PRICE FIVE CENTS

ELECTRICITY FOR DOMESTIC PURPOSES

At the meeting of the city council held last night, it was moved by Ald. McRae, and seconded by Ald. Casey that a committee of three be appointed to review the rates charged for electricity and to report to the council.

Ald. McRae, in speaking on the motion, said that in comparison with the rates charged at other places, those here were fairly high. With a reduction in the rates more people would use electricity for heating and cooking and thus more revenue would be derived from power now being wasted. The hospital and only three private dwellings used electric cookers as distinct from toasters, irons, etc. Figures were quoted of the cities of Winnipeg, Edmonton and Seattle showing their domestic rate to be very much smaller. Winnipeg derives a revenue of $35,000 a year from this source alone.

With the popularising through cheaper rates of electricity for heating and cooking, Ald. McRae was of the opinion that very many more consumers in the city would be got, and an important source of revenue would thus be tapped. "The committee might also take into consideration," continued Ald. McRae, "the establishing of rates for cold storages, sawmills, and other institutions which may come into Prince Rupert requiring power, so that such rates might be given at once, without having to call a special meeting of the council to ratify one every time.

There was quite a little discussion on the question by many of the aldermen, and what in more belligerent hands might have developed into quite a breeze between the mayor and alderman McRae, subsided into a gentle zephyr. Finally, the matter was referred to a "select committee," consisting of the regular public utility committee and Alderman McRae to investigate the rates of electricity and report.

DESPERATE FIGHTING ON THE FRENCH FRONT

Paris, May 29.—The fighting which has been in progress during the past week has only been incidentally mentioned. In reality it has been a bitterly contested and stubbornly fought battle and has so far been in favor of the French troops. It is expected that the outcome of the fighting in this region will mean the retreat of the Germans to the line of the Meuse.

WITH THE FRENCH ON TWESTERN FRONT.—Chauny, a flourishing city of 30,000 inhabitants before the war, stands now as a chef d'oeuvre or masterpiece of kultur. Before retreating, the Huns destroyed it entirely, leaving nothing but ruins. The photo shows Place D'Hotel de Ville.

THE CITY COUNCIL AND WATERFRONT

At the city council meeting last night, two letters were read from the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, regarding the acquisition of waterfront lots desired by the city. The first letter acknowledged receipt of the communication of the city clerk dated May 6, covering the resolution passed by the council. "But," added the minister, "I have heard no argument from your council, and do not consider the expression of a desire is necessarily an argument."

The second letter acknowledged receipt of the second resolution enclosed with the city clerk's letter of the 15th inst., wherein the Hon. Mr. Pattullo referred to his suggestion of the utilization of the government wharf for civic purposes. Mr. Pattullo recommended that the whole matter of waterfront be left in abeyance until he came north, which he hoped to do sometime in June.

The correspondence was filed.

GERMANY MAY MAKE WAR ON BRAZIL

Rio de Janeiro, May 29.—In German circles here it is declared that Germany will declare war on Brazil within the next few days. The bill for the revocation of the declaration of neutrality is now before the House. Notwithstanding the threats made by Germany through her unofficial agencies, the Brazilian Government will not resign from the position they have taken.

RETURNED SOLDIERS BREAK UP MEETING

Kitchener, Ont., May 29.—At a Socialist meeting held in Kitchener last night, strong opposition was raised to conscription. Strong speeches were made by several speakers, but before the meeting came to its end as arranged, it was broken up by the returned soldiers.

CIVIC COMMITTEES HAVE BEEN APPOINTED

At the meeting of the city council held last evening, the aldermen were appointed to the several committees as follows:—

On the finance committee, Aldermen Nelson, Smith and McRae. On the public utilities committee, Aldermen Dybhavn, McMeekin and Casey.

THE WATER SUPPLY FOR INDUSTRIES

The matter of putting in a water supply to Cow Bay was discussed at the council meeting last evening. It was estimated that 700 feet of pipe would be required, the whole costing about $250. In view of the probable development of the waterfront near Cow Bay in the near future, the suggestion was made that it might be better to instal a permanent and larger supply. The public utilities committee will report on the matter.

The water supply for the new sawmill at Seal Cove was also brought up and the report of the superintendent of utilities as to ways and means was read. After some discussion, this matter was also referred to the public utilities committee.

WATER POWER FOR THE CITY

The question of securing an engineer to examine some more of the water power around the country with the view of developing further hydro-electric units, was brought up at the council meeting last night by Ald. Casey. "We are coming to the point now," said he alderman, "where the city will be compelled to step out and get more power." With the possibility of new industries coming in demanding power, the city has got to be in a position to supply such, and the matter would require to be gone into right away.

The mayor explained that certain negotiations were pending, and that the matter would be brought up soon.

REPORT ON THE CITY'S HYDRO-ELECTRIC SYSTEM

At the council meeting last night a report of the superintendent of utilities to His Worship the Mayor was read. The superintendent's report stated that Mr. Muirhead, who is the government inspector, had been in the city for some days past inspecting the hydro-electric system and the steam plant. Mr. Muirhead suggested several improvements which had better be made in the interests of safety. These referred to the lighting arrestors, the grounding of certain wires and the rearrangement of switch boards, and the fencing in of other things.

The matter was referred to the public utility committee for their report.

WHAT VON BISSING SAID OF BELGIUM

London, May 29.—A memorandum written by the late General von Bissing, German Governor-General in Belgium, which, it is assumed, was prepared for submission to Kaiser Wilhelm, represents the possibility of a reconciliation between Germany and Belgium as illusory, and urges the absolute necessity of the annexation of Belgium as a preparation for another war against Great Britain.

The memorandum declares that no treaty guarantees, however strong, would prevent Belgium from being swept into the enemy camp, and that therefore Belgium must be conquered, the Belgian dynasty abolished and the country held with an iron hand so as not to repeat the mistakes made in Alsace-Lorraine and in German Poland in attempts at conciliation.

Pointing out how the province of Limburg, in Southeast Holland, is a thorn in the side of the present German war operations, the memorandum contends that the same would happen with a neutralized Belgium, and that the advantages Germany gained would accrue to her enemies in the next war by their possession of the whole of Belgium.

RIVER MONITORS USED BY THE FRENCH

Paris, May 28.—In the Mount Carnillet sector in the Champagne country, steel clad canal and river monitors are effectively aiding the French advance. The little vessels have participated in the bombardments with much success, as they did in the battle of the Somme last fall.

In the section where they are used, the monitors can disappear into bomb-proof shelters built alongside the waterways they utilize, thus giving them the advantage of veritable river submarines.

THE CITY AUDITSHIP

At the council meeting last evening an application was read from Mr. Hodges regarding the position of auditor for the year 1917, for a consideration of $1,000.

The matter was referred to the finance committee for report.

BATTLE STORIES FROM THE WESTERN FRONT

On wounded Canadians returning to Blighty for recuperation, one can always rely for interesting descriptions of events at the front. They have the trans-Atlantic admiration for good business organization and methods and, consequently, the success of the later British tactics on the western front is a source of gratification to them. They are full of praise for the excellent work of the staff and for the precise working of the technical branches; but at the same time, many of them speak with regret of the scarcity of satisfactory bayonet fighting.

A quaint new name for the Boche is often used by the Canadians. They call the enemy "Heineys" (the spelling is that given by a Canadian private) and one can imagine that it is a colloquial rendering of "Heine." With the Canadians it has almost displaced "Boche", "Hun" and, to a certain extent, "Fritz," though the latter is often used.

A Canadian foot-soldier who had also been on the Somme, gave an account of the fighting in which he was wounded. He first of all had the usual description of our artillery fire, and declared that the preparation for the attack was perfect. "The Somme," he said, "showed us some things, and we learned from them all right. We went over the top at 5:30 in the morning. We walked up behind the barrage at a funeral march—that was the difficult part of the job, not to get too eager and run under our own fire.

No Chance for Bayonets.
"The Heineys gave us no chance to use our bayonets and we just walked over what was left of their trenches. When we got up against the ridge past the third line we came under very heavy machine gun fire. There was one machine gun in front of my section and we walked right up to it, firing from the hip. We got it all right, and one of our sergeants who'd been a machine gunner, turned it round and used it on the Heineys running down the hill.

"Down below us was a village—a bunch of old houses with red roofs. There seemed to be a mob of snipers in the houses and they got five of our men. We sent out a patrol then, about thirty men, and they collared a mob of prisoners—something like fifty. The shelling from Fritz wasn't very much good—too scattered—but a good-sized splinter got me in the head, and I had to come back to the dressing station."

"I'm willing to bet we had the Heineys wondering for days before the attack. We gave them a hell of a time with raids and that kind of thing. Two Fritzes came over and gave themselves up to my company the night before the attack began."

Wanted the Bell.

On the same subject of raids before the day of the attack, a Scottish Canadian spoke of one in the daylight of Sunday afternoon, the 8th. They had spotted a German sentry in a sap, and were told to get him. "We went a long way round, but he must have heard us splashing through the mud for he beat it down a dug-out. When we got up to the sap, we found he had a little dinner-bell hanging to a wire. He was supposed to ring it when a raid started. But he was an oldish guy with glasses and he didn't think there was time to do it. I wanted to get that bell as a souvenir, but my corporal wouldn't let me touch it in case we rung it

RUSSIA WILL FIGHT TILL GERMANY IS BEATEN

Paris, May 29.—Jules Cambon, the French Foreign Secretary, discussing the assurances from the Russian Foreign minister received by the French Government, in a great speech in the Chamber said:

"The dispatch is notable for the enthusiasm with which it forecasts Russia's immediate resumption of military activities and her pursuit of the war, until Germany is completely defeated. There were fears that the revolutionary element, under German influence, might get the upper hand and seek to make Russia arrange a separate peace, and disown the alliance.

"Fortunately, however, this has come to naught, as M. Tereschenko has indicated that Russia, while repudiating the traditional policy of Peter the Great and of the Empress Catherine for unlimited conquests, conceives that victory of the liberalists in Russia is possible only by a complete victory over Germany."

HANDLING OF FISH TRAFFIC DISCUSSED

At the council meeting last night, the question of the supply of refrigerator cars to take care of the arrivals of fish in the port was brought up. There were not enough cars in the city yesterday to load the fish that arrived, and the four companies requiring cars had to draw lots for the two that were available.

The reason of course explained were the usual ones, the war, the fruit traffic, and so on, and the Great Northern handling its own traffic before it thought of the G. T. P., which, of course, everyone had heard before. Ald. Montgomery, however, had come to the conclusion that the real reason was the mismanagement of the G. T. P. It was enquired whether it were not possible for other cars to be converted into refrigerators to take care of the fish traffic in times of emergency, such as this, and the whole matter was discussed pro and con very fully.

The consensus of opinion was that enough was not being done to foster the city's chief industry. With a view of solving the problem, an enquiry was made of the mayor. "Would it be in order, Mr. Mayor," asked Ald. Casey, "to move that all the G. T. P. officials be fired?" On receiving the decision on this momentous question, the council adjourned.

when cutting it loose. There wasn't another soul in the front line. They were all down their dug-outs.

"The front line was in good shape then. That night we went out and dug in fifty yards off Fritz's line, but when we went over to take it after our barrage, it had gone. The next three were the same, and so were two big communication trenches which were said to be the best constructed in the front. We came under a rather dirty machine gun barrage after that third line and that's where I got my Blighty one. I didn't see any more fighting, but I heard our chaps did very good work."

WHO SAID "CONSCRIPTION?"

The Victoria Colonist says "the silence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier on conscription is having a disquieting effect" and in the course of a long article expresses anxiety over the attitude of the Liberal party on the matter. The Colonist is taken to task over this matter by the Times, which says that in view of the fact that the compulsory service measure has not been introduced in parliament and that not a solitary member on either side, with the exception of the Prime Minister, has expressed an opinion either one way or the other, it is impossible to credit our contemporary with sincerity. Its observations suggest, therefore, an attempt to import peanut party politics into the discussion.

Will the Colonist enlighten us, asks the Times, as to the attitude of Sir George Foster, Sir Thomas White, Hon. Mr. Doherty, Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. Martin Burrell, Hon. Thomas Crothers, Hon. Robert Rogers, Hon. F. Cochrane, and, particularly, the three Nationalist members? And what is Hon. Arthur Meighen's very latest opinion? Is not the silence of all these ministers having a disquieting effect, too? Is our contemporary even sure about Sir Robert Borden in spite of the announcement a few days ago? We have before us a declaration of the Prime Minister not long ago that conscription never would be applied to Canada. Mr. Bennett, Chairman of the National Service Board, said conscription was not to be thought of because it would produce a revolution. Our contemporary says says it is of vital importance to know what is to be the attitude of the Liberal party on conscription. Well, what is to be the attitude of the Conservative party? One has said as much as the other. Even the twenty followers of Henri Bourassa who sit behind Sir Robert Borden have said nothing.

But The Colonist has not even announced its own attitude on the subject—that subject being the measure Sir Robert Borden says is going to be brought down. It may not be able to support the legislation when it does come down. The measure may be one of those weak, hesitant expedients not substantially more adequate than the National Service side-step or the issue-dodging Home Defence mobilization. It may have about as much effect upon the situation as Mr. Crothers's celebrated order-in-council had upon the cost of living question or Sir Thomas White's powder-puff touch has upon the enormous super-profits of the war profiteers. Is our contemporary going to support, as a matter of course, anything labelled conscription, no matter whether it conscripts or not, merely because the party tag happens to stick to it? Or, fearing with its friends that the Liberal party will support the bill, is it trying to put itself in a position to say, "Yah, you wouldn't have done it if we hadn't skinned you into it." As to that we need only say that The Globe of Toronto was the first newspaper in Canada to demand the application of the principle of compulsion—and that was at a time when Sir Robert Borden and R. B. Bennett were announcing from public platforms from ocean to ocean that there would not be conscription in Canada. Really, however, we should like to know what is to be the attitude of the Conservative party towards the question. "Its silence is having a very disquieting effect."

NOTES AND COMMENTS

It is just a little bit curious that so much attention of a negative kind should be paid to the G. T. P. First, their plant here, which might have been utilized in the making of munitions of some sort, has been kept idle since the beginning of the war, which leads to wonder as to what the Minister of Munitions in Great Britain would think, if he had anything to do with it; second it is the G. T. P. which is to be nationalized, but not the C. P. R., and when track is wanted for the front, it is the G. T. P. track that is to be lifted. Why the G. T. P. track?

The statement has been made in the Reichstag that unless Germany can collect large indemnities she is ruined. Even if the Kaiser's highly efficient staff of intriguers should succeed in de-

This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends."

QUICK REPAIRS TO S.S. PRINCE RUPERT

Repairs to the Grand Trunk Pacific steamship Prince Rupert are proceeding apace, and it is expected that the big three-stacker will be ready to resume her place in the northern service within a month's time. All the damaged and bent frames have been repaired and straightened out and the work of repairing the hull plates is now well under way.

In view of the serious nature of the injuries sustained when she struck on the reefs at Genu Island it was at first anticipated that the contract would take about three months to complete. Such good progress has been made, however, that Yarrows, Ltd., are figuring on the work being done within two months from start on contract. Should the present rate of progress be maintained the Prince Rupert will be out of the Esquimalt drydock by June 20th.

Immediately she is turned over to her owners the Prince Rupert will be put on a schedule between Victoria, Vancouver, Prince Rupert and Alaska ports. It was the intention of the G. T. P. company to inaugurate its Alaska tourist service about the middle of June, and if the Prince Rupert is turned over as expected the original plan will be adhered to as closely as possible. The Prince Rupert, operating in conjunction with the steamship Prince George, will be operated on a fast schedule to Alaska throughout the remainder of the summer.

The amount of tourist travel to Alaska this summer is expected to eclipse all former records. Every effort is being made to get the Prince Rupert out of the contractors hands at the earliest opportunity as the company is desirous of having its regular schedule established by the time the rush north begins. The Prince George and Prince Rupert will be operated to Alaska on the same schedule as prevailed last season. There will be semi-weekly sailings north, the Monday boat taking the trip to Skagway and other Alaska ports, while the mid-week boat will proceed as far north as Prince Rupert and Anxox. The two three-stackers will alternate in the service, the mid-week steamer to Anxox returning here in time to take the Monday sailing to Alaska.

FRANK OLIVER URGES REVISION OF TARIFF

Ottawa, May 28.—When the second reading of the budget resolution was taken up in the House of Commons last week, the Hon. Frank Oliver said that the important question was whether the people of the country were going to be able to carry the present and future burdens of taxation. Immense revenues were being raised because of the abnormal conditions which prevail. If the great basic industries, such as agriculture, fishing and lumbering, were being dwarfed by the present method of financing, some change should be brought about. Too much revenue was being raised from the customs, and not enough from excess profits.

Excess Profits.

Too much revenue was being raised from the customs, and not enough from excess profits. Only 6 1/2% had been raised in the latter way. This was not equitable. Speaking of Western Canada, Mr. Oliver said that production had been retarded by the present high tariff. Speculation had advanced the wheat in dealers' hands by $70,000,000. Not a dollar of this money went to the farmers. An undue burden was thus being placed both upon the producer and the consumer. This condition had been brought about by manipulation of prices, the refusal of the railways to do their part, and the failure of the Government to correct the situation.

Believing that the tariff policy which the country is pursuing would ultimately lead to ruin, Mr. Oliver proposed to move:

On Free List.

That flour, wheat and its products be placed on the free list. That farm implements and machinery, farm tractors, mining, flourmill and sawmill machinery and their parts, rough as well as partly dressed lumber, light and lubricating, as well as fuel oils, and fertilizer be placed on the free list.

That staple food and animal products be permitted free entry from any country, which grants similar free entry to Canadian products.

That there be a general reduction on the tariff on all articles except luxuries.

That the British preference be increased by 50 per cent. Many speeches in favor of Mr. Oliver's proposals were made, chiefly by members for western constituencies, before the debate was adjourned. The House will divide on it this week.

Internal Bathing's Rapid Growth

It is but natural to expect that a relief from Constipation and the many ills which it causes, which is so effectual and so natural as Internal Bathing, should quickly make many converts.

But its general use has increased so tremendously in the past few years as to suggest other reasons, and these are found in the statement of users that they feel as if "made over new" the morning after an Internal Bath.

The elimination of the pernicious and poisonous waste which is ever present in the Lower Intestine gives Nature a chance to work unhampered. And one arises in the morning clear-headed, able, bright, confident and eager for the day's duties.

Mr. F. E. Smith writes—

"Dear Doctor,—Your 'Cascade' made a new man of me at the age of 49. I persuaded my wife to use the treatment also, and today she has better health than ever before. Since the use of the 'Cascade' she sleeps better and can walk for hours without fatigue. Fainting spells have become a condition of the past; can eat anything on the bill of fare and drink all beverages. Does not take cold when exposed; hot weather does not cause oppression."

The "J. B. L. Cascade," the most efficient device for Internal Bathing, is being shown and explained in detail by Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th Street, Prince Rupert.
