The developments of the Islands has actly what proportion of the various been too long delayed by mediaeval office systems already. It has been monstrous that intending settlers should have been subjected to a battledore and shuttle cock treatment, driven hither and thither between the said. Government offices at Prince Rupert and the lands upon Graham Island upon which they desired to settle. Again and again settlers have been cheeks. instructed to go over to the Islands to find out facts unobtainable at the Prince Rupert office, only to find that the farther away they went the less hope was there of getting satisfaction. Being invariably poor men seeking a home, they were driven away from the district by the difficulties thus imposed. An office at a central point on the Queen Charlottes, with a resident agent, will go a great deal to abolish this unsatisfactory state of affairs, even though it means the cutting off of one of the sources of revenue for Prince Rupert lawyers.

Now that the Government has shown signs of awakening, perhaps it will go further. Perhaps it will vote appropriations for the development of the Islands commensurate, at least, with the revenues it is reaping therefrom. That would be sound economy, as well as common justice. An inquiry into the conditions under which the coal, timber and land on the threshold to say: staking companies-particularly aliens-are holding the lands from cultivation should be instituted.

The Queen Charlotte Islands under sympathetic development have it in them to become sources of great wealth. Prince Rupert is deeply nettle firmly, I believe your father of using them. There are now 11,056 people living in the York Loan District."

Joe Phillips, five years ago, was president of the York Loan Co. He took the company's funus and bought a huge tract of land on the west borders of Toronto. He had visions of seeing it become a fashionable residential district, and of reaping millions for himself.

But the property was slow in rising. Before he could realize enough | well. to repay the company the police nabbed him. Today Joe Phillips is in Kingston Penitentiary, serving the fifth of his seven year term.

And today there are 11,056 living on the York Loan property, which has since become the fashionabl residential district of Toronto.

What a narrow escape Joe Phillips has had of becoming a hero of a Sunday School prize book instead of a convict.

FIRST: - "CATCH YOUR HARE"

To produce good printing you must "first catch your poor printer, even if he work with never so good an equipment. If he lacks the "knack," the trained taste, the single-minded fondness for his work which real printers have, he will do poor printing for you.
If he has all of these, and in addition to them adequate modern equipment, your printing will have distinction, salesmanship, the lure of type-beauty.

As this office produces good printing you may infer the presence of a good printer—who is "catchable."

Rev. W. E. Collison Protests Against the Trunk Sewer.

Sir:-As a resident of Hays s.w., dense seaward. Creek, I fully concur with Alderman Morrissey's letter of protest, regarding the proposed turnk sewer, which Princess Mary at 8 p. m., southis to empty into Hays Creek above bound. the bridge. The residents in this locality feel most strongly on the subject as a serious menace to health-not to mention the nuisance it will cause during the summer months, when the tides are small, light; sea smooth. and the creek law. When we think of the unpleasant odor caused in the summer by a few dying salmon, we may have a little idea of what to expect from the sewer in question if carried out according to present plans. We have had a healthy city so far, and it is to be hoped this record will not be imperilled by the carrying out of a plan which, though now it appears to affect only a few scattered residents, may in the end be a set-back to the whole com- the voyage, 100 tons of the richest munity. Why! such a state of affairs would not be tolerated in an Indian village. If Hays Creek had been situated in the centre of the to the smelter and the experiment may be some years, and surely in the meantime something can be arranged whereby a temporary extension be made to carry the sewage to deep water. Yours truly, much doubt it. Then why should it be considered sanitary here?

AT THE THEATRE.

"Cupid's Handicap" by the Sherman-Cleveland Company Proved Popular as Ever.

In the Empress Theatre last night the performance of "Cupid's Handiby the Sherman-Cleveland Comedy Company was a bright and witty presentation. All the members of the company were in first rate form, and the play went with enthusiasm and vim. Miss Drena Mack was in good voice, and her singing of popular numbers was repeatedly encored. Mr. Harry B. Cleveland as the German student showed amusing skill with the German-English accent, and Elton Ralston was good as "Don Stone," the hero. There was abundance of good funny work, and the churus excelled themselves in song and dance. One of the most effective songs with churus yet put on in Prince Rupert by this popular company was "In Germany," sung by Mr. Cleveland and chorus in quaint costumes of the Fatherland. The dance parts of this number were exceptionally well rendered. Tonight the company will put on a real "Darky Minstrel Show" under direction of Mr. Cleveland, and one of the funniest shows every staged in Prince Rupert. As the very first darky minstrel show ever seen in our city, this performance of the company is particularly worth attending.

Now is the time for your winter We have the goods to please you. Sweder Bros., Custom Tailors, Helgerson Block.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT.

Wanderers Versus Prince Rupert Clubs for Don Moore Shield.

In the Wanderers clubrooms last night the members of the Prince Rupert and Wanderers Clubs met in the second or a series of bridge games for the Don Moore Shield, presented by Mr. Donald A. Moore of the Cassiar Cannery. The game resulted in a win for the Wanderers. The Prince Rupert Club, however, still leads in the series by about a thousand points. Two more matches remain to be played to complete the series. Following are the teams:

Prince Rupert Club-H. F. Mc-Leod, W. H. Vickers, J. H. Pillsbury, A. G. Foster, H. P. Wilson, J. M. Clancy, H. S. Wallace, J. M. Anstie and J. M. Christie.

Wanderers Club-Cy Peck, G. R. T. Sawle, Joe Howe, W. F. Beak, R. B. Warton, H. Sinclair, E. T. Harlow

Mrs. Orme will not receive until after the New Year.
