IMPORTANT SUCCESS GAINED BY ITALIANS

DRIVE AROUND VERDUN AND MASS FIGHTING IS RESUMED BY FRENCH TROOPS

GENERAL CADORNA STRIKES AUSTRIANS AT ANOTHER POINT

ITALIAN TROOPS CAPTURE A VERY STRONGLY FORTIFIED POSITION AND HOLD IT AGAINST ALL ATTACKS SUCCESSFULLY AND EXTEND THEIR LINES

(Special to The Daily News.)

Rome, May 31.—Yesterday General Cadorna shifted the impact of the Italian drive against Austria to a point to the north of Gorizia and a strong blow was struck against a new salient. A tremendously strong Austrian position was captured and was successfully held against all counter attacks by the enemy. The Italian lines were extended to the west of Medezza. Fighting of a furious character is still in progress, and the Austrians are opposing the victorious advance of the Italians with the strength of despair. Reinforcements have been hurriedly drawn from all quarters to attempt to stem the irresistible onward sweep of the Italian armies, but the Austrians, notwithstanding their augmented numbers, are unable to stand up against the spirit of the Italian progress.

Heavy artillery has been brought up for the renewal of the assault along the coast line, where Duino and Trieste are immediately threatened.

British Front.

London, May 31.—British raiders have penetrated into the German trenches to the south of Neuve Chapelle and inflicted many casualties on the enemy. In the neighborhood of Croiselles and to the west of Lens hostile raiders were repulsed. No major fighting has been reported.

French Front.

Paris, May 31.—A resumption of fighting has taken place with fairly active mass fighting over many sectors on the French front. German assaults have been repulsed in the Champagne country and the French drive around Verdun is continuing successfully. To the south of St. Quentin, violent artillery fighting is in progress.

War Losses.

Sydney, N. S. W., May 31.—Since the beginning of the war up to yesterday, the Australian losses aggregate 60,793.

RUMORS OF COALITION RIFE AT OTTAWA

(Special to The Daily News.)

Ottawa, May 31.—Coalition may be decided on. A conference between the partyleaders yesterday lends color to the rumor that union is in sight. There is no other foundation for such rumors as a discreet silence has been maintained by both parties as to their attitude.

HONOR UPHOLDS RUSSIA FREED

Petrograd, May 29.—M. Tereschenko, the minister of justice, in explaining his program of foreign policy to journalists, said: "Free Russia is impelled by two idealistic motives: firstly, to bring a just and lasting peace to the world—not to offend a single nation, not to create after the war the hatred and enmity which always remain when one nation emerges from the war enriched at the expense of the other, when the other is crushed and forced to accept humiliating terms of peace; secondly, the recognition of the ties binding us to the allied democracies and realization of the duty which these ties involve. Revolutionary Russia cannot and will not let these ties, which have been confirmed in blood, be shaken. For Russia this is a question of revolutionary honor."

Publish Secret Treaties?

Referring to the demand of Russian democracy that secret treaties should be published immediately, Tereschenko said this is impossible as it would lead to a break with our allies, but he would exert every effort to direct the foreign policy in such a way that immediate steps might be taken towards the making of a new treaty with the allies on the basis of the declaration of the Russian Government of April 9, "But for these negotiations to succeed," he went on, "free Russia must show she is carrying out truly the fundamental obligation binding her to the allies, an obligation of united effort and mutual assistance. She must inspire unlimited confidence in herself, she must prove that her idealism does not arise from weakness, that she does not renounce conquests because she is unable to obtain them, but because she does not ask annexations. Therefore for the sake of the demands of democracy, for the sake of an early and just peace it is essential to recreate the fighting power of new Russia, to strengthen it with the mighty force of revolutionary enthusiasm and to give actual proof of this power."

The Executive Committee of the Council of Workmen and Soldier's Delegates has issued a call for a general congress on June 14 of representatives of all branches of the Council throughout Russia and of the various military organizations. The Congress will discuss national defence, peace conditions, land and labor problems, the projected constituent assembly, the country's financial policy, and conditions of military life.

CONSCRIPTION ISSUE

(Special to The Daily News.)

Montreal, May 31.—Both Montreal and Quebec have been quiet yesterday on the conscription question. At Sherbrooke, there were parades by irresponsible mobs.

Paris, May 31.—Citizens of all the allied nations now in France will be conscripted.

VENIZELOS DECLARES CONSTANTINE TRAITOR

(Special to The Daily News.)

Syde, Greece, May 31.—Ex-Premier Venizelos speaking here yesterday declared that King Constantine has proved himself a traitor to his country, and that there can be no reconciliation between Constantine and the people of Greece. The present dynasty must be overthrown, and the King and his German wife should be thrown out of Greece bag and baggage.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

(Special to The Daily News.)

Copenhagen, May 31.—The delegation of the German Socialists en route to the peace conference arrived here yesterday. The Socialists in France flatly turned down the invitation to attend. The usual peace piffle exuded from the Germans. They look for a bountiful harvest this year and profess a desire to follow the example of Russia. Schiedmann and his aides have the full support of the German Imperial Government.

REVOLUTION IN AUSTRIA

(Special to The Daily News.)

New York, May 31.—Austria, to all appearances, is in the grip of a peaceful revolution, the result of which may be as far-reaching as that of Russia. The pillars of the old system in the Dual Monarchy seem to be crumbling away. Premier Tiza has already fallen, and the new Emperor Karl knows that the same forces are working in his domain that worked so disastrously for Czarism in Russia.

A NOTED ATHLETE KILLED IN ACTION

Word has just been received in town intimating the death of Lieutenant Murray, of Edmonton, at the front. Lieutenant Murray, who was a brother of Mr. W. Wilson Murray of this city, has been overseas for some time and recently transferred to the Flying Service. Lieutenant Murray was flying over the enemy lines, and on coming through a cloudbank, was suddenly attacked by the enemy machines. A desperate fight followed, in which Lieutenant Murray succeeded in bringing his nearest antagonist to the ground, but as the Hun machine crashed down, his heroic career was instantaneously closed by the last enemy bullet, which penetrated his brain. The pilot flew home at once for aid, but to no purpose.

Lieutenant Murray was widely known in Edmonton, where he lived with his family for some years. Mrs. Murray and two children are at present in England. He was the amateur champion fencer and sabreman in Scotland, and was also an expert boxer and a good swimmer. He was an all-round athlete.

Messrs. E. J. and B. L. Tingley, of Port Clements, are paying a visit to the city.

HUN PLOTTERS WORRY OFFICIALS IN THE U. S.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, May 31.—Much annoyance and worry is being caused in the United States by the Hun plotters. Federal officials have adopted drastic measures to squash the anti-conscription propaganda. The entire nation is being canvassed for the agitators and the trail invariably leads to rendezvous of agents of the Kaiser.

Congress is Slow.

Congress is moving slowly on the big war measures. The middle of July is the earliest date suggested as possible for an adjournment and the deliberations may even last much longer. Several stumbling blocks are in the way of an early close.

The Color Riots.

East St. Louis, May 31.—Following the rioting and the raiding of the negro quarters by the mob yesterday, the city is virtually under martial law today. Quiet prevails now.

BALFOUR IN MONTREAL

(Special to The Daily News.)

Montreal, May 31.—The Hon. Arthur J. Balfour has arrived in Montreal, accompanied by representatives of Great Britain and the United States. They were given a flattering welcome on their arrival in the city.

KAISER LOSES HIS PLACE IN THE SUN

The capture of Baghdad has led the minds of most newspaper writers to the days of Harun-al-Rashid and Sinbad the Sailor, but for the Kaiser in his Potsdam palace the event has an importance that is more immediate and pressing. The Kaiser is thinking of a dream that was more dazzling than anything in the Arabian Nights—a dream that has now vanished as completely as any vision in that celebrated volume. His mind must go back to the time, nineteen years ago, when he journeyed to the sacred places in Palestine, and, in one of his most heroic speeches, proclaimed himself the friend of the Sultan and the protector of the Mohammedan faith. Back of this grandiose speech lay his ambition of a "place in the sun," the scheme that has caused the present world-wide disaster. The two chief places of his new Caesarian empire were to be Hamburg and Baghdad; a railroad connecting these two cities—to a large extent already built—with a tunnel under the Hellespont at Constantinople, was to be the visible symbol of this new joining of the East and West. All that huge area lying between Germany, Austria-Hungary, the Balkans, Turkey, Asia Minor, the Persian Gulf, was to be the new great world state, the state which under the Hohenzollerns was to shape the destinies of mankind for centuries to come.

But the Allies, alive to this scheme, refused the tempting bait. In stating their terms to President Wilson, they stipulated, as essential consequences of the war, a free Serbia and an extinguished Turkey. And now British arms are making good these pretensions. Baghdad is now a British city, and Russian and British armies, working in co-operation, are rapidly encompassing the end of the Turkish Empire.—World's Work.

RICH STRIKE MADE AT B. C. COAST MINE

Mining men were much interested the other day in the news of a big strike which has been made on the Drum Lummon properties on Douglas Channel, twenty five miles from Hartley Bay. Samples of the ore were taken to Vancouver last week by the s.s. Venture. They are declared by mining men to show the highest values in copper of any ores yet mined in British Columbia, the assay running over $500 in copper, silver and gold, the copper showing $460.60 per ton, and carrying in addition to a trace of gold, sixty-six ounces of silver to the ton.

The quality of the ore is said to be similar to that mined at Bisbee, Arizona, and at the Kenecut Mine, Alaska, being a covellite, chalcocite or glauc and boronite ore. It has been encountered in a mass at a depth of 150 feet from the surface in the west drift off the main tunnel, which is approximately 450 feet into the hill side.

The indications are that there is a considerable body of this ore, many tons having already been blocked out, while prospecting is being continued to uncover the full size and extent of the find. Apparently the ore body extends from the surface down in a sort of inverted wedge, increasing in thickness and depth, being on the surface about ten feet in width, while at the level of the tunnel it is approximately seventy feet across.

Considerable work has been done during the past winter, despite the heavy snow, in developing the property, machinery having been hauled in and put in place, a Foss engine being installed to drive an air compressor, while the tunnel has been railed. Owing to the fact that the government road in from the beach a distance of about three-quarters of a mile has not yet been constructed, the ore which has been mined during the past few months by the force of ten men who are engaged at the mines, is being "dumped" ready for shipment. It is anticipated that the first shipment will be made soon to the smelter at Ladysmith, arrangements for its treatment now being under way. It will be sacked, taken to a large float constructed at the shore, and will be transferred there to the vessels. Later a wharf, bunkers and aerial tram will be constructed in order to facilitate the handling of the ore. It is anticipated that the working force at the mines will be doubled this summer.

DEEDS, NOT WORDS

The orthodox practice of the Ottawa Government in regard to pressing questions has been to announce its intention of doing certain things, pass Orders-in-Councils and regulations concerning them, talk about them, inspire friendly journalists to write about them—and then to do nothing more. This has been the official attitude particularly towards the cost of living and recruiting. We heard a great deal of the Government's determination to put an end to mergers and combines, but when the time for action came we found that the subject had been unloaded on the provinces and municipalities. Now, in response to pressure from every quarter in Canada, comes the announcement that a food control board is going to be established, following the lead given by Washington. We should all profoundly hope that the talk will be translated into action, but every day's delay justifies the fear that Sir Robert Borden's sudden resolution will peter out, and that we shall have a food board as innocuous as the National Service Board.

The same blank-cartridge attitude marked the Government's course in regard to recruiting. Last year Sir Sam Hughes, according to himself, was urged to reduce his recruiting activities because he was interfering with the labor market. When voluntary recruiting declined a National Service Board was formed with great éclat, with Sir Thomas Tait as chairman. Then our old friend, political expediency, took a hand and Sir Thomas resigned because he saw he was not going to be allowed to conduct a real national service campaign. Next came the Home Defence mobilization. First it was to be a compulsory affair under the Militia Act, but when the district officers received their instructions it was found to be merely voluntary recruiting in disguise. Now a conscription measure is forecast, following information Sir Robert obtained in England on the need for more men, and inspired to some extent by the example of Washington. This is bound to be opposed strongly by certain elements in demonstrations more or less turbulent, and the chief danger is that the Government will fear to face the issue, that it will try to temporize and delay as it temporized and delayed in respect of other matters, and finally will bring in a hopelessly inadequate measure. What is demanded in connection with all these questions is firm, resolute, prompt action. Delay is always dangerous. It encourages organized agitation. An Italian general was dismissed in the summer of 1915 because he debated whether to deliver a certain attack on the Isonzo or not. He was told that war called for action and not debate. Joffre won the battle of the Marne largely because he did not allow the politicians to debate his plans with him.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Germany has resorted to various transparent devices in the hope of attaining peace without being forced to make a direct appeal to the Allies. She endeavored to stir up strife between France and Britain by representing that the French were submitting to all the sacrifices for the advancement of British ambitions. More than once she has striven to detach Italy from the Entente, and she is trying to stir up a rebellion in Italy now. She has had her agents working in Russia ever since the war began. Now that she and her allies are upon their knees a last desperate and humiliating expedient of enlisting the services of Socialists has been resorted to, and that is a stragem which none but a Hun in his present state of mind ever would dream of bringing about "peace without annexations or indemnities."

Vorwaerts, a German paper with Socialistic leanings, being permitted to speak with unaccountable freedom, says the Huns have no intention of submitting to military domination after the war. This is quite true, doubtless, inasmuch as militarism is not going to be so popular in Germany after the war is over as it was before the war began. But then the war is not going to end in the way that was anticipated when the Huns were drinking toasts to "der tag." If the antipations of those days had been realized neither Vorwaerts nor Junker would have protested against Hun militarism, because it would have dominated not only Germany but the world.

Von Bissing, the murderous governor of Belgium, told his All-Highest War Lord that it was the duty of the Huns in the interests of their own future security to wipe Belgium off the map. Von Bissing has been wiped out and the Kaiser will be wiped out too, perhaps before he reaches the allotted span, but not, we trust, before he is compelled to witness the restoration of Belgium at the expense of Germany.

THE WARFARE OF THE SAVAGE

(By C. G. Lucas.)

During a year's service in France, I have learnt that the Germans employ any weapon, fair or foul, that comes to hand; that they wage war against living and dead alike, respecting neither woman, child, or wounded man and seek only to destroy. This is the warfare of twentieth century savages, made more terrible by the employment of every scientific aid. It is war against decency and humanity.

I have seen the use of poison in the water supply of a town placed there against the usages of war and regardless of the damage to an innocent civilian population. I have seen German batteries registering on and ultimately burning to the ground with incendiary shells an isolated farm house used as a dressing station, full of our wounded and flying the Red Cross flag so that all could see for what purpose it was used. The cross was painted all across its roof.

I have been billeted at farms in France and Belgium, where the occupants had been the unwilling hosts of the Huns on their first advance and retreat, and from them I have heard the stories of ill-usage and bestial lust to which their women and children were subjected during the brief period of the German stay. In the same farms our troops have been billeted for months, and no complaint has reached my ears of any discourtesy, or any neglect to pay for even the smallest thing which was supplied. Many times I have seen our men giving a helping hand in the work of the house and the farm, playing with the children and entering into all the life of the occupants.

Another striking difference be-

Certificate of Improvements.

"Dougall;" "Dougall Fractional;" and "Waterfront" Mineral Claims, situate in the Skeena Mining Division of Cassiar District.

Where located:—On the west side of head of Alice Arm.

TAKE NOTICE that I, Richard B. McGinnis, Free Miner's Certificate No. 11306, acting as agent for the Dolly Varden Mines Company, Free Miner's Certificate No. 931-C, intend, sixty days from the date hereof, to apply to the Mining Recorder for a Certificate of Improvements, for the purpose of obtaining a Crown Grant of the above claim.

And further take notice that action, under section 85, must be commenced before the issuance of such Certificate of Improvements.

Dated this 24th day of April, A. D. 1917.

tween the opposing armies is in their treatment of the dead. In the trenches I once saw a rough Yorkshire miner place some flowers on a grave which was at the back of the parapets, and going up I read the English inscription on the plain white wooden cross "Here lies the body of an unknown German soldier." How the German regards the dead was shown by the discovery in "No Man's Land" near Hill 60 of a dead Canadian: no wooden cross and no flowers had been placed over him, but to his leg was fixed a wire connected to a powerful German bomb. It was so laid that any movement of the body would have blown to pieces both the dead and those who might come to give him a decent burial.

These are things that I have myself seen and I remember them when I hear people speak of peace by negotiation. I know what such a peace would mean. It means the sacrifice of all for which civilization has striven for centuries; it means the triumph of the beast over the human. Judge men by their works, not by their words. Think of a world governed by those who introduced the use of gas and poison vitrol and microbe into warfare, who respect neither living nor dead, wounded or woman. Think of a peace overlooking such outrages, a world wherein the poisoner, the thief and the ravisher are to live side by side with their victims in amity and brotherly love. I feel that only complete lack of understanding of the realities of this war can inspire the people who think of peace short of complete, unquestioned victory, and the utter destruction of Prussian militarism, or those who babble about being careful to avoid humiliating Germany. As well talk of offending the susceptibilities of a mad dog, or being careful to avoid humiliating a red-handed criminal of the Jack the Ripper type.

No Eggs, Milk or Butter

The following recipe shows how an appetizing, wholesome cake can be made without expensive ingredients.

In many other recipes the number of eggs may be reduced one-half or more by using an additional quantity of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, about a teaspoon, in place of each egg omitted.

EGGLESS, MILKLESS, BUTTERLESS CAKE

1 cup seeded raisins
2 ounces citron
1/4 cup shortening

1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups flour
5 teaspoons Dr. Price's Baking Powder

The old method (fruit cake) called for 2 eggs

DIRECTIONS—Put the first eight ingredients into saucepan and boil three minutes. When cool, add the flour and baking powder which have been sifted together; mix well. Bake in moderate oven in loaf pan (round tin with hole in center is best) for 35 or 40 minutes. Ice with white icing.

INDUSTRY IS NOT A MECHANISM

In the rebuilding of Society, which will undoubtedly take place after the cessation of hostilities, "we must begin, as all serious reforms must always begin, by an act of renunciation," says the "Nation." "And what we are called on to renounce is evident from the nature of the principles, which it is our duty to apply. We must renounce the conception of economic efficiency as the end and the arbiter of industrial organization. We must cease to judge industry merely by its productivity, in order that we may begin to judge it by principles, the validity of which we all recognize, but which we exclude from our industrial organization, because we are dazzled by the brilliance of its material achievements, and ignore the right of the human beings by whom those achievements are made possible."

"Is not a good deal of the talk about reconstruction based on the idea that if a nation produces 1,000 units where it formerly produced 100, and 10,000 where it formerly produced 1,000—it is somehow nearer some kind of social reorganization? It is not merely a matter of class interests. It is a philosophy of which we are all the votaries. And it is an illusion."

An Illusion.

It is an illusion because it is evident that the productiveness of industry has increased a thousandfold in the last fifty years, and that the burden of man's complaint against it is not that it is ineffective, but that their rights as human beings are sacrificed to it.

"Industry is not a mechanism. It is the association of men to win a living from nature 'for the glory of God and the relief of man's estate,' an association in which covetousness is covetous, brutality is brutality, tyranny is tyrannical, in precisely the same sense and to precisely the same degree as they are in the affairs of a state, or a family, and which men are bound to judge by exactly the same standards of morality as they apply to the rest of human affairs."

"Must we not renounce the ideal of economic efficiency in order to make possible a constitution of industry based on the idea of right, just as, in order to make possible a constitution of the world on the basis of international right, nations must renounce the exclusive pursuit of national power?"
