Steel at Skeena Crossing Today

Today steel reached Skeena Crossing. Two weeks ago General Superintendent Mehan predicted that it would be there on March 16th. In spite of pessimistic strike rumors and the real difficulties of the work owing to presence of hard beaten snow on the grade, the steel had been laid much quicker than even the General Superintendent himself expected. Now along the finished and graded track and the portion of skeleton track up to the crossing can be conveyed the bridge girders and steel required for the building of the big bridge, which brings Hazelton in touch with Prince Rupert by railway at last. Work on the bridge piers is far advanced, and the prospect of steel being in Hazelton early this summer is certain.

SHOULD BE BOXED WITH THE BONELESS HERRING.

The Progressive Conservative Association of Prince Rupert cultural lands to be rapidly comis no more. It was not a business that struggled along and died out for want of public patronage. It had a good and prosperous business and was cutting deeply into the business of its old-time rival. Not only that but it commanded free advertising from two newspapers-from the Empire because the enterprising editor of that newspaper was himself a Progressive and again and again has rebelled against ring rule; and from The News because as the representative of Liberalism it has to be progressive, and as the organ of the people of Prince Rupert it is lator. ever ready and even eager to lend its support to any progressive 2. Transportation. ideas, whether Conservative or Socialist or whatever. Any movement calculated to upset the conditions which are now retarding the speedy advancement of this city has in The News its strongest champion.

The Progressives did not go out of existence without having the railway systems of Vancouver done some good for their community in their brief existence as Island and the railway systems members of the body corporate. They did manage to defeat the of the mainland. old line Conservatives and its rings, and obtain the appointment of license commissioners for this city that are certainly an improvement upon their predecessors. Though the Progressives have gone out of business it is believed the commissioners ap- between pointed on Progressive principles will still stand to their guns, other interior points and the and will so conduct their office that they will show to the people coast. their freedom from party trammels and their sole desire to serve the city.

Having gained this measure of success, and being on the tory. way to gain others for the betterment of conditions in this city, why did this bunch of honest, independent citizens permit themselves to be sold out bodily, they and the principles they stood for which met with public approval in every rank of life? What was the consideration which led them to sulk back to their seats in the galleys and have their old shackles rivetted on them: The people who approved and supported their course as Progressives have the right to an answer.

Particularly when their victory in the appointment of licensing commissioners who were not known as hidebound partisans of the old ring met with such a paean of public approval. It is well known as one of the evils to be fought against that the McBride government has so manipulated the liquor license laws as to utilize the liquor traffic as a very important part of its political machinery. In the cities it appoints a number of license commissioners; in the unorganized districts the licenses are under control of the provincial police. It is everywhere believed that in the best interests of the license holders themselves, as well as those of the public generally, the control of licenses should be taken out of the hands of the Attorney General, who cannot be at all acquainted with local conditions, and placed rates and telegraph tolls of all servative Dominion government. policy. directly in the hands of the people in the different municipalities and communities, and that the commissioners should be elected under the jurisdiction of the Do- Columbia," and advocate conby them. The Progressives made the first step in this direction in having their local appointments ratified by the Attorney General. In any fight they might have determined to make in this ecampaign they would have had the great strength of the license holders behind them, which means much. And yet, alack-a-day, the Progressives, at the first whiff of the breath of the patronage charmer lay down and grovel.

It might not be political ethics for them to let the public 3. Timber. into the secret of the consideration, but the public have the right to know so it shall be told. Candidate Manson sent for the wholesale disposal of timber the president of the Progressives. The president obeyed the lands to speculators, which has mandate. ENGLISH DERBY

Vanderbilt's Colt Montrose Will Probably Prove to Be Leading Favorite-He Won Six Out of Nine Races Last Season.

London, March 7 .- This year even the most partisan of English turf critics admit that the famous stakes may be won by Mr. Vanderbilt with his chestnut coll Montrose II, a son of his famous horse Maintenon, who in his very first year at the stud has begot what is conceded to be the best colt in France and possibly better than any English rival. When a yearling, Montrose II was purchased by Mr. Vanderbilt's trainer, William Duke, at a $ $13,000. He was bred by Mme Lemaire de Villiers. During the season of 1911 Montrose II won six out of nine races, and when he was beaten in one of his best efforts he was conceding seventeen pounds to the winner. With out doubt he is the most valued of all the fifty-five horses Mr Vanderbilt has in training at St Louis de Poissy.

Montrose H is in the skilful hands of an American, William Duke, who for the last eight years has been training for Mr. Vanderbilt. All the greatest triumphs of the French turf have been we by Mr. Vanderbilt since Duke took charge of the horses.
