver. The alterations will be made by the North Shore Iron Works. The vessel has been engaged in the ore-carrying trade since being sold some few months ago, and her owners came to the conclusion that she can be operated more cheaply by burning oil.

CONGRESS MAY SPEED UP SOON

(Special to The Daily News.)
Washington, May 17.—President Wilson urges Congress to speed up legislation. Action, not talk, is wanted. The President impresses the necessity for action, which is imperative. UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT ON FOURTH AVENUE

About midday yesterday, an occurrence of a very unfortunate nature happened, near the new building now in course of construction upon the hill on Fourth Avenue. The two little sons of Mr. D. G. Stewart were playing near their own house on a pile of lumber to be used for the new building which was lying on the street. When on the top of the pile, it suddenly fell over.

One of the boys, being at the end, escaped with severe bruises, but the other, Jimmie, aged five, was on the middle and he was thrown on to the muskeg, with the lumber on top of him. Both of the little fellow's legs are broken, one near the thigh and the other between the knee and ankle.

His head also appeared to be badly hurt. He was immediately taken home and the doctor called. The little fellow, it is expected, will be taken to the hospital today.

THE DRAYTON-ACWORTH REPORT

There are some aspects of the report on the Canadian railway situation that tend to discredit the conclusions reached by Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. W. M. Acworth, the Mintreil Daily Mail states. "The arrangement of the Grand Trunk Railway Co. is couched in terms of undue severity, while little or nothing is said about the position of the C. P. R., except that it should not be disturbed."

"It is difficult to follow a line of reasoning which demands the nationalization of the Grand Trunk, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Railway Co., without weighing the pros and cons of the inclusion of the C. P. R. in the nationalization programme. Let us accept the argument that the difficulties of the Grand Trunk, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Railroads can best be solved by the Government taking possession of them. The question at once arises, why not take the C. P. R. with them and to what extent will the exclusion of the C. P. R. from the large scheme of public ownership recommended by the Commission militate against its success. It is indeed extraordinary that Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. Acworth, who so easily reach the conclusion that all other roads shall be nationalized do not see fit to deal with the great danger involved in leaving a powerful company owned road to compete with the government owned system. Yet that is a very real and substantial danger. If a large measure of government ownership is necessary, it can be successfully carried out only by the absolute elimination of company owned railroads."

"We know what an influence the railways have been in the public life of the country. We know of their tremendous contributions to party campaign funds, of their parliamentary lobbies, and of their activity in elections. What will happen with the C. P. R. placed in competition with a powerful state owned system? Will it not make the C. P. R. a still more active influence in political affairs affecting alike the interests of the state owned railway and the general interests of the country?"

Only a few days ago the Toronto Globe gave expression to the same fear when discussing the possibility of a great railway merger under Government auspices; it said:

"But it would be an impossible proposition to operate such a system in competition with the Canadian Pacific as a private highway. The influence of gigantic corporations is too strong in comparison with the resistance of Governments. No evil or danger of Governmental operation would equal the menace of the powerful company seeking favors and seeking encroachments on the Governmental system already in operation."

This argument assuredly carries some weight and it is difficult to understand why it has been entirely ignored by Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. Acworth, who in their consideration of other features of the railway situation are so candid and so thorough. The outstanding weakness in the recommendation of the majority members of the commission is their failure to show, or even attempt to show how public ownership of the Grand Trunk, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern lines can succeed in competition with a powerful company owned road like the C. P. R.

Public ownership of railways in a country with Canada's political standards is difficult enough, under the most favorable circumstances. How is it to succeed with the fire of company competition left in its rear? That is a question that a good many students of our railway situation have asked themselves, and it is to be regretted that Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. Acworth have not deemed it worthy of consideration. They assume that a government owned system can be safely entrusted to a self-perpetuating commission, a somewhat fantastic proposal, but while means may be found to minimize political influence in the conduct of the government owned system, no amount of precaution can limit the political activities of the company owned system with which the government roads are in competition.

Giving Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. Acworth the fullest credit for honesty of purpose the conclusion can scarcely be resisted that they have not counted the cost of attempting to run a great national owned system in competition with a great company owned system. If such a thing is to be seriously contemplated, a lot of preparatory work must be done. There must be publicity of campaign funds. There must be absolute elimination of railway influence from the boards of our chartered banks. If the government is prepared to consider these and other precautionary measures, it is conceivable that they may look upon the conclusions of Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. Acworth with favor but not otherwise.

It is indeed doubtful is the most elaborate precautionary measures can circumvent the pernicious influences that would go hand in hand with competition between a state owned system and the C. P. R. The simple solution of the situation if the ills of the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Northern are incurable is to nationalize the entire Railway system of Canada. And why not? If Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. Acworth are so positive that they have devised a scheme of administering a government owned railway system free from political influence, why should the charm of their discovery baulk at administering the C. P. R. lines with the rest? Why should the Government take over the non-paying lines and leave the paying one to private interests? To take over the C. P. R. on the basis of the proposed acquisition of the Grand Trunk would not cost an additional dollar. The Government would guarantee average dividends to C. P. R. shareholders in precisely the same way it proposed to guarantee the shareholders of the Grand Trunk. And there would be the profits on the paying system to help meet the deficits on the losing roads.

Disappointment must be confessed with the Drayton-Ac-worth report. There is in it a sort of veiled assumption that taking over the C. P. R. would be like "firing on the guards." Yet no good reason is given for not doing so, and no discussion whatever of the peril of trying to operate a great government owned system with a powerful private corporation arrayed against it.

THE INCREASE IN THE PRICE OF DRUGS

Compared with the rise in the cost of foodstuffs the war-time increase in the prices of drugs has been enormous, and there are no signs that the upward movement in values has come to a stop. In fact, almost every day drugs are becoming dearer. For our supply of medicinal substances we always have been and always shall be dependent to a very large extent on oversea sources. Many of the most important vegetable drugs cannot be grown—at any rate economically—on our soil and in our climate, and although we may look forward to a future when practically every item of materia medica will be produced within the Empire, the fact remains that whenever oversea communications are dislocated our supplies will be curtailed. Such commonly used drugs as sarsaparilla, storax, myrrh, guaiacum, coca leaves, juniper berries, liquorice root, valerian, and many others are extremely scarce, and in some cases there is a possibility that except for small quantities in chemists' shops here and there, certain drugs will before long be unobtainable. Fortunately we can do very well without many of them, for if one remedy for rheumatism, say, becomes extinct, there will always be an adequate supply of a drug having an almost parallel effect. The few drugs that will probably become cheaper in war time include aspirin, salicylate of soda, and phenacetin, which are now being produced on a considerable commercial scale in this country. Lanoline is another product that is now being produced here, and the price of which is declining in consequence. The effect of the great advances in the prices of honey, lard, and olive oil is also felt very seriously by the manufacturing druggists, for these common commodities of commerce are used in many medicinal compounds, which are dearer in consequence. Thus honey is used in cough medicines, lard in ointments, and olive oil in plasters.—Glasgow Herald.

Bathe Internally

Over 50,000 People Are Now Doing So.

For many years physicians have agreed that the vast majority of human ills were caused by accumulated waste in the Lower Intestine; that in our present way of living Nature could not remove all this waste without assistance, no matter how regular we might be, and that the poisons from this waste circulating through the blood pulled us away down below par and were responsible for many diseases of a serious nature.

During this time the "J. B. L. Cascade" for Internal Bathing has, because of their recommendation and those of its users, been steadily growing in favor.

Recently, however, the startling news which has been covering this country, that great surgeons and specialists have been operating on the Lower Intestine for the most chronic and serious diseases, has caused Americans to become thoroughly awake to the importance of keeping this Lower Intestine free from all poisonous waste matter, and over 500,000 are now using Internal Baths.

If you try the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable—the poisoned waste makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal Baths are Nature's own cure for Constipation—just warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

Call and see it at Cyril H. Orme's, Druggist, Corner 3rd Ave. and 6th St., or ask there for "Why Man of Today is Only 50 per cent Efficient," a booklet of great interest, which is given free on request. If you prefer, write for Booklet to Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, 163 College street, Toronto.
